

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

 THE Person that prepared these few Sheets for the Press; having no other Advantage from them, than the Hopes of obliging the Lovers of these liberal Arts; flatters himself that the Curious at least, must be agreeably surprized, to find a new World of Artists,

Artists, and an invaluable Treasure of Art, where the Generality, even of Men of Figure, did not so much as suspect, that there had been the least Taste or Notion of it. This little Piece is rather succinct than short; for, upon Perusal, you will see, that it abounds with what is interesting to the Curious.

N. B. The Reader is desired to excuse the Spanish Names being put with gn instead of an n with a Stroke over the Top of it, which in the Spanish Tongue is pronounced like a gn, as in the Names Nigno and Nugnez, &c. the Printer having no such Type.

26. Juan Bautista Monnegro, or Juan Bautista de Toledo,

SCULPTOR and Architect, born at Madrid; executed a good Part of the Church of St. Peter at Rome; was call'd to the Work of St. Laurence, at the Escorial, where he did many fine Things. He died in Madrid, very much advanced in Years, 1590. He was a Disciple of Berruete.

27. Theodosio Mingot, Painter,

BORN in Catalonia, and a Disciple of Michael Angelo; painted in the Pardo and the Escorial; was a very great Draughtsman and Anatomist. He died when he was but 39 Years Old 1590.

28. Luis

28. Luis de Carbajal, Painter,

A Native of Toledo, and Half-brother to Juan Bautista Monnegro; he work'd at the Escorial, by Order of Philip the Second; died at Madrid 1591, in the 57th Year of his Age.

29. Juan de Arfe Villafagne,

Working - Goldsmith, Sculptor, and Architect, born in the City of Leon. The Tabernacle (in which the blessed Sacrament is kept on the Altar) in the holy Church of Seville and that of Avila, and that likewise of St. Paul at Burgos, are of his Hand. He was born 1524, and died 1595.

30. Juanes, a Valencian Painter,

WAS a Disciple of Raphael de Urbino; he likewise imitated the Divine Morales; but with an Excellence so superior to both, that he had greatly the Advantage of them in the Beauty of the Colouring and Physiognomy, and was equal to them in

in every Thing else, as fully appears from the St. Francis de Paula, as big as the Life, in a Picture which is in the Convent of his Order, which is that of St. Sebastian of Valencia without the Walls of that City; and a great many others in the same City mightily admir'd. But above all his Works, is the most pure Image of the Conception, which is now rever'd in the Chapel belonging to the House of the Profess'd of the Society of Jesus, in the City of Valencia; (call'd la Purissima) which he executed from the Relation and Revelation of that venerable Servant of God, Father Martin Alberro, of the said Society. He died in that City, 1596.

31. Juan Labrador, Painter,

FLOURISH'D in the Time of Philip the II^d. He was a Disciple of the Divine Morales, which makes it probable that he was an Estremadurian, altho' he might not be of the same City of Badajoz. He painted Fruit and Flowers, Pedlars Ware, and other minute odd Things of small Value, with wonderful Justness and Beauty. He died in Madrid, very old, 1600.

32. Mateo Perez de Alezio, Painter.

A Native of Rome. He came to Seville, where he did many fine Pieces, especially one of St. Christopher. He was an excellent Draughtsman and Carver. He followed the Manner of Michael Angelo, in whose School he was brought up. He return'd to Italy, where he died very much advanced in Years, 1600.

33. Christoph. Zarignena, Painter.

HE was a Native and Inhabitant of the City of Valencia. He went to Italy; study'd there in the School of Titian. He drew some Pieces, at Valencia, so excellent, they seem'd to be done by Titian himself; such are those in the Royal Monastery of San Miguel de los Reyes, without the Walls of that City. He was turn'd of 50 when he died, 1600.

34. Fernando Yagnes, Painter,

A Native of Almedina; was a celebrated Painter, and Disciple of Raphael de Urbino, as is evident from the Paintings of

of the great Altar of the aforesaid Place ; where he liv'd and died, 1600, little more than 50 years old.

35. Diego Polo, Painter,

A Man of much Reputation, and an admirable Colourist. His Works are, in the Escorial, and in the Royal Palace of Madrid. He died before he was quite 40 Years old, 1600.

36. The Perolas, Painters,

THE Perolas, Juan and Francisco, Brothers, and Natives of the City of Almagro ; Painters, Sculptors, and Architects, Disciples of the School of Michael Angelo, tho' here (in Spain) they partook more of the School of Bergamasco and Becerra. Some of their Works are in the Palace of Viso : Others in the Villa nueva de los Infantes. They likewise assisted Antonio Mobedano in the Painting of the middle Isle of the Sanctuary of the holy Church of Cordova. They flourish'd, 1600.

37. Fede-

37. Federico Zuccherò, Painter,

A Native of Urbino in Italy. He painted many Things in the Escorial. King Philip IId. order'd what he painted in the Cloyster to be wiped out, and Peregrin executed it. The King liked none of his Works. He was three Years in Spain, and then return'd to Italy. He died at Florence, 1610.

38. Romulo Cincinnato, Painter,

BORN at Florence; he was invited into Spain by Philip IId. and liv'd here many Years, and left many of his Performances, in the Palace of the Duke del Infantado in Guadalaxara. He likewise wrought in the Escorial, and in the College of the Society of Jesus in Cuenca. He died at Madrid 1600, very old.

39. Pompeyo Leoni, Sculptor,

WAS drawn from Italy, by Philip IId. and did the Figures of the Apostles in Brass in the Escorial, and likewise wife those of the two Sepulchres of the Kings; he wrought likewise in other Places both in Brass, common Marble, and a speckled coarse Marble. Doubtless he must have been there a good Space, and then went back to Italy, where he died, 1600.

40. Cæsar Arbasia, Painter,

CAME into Spain, from Italy, about the Year 1600; and among other of his Works, he painted, in the Chapel of the Sanctuary of the holy Church of Cordova, the arch'd Cieling and the Walls down to the Ground; he likewise drew excellent Landskips. He return'd to Italy, and there died 1602. He was of the School of Leonardo da Vinci.

41. Bartholome de Cardenas,

PAINTER, born in Portugal; he painted the Cloister of Atocha (a Monastery of Dominicans in Madrid) and also that of Valladolid of the same Order; and died there, 1606.

42. Peregrin de Bolonia, or Peregrin de Peregrini,

P A I N T E R, one of the most noted Disciples and assiduous Followers of the School of Michael Angelo. Many of the most exquisite Performances, in the Escorial, were his. Philip the Second heap'd such Rewards on him, that he carried to his own Country 50000 Ducats, and died at Modena in 1606.

43. Paul de Cespedes,

A Native of Cordova, was an excellent Painter, a great Philosopher, Sculptor, and Architect ; he was extremely well skill'd in divers Languages, particularly, the Hebrew, Greek, Latin, and Italian. He was a good Poet and Humanist, and wrote large Treatises. He was twice in Italy and in Rome, where he study'd. He had a strict Friendship with Federico Zucaro. He employ'd much Study on the Works of Michael Angelo ; and follow'd Michael, not only in Painting and Arch-

Architecture, but likewise in Sculpture. He return'd to Cordova, where he signaliz'd himself by his Performances. Not only in Seville, but other Cities of Andaluzia, are variety of Pictures drawn by him. He was, in short, exceeding observant and careful in his Draughts, nicely exact in the Anatomical Part, diligent in the Expression, strong in the Lights and Shades, anxiously studious in the Perspective, pleasant in the Physiognomy, and excellent in the Colouring and Relievo, wherein he seems thoroughly to have imbib'd the Taste of the great Coregio. Among the many Languages which he was Master of, he was perfectly well acquainted with Arabic ; he died in Cordova, 1608.

44. Bartholome Carducho,

PAINTER, born at Florence ; he came into Spain in Company with Federica Zucaro his Master ; he painted very curious Things in the Escorial together with Peregrin. He did other fine Pieces in Valladolid, Segovia, and in the Pardo. He was also an eminent Sculptor and Architect, in which Arts he had for his his Master Bartholomé Amanato. He departed this Life at Madrid, 1610.

45. Juan Pantoja de la Cruz,

PAINTER, was born at Madrid; a Disciple of Alonzo Sanchez Coello. He was Painter of the Bed-chamber to Philip the Second. There are some History-pieces done by him, but innumerable Pictures from the Life, not only in the Escorial, but in the Palace at Madrid, where he died about the Year 1610, in the 59th Year of his Age.

46. Bartholome Gonzalez,

PAINTER, born at Valladolid, and a Disciple of Patricio Caxes; he came to Madrid in the time of Philip the Third, Anno 1606. He was his Majesty's Painter; and in his Service executed different Works, especially many Portraits of the Austrian Family, for the Palace of the Pardo, with great Justness and Resemblance. He died in Madrid, 1611, aged 63.

47. Juan

47. Juan de Juni and Gregorio Hernandez, Sculptors,

IN the time of Philip the Third, flourish'd, at Valladolid, these eminent Sculptors. Juan de Juni is said to have been a Fleming by Birth, and that he acquir'd at Rome the Art of Sculpture, in the School of Michael Angelo. There is a Medal of his doing in full Relievo, in the Cathedral of Segovia, representing the Burial of Christ, the Figures are after Nature and equal any thing of the great Michael Angelo. There are abundance of his fine Performances in Valladolid and Salamanca. Gregorio Hernandez was born in the Kingdom of Gallicia. There are many beautiful Pieces of his doing in Valladolid. They both died at Valladolid about the Year 1614, and somewhat more than 60 Years of Age.

48. Father Francisco Galeas,

A Cartusian Monk, Painter, was born at Seville and of the School of Luis de Vargas, in which he so happily improv'd himself, himself, as to merit an Elogium in Francisco Pacheco's Book of Painting, fol. 116. Tho' we know of no publick Work of his, because as he did not profess Painting, he might only have exercis'd his Talent privately to oblige some particular Friends, or amuse himself; he died 1614.

49. Fray Juan de la Miseria,

PAINTER, De la Miseria was his Religious Name, not his Secular one; in Commerce with the World, he call'd himself Juan Narduch. He was born in the Kingdom of Naples. He dedicated himself to the School of Alonzo Sanchez Coello; he drew some Portraits, and died 1616.

50. Dr. Pablo de las Roelas,

PAINTER, a Native and Inhabitant of Seville; he was a renown'd Painter and a Disciple of Titian; he came to Madrid, where he left many Pieces of his doing. He had a good Composition, a prime Pencil, great Dexterity, excellent Design, and a celebrated Titian-like Tint or Colouring. His Works at Seville are in the Parish of St. Isidorus ; in the College of St. Thomas ; in the Parish of St. Peter ; in the University Chapel there, belonging to the Beneficed Priests ; and in the holy Church of Olivares ; in the Profess'd-House of the Society of Jesus ; and in the College of St. Catharine's Church of the said Society. His Painting had great Strength join'd with great Sweetness ; applying himself so much as he did to the Study of Nature, and having full Employment, and a great Facility of Working, the Pieces of his performing are so numerous, that it were endless only to recount the Products of his Pencil, which are publickly to be seen. He understood Perspective thoroughly ; his Knowledge was profound in Anatomy, the Organization and Contexture of the Human Body ; the Symmetry, the respective Commensuration of the Whole with the Parts, in respect to the Observance of Nature, the Beauty of Colouring, and the various Accidents which alter it, no Man went beyond him ; he died in Seville 1620, turn'd of 60.
the

51. Juan de Soto, Painter,

HE he was born at Madrid; he was a Disciple of Bartbolomé Carducho, in whose School he made very great Proficiency, and likewise gain'd a great Reputation. He painted many Pieces in Madrid, and a capital one in the Pardo. He was 40 Years of Age when he died, 1620.

52. Juan de Chirinos, Painter,

A Native and Inhabitant of Madrid, a Disciple of Tristan, in Conjunction with Bartbolomé de Cardenas; he executed great part of the Paintings in the Convent of Atocha; he died 1620 and in the 56th Year of his Age.

PAINTE R, a Carthusian Monk of Scala Dei, in the Principality of Catalonia, was born at Villafranca, a Bishoprick of Barcelona. There are of his Works in the said Monastery; and likewise many others in the Monastery of Monte Alegre, not not far from the City of Barcelona. He work'd likewise in the Convent of Cartbu-fians, in Seville; he died in the Convent of Scala Dei, in or about the Year 1621, aged 65.

54. Philip de Liagno, Painter,

A Native of Madrid, and a Disciple of Alonzo Sanchez. His Works, publick and private, shew his Ability to have been very general; he was singularly eminent for small Portraits, insomuch that he was furnam'd Little Titian; he died about 1625, somewhat more than 50 Years old.

55. Patricio Caxes,

PAINTER and Architect, a noble Florentine. He served Philip the Second and Third. His Works are in the Pardo; he died at Madrid, greatly advanced in Years.

56. Antonio Mobedano, Painter,

A Native of Antequera; an excellent Painter and of great Fame. He follow'd the School of Paul de Cespedes; he painted painted in Fresco with such a Command and Mastery of Design and Colouring, that none till then exceeded him in those Particulars. He painted in Fresco the Chapel of the Sanctuary of the holy Church of Cordova, as also the Landskips which he did to Perfection ; and for the better hitting off what he did and ascertaining his Works, he would make Models of the principal Figures, and studied the naked as also the extreme Parts by the Life ; he drew fine Pieces in the great Church of the City of Lucena, in which were included all the Species belonging to Designing and Colouring, executed with a singular Taste and Mastery ; as likewise that which he did afterwards in the Nave of the Sanctuary of the holy Church of Cordova, in Conjunction with the Perolas ; and tho' in Oil he did not greatly excel, yet he was always very correct. He painted at Seville many Things, especially in Fresco, in the Cloister of the great House of St. Francis, in Conjunction with Alonzo Vasquez, a noted Sevillian Painter. He held a great Correspondence with Paul de Cespedes of Cordova ; he died at Lucena, in or about the Year 1625, being about 60 Years Old.

57. Dominico Greco,

P A I N T E R, Sculptor, and Architect. He was a Greek by Birth ; and a Disciple of Titian, whom he so nearly imitated, that his Paintings were mistaken for those of his Master. There are of his Works in Toledo, but when he found that his Paintings often pass'd for Titian's, he took it in his Head to change his Manner, to such a Degree of Extravagance that his Works became despicable and ridiculous as well for the Irregularity and Dislocation of the Design, as the Disagreeableness of the Colouring. He wrought fine Things in the Town of Illescas ; He died at Toledo about the Year 1625, and in the 77th Year of his Age.

58. Augustin del Castillo,

P A I N T E R, he was born at Seville, and an Inhabitant of Cordova ; he was an eminent Painter and great Designer he manag'd Colours exquisitely well. His Works, especially in Fresco, are in Cordova. He was the Father and Master of Antonio del

61. Francisco Ribalta and his Son, Painters,

NATIVES of the Kingdom of Valencia ; there's no distinguishing their Works, so as to say which were done by the Father and which by the Son. The Father Father is said to have studied in Italy, in the School of Annibal; but he study'd more the Works of Raphael, and imitated them to so great a Perfection, that having done a Christ Crucify'd, for a Nuncio of these Kingdoms, he carried it with him to Rome, where shewing it to one of the best Painters of that Time, in a Transport of Admiration he cry'd out, O Divine Raphael! concluding it to be drawn by Raphael. There are very many fine Works both of the Father and Son at Valencia, and in other Parts of that Kingdom; the Father died in 1600, and the Son in 1630, both very aged. The first was the Master of Ribera Espagnoletto.

62. Brother Adriano Donado,

Painter; he liv'd and died in Cordova, in the Convent of Barefoot Carmelites, where are many of his fine Works. There is a Penitent Magdalen, which one would take to be of Titian's Hand; he died very old, in the said House, 1630.

63. Pedro de las Cuevas, Painter,

BORN at and living in Madrid; a good Painter, but a better Teacher. He brought up many eminent Disciples; he died 1635, aged 77.

64. Juan de Pernalosa, Painter,

65. Vicencio Carducho, Painter,

A Gentleman of Florence; Brother and Disciple of Bartholomè Carducho. He was Painter to Philip the Third and Fourth. He was a Person adorn'd with fine Talents of Wit and Learning. No Painter of Eminence has left so many Pieces in public Places as Vicencio Carducho, not only in Madrid, Toledo, Cordova, and Valladolid, but in other Parts. He had considerable Disciples; he died at Madrid, 1638, in his 70th Year.

66. Juan

66. Juan Luis Zambrano, Painter,

WAS Born at Cordova; he was one of the best Scholars of Paul de Gesspedes, of Michael Angelo's School. His Works discover a superior Mastery or Boldness, after the Manner of the great Michael Angelo; they are in the City of Cordova, from whence he pass'd to Seville, and died scarce 40 Years old in 1639.

67. Fray Augustin Leonardo,

Painter, a Native of Madrid was a great Painter, especially for Portraits. He died at Madrid 1640, turn'd of three-score.

68. Antonio Lanchares, Painter,

69. Juan

69. Juan Antonio Ceroni, Sculpt.

A Milaneſe. He was called into Spain, by Philip IVth, for the Execution of thoſe Angels in Bronze which are in the new Pantheon of the Eſcurial; and at the ſame Time, he likewiſe did the famous Front of St. Stephen at Salamanca. He died at Madrid, 1640, aged 61.

70. Peter Paul Rubens,

A Native of Antwerp. He was born in that City June 28th, 1577: He was the Diſciple of Oſtavio van Veen of Leyden. Charles, Prince of Wales, took Rubens with him to Spain 1623. He came a ſecond Time as Ambaſſador from the Infanta Donna Iſabel, Governeſs of Flanders, in Auguſt 1628, and ſtayed at Madrid nine Months, where he did many fine Works. The King honour'd him with Knighthood, and naturaliz'd him a Spaniard; made him Gentleman of his Bed-chamber, and of the Golden Key. He aſſociated but little with Painters, only with Diego Velasquez de Silva, with whom he he had before held a Correspondence by Letters. He left Spain April 26, 1629, and died at Antwerp May 30, 1640. in his 63d Year.

71. Juan del Castillo, Painter,

A Native of Seville : he was a Disciple of Luis de Vargas, and the greatest Proficient of his Time. He has left excellent Works in that City. Besides which he did some at Granada. He went to Cadiz, where he died 1640, in his 56th Year.

72. Juan Martinez Montagnes,

SCULPTOR, born in and residing in Seville: among his eminent Works is St. Hermenegildo and an Image of the Conception in the Holy Church of that City, and an Image of Jesus of Nazareth with the Inscription of the Passion over him in the Royal Convent of the Fathers of the Merced; also in the Chapel of Monferrate, in the Royal Convent of St. Paul a Calvary, and in the Royal Monastery of the Carthusians de las Cuevas in Seville there are two St Johns with a Christ. He died at Seville 1640, very much advanced in Years.

73. Eugenio Caxes, Painter,

A Native of Madrid. He was Painter to Philip IV. He was the Son and Disciple of Patricio Caxes (an eminent Architect and Painter, born at Florence. there are many fine Works of this Painter, at Alcala de Henares and at Madrid; particularly at St. Martin's, a Birth of the Son of God, and the Adoration of the holy Magi Kings, which are wonderful Performances, and a St. Francis giving up the Ghost, which looks like Tintoret's Hand. He also wrought in the Pardo; above all is St. Joachim in the Church of St. Bernard, which is the Glory and Pride of the Spanish Painters. He died at Madrid 1642, aged 65.

74. Pedro Orrente, Painter,

A Native of Murcia. He was a Disciple of Bassan, he was at Madrid, where he left many of his Performances, as also at Valencia, Toledo, and Cordova; in a word so numerous are his Paintings, especially History-pieces taken from Holy Scripture, that it is next to impossible to particularize them all ; he was very studious of Nature, an excellent Designer and Colourist. He died of old Age in Toledo (where he liv'd many Years) about 1644.

75. Francisco Fernandez, Painter

WAS a Native of Madrid and a Disciple of Carducho. His Works are in the Convent of Victoria. He was one of the best Genius's of his Time. He died 1646, scarce 42 Years old.

76. Geronimo Hernandez, Sculp.

77. Luis Tristan, Painter,

WAS born at a Village near Toledo, and was a Disciple of Dominico Greco, whom he excell'd in Goodness of Taste and Correctness of Design. His Works are in Toledo in the Convent of Jeronymite Nuns. Velasquez apply'd himself to follow his manner of Painting, instead of that of Pacheco his Master, which he entirely left. He died at Toledo 1649, aged 54.

78. Don Diego de Lucena Painter,

WAS originally of Andaluzia, and liv'd in Lucena. He was a Disciple of Velasquez, and for great and small Portraits, acquired considerable Reputation. He died at Madrid in the Flower of his Age 1650.

79. Alonso Vasquez, Painter,

WAS born at Ronda, and liv'd in Seville, where he learnt in the School of Luis de Vargas. He had a very good Taste and Colouring; his Figures are free, easy, airy, graceful, and of a good Mien: he was a notable Draughtsman and knew a great deal of Anatomy, as is apparent from many excellent naked Pieces he left in the said City; in the holy Church whereof he did the Altar-piece of St. Ish-dorus. He likewise excell'd in Fruit-pieces and in Painting in Fresco. He was eminent for

for Drapery ; and for Velvets he had not his Equal. He died in the said City 1650, in the 61st year of his Age.

80. Fray Juan Bautista Mayno,

Painter was a Disciple of Dominico Greco; he did excellent Pieces in the Convent of St. Peter the Martyr at Toledo likewise at St. Stephen's in Salamanca, and at the Buen Retiro. He taught Philip IV. (when Prince) to draw ; he died in the formentioned Convent 1654, in the 60th year of his Age.

81. Antonio de Contreras, Painter,

Church of Santa Cruz. He died between 59 and 60 Years old, 1654.

83. Pedro Nunges, Painter.

HE liv'd in Madrid, the Place of his Birth. He study'd at Rome; he was one of the Hands concerned in drawing the Pictures of the Kings in the Salon de las Comedias. He also did some Pieces in the Cloister of la Merced at Madrid, where he died, little more than 40 Years old, 1654.

84. Francisco Pacheco, Painter,

WAS born at Seville about the Year 1580. He was some Years in Italy, where he very much study'd Raphael's Works. He likewise wrote a Book of Painting. He exerted himself in 6 Pictures in the Cloister of the Merced Calzada at Seville, to vie with Alonzo Vasquez. He was a Poet, and Master and Father-in-law of Don Diego Velasquez. His Manner of Painting was found fault with as somewhat dry and unpleasant, but he was very diligent and observant in Designing, and above all very theoretical in the Fundamentals of of his Art. He died at Seville 1654, aged 75.

85. Diego Polo, the Less, Painter,

HE was born in old Castile, and a Disciple of Lanchares. He study'd in the Escorial and was a mighty Imitator of Titian. He painted St. John's Baptism which is in the Church of the Carmelites Calzados at Madrid, a Piece of Painting much esteemed. He died in his 36th Year, 1655.

86. Joseph Leonardo, Painter,

HE dwelt in Madrid, where he was born. He was a Disciple of Pedro de las Cuevas; he was Painter to his Majesty. There are many Pieces of his Hand in Madrid. He died before he was 40, Anno 1659.

87. Domingo de la Rioja, Manuel de Contreras, and Juan de Vekarano, Sculptors,

IN Philip IV's Time flourish'd Domingo de la Rioja, a Spaniard and residing in D 4
Madrid.

Madrid. There is a Statue of his executing of St. Peter in the Church of St. Martin in Madrid, a most excellent Thing! and opposite to it is a St. Lazarus, done by one of his Disciples, viz. Manuel de Contrares above-named, another beautiful Thing! Juan de Vejarano was likewise an admirable Sculptor, as is evident from his particular Performance. They all died about 1656.

88. Joseph de Ribera, Painter,

WAS born at Xativa in the Kingdom of Valencia. He was a Disciple of Francisco de Ribalta: He went and study'd at Rome. He marry'd when very young at Naples. PAINTER, Architect, and Statuary in Bronze. He was born at Seville, and a Disciple of Francisco Pacheco. He drew many excellent Pieces in the said City, as also at Madrid, whither he went in 1640. There is of his Hand a Station in the Cloister of the Merced Calzada at Madrid, containing Part of the Life of St. Ramon. He was the Father and Master of
Don

Don Francisco Herrera who was Painter to the King. The Father was really an extraordinary Man, and much more a Painter than his Son. The Father's Paintings seem to be solid Figures from the great Body of Colours with which they are painted. They likewise are of a grand Stile in the Drawing, and of great Force in the Clair-Obscur, as appears in the great Picture he drew of the Day of Judgment, which is in St. Bernard's Parish Church at Seville ; and other Pieces of his in the Convent of Nuns of Santa Ines, in two Altar-pieces whose Boldness, Force, and Relievo of the Figures, strike all who look on them with Astonishment ; and the Cast seems to be totally Italian, and with so much Mastery as if he had painted it all with his Brush instead of a Pencil. He had another Son likewise a Painter, call'd Herrera the Ruddy. He exercised his Pencil in Things of a comical and even ridiculous Nature, such as the Humours of a Hedge-tavern or ordinary Cook's-shop, and small Figures like those of Calot, but of a masterly Design and rare Invention. He died very young at Seville ; but his Father died at Madrid, 1656.

92. Francisco Varela, Painter,

WAS a Native of Seville, and a Disciple of Roelas. He acquir'd a Manner very tender, showy, and vivid in the Colouring; and his Works have met with an uncommon Applause: There are of them in the Parish Church of St. Vincent, and a large Piece of St. Michael in the Convent of la Merced. He died 1656, little more than 50 Years of Age.

93. Francesco Collantes, Painter,

BORN in, and living in Madrid, was a great Painter, but particularly excelled in Landſchapes. He flourish'd in the Time of Philip IV. He painted a St. Jerom which one would take to be a Performance of Espagnoletto. He was likewise eminent for History-pieces of a middling Size, of which there are some in the Buen Retiro. He also painted the Humours of little paultry Victualling-houses. He died in Madrid 1656, in his 57th Year.

94. Fran-

94. Pedro de Obregon, Painter,

A Native and Inhabitant of Madrid. He was a Disciple of Vicencio Carducho. He painted many excellent Pieces for private Families. There are likewise some publick Works of his, particularly the most Holy Trinity, in the Hall de Profundis in the Convent of the Merced in Madrid, an admirable and almost supernatural Performance! He died 1657, above 60 Years of Age.

95. Francisco Gassen, Painter,

WAS a Catalonian. There are of his Works in the Cloister of San Francisco de Paula in Barcelona; where he died, aged 60, Anno 1658.

96. Don Juan Galvan, Painter,

HE lived in Zaragoza, but was a Native of Loesia, in the Kingdom of Aragon. His Works are as numerous as they are excellent. He painted the Cupola pola of St. Justa and St. Rufina, in the Assen, and the principal Picture of the Dis-cakeat Carmelites of St. Theresa, which is the Trinity de la Tierra, both of them in an exceeding good Taste and agreeable Colouring. He learnt the Art at Rome.

 He died at Zaragoza in 1658, aged 60.

97. Christopher Vela, Painter.

VELA was born in the City of Jaen and lived in Cordova. He was a Disciple of Paul de Cespedes and Vicencio
Carducho. He came to be a very good Inventor, and a great Daughtsman, tho' but of little Taste in Colouring. There are many of his Works in the Church and Cloister of the Convent of St. Augustin, where are innumerable Paintings of his Hand. He died 1658, in his 60th Year.

98. Bartolome Roman, Painter,

WAS a Native of Madrid, and Disciple of Carducho, tho' he perfected himself in the School of Velasquez, as is
 cristy of the Convent of the Incarnation in Madrid,

Madrid, the Subject whereof is the Parable of the Marriage of the King's Son, where all that came were obliged to appear in a Wedding-garment. He did several other Things both public and private, particularly at Alcala de Henares, and above all, in the Sacristy of the Padres Cayetanos at Madrid. There is a St. Peter weeping done by him, with such Softness and Relievo, that it seems as if done by Rubens. He died in Madrid 1659, at 61 Years of Age.

99. Micier Pablo, Painter,

LIVED in Zaragoza : An excellent Painter, as is manifest (among many other Things) from the Picture he drew for the Oratorio of the Conde de San Clemente. He died in the said City 1659, 76 Years of Age.

100. Anton. de Horfelin, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of Zaragoza. He study'd at Rome, was a good Painter. Among his best Pieces there is a Picture of St. Joseph de los Carpinteros, and two Pictures on the Side-walls — in the the Church of the Barefoot Augustins. He died in the said City 1660, and in the 63d Year of his Age.

101. J. Vanderhamen, Painter,

WAS born at Madrid. His Father was a Fleming and a Painter, of whom he learnt the Art of Painting. He was an eminent and universal Painter; yet he had some Tincture of that Dryness which is the Characteristick of the old Flemish Manner, but he had a good Taste. There are of his Works in the Carthusian House del Paular, and in the Cloister of the most Holy Trinity in Madrid. He painted Fruits, Flowers, Landscapes, and the Humours of your bowzing, guttling Companions in little Tippling Houses: But for Flower-Pieces he was so eminent, that he is celebrated for it by Pacheco, in his Book of Painting, fol. 421. He died at Madrid 1660, aged 66.

102. Angelo Nardi, Painter,

AN Italian by Birth: He was a Disciple of Paul Veroneze, and resided in Madrid. He was Painter to Phil. IV.
He

He did many fine Things in Madrid and Alcala de Henares. He died in the former of those two Places 1660, aged 59.

103. Estevan Marc, Painter.

HE was a Native of Valencia, and a Disciple of Pedro Orrente, in whose School he greatly improved himself, and had a singular Genius for Battles, which he did with a matchless Excellence. He was somewhat whimsical, and not without a Touch of Lunacy. He painted likewise historical Pieces, and gain'd a great Reputation that Way, for in St. Juan de Mercado there is a Piece of his doing, viz. The Lord's Supper, an incomparable Thing! He died in the City aforesaid 1660 much stricken in Years.

104. Juan de la Corte, Painter.

HE was born in Madrid and lived there. He was a very good Painter of Landscapes, Battles, and Perspectives, as is demonstrable from his many Performances which are distributed in divers
Royal

Royal Palaces and Noblemen's Houses, both within and without Madrid, especially in the Retiro in the Saloncete. He was Painter to the King, tho' none of the brightest Genius. What he most excell'd in was in little History-pieces, in small. He died 1660, aged 73.

105. Don Juan Bautista Crescencio,

P AINTER and Architect, of whose Hand there is in the Palace, a Picture of Fruits and Flowers, which bear Testimony to his excellent Talents and Abilities in his Art ; and that he excell'd also in Architecture is manifest from the wonderful Model he made for the Pantbeon, of the Escorial. He died at Madrid 1660, aged 65.

106. Don Diego Velasquez de Silva,

W A S born at Seville. He was a Disciple of Francisco de Herrera the Elder, whose School he soon left, and followed that of Francisco Pacheco. He took to representing, with a most singular Fancy and notable Genius, Beasts, Birds, Fishes, Fish-markets and Tippling-houses, with a perfect Imitation of Nature, as also beautiful Landscapes and Figures of Men and Women ; Differences of Meats and Drinks, Fruits of every Sort and Kind ; all Manner of Furniture, Household-goods, or any other Necessaries which poor beggarly People, and others in low Life, make Use of ; with so much Strength of Expression, and such Colouring, that it seem'd to be Nature itself. There is a celebrated Painting of a Fellow carrying Water about to sell, in the Buen Retiro. Herivall'd Caravagio in Strength of Painting, and was equal to Pacheco in the speculative Part. He was an Imitator of Luis Trifan. He was call'd the Second Caravagio for his happy mimicking of Nature. In his Face-paintings he imitated Dominico Greco, Master of Luis Trifan, because he thought his Heads could never be sufficiently commended. He study'd all the Sciences necessary to his Art. He was likewise intimately acquainted with the Poets and Orators. He was born 1594, and came to Madrid 1622. He drew Philip IV. in Armour, and mounted on a beautiful Horse, in a Picture as large as the Life. In 1623 he was made Painter of the Bed-chamber to the King, with a Salary of 20 Ducats a Month, only by way of Retainer, besides being paid for his Work, and had the King's Physician and Apothecary gratis, with a House to live in. His Majesty ordered 300 Ducats to be given him to fit up his House, and a yearly Pension of 300 Ducats more towards House-keeping. He did the famous Picture of the Expulsion of the Moors by Phil. III. which was placed in the Grand Salon where it remains. He went to Venice 1629. In Ferrara he staid two Days, attentively considering the Works of Garofoli: He was at Rome a Year, and made Drawings after some of Raphael's Works, the Last Judgment of Michael Angelo, and other Pieces of that Painter. He went afterwards and spent two Months in the Palace of Medicis (which is in the Trinity del Monte) to study the Antique Statues, &c. He went also to Naples, and returned to Madrid the Beginning of the Year 1631.
E followed

He had the Office of Groom of the Wardrobe conferr'd on him, a Post of great Eminence in the King's Household. His Majesty likewise honour'd him with the Key of his Bed-Chamber, and likewise bestowed on him the Place of Groom of his Bed-Chamber. He drew the Picture of the Duke of Modena at Madrid, who presented him with a very rich Chain of Gold. Among his celebrated Portraits is that of Adrian Pulido Pareja Captain General of the Armada and Flota of New Spain, and is now in the Possession of the Duke of Arcos. He did it with Pencils and Brushes, which had extreme long Handles which he sometimes made use of to paint at a greater Distance, and with more Boldness: so that near-hand, one does not know what to make of it; but afar off, 'it is a Master-piece. To this Portrait he set his Name, which he seldom did. The Inscription runs in these Words: Didacus Velasquez fecit Philip. IV, a cubiculo, ejusque Pictor, Anno 1639. King Philip was deceiv'd by it, and took the Picture for the Admiral himself. In the Year 1648, he was sent by his Majesty into Italy with an extraordinary Embassy to Pope

Pope Innocent X, and to purchase original Paintings and antique Statues, and to have Casts made from some of the best. He pass'd thro' Genoa, Milan, Padua and Venice. He visited Michael Colona and Augustin Miteli in Bologna, and treated with them in order to bring them into Spain. He went thro' Florence, Modena, and Parma; from which latter he set out for Rome, and then went to Naples where he visited Joseph de Ribera. He return'd to Rome, where he was caress'd by the Grandees, and the most excellent Painters, such as the Chevalier Matthias of the Order of St. John; Pedro de Cortona, Nicolo Pussno, and Signor Alexandro Algardi a Bolognese, and Signor Juan Lorenzo Bernini, both very famous Statuaries. Without neglecting the Business of his Commission he painted many Things; the principal was the Picture of his Holiness Innocent X, of whom he received very great and signal Rewards; the holy Father sent him a Gold Medal with his Effigy in Half-relief, fasten'd to a Chain; the Pope's Chamberlain was so struck at the Sight of his Masters Portrait and deceiv'd to such a Degree, that he thought he saw his Holiness himself. He likewise drew the Picture of Signor Camillo Maximo, a renowned Painter, the most illustrious Signora Dogna Olympia, and Flaminia Triunfi, an exceeding fine Paintress ; all these Portraits he drew with long-handled Pencils and Brushes, and in the strong Manner of the great Titian, and no ways inferior to his Heads, which nobody will call in question, who has once seen those of his drawing in Madrid. When he determin'd to draw the Picture of the Holy Father, he thought fit to prepare himself beforehand. by way of Exercise, in painting some Head from the Life ; for which purpose he drew that of Juan de Pareja (a Slave of his and an ingenious Painter) with such Similitude and Liveliness that, having sent it by the same Pareja to some Friends to pass their Judgment on it, they stood a while looking sometimes on the Picture and sometimes on the Original, with Amazement and even a sort of Terror, without knowing which they were to speak to, or which was to answer them. Of this Portrait (which was a half-length) Andrew Esmit (a Flemish Painter in Madrid, who was then at Rome) relates that it being a Custom on St. Joseph's Day to adorn the Cloister of the Rotunda, with

with capital Paintings, ancient and modern, this Portrait was not only placed, with universal Applause, among them, but in the Opinion of all the Painters of different Nations, all the rest look'd like Painting, but, this alone seem'd to be a Reality, and thereupon Velasquez was admitted a Member of the Roman Academy, in the Year 1650. He return'd to Madrid 1651, and cast a great number of fine Statues. In 1652, His Majesty was pleas'd to make Don Diego Velasquez head Harbinger of his Imperial Palace. Michael Colona and Augustin Miteli came to Madrid 1658. Miteli died 1660 at Madrid: Colona return'd to Italy 1662. In 1659, came to Valencia Bautista Juan Moreli a Roman, a famous Statuary, a Disciple of Algardi, and in 1661 he came to Madrid. He executed many Works in Aranjuez and Madrid where he died, not long after the Death of Philip IV. Velasquez drew a Picture of the Queen of Spain in a round Plate of Silver, of the Diameter of a piece of Eight of Segovia, which was highly finish'd and extremely like; and painted with an uncommon Dexterity, Address, Strength and Sweetness. This was one of his last Pieces and of the last Perfection. In variety of History-pieces he had evinced his universal Comprehension of the Art. He was very witty and ingenious in Conversation, and smart in his Repartees. The King being determined to honour him with the Habit and distinctive Badge of some of the Military Orders of Knighthood, and leaving it to his Option, he chose that of Santiago, and was invested therewith the 28th of November 1658 ; he died at Madrid August 6 1660, and in the 66th Year of his Age.

107. Francisco Lopez Caro,

PAINTER, a Native and Inhabitant of Seville ; was of considerable Eminence in his Profession ; a Disciple of Roelas ; he apply'd his Studies and Exercises, to all the Parts and Branches of Painting, and attain'd to a laudable Skill in every one of them, but chiefly he distinguish'd himself in Face-painting. His Performances are to be seen in Seville. About the Year 1608 he went and work'd in the Royal Palace of the Pardo. He died at Madrid 1662, aged 70.

Fran-

108. Francisco Zurbaran,

PAINTER, was a Native of Fuente de Cantos, and liv'd in Seville. He receiv'd the first Rules of the Art under the Divine Morales, and afterwards went to Seville to compleat himself in the School of Doctor Pablo Roelas, and there acquir'd the Reputation of an excellent Painter, by the many Pieces of his doing, particularly those in the second Cloister of la Merced Calzada in that City. All the Drapery he used to draw by a Maniqui (and the Naked by the Life.) And thus he performed several wonderful Pieces, adhering for this Purpose to the School of Carabacho, whom he follow'd so close, that any one wou'd take his Works for Carabacho's, unless they were told whose they were. He left at Seville such numbers of them, and indeed all over Andaluzia, as well in publick Edifices as private Houses, that it were almost impossible to specify the Particulars of them all. In the College of San Pablo at Cordova, are many Pictures of the Saints of the Preaching Order, exceeding fine! At last he came to Madrid 1650, where he painted divers Pieces, both at the Palace del Campo and other Royal Houses, He died 1662, in his 66th Year.
Madrid

109. Miguel and Geronimo Garcia, Painters and Sculptors,

WERE Twins and born at Granada. The one signaliz'd himself most in making Statues or solid Figures, and the other in colouring and painting them. Their Works are spread up and down in the City and Kingdom of Granada. They flourish'd in Philip the IVth's Time.

110. Juan de Toledo, Painter,

BORN in the City of Lorca, in the Kingdom of Murcia; his Father's Name was Miguel de Toledo: He was likewise a Painter and taught his Son the Art: who afterwards went to Italy and kept close to the School of Michael Angelo de las Batallas, not neglecting to resort frequently to that of Annello Falconi. Returning into Spain, he went and settled at Granada, where he lived some Years, and drew a World of Battle and Sea-pieces, with a singular Excellence, and some Night-pieces of Armies and Parties marching, and little historical Occurrences transacted by Moon or Link-light, wherein he express'd an exquisite Taste and Fancy, beyond all Competition. Not that his great Genius satisfy'd itself with such small Matters, but extended likewise to capital Histories of a very large Size, as is manifested from the different Paintings he drew in the Convent of San Francisco el Grande, in the City aforesaid. He left also several of his Works in Murcia, Madrid, Toledo, and Alcala de Henares. He died at Madrid 1665, aged 54.
at

III. Pedro Cuquet, Painter,

A Native of Barcelona; was an excellent Painter, witness the grand Piece he drew of the Council of Ephesus, which is placed in the Carmelite Convent in that City, not to mention divers Altar-pieces of his doing in that City; where he died 1666, turn'd of 70.

Pedro

112. Pedro de Moya, Painter,

WAS born at Granada, but received at Seville a slight Tincture of the Art in the School of Juan del Castillo. From thence he went to Flanders, and cross'd over to England, and apply'd himself to the School of Vandyke, where he made great Advances. He return'd to Seville and lived there many Years, and left such eminent Instances of his Skill, as to merit the highest Approbation of the most celebrated Painters of that Time. He then went to Granada, where he maintain'd the Character he had already acquir'd ; and was, in that City, the first Introducer of the good Manner of Vandyke, which he has given a Proof of in a Picture of our Lady's Conception done by him ; which is in the Church of Our Lady of Grace, in the said City ; with whose School and that which was left by Juan Fernandez Macbuca (a Disciple of Raphael de Urbino) was form'd in Granada a great Race of Painters. Our Moya died there 1666, aged 56.

Igna-

113. Ignatio Raeth, Painter,

WAS born at Antwerp, and a Disciple of Father Daniel Segers. He went to Madrid, and painted the Life of Father San Ignacio in 36 Pieces, which are placed in the new Church of the said House: He afterwards returned to his Province of Flanders and into Germany, where he died (1666) in great Repute for his Ability, and very old.

114. Christopher Garcia Salmeron, Painter,

WAS born at Cuenca, and a Disciple of Pedro Orrente; he painted a great deal in that City, as in the Convent of St. Francis, a Picture of Christ's Birth, a heavenly Piece! He went to Madrid, where he drew divers Pictures and where he died 1666, in the 63d Year of his Age.

Josepb

115. Josepb de Arfe, Sculptor,

WAS born at Seville, where he receiv'd his first Rudiments ; he went to Rome to perfect himself in the Art. After an Interval of some Years he return'd to his native Country, where, besides many Statues which he carv'd he immortaliz'd his Name, by the Figures of Silver which adorn the Tabernacle of the said Church, having made the Models from whence they were cast and afterwards repair'd them. The Products likewise of his Ingenuity are the Marble Statues of the Evangelists and Doctors, which are in the Chapel of the Sanctuary of that holy Church, Figures above 20 Foot high, a masterly Performance ! he died in the said City 1676; aged 63.

116. Pablo Pontons, Painter,

A Native and Inhabitant of the City of Valencia, and a Disciple of Pedro Orrente. He had a grand Manner in Painting a la Moda Italiana, and with a great Command of his Pencil. There are

are abundance of his Works in the said City, especially in the Convent of la Merced, as well in the Church as in the Cloisters; in the Cartbusians Monastery del Puche there are likewise divers Testimonies of his Merit. He died in that City above 60 Years old, Anno 1666.

117. Don Francisco Ximenez,

PAINTER, was born at Tarazona, where having been initiated in the Art of Painting, he went to Rome and continued there some years; from thence he came greatly improv'd to Zaragoza, and there executed admirable Things, some of them of very considerable Magnitude, especially three Pieces of forty Palms high, for the Chapel of San Pedro Arbues in the Aſcu of the said City. He also painted the Life of St. Elias, for the Cloister of the Calceate Carmelites; a Thing of a grand Taste and Fancy in the Historical Way. He died in the said City 1666, 78 Years old.

Mann.

118. Manuel Pereyra, Sculptor,

WAS a Noble Portugueze and an excellent Sculptor, as is demonstrable from the Multitude of Statues he wrought in the Court of Madrid, and in many Churches of Madrid and Alcala Henares, above all, the Effigy of the most holy Christ of Perdon in the Convent of Dominicans del Rosario in Madrid. He executed, being now in a Manner grown blind, the Model of the Statue of St. John de Dios which is over the great Portal of the Cloister of his Convent in Madrid, and even directed the Stone Statue itself, only by his Feeling; it was executed by Manuel Delgado, a tolerable good Sculptor and his Disciple. It is absolutely a beautiful Figure; he died in 1667, in the 63d Year of his Age.

119 Don Eugenio de las Cuevas,

Painter, born at Madrid and Disciple of his Father Pedro de las Cuevas; and tho' he took the Pencil in Hand only to divert himself yet he highly deserves serves a Place here for his excellent Talents. He was pitch'd upon to teach Don John of Austria, Philip IVth's Son, the Art of Design. He painted Things in small, of a very good Taste, such as Pictures for Jewels. He died at Madrid 1667, in his 54th Year.

120. Don Francisco Caro,

PAINTER, was born at Seville, and a Disciple of his Father Francisco Lopez Caro. He perfected himself under Alonzo Cano. He dwelt in Madrid, where he drew many and good Pieces for divers private Persons. He painted the Life of the Virgin in the Chapel of St. Isidorus, in which he acquitted himself with great Mastery and Command, favouring much of Alonzo Cano's School ; accordingly he grew into very great Esteem. He died in Madrid 1697, scarce 40 Years old.

121. Sebastian Martinez,

PAINTER, was a Native and Inhabitant of the City of Jaen. He was noted for a capricious romantick out F of the Way, and singular Style of Painting ; but yet of a good Taste and Correctness, and of great Temperance, and wonderfully pretty in his Contours or Outlines, as is apparent in a Multitude of Pictures which he did in that City both publick and private, especially those of the Society of Jesus. He did several Works in Lucena and Cordova, which were highly applauded by all the good Judges of the Art. He came to Madrid, and upon the Death of Don Diego Velasquez, Philip IV. made him his Painter, notwithstanding his Majesty told him his Painting had little Force, and that it must be look'd at very close ; because he did every Thing in a very misty Manner, yet with an exquisite and uncommon Share of Fancy. He likewise drew Landskips admirably well, and I have seen one which was an Aurora or Day-break, an incomparable Piece. He died at Madrid 1667, aged 65.

122. Antonio del Castillo y Saavedra, Painter,

A Native of the City of Cordova, and a Disciple of his Father Agustin de Castillo, who losing his Father, went to Seville ville to perfect himself in the Art, in Company with Josepb de Sarabia (a noted Cor-dovan Painter likewise) and attained his End in the School of Francisco Zurbaran. Castillo, now seeing himself accomplish'd in the Art, returned to his native Country, where he did an infinite number of excellent Things, in every kind, both in Fresco and Oil. In the Royal College of St. Paul (of the sacred Order of Preachers) of his Hand are all the Paintings of that celebrated Stair-case, consisting of Figures bigger than the Life ; the whole executed with singular Mastery and Bravery. His Works are in the holy Church, in the Hospital of Jesus of Nazareth. In the Salon of the holy Tribunal, in the Church of the Convent of St. Francis, in the Convent of the Nuns of St. Isabel de los Angeles. In the Hospital of la Caridad, in that of la Consolacion, and in the Convent de la Arriazafa of the Recoletos Franciscos. He had also an excellent Hand at Landskips ; for which Purpose he would often take a Walk into the Country, with his Implements for Drawing, and would draw Views from the Life, as also Beasts, Carts, Waggon and Coaches, Coaches, or any thing else that offer'd, as a Brook running among Rocks, &c. with a most singular Delicacy. He was likewise a great Architect, Perspectivist, and Limner ; of this there are, in the said City, many undeniable Evidences ; particularly he had an agreeable Way of interspersing little Towns and Castles in his Landskips. Above all, for little Historical Compositions of a middling Size, he had not his Equal ; neither is the Court of Madrid itself, without some of his Pictures. He had likewise a wonderful Ease in sketching out and delineating every Thing that fell in his Way ; so that, when he died, there were found innumerable Draughts of his doing, most of them done with a Pen ; and some Heads (especially old Folks) done with a reed Pen, with which he took delight in drawing large Heads with broad Strokes of the Pen, with great Boldness and Command of Hand. He likewise was a very good Modeller in Clay, in which I have seen some naked Figures and Heads of an excellent Gusto. At last he went to Seville, in 1666, where he had not been since he was a young Man, and where seeing the Paintings of Murillo, (who was then in his Prime) he was so concern'd at Murillo's being cry'd up by the Populace for his beautiful Colouring, which he himself was deficient in, tho' he far surpass'd the other in Designing, that he said, Now is Castillo Dead! and so it prov'd, for returning to Cordova he fell into so deep a Melancholy that he lived but a very little while, and painted but a few Things, among which, was St. Francis drawn to the Middle; nothing is more true, than that it excell'd all he ever did in his Life, in the Taste and Delicacy of the Head and Hands, tho' 'tis certain he was not so happy in Colouring. He died in the said City 1667, aged 64; leaving so great a Name in that City, that he who has not a Painting of Castillo's is not reckon'd a Man of Taste.

Mu-

123. Alonzo de Messa, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid, and some will have it he was a Disciple of Alonzo Cano: he painted the Life of St. Francis, in the Cloister of his Convent in Madrid; in which Work

Work is conspicuous his Virtu, his Genius, and his advantageous Disposition to the Art, suitable to the Greatness of his Manner, and the Experience and easy Manage shewn in the Invention and Expression of the Passions. He died at little more than 40 Years of Age in Madrid, 1668.

124 The Licentiate Pedro Valpuesta, Painter,

WAS born in the Village of Osma, and a Disciple of Eugenio Caxes Painter to his Majesty, and whom none of his Disciples ever imitated so nearly; for many of his Works have been held to be done by his celebrated Master. His Works in Madrid are in the Convent of St. Francis, in St. Miguel, in the Buen Sucesso, in Santa Clara, and in the Concepcion Francisca. He died at Madrid 1668, aged 54.

125 Joseph de Sarabia, Painter,

WAS a Native of Seville; having perfected himself in the School of Zurbaran, he went to Cordova. There are of his Works in the Convent of St. Francis at Cordova; and in the Convent of la Victoria there, a Flight into Egypt which he owned he himself, was most pleas'd with, of any Thing he ever did; and he was certainly in the right: he did numberless Pieces for private Persons. He died 1669, aged 61 Years 8 Months.
are

126. Brother Adrian Rodriguez

PAINTER, was of the Society of Jesus in Madrid. He was the Son of Adriano Dierix and born at Antwerp. He took the Surname of Rodriguez, because his own sounded so strangely in these Parts. He was a profess'd Painter, when he enter'd into the Society aforesaid. He was admitted into the profess'd House at Madrid, where he painted divers Things. He died in that House 1669, aged 51.

127. Don Antonio Pereda,

WAS born at Valladolid; but went to Madrid and was instructed in the Principles of Painting, by Pedro de las Cuevas. He painted an Historical Piece which which was justly admired ; the Subject of it was the Marquis de Santa Cruz throwing Succours into Genoa ; the Whole very well designed, and excellently colour'd, both in the Drapery and the Heads. By this Picture he gave no less pleasing than evident Demonstrations of his Ingenuity and fine Vein ; the Piece is to be seen in the Salon de Comedias of the Buen-Retiro. There are several of his Performances in the Church of the Madres Capuchinas ; in the Church las Nignas de Loreto, and in that of la Magdalena in Alcala de Henares, in the College of Atocha in Madrid ; in the Parish Church of St. Michael, in the Carmelites Calzados ; and the famous principal Piece of the High Altar in the Church of St. Antonio of the Capuchines of the Prado, and abundance more, which wou'd be too prolix to enumerate. He had a peculiar Talent likewise for representing the Passages and Humours of ordinary Cook Shops and blind Hedge-Taverns, in which he was excell'd by none. He had not only the best Collection, of any Man, of all Sorts of Prints, Drawings, Sketches, and rough Draughts ; Originals, Models, and excellent lent Statues, but an admirable Library of Books, in various Languages and on various Subjects, especially that of Painting; and yet he cou'd neither read nor write; so that when his Name and Date was to be set to a Picture, he got some Body to write it upon a Paper, and he copy'd it: he took delight in hearing his Disciples and some Friends read Histories to him, especially such as he was to paint; and by this means he reap'd the Benefit of his Library. He died at Madrid 1669, at 70 Years of Age.

128. Juan de Pareja, Painter,

WAS born at Seville, of a Mestizo Breed, that is, of Indian and Spanish Parents, he was of an odd Hue, and was a Slave of Don Diego Velasquez; and altho' his Master (for the Honour of the Art) wou'd never suffer him to meddle with Painting or Drawing, but only to grind his Colours and prepare the Canvas, and other servile Offices belonging to the Art and about the House; yet he being very handy and ingenious, and taking all opportunities of his Masters Absence and passing whole Nights in study when he might might have taken his rest, he came to do Things very worthy of esteem ; and in order to prevent the effects of his Master's Resentment, which he apprehended would necessarily follow upon the Discovery , he made use of the following Stratagem. He had observed that whenever the King (Philip IV.) came down to the Apartments to see Velasquez paint, and chanc'd to see any Picture set up against the Wall, his Majesty wou'd turn it, or order it to be turn'd to see what it was. Upon this Pareja resolv'd within himself to set up a small Piece of his own painting against the Wall, and to place it so, as to make it seem to have been left there undesignedly. The King no sooner saw it, but he turn'd it about, and at the same Time Pareja, who waited for the Opportunity, fell on his Knees and humbly begg'd his Majesty to interpose between him and his Master, without whose Consent he had presum'd to learn the Art and wrought that Piece. The King turning towards Velasquez, told Pareja he needs say no more upon that Head, adding that the Man who had such a Talent, cou'd not be a Slave. Upon this Velasquez immediately gave Juan de Pareja a Letter of absolute Liberty and Discharge from his Service ; but Pareja was so honourable as to continue not only to serve Velasquez, as long as he liv'd, but his Daughter after him. Our Pareja had a most singular Ability in painting Portraits, some of which are superlatively good, and so much in Velasquez's Manner, that they have been often taken for that great Master's. He died at Madrid 1670, aged about 60.

129, Don Juan Bautista del Mazo Martinez, Painter,

A Native and Inhabitant of Madrid, He was Painter of the Bed-chamber to his Majesty, and Son-in-Law and Disciple of Diego Velasquez. He was universal in the Art, he made Portraits to Admiration ; he likewise painted to Perfection the Hunting of noble Game, as Wild Boars, Stags, &c. not only with great Exactness, representing the Situation of the Country and adjoining Towns, but the Occurrences usual in the Field, viz. some taking taking the Refreshment of a hasty Repast, and others ranging about either on Foot or on Horseback, strictly observing the Habits suitable to the Occasion, and the Custom of the Country; and what is wonderful, he was so singular in copying after others, especially his Master, that there's no distinguishing the Copies from the Originals. I have seen several Copies, even from Originals of Tintoret, Veronese and Titian, in the Hands of his Heirs, which if carry'd into Italy, where they knew nothing of his Ability, I make no question but they would pass for the Originals; and I can't help thinking that when a Copy reaches such a degree of Perfection, as to deceive both the Practitioners and Judges of the Profession, it ought to pass as an Original. O! how many Pieces wou'd be christened by that Name! but the Difficulty is how to attain to this high Degree; for as those who copy after others, are usually but of a middling Capacity, you may discover a Coldness and Tameness in the Execution, from their being obliged to a servile Imitation: but it is not so with a Man already made to it, and that works with a Masterly and free Pencil, as is evident from Rubens's Copies of Titian which are in the Pardo; and which are really better than the Originals. Juan Bautista died at Madrid 1670, aged 50.

130. Juan Sanchez Barba,

SCULPTOR, was born among the Mountains of Burgos. He was an eminent Sculptor, as is apparent from his Works at Madrid in the Church of the Convent of the Carmelites Calzados, in the Parish Church of Santa Cruz, and in the Convent of the Merced; above all, the Holy Christ de la Agonia which is venerated in the Convent of the Padres Agonizantes; I must needs say, in respect to the Truth of Symmetry, and the Passions and Affections of a Person giving up the Ghost, I have met with nothing of a more supreme Expression and Propriety. He died 1670, aged 55.

131. Juan de Arellano, Painter,

HE was a Native of the Town of Torez in the Archbishoprick of Toledo. He was born 1614; learnt the Art
at

at Alcala de Henares, and afterwards went to Madrid. He was 36 Years old, before he shew'd any extraordinary Capacity ; but following the Bent of his Inclinations, he apply'd himself to copy some of Mario's Flower-pieces, and afterwards studying Flowers from the Life, he attain'd to such a Superiority in that Particular that no Spaniard went beyond him, witness the various Pieces he painted in the Churches and in the Houses of Noblemen and others. In the Middle of the Chapel of our Lady del buen Consejo, there are four Pieces of his doing, surprizingly fine. His Study was not less employ'd in Fruit-Pieces; and his Application was so great that he work'd as much by Night as by Day. One asking him, why he gave himself so much to Flowers, and left Figures, he answer'd, because they cost me less Pains and bring me more Money. He died at Madrid 1670, in his 65th year.

132. Miguel Mark, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of the City of Valencia, the Son and Disciple of Stephen Mark, and follow'd his Father's Father's Genius in applying himself to Battle-pieces, but was more universal, and had none of the Oddities of his Father's Humour. Besides Battles he wrought many excellent Things; particularly there's a Painting of his at St. Francis in the third Order of that City, which is admirable: and likewise another of the same Saint not inferior to it, (in which the Prints of the Wounds are represented) in the Convent of the Madres Capuchinos: not to mention many more in other Places highly esteemed by the Virtuoso's. He excell'd in the Art of Design and had a genteel, graceful, and pretty Way of managing the Colours. He died 1670, no more than 37 Years old.

133. Joseph de Ledesma, Painter.

WAS a Native of old Castile, where he received some Instructions in the Art. He became a Disciple, at Madrid, of Don Juan Caregno; there are pieces of his Work; in the Church of the College of St. Thomas in the Convent of the Agustinos Recoletos, there is a Picture of the dead Body of our Saviour, attended by his

his Mother, St. John, and Mary Magdalen, done with so excellent a Gusto, and so well executed in respect to the Foreshortning of the Christ, that for this Piece alone the Author deserves an immortal Name. He died at Madrid before he reach'd his 40th Year, Anno 1670.

134. Benito Manuel de Agüero,

PAINTER, was a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid. He was a Disciple of Juan Bautista del Mazo; and altho' he did not make such a Progress in Figures as some others, yet he excell'd most Artists in the Landskip Parts, as is apparent from many of his Pieces in the Palace of Aranjuez, touch'd up with a most singular Relish; nor are the Figures and little Historys represented therein less to be admir'd. He died 1670, in his 44th Year.

135. Juan Antonio Escalante,

PAINTER, was a Native of Cordova; and after he had there imbibed some Principles of Painting, he came to Madrid

Madrid, where he learn'd with much Study and Application, in the School of Don Francisco Rici. There are several Pieces of his in the Convent of la Merced in the said City, in which is discover'd the Greatness of his Genius, and Affection to Tintoret and Veronese, for he follow'd in all Things that Style, in the Composition and the Gracefulness of the Attitudes; there are other fine Pieces of his Hand in the Parish Church of St. Michael in Madrid: among which is a St. Catharine (Virgin and Martyr) a most graceful Figure, and of an exquisite Fancy vastly in Tintoret's Manner. But the Thing wherein he out did himself was an Effigy of a dead Christ in the Church of the Holy Ghost (a Convent of the Clerigos Menores in Madrid) a Piece which one wou'd really take to be of Titian's Hand. He died at Madrid 1670, in the 40th Year of his Age.

136. Don Sebastian de Herrera,
Barnuevo,

PAINTER, Sculptor, and Architect, was a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid. He was the Disciple of his Father
G Don

Don Antonio Herrera who was an excellent Sculptor as is apparent by the Angel and the other Figures over the Gate of the Royal Prison at Madrid. Afterwards, our Sebastian stuck to the School of Alonzo Cano, more for imitation than instruction, and accordingly he trod close in his Steps. He afterwards turn'd out not only an excellent Painter, but a consummate Sculptor and Architect ; as is visible in the repeated Works of his, which are admir'd at Madrid, in all the three Faculties. There are Pieces of his in the Convent of the Recoletos Agustinos, and in the Church of the imperial College of Madrid, and in the Church of St. Jerome ; and another of the Martyrdom of St. Laurence (now in the Hands of a Lover of Art) nearly approaching to Titian, Tintoret and Paul Veronese, for it has the Excellencies of all Three. He was superintendant of the Kings Works, Assistant Harbinger, Painter of the Bed-Chamber to his Majesty, keeper of the Palace of the Escorial, and other Employments. There is handed about among the Painters an Effigy in Wax about 4 Inches high, of a Christ tied to the Pillar, which neither

Michael

Michael Angelo himself nor any other of the most eminent Sculptors could have out done: I have the cast of it in Silver extremely well finish'd. He died in Madrid in the 60th Year of his Age, Anno 1671.

137. Bernabe Ximenez de Illescas, Painter,

WAS born in the City of Lucena. In his Youth he Study'd six Years at Rome, copy'd with great punctuality, and wrought Grotesks and Foliages. Altho' he did not much practise the Art, he left in the said City, very valuable Tokens of his ingenuity and ability in Painting, and some very good Disciples; and among them, the Licentiate Don Leonardo Antonio de Castro, and Michael de Parilla: a Native of Malaga. He died in the City of Anduxar 1671, Aged about 60.

138. Francisco Camilo, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid His Fathers name was Domingo Camilo, a Native of Florence. Francisco was a Disciple of Pedro de las Cuevas and became a renowned Painter, particularly for a tender, fresh, and soft Colouring. His Genius was so much inclin'd to the Mild and the Devout, that whenever he painted Gods and Goddeßes, his Jupiter resembled Jesus Christ, and his Juno the B. Virgin. There are many of his Works in Madrid; among others a Holy Mary in Egypt, in the Church of the Capuchin Fathers at Alcala de Henares, wherein are many excellent Figures, more especially the B. Virgin so beautiful and withal so finely adorn'd as speaks her Queen of Angels; and in short, is so excellent a Piece that, had he done no other Work, he had deserv'd a Place here; but he likewise wrought another Piece, St. Joseph, no ways inferior to the former, in the College of the Padres Clerigos Menores, an admirable Thing! There are likewise many celebrated Performances of Camilo's in Salamanca, Segovia, and Toledo. He died 1671.

Luis

139. Luis de Sotomayor Painter,

WAS a Native of the Kingdom of Valencia. He had a great Genius for Painting, and learn'd something of the Art under Estevan Marc in the City of that Name, but did not perfect himself in that School, because of the Masters extravagant Humour; which made Sotomayor, leave him and go to Madrid, where he continued in the House of Caregno, and attain'd to such a Mastery in all the Parts of Painting as to be universally admir'd. His Works discover he had a right Taste of Colouring, a grand Idea of Design, and an uncommon and rich Vein of Composition; all which I have seen, especially in Valencia (to which Place he return'd) in the Church of the Convent of St. Cbristopher of the Augustin Nuns, where all the Paintings were done by him, and, without exaggerating, are so many Master-pieces. Going again to Madrid, he died Anno 1673, scarce 40 Years of Age.

140. Juan Martin de Cabezalero

PAINTER, was born at Almaden, on the Borders of the Kingdom of Cor-dova. He was a Disciple of Don Juan Caregno, There are of his Works in the Parish of St. Nicholas at Madrid, and in the Chapel of the third Order, in the Convent of St. Francis, Masterly Things. He was a Painter extremely Studious and modest. He had scarce attain'd to the Age of 40, before he died in the City of Madrid, Anno 1673.

141. Andres de Vargas,

PAINTER, was a Native of the City of Cuenca, and a Disciple of Francisco Camilo at Madrid, and his Manner of Painting was so like that of Camilo that many of his Pieces have been reputed to be his Master's, witness that Performance in the Chapel of St. Saviour de le Paciencia: After he had wrought at Madrid abundance of publick and private Things, he return'd to Cuenca, where he likewise was the Author of many Pieces

Pieces of Painting. He likewise did a large Picture of the Conception in the Parish Church of the Town of Hinieſta, which is a transcendent Piece and ſo likewise is the Miſſion of the Apoſtles which he did for the Chapter-houſe of that Cathedral : Nor leſs to be admir'd is Our Saviour praying in the Garden, in the Cloyſter of the Trinitarios Deſcalzos at Madrid, In which City he died in the Year 1674, aged about 60.

142. Ambroſio Martinez,

Painter, was born at Granada and lived there. He was a Painter of much eſteem, of the School of Alonſo Cano, as his Works declare in the Royal Monastery of St. Jerome, and in the Convent of St. Antony of the Religioſos Terce-ros of the Order of St. Francis; and in the Convent of Carmalites in that City. He died young at Granada, 1674.

143, Joſeph Moreno, Painter,

WAS born at Burgos where he laid ſome foundation of the Art of Painting and then went to Madrid where he continued with Francisco de Solis, and made such Progress that our Moreno's Manner of Painting very much resembled his Master's, nay, was more correct and of a better Gusto, for the Truth of which Assertion I appeal to the various private Works which came out of his Hands; viz. A Flight into Egypt; a St. Antonio Abbot; and a Saint Catherine Martyr, a consummate Piece! As for publick Works, he did none that I know of. He returned to Burgos, where he died scarce 30 Years old, Anno 1674.

144. Phelipe Gil, Painter,

FLOURIH'D at Valladolid, about 1600, in which City he was also born, tho' he learn'd at Madrid in the School of Juan Vanderhamen, a Flemish Painter, and made great Improvements there; of which when he return'd to the Place of his Birth, he gave many demonstrative Proofs in various Works; especially in the College of Nignas Huerfanas, and in the Cloister of the Convent of St. Francis, where most of the Pictures are of his Hand. He likewise excell'd in Face-

Face-painting, and studied Nature extremely. He held an Academy at his House many Years, and had made so good a Collection of Drawings, Sketches, Models, and other Things relating to the Art, that upon his Death they were valu'd at 3000 Ducats. He died Anno 1674, turn'd of 70 Years of Age.

145. Matheo Cerezo, Painter,

WAS born in the City of Burgos, and coming to Madrid when hardly 15 Years old, he enter'd himself in the School of Don John Caregno, where he continued in the Study of Painting with such Felicity, frequenting the Academies, and painting from the Life several Persons, merely to exercise himself, and copying different Originals in the Royal Palace, besides attending his School so closely that he imbib'd his Master's Spirit to such a degree as to make it a very difficult Matter to distinguish his Works from those of Caregno himself. He was little more than 20 Years old, when he left his Masters School, in order to make himself famous. For the Publick he did wonderful ful Pieces, which are in the Church of St. Elizabeth, and in the Convent de los Agonizantes; also in the Chapel of Our Lady de la Soledad in Madrid. But that which exceeds all praise is the Picture of the Castle of Emaus, which is in the Convent of the Augustin Recoletos. He left behind him many fine Works in Valladolid. Returning to Madrid he did a great deal of Work for particular Persons. He likewise had so excellent a Hand at drawing Clowns and ordinary Pot-Companions that none went beyond him tho' perhaps Andres de Leito equall'd him. He died at Madrid 1675, at the Age of 40.

146. Fray Juan Rici, Painter,

WAS a Native of Madrid, and son of Antonio Rici a good Painter; and a Native of Bolonia. He was a Disciple of Fray Juan Bautista Maino. There are of his Performances in Salamanca, and in Rioja, as also in the Cloister of St. Martin at Madrid: and Our Lady de Remedios, and in the Church and Cloisters of the Metropolitan Church of Burgos and of the Monastery of St. John

John, and in the Village of la Seca, fix Leagues from Valladolid. After he had made himself much esteem'd in Spain, he went to Rome, where he enter'd himself in the Congregation of Monte Casino, and where he wrought many Pieces which were much celebrated at Rome. He died in Monte Casino 1675 Aged 80,

147. Pedro Antonio, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of the City of Cordova. He was a Disciple of Antonio del Castillo; his Colouring was very beautiful and pleas'd the Vulgar so much that they applauded him above all his Co-temporaries, especially after the Death of his Master, There are of his Works in the Church of the Royal Convent of St. Paul of the Predicant Order: without mentioning other Works of his both publick and private, which are very numerous and no less meritorious He died at Cordova 1675, in his 61st Year

148. Don Joseph Antonilez,

PAINTER, was born at Seville, where he receiv'd his Principles of the Art of Painting, and in order to make himself more

more perfect he came to Madrid, where he went thro' a Course in the School of Don Francisco Rici, and frequented the Academies, (which were then very flourishing) and he made such Improvements that he was reckon'd one of the chief Painters of of his Time, and not without reason, witness his many performances both publick and Private which are to be seen at Madrid, in all which is particularly discover'd a grand Gusto and a Titianic Tint. He had a great Genius for Landskips, in which he shew'd a wonderful Delicacy and Fancy. He likewise drew Pictures from the Life, exceedingly resembling the Persons that sat for them. He did some Things for the Parish Church of St. Andrew in Madrid, and for the Church of Magdalena de Alcala Henares, excellent Things! He died in Madrid 1676 aged 40.

149. Don Antonio Bela,

Painter, he was the Son and Disciple of Christopher Bela (a Painter of some Note) He had an uncommon Capacity for Painting He did many Things both in and out of Cordova. He painted two Stations

Stations of the Cloister of St. Augustin's Convent. He died in 1676, little more than 40 Years of Age.

150. Francisco Palacios, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid; he was a Disciple of Velasquez, and one of those who imitated his manner and tho' he was not known to have done any publick Work, there are excellent Pieces of his in private Families, especially Portraits, which he drew extraordinary well; and which carry with them sufficient Tokens of the excellent School he was brought up in, and of the Improvement he made there. He was not above 36 Years of Age when he died (Anno 1676) in Madrid.

151. Cornelio Scut, Painter,

WAS born a Fleming, but liv'd in Seville: He was an excellent Painter, Nephew; and Disciple of another Cornelio Scut, a Graver in Aqua fortis, of whose Hand we have some Prints. The Nephew acquir'd a great Reputation in Painting, having flourish'd in the Times of Murillo Murillo and Valdes : and tho' his Works imitated the Flemings in an elaborate Tedi-ousness and Prolixity. yet they are correct and highly worthy of Estimation. He drew a great number of Pieces which give clear Testimony of his eminent Ability. He was a very great Designer ; for which reason he usually presided in the Academy, giving to all that attended excellent Instructions as well by word of Mouth as demonstrative Figures. He had likewise an uncommon Talent for Face-painting, and was as much, if not more employed that way than any of the Profession. He died in a good old Age, at Seville, Anno 1676.

152. Alonzo Cano,

Painter, Sculptor and Architect, was born in Granada. Michael Cano his Father taught him the first Principles of Architecture, afterwards he gave himself to Painting at Seville, in the House of Fancisco Pacheco, where he spent eight Months in Designing, and then went on in the School of Juan del Castillo (some say likewise in that of old Herrera) and executed variety of publick Works,
in

in the said City. When he was but 24 Years old he work'd for the Town of Nebrija in the Iglesia Mayor an Effigy of Our Lady, with so much Skill that all the Artists of those Parts were astonish'd at it: Nay the Fame of it spread to such a Degree that Sculptors came from Flanders and copied it in small, in order to Work it afterwards in great, in their own Country. No less admirable is the Effigy of Christ crucified, which he made for the same Church. Under the Patronage of the Duke de Olivarez he came to Madrid and by that Noblemans interest obtained the Office of Superintendant of the Royal Works, 1638. He made the Model of the Monument in the Convent of St. Giles at Madrid. He was Painter to the King and Teacher to the Prince Don Baltazar Carlos of Austria. At this Time he likewise drew several Historical Pieces both Publick and Private, particularly the famous Picture of the Miracle of St. Isidore's Well, which is in the Parish Church of St. Mary at Madrid. A Picture so exquisite both for Design and Colouring, that it is really a Miracle of Art; nor less deserving of immortal

Applause is that of St .Francis in the Parish Church of St. Jago, with many others so admirably executed that they seem to be of Coregio's Hand. He made use of Prints nay sometimes of indifferent ones, and by adding to some Parts and leaving out of others, they were the Occasions of his producing very wonderful Conceptions; His Portraits were likewise marvelously well done. He afterwards drew some pictures in Valencia. He return'd to Madrid, where he drew some Pictures; Then he went to Granada where he carv'd for the great Altar in that Holy Church an Image of the Conception, so rarely finish'd that a Genoese Gentleman several Times offer'd four Thousand Dubloons for it, which were refused. He govern'd the Work of the larger Chapel of the del Angel in Granada where the Statues are done with the Correction and Models of Cano. He also painted various Pictures for the Church of San Diego, the Convent of Discalceate Franciscans without the Walls of that City, which are so numerous and so good that it raises ones Admiration up to Astonishment to see such profusion of Excellencies. Malaga may likewise likewise boasts of having some of his Performances. He return'd to Granada where he perform'd many Works both in Painting and Sculpture, for private Persons. He had that Facility in drawing any Thing, that he left Draughts innumerable. He was a Man really worthy of immortal Memory; a Prince in all the three Arts, of Painting, Sculpture, and Architecture. He was likewise a great Mathematician. He left many Disciples; but those of most Note were Don Pedro Mena Sculptor, and in Painting Don Juan Nigno, and Don Pedro Atanasio, Ciezar, and others, of whom particular Mention will be made. He died in Granada 1676, aged 76.

153. Don Antonio Garcia Reynoso, Painter,

WAS a Native of the Town of Cabra, and a Disciple of Sebastian Martinez (an excellent Painter in the City of Jaen) whom he imitated in the Main, but studied Nature so little, that he became somewhat of a Mannerist, but with a very singular Grace and good Taste, in Histories, Landskips, Drapery, and Skies. He had an abundant and rich Vein in Invention, and left numberless Draughts, which he design'd with perfect Accuracy. His Drawings were either wash'd, done with a Pen, or a piece of Charcoal, or Chalk ; not contenting himself with making one or two Drawings of the same Subject, he made a great many, and all of them different from one another. He drew a large Picture for the Church of the Capuchin Fathers of the City of Andujar, which is a most beautiful Performance, and vastly extoll'd by Sebastian Martinez and Fray Manuel de Molina (both great Painters.) He likewise painted a celebrated Picture of St. Susannah bathing, for Don Antonio de Ayala, a Gentleman who liv'd in the Town of Linares, and was a great Lover of Painting ; our Artist having finish'd the Piece and plac'd it in the Court Yard to dry, a young Sparrow from the Housetop seeing the Landskip, and in it the Waters of the Bath and a Pond, flew down several Times and attempted to settle on the Edges of the Pond, to the Admiration of the By-standers, and the great Credit of a Performance which was execut-

H

executed with such Propriety as to deceive the little Creature. He was likewise well skill'd in Architecture, and did many publick Works in the Kingdom of Jaen, especially at Andujar : but his most remarkable Works of that kind are in the Town of Martos. In 1675, he went to Cordova where he drew variety of Pictures both publick and private ; and died there Anno 1677, in his 54th Year.

154. Michael Geronimo de Ciezar, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of Granada. He was one of the brightest Disciples of Alonso Cano, as may be inferr'd from the Abundance of his Works in that City, both in publick Places and private Houses ; particularly in the Convent of del Angel, and in the Hospital del Corpus. He died 1677, in an advanc'd Age. He left a Disciple call'd Phil. Gomez, who was very far advanc'd in the Art, and whose Works in the Church of St. Anthony do honour to the good School of his Master. Gomez died about 60 Years of Age, Anno 1694.

155. Fray Manuel de Molina,

AN excellent Painter, a Native of the City of Jaen, and a Rival of Sebastian Martinez, and in order to enable himself to make greater Opposition to him, he went and studied at Rome; from wence after he had greatly improv'd himself he came back to Jaen, where he painted many marvellous Pieces in his Convent of St. Francis. He likewise drew Portraits with a superior Art, and perfectly well resembling the Life. He died in the said Convent 1677, aged 63.

156. Geronimo de Bobadilla,

PAINTER, was born at Antequera, but lived in Seville, where he learn'd the Art of Painting, in the School of Zurbaran. In this School he attain'd to great Knowledge, especially in the Perspective, and in painting Histories of a middling Size, with a very good and beautiful Colouring; which he did with so excellent a Grace and Nicety that Murillo thought thought fit to turn over to him some Things of that Nature; and he made them so smooth and glossy, that they did not look as if they were painted, but burnished. Besides this he had some Varnishes so transparent and drying, that they seem'd to be Glass, and as he had a good Goût and Fancy in the Composition, had he been more aided by the Art of Design, he had been compleatly perfect; however in his Way, he was one of the greatest Artists in Painting. His House was one continued Magazine of Rarities, a perfect Cabinet of Curiosities relating to the Study of this Art; every Room being fill'd with exquisite Models, Figures of the Academy, many original Designs, and rough Sketches of great Masters. He died in the foremention'd City 1680, between the Age of 60 and 61.

157. Don Juan de Alfaro,

P AINTER, was a Native of the City of Cordova, and a Disciple of Castillo; coming to Madrid, he was a constant Attendant in the School of Velazquez, where he improv'd so wonderfully, fully, that his Paintings (especially Portraits) seem'd no way inferior to those of Velazquez; and if he vary'd any Thing from him, it was to incline to Vandyke's Manner, whose Works he was very much attach'd to, and copy'd some of 'em with so distinguish'd an Excellence that they made the Originals doubtful; not coming short in the Pieces he copy'd from Titian and Rubens, which, by being a Disciple of the Painter to the King's Bed-Chamber, he easily attain'd the Liberty to copy; more particularly, he grew to such Perfection in painting Portraits in small, that he was equal to the best Artists that Way. He came back to Cordova before he was quite 20, and there was no publick or private Work to be done but he was apply'd to; upon which Occasion he made abundance of Pictures, for the Cloister of St. Francis of that City. He at that Time drew the famous Piece of the Incarnation of the Divine Word which is in the Oratory of the Discalceate Carmelites without the Walls of Cordova, insomuch that it seem'd incredible that so young an Artist should be equal to such Performances, or able to do any thing like 'em.

Returning

Returning to Madrid, he manifested his great Skill and Genius in numberless publick and private Works; particularly, Portraits in little, which then were much in Vogue, and bore the best Price. At that time he executed the celebrated Piece of the Guardian Angel, which is in a Chapel of the Church of the Imperial College at Madrid, the whole conducted with a grand Goût and Beauty. He did some Portraits vastly resembling the Life, in and so noble, so natural and easy a Manner, that they seemed to be of Vandyke's Hand. At that time he also drew the Picture of that Spanish Phœnix in Poetry, Don Pedro Calderon de la Barca, which is now placed over his Tomb in the Parish Church of San Salvador. He was no less excellent in Landskips. Returning to Cordova, he drew variety of Pictures and Portraits, and then went to Madrid where he executed abundance of Pieces as well for the Publick, as for particular Persons; but after some Time, Business fell off, and he saw himself so destitute of Employment that he was unable to maintain himself in his former Decorum; and tho' he used his best Endeavours to get Work at the Picture-Shops of which sort of Shops there were abundance at that time, (so low was he obliged to humble himself) yet cou'd he find none; which sunk him into so deep a Melancholy, that it shorten'd his Days in the 40th Year of his Age, Anno 1680.

158. Enrique de las Marinas,

PAINTER; his Birth-place was Cadiz, where he laid the Foundation of the Art of Painting, which after a while finding himself sufficiently grounded in, he took to painting Ships and Matters relating to the Sea, being invited to it by the great Choice of Subjects, which he met with in that delicious Port. He went afterwards to Rome, where they nick-named him Enrique de las Marinas, which he was so well known by, that his real Name is a Secret to this Day. He was undoubtedly so great an Artist in Sea-pieces that none ever outdid him, and but few (if any) came up to him. He died at Rome, 1680, in his 60th Year.

Jacinto

159. Jacinto Geronimo de Espinosa, Painter.

WAS born at Valencia and lived there. He was an incomparable Painter, and a Disciple of Ribalta, vastly studious and followed Nature extreamly; his Painting has such Force of Light and Shade, that they seem to be of the Hand of Cavallero Maximo. His Works are numberless, as well in publick Places as private Houses. He lived to a great Age and died at Valencia, 1680.

160. Fray Juan de Guzman, del Santissimo Sacramento, Painter.

WAS born at La Puente de Don Gonzalo, in the Kingdom of Cor-dova, and a Disciple of Bernave Ximenes de Illescas. He went to Rome, where he convers'd much with Enrique de las Marinas. He return'd to Spain, and went to Seville where he gave Demonstration of his great Ability. He painted much in his Convent of Descalces de Aguilar, as

as likewise for others of that Province. He was a very great Theorist in that Art; in Architecture, and likewise in Arithmetick, Geometry, and Perspective consummate. He work'd much for the Barefoot Carmelites without the Walls of the City of Cordova, as well from his own Inventions as from Prints of different Authors, be they who they wou'd, (a Liberty in which he was not scrupulous) which he executed with a superior Gusto, Sweetness, and Mastery; he painted with a great body of Colours, and his Colouring was very grateful and agreeable, and in handling his Pencil he was excellent, imitating the Manner of Rubens and Vandyke; of this Assertion the foremention'd Paintings are exemplary Instances, especially the principal Picture of the great Altar. He likewise painted for the Convent of St. Augustin of the said City of Aguilar. He died in his Convent, 1680, aged 69.

161. Joseph Romani, Painter,

WAS born at Bolonia and a Disciple of Miguel Colona. He was a great great Painter in Distemper, and in Fresco, and lived at Madrid many Years : In the famous Garden-House of the Augustin Recolets (which was the Treasury of the best Paintings in the World) he painted divers Pieces in a perfect Taste, in the Manner of that good School, not only as to the Architecture and Decorations, but in the Figures and little Boys, with great Exactness and Understanding of the Foreshortenings of Figures, and Skill not only in common Perspective, but in that which is used in Cielings. There is an Image of Our Lady of his doing in Fresco which is upon a Corner House in the Precinct of Barquillo in Madrid, which still preserves the utmost Freshness and Delicacy ; and here by the Way, it may not be amiss to inform the Reader, that in this sort of Painting (i. e. Fresco) to my Knowledge, Joseph Romani, as soon as ever it was dry, used to rub it over with Linseed-Oyl (a Thing very necessary, because of its being expos'd to the Inclemency of the Weather.) And as for the Yellowness which might be occasioned by the Linseed-Oyl, that is soon done away and purified by the Air

Air and the Sun. Romani likewise did several Pictures in the upper Court of Boadilla. He died at Madrid 1680, in in his 64th Year.

162. Jusepe Martinez, and his Son, Painters.

JOSEPH was a Native and Inhabitant of the City of Zaragoza. He studied the Art of Painting, at Rome. He return'd to his native Country, and was made the King's Painter ad honorem. There are in that City abundance of his Works; particularly, the four Paintings of the Angles in the Cloister of the Monastery of Jeronymites; he also painted many Pieces of the Life of Christ, incomparable Things! He had a Son who was no less skilled than his Father, who sent him to study at Rome. In the Carthusian-House of Aula Dei, he painted St. Bruno's Life, with great Reach of Conception and beautiful Colouring; and died there 1690, aged 50. His Father continued at Zaragoza where he died 1682, in his 70th Year, or thereabouts.

Juan

163. Juan Montero de Roxas,

PAINTER, was a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid. He was Scholar to Pedro de las Cuevas. He went and study'd in Italy, where he made such a Progress that many of his Paintings were taken for Carabacho's. Returning to Madrid, he painted many extraordinary good Pieces, especially in the Church of the College of Atocha. He died at Madrid 1683, aged 70.

164. Don Francisco de Solis,

PAINTER, was a Native of Madrid. His Father and Master was Juan de Solis, who was also a Painter. Francisco was extremely versed in the practical Part. His Manner was very fresh, beautiful and pleasing to the Vulgar, and accordingly he did an infinite Number of Things. He left a Library, and a Study of Paintings, which was valu'd at Six Thousand Ducats. For several Years together, he held an Academy in his House,

House, which contributed much to his Improvement, and gave him great Facility in Inventing, tho' he gave himself much to Painting as a Mannerist, without studying Nature or copying after her, unless on a very extraordinary Occasion. He died 1684, at Madrid, aged 55.

165. Dionis Mantuano, Painter,

WAS a Bolognese, and a great Painter in Distemper and Fresco, but confin'd himself to Architecture, Perspective, and Decorations; as for Figures, were it only an ugly Face for a Spout of Water, or a Lion's or Bear's Head to be set on a Wall, or Figures carv'd on Pillasters with Faces and Breasts like Women without Arms, and terminating with Leaves, instead of Legs, in these and the like, he was fain to make use of other Hands, a common Thing among Foreigners. He was at Genoa in 1656; afterwards came over to Madrid, where he did abundance of Work, and where he died 1684, little more than 60 Years old.

166. Antonio de Arias Fernandez, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid, and a Disciple of Pedro de las Cuevas. When he was but 14 Years old, he made the whole Picture, which is in the great Altar, of the Calceate Carmelites of Toledo, and which got him so much Honour and Applause, that being thereby encourag'd to proceed in his Study, by that Time he was 25 Years of Age, he was pitch'd upon for one of the great Artists of Madrid, who were employed to draw the Pictures of the Kings of Spain in the Salon de las Comedias. He was very dexterous and of an extensive Genius, and he had great Force in his Manner of Painting. He did eleven Pictures for the high Cloister of the Royal Convent of St. Philip, which is an excellent Performance. He died in a good old Age at Madrid, 1684.

Don

167. Don Juan de Revenga,

SCULPTOR, was born at Zaragoza, and descended of as good a Family as any in the Kingdom of Aragon. He went over into Italy in his Youth, and was one of the most eminent Men of his Time. He would not declare himself a Professor of Sculpture, but only a Lover of it, yet he wrought abundance of Things to pleasure his Friends. He also did many things in Wax which vied with Nature, if they did not surpass; being spurr'd on by some Friends, he did the most celebrated Statue of Our Lady in the Convent of Angels of the Franciscan Nuns at Madrid, which he executed with so superior a Goût and Understanding, that, for this Image alone, he deserves immortal Honour. He was turn'd of 70, when he died, Anno 1684.

168. Don Francisco Ricci,

PAINTER and Architect to Philip IV. and Charles II. was born at Madrid, where he did a great Number of most beautiful Things; among which are the two celebrated Pictures in the Chapel of St. Isidore in Madrid; the Subject of one of which is the Miracle of the Well of that Saint; and the other the Battle of the Plains of Tolosa. Both marvellous Pieces of Art! There is likewise the famous Monument of the holy Church at Toledo; a prodigious Work and in all Respects worthy of Admiration! In this he had the Assistance of Carregno, Mantuano, and Escalante. He was a very great Architect and Perspectivist: he left Draughts and Designs without Number; he had great Facility in Working; and when once he had designed or contrived a Thing, he never altered it, for then, he would say, he should never have done; and that a Thing may be well done, be it what it wou'd, or in what Position soever, having no substantial Fault. He died at the Escurial 1684, aged 77.
are

169. Alonzo del Barco,

LANDSKIP Painter, was born at Madrid, and a Scholar of Antoniex. He made Landskips with uncommon Excellency and a superior Ability;
for

for by Practice alone (without having the Life or any Drawing before him) he would enrich his Works with such Variety and Beauty as was perfectly surprising; there are abundance of his Works as well in Convents as in private Houses. He died at Madrid 1685, aged 40.

170. Ignacio de Iriarte.

LANDSKIP Painter, was born at Seville, and by the joint Suffrages of all his Co-temporaries was allow'd to be singular for his Performance in Landskip, and his bon Goût in that Branch of Painting: Inasmuch that Murillo said, Ignacio drew Landscips by Divine Inspiration; for any other Way it seem'd impossible to do what he did, if we consider the various Conceptions and Fancies which offer'd themselves to him, in the Execution of them; of which there's a great Number in Seville, especially in private Families, and they are all held in high Esteem. He died at Madrid 1685, aged about 50.

Don

171. Don Francisco de Herrera, the Younger,

P A I N T E R and Architect to his Majesty. He was a Native of Seville, and a Disciple of his Father Herrera the Elder. Afterwards he went to Rome, where he study'd with great Application, as well in the Academies, as the famous Statues and eminent Works in that City ; whereby he made himself not only a great Painter, but a compleat Architect and Perspectivist. He had also a great Genius for drawing the Merry-meetings of fuddling Companions ; and he arriv'd to so superior an Excellence in painting Fishes, that in Rome he went commonly by the Name of The Fish-painting Spaniard. Returning to Seville, he did some Pieces with universal Approbation ; particularly that of St. Francis de Assis, which is in the Front of the Chapter-Room of the Confraternity of the most Holy Sacrament, belonging to the Sanctuary of the said Church ; a Master piece of Painting, and very surprizing for the Distribution of its Lights and

Shades,

Shades, in which he singularly excell'd. He also made some Portraits, which were noble, natural, and easy ; especially that of a Frenchman, in the Habit of a Hunter or Sportsman, loading his Piece, which, I'm told by those who have seen it, is exquisitely well done. He came to Madrid, where he wrought a great many fine Things ; and among others, there's a Picture of Jesus of Nazareth fallen down with the Cross upon him (which is in the House of a Lover of Art) so supremely executed in the Conduct and Observance of the Lights, that it perfectly resembles those of Titian. He had an uncommon Talent for representing the Passages and Humours of boozing and guttling Companions, in little Tippling-Houses and Two-penny Ordinaries, of which I have seen some wonderfully well executed ; but he excell'd more in Flowers, which he painted with that sprightly Briskness, that Contrast, Lightness, and delicate Softness you would think, that if you were to blow upon them that they would move. Particularly he drew a Picture, about two Yards in Depth, with a Tabernacle, nobly put in Perspective, and some little Figures of Boys, and a Festoon of Flowers, with which they seem'd to be adorning it; which is an absolute Miracle of Art! He was likewise a very able Architect, and accordingly made abundance of Models for Altar-pieces and other Works of Architecture, which are now esteem'd by Artists as so many Jewels. He died 1685, aged 63.
Per-

172. Don Juan Carregno,

Painter of the Bed-Chamber to Charles II. Tho' he lived at Madrid, he was born at Abiles in Asturias, in 1614. He began to design and draw in the House of Pedro de las Cuevas; and proceeded in the Colouring-part with Bartholome Roman. Madrid and other Cities and Towns abound with his Works; of which some in Oil are exceeding fine. He drew a Picture of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph, which is in the Church of the Convent of Benedictine Monks of the Advocation of St. Martin; the Colouring whereof is extolled by all the Painters as being of a superior Excellency. He drew a beautiful Magdalen for the Almirante de Castilla to be hung up in the Hall, which he adorn'd with the Paintings of the most eminent Spaniards. There are two Pictures of his in the famous Chapel of St. Isidore Labrador in Madrid, at the Sight whereof all Praise becomes mute, and is swallow'd up with Admiration. Segovia too possesses some of his Works. He did likewise a famous Picture for the Convent of the Trinitarians, of the City of Pamplona, of the mysterious Institution of these sacred Religious ; wherein he exhausted all the Excellencies of the Art ; nay, there's a rough Draught of his now in one of his Disciples Hands, which is worthy of Admiration. He drew Faces excellently well, and all so much resembling the Life, that they are perfectly surprizing ; besides a supream Goût which Heav'n bestow'd on him in a Tint, between Titian and Vandyke, so that, equalling them both, he was superior to either. His Painting was amiable, soft, and tender. He died 1685.

Don

173. Don Bartholome Murillo;

Painter; he was born 1613, at Pilas, a Town five Leagues from Seville. He was a Disciple of Juan de Castillo; and after he had learn'd enough to maintain himself by painting such ordinary Things, as were usually put to sale at Markets and Fairs, he made up (a Custom which prevail'd very much at that Time) a Cargo of Pictures for the Indies. Coming to Madrid he got into Favour with Velazquez, by whose Means he frequently saw all the best Paintings at Court, and the Escorial, and in other Royal Palaces, and Noblemens Houses. He copy'd many Pieces of Titian, Rubens, and Vandyke, whereby he much improv'd himself in Colouring, not neglecting the Designing-part from the Statues, and in the Academies of Madrid; and more by the Correctness and grand Manner of Velazquez, whose Communication was of great Service to him. He return'd to Seville, where studying from Nature (according to the Practice he had observ'd in Velazquez)

he painted at that Time the famous Cloister of the Convent of St. Francis ; in which is discoverable that Force of Clair Obscure, so different from what he afterwards practis'd. He wrought all after Nature, preserving however the Ideas of what he had seen and studied ; and altho' some foreign Authors have said that he had been in Italy, it is not true. But the Case is, Foreigners will not allow any Spaniard the least Sprig of Laurel in this Art, unless he has paid Custom in Italy ; not considering, that Italy has transferr'd itself to Spain in Statues, eminent Paintings, Prints and Books ; and that the Study of Nature, together with the foresaid Auxiliaries, abounds in all Countries ; not to mention the famous Men who have come from thence, and have left with us their School and their Works, from Philip II's Time to this present ; to which we may add the Spaniards who have travell'd into Italy, and have return'd fraught with Instructions from thence. After the Work of the said Cloister (either thro' the Force of his Fate, or the Flattery of popular Ap-Applause) Murillo gave into Sweetning the Tint more, and Weakning his Shades ; but yet with so exceeding a Goût, that in this Particular no Painter, either Spaniard or other, excell'd him : Accordingly at this very Time, out of Spain, a Picture of Murillo's is more esteem'd than one of Titian's or Vandyke's ; so powerful is the Blandishment of Colouring, to attract the popular Breath and Applause of the many. There are some of his Works so extreamly fine, in the Hands of the Virtuosi, that they are truly glorious to behold ! And among others there are several large Pictures in the holy Church of Seville : and many more in the Church of the Capuchins ; and in that of la Charidad in the said City, there are so many and those so astonishing, that no-body, who either loves or practises the Art, but as soon as he sets his Foot within the Place is so enraptur'd, that 'tis a good while before he can come to himself, or recover the Use of his Speech. Granada likewise prides herself in the Advantage of possessing some of his Works, and Cordova no less. In Face-painting,

he

he was also eminently skill'd ; nor ought I to omit the excellent Talent he had for Landfkips, which occasionally offer'd in his Histories. He died 1685, aged 72.

174. Don Josepb Ramirez,

WAS born at Valencia and a Disciple of Geronimo de Espinosa, and so like his Master in his Manner of Painting, that many People have taken his Works for his Master's. There are some Pictures of his Hand in the Cloister of the Congregation of San Felipe Neri. He died in the foresaid City, 1686, and little more than 60 Years of Age.

175. Don Josepb Donoso,

PAINTER and Architect, was a Native of the Town of Consuegra, and a Disciple of his Father. He went to Madrid, and was under the Instruction of Francisco Fernandez, till he was 18 Years of Age ; when he went over to Rome, to prosecute his Studies, for the Space of seven Years, where he became a great Painter, an excellent
Per-

Perspectivist, and a consummate Architect. He afterwards return'd to Spain and came to Madrid, where he perfected himself in Colouring, in the School of Don Juan de Carregno. In the Convent of la Victoria, he drew Heads to a surprizing Degree, and Pieces of Architecture and Perspective excellently well. He wrought the Conception of Our Lady, which is in the Presbyterio of the Parish-Church of St. Nicholas, and is one of his most valuable Works and in the best Goût of any that ever went out of his Hands. He likewise drew the Supper of Our Lord with his Apostles, together with admirable Pieces of Architecture and Perspective, which illustrated his Histories in such Manner that they seem'd to be of Paul Veronese. There is likewise in a Chapel the two Saints Justus and Pastor, an incomparable Thing! He also drew the Plans of several Edifices, He died at Madrid 1686, aged 58.

Man-

176. Manuel Gutierrez, Sculpt.

HE was a Native of the Town of Palacios de Benayel, in the Neighbourhood of Burgos. He was a noted Sculptor, and Co-temporary of Pedro Alonso de los Rios at Madrid, and much an Imitator of his Study ; there are of his Works in the Convent of Calceate Carmelites, and in the Church of the Noviciate of the Society of Jesus. He died in Madrid 1687, little more than 50 Years old.

177. Don Simon de Leon Leal,

PAINTER, was a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid. He was one of Pedro de las Cuevas's Scholars ; and continuing in his Study from Nature, and copying celebrated Pictures, he arriv'd to be one of the greatest Painters in Madrid ; convincing Proofs of this are his numerous and famous Works ; and among others he painted the principal Piece of the Great Altar of the New-

New-Church of the Noviciado of the Society of Jesús, which is about seven Yards high. There is likewise at Toledo an excellent Picture of his, in the Church of las Madres Capuchinas, over-against another of Carlo Maratti. He followed Vandyke's School, as well in Great as in Small, with much Beauty and freshness of Colouring. He died in Madrid 1687, aged 77.

178. Don Lorenzo de Soto,

Painter, was born at Madrid, and a Disciple of Benito Manuel a famous Landskip Painter; and accordingly Don Lorenzo applied himself more to Landskips than Figures, tho' he did not want for a Capacity in that Part too; but he did not cultivate the latter so much as the former, in which he undoubtedly was excellent and made them very like those of his Master. He likewise wrought some Pieces with little Histories of holy Anchorets of both Sexes, with singular Success and Esteem. He died at Madrid 1688, aged 54.

Don

179. Don Pedro Athanasio,

Painter, was a Native of Granada, and Scholar of Alonso Cano. He had a more than ordinary grand Goût and a Sweetness of Colouring, not without being indebted to the Works of Pedro de Moya, together with the Van-dyke Manner, which he took a great Fancy to, and obtain'd it with that Felicity that he ingross'd to himself the popular Applause. There are many and very good Pieces of his in the Cartbuisian House in Granada; and in the Cloister of Our Lady of Grace, are many very good Ones; and one whose Subject is the most Holy Conception a Phoenix in its Kind! He was a good while at Seville, where he gave demonstrative Proofs of his Ability, in some private Works, and afterwards (in 1680) came to Madrid, where, he used to say, he fear'd none but Lucas Jordan, and not any Spanish Painter whatever; but in Truth he was a great Boaster. He died at Granada 1688, not much above 50 Years old.

Don

180. Don Nicolas de Villacis,

PAINTER, was a Native of the City of Murcia. He was a Disciple of Velazquez, and then went to Rome to compleat himself thoroughly as he did, in the most exquisite Parts of the Art. Returning to his Native Country, he followed his Studies there, and was very exact in his Drawing ; being extremely accurate, and tedious in finishing his Works. The Stile of his Colouring, in Fresco and in Oil, was very agreeable, as having learn'd it in Italy. He did in Murcia several great Works both in private and publick. He died 1690, at no very great Age.

181. Antonio Castrejon, Painter.

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid. He was well versed in the practical Part of Painting ; and altho' he was a Mannerist, he had a great Freedom and Ease in Inventing : He had a very good Hand at little Histories, in small,

small, of which many are to be seen in the Perspectives of Don Roque Ponce and Joseph Garcia, and in some Garlands of Gabriel de la Corte. He painted also a good deal in great, as may be seen in the Parish-Church of St. Michael, and in that of St. Giles at Madrid. He died 1690, aged 65.

182. Don Sebastian Mugnoz,
King's Painter,

WAS born at the Town of Navalcarnero, and was a Disciple of Claudio Coblo and one of the brightest of 'em. At 26 Years of Age he went to Rome, to study under the Correction of Carlo Maratti : and at 30 he return'd back to Spain, where he began to shew his great Ability, as well in the Academies, in Designing and Drawing, as in several Paintings in Oil and Fresco which offer'd themselves ; and especially in the Royal Palace ; there is also a large Piece of his of the Funeral of the Queen of Spain, Donna Maria Luisa de Orleans, Charles II's Consort) in the Convent of the Carmelites Calceate, at Madrid, where he died 1690, aged 36.

183. Don Juan de Valdes,

Painter, Sculptor, and Architect, was born at Seville : He went to Cordova, where he painted, in the Church of the Calceate Carmelites, some Women-Saints drawn to the Middle, with so much Beauty of Design, Colouring, and Handling that they seem to be of Velasquez ; and undoubtedly they are done from the Life, since they have the very Vivacity and Truth thereof. Returning to Seville he made a celebrated Picture for la Charidad, of the Triumph of the Cross, a most curious Piece ! and there likewise is an Hieroglyphick of Death, representing a dead Corpse corrupted and half dévour'd with Worms, which gives an Horror and Dread to look at it ; besides it is so natural, that many seeing it, inadvertently, have either shrunk back with Fear, or stopp'd their Noses, lest they should be infected with the Stench of the Corruption. In short, our Valdes was a very great Designer, an excellent Perspectivist, Architect, and Sculptor ; particularly in making Clay-

K Models

Models he had a wonderful Readiness. He presided many Years in the Academy of the said City, and design'd therein with the greatest Mastery and Facility of any. He died at Madrid 1691, aged 60.

184. Don Juan de Laredo,

PAINTER, was born at Madrid, and a Disciple of Rici. He painted in Perspectives; and excell'd in the Manage of Distemper, and especially for Groves, Gardens, and Cottages. He died at Madrid 1692, aged 60.

185. Don Bartolome Perez,

THE King's honorary Painter, was born at Madrid; and was Son-in-law to Arellano; and came to paint Flowers full as well as his Father-in-law, for whom his Son used to paint the Figures in some of his Pieces. He had likewise a particular Grace and Beauty in painting Curtains. He died at Madrid 1693, aged 59.

Don

186. Don Claudio Goello,

PAINTER of the Bed-Chamber and Architect. He was a Native of Madrid, and a Disciple of Francisco Ricci. He grew a very great Proficient as well in History as in Architecture and Perspective, both in Distemper and Fresco. He did two Portraits in the Parochial Church of St. Andrew, which seem as if done by Velasquez. He copied much the Originals of Titian, Rubens, Vandyke, and others, by which Means he vastly improved his Colouring. He painted some Things in the Cupola of the Chapel del Santo Christo, in the Imperial College, so exceeding curious that 'tis no exaggerating to say they come up to Anibal; for in truth, it is impossible to out-do them. He also executed another famous Work in Zaragoza. On Occasion of drawing the King's Picture, his Majesty order'd a Patent to be expedited constituting him Painter of the Bed-Chamber, with all the Wages, Allowances, and Emoluments thereunto belonging; a House to reside in, and the Key of Harbinger to the Household. He did many fine Things in the Palaces, and in the Churches of Madrid; and in order to make the best Choice of an Outline, he wou'd put the Life into thirty different Positions. He left many good Disciples, particularly Don Sebastian Mugnos, who was Painter to the King, and Don Theodoro Ardemans, now the Maestromayor and Painter of the Bed-Chamber to his Majesty. He died at Madrid, 1693.

187. Don Pedro de Mena,

SCULPTOR, was born at Adra in the Alpujarra (Mountains.) He was a Disciple of his Father, and afterwards of Alonzo Cano in Granada. His first famous Work was a Statue of Our Lady for the Church of the Town of Algendin near Granada; and in the Convent del Angel are some Statues which, for expressing the Passions of the Soul, are the Admiration of all Granada. He wrought a World of very fine Things in Malaga. He did also a very curious Piece of Christ in his Agony, for Prince Doria, which he sent to Genoa; and in his own Opinion it was the most perfect of all his Performances. He did for Cordova, in 1673, a St. Peter of Alcantara, in the Convent of St. Francis which which is exquisite ! He was a general Artist in Wood, Stone, and Ivory. There are also very fine Works of his in Madrid, and a St. Francis de Assis in the holy Church of Toledo, very curious and highly valu'd. He did numberless Things with equal Estimation and Credit. His ap-test and most eminent Disciple was Don Miguel de Zayas, a Native of Ubeda. He died in a good old Age at Malaga, 1693.

188. Juan Arnau, Painter,

WAS born at Barcelona, and a Disciple of Eugenio Caxes at Madrid. He went back to the Place of his Nativity where he manifested his great Capacity, in variety of Works ; particularly in the Cloister of St. Augustin, and in the Church of St. Mary de la Mar. He died at Barcelona 1693, after a Life of 98 Years compleat.

189. Gabriel de la Corte,

PAINTER, was born at Madrid ; the Son and Disciple of Francisco de la Corte (Painter of Perspectives.) He painted Flowers practically with a pleasing Prettyness and a good Handling. He wrought Garlands which were enrich'd with little Histories by Antonio Castrejon, of Marias de Torres and others. He died in the said City 1694, aged 46.

190. Juan de Sevilla, Painter,

WAS a Native and Inhabitant of Granada. He perfected himself in the School of Pedro de Moya, and follow'd very successfully the florid and Vandykish Manner of his Master. He followed the Stile and good Taste of Rubens, so nearly, that in truth his Manner of Painting seemed to be of the School of Rubens. Both Granada and Cordova have of his Works. I saw them lately put up; and they were nicely curious, of great Sweetness and Freshness of Colouring, and a grand Goût in touching up the Lights. He painted a good deal, both in Distemper and Oil. He died at Granada 1695, turn'd of 66.

191. Don Joseph de Ciezar,

PAINTER, was a Native of Granada; Son and Disciple of Don Miguel Geronimo de Ciezar. He was a great Painter in Distemper; and altho' he did every Thing well, yet his more especial Excellence lay in Landskips, and in Flowers, which he painted with so much Delicacy, Propriety, and tender Softness, that tho' done in Distemper, in some Screens, it seem'd as if the Air would put them in Motion. He painted also many Things in Oil, at Madrid, where he died 1696, aged 40.

192. Juan de Cano de Arevalo,

PAINTER, was a Native of the Town of Valdemoro, four Leagues distant from Madrid. He painted Fans so exquisitely, that, for this Sort of Work, there was none in Spain equal to him. He likewise painted large Things in Distemper and in Oil, but not with so much Beauty. He died at Madrid 1696, aged 40.

193. Don Diego Gonzalez de Vega, Painter,

WAS born at Madrid and lived there. Has was a Disciple of Francisco Rici, and one of the ablest of 'em all, and who nearest imitated his Manner, as is plainly seen in his many publick Works as well as private ; but above all other his Paintings, the good Taste is most conspicuous in that which is placed at the Discalceate Carmelites House in Madrid : The Subject is, St. Juan da la Cruz writing, and the Holy Ghost enlightening him, and with great Display of Glory, accompany'd with little Angels ; the whole executed with a grand Goût and Beauty of Colouring. He died at Madrid 1697, aged 75.

194. Don Juan Nigno de Guevara, Painter,

WAS born at Madrid, but lived in Malaga. He ow'd his first Instructions to Miguel Manrique, a Native tive of Flanders and Disciple of Rubens. Afterwards he took a Journey to Madrid and attended the School of Alonso Cano, and became such a Proficient as to equal, if not surpass the Paintings of his Master ; for he always preserv'd the Milk, as it were, which he first suck'd in Rubens's School. Some of his noble Works are to be seen at Malaga, in the Church of la Cbaridad del Triumpbo, and in the Cathedral of St. Juan de Dios difunto ; where is, besides, a famous Picture of St. Michael, a very bold Figure ! He painted the Cloister of St. Augustin's Convent at Cordova. He drew some Faces which really seem to be of Rubens or Vandyke. He painted the Cloister of St. Augustin's Convent in Granada. In which Pieces he discover'd grand Notions of Design, a brisk and gallant Pencil, and a noble and superior Taste throughout. There is an admirable Picture of his drawing, which he gave a Friend, rather than he would sell it for less than its Value to an ignorant and covetous Fellow ; it is now placed at the great Altar in the Church of St. Peter de Alcantara,

in

in the said City of Malaga. In my Opinion, he did not come short of Murillo in any Thing; and what is more, in the Art of Design and Drawing, Nigno had the Advantage of him. He ended his Days at Malaga 1698, in his 67th Year.

195. Alonso del Arco,

PAINTER, commonly call'd el Sordillo de Pereda, was born at Madrid, and was a Disciple of Don Antonio de Pereda. He was deaf and dumb from his Birth. He arriv'd to a Degree of a very good Painter, especially of Faces which he did excellently well and very like. His best Works are in the Chapel of Our Lady de la Novena, which belongs to the Comédians of Madrid; he wrought so abundantly, that there's scarce a Church or House at Madrid, but has something of his doing. Even in his Youth he painted some Histories, with a superior Taste in Colouring, and shew'd a great deal of Care and Study in the Drawing. He painted likewise in Distemper admirably well; he died at Madrid, aged 75 1700.

196. Fray Eugenio Gutierrez, de Torices.

HE was a great Sculptor and Painter of Wax, to that Degree that Colona and Miteli, upon seeing some of his Works, cried out, A Miracle ! Some of them are placed in the best Cabinets of the greatest Princes of Europe : besides abundance which remain at Madrid ; where he died at the Age of four-score Years.

197. Pedro Roldan,

SCULPTOR, Painter, and Architect ; he was a Native of Seville and lived there. He was the first that made Boys Heads, with a becoming Disposition and Fulness of Hair ; for before, they were all used to be made with three Tufts, one at the top, another on each side of the Face ; he had an uncommon Capacity for every Thing. Among other his publick Works, there is an Interrment of Christ, in the Altar of the Church

Church of la Caridad, consisting of Figures even bigger than the Life; and what adds not a little to their Beauty, is their having receiv'd the Colouring and Carnation, from the eminent Pencil of Don Juan de Valdes. There is, moreover, an Image of the Immaculate Conception, in Cordova, in the Church of the Discalceate Trinitarians, a Capital Piece! Again, there's a Virgin-mother de los dolores (Sorrowing) call'd Our Lady de la Antigua, which is ador'd by all Seville; the Cathedral of Jaen too has of his Works. He died at Seville Anno 1700, aged 76.

198. Don Pedro Nugnez de Villavicencio, Painter,

WAS a Native of Seville, but he learn'd the Art at Malta in the School of the Chevalier Matias (otherwise call'd the Cavalier Calabres) and made such Improvements, that it was remarkable, the Things he copied after his Master were not to be distinguished from the Originals. Of this Class I saw a
Mary

Mary Magdalen of his Hand, which I took to be done by the Chevalier Matias. Besides these, he wrought many Things of his own Invention, following Murillo's Stile, in some toying Sports and wanton Diversions of little ragged Boys, done from the Life; one whereof I have seen, executed with extreme Propriety. Above all, he excell'd in Faces, both as to drawing with perfect Likeness, and with all the Strength of Painting; following that great School of his Master, which was that of Guerchino. He died at Seville Anno 1700. aged 60.

199. Don Francisco Ochoa, y Antonilez, the learned Painter.

HE was born at Seville, and made such Proficiency in the School of Murillo, that happening to see, at Madrid, a Picture painted upon Copper by him, of Our Lady, with her most Holy Son an Infant when in Egypt, attended by some tender-hearted Women washing the Infant-God's Linnen and hanging it

it out to dry, I concluded it to be Murillo's, and valu'd it at an hundred Crowns, being about a third Part of a Yard in Size. He likewise drew small Portraits exceeding well. He died at Madrid 1700, aged 56.

200. Pedro Alonso de los Rios,

SCULPTOR, was a Native of Val- ladolid, and Disciple of his Father Francisco Alonso, a very agreeable and graceful Carver. Our Pedro dwelt in Madrid and was highly esteem'd for Carving, and well deserv'd to be so, witness his Works in Madrid worthy of the greatest Applause. They are in the Chapel of Confectioners in the Parish of Santa Cruz; in the great Chapel of St. Martin, and in that of St. Gertrudis Magna; and in St. Philip el Real, with many more. He died Anno 1700, at Madrid, somewhat turn'd of 50.

Fran-

201. Francisco Guirro, Painter,

WAS born at Barcelona, and a very excellent Painter, witness the large Piece he drew of St. Monica, Widow; which is to be seen in the great Altar of the Convent of the Augustin Recolets, of the Advocation of the said Saint. He died in 1700, aged 70.

202. Mateo Gilarte, Painter,

WAS born at Valencia, and a Disciple of Ribalta; and after he had gone thro' his Courses in the Academies of those Parts, he remov'd to the City of Murcia, where he gave convincing Proofs of his Ingenuity, being thoroughly grounded in the Art of Design, and endow'd with a good Goût in Colouring, both in Oil and Fresco. There also he painted the Church of Our Lady del Rosario in Fresco. He painted also the Battle of Lepanto; and it is said that in order to make this Work the more magnificent, he he engaged the Assistance of the famous Battalist Juan de Toledo, Captain of Horse. He died in 1700, aged 53.

203. Bartholome Vicente,

Painter, was born in the District of Zaragoza; and learn'd the Principles of his Art at Madrid under Caregno. Afterwards he found Means to be admitted into the Escorial, where he employ'd seven Years in copying many of the most valuable Pictures there: Then he went to Zaragoza where he perform'd not a few excellent Things, abounding with Fancy, and of a beautiful Colouring like Bassan's Manner which he imitated. He had likewise a rare Hand at Landskips, and succeeded very well in Fresco. He died Anno 1700 in the said City, in his 70th Year.

Don

204. Don Francisco de Vera Cabeza de Baca, Painter.

HE was born in the City of Catalayud, in the Kingdom of Aragon; and receiv'd his first Instructions in the Art, from no less a Person than his Highness Don John of Austria. He exercis'd Painting only to oblige some particular Friends, especially with Portraits which he drew admirably well. He died in the City aforementioned, in 1700, aged 63.

205. Other Celebrated Painters of the City of Zaragoza.

THE renown'd City of Zaragoza has produced other Painters besides those already mention'd, whose Capacity; tho' it was not general, yet they had an excellent Talent in particular Things: as in Face-painting, Affensi; in Flowers, Polo; in Landskips, Pertus; in Battles, Rabiella; and in Architecture and ornamental Embellishments, Francisco Plano, who, some will tell ye, was not at all inferior to the celebrated Bolognesès, Colona and Miteli. All these died in 1700.

206. Gregorio de Mesa,

SCULPTOR, was a Native of the City of Calatayud in the Kingdom of Aragon, and liv'd in the City of Zaragoza. He studied in the Academies of Tolosa in France, in which he attain'd to such a Degree of Skill as to be the Author of celebrated Statues, both for Size and Value ; such as the San Miguel de los Navarros in Stucco, in Zaragoza, bigger than the Life ; and two others of St. Bruno, extraordinary Pieces ! for the Carthusian House of Aula Dei. He died in 1701 in the said City, aged little more than 60.

207. Miguel de Rubiales,

SCULPTOR ; he was born at Madrid, where he lived and died. Disciple of Pedro Alonso, and an an exquisite Sculptor, as is apparent in a Christ taken down from the Cross, which is in the College of St. Thomas in Madrid, &c. He died there Anno 1702, aged 70.

208. Don Isidoro Arredondo,

PAINTER to his Majesty ; the Town of Colmenar de Oreja gave him Birth, and Don Joseph Garcia his first Rudiments in Painting ; he was afterwards under the Discipline of Don Francisco Rici at Madrid. Rici died, and left Don Isidoro Heir to his Collection of Paintings, which was very considerable ; for Rici's Drawings, Sketches, and Plans, were both innumerable and inestimable. Don Isidoro was the Author of many publick and private Works in Madrid, especially of a large Picture Twenty Foot high of Christ's Incarnation to be sent abroad ; he painted likewise in Distemper and Fresco. He died at Madrid 1702, aged 48.

209. Mosen Vicente Bru,

Painter, was born at Valencia and brought up to Painting under Conchillos. Some of his Works are to be seen in the Church of St. Juan del Mercado, and are unquestionable Proofs of his Genius. After his Death a Frenchman (a Lover of Painting) made a Purchase of his Drawings, at a great Price. He died in the said City, Anno 1703, not more than 21 Years old.

210. Don Vicente de Benavides, Painter,

WAS born at Oran. He came to Madrid and was a Disciple of Rici. As for Figures, he had no great Taste; in Perspective, Architecture, and Decorations, he was eminent, executing the Whole, with a most singular Exactness and Dexterity which he had acquir'd in Distemper; nor had he less Skill in Fresco-painting, as is visible in divers Works both within and without Madrid; where he died 1703, aged 76.

Donna

211. Donna Luisa Roldan,

AN Eminent Sculptress, was born at Seville. She was the Daughter and Disciple of Pedro Roldan, a noted Sculptor. She went to Madrid, where she carv'd an Image of Jesus of Nazareth, of a Bigness proportionable to the Life, of such exquisite Beauty and at the same Time so full of a compassionate Concern, that it was the Astonishment and Admiration of the whole Town. And such was the Amaze I was in at seeing it, that I thought it an Irreverence to view it without Kneeling, for it seemed to be the very living Original itself; and having admired it and carefully survey'd it for a good Space, I went and sat down: and returning once more to look at it, I told my Friend, I would not sit down in the presence of the Image, unless they cover'd his Majesty! So great a Respect and Veneration it caus'd in me, that I solemnly aver I want Words to declare it! For not only the Expression (which I have already mention'd)

tion'd of the Head, but the Hands and Feet were so divinely executed, with some Drops of Blood trickling down, that the Whole appear'd to be very Nature itself. This supreme Prodigy of Art was accompany'd with an Effigy of his most Holy Mother sorrowing, no less to be admir'd than the other; and they are both placed in the Town of Sifante in la Mancha, adjoining to San Clemente, in a Convent of Barefoot Nuns, with the Title of Jesus Nazareus. She died in 1704, at Madrid, not quite 50 Years of Age.

212. Lucas Jordan, King's Painter.

WAS born at Naples 1628 (tho' originally of Spanish Extraction.) His Father was a Painter, and work'd for his own Shop, on which Occasion he began to practise at so tender an Age, that in my hearing he told the King (Charles II.) In the same Manner that they give little Children the Primer to learn to read in, so he was put upon Drawing; by which which means Painting became so natural to him that, by the Time he was seven Years old, he said, he had done Things which, for a Boy of his Age, were much admired. And by thus early beginning, and busying himself in Painting, as it were for the Shop or the Market, he acquir'd such Facility of handling his Pencil, that he out-stripp'd those who were the most vers'd in the Practical Part: and his Father wou'd often say to him, when he hasten'd him, Luca fa presto (Luke, make haste) and by this Name he was more known in Italy than by his own Name. He afterwards apply'd himself to the School of Joseph de Ribera el Espagnoletto (Spaniolet) to whose Stile he lean'd so much and follow'd his Manner so close in several of his Pieces, as to puzzle the most discerning Criticks to distinguish them from his Master's Hand. He remov'd to Rome, where he not only study'd all the noble Remains of Antiquity but made Draughts of them; and copy'd many Originals of the most celebrated Painters, with so intense an Application that, making himself perfect Master of the different Stile and Manner of each, he attain'd to imitate them all so well, that People are every Day deceiv'd by his Paintings ; now mimicking Raphael, then following Titian, sometimes keeping sticking close to Coregio, or some other great Master ; infomuch that it is not every Pretender to Painting that can distinguish them from the Performances of those excellent Hands. He likewise at this Time apply'd himself to the School of Pedro de Cortona ; and assisted him in the celebrated Works which he painted in Fresco at Rome, acquiring, in this Branch of Painting, so superior a Handling and so noble and free a Stroke, that he arriv'd to the Height of whatever could possibly be perform'd in that Way, not only with respect to the Elegancy and Refinedness of Taste but in Celerity of Working, which was so incredibly prodigious that he would dispatch more Business in a Day than any other could in a Week. Returning to Naples, he was so much employ'd in Painting for different Princes of Europe, that his Reputation was spread far and wide, not only by the foresaid Means,

Means, but also because all the Vice-Roys used to carry or send his Paintings to the King (Charles II.) Infomuch that his Majesty, desiring to see him paint and to have him do some thing in Fresco at the Escorial, invited him to come over into Spain in 1692, ordering him to be paid for that Purpose 1500 Ducats de plata; permitting whatsoever he brought in his Ship with him to enter Custom-free, which was no small Quantity; honouring him with the Golden Key, as Groom of the Bed-Chamber, dispensing with his Attendance, that he might be more a Master of himself and his Time. It was in May 1692, that he arriv'd at Madrid. There is a common Report that he painted St. Michael's Triumph in 24 Hours, in Competition with Claudio Coello, but it is all a Fiction, for I was Witness of the Whole. He did not finish that Work in 24 Hours, nor 24 Days neither. For the King having commanded that no body should be admitted into see Lucas at Work, that he might not be hinder'd; his Majesty sent to tell me, that that Order did not extend tend to me. It is impossible to enumerate or express the Number and Beauty of his Compositions in Madrid, the Escorial, and Toledo. Lucas Jordan employ'd only two Years in painting ten arch'd Cielings of the Church and Staircase belonging to that Palace (the Escorial) to which if we add his Sketches and Drawings painted with great Masses of Colour, his Cartoons, and the like preparative Materials, one would think a Man's whole Life little enough to execute it. This Artist was much celebrated for his Facility and Expedition in painting in Oil; but as to Fresco, he outdid all and himself too. His Works were gallant, brave, and rich with beautiful Drapery, charming Airs, and lively Ornaments; his Manner in Fresco was finish'd, well empast'd, and smooth as in Oil; and therefore his Manage in Fresco did no Prejudice to his Practising in Oil, but rather made it easier to him; and the same will happen to all that shall manage in the same Manner. By the King's Order, he imitated some ancient Painters, viz. Raphael, Coregio, Titian, and Spaniolet, without Cessation or any Respite, not even even on Holidays; and happening to let slip one Day without Working he said, speaking of his Pencils which had lain idle, they are desirous of being my Superiors and Master, but I must have them subject to me and under my Feet. His constant Task was (especially in Summer) from 8 in the Morning till 12; from thence till 2 he pass'd the Time in Eating his Dinner and Reposing: after which he resum'd his Task till 5 or 6 in the Evening, and then he went abroad to take the Air in a Coach which the King kept on purpose for him with exprefs Orders, that it should be always ready to attend him whenever he desired it; and thus he lived without spending a single Mara-vedi of his own on any Account whatever: In short, he got Money so fast that he was not worth so little as 200, 000 Ducats, and highly in the Esteem of all the Kings and Princes of Europe of his Time. In the Year 1702, Philip V. having determin'd to go over to Naples on the 8th of February, Jordan waited on him thither, and died in 1704, in the said City; the Almighty having been pleas'd to grant his Desire of not dying out out of his Native Country ; which I have heard him many times ardently pray for, always concluding with a deep Sigh, O Naples ; Dear, Dear Naples ! Of all his Disciples, the most excellent, that we know of, are Simoneli, Paolo de Mateis, and Francisco Solimena. He was 76, when he died.

213. *Don Francisco Ignacio
Ruiz de la Iglesia,*

PAINTE R of the Bed-Chamber, was born at Madrid and lived there. He was first put to learn of Camilo and afterwards of Carregno ; but he improv'd much more in the Company of Cabezalero, not missing the Academies or neglecting the Study of the Statues and Paintings at Court ; whereby he laid a solid Foundation of Design, with a very sprightly and beautiful Colouring ; which Advantages placed him in the foremost Rank of Painters, and made his Name the Subject of all Conversation among the Virtuosi. He wrought abundance both for the publick Structures and and private Houses, with exquisite Study and perfect Exactness, for he gave himself very much to the Observance of Nature and the Models, and was, as it were, so tied to 'em, that when he did the Hairs of a Beard he would make them in a Manner as solid and massy as the Model represented them. He afterwards attach'd himself to Joseph Donoso. He painted much in Fresco, and very well, as is apparent in the Church of the Royal Hospital of the Aragonians in Madrid; the Whole executed with very beautiful Ornaments, Architecture, and Perspective, in which he had great Skill. Besides, he painted in Distemper, with extraordinary Art, as he shew'd (when the Queen Donna Maria Anna of Neoburg made her Entry) in the little Market-place or Square of Madrid; as also in divers Theatres and Curtains of the Coliseum of Buen-Retiro: but most of all, as is still to be seen in a large Picture in Distemper, which is placed in the Monument of the Royal Hospital of the Aragonians, in the Holy Week: Than which, nothing surely, can be better done ; infomuch that it it seems to be in Oil. He died at Madrid 1704, aged 56.

can

214. Fray Joachin Juncosa,

PAINTER ; he was a Native of Catalonia, and a Religious of the Monastery of the Carthusian House of Aula Dei, in the same Principality ; he was an excellent Painter, when a Man of the World, and afterwards when a Monk, witness his Paintings in the Church of the said Monastery, which are perfectly well design'd and exquisitely finish'd ! Before this, and being as yet a Layman, he painted abundance of Things representing the Fables and Fictions of Paganism (in which Sort of Learning he was very conversant.) These he did for private Families. He died in the forenamed Monastery 1708, aged 77.

215. Senen Vila,

WAS a Valencian, and a very excellent Disciple of Estevan Marc; exceeding nice in Design; insomuch that his Works have a notable Effect and look admirably well in the Outlines only. He wrought incessantly for more than 30 Years in Murcia till 1708, when he died; he was a very great Man in many Respects. He was renown'd for painting Sacred Story; he was likewise very learned and well read, in short an extraordinary Humanist, and a constant Attendant in the Academies of Valencia. He painted abundance of Things for Convents: in St. Isabella's in Murcia he did a prodigious Performance of History, in the large Chapel. Both within and without that Kingdom his Name was mightily extended. He was as great a Theorist as a Practitioner; no less skilful in Landskip-painting than in Limning; he was very modest in the Expression of his Histories, notwithstanding he was so great an Anatomist. Don Lorenzo

Lorenzo Vila, his Son, had the Advantage of the Father, as to Invention and the Beauty and Softness of his Works, which were finish'd with great Practice, Neatness, and Spirit of Design, in which he every Day employ'd much Study, sometimes from Models, other times in the Academy, which he settled in Murcia for studying from the Life; and so great was his Affection to it, that he usually form'd Models in Wax or Clay, with the singular Approbation of the great Don Nicolas de Busi an Italian (who dwelt in Murcia) Sculptor to Philip IV. whose Effigy he carv'd proportionable to the Life; as also that of the Queen Mother. Busi died in the Cartbusian Monastery of Valencia about the Year 1709, in a good old Age, leaving many remarkable Works in Murcia, which he wrought at excessive Prices; but there are not Eyes to see them, nor Words to extol them. Don Lorenzo died in 1713, not 30 Years old.

Don

216. Don Juan Vanchesel,

P A I N T E R to the Queen, was a Fleming, the Son of Juan Vanchesel and one of his forwardest and most expert Disciples. The Father was a Disciple of David Teniers. Our Vanchesel trod in his Father's Steps and admirably well imitated him in Fishes, Birds, Beasts, and Landskips; and, in my Opinion, outdid him in Face-painting, in which he imitated Vandyke to that Height of Perfection, that I make no doubt but many of Vanchesel's Portraits will in Time be taken for Vandyke's. After some Time he came to Madrid (Anno 1680) and began to exercise his Talents at the House of a Countryman of his, where he was the Author of fine Performances, especially a large Family-piece of his Friend and Protector, representing him to the Life with his Wife and Children, &c. the Whole design'd and executed with great Art and Variety of suitable Action, and in it, himself, likewise drawn to the Life, putting his Head out of a Window, to write his Name on the Wall; and were it not for this Circumstance, it might have pass'd for Vandyke's Drawing. He painted also the Portrait of a Man on Horse-back, so lively and resembling, (in a Size less than the Life,) that nothing but the Smallness of the Figures could have put it out of Doubt, which was the Picture, and which the Reality. He did abundance of other Portraits to the utmost Degree of Perfection, both as to Likeness and every Thing else. He died at Madrid 1708, aged 64.

Life,

217. Don Francisco Perez Sierra,

WAS born at Naples, but came over into Spain, and lived in Madrid; he was the Son of Don Martin Perez, a Spaniard and a Native of Gibraltar. In Italy, he laid some Foundation with Annelo Falcono in the painting Battles, to which he was much inclin'd: and coming into Spain, as I said, he he there continued his Application to Battles, with Juan de Toledo, who at that Time was at Madrid; and having vastly improved himself, he painted Battle-pieces with an excellent Stroke and a grand Handling; and likewise other Subjects, such as poor Cottages and Country-Hövels, little Night-pieces, and such like Things. He practis'd too in Fresco and Distemper, and was also a good Perspectivist. Afterwards he apply'd himself to the Painting of Flowers and Fruits by the Life, and arriv'd to so supreme an Execution therein, that it seem'd impossible to carry that Branch of Painting to a greater Height. Besides all this, he apply'd himself to painting the frolicksome Merry-Meetings of ordinary Pot-Companions, with variety of little Implements and trifling Gewgaws from the Life, and some Herb-Stalls, with all Sorts of Pulse and Garden-Stuff, disposed, so artfully and with so good a Taste, that it was really prodigious. He died at Madrid 1709, after compleating his 82d Year.

218. Don Pedro Ruiz Gonzales,

PAINTER, was a Native and Inhabitant of Madrid. He learn'd not the Art of Painting, till he was advanced in Years, in the School of Don Antonio Escalante; and altho' his Genius was then harden'd, yet he went on very well, and imitated his Master a good deal at first: but afterwards getting acquainted with Carregno, he improv'd vastly, as is apparent in variety of his Works, in the Church of St. Justus and St. Pastor, at Madrid, which discover a noble and a good Composition. He was a man exceeding bright and learned, and excell'd in Invention and Composition; and, had his Judgment been equal to his Invention, he had been the first Man in the World; for, in truth, his first Draughts seem'd to promise no less. I have seen a Piece of his, of the Judgment Hall of Pilate, where they are loading Our Saviour with the Cross, which had all the Appearance of Paul Veronese. Another I have have seen of Christ's Sepulchre, which approach'd very near to Titian ; but his Execution, in the Great, was not answerable, as may be seen in the Vestry of of the Parish Church of St. Gines. He had a great Facility in designing any Subject whatever, and accordingly he left behind him an infinite Number of Drawings ; but then he was so fond of a Name, that, let the Thing be what it wou'd, a paultry Figure of the Academy, or the most inconsiderable Scratch with a Pen, it was not to go without his Name to it and the Date. He died at Madrid 1709, aged 76.

219. Don Geronimo Secano,

PAINTER and Sculptor ; he was born at Zaragoza, where he laid-in some slight Principles of the Art, and then removed to Madrid ; where, by frequenting the eminent Painters, and constantly attending the Academies, and copying excellent Originals, in which he spent some Years, he became a consummate Artist, and found himself Master of Design, and expert in Colouring, in which he had indeed a singular good Taste. With these Advantages he return'd to Zaragoza, where he gain'd a great Esteem by his Paintings, of the Excellency whereof there are not a few Vouchers; such as those in the Chapel of St. Michael in that City, and the Cupola thereof, painted in Fresco with a masterly Goût. Afterwards, being now turn'd of 50, he took to Sculpture, which he easily conquer'd and came to be eminent in that also. Among other Works of Statuary he executed those of the Chapel of St. Laurence in that City, with great Judgment, Command, and Address. He died there 1710, aged 72.

220. Don Lorenzo Montero,

PAINTER, was born at Seville: and was a very good Painter in Distemper, particular in Architecture, Ornaments, and Targets. He was much admir'd for drawing Fruit, Flowers, and Landskips, when he came to Madrid in 1680; but above all for his Skill in painting the Scenes and Decorations for the Theater of the Coliseum of Buen Retiro. He painted also a Chapel, which is at the Foot of the Church of St. Jerom, in Madrid. He had not so good a Hand at Figures, and therefore in Things of Consequence he made use of other Artists. He died at Madrid 1710, aged 50.
The-

221. Don Mathias de Torres

PAINTER, was born at Espinosa de los Monteros, and remov'd to Madrid, where at first he painted very indifferent Things without any Correctness; but afterwards by cultivating an Acquaintance with Don Francisco de Herrera, and attending the famous Academies, and conversing with the most noted Painters, he chang'd his Stile and took to be correct, so that he became one of the foremost of the Faculty. He attain'd to a great Easiness in Inventing; he likewise wrought Landships, Histories in Little, and Battle-pieces mighty well; nor was he less skilful in Histories in Great, of which there are many excellent Instances in the Palace of Boadilla, within two Leagues of Madrid; and in the Royal Monastery of St. Jerom, there's a good deal of his Painting. He was likewise a very good Performer in Distemper, as was manifested on divers Occasions of the Entries of the Queens, Funerals, Monuments, and Altars of Perspective: especially in that of the Canonization of St. Rosa de Lima, and in the Feast of the Merchants in the Convent of St. Francis, of which I obtained some Fragments; an excellent Thing! He mightily affected a Temperature and Moderation in Lights and Shades, following Herrera's Stile, so that if he had placed the Light in any one Part of the History, altho' it were not in the principal Figure, all the rest was left in the Shade, extremely faint. He died at Madrid 1711, aged 80.

Don

222. Don Francisco Leonar- doni, Painter.

HE was an Italian, and born at Venice; he came over into Spain 1680, and settled at Madrid. He was so happy in hitting a Likeness, that none could outdo him in Portraiture. Of this Truth I have seen many demonstrative Evidences; especially a Head, and Hand, the Picture of himself, which, for the Nicety and Delicacy of the Finishing, might have been taken for a Piece of Lucas de Olanda. He also painted Histories, tho' not in so supreme a Degree; but always in a grand Manner, and very free, and gave his Figures a very great Relief, by a proper Distribution of Lights and Shades. Of his Hand too are the Espousals and last Agonies of St. Joseph, in the Church of the College of Atocba, at Madrid. He died 1711, aged 57.

Juan

223. Juan Conchillos, Painter,

BORN at Valencia, and a Disciple of Estevan Marc (a Painter of great Repute, particularly for Battle-pieces.) He came to be a very great Painter, especially in Design. After some Years, he remov'd to Madrid, to see the eminent Performances there, and contract Acquaintance with the great Masters. Which done, he went back to Valencia, mightily improv'd in the Colouring Part, and no less in Design ; for he was very sedulous in frequenting the Academies, and in copying the best Pictures, without forgetting to study the celebrated Statues of the Court. And indeed he continued so to do all his Life-long, insomuch that he procur'd an Academy to be establish'd at Valencia ; nay, many Years held it in his own House. Among others, there are two celebrated Pieces of History 20 Palm's high, of his Painting, placed in the Parochial Church of St. Salvador in the said City ; and they are the best that ever went out of his Hands, Hands, having shewn more Skill and Judgment, in those than in any of the rest of his Works. He had a prodigious Facility in making wash'd Drawings, of whatever Subjects came in his Way, or of any uncommon odd Accident, Situation, or Circumstance, which he chanced to meet with ; as it happen'd when I went to Valencia. He came, with a Disciple of mine, as far as the Inn at Chiva, to meet me ; and the next Day he shew'd me, in a wash'd Drawing, the whole Reception, with the Caleshes, the Inn, the Well and great Cistern of Water, which is over-against the House, with all the other Circumstances of the Country thereabouts ; also my Disciple embracing me and likewise every one of the Company, and himself too, with so great Propriety, that by the Actions, Motions, and Garb, it was presently known who each particular Person was. He died at Madrid 1711, aged 70.

Don

224. Don Vicente Viçtoria,

PAINTER, was born at Valencia, but went over into Italy, and, at Rome, apply'd himself close to Painting, in the School of the renowned Carlo Maratti, where he made great Proficiency, especially in Face-painting, and in a good Understanding of Symmetry and Anatomy ; of which he was a very curious Observer. In Portraits, and every Thing else relating to the Imitation of Nature, he was really wonderful ; for Instance, he drew the Representation of a Table, upon Canvas, over which there hung some Drawings and other Trifles, which, I ingeniously own, I took to be the real Things themselves, and not Pictures of 'em. Returning to Rome, he was appointed the Pope's Antiquarian, with a very extraordinary Salary. He died there 1712, aged 54.

Gaf-

225. Gaspar de la Huerta,

PAINTER; he was born at Campillo de Alto Buey. From whence he removed to Valencia, not quite 6 Years old, and was lodged in the House of Jesualda Sanchiz a Female Painter; and under her he learned such Rudiments of the Art as his Mistress's slender Skill afforded. Afterwards, moved by his own happy Disposition, and the Dint of his Genius (which, it must be own'd, was very great) he so strongly devoted himself to the Study of Painting, that he rose to the first Rank of Painters in Valencia; for his Manner of Painting (besides a Sufficiency in Design) was vastly pleasing in the Colouring, whereby he ran away with the popular Applause to that Degree, that there's scarce a Church in the City and Kingdom of Valencia, which has not some of his Painting in it; in his whole Life he had gained 35, 000 Crowns, and died in the said City 1714, aged 73.

226. Don Joseph de Mora,

SCULPTOR to the King, was born at Granada, and a Disciple of Alonso Cano. When he found himself pretty well improv'd, he came to Madrid, where he prosecuted his Studies in the School of Don Sebastian Herrera; and made such further Advances, that his Works have often been taken for Sebastian's. He wrought abundance of Things for the Publick, and among others, the two Angels and young Children of the Passion, which are in the Chapel of Our Lady of the Seven Dolours, in the Royal College of Atocha in Madrid, an extatic Piece! He went back to Granada for his Health, where he lived about 30 Years, and where he wrought Numbers of excellent Pieces in Sculpture; especially for the Monastery of the Carthusians there. There are also of his doing eight Statues of so many different Saints, in the Chapel of Cardinal Salazar in the holy Church of Cordova. He was singular in one Thing, Thing, he would never let any body see him work ; neither did his most intimate Friends know where his Work-house was, tho' it was somewhere within the Walls of his Habitation ; but there was no Possibility of persuading him out of this particular Way of thinking, which made People say, he work'd in the Night, and walk'd abroad and took his Pleasure in the Day. He died at Granada 1724, aged, 86.
