INTRODUCTION.

LIFE OF CHAUCER.

GEOFFREY CHAUCER was born in London, about 1340 (not 1328, as was formerly said). His father was John Chaucer, citizen and vintner of London, and his mother's name was Agnes. His grandfather was Robert Chaucer, of Ipswich and London, who married a widow named Maria Heyroun, with a son Thomas Heyroun. John Chaucer's house stood in Upper Thames Street, beside Walbrook, just where that street is now crossed by the South-Eastern Railway from Cannon-street Station. Here it was that the poet spent his earliest days, and in an interesting passage in his Pardoneres Tale (lines 549-572), he incidentally displays his knowledge of various wines and the ways of mixing them together.

John Chancer, the poet's father, was in attendance on Edward III, in 1336, and this connexion with the court led to his son's employment there, some years afterwards, as a page in the household of Elizabeth, wife of Lionel, duke of Clarence, the third son of Edward III. In the household accounts of this princess, mention is made of various articles of clothing and other necessaries purchased for 'Geoffrey Chancer' in April, May, and December, 1357, when he was about seventeen years old. In 1359, he joined the army of Edward III, when that king invaded France, and was there taken prisoner. In May, 1360, the peace of Bretigny (near Chartres) was concluded between the French and English kings. Chancer had been set at liberty in March, when Edward paid 161, towards his ransom.

1367. We can only conjecture the manner in which he spent his life from hints given us in his own works, and from various notices of him in official records. To consider the latter first, we find, from the Issue Rolls of the Exchequer, that a lifepension of 20 marks was granted by the king to Chaucer in 1367, in consideration of his services, as being one of the valets of the king's household. During 1368 and part of 1369 he was in London, and received his pension in person. In October, 1368, his patron, Prince Lionel, died, and it appears that Chaucer's services were consequently transferred to the next brother, John of Gaunt, duke of Lancaster.

1369. In the autumn of 1369, the year of the third great pestilence of Edward's reign, Blanche, the first wife of John of Gaunt, died at the early age of twenty-nine. Chancer did honour to her memory in one of his earliest poems, entitled 'The Deth of Blanche the Duchessa'

1370-1373. From 1370 to 1386, Chaucer was attached to the court, and employed in frequent diplomatic services.

In December, 1372, being employed in the king's service, he left England for Genoa, Pisa, and Florence, and remained in Italy for nearly eleven months, but we again find him in London on November 22, 1373. This visit of his to Italy is of great importance, as it exercised a marked influence on his writings, and enables us to understand the development of his genius.

1374. His conduct during this mission to Italy met with the full approval of the king, who, on the celebration of the great festival at Windsor on St. George's day (April 23) in 1374, granted our poet a pitcher of wine daily, to be received from the king's butler. On May 10 of the same year, Chaucer took a lease of a house in Aldgate, for the term of his life, from the Corporation of London ; but he afterwards gave it up to a friend in October, 1386; and it is probable that he had ceased to reside in it for a year or more previously. On June 8, 1374, he was appointed to the important office of Comptroller of the Customs and Subsidy of Wools, Skins, and Leather, for the port of London; and a few days later (June 13) received a lifepension of 10l. from the duke of Lancaster for the good service rendered by him and his wife Philippa to the said Duke, to his consort, and to his mother the Queen. This is the first mention of Philippa Chaucer as Geoffrey's wife, though a Philippa Chancer is mentioned as one of the Ladies of the Chamber to Queen Philippa, on September 12, 1366, and subsequently. It has been conjectured that Chaucer was not married till 1374, and that he married a relative, or at least some one bearing the same name as himself; but this supposition is needless and improbable; there is no reason why the Philippa Chaucer mentioned in 1366 may not have been already married to the poet, who was then at least 26 years of age.

1375. In 1375 his income was increased by receiving from the Grown (November 8) the custody of the lands and person of one Edmond Staplegate, of Kent. This he retained for three years, during which he received 104*L*; together with some smaller sums from another source.

1376. On July 12, 1376, the king granted Chancer the sum of 711, 48.6d., being the value of a fine paid by one John Kent for shipping wool without paying the duty thereon. Towards the end of this year, Sir John Burley and Geoffrey Chaucer were employed upon some secret service, for which the latter received 61. 138. 4d.

1377. In February, 1377, Chaucer was employed on a secret mission to Flanders, and received for it, in all, the sum of 30. In April he was sent to France, to treat for peace with king Charles V.; for this service he received, in all, the sum of 484. 138. 4d. On June 21, king Edward III. died, and was succeeded by his grandson, Richard II.

1378. In January, Chaucer seems to have been employed in France. Soon afterwards, he was again sent to Italy, from May 28 to September 19, being employed on a mission to Lombardy, to treat with Bernabo Visconti, duke of Milan; to whose death (in 1385) the poet alludes in his Monkes Tale (II. 3589-3596), where he describes him as—

'Of Melan grete Barnabo Viscounte,

God of delyt, and scourge of Lumbardye.'

Before leaving England on this business, Chaucer appointed his friend John Gower, the poet, as one of his agents to represent him in his absence.

1380. By deed of May 1, 1380, one Cecilia Chaumpayne released Chaucer from a charge which she had brought against him, 'de raptu meo.' We have no means of ascertaining either the nature of the charge, or the circumstances of the case.

1382. We have seen that Chaucer had been appointed Comptroller of the Wool

Customs in 1374. Whilst still retaining this office, he was now also appointed Comptroller of the Petty Customs (May 8, 1382).

1385. In February, 1385, he was allowed the great privilege of nominating a permanent deputy to perform his duties as Comptroller. It is highly probable that he owed this favour to 'the good queen Anne,' first wife of king Richard II.; for, in the Prologue to the Legend of Good Women, probably written during this period of his newly-acquired freedom from irksome duties, he expresses himself most gratefully towards her.

If we may trust the description of his house and garden in the Prologue to the Legend of Good Women, probably composed in the spring of 1385, it would appear that he was then living in the country, and had already given up his house over the city gate at Aldgate to Richard Forster, who obtained a formal lease of it from the Corporation of London in October, 1386. We learn incidentally, from a note to the Envoy to Scogan, I. 45, that he was living at Greenwich at the time when he wrote that poem (probably in 1393). And it is highly probable that Chaucer's residence at Greenwich extended from 1385 to the end of 1399, when he took a new house at Westminster. This supposition agrees well with various hints that we obtain from other notices. Thus, in 1300, he was appointed (with five others) to superintend the repairing of the banks of the Thames between Woolwich and Greenwich. In the same year he was robbed at Hatcham (as we shall see below), which is near Deptford and Greenwich. And we find the singular reference in the Canterbury Tales (A 3907), where the Host suddenly exclaims-' Lo! Grenewich, ther many a shrewe is inne'; which looks like a sly insinuation, on the Host's part, that Greenwich at that time contained many 'shrews' or rascals. Few places would serve better than Greenwich for frequent observation of Canterbury pilgrims.

1386. In this year Chaucer was elected a knight of the shire for Kent, in the Parliament held at Westminster. In August, his patron John of Gaunt went to Spain; and during his absence, his brother Thomas, duke of Gloucester, contrived to deprive the king of all power, by appointing a regency of eleven persons, himself being at the head of them. As the duke of Gloucester was ill disposed towards his brother John, it is probable that we can thus account for the fact that, in December of this year, Chaucer was dismissed from both his offices, of Comptroller of Wool and Comptroller of Petty Customs, others being appointed in his place. This sudden and great loss reduced the poet from comparative wealth to poverty; he was compelled to raise money upon his pensions, which were assigned to John Scalby on May 1, 1388.

In October of this year (1386), there was a famous trial between Richard Lord Scrope and Sir Thomas Grosvenor, during which Chaucer deposed that he was forty years of age and upwards, and had borne arms for twenty-seven years.' He was, in fact, about forty-six years old, having been born, as said above, about 1340. Moreover, it is probable that he first bore arms in 1359, when he went with the invading army to France. This exactly tallies with his own statement.

1387. In this year died Chancer's wife, Philippa; to this loss he alludes in his Envoy to Bukton. It must have been about this time that he was composing portions of his,greatest poem, the Canterbury Tales.

1389. On May 3, Richard II, suddenly took the government into his own hands. John of Gaunt returned to England soon afterwards, and effected an outward reconciliation between the king and the duke of Gloucester. The Lancastrian party was now once more in power, and Chaucer was appointed Clerk of the King's Works at Westminster on July 12, at a salary of 28. a day (more than 11. of our present money, at the least).

1390. In this year, Chancer was also appointed Clerk of the Works at St. George's Chapel at Windsor, and was put on a Commission to repair the banks of the Thames between Woolwich and Greenwich. In a writ, dated July 1 in this year, he was allowed the costs of putting up scaffolds in Smithfield for the King and Queen to view the tournament which had taken place there in May. This helps to explain the minute account of the method of conducting a tournament which we meet with in the Knight's Tale. In the preceding month he had been appointed, by the Earl of March, joint Forester (with Richard Brittle) of North Petherton Park in Somerset. In September, he was twice robbed of some of the king's money; once, at Westminster, of 10.4; and again, near the 'foule ok' (foul oak) at Hatcham, Surrey, of 9.1 32. 8d.; but the repayment of these sums was forgiven him.

1391. This is the date given by Chancer to his prose Treatise on the Astrolabe, which he compiled for the use of his 'little son' Lewis, of whom nothing more is known; and it is supposed that he died at an early age. At this time, for some unknown reason, the poet unfortunately lost his appointment as Clerk of the Works.

1394. In February of this year, Chancer received a grant from the king of zol. a year for life; nevertheless, he seems to have been in want of money, as we find him making applications for the advancement of money from his pension.

1398. In this year or the preceding, Chaucer was made sole Forester of North Petherton Park, instead of joint Forester, as in 1300. In the Easter Term, he was sued for a debt of 14*l*. 13. 11*d*. In October, the king granted him a tun of wine yearly, for his life-time.

1399. On September 30, Henry IV. became king of England, and Chaucer addressed to him a complaint regarding his poverty, called a 'Compleynt to his Purs,' in response to which, only four days afterwards, Henry granted that the poet's pension of twenty marks (13/. 6s. 8d.) should be doubled, in addition to the 20/. a year which had been granted to him in 1394.

On Christmas ove of this year, Chancer took a long lease of a house in the garden of the Chapel of St. Mary, Westminster; this House stood near the spot now occupied by King Henry the Seventh's Chapel. The lease is in the Muniment Room of Westminster Abbey (Historical MSS. Commission, i. 95).

1400. The traditional date of Chaucer's death is October 25, 1400; in the second year of Henry IV. His death doubtless took place in his newly-acquired house at Westminster; and he attained to the age of about sixty years. Of his family, nothing is known, His 'little son ' Lewis probably died young; and there is no evidence earlier than the reign of Henry VI. that the Thomas Chaucer whose great-grandson, John de la Pole, Earl of Lincoln, was declared heir to the throne by his uncle, Richard III., in 1484, was Chaucer's son. As Thomas Chaucer was a man of great wealth, and of some mark, we should have expected to find early and undoubted evidence as to his parentage. We find, however, that Thomas Gascoigne, who wrote a Theological Dictionary, and died in 1458, refers to the poet in these words:-- Fuit idem Chawserus pater Thomae Chawserus, armigeri, qui Thomas sepelitur in Nuhelm inxta Oxnomian.' Gascoigne was in a position to know the truth, since he was Chancellor of Oxford, and Thomas Chaucer had held the manor of Ewelme, at no great distance, till his death in 1434. If this information be correct, it then becomes highly probable that Chaucer's wife Philippa was Philippa Roet, sister of the Katharine de Roet of Hainault, who married Sir John Swynford, and afterwards became the mistress, and in 1306 the third wife of John of Gaunt. This has been inferred from the fact that Thomas Chaucer's arms contain three wheels, supposed to represent the name of Roet; since the Old French roet means 'a little wheel.' Those who accept this inference see good reasons for explaining the favours extended to Chaucer both by John of Gaunt himself and his son King Henry IV.

CHARACTER OF CHAUCER.

There is no space here for exhibiting fully the revelation of Chaucer's character as expressed by numerous passages in his works. We easily recognise in them a man of cheerful and genial nature, with great powers of originality, full of freshness and humour, a keen observer of men, and at the same time an enthusiastic and untiring student of books. He tells a story excellently and sets his characters before us with dramatic clearness; and he has also an exquisite ear for music and pays great attention to the melodious flow of his verse. Except in his prose tales, he frequently affects, in his Canterbury Tales, an air of simplicity which sits upon him gracefully enough. In his Prologue to Sir Thopas, he describes himself as a 'large,' i. e. a somewhat corpulent man, and no 'poppet' to embrace, that is, not slender in the waist; as having an 'elvish' or abstracted look, often staring on the ground 'as if he would find a hare,' and ' doing no dalliance' to any man, i. e. not entering briskly into casual conversation. His numerous references and quotations show that he was deeply read in all medieval learning, and well acquainted with Latin, French (both of England and of the continent), and Italian, besides being a master of the East-midland dialect of English. A passage in the Reves Tale imitates some of the peculiarities of the Northumbrian dialect with much fidelity. On the other hand, he occasionally introduces forms into his poems that are peculiarly Kentish; owing, as I am inclined to suggest, to his residence for some years at Greenwich. In his Hous of Fame, he tells us how he had 'set his wit to make books, songs, and ditties in rime,' and often 'made his head ache at night with writing in his study.' For, when he had done his official work for the day, and 'made his reckonings,' he used to go home and become wholly absorbed in his books, 'hearing neither this nor that'; and, 'in stead of rest and new things' (recreation), he used 'to sit at a book, as dumb as a stone, till his look was dased'; and thus did he 'live as a hermit, though (unlike a hermit) his abstinence was but little.' So great (as he tells us in the Prologue to The Legend of Good Women) was his love of nature, that, 'when the month of May is come, and I hear the birds sing, and see the flowers springing up, farewell then to my book and to my devotion' to reading. In many passages he insists on the value of the purity of womanhood and the nobility of manhood, taking the latter to be dependent upon good feeling and courtesy. As he says in The Wife of Bath's Tale. 'the man who is always the most virtuous, and most endeavours to be constant in the performance of gentle deeds, is to be taken to be the greatest gentleman. Christ desires that we should derive our gentleness from Him, and not from our ancestors, however rich."

WRITINGS OF CHAUCER.

Other notices of Chancer must be gathered from his writings and from what we know about them. It is advisable to date his various works, where possible, as well as we can, and to consider the result.

Chancer's works fall (as shown by Ten Brink) into three periods. During the first of these, he imitated French models, particularly the famous and very long poem entitled Le Roman de la Rose, of which, as he himself tells us, he made a translation. It so happens that there exist what are apparently two, but are really three fragments of translations of two different parts of this poem; they are found in a MS. at Glasgow, written out about A. D. 1430-40, and in the early printed editions. These three fragments, marked A, B, C in the present volume, appear to be by different hands; and only the first of them can be reconciled with Chancer's usual diction and grammar. We must regretfully infer that the major part of Chancer's own translation is irrecoverably lost. The poems of this First Period were written before he set out on his Italian travels in 1372, and there is no trace in them of fany Italian influence.

The poems of the Second Period (1373-1384) clearly shew the influence of Italian literature, especially of Dante's Divina Commedia, and of Boccaccio's poems entitled Il Teseide and II Filostrato. Curiously enough, there is nothing to shew that Chaucer was acquainted, at first-hand, with Boccaccio's Decamerone.

The poems of the Third Period are chiefly remarkable for a larger share of originality, and are considered as beginning with the Legend of Good Women, the first poem in which the poet employed what is now known as the 'heroic' couplet, which he adapted from Guillaume de Machault.

The following list is arranged, conjecturally, in chronological order.

Origenes upon the Maudeleyne (lost).

Book of the Leoun (lost).

Ceys and Alcioun; afterwards (probably) partly preserved in the Book of the Duchesse.

The Romaunt of the Rose. (Fragment A (ll. 1-1705) is all that can fairly be claimed as Chaucer's work. Fragment B is written in a dialect approximating to that of Lincolnshire. The author of Fragment C, like that of B, remains unknown.)

A. B. C.-Minor Poems, I.

1369. Book of the Duchesse.-M. P. III.

Lyf of St. Cecyle (afterwards adapted to become the Second Nonnes Tale).

Monkes Tale (parts of); lines 3365-3652 clearly belong to a later period.

About 1372-3. Clerkes Tale; except E 995-1008, and the Envoy.

Palamon and Arcite; of which some scraps are preserved in other poems. It was also used as the basis of the Knightes Tale.

Compleint to his Lady .-- M. P. VI.

An Amorous Compleint, made at Windsor .--- M. P. XXII, Womanly Noblesse .--- M. P. XXIV.

Compleint unto Pitè .- M. P. II.

Anelida and Arcite (containing ten stanzas from Palamon) .--- M. P. VII.

The Tale of Melibeus (in its original form); partly translated from Albertano of Brescia.

The Persones Tale (in its original form); partly translated from Frère Lorens.

Of the Wretched Engendring of Mankind; mentioned in the Legend, Text A, l. 414; and partly preserved in scraps occurring in the Man of Lawes Tale, B 99-121, 421-7, 771-7, 925-931, 1135-41.

Man of Lawes Tale (in its original form); partly translated from Nicholas Trivet, 1377-81. Translation of Boethius.

1379? Complaint of Mars .- M. P. IV.

1379-83. Troilus and Criseyde; (partly from Boccaccio's II Filostrato and Guido delle Colonne's Historia Troiae; containing three stanzas from Palamon).

Wordes to Adam (concerning Boethius and Troilus).-M. P. VIII.

The Former Age; chiefly from Boethius, Book II. met. V.-M. P. IX.

Fortune; containing hints from Boethius.-M. P. X.

1383-4. House of Fame; containing hints from Dante; unfinished.

1385-6. Legend of Good Women ; unfinished,

1386. Canterbury Tales begun.

1387-8. Central period of the Canterbury Tales.

1301. Treatise on the Astrolabe ; chiefly from Messahala ; unfinished.

1393? Compleint of Venus.-M. P. XVIII.

1306; Lenvoy to Bukton,-M. P. XVII.

1309. Envoy to Compleint to his Purse.-M. P. XIX.

The following occasional triple roundel and balades may have been composed between 1380 and 1396 — Merciless Beauté. — M. P. XI. Balade to Rosemounde. — M. P. XII. Against Women Unconstant. — M. P. XXI. Compleint to his Purse (except the Envoy). — M. P. XIX. Lak of Stedfastnesse. — M: P. XV. Gentilesse. — M. P. XIV. Truth. — M. P. XIII. Proverbes of Chaucer. — M. P. XX.

EDITIONS OF CHAUCER:

Several of Chaucer's Poems were printed at various times by Caxton and others, but the first collected edition of his works was that edited by W. Thynne in 1532. This was reprinted; with the addition of the spurious Ploaman's Tale, in 1542; and again, about 1550. Later editions appeared in 1561 (with large additions by John Stowe); in 1598 (re-edited by Thomas Speght), second edition, 1602, and reprinted in 1687. Still later editions were the very bad one by Urry, in 1711, and the excellent one by Tyrwhitt, of the Canterbury Tales only, in 1775-8. These editions, excepting Tyrwhitts, have done much to confuse the public as to the genuine works of Chaucer, because in them a large number of poems, some known (even by the editors) to be by Lydgate, Gower, Hoccleve, and Scogan, together with others obviously spurious, were carelessly added to works by Chaucer himself; and many erroneous notions have been deduced from the study of this incongruous mixture.

It must suffice to say here that most of the later editions, since the publication of Tyrwhitt's remarks on the subject, reject many of these additional pieces, but still unadvisedly admit the poems entitled The Court of Love, The Complaint of the Black Knight, Chaucer's Dream, The Flower and the Leaf, and The Cuckoo and the Nightingale. Of these, The Complaint of the Black Knight is now known to be by Lydgate; The Flower and the Leaf cannot be earlier than 1450, and was probably written, as it purports to be, by a lady; whilst The Court of Love can hardly be earlier than 1500, and Chaucer's Dream (so called) is of still later date. Nothing but a complete ignorance of the history of the English language can connect these fifteenthcentury and sixteenth-century poems with Chaucer. The only poem, in the above set, which can possibly be as old as the fourteenth century, is The Cuckoo and the Nightingale. There is no evidence of any kind to connect it with Chaucer; and Professor Lounsbury decisively rejects it, on the internal evidence. It admits a few rimes (see p. xiv) such as Chaucer nowhere employs.

GRAMMATICAL HINTS.

The following brief hints contain but a minimum of information, and include nothing that should not be extremely familiar to the student.

Observe that, in Chancer's English, the final syllables -e, -ed, -en, -es, almost always form a distinct and separate syllable, so that a large number of words had then a syllable more than they have now. Unless this rule be observed, no progress in the study is possible. In particular, always sound this final -e (like the a in China) at the end of a line.

Final -e is elided, or slurred over, when the next word begins with a vowel, or is one of certain words beginning with h, viz. (1) a pronoun, as he; (2) part of the verb have; (3) the adverbs heer, how; (4) mute h in honour, houre. In a similar position, final -er, -en, -el, -y, are slurred over likewise; thus get-en is really get n in 1, 2011.

Final -e is sometimes dropped in a few common words, such as were, were, hadde, had, wolde, would.

Middle -e- is also sometimes dropped, as in havenes, pronounced (haavnez), 1. 407. But trew-e-ly (481) is trisyllabic.

The reasons for sounding the final -e, -en, -es, as distinct syllables, are grammatical. These endings represent older inflexions, mostly Anglo-Saxon; and were once, in fact, essential. But, in Chaucer's time, they were beginning to disappear, and many are now lost altogether.

Final -e., The various sources of the M. E. (i. e. Middle-English) final -e are, chiefly, these following.

1. The A.S. (Anglo-Saxon) sb. ended in a vowel. Thus A.S. har-a, a hare, became M.E. har-e (191).

2. The A.F. (Anglo-French) sb. ended in a vowel which was formerly sounded. Thus A.F. mélodi-ë (four syllables) is M.E. melody-ë (four syllables, 9).

3. The dative case often ends in  $-e_i$  especially after the prepositions at, by, for, in, of, on, to. Thus rde(a) is the dative case of root, a root. We even find the form of an oblique case used as a nom. case, owing to confusion. Thus A.S. hwelp, a whelp, makes the dat. hwelp $-e_i$ ; Chaucer has whelp-e as a nominative (25).

4. The forms hell-e (so in A.S.), sonn-e (A.S. sunn-an) are genitives; see Book Duch. 171; A 1051. Similarly -y represents a genitive suffix in lad-y, 88, 695.

5. The definite form of the adjective (i.e. the form used when the def. art. the or a possessive or demonstrative pronoun precedes it) ends in -e. Ex. : the yong-e, 7.

6. The adj. pl. ends in -e; as smal-e, 9.

xviii

7. Even the adj. sing. may end in -e; as swët-e (5), from A.S. swëte, sweet, in which the final -e is essential. So also trewe, from A.S. treowe; 531.

8. Verbs: the infinitive and gerund (with to) end in -en or -e; as biginn-e, 42; for to rys-e, 33.

9. Strong verbs : the pp. (past participle) ends in -en or -e; as y-ronn-e, 8.

10. Weak verbs: the pt.t. (past tense) ends in -ede, -de, -te, -e; as say-de, 70. Sometimes in -ed, as prov-ed, 547. Observe lakk-e-de, 756; low'de, 97; wet-te, 129; went-e, 78.

11. Verbs: various other inflexions in -en or -e. Thus slöp-en, 3 p. pr. pl., 10; wër-en, 1 p. pt. pl., 29; gess-e, 1 p. pr. s., 82; smert-e, 3 p. pr. s. subj., 230, &c.

12. Adverbs and prepositions may end in -en or -e; as abov-en, 53; about-e, prep. 158, adv. 488.

Final -en. The suffix -en usually denotes either (1) the pl. sb., as hos-en, 456; (2) the infin. or gerundial infin. of a verb, as to wend-en, 21; (3) the pp. of a strong verb, as holp-en, 18; (4) the pl. of any tense of a verb, as wer-en, 1 p. pt. pl., 29; (5) is prep. or adverb, as aboven, 53.

Final -es. The final -es denotes either (1) the gen. sing., as lord-es, 47; (2) the pl. sb., as shour-es, 1; or (3) an adverb, as thrif-es, 563. But the gen. of lody is lody; and of fader, is fader. And the plural may end in -s, as in palmer-s, 13.

The student should endeavour to make out, in every case, the reason for the use of final  $-\epsilon_1$ ,  $-\epsilon_n$ , or  $-\epsilon_n$ . He will thus acquire the grammar. The above hints explain most cases that can arise.

Further notes. Some neuter sbs. do not change in the plural, as hors, pl. hors, 74. So also neet, sheep, swyn, yeer.

Comparatives end in -er, as grett-er, adj., 197; or -re, as fer-re, adv., 48. Superlatives, in -est, occasional def, form -est-e, as best-e, 252. Pronouns: tho, those; this, pl. thise, these; thilke, that; ilke, same. Atte, for at the. Ye, nom; you, dat, and acc., you. Hir, their (also her); hem, them. His, his, its. Whiche, what sort of, 40; what, i.e. 'why' 184; That... he, who, 44, 45; who so, whoever, 741. Men, one, with a sing. verb, as men smoot, one smote, 140.

Verbs. Verbs are distinguished as being weak or strong. In the former, the pp. ends in -ed, -d, or -t; in the latter, in -en, or -e.

A simple rule is this. In weak verbs, the pt. t. ends in -eds (rarely -ed), -de, -de, -e, so that the final -e is here extremely common, but it does not appear in the pp.; conversely, in strong verbs, it is the pp. that ends in -en or -e, which never appears in the first or third person singular of the past tense. Ex. went-e, 3 p. pt. s., 78, is a weak past tense; cla-d, 103, is a weak pp. Conversely, y-ronn-e, 8, is a strong pp.; sleep, 98, is a strong pt. t. The prefix y- (A.S. ge-) can be prefixed to any pp., and makes no difference.

Strong verbs usually shew vowel-change; thus bigan (44) is the pt. t. of biginnen. But note that this is not a sure guide; for raugh-te (136) is the pt. t. of rech-en, to reach, and is weak. Slep-en, to sleep, pt. t. sleep, is strong.

In strong verbs, the vowel of the past tense is changed, sometimes, in the plural. Thus the pt. t. sing. of rijd-en, to ride, is rood, 169; but the pl. is rid-en, 825. The pp. is also rid-en, 48.

The usual formulae for the conjugation of verbs are as follows.

Present tense. Sing. -e. -est, -eth (-th); pl. -en or -e.

Past tense; weak verbs. Sing. -ede (-de or -ed), -de, -te, -e (in persons 1 and 3); -edest, -dest, -test, -est (2 person). Plural, -eden, -ede, -de; -den -ten, -te, -e (all persons).

Past tense; strong verbs. Sing. indic. no suffix (in persons 1 and 3); -e, occasionally (2 person). Sing. subj. -e (all persons). Plural of both moods : -en, -e.

Imperative. Sing. 2 person : no suffix (usually); -e(in some weak verbs). Plural, 2 person : -eth, -th; (sometimes -e).

Infinitive : -en, -e. The gerundial infinitive has to or for to prefixed, and often denotes purpose.

Participles. Present: -ing, often -inge at the end of a line. Pp. of weak verbs : -ed, -d, -t. Pp. of strong verbs : -en, -e.

N.B. We find the contracted form bit, for biddeth, in the 3 p. pr. s. indicative, 187.

Similar contractions are common ; hence hit means 'hideth'; rit means 'rideth'; sit, 'sitteth'; let, 'leadeth,' B 1496; &c.

Formation of Past Tenses. The form of the pt. t. of a weak verb depends on the form of its stem. There are three classes of such verbs.

1. Infin. -ien; pt. -ede (-de), or -ed. Thus lov-ien, to love; pt. t. lov-ede (pronounced luv'de), or lov-ed (luv'ed). Compare lakk-e-de, 756; though the infin. is lakk-en.

2. Infin. en; pt. t. -de, -te, or sometimes (after d or t) -e; without vowel-change, except such as is due to contraction. Ex. hēr-en, to hear, pt. t. her-de; kēp-en, to keep, pt. t. kep-te; lēd-en, to lead, pt. t. lad-de (short for legd-de). Cf. went-e, went.

3. Infin. -en, with a modified vowel in the infinitive, the root-vowel appearing in the pt. t. and pp. Thus the root sox (cf. Gothic sökjan, to seek), appears in the A.S. pt. t. söh-te, pp. söh-t, M.E. soght-e, sogh-t; but the ö becomes ö (as in A.S. föt, foot, pl. föt, feet) in the infin. söc-an, M.E. sök-en, E. seek. Cf. tell-en, pt. t. tol-de; tech-en, pt. t. taugh-te.

N.B. The pp. of a weak verb results from the pt. t. by dropping -e (unless it has been dropped already); thus pt. t. tol-de gives pp. tol-d.

Strong verbs. The seven conjugations of strong verbs are given in my Principles of Etymology. I take as representative verbs the following : fall, shake, bear, give, drink, drive, choose. A more usual order (though it makes no real difference) is : 1. drive, a. choose, 3. drink, 4. bear, 5. give, 6. shake, 7. fall.

The 'principal parts 'are: (a) the infinitive: (b) the past tense, singular; (c) the pt. t. pl.; (d) the pp.

1. 'Drive.' Here Chaucer has: (a) rid-en, to ride; (b) rood; (c) rid-en; (d) rid-en. So also byt-en, bite, rys-en, rise, shyn-en, shine, shryo-en, shrive, smyt-en, smite, wryt-en, write <sup>1</sup>. I here write y to denote long i.

2. 'Choose.' As: (a) seth-en, to see the; (b) seeth; (c, d) sod-en.

3. 'Drink.' As: (a) biginn-en; (b) bigan; (c) biginnen; (d) biginnen. So also drinken, ginnen, rinnen, to run, singen, springen, swinken, to toil, winnen, delven, fighten (bt. ts. faught), helpen, keresaken.

4. 'Bear.' As: (a) ber-en; (b) bar; (c) ber-en; (d) bor-en. So also breken, sheren, stelen. Comen has: (b) com; (c) com-en; (d) com-en.

5. 'Give.' As: (a) yev-en, yiv-en; (b) yaf; (c) yëv-en; (d) yiv-en. So also geten (pp. geten); speken (pp. spoken).

6. 'Shake.' As: (a) bak-en; (b) book; (c) bök-en; (d) bak-en. So also drawen, shaken, shaken, shaken, storden (pt. t. stood), taken, sweren (pp. swor-e).

7. 'Fall.' As: (a) fall-en; (b) fil; (c) fill-en; (d) fall-en. So holden, pt. t. held;

1 Chaucer's Prologue does not contain specimens of all the parts of the verbs mentioned. Thus seller only occurs in the infinitive (383); however, the pl. t. seeth occurs elsewhere, viz, in the Clerkes Tale, E 227. let-en, pt. t. leet; slep-en, pt. t. sleep; blowen, growen, know-en, pt. t. blew, &c.; wep-en, pt. t. weep; goon, pp. y-goon, y-go, 286. Compare the complete list of strong M.E. verbs, in Specimens of English, ed. Morris and Skeat, pt. 1.

Anomalous Verbs. Among these note the following. Been, ben, are. Imper. pl. beeth, beth, be ye. Pp. been, ben, been.

Can, I know; pl. connen; pt. t. coude, knew, could: pp. couth, known. Dar, I dare; pt. t. dorste. May, I may; pl. mowen; subjunctive, mowe, pl. mowen. Moot, I must, I may, he must, he may; pl. möten, möte; pt. t. möste. Oghte, ought. Shal, pl. shullen, shul; pt. t. sholde. Witen, to know; woot, wöt, I know, he knows; pl. witen (correctly; but Chaucer also has ye woot); pt. t. wiste, knew; pp. wist. Wil, wol, wole, will; pl. wolen, wilen; pt. t. wolde. Thar, needs; pt. t. thurte.

Negatives. Nam, for ne am, am not; nis, for ne is, is not; nas, was not; nëre, were not; nadde, had not; nil, will not; nolde, would not; noot, I know not, he knows not; niste, knew not; ne... ne, neither ... nor, 603. Double negatives, 70, 71, &c.

Adverbs. End in -e, as dēp-e, deeply; or -ly, as subtil-ly; or -e-ly, as trew-e-ly, truly; or -en, -e, as bifor-en, bifor-e; or in -es, as thrÿ-es, thrice. Ther, where, 547; ther as, where that, 34.

Prepositions, End in -en, -e, -es; &c. Til, for to, before a vowel. With adjoins its verb; 791.

METRE.

Chaucer was our first great metrist, and enriched our literature with several forms of metre which had not been previously employed in English. These he borrowed chiefly from Guillaume de Machault, who made use of stanzas of seven, eight, and nine lines, and even wrote at least one Compleint in the 'heroic' couplet.

The metre of four accents, in rimed couplets, had been in use in English long before Chaucer's time; and he adopted it in translating Le Roman de la Rose (the original being in the same metre), in the Book of the Duchesse, and in the House of Fame.

The ballad-metre, as employed in the Tale of Sir Thopas, is also older than his time. In fact, this Tale is a burlesque imitation of some of the old Romances.

The four-line stanza, in the Proverbes, was likewise nothing new.

But he employed the following metres, in English, for the first time.

1. The 8-line stanza, with the rimes arranged in the order ababbebc; i. e. with the first line (a) riming with the third (a), and so on. Exx. A.B.C.; The Monkes Tale; The Former Age; Lenvoy to Bukton.

1 b. The same, thrice repeated, with a refrain. Ex. (part of) Fortune; Compleint to Venus; Balade to Rosemounde.

2. The 7-line stanza, with the rimes ababbcc; a favourite metre. Exx. Lyf of Seint Cecyle; Clerkes Tale; Palamon and Arcie; (part of) Compleint to his Lady; An Amorous Compleint; Compleint to Pitié; (part of) Anelida; The Wretched Engendring of Mankind; The Man of Lawes Tale; (part of) The Compleint of Mars; Troilus and Criscyde; Wordes to Adam; (part of) The Parlement of Foules; (parts of) The Canterbury Tales; Lenvoy to Scogan.

2 b. The same 7-line stanza, thrice repeated, with a refrain. Exx. Against Women

Unconstaunt; Compleint to his Purse; Lak of Stedfastnesse; Gentilesse; Truth. Also in the Legend of Good Women, 249-269.

2 c. The 7-line stanza, with the rimes ababbab. Ex. (part of) Fortune.

3. Terza Rima. Only a few lines; in the Compleint to his Lady.

4. The 10-line stanza, aabaabcddc. In the Compleint to his Lady.

5. The 9-line stanza, aabaabbab. Only in Anelida.

5 b. The same, with internal rimes. Only in Anelida.

5 c. The same as 5, but thrice repeated. Only in Womanly Noblesse.

6. Two stanzas of 16 lines each; with the rimes aaabaaab bbbabbba. Only in Anelida.

7. The o-line stanza, aabaabbcc. Only in the latter part of the Compleint of Mars.

8. The roundel. In the Parlement of Foules; and Merciless Beauté.

9. The heroic couplet. In the Legend of Good Women and parts of the Canterbury Tales.

10. A 6-line stanza, repeated six times; with the rimes ababcb. Only in the Envoy to the Clerkes Tale.

11. A 10-line stanza, aabaabbaab. Only in the Envoy to the Compleint of Venus.

12. A 6-line stanza, ababaa. Only in the Envoy to Womanly Noblesse,

13. A 5-line stanza, aabba. Only in the Envoy to Compleint to his Purse.

The following pieces are in prose. The Tale of Melibeus. The Persones Tale. The translation of Boethius, De Consolatione Philosophiae. The Treatise on the Astrolabe.

VERSIFICATION.

Some lines drop the first syllable, and the first foot contains one syllable only; as: Ging | len in, &c. 170.

Many rimes are double, as cloitere, oistre, 181; Rom-e, to me, 671; non-es, non is, 523. Always sound final -e at the end of a line. Rimes may be treble, as apothec-ár-i-es, letu-ár-i-es, 425; so at ll. 207, 513, 700. Compare the Grammatical Hints.

Caesura. The caesura, or middle pause, allows extra syllables to be preserved. Thus, at 1, 293, we have :---

For him was léver-hav' at his béddes héed.

The pause gives time for the -er of lev-er. Similarly, we may preserve the -er of deliv-er, 84; -e in mor-e, 98; -e in curteisy-e,  $_{132}$ ; -ie (=y) in car-ie,  $_{130}$ .

Compare also :--

With-out-e bak-e met-e-was nev'r his hous; 343. That | no dróp-e-ne fill' upon hir brest; 131.

The syllables  $-er_1, -er_1, -el_1, -ed_1$  before a vowel, or h (in  $he_1$  &c.), are light, and do not always count in scansion; see II. 84, 291, 296, 334, &c. Cf. ma | ny a breem |; 350. Read the lines deliberately, and remember the old pronunciation.

Accent. Variable, in some words; cf. miller, 545, with the archaic trisyllable miller, 541. Also, in French words, we have honour, 582; but the archaic honour, 46. Cf. licour, 3; certa, 4.

PRONUNCIATION.

The M.E. pronunciation was widely different from the present, especially in the vowel-sounds. The sounds of the vowels were nearly as in French and Italian.

(pronunciation.

They can be denoted by phonetic invariable symbols, enclosed within marks of parenthesis. Convenient phonetic symbols are these following.

Vowels. (aa), as a in father; (a) short, as a in aha! (ae), open long e, as a in Mary; i(e), open short e, as e in bed; (ee), close long e, as e in veil; i(i) short, as F. iin fini, or (nearly) as E, i in in ;i(i), as ee in deep; i(ao), open long o, as aw in saw; (o) open short o, as o in not; (oo), close long o, as o in note, or o in German 'so'; i(n), as u in full; (uu), as oo in fool; (ü), as F. u in F. 'écu'; (ü'), as long G.  $\vec{u}$  in G. 'irvin.' [Also (o), as final a in China.

Diphthongs. (ai), as y in fly; (du), as ow in now; (ai), as ei in veil; (oi), as oi in boil.

Consonants (special). (k), as c in cat; (s), as c in city; (ch), as in church; (tch), as in catch; (th), as th in thin; (dh), as th in then. Also (h), when not initial, to denote a guttural sound, like G. ch in Nacht, Licht, but weaker, and varying with the preceding vowel.

An accent is denoted by ('), as in M.E. name (naa'mə).

By help of these symbols, it is possible to explain the meaning of the M.E. symbols employed by the scribes in Chaucer's Tales. The following is a list of the sounds they denote. The letters in thick type are the letters actually employed; the letters within parenthesis denote the sounds, as above.

Observe that long ' $\varrho$ ,' also written ' $\dot{\varrho}$ ,' means the same as (ao); and long ' $\varrho$ ,' also written ' $\dot{\varrho}$ ,' means the same as (ae).

a short, (a). Ex. al (al); as (az). N.B. The modern a in cat (kæt) is denoted by (æ), and does not occur in Chancer.

a long, (aa). (1) at the end of a syllable; as age (aa'je); (2) before s or ce; as cas (kaas), face (faa'se).

al, ay (ei), originally perhaps (ai); but ai and ei, both being pronounced as (ei), had already been confused, and invariably rime together in Chaucer. Cf. E. gay, prey.

au, aw (au). Ex. avaunt (avau nt); awe (au .).

c, as (k), except before e and i; as (s), before e and i.

e short, (e). Ex. fetheres (fedh rez); middle e dropped.

e final, (a); and often dropped or elided or very lightly touched.

e long and open, (ae). Sometimes denoted by 'e' or 'ee.' Ex. clene (klae na).

e long and close, (ee). Ex. swete (swee te); weep (weep).

ei, ey (ei). Ex. streit (streit); wey (wei).

g hard, i.e. (g), except before e and i; (j), before e and i. Ex. go (gao); age (aa'je). gh (h), G. ch. Ex. light (lilht). The vowel was at first short, then half-long (as probably in Chaucer), then wholly long, when the (h) dropped out. Later, (ii) became (ei), and is now (ai).

gn (n), with long preceding vowel ; as digne (dii'nə).

i short, (i). As F. i in fini; but often as E. i in in; the latter is near enough. So also y, when short, as in many (man'i).

i, y long, (ii). Ex. I (ii); melodye (mél·odii·ə).

ie (ee), the same as ee. Ex. mischief (mischeef).

I consonantal, (j). Ex. Iay (jei); Iuge (jūje). So in the MSS.; but here printed 'j,' as in jay (jei).

le, often vocalic (1), as in E. temple (temp'l). But note stables (staa blez), ng (ngg); always as in E. linger. Ex. thing (thingg).

o short, (o), as in of (ov). But as (ou) before gh. And note particularly, that it is always (u), i. e. as u in full, wherever it has a sound like u in mod. E., as in company, son, monk, cousin, &c. Ex. sonne (sun nə), monk (mungk), moche (muchə).

o long and open, (ao). Sometimes denoted by 'o' or 'oo.' Ex. go (gao); stoon (staon).

o long and close, (oo). Ex. sote (soo to); hood (hood).

oi, oy (oi).

ou, ow (uu); as in flour (fluur); now (nuu). Rarely (ou), as in soule (soule).

ogh (ouh), with open o, as in E. not, followed by short (u).

ough (uuh); with uu as in E. fool (fuul); or as ogh;

r is always strongly trilled. ssh (shsh), as in fresshe (fresh'she).

u short, (ü); French; as in just (jüst). Rarely (u), as in cut (kut); English.

u long, (ü'), as in nature (natü'rə); French.

we final, (we), but often merely (u). Ex. arwes (arwez); bowe (baou'e, bou'e); morwe (moru); so blew (blee'u).

N.B. Open long e (ae) often arises from A.S.  $\bar{a}$ ,  $\bar{e}a$ , or lengthening of e: Ex. were (waere), A.S. wäron; gek (aek), A.S.  $\bar{e}ac$ ; speken (spacken), A.S. sprecan. Open long o (ao) often arises from A.S.  $\bar{a}$ , or lengthening of o. Ex.  $f_Q$  (fao), A.S.  $f_R$  open, A.S. open. Chancer refrains from riming open long e (ae), when arising from A.S.  $\bar{a}a$ , or lengthening of e, with the close e arising from A.S.  $\bar{a}$  or  $\bar{c}o$ . But there is some uncertainty about the quality of the e arising from A.S.  $\bar{e}a$ , or from mutation.

The occurrence of rimes such as Chancer never employs furnishes an easy test for poems which have been supposed to be his on insufficient grounds. Thus, in The Cuckoo and the Nightingale, stanza 13, green rimes with been; whereas the form green never occurs in Chancer, who always employs greene (greene) as a dissyllable, in accordance with its etymology from A.S. green. In the same poem, upon rimes with mon, a man (stanza 17), but Chancer knows nothing of such a form as mon.

Non-Chaucerian rimes occur in large numbers in Fragment B of the Romaunt of the Rose.

THE ROMAUNT OF THE ROSE.

Words and syllables enclosed within square brackets are supplied by the Editor. Readings marked with an obelus (†) are doubtful, and are accounted for in the Appendix.

[Only three Fragments of this translation have come down to us. Of these, Fragment A is by Chaucer; Fragment B is by a Northerner, and has many corrupt readings; whilst Fragment C is af doubtful origin, and I do not feel sure that it is Chaucer's.]

Maxy men seyn that in sweveninges Ther nis but fables and lesinges; But men may somme 'swevenes seen, Which hardely 'ne false been, But afterward ben apparaunte. This may I drawe to waraunte An authour, that hight Macrobes, That halt not dremes false ne lees, But undoth us the avisioun That whylow mette king Cinjonn.

And who-so sayth, or weneth it be A jape, or elles [a] nycetee To wene that dremes after falle, Let who-so liste a fool me calle. For this trowe I, and say for me, That dremes significance be Of good and harme to many wightes, That dremen in her slepe a-nightes Ful many thinges covertly, That fallen after al openly.

The Dream.

Within my twenty yere of age, Whan that Love taketh his corage Of yonge folk, I wente sone To bedde, as I was wont to done, And fast I +sleep; and in sleping, Me mette swiche a swerening.

That lykede me wonders wel ; But in that sweven is never a del That it nis afterward befalle. Right as this dreem wol telle us alle. 30 Now this dreem wol I ryme aright, To make your hertes gaye and light ; For Love it prayeth, and also Commaundeth me that it be so. And if ther any aske me. 35 Whether that it be he or she. How [that] this book [the] which is here Shall + hote, that I rede you here ; It is the Romance of the Rose. In which al the art of love I close. 40

The mater fair is of to make; God graunte in gree that she it take For whom that it begonnen is ! And that is she that hath, y-wis, So mochel prys; and ther-to she 45 So worthy is biloved be, That she wel oughte, of prys and right, Be cleped Rose of every wight.

That it was May me thoughte tho, It is fyve yere or more ago; 50 That it was May, thus dremed me, In tyme of love and jolitee, That al thing ginneth waxen gay, and a second sec

For ther is neither busk nor hay	Aloon I wente in my playing, 105
In May, that it nil shrouded been, 55	The smale foules song harkning;
And it with news leves wreen.	That peyned hem ful many a payre
These wodes eek recoveren grene,	To singe on bowes blosmed fayre.
That drye in winter been to sene ;	Jolif and gay, ful of gladnesse,
And th' erthe wexeth proud withalle,	Toward a river +I gan me dresse, 110
For swote dewes that on it falle, 60	That I herde renne faste by;
And [al] the pore estat forget	For fairer playing non saugh I
In which that winter hadde it set;	Than playen me by that riveer,
And than bicometh the ground so proud	For from an hille that stood ther neer
That it wol have a newe shroud,	Cam down the streem ful stif and bold. 115
And maketh so queynt his robe and fayr 65	Cleer was the water, and as cold
That it thath hewes an hundred payr	As any welle is, sooth to seyne;
Of gras and floures, inde and pers,	And somdel lasse it was than Seine,
And many hewes ful dyvers :	But it was straighter wel away.
That is the robe I mene, y-wis,	And never saugh I, er that day, 120
Through which the ground to preisen is. 70	The water that so wel lyked me;
The briddes, that han left hir song,	And wonder glad was I to see
Whyl they han suffred cold so strong	That lusty place, and that riveer;
In wedres grille, and derk to sighte,	And with that water that ran so cleer
Ben in May, for the sonne brighte,	My face I wissh. Tho saugh I wel 125
	The botme paved everydel
So glade, that they shewe in singing, 75 That in hir herte is swich lyking,	With gravel, ful of stones shene.
That they mote singen and be light.	The medewe softe, swote, and grene,
Than doth the nightingale hir might	Beet right on the water-syde.
To make noyse, and singen blythe.
Than is blisful, many a sythe, 80	Ful cleer was than the morow-tyde, 130 And ful attempre, out of drede.
The chelaundre and the papingay.	Tho gan I walke through the mede,
Than yonge folk entenden ay	Dounward ay in my pleying,
For to ben gay and amorous,	The river-syde costeying.
The tyme is than so savorous.
	The Garden.
	And whan I had a whyle goon, 135
In May, whan al this mirth is wrought ;	I saugh a GARDIN right anoon,
Whan he may on these braunches here	Ful long and brood, and everydel
The smale briddes singen clere	+Enclos it was, and walled wel,
Hir blisful swete song pitous ;	With hye walles embatailled,
And in this sesoun delitous, 50	Portrayed without, and wel entailled 140
Whan love affrayeth alle thing,	With many riche portraitures ;
Me thoughte a-night, in my sleping, Right in my bed, ful redily,	And bothe images and peyntures
That it was by the morowe erly,	Gan I biholde bisily.
	And I wol telle you, redily,
And up I roos, and gan me clothe; 95	Of thilke images the semblaunce, 145
Anoon I wissh myn hondes bothe; A sylvre nedle forth I drogh	As fer as I have remembraunce.
	Hate.
Out of an aguiler queynt y-nogh,	A-midde saugh I HATE stonde,
And gan this nedle threde anon;	That for hir wrathe, ire, and onde,
For out of toun me list to gon 100 The sowne of briddes for to here,	Semed to been a †moveresse,
	An angry wight, a chideresse; 150
That on thise +busshes singen clere. And in the swete sesoun that leef is,	And ful of gyle, and fel corage,
	By semblaunt was that ilke image.
With a threde basting my slevis,	And she was no-thing wel arrayed,

The Romaunt of the Rose.

But lyk a wood womman afrayed;	Ful croked were hir hondes two;
Y-frounced foule was hir visage, 155	For Coveityse is ever wood
And grenning for dispitous rage ;	To grypen other folkes good.
Hir nose snorted up for tene.	Coveityse, for hir winning, 205
Ful hidous was she for to sene,	Ful leef hath other mennes thing.
Ful foul and rusty was she, this.	Avarice.
Hir heed y-writhen was, y-wis, 160	Another image set saugh I
Ful grimly with a greet towayle.	Next Coveityse faste by,
Felonye.	And she was cleped AVARICE.
An image of another entayle,	Ful foul in peynting was that vice; 210
A lift half, was hir faste by :	Ful sad and caytif was she eek.
Hir name above hir heed saugh I,	And al-so grene as any leek.
And she was called FELONYE. 165	So yvel hewed was hir colour,
Vilanye.	Hir semed have lived in langour.
Another image, that VILANYE	She was lyk thing for hungre deed, 215
Y-cleped was, saugh I and fond	That ladde hir lyf only by breed
Upon the walle on hir right hond.	Kneden with eisel strong and egre;
Vilanye was lyk somdel	And therto she was lene and megre.
That other image ; and, trusteth wel, 170	And she was clad ful povrely,
She semed a wikked creature.	Al in an old torn +courtepy, 220
By countenaunce, in portrayture,	As she were al with dogges torn ;
She semed be ful despitous,	And bothe bihinde and eek biforn
And eek ful proud and outrageous.	Clouted was she beggarly.
Wel coude he peynte, I undertake, 175	A mantel heng hir faste by,
That swiche image coude make.	Upon a perche, weyke and smalle; 225
Ful foul and cherlish semed she,	A burnet cote heng therwithalle,
And eek vilaynous for to be,	Furred with no menivere,
And litel coude of norture,	But with a furre rough of here,
To worshipe any creature. 180	Of lambe-skinnes hevy and blake ;
Coveityse.	It was ful old, I undertake. 230
And next was peynted Covertyse,	For Avarice to clothe hir wel
That eggeth folk, in many gyse,	Ne hasteth hir, never a del ;
To take and yeve right nought ageyn,	For certeynly it were hir loth
And grete tresours up to leyn.	To weren ofte that ilke cloth ;
And that is she that for usure 185	And if it were forwered, she 235
Leneth to many a creature	Wolde have ful greet necessitee
The lasse for the more winning,	Of clothing, er she boughte hir newe,
So coveitous is her brenning.	Al were it bad of wolle and hewe.
And that is she, for penyes fele,	This Avarice held in hir hande
That techeth for to robbe and stele 190	A purs, that heng [doun] by a bande; 240
These theves, and these smale harlotes ;	And that she hidde and bond so stronge,
And that is routhe, for by hir throtes	Men must abyde wonder longe
Ful many oon hangeth at the laste.	Out of that purs er ther come ought,
She maketh folk compasse and caste	For that ne cometh not in hir thought;
To taken other folkes thing, 195	It was not, certein, hir entente 245 That for that name a none month
Through robberie, or †miscounting. And that is she that maketh trechoures ;	That fro that purs a peny wente.
And that is she that maketh trechoures; And she [that] maketh false pledoures,	Envye. And by that image, nygh y-nough,
That with hir termes and hir domes	Was †peynt Exvrs, that never lough,
Doon maydens, children, and eek gromes	Nor never wel in herte ferde
Hir heritage to forgo. 201	But-if she outher saugh or herde 250
AUT NOT

Som greet mischaunce, or greet disese.	' Sorowe.
No-thing may so moch hir plese	Sonowe was peynted next Envye
As mischef and misaventure ;	Upon that walle of masonrye.
Or whan she seeth discomfiture	But wel was seen in hir colour
+On any worthy man [to] falle, 255	That she hadde lived in langour;
Than lyketh hir [ful] wel withalle.	Hir semed have the Jaunyce. 305
She is ful glad in hir corage,	Nought half so pale was Avaryce,
If she see any greet linage	Nor no-thing lyk, [as] of lenesse ;
Be brought to nought in shamful wyse.	For sorowe, thought, and greet distresse,
And if a man in honour ryse, 260	That she hadde suffred day and night
Or by his witte, or by prowesse,	Made hir ful yelwe, and no-thing bright,
Of that hath she gret hevinesse ;	Ful fade, pale, and megre also. 311
For, trusteth wel, she goth nigh wood	Was never wight yit half so wo
When any chaunce happeth good.	As that hir semed for to be,
Envye is of swich crueltee, 265	Nor so fulfilled of ire as she.
That feith ne trouthe holdeth she	I trowe that no wight mighte hir plese,315
To freend ne felawe, bad or good.	Nor do that thing that mighte hir ese;
Ne she hath kin noon of hir blood,	Nor she ne wolde hir sorowe slake,
That she nis ful hir enemy;	Nor comfort noon unto hir take ;
She nolde, I dar seyn hardely, 270	So depe was hir wo bigonnen,
Hir owne fader ferde wel.	And eek hir herte in angre ronnen, 320
And sore abyeth she everydel	A sorowful thing wel semed she.
Hir malice, and hir maltalent :	Nor she hadde no-thing slowe be
For she is in so greet turment	For to forcracchen al hir face,
And hath such [wo], whan folk doth	And for to trende in many place
good, 275	Hir clothes, and for to tere hir swire, 325
That nigh she melteth for pure wood ;	As she that was fulfilled of ire;
Hir herte kerveth and +to-breketh	And al to-torn lay eek hir here
That god the peple wel awreketh.	Aboute hir shuldres, here and there,
Envye, y-wis, shal never lette	As she that hadde it al to-rent
Som blame upon the folk to sette. 280	For angre and for maltalent. 330
I trowe that if Envye, y-wis,	And eek I telle you certeynly
Knewe the beste man that is	How that she weep ful tenderly.
On this syde or biyond the see,	In world nis wight so hard of herte
Yit somwhat lakken him wolde she.	That hadde seen hir sorowes smerte,
And if he were so hende and wys, 285	That nolde have had of hir pitee, 335
That she ne mighte al abate his prys,	So wo-bigoon a thing was she.
Yit wolde she blame his worthinesse,	She al to-dasshte hir-self for wo,
Or by hir wordes make it lesse. I saugh Envye, in that peynting,	And smoot togider hir handes two.
77 3.3	To sorwe was she ful ententyf, That woful recchelees caityf; 340
For she ne loked but awry,	That woful recchelees caityf; 340 Hir roughte litel of pleying,
Or overthwart, al baggingly.	Or of clipping or [of] kissing;
And she hadde [eek] a foul usage ;	For who-so sorweful is in herte
She mighte loke in no visage	Him liste not to pleye ne sterte,
Of man or womman forth-right pleyn, 205	Nor for to daunsen, ne to singe, 345
But shette oon yë for disdeyn;	Ne may his herte in temper bringe
So for envye brenned she	To make joye on even or morowe;
Whan she mighte any man [y]-see,	For joye is contraire unto sorowe.
That fair, or worthy were, or wys,	Elde.
Or elles stood in folkes prys. 300	ELDE was peynted after this,

FRAGMENT A.]

The Romaunt of the Rose.

That shorter was a foot, y-wis, 350	She had no-thing hir-self to lede, 400
Than she was wont in her yonghede.	Ne wit ne pith in[with] hir holde -
Unnethe hir-self she mighte fede ;	More than a child of two yeer olde.
So feble and eek so old was she	But natheles, I trowe that she
That faded was al hir beautee.	Was fair sumtyme, and fresh to see,
Ful salowe was waxen hir colour, 355	Whan she was in hir rightful age : 405
Hir heed for-hoor was, whyt as flour.	But she was past al that passage
Y-wis, gret qualm ne were it noon,	And was a doted thing bicomen.
Ne sinne, although hir lyf were gon.	A furred cope on had she nomen ;
Al woxen was hir body unwelde,	Wel had she clad hir-self and warm,
And drye, and dwyned al for elde. 360	For cold mighte elles doon hir harm. 410
A foul forwelked thing was she	These olde folk have alwey colde,
That whylom round and softe had be.	Hir kind is swiche, whan they ben
Hir eres shoken fast withalle,	olde.
As from her heed they wolde falle.	Pope-holy.
Hir face frounced and forpyned, 365	Another thing was doon ther write,
And bothe hir hondes lorn, fordwyned.	That semede lyk an ipocrite,
So old she was that she ne wente	And it was cleped Pope-HoLY. 415
A foot, but it were by potente.	That ilke is she that prively
Time.	Ne spareth never a wikked dede,
The TYME, that passeth night and day,	Whan men of hir taken non hede ;
And restelees travayleth ay, 370	And maketh hir outward precious,
And steleth from us so prively,	With pale visage and pitous, 420
That to us semeth sikerly	And semeth a simple creature ;
That it in oon point dwelleth ever,	But ther nis no misaventure
And certes, it ne resteth never,	That she ne thenketh in hir corage.
But goth so faste, and passeth ay, 375	Ful lyk to hir was that image,
That ther nis man that thinke may	That maked was lyk hir semblaunce. 425
What tyme that now present is :	She was ful simple of countenance,
Asketh at these clerkes this;	And she was clothed and eek shod,
For [er] men thinke it redily,	As she were, for the love of god,
Three tymes been y-passed by. 380	Yolden to religioun,
The tyme, that may not sojourne,	Swich semed hir devocioun. 430
But goth, and †never may retourne,	A sauter held she faste in honde,
As water that down renneth ay,	And bisily she gan to fonde
But never drope retourne may;	To make many a feynt prayere
Ther may no-thing as tyme endure, 385	To god, and to his seyntes dere.
Metal, nor erthely creature ;	Ne she was gay, fresh, ne jolyf, 435
For alle thing it fret, and shal :	But semed be ful ententyf
The tyme eek, that chaungeth al,	To gode werkes, and to faire,
And al doth waxe and fostred be,	And therto she had on an haire.
And alle thing distroyeth he : 390	Ne certes, she was fat no-thing,
The tyme, that eldeth our auncessours	But semed wery for fasting; 440
And eldeth kinges and emperours,	Of colour pale and deed was she.
And that us alle shal overcomen	From hir the gate †shal werned be
Er that deeth us shal have nomen :	Of paradys, that blisful place ;
The tyme, that hath al in welde 395	For swich folk maketh lene hir †face, As Crist seith in his evangyle, 445
To elden folk, had maad hir elde
So inly, that, to my witing,	To gete hem prys in toun a whyle; And for a litel glorie veine
She mighte helpe hir-self no-thing, But turned agevn unto childhede:	They lesen god and eek his reine.

Povert.	And I my-self so mery ferde,
And alderlast of everichoon,	Whan I hir blisful songes herde, 500
Was peynted Povert al aloon, 450	That for an hundred pound +nolde I,-
That not a peny hadde in wolde,	If that the passage openly
Al-though [that] she hir clothes solde,	Hadde been unto me free-
And though she shulde anhonged be;	That I nolde entren for to see
For naked as a worm was she.	Thassemblee, god +it kepe and were! 505
And if the weder stormy were, 455	Of briddes, whiche therinne were,
For colde she shulde have deyed there.	That songen, through hir mery throtes,
She nadde on but a streit old sak,	Daunces of love, and mery notes.
And many a clout on it ther stak;	Whan I thus herde foules singe,
This was hir cote and hir mantel,	I fel faste in a weymentinge, 510
No more was there, never a del, 460	By which art, or by what engyn
To clothe her with ; I undertake,	I mighte come in that gardyn;
Gret leyser hadde she to quake.	But way I couthe finde noon
And she was put, that I of talke,	Into that gardin for to goon.
Fer fro these other, up in an halke;	Ne nought wiste I if that ther were 515
There lurked and there coured she; 465	Eyther hole or place [o]-where,
For povre thing, wher-so it be,	By which I mighte have entree;
Is shamfast, and despysed ay.	Ne ther was noon to teche me ;
Acursed may wel be that day,	For I was al aloon, y-wis,
That povre man conceyved is;	+Ful wo and anguissous of this. 520
For god wot, al to selde, y-wis, 470	Til atte last bithoughte I me,
Is any povre man wel fed,	That by no weye ne mighte it be;
Or wel arayed or y-cled,	That ther nas laddre or wey to passe,
Or wel biloved, in swich wyse	Or hole, into so fair a place.
In honour that he may aryse.	Tho gan I go a ful gret pas 525
Alle these thinges, wel avysed, 475	Envyroning even in compas
As I have you er this devysed,	The closing of the square wal,
With gold and asure over alle	Til that I fond a wiket smal
Depeynted were upon the walle.	So shet, that I ne mighte in goon,
Squar was the wal, and high somdel ;	And other entree was ther noon. 530
Enclosed, and y-barred wel, 480	The Door.
In stede of hegge, was that gardin;	Upon this dore I gan to smyte,
Com never shepherde therin.	That was [so] fetys and so lyte ;
Into that gardyn, wel [y-]wrought,	For other wey coude I not seke.
Who-so that me coude have brought,	Ful long I shoof, and knokked eke,
By +laddre, or elles by degree, 485	And stood ful long and of[t] herkning 535
It wolde wel have lyked me.	If that I herde †a wight coming ;
For swich solace, swich joye, and play,	Til that the dore of thilke entree
I trowe that never man ne say,	A mayden curteys opened me.
As in that place delitous.	Ydelnesse.
The gardin was not daungerous 400	Hir heer was as yelowe of hewe
To herberwe briddes many oon.	As any basin scoured newe. 540
So riche a †yerd was never noon	Hir flesh [as] tendre as is a chike,
Of briddes songe, and braunches grene.	With bente browes, smothe and slike;
Therin were briddes mo, I wene,	And by mesure large were
Than been in alle the rewme of Fraunce.	The opening of hir yën clere.
Ful blisful was the accordaunce 496	Hir nose of good proporcioun, 545
Of swete and pitous songe they made,	Hir yën greye as a faucoun,
For al this world it oughte glade.	With swete breeth and wel savoured.
Burne Burne

The Romaunt of the Rose.

Hir face whyt and wel coloured, With litel mouth, and round to see ; A clove chin eek hadde she. 550 Hir nekke was of good fasoun In lengthe and gretnesse, by resoun, Withoute blevne, scabbe, or royne. Fro Jerusalem unto Burgovne Ther nis a fairer nekke, y-wis, 555 To fele how smothe and softe it is Hir throte, al-so whyt of hewe As snow on braunche snowed newe. Of body ful wel wrought was she; Men neded not, in no cuntree, 560 A fairer body for to seke. And of fyn orfrays had she eke A chapelet : so semly oon Ne wered never mayde upon ; . And faire above that chapelet 565 A rose gerland had she set. She hadde [in honde] a gay mirour, And with a riche gold tressour Hir heed was tressed queyntely; Hir sleves sewed fetisly. 570 And for to kepe hir hondes faire Of gloves whyte she hadde a paire. And she hadde on a cote of grene Of cloth of Gaunt; withouten wene, Wel semed by hir apparayle 575 She was not wont to greet travayle. For whan she kempt was fetisly, And wel arayed and richely, Thanne had she doon al hir journee ; For mery and wel bigoon was she. 580 She ladde a lusty lyf in May, She hadde no thought, by night ne day, Of no-thing, but it were oonly To graythe hir wel and uncouthly. Whan that this dore hadde opened me This +mayden, semely for to see, 586 I thanked hir as I best mighte, And axede hir how that she highte, And what she was, I axede eke. And she to me was nought unmeke, 590 Ne of hir answer daungerous,

Ne of hir answer daungerous, But faire answerde, and seide thus :----'Lo, sir, my name is YDELNESE; So clepe men me, more and lesse. Ful mighty and ful riche am I, 595 And that of oon thing, namely; For I entende to no-thing But to my joye, and my pleying,

And for to kembe and tresse me. Aqueynted am I, and privee 600 With Mirthe, lord of this gardyn, That fro the lande +Alexandryn Made the trees +be hider fet, That in this gardin been y-set. 604 And when the trees were woxen on highte. This wal, that stant here in thy sighte, Dide Mirthe enclosen al aboute ; And these images, al withoute, He dide hem bothe entaile and peynte, That neither ben jolyf ne queynte, 610 But they ben ful of sorowe and wo, As thou hast seen a whyle ago.

'And ofte tyme, him to solace, Sir Mirthe cometh into this place, And eek with him cometh his meynee, That liven in lust and jolitee. 616 And now is Mirthe therin, to here The briddes, how they singen clere, The mavis and the nightingale, And other joly briddes smale. 620 And thus he walketh to solace Him and his folk ; for swetter place To pleyen in he may not finde, Although he soughte oon in-til Inde. The alther-fairest folk to see 625 That in this world may founde be Hath Mirthe with him in his route. That folowen him alwayes aboute.'

When Ydelnesse had told al this, And I hadde herkned wel, y-wis, 630 Than seide I to dame Ydelnesse, 'Now al-so wisly god me blesse, Sith Mirthe, that is so fair and free, Is in this yerde with his meynee, Fro thilke assemblee, if I may, 635 Shal no man werne me to-day, That I this night ne mote it see. For, wel wene I, ther with him be A fair and joly companye Fulfilled of alle curtesve.' 640 And forth, without wordes mo, In at the wiket wente I tho, That Ydelnesse hadde opened me, Into that gardin fair to see.

The Garden.

And whan I was [ther]in, y-wis, Myn herte was ful glad of this, For wel wende I ful sikerly Have been in paradys erth[elly;

The Romaunt of the Rose.

[FRAGMENT A.

So fair it was, that, trusteth wel,	Hadde opened, and me leten in. 700
It semed a place espirituel. 650	From hennesforth how that I wroughte,
For certes, as at my devys,	I shal you tellen, as me thoughte.
Ther is no place in paradys	First, whereof Mirthe served there,
So good in for to dwelle or be	And eek what folk ther with him were,
As in that GARDIN, thoughte me;	Without[e] fable I wol descryve. 705
For there was many a brid singing, 655	And of that gardin eek as blyve
Throughout the yerde al thringing.	I wol you tellen after this.
In many places were nightingales,	The faire fasoun al, y-wis,
Alpes, finches, and wodewales,	That wel [y-]wrought was for the nones,
That in her swete song delyten	I may not telle you al at ones: 710
In thilke +place as they habyten. 660	But as I may and can, I shal
Ther mighte men see many flokkes	By ordre tellen you it al.
Of turtles and [of] laverokkes.	Ful fair servyse and eek ful swete
Chalaundres fele saw I there,	These briddes maden as they sete.
That wery, nigh forsongen were.	Layes of love, ful wel sowning 715
And thrustles, terins, and mavys, 665	They songen in hir jargoning ;
That songen for to winne hem prys,	Summe highe and summe eek lowe songe
And eek to sormounte in hir song	Upon the braunches grene y-spronge.
+These other briddes hem among.	The sweetnesse of hir melodye
By note made fair servyse	Made al myn herte in †reverdye. 720
These briddes, that I you devyse; 670	And whan that I hadde herd, I trowe,
They songe hir song as faire and wel	These briddes singing on a rowe,
As angels doon espirituel.	Than mighte I not withholde me
And, trusteth wel, whan I hem herde,	That I ne wente in for to see
Full lustily and wel I ferde ; For never yit swich melodye 675	Sir Mirthe; for my desiring 725
For never yit swich melodye 675 Was herd of man that mighte dye.	Was him to seen, over alle thing, His countenaunce and his manere :
Swich swete song was hem among,
That me thoughte it no briddes song,	That sighte was to me ful dere. Sir Mirthe.
But it was wonder lyk to be	The wente I forth on my right hond
Song of mermaydens of the see ; 680	Doun by a litel path I fond 730
That, for her singing is so clere,	Of mentes ful, and fenel grene;
Though we mermaydens clepe hem here	And faste by, withoute wene,
In English, as in our usaunce,	SIR MIRTHE I fond ; and right anoon
Men clepe[n] hem sereyns in Fraunce.	Unto sir Mirthe gan I goon,
Ententif weren for to singe 685	Ther-as he was, him to solace. 735
These briddes that nought unkunninge	And with him, in that lusty place,
Were of hir craft, and apprentys,	So fair folk and so fresh hadde he,
But of [hir] song sotyl and wys.	That whan I saw, I wondred me
And certes, whan I herde hir song,	Fro whennes swich folk mighte come,
And saw the grene place among, 690	So faire they weren, alle and some; 740
In herte I wex so wonder gay,	For they were lyk, as to my sighte,
That I was never erst, er that day,	To angels, that ben fethered brighte.
So jolyf, nor so wel bigo,	Gladnesse.
Ne mery in herte, as I was tho.	This folk, of which I telle you so,
And than wiste I, and saw ful wel, 695	Upon a carole wenten tho.
That Ydelnesse me served wel,	A lady caroled hem, that highte 745
That me putte in swich jolitee.	GLADNESSE, [the] blisful, the lighte;
Hir freend wel oughte I for to be,	Wel coude she singe and lustily,
Sith she the dore of that gardyn	Non half so wel and semely,

And make in song swich refreininge,	Ful curteisly she called me,
It sat hir wonder wel to singe. 750	'What do ye there, beau sire ?' quod
Hir vois ful cleer was and ful swete.	she, 800
She was nought rude ne unmete,	'Come [neer], and if it lyke yow
But couthe y-now of swich doing	To dauncen, daunceth with us now.'
As longeth unto caroling :	And I, withoute tarying,
For she was wont in every place 755	Wente into the caroling.
To singen first, folk to solace ;	I was abasshed never a del, 805
For singing most she gaf hir to ;	But it me lykede right wel
No craft had she so leef to do.	That Curtesye me cleped so,
Tho mightest thou caroles seen,	And bad me on the daunce go.
And folk [ther] daunce and mery been, 760	For if I hadde durst, certeyn
And +make many a fair tourning	I wolde have caroled right fayn, 810
Upon the grene gras springing.	As man that was to daunce blythe.
Ther mightest thou see these floutours,	Than gan I loken ofte sythe
Minstrales, and eek jogelours,	The shap, the bodies, and the cheres,
That wel to singe dide hir peyne. 765	The countenaunce and the maneres
Somme songe songes of Loreyne ;	Of alle the folk that daunced there, 815
For in Loreyne hir notes be	And I shal telle what they were.
Ful swetter than in this contree.	Mirthe.
Ther was many a timbestere,	Ful fair was Mirthe, ful ong and high;
And saylours, that I dar wel swere 770	A fairer man I never sigh.
Couthe hir craft ful parfitly.	As round as appel was his face,
The timbres up ful sotilly	Ful rody and whyt in every place. 820
They caste, and hente[n hem] ful ofte	Fetys he was and wel beseye,
Upon a finger faire and softe,	With metely mouth and yen greye;
That they [ne] fayled never-mo. 775	His nose by mesure wrought ful right;
Ful fetis damiselles two,	Crisp was his heer, and eek ful bright.
Right yonge, and fulle of semlihede,	His shuldres of a large brede, 825
In kirtles, and non other wede,	And smalish in the girdilstede.
And faire tressed every tresse,	He semed lyk a portreiture,
Had Mirthe doon, for his noblesse, 780	So noble he was of his stature,
Amidde the carole for to daunce ;	So fair, so joly, and so fetys,
But her-of lyth no remembraunce,	With limes wrought at poynt devys, 830
How that they daunced queyntely.	Deliver, smert, and of gret might ;
That oon wolde come al prively	Ne sawe thou never man so light.
Agayn that other : and whan they were	Of berde unnethe hadde he no-thing,
Togidre almost, they threwe y-fere 786	For it was in the firste spring.
Hir mouthes so, that through hir play	Ful yong he was, and mery of thought,
It semed as they kiste alway;	And in samyt, with briddes wrough * 836
To dauncen wel coude they the gyse ;	And with gold beten fetisly,
What shulde I more to you devyse? 790	His body was clad ful richely.
Ne +bede I never thennes go,	Wrought was his robe in straunge gyse,
Whyles that I saw hem daunce so.	And al to-slitered for queyntyse 840
Curtesye.	In many a place, lowe and hye.
Upon the carole wonder faste	And shod he was with greet maistrye,
I gan biholde ; til atte laste	With shoon decoped, and with laas.
A lady gan me for to espye, 795	By druerye, and by solas,
And she was cleped CURTESYE,	His leef a rosen chapelet 845
The worshipful, the debonaire ;	Had maad, and on his heed it set.
I pray god ever falle hir faire !	And wite ye who was his leef?

Gladnesse.

Dame GLADNES ther was him so leef, That singeth so wel with glad corage, That from she was twelve yeer of age, 850 She of hir love graunt him made. Sir Mirthe hir by the finger hadde [In] daunsing, and she him also; Gret love was atwixe hem two. Bothe were they faire and brighte of hewe; She semede lyk a rose newe Of colour, and hir flesh so tendre, That with a brere smale and slendre Men mighte it cleve, I dar wel +sayn. Hir forheed, frounceles al +playn. 860 Bente were hir browes two. Hir vën greve, and gladde also, That laughede av in hir semblaunt, First or the mouth, by covenaunt. I +noot what of hir nose descryve ; 865 So fair hath no womman alvve . . . Hir heer was yelowe, and cleer shyning, I wot no lady so lyking. Of orfravs fresh was hir gerland : I, whiche seen have a thousand, 870 Saugh never, y-wis, no gerlond yit, So wel [v]-wrought of silk as it. And in an over-gilt samyt Clad she was, by gret delyt, Of which hir leef a robe werde, 875 The myrier she in herte ferde.

Cupide.

And next hir wente, on hir other syde, The god of Love, that can devyde Love, tas him lyketh it [to] be. But he can cherles daunten, he, S80 And maken folkes pryde fallen. And he can wel these lordes thrallen, And ladies putte at lowe degree, Whan he may hem to proude see.

895

This God of Love of his fasoun Was lyk no knave, ne quistroun; His beautee gretly was to pryse. But of his robe to devyse I drede encombred for to be. For nought y-clad in silk was he, But al in floures and flourettes; Y-painted al with amorettes; And with losenges and scochouns, With briddes, libardes, and lyouns, And other beestes wrought ful wel. His garnement was everydel

Y-portreyd and y-wrought with floures, By dyvers medling of coloures. Floures ther were of many gyse Y-set by compas in assyse; 900 Ther lakked no flour, to my dome, Ne nought so muche as flour of brome, Ne violete, no eek pervenke, Ne flour non, that man can on thenke; And many a rose-leef ful long 905 Was entermedled ther-among : And also on his heed was set Of roses rede a chapelet. But nightingales, a ful gret route, That flyen over his heed aboute, 910 The leves felden as they flyen ; And he was al with briddes wryen, With popinjay, with nightingale, With chalaundre, and with wodewale, With finch, with lark, and with archaungel. He semede as he were an aungel 916 That down were comen fro hevene clere.

Swete-Loking.

Love hadde with him a bachelere, That he made alweyes with him be ; SWETE-LOKING cleped was he. 020 This bachelere stood biholding The daunce, and in his honde holding +Turke bowes two hadde he. That oon of hem was of a tree That bereth a fruyt of savour wikke ; 925 Ful croked was that foule stikke, And knotty here and there also. And blak as bery, or any slo. That other bowe was of a plante Without wem, I dar warante, 930 Ful even, and by proporcioun Tretys and long, of good fasoun. And it was pevnted wel and thwiten. And over-al diapred and writen With ladies and with bacheleres, 935 Ful lightsom and [ful] glad of cheres. These bowes two held Swete-Loking, That semed lyk no gadeling. And ten brode arowes held he there, Of which five in his right hond were. 940 But they were shaven wel and dight, Nokked and fethered a-right ; And al they were with gold bigoon, And stronge poynted everichoon, And sharpe for to kerven weel, 945 But iren was ther noon ne steel ;

For al was gold, men mighte it see. Out-take the fetheres and the tree. Beautee. The swiftest of these arowes fyve Out of a bowe for to dryve, 950 And best [y]-fethered for to flee, And fairest eek, was cleped BEAUTEE. Simplesse. That other arowe, that hurteth lesse, Was cleped, as I trowe, SIMPLESSE. Fraunchyse. The thridde cleped was FRAUNCHYSE. That fethered was, in noble wyse, With valour and with curtesve. Companye. The fourthe was cleped COMPANYE, That hevy for to †sheten is ; But who-so sheteth right, y-wis, 960 May therwith doon gret harm and wo. Fair-Semblaunt. The fifte of these, and laste also, FAIR-SEMBLAUNT men that arowe calle. The leeste grevous of hem alle ; Yit can it make a ful gret wounde, 065 But he may hope his sores sounde, That hurt is with that arowe. v-wis: His wo the bet bistowed is. For he may soner have gladnesse, His langour oughte be the lesse. 970 Fyve arowes were of other gyse, That been ful foule to devyse; For shaft and ende, sooth to telle, Were al-so blak as feend in helle. Prvde. The first of hem is called PRYDE ; Vilanye. That other arowe next him bisyde, It was [y]-cleped VILANYE ; That arowe was as with felonve Envenimed, and with spitous blame. Shame. The thridde of hem was cleped SHAME. 980 Wanhope. The fourthe, WANHOPE cleped is, Newe-Thought. The fifte, the NEWE-THOUGHT, v-wis. These arowes that I speke of here, Were alle fyve tof oon manere, And alle were they resemblable. 985 To hem was wel sitting and able The foule croked bowe hidous,

That knotty was, and al roynons. That howe semede wel to shote These arowes fyve, that been unmete, 990 Contrarie to that other fyve. But though I telle not as blyvo Of hir power, ne of hir might, Her-after shal I tellen right The sothe, and eek signifannce, As fer as I have remembraunce : Al shal be seid, I undertake, Er of this boke an end I make.

Now come I to my tale ageyn. But alderfirst, I wol you seyn 1000 The fascount and the countenances Of al the folk that on the daunce is. The Good of Love, jolyf and light, Ladde on his honde a lady bright, Of high prys, and of greet degree. 1005

Beautee.

This lady called was BEAUTEE, + As was an arowe, of which I tolde. Ful wel [v]-thewed was she holde : Ne she was derk ne broun, but bright, And cleer as [is] the mone-light, 1010 Ageyn whom alle the sterres semen But smale candels, as we demen. Hir flesh was tendre as dewe of flour, Hir chere was simple as byrde in bour ; As whyt as lilie or rose in rvs 1015 Hir face, gentil and tretys. Fetys she was, and smal to see; No twindred browes hadde she, Ne popped hir, for it neded nought To windre hir, or to peynte hir ought, 1020 Hir tresses velowe and longe straughten. Unto hir heles down they raughten : Hir nose, hir mouth, and eye and cheke Wel wrought, and al the remenaunt eke. A ful gret savour and a swote 1025 Me +thinketh in myn herte rote, As helpe me god, whan I remembre Of the fasoun of every membre ! In world is noon so fair a wight ; For yong she was, and hewed bright, 1030 +Wys, plesaunt, and fetys withalle, Gente, and in hir middel smalle,

Richesse.

[FRAGMENT A.

Or til hir folk, in +worde or dede, He were ful hardy, out of drede; For bothe she helpe and hindre may : And that is nought of yisterday 1040 That riche folk have ful gret might To helpe, and eek to greve a wight, The beste and grettest of valour Diden Richesse ful gret honour, And besy weren hir to serve ; 1045 For that they wolde hir love deserve, They cleped hir 'Lady,' grete and smalle ; This wyde world hir dredeth alle; This world is al in hir daungere. Hir court hath many a losengere, 1050 And many a traytour envious, That been ful besy and curious For to dispreisen, and to blame That best deserven love and name. Bifore the folk, hem to bigylen, 1055 These losengeres hem preyse, and smylen, And thus the world with word anoynten ; But afterward they +prikke and poynten The folk right to the bare boon, Bihinde her bak whan they ben goon. And foule abate the folkes prys. 1061 Ful many a worthy man and wys. An hundred, have [they] don to dye. These losengeres, through flaterye; And maketh folk ful straunge be, 1065 Ther-as hem oughte be prive. Wel yvel mote they thryve and thee. And yvel aryved mote they be, These losengeres, ful of envye ! No good man loveth hir companye. 1070 Richesse a robe of purpre on hadde, Ne trowe not that I lye or madde; For in this world is noon it liche,

For in this world is noon it liche, Ne by a thousand deel so riche, Ne noon so fair; for it ful wel With orfrays leyd was everydel, And portrayed in the ribaninges Of dukes stories, and of kinges. And with a bend of gold tasseled, And knoppes fyne of gold †ameled. 1080 Aboute hir nekke of gentil entaile Was shet the riche chevessile, In which ther was ful gret plentee Of stones clere and bright to see.

Bychesse a girdel hadde upon, 1085 The bokel of it was of a stoon Of vertu greet, and mochel of might;

For who-so bar the stoon so bright, Of venim +thurte him no-thing doute. While he the stoon hadde him aboute. That stoon was greetly for to love, IOOI And til a riche mannes bihove Worth al the gold in Rome and Fryse. The mourdaunt, wought in noble wyse, Was of a stoon ful precious, 100: That was so fyn and vertuous. That hool a man it coude make Of palasye, and of tooth-ake. And yit the stoon hadde suche a grace. That he was siker in every place. 1100 Al thilke day, not blind to been, That fasting mighte that stoon seen. The barres were of gold ful fyne, Upon a tissu of satyne, Ful hevy, greet, and no-thing light, 1105 In everich was a besaunt-wight.

Upon the tresses of Richesse Was set a cercle, for noblesse, Of brend gold, that ful lighte shoon ; So fair, trowe I, was never noon. IIIO But he were cunning, for the nones, That coude devysen alle the stones That in that cercle shewen clere: It is a wonder thing to here. For no man coude preyse or gesse Of hem the valewe or richesse. Rubyes there were, saphyres, †jagounces, And emeraudes, more than two ounces. But al bifore, ful sotilly, A fvn carboucle set saugh I. 1120 The stoon so cleer was and so bright, That, al-so sone as it was night, Men mighte seen to go, for nede, A myle or two, in lengthe and brede. Swich light [tho] sprang out of the stoon, That Richesse wonder brighte shoon, 1126 Bothe hir heed, and al hir face, And eke aboute hir al the place.

Dame Richesse on hir hond gan lede A yong man ful of semelihede, 1130 That she best loved of any thing; His lust was muche in housholding. In clothing was he ful fetys, And lovede wel have hors of prys. He wende to have reproved be Of thefte or mordre, if that he Hadde in his stable an hakeney. And therfore he desyred ay

To been aqueynted with Richesse;	Wel fourmed was hir face and clere,
For al his purpos, as I gesse, 1140	And opened had she hir colere ; 1190
Was for to make greet dispense,	For she right there hadde in present
Withoute werning or defence.	Unto a lady maad present
And Richesse might it wel sustene,	Of a gold broche, ful wel wrought.
And hir dispenses wel mayntene,	And certes, it missat hir nought;
And him alwey swich plentee sende 1145	For through hir smokke, wrought with
Of gold and silver for to spende	silk, 1195
Withoute lakking or daungere,	The flesh was seen, as whyt as milk.
As it were poured in a garnere.	Largesse, that worthy was and wys,
Largesse.	Held by the honde a knight of prys,
And after on the daunce wente	Was sib to Arthour of Bretaigne.
LARGESSE, that sette al hir entente 1150	And that was he that bar the enseigne
For to be honourable and free;	Of worship, and the +gonfanoun. 1201
Of Alexandres kin was she;	And yit he is of swich renoun,
Hir moste joye was, y-wis,	That men of him seye faire thinges
Whan that she yaf, and seide 'have this.'	Bifore barouns, erles, and kinges.
Not Avarice, the foule captyf, 1155	This knight was comen al newely 1205
Was half to grype so ententyf,	Fro tourneyinge faste by;
As Largesse is to yeve and spende.	Ther hadde he doon gret chivalrye
And god y-nough alwey hir sende,	Through his vertu and his maistrye ;
So that the more she yaf awey,	And for the love of his lemman
The more, y-wis, she hadde alwey. 1160	+Had cast down many a doughty man. 1210
Gret loos hath Largesse, and gret prys;	Fraunchyse.
For bothe wys folk and unwys	And next him daunced dame FRAUN-
Were hoolly to hir baundon brought,	CHYSE,
So wel with yiftes hath she wrought.	Arrayed in ful noble gyse.
And if she hadde an enemy, 1165	She was not broun ne dun of hewe,
I trowe, that she coude craftily	But whyt as snowe y-fallen newe.
Make him ful sone hir freend to be,	Hir nose was wrought at poynt devys, 1215
So large of yift and free was she ;	For it was gentil and tretys;
Therfore she stood in love and grace	With eyen gladde, and browes bente;
Of riche and povre in every place. 1170	Hir heer down to hir heles wente.
A ful gret fool is he, y-wis,	And she was simple as dowve on tree,
That bothe riche and nigard is.	Ful debonaire of herte was she. 1220
A lord may have no maner vice	She durste never seyn ne do
That greveth more than avarice.	But that [thing] that hir longed to.
For nigard never with strengthe of hond	And if a man were in distresse,
May winne him greet lordship or lond.	And for hir love in hevinesse,
For freendes al to fewe hath he 1177	Hir herte wolde have ful greet pitee, 1225
To doon his wil perfourmed be.	She was so amiable and free.
And who-so wol have freendes here,	For were a man for hir bistad,
He may not holde his tresour dere. 1180	She wolde ben right sore adrad
For by ensample I telle this,	That she dide over greet outrage,
Right as an adamaunt, y-wis,	But she him holpe his harm to aswage;
Can drawen to him sotilly	Hir thoughte it elles a vilanye231
The yren, that is leyd thereby,	And she hadde on a sukkenye,
So draweth folkes hertes, y-wis, 1185	That not of thempen herdes was;
Silver and gold that yeven is.	So fair was noon in alle Arras.
Largesse hadde on a robe fresshe	Lord, it was rideled fetysly ! 1235
Of riche purpur +Sarsinesshe.	Ther nas nat too poynt, trewely,

That it nas in his right assyse.	Nyce she was, but she ne mente 1285
Ful wel y-clothed was Fraunchyse;	Noon harm ne slight in hir entente,
For ther is no cloth sitteth bet	But only lust and jolitee.
On damiselle, than doth roket. 1240	For yonge folk, wel witen ye,
A womman wel more fetys is	Have litel thought but on hir play.
In roket than in cote, y-wis.	Hir lemman was bisyde alway, 1290
The whyte roket, rideled faire,	In swich a gyse, that he hir kiste
+Bitokened, that ful debonaire	At alle tymes that him liste,
And swete was she that it bere. 1245	That al the daunce mighte it see;
By hir daunced a bachelere;	They make no force of privetee ;
I can not telle you what he highte,	For who spak of hem yvel or wel, 1295
But fair he was, and of good highte,	They were ashamed never-a-del,
Al hadde he be, I sey no more,	But men mighte seen hem kisse there,
The lordes sone of Windesore. 1250	As it two yonge douves were.
Curtesye.	For yong was thilke bachelere,
And next that daunced CURTESYE,	Of beaute wot I noon his pere; 1300
That preised was of lowe and hye,	And he was right of swich an age
For neither proud ne fool was she.	As Youthe his leef, and swich corage.
She for to daunce called me,	The lusty folk +thus daunced there,
(I praygod yeve hir right good grace !) 1255	And also other that with hem were,
Whan I com first into the place.	That weren alle of hir meynee ; 1305
She was not nyce, ne outrageous,	Ful hende folk, and wys, and free,
But wys and war, and vertuous,	And folk of fair port, trewely,
Of faire speche, and faire answere;	Ther weren alle comunly.
Was never wight misseid of here ; 1260	Whan I hadde seen the countenaunces
She bar no rancour to no wight.	Of hem that ladden thus these daunces,
Cleer broun she was, and therto bright	Than hadde I wil to goon and see 1311
Of face, of body avenaunt ;	The gardin that so lyked me,
I wot no lady so plesaunt.	And loken on these faire +loreres,
She were worthy for to bene 1265	On pyn-trees, cedres, and oliveres.
An emperesse or crouned quene.	The daunces than +y-ended were; 1315
And by hir wente a knight dauncing	For many of hem that daunced there
That worthy was and wel speking,	Were with hir loves went awey
And ful wel coude he doon honour.	Under the trees to have hir pley.
The knight was fair and stif in stour, 1270	A, lord ! they lived lustily !
And in armure a semely man,	A gret fool were he, sikerly, 1320
And wel biloved of his lemman.	That nolde, his thankes, swich lyf lede!
Ydelnesse.	For this dar I seyn, out of drede,
Fair YDELNESSE than saugh I,	That who-so mighte so wel fare,
That alwey was me faste by.	For better lyf †thurte him not care ;
Of hir have I, withouten fayle, 1275	For ther nis so good paradys 1325
Told yow the shap and aparayle;	As have a love at his devys.
For (as I seide) lo, that was she That dide me so great bountee,	Out of that place wente I tho,
That she the gate of the gardin	And in that gardin gan I go,
TT 313 3.2 .	Pleying along ful merily.
	The God of Love ful hastely 1330
Youthe.	Unto him Swete-Loking clepte,
And after daunced, as I gesse, +YOUTHE, fulfild of lustinesse,	No lenger wolde he that the kepte His bowe of golde, that shoon so bright,
That has not yit twelve yeer of age,	His bowe of golde, that shoon so bright. He +bad him bende it anon-right ;
With herte wilde, and thought volage;
in the state of th	And he ful sone [it] sette †on ende, 1333

The Romaunt of the Rose.

And at a braid he gan it bende,	And othere trees ful many a payre.
And took him of his arowes fyve,	What sholde I telle you more of it?
Ful sharpe and redy for to dryve.	Ther were so many treës yit,
Now god that sit in magestee	That I sholde al encombred be
Fro deedly woundes kepe me, 1340	Er I had rekened every tree. 1390
If so be that he +wol me shete;	These trees were set, that I devyse,
For if I with his arowe mete,	Oon from another, in assyse,
It +wol me greven sore, y-wis!	Five fadome or sixe, I trowe so,
But I, that no-thing wiste of this,	But they were hye and grete also :
Wente up and doun ful many a wey, 1345	And for to kepe out wel the sonne, 1395
And he me folwed faste alwey ;	The croppes were so thikke y-ronne,
But no-wher wolde I reste me,	And every braunch in other +knet,
Til I hadde al the †yerde in be.	And ful of grene leves +set,
The gardin was, by mesuring,	That sonne mighte noon descende, .
Right even and squar in compassing; 1350	Lest [it] the tendre grasses shende. 1400
It was as long as it was large.	Ther mighte men does and roes y-see,
The Trees.	And of squirels ful greet plentee,
Of fruyt hadde every tree his charge,	From bough to bough alwey leping.
But it were any hidous tree	Conies ther were also playing,
Of which ther were two or three.	That comen out of hir claperes 1405
Ther were, and that wot I ful wel, 1355	Of sondry colours and maneres,
Of pomgarnettes a ful gret del ;	And maden many a turneying
That is a fruyt ful wel to lyke,	Upon the fresshe gras springing.
Namely to folk whan they ben syke.	The Welles.
And trees ther were, greet foisoun,	In places saw I welles there,
That baren notes in hir sesoun, 1360	In whiche ther no frogges were, 1410
Such as men notemigges calle,	And fair in shadwe was every welle ;
That swote of savour been withalle.	But I ne can the nombre telle
And alemandres greet plentee,	Of stremes smale, that by devys
Figes, and many a date-tree	Mirthe had don come through condys,
Ther weren, if men hadde nede, 1365	Of which the water, in renning, 1415
Through the †yerd in length and brede.	Gan make a noyse ful lyking.
Ther was eek wexing many a spyce,	About the brinkes of thise welles,
As clow-gelofre, and licoryce,	And by the stremes over-al elles
Gingere, and greyn de +paradys,	Sprang up the gras, as thikke y-set
Canelle, and setewale of prys, 1370	And softe as any veluët, 1420
And many a spyce delitable,	On which men mighte his lemman leye,
To eten whan men ryse fro table.	As on a fetherbed, to pleye,
And many hoomly trees ther were,	For th'erthe was ful softe and swete.
That peches, coynes, and apples bere,	Through moisture of the welle wete
Medlers, ploumes, peres, chesteynes, 1375	Sprang up the sote grene gras, 1425
Cheryse, of whiche many on fayn is,	As fair, as thikke, as mister was.
Notes, aleys, and bolas,	But muche amended it the place,
That for to seen it was solas ;	That th'erthe was of swich a grace
With many high lorer and pyn	That it of floures had plente,
Was renged clene al that gardyn; 1380	That both in somer and winter be. 1430
With cipres, and with oliveres,	Ther sprang the violete al newe,
Of which that nigh no plente here is.	And fresshe pervinke, riche of hewe,
Ther were elmes grete and stronge,	And floures yelowe, whyte, and rede;
Maples, asshe, ook, ash, planes longe,	Swich plentee grew ther never in mede.
Fyn ew, popler, and lindes faire, i385	Ful gay was al the ground, and queynt,

She hadde in herte so gret wo, And poudred, as men had it peynt, 1436 With many a fresh and sondry flour, And took it in so gret dispyt, That she, withoute more respyt, That casten up ful good savour. Was deed anoon. But, er she deyde, I wol not longe holde you in fable Of al this gardin +delitable. 1440 Ful pitously to god she preyde, That proude-herted Narcisus, I moot my tonge stinten nede, For I ne may, withouten drede, That was in love so daungerous, Mighte on a day ben hampred so Naught tellen you the beautee al, Ne half the bountee therewithal. For love, and been so hoot for wo,

I wente on right honde and on left 1445 Aboute the place ; it was not left, Til I hadde al the +yerde in been, In the +estres that men mighte seen. And thus whyle I wente in my pley, The God of Love me folowed ay, 1450 Right as an hunter can abyde The beste, til he seeth his tyde To +shete, at good mes, to the dere, Whan that him nedeth go no nere. And so befil, I rested me 1455 Besyde a welle, under a tree, Which tree in Fraunce men call a pyn. But, sith the tyme of king Pepyn, Ne grew ther tree in mannes sighte So fair, ne so wel woxe in highte ; 1460 In al that yerde so high was noon. And springing in a marble-stoon Had nature set, the sothe to telle, Under that pyn-tree a welle. And on the border, al withoute, 1465 Was writen, in the stone aboute. Lettres smale, that seyden thus, ' Here starf the faire Narcisus.'

Narcisus.

NARCISUS was a bachelere, That Love had caught in his daungere. And in his net gan him so streyne, 1471 And dide him so to wepe and pleyne, That nede him muste his lyf forgo. For a fair lady, hight Echo, Him loved over any creature, 1475 And gan for him swich peyne endure, That on a tyme she him tolde, That, if he hir loven nolde, That hir behoved nedes dye, Ther lay non other remedye. 1480 But natheles, for his beautee, So fiers and daungerous was he, That he nolde graunten hir asking, For weping, ne for fair praying. And whan she herde him werne hir so,

What sorowe trewe lovers maken, That been so +vilaynsly forsaken. This prayer was but resonable, Therfor god held it ferme and stable: 1500 For Narcisus, shortly to telle, By aventure com to that welle To reste him in that shadowing A day, whan he com fro hunting. This Narcisus had suffred paynes 1505 For renning alday in the playnes, And was for thurst in greet distresse Of hete, and of his werinesse That hadde his breeth almost binomen. Whan he was to that wellc y-comen, 1510 That shadwed was with braunches grene, He thoughte of thilke water shene To drinke and fresshe him wel withalle; And down on knees he gan to falle, And forth his heed and nekke outstraughte To drinken of that welle a draughte. And in the water anoon was sene His nose, his mouth, his yen shene, And he ther-of was al abasshed ; His owne shadowe had him bitrasshed. For wel wende he the forme see 1521 Of a child of greet beautee. Wel couthe Love him wreke tho Of daunger and of prvde also

That Narcisus somtyme him bere.

For he +so musede in the welle,

He lovede his owne shadowe so.

That atte laste he starf for wo.

Mighte in no maner wey fulfille,

And that he was so faste caught

That, shortly al the sothe to telle,

For whan he saugh that he his wille

That he him couthe comfort naught,

He loste his wit right in that place, 1535

He quitte him wel his guerdon there ;

That never he mighte joye atteyne ; 1495

Than shulde he fele in every veyne

And devde within a litel space. And thus his warisoun he took For the lady that he forsook. Ladyes, I preve ensample taketh. Ye that ayeins your love mistaketh : 1540 For if hir deeth be vow to wyte. God can ful wel your whyle quyte. Whan that this lettre, of whiche I telle, Had taught me that it was the welle Of Narcisus in his beautee, 1545 I gan anoon withdrawe me, Whan it fel in my remembraunce, That him bitidde swich mischaunce. The Welle. But at the laste than thoughte I. That scatheles, ful sikerly, 1550 I mighte unto THE WELLE go. Wherof shulde I abasshen so ? Unto the welle than wente I me. And down I louted for to see The clere water in the stoon, 1555 And eek the gravel, which that shoon Down in the botme, as silver fyn ; For of the welle, this is the fyn, In world is noon so cleer of hewe. The water is ever fresh and newe 1560 That welmeth up in wawes brighte The mountance of two finger highte. Abouten it is gras springing, For moiste so thikke and wel lyking, That it ne may in winter dye, 1565 No more than may the see be drye, Down at the botme set saw I Two cristal stones craftely In thilke fresshe and faire welle. But o thing soothly dar I telle. 1570 That ye wol holde a greet mervayle Whan it is told, withouten favle. For whan the sonne, cleer in sighte, Cast in that welle his bemes brighte, And that the heet descended is, 1575 Than taketh the cristal stoon, v-wis, Agayn the sonne an hundred hewes, Blewe, yelowe, and rede, that fresh and newe is.

Yit hath the merveilous cristal 1579 Swich strengthe, that the place overal, Bothe fowl and tree, and leves grene, And at the yerd in it is sene. And for to doon you understonde, To make ensample wol I fonde; Right as a mirour openly 1585 Sheweth al thing that stant therby. As wel the colour as the figure. Withouten any coverture : Right so the cristal stoon, shyning, Withouten any disceyving, 1590 The testres of the yerde accuseth To him that in the water museth ; For ever, in which half that the be, + He may wel half the gardin see ; And if he turne, he may right wel 1595 Seen the remenaunt everydel. For ther is noon so litel thing So hid, ne closed with shitting, That it ne is sene, as though it were Peynted in the cristal there. 1600

This is the mirour perilous, In which the proude Narcisus Saw al his face fair and bright, That made him sith to lye upright, For who-so loke in that mirour. 1605 Ther may no-thing ben his socour That he ne shal ther seen som thing That shal him lede into +loving. Ful many a worthy man hath it Y-blent; for folk of grettest wit 1610 Ben sone caught here and awayted ; Withouten respyt been they bayted. Heer comth to folk of-newe rage, . Heer chaungeth many wight corage ; , , fer Heer lyth no reed ne wit therto ; 21615 For Venus sone, daun Cupido, Hath sowen there of love the seed, That help ne lyth ther noon, ne reed, So cercleth it the welle aboute. His ginnes hath he set withoute 1620 Right for to cacche in his panteres These damovsels and bacheleres. Love will noon other bridde cacche, Though he sette either net or lacche. 1624 And for the seed that heer was sowen, This welle is cleped, as wel is knowen, The Welle of Love, of verray right, Of which ther hath ful many a wight Spoke in bokes dyversely. But they shulle never so verily 1630 Descripcioun of the welle here, No eek the sothe of this matere, As ye shulle, whan I have undo The craft that hir bilongeth to. Alway me lyked for to dwelle, 1635

The Romaunt of the Rose.

[FRAGMENT A.

To seen the cristal in the welle,	And lest it greved or for-thoughte
That shewed me ful openly	The lord that thilke gardyn wroughte.
A thousand thinges faste by.	Of roses were ther gret woon,
But I may saye, in sory houre	So faire twexe never in roon.
Stood I to loken or to poure; 1640	Of knoppes clos, some saw I there, 1675
For sithen [have] I sore +syked,	And some wel beter woxen were;
That mirour hath me now entryked.	And some ther been of other moysoun,
But hadde I first knowen in my wit	That drowe nigh to hir sesoun,
The vertue and [the] +strengthe of it,	And spedde hem faste for to sprede;
I nolde not have mused there ; 1645	I love wel swiche roses rede ; 1680
Me hadde bet ben elles-where ;	For brode roses, and open also,
For in the snare I fel anoon,	Ben passed in a day or two;
That hath +bitraisshed many oon.	But knoppes wilen fresshe be
The Roser.	Two dayes atte leest, or three.
In thilke mirour saw I tho,	The knoppes gretly lyked me, 1685
Among a thousand thinges mo. 1650	For fairer may ther no man see.
A ROSER charged ful of roses,	Who-so mighte have[n] oon of alle,
That with an hegge aboute enclos is.	It oughte him been ful leef withalle.
Tho had I swich lust and envye,	Mighte I [a] gerlond of hem geten,
That, for Parys ne for Pavye,	For no richesse I wolde it leten. 1690
Nolde I have left to goon and see 1655	The Knoppe.
Ther grettest hepe of roses be.	Among THE KNOPPES I chees oon
Whan I was with this rage hent,	So fair, that of the remenaunt noon
That caught hath many a man and shent,	Ne preyse I half so wel as it,
Toward the roser gan I go.	Whan I avyse it in my wit.
And whan I was not fer therfro, 1660	For it so wel was enlumyned 1695
The savour of the roses swote	With colour reed, as wel [y]-fyned
Me smoot right to the herte rote,	As nature couthe it make faire,
As I hadde al embawmed +be.	And it thad leves wel foure paire,
And if I ne hadde endouted me	That Kinde had set through his knowing
To have ben hated or assailed, 1665	About the rede trose springing. 1700
My thankes, +wolde I not have failed	The stalke was as risshe right,
To pulle a rose of al that route	And theron stood the knoppe upright,
To bere[n] in myn honde aboute,	That it ne bowed upon no syde.
And smellen to it wher I wente;	The swote smelle sprong so wyde
But ever I dredde me to repente, 1670	That it dide al the place aboute- 1705

FRAGMENT B.

[Line 1705 is incomplete, as the sentence has no verb. Here the genuine portion ends. Line 1706 gives a false rime, and is by another hand.]

Whan I had smelled the savour swote, No wille hadde I fro thens yit go, But somdel neer it wente I tho To take it; but myn hond, for drede, Ne dorste I to the rose bede, For thistels sharpe, of many maneres, Netles, thornes, and hoked breres;

+Ful muche they distourbled me, For sore I dradde to harmed be.

The God of Love, with bowe bent, 1715 That al day set hadde his talent To pursuen and to spyen me, Was stonding by a fige-tree. And whan he sawe how that I

Had chosen so ententify 1720
The +botoun, more unto my pay
Than any other that I say,
He took an arowe ful sharply whet,
And in his bowe whan it was set,
He streight up to his ere drough 1725
The stronge bowe, that was so tough,
And shet at me so wonder smerte,
That through myn eye unto myn herte
The takel smoot, and depe it wente.
And ther-with-al such cold me hente,
That, under clothes warme and softe, 1731
+Sith that day I have chevered ofte.
Whan I was hurt thus in [that] stounde,
I fel doun plat unto the grounde.
Myn herte failed and feynted ay, 1735
And long tyme [ther] a-swone I lay.
But whan I com out of swoning,
And hadde wit, and my feling,
I was al maat, and wende ful wel
Of blood have loren a ful gret del. 1740
But certes, the arowe that in me stood
Of me ne drew no drope of blood,
For-why I found my wounde al dreve.
Than took I with myn hondis tweve
The arowe, and ful fast out it plight, 1745
And in the pulling sore I sight.
So at the last the shaft of tree
I drough out, with the fethers three,
But yet the hoked heed, y-wis,
The whiche Beautee callid is, 1750
Gan so depe in myn herte passe,
That I it mighte nought arace;
But in myn herte stille it stood.
Al bledde I not a drope of blood.
I was bothe anguissous and trouble 1755
For the peril that I saw double ;
I niste what to seye or do,
Ne gete a leche my woundis +to ;
For neithir thurgh gras ne rote,
Ne hadde I help of hope ne bote. 1760
But to the botoun ever-mo
Myn herte drew; for al my wo,
My thought was in non other thing.
For hadde it been in my keping,
It wolde have brought my lyf agayn. 1765
For tcerteinly, I dar wel seyn,
The sight only, and the savour,
Alegged muche of my langour.
Than gan I for to drawe me

Toward the botoun fair to see;

And Love hadde gete him, in †a throwe, Another arowe into his bowe, And for to shete gan him dresse : The arowis name was Simplesse. And whan that Love gan nyghe me nere, He drow it up, withouten were. And shet at me with al his might. So that this arowe anon-right Thourghout [myn] eigh, as it was founde, Into myn herte hath maad a wounde. Thanne I anoon dide al my crafte 1781 For to drawen out the shafte, And ther-with-al I sighed eft. But in myn herte the heed was left, Which ay encresid my desyre, 1785 Unto the botoun drawe nere ; And ever, mo that me was wo, The more desyr hadde I to go Unto the roser, where that grew The fresshe botoun so bright of hewe, 1700 Betir me were have leten be : But it bihoved nedes me To don right as myn herte bad. For ever the body must be lad Aftir the herte ; in wele and wo, Of force togidre they must go. But never this archer wolde fyne To shete at me with all his pyne, And for to make me to him mete.

The thridde arowe he gan to shete 1800 Whan best his tyme he mighte espye, The which was named Curtesve ; Inte myn herte it dide avale. A-swone I fel. bothe deed and pale ; Long tyme I lay, and stired nought, 1805 Til I abraid out of my thought. And faste than I avysed me To drawe[n] out the shafte of tree ; But ever the heed was left bihinde For ought I couthe pulle or winde, 1810 So sore it stikid whan I was hit, That by no craft I might it flit ; But anguissous and ful of thought, I +felte such wo, my wounde ay wrought, That somoned me alway to go 1815 Toward the rose, that pleased me so; But I ne durste in no manere, Bicause the archer was so nere. For evermore gladly, as I rede, Brent child of fyr hath muche drede. 1820 1770 And, certis yit, for al my peyne,

The Romaunt of the Rose. [FRAGMENT B.

Though that I sigh yit arwis reyne,	I rought of dethe ne of lyf,
And grounde quarels sharpe of stele,	Whither that love wolde me dryf.
Ne for no payne that I might fele,	If me a martir wolde he make, 1875
Yit might I not my-silf with-holde 1825	I might his power nought forsake.
The faire roser to biholde;	And whyl for anger thus I wook,
For Love me yaf sich hardement	The God of Love an arowe took ;
For to fulfille his commaundement.	Ful sharp it was and [ful] pugnaunt,
Upon my feet I roos up than	And it was callid Fair-Semblaunt, 1880
Feble, as a forwoundid man ; 1830	The which in no wys wol consente,
And forth to gon [my] might I sette,	That any lover him repente
And for the archer nolde I lette.	To serve his love with herte and alle,
Toward the roser fast I drow ;	For any peril that may bifalle.
But thornes sharpe mo than y-now	But though this arwe was kene grounde
Ther were, and also thistels thikke, 1835	As any rasour that is founde, 1886
And breres, brimme for to prikke,	To cutte and kerve, at the poynt,
That I ne mighte gete grace	The God of Love it hadde anoynt
The rowe thornes for to passe,	With a precious oynement,
To sene the roses fresshe of hewe,	Somdel to yeve aleggement 1890
I must abide, though it me rewe, 1840	Upon the woundes that he had
The hegge aboute so thikke was,	Through the body in my herte maad,
That closid the roses in compas.	To helpe hir sores, and to cure,
But o thing lyked me right wele;	And that they may the bet endure.
I was so nygh, I mighte fele	But yit this arwe, withoute more, 1895
Of the botoun the swote odour, 1845	Made in myn herte a large sore,
And also see the fresshe colour ;	That in ful gret peyne I abood.
And that right gretly lyked me,	But ay the oynement wente abrood ;
That I so neer †it mighte see.	Throughout my woundes large and wyde
Sich joye anoon therof hadde I,	It spredde aboute in every syde ; 1900
That I forgat my malady. 1850	Through whos vertu and whos might
To sene †it hadde I sich delyt, Of sorwe and angre I was al quit,	Myn herte joyful was and light.
And of my woundes that I had +thar;	I had been deed and al to-shent
For no-thing lyken me might †mar	But for the precious oynement.
	The shaft I drow out of the arwe, 1905 Roking for wo right wondir narwe;
And thennes never to passe away.	But the heed which made me smerte,
But whan a whyle I had be thar,	Lefte bihinde in myn herte
The God of Love, which al to-shar	With other foure, I dar well say,
Myn herte with his arwis kene,	That never wol be take away; 1910
+Caste him to yeve me woundis grene.	But the oynement halp me wele.
He shet at me ful hastily 1861	And yit sich sorwe dide I fele
An arwe named Company,	+Of my woundes fresshe and newe,
The whiche takel is ful able	That al-day I chaunged hewe,
To make these ladies merciable.	As men might see in my visage. 1915
Than I anoon gan chaungen hewe 1865	The arwis were so fulle of rage,
For grevaunce of my wounde newe,	So variaunt of diversitee,
That I agayn fel in swoning,	That men in everich mighte see
And sighed sore in compleyning.	Both gret anoy and eek swetnesse,
Sore I compleyned that my sore	And joye meynt with bittirnesse, 1920
On me gan greven more and more. 1870	Now were they esy, now where they wood,
I had non hope of allegeaunce ;	In hem I felte both harm and good ;
So nigh I drow to desperaunce,	Now sore without aleggement,

It cured me of languisshing.	I binde under this litel keye,
He askid of me than hostages :	That no wight may carye aweye ;
'I have,' he seide, ' †tan fele homages	This keye is ful of gret poeste.' 2095
Of oon and other, where I have been 2045	With which anoon he touchid me
†Disceyved ofte, withouten wene.	Undir the syde ful softely,
These felouns, fulle of falsitee,	That he myn herte sodeynly
Have many sythes bigyled me,	Without [al] anoy had spered,
And through falshede hir lust acheved,	That yit right nought it hath me dered.
Wherof I repente and am agreved. 2050	Whan he had doon his wil al-out, 2101
And I hem gete in my daungere,	And I had put him out of dout,
Hir falshed shulle they bye ful dere.	'Sire,' I seide, 'I have right gret wille
But for I love thee, I seye thee pleyn,	Your lust and plesaunce to fulfille.
I wol of thee be more certeyn ;	Loke ye my servise take at gree, 2105
For thee so sore I wol now binde, 2055	By thilke feith ye owe to me.
That thou away ne shalt not winde	I seye nought for recreaundyse,
For to denyen the covenaunt,	For I nought doute of your servyse.
Or doon that is not avenaunt.	But the servaunt traveileth in vayne,
That thou were fals it were greet reuthe,	That for to serven doth his payne 2110
Sith thou semest so ful of treuthe.' 2060	Unto that lord, which in no wyse
'Sire, if thee list to undirstande, I merveile thee asking this demande.	Can him no thank for his servyse.'
For-why or wherfore shulde ye	Love seide, 'Dismaye thee nought, Sin thou for sucour hast me sought,
Ostages or borwis aske of me,
Or any other sikirnesse, 2065	In thank thy servise wol I take, 2115 And high of †gree I wol thee make,
Sith ye wote, in sothfastnesse,	If wikkidnesse ne hindre thee;
That ye have me †surprysed so,	But, as I hope, it shal nought be.
And hool myn herte †tan me fro,	To worship no wight by aventure
That it wol do for me no-thing	May come, but-if he peyne endure. 2120
But-if it be at your bidding? 2070	Abyde and suffre thy distresse;
Mynherte is yours, and myn right nought,	That hurtith now, it shal be lesse;
As it bihoveth, in dede and thought,	I wot my-silf what may thee save,
Redy in alle to worche your wille,	What medicyne thou woldist have.
Whether so [it] turne to good or ille.	And if thy trouthe to me thou kepe, 2125
So sore it lustith you to plese 2075	I shal unto then helping eke

So sore it lustith you to plese, 2075 I s No man therof may you +disseise. To 2075 I shal unto thyn helping eke, To cure thy woundes and make hem clene,

Wher-so they be olde or grene; Thou shalt be holpen, at wordis fewe. For certeynly thou shalt wel shewe 2130 Wher that thou servest with good wille, For to complisshen and fulfille My comaundementis, day and night, Whiche I to lovers yeve of right.' Ah, sire, for goddis love,' said I, 2135 'Er ye passe hens, ententifly Your comaundementis to me ve say, And I shal kepe hem, if I may ; For hem to kepen is al my thought. And if so be I wot them nought. 2140 Than may I [sinne] unwitingly. Wherfore I pray you enterely, With al myn herte, me to lere, That I trespasse in no manere.'

The god of love than chargid me 2145 Anoon, as ye shal here and see, Word by word, by right empryse, So as the Romance shal devyse.

The maister lesith his tyme to lere, Whan the disciple wol not here. 2150 It is but vevn on him to swinke. That on his lerning wol not thinke. Who-so lust love, let him entende, For now the Romance +ginneth amende. Now is good to here, in fay. 2155 If any be that can it say, And poynte it as the resoun is Set; for other-gate, y-wis, It shal nought wel in alle thing Be brought to good undirstonding ; 2160 For a reder that poyntith ille A good sentence may ofte spille. The book is good at the ending, Maad of newe and lusty thing : For who-so wol the ending here, 2165 The crafte of love he shal now lere. If that he wol so long abyde. Til I this Romance may unhyde, And undo the signifiaunce Of this dreme into Romaunce. 2170 The sothfastnesse, that now is hid, Without coverture shal be kid, Whan I undon have this dreming, Wherin no word is of lesing.

'Vilany, at the biginning, 2175 I wol,' †sayd Love, 'over alle thing, Thou leve, if thou wolt [not] be Fals, and trespasse ageynes me. I curse and blame generally Alle hem that loven vilany; 2180 For vilany makith vilay, And by his dedis a cherle is seyn. Thise vilayns arn without pitee, Frendshipe, love, and al bounte. I nil receive tho my servyse 2185 Hem that ben vilayns of empryse.

'But undirstonde in thyn entent, That this is not myn entendement, To clepe no wight in no ages Only gentil for his linages. 2190 But who-so [that] is vertuous. And in his port nought outrageous, Whan sich oon thou seest thee biforn. Though he be not gentil born. Thou mayst wel seyn, this is †a soth, 2195 That he is gentil, bicause he doth As longeth to a gentilman ; Of hem non other deme I can. For certeynly, withouten drede, A cherle is demed by his dede, 2200 Of hye or lowe, as ye may see, Or of what kinrede that he be. Ne say nought, for noon yvel wille, Thing that is to holden stille : It is no worship to misseye. 2205 Thou mayst ensample take of Keye, That was somtyme, for misseying, Hated bothe of olde and ving ; As fer as Gaweyn, the worthy, Was preysed for his curtesy, Keye was hated, for he was fel, Of word dispitous and cruel. Wherfore be wyse and aquevntable. Goodly of word, and resonable Bothe to lesse and eek to mar. 2215 And whan thou comest ther men ar, Loke that thou have in custom ay First to salue hem, if thou may : And if it falle, that of hem som Salue thee first, be not dom, 2220 But quyte him curteisly anoon Without abiding, er they goon.

<sup>6</sup> For no-thing eek thy tunge applye To speke wordis of ribaudye. To vilayn speche in no degree 2225 Lat never thy lippe unbounden be. For I nought holde him, in good feith, Curteys, that foule wordis seith. And alle wimmen serve and preyse,

And to thy power hir honour reyse. 2230	And let no filthe upon thee be. 2281
And if that any missayere	Thy nailes blak if thou mayst see,
Dispyse wimmen, that thou mayst here,	Voide it awey deliverly,
Blame him, and bidde him holde him stille.	And kembe thyn heed right jolily.
And set thy might and al thy wille	+Fard not thy visage in no wyse, 2285
Wimmen and ladies for to plese, 2235	For that of love is not th'empryse ;
And to do thing that may hem ese,	For love doth haten, as I finde,
That they ever speke good of thee,	A beaute that cometh not of kinde.
For so thou mayst best preysed be.	Alwey in herte I rede thee
'Loke fro pryde thou kepe thee wele;	Glad and mery for to be, 2290
For thou mayst bothe perceyve and fele,	And be as joyful as thou can ;
That pryde is bothe foly and sinne; 2241	Love hath no joye of sorowful man.
And he that pryde hath, him withinne,	That yvel is ful of curtesye
Ne may his herte, in no wyse,	That †lauhwith in his maladye;
Meken ne souplen to servyse.	For ever of love the siknesse 2295
	Is meynd with swete and bitternesse.
For pryde is founde, in every part, 2245 Contrarie unto Loves art.	The sore of love is merveilous ;
And he that loveth trewely	For now the lover [is] joyous,
Shulde him contene jolily,	Now can he pleyne, now can he grone,
Withouten pryde in sondry wyse,	Now can he singen, now maken mone.
And him disgysen in queyntyse. 2250	To-day he pleyneth for hevinesse, 2301
For queynt array, withouten drede,	To-morowe he +pleyeth for jolynesse.
Is no-thing proud, who takith hede;	The lyf of love is ful contrarie,
For fresh array, as men may see,	Which stoundemele can ofte varie.
Withouten pryde may ofte be.	But if thou canst [som] mirthis make, 2305
' Mayntene thy-silf aftir thy rent, 2255	That men in gree wole gladly take,
Of robe and eek of garnement ;	Do it goodly, I comaunde thee;
For many sythe fair clothing	For men sholde, wher-so-ever they be,
A man amendith in mich thing.	Do thing that hem [best] sitting is,
And loke alwey that they be shape,	For therof cometh good loos and pris. 2310
What garnement that thou shalt make,	Wher-of that thou be vertuous,
Of him that can [hem] beste do, 2261	Ne be not straunge ne daungerous.
With al that perteyneth therto.	For if that thou good rider be,
Poyntis and sleves be wel sittand,	Prike gladly, that men may se.
Right and streight +upon the hand.
Of shoon and botes, newe and faire, 2265	In armes also if thou conne, 2315 Pursue, til thou a name hast wonne.
Loke at the leest thou have a paire;	And if thy voice be fair and clere,
And that they sitte so fetisly,	Thou shalt maken no gret daungere
That these rude may uttirly	Whan to singe they goodly preye;
Merveyle, sith that they sitte so pleyn,	It is thy worship for to obeye. 2320

Of silk ; and alwey with good chere	For if he can wel foote and daunce,
Thou yeve, if thou have richesse;	It may him greetly do avaunce.
And if thou have nought, spend the lesse.
Alwey be merry, if thou may, 2275	Among eek, for thy lady sake, 2325 Songes and complayntes that thou make ;
But waste not thy good alway.	For that wol †meve [hem] in hir herte,
Have hat of floures fresh as May,	Whan they reden of thy smerte.
Chapelet of roses of Whitsonday;	Loke that no man for scarce thee holde,
For sich array ne †cost but lyte.	For that may greve thee many-folde, 2330
Thyn hondis wash, thy teeth make whyte,	Resoun wol that a lover be

In his yiftes more large and free Than cherles that been not of loving, For who ther-of can any thing, He shal be leef ay for to yeve, 2335 In †Loves lore who so wolde leve; For he that, through a sodeyn sight, Or for a kissing, anon-right Yaf hool his herte in wille and thought, And to him-silf kepith right nought, 2340 Aftir †swich yift, is good resoun, He yeve his good in abandoun.

'Now wol I shortly here reherce, Of that [that] I have seid in verse, Al the sentence by and by, 2345 In wordis fewe compendiously, That thou the bet mayst on hem thinke, Whether so it be thou wake or winke; For [that] the wordis litel greve A man to kene, whanne it is breve. 2350

'Who-so with Love wol goon or ryde He mot be curteys, and void of pryde, Mery and fulle of jolite, And of largesse alosed be.

'First I joyne thee, here in penaunce, That ever, withoute repentaunce, 2356 Thou set thy thought in thy loving, To laste withoute repenting; And thenke upon thy mirthis swete, That shal folowe aftir whan ye mete.2360

'And for thou trewe to love shalt be, I wol, and [eek] comaunde thee, That in oo place thou sette, al hool, Thyn herte, withouten halfen dool, For trecherie, +in sikernesse; 2365 For I lovede never doublenesse. To many his herte that wol depart, Everiche shal have but litel part. But of him drede I me right nought, That in oo place settith his thought, 2370 Therfore in oo place it sette. And let it never thennes flette. For if thou yevest it in lening, I holde it but a wrecchid thing : Therfore yeve it hool and quyte, 2375 And thou shalt have the more merite. If it be lent, than aftir soon, The bountee and the thank is doon ; But, in love, free yeven thing Requyrith a gret guerdoning. 2380 Yeve it in yift al quit fully, And make thy yift debonairly;

For men that vift [wol] holde more dere That veven is with gladsome chere. That yift nought to preisen is 2385 That man yeveth, maugre his. Whan thou hast yeven thyn herte, as I Have seid thee here [al] openly, Than aventures shulle thee falle, Which harde and hevy been withalle. 2300 For ofte whan thou bithenkist thee Of thy loving, wher-so thou be, Fro folk thou must depart in hy, That noon perceyve thy malady, But hyde thyn harm thou must alone, 2395 And go forth sole, and make thy mone. Thou shalt no whyl be in oo stat, But whylom cold and whylom hat; Now reed as rose, now yelowe and fade. Such sorowe, I trowe, thou never hade ; Cotidien, ne [vit] quarteyne, 2401 It is nat so ful of peyne. For ofte tymes it shal falle In love, among thy peynes alle, That thou thy-self, al hoolly, 2405 Foryeten shalt so utterly, That many tymes thou shalt be Stille as an image of tree, Dom as a stoon, without stering Of foot or hond, without speking ; 2410 Than, sone after al thy peyne, To memorie shalt thou come ageyn, A[s] man abasshed wondre sore, And after sighen more and more. For wit thou wel, withouten wene, 2415 In swich astat ful oft have been That have the yvel of love assayd, Wher-through thou art so dismayd.

'After, a thought shal take thee so, That thy love is to fer thee fro : 2420 Thou shalt say, "God, what may this be, That I ne may my lady see? Myne herte aloon is to her go, And I abyde al sole in wo, Departed fro myn owne thought, 2425 And with myne eyen see right nought. Alas, myn eyen +sende I ne may, My careful herte to convay ! Myn hertes gyde but they be, I praise no-thing what ever they see. 2430 Shul they abyde thanne? nay; But goon +visyte without delay That myn herte desyreth so.

For certeynly, but-if they go,	Thenke al-day on hir fairhede,
A fool my-self I may wel holde, 2435	Whom thou bihelde with so good wille;
Whan I ne see what myn herte wolde.	And holde thyself bigyled ille, 2486
Wherfore I wol gon her to seen,	That thou ne haddest non hardement
Or esed shal I never been,	To shewe hir ought of thyn entent.
But I have som tokening."	Thyn herte ful sore thou wolt dispyse,
Then gost thou forth without dwelling;	And eek repreve of cowardyse, 2490
But ofte thou faylest of thy desyre, 2441	That thou, so dulle in every thing,
Er thou mayst come hir any nere,	Were dom for drede, without speking,
And wastest in vayn thy passage.	Thou shalt eek thenke thou didest foly,
Than fallest thou in a newe rage;	That thou wert hir so faste by,
For wante of sight thou ginnest morne,	And durst not auntre thee to say 2495
And homward pensif dost retorne. 2446	Som-thing, er thou cam away ;
In greet mischeef than shalt thou be,	For thou haddist no more wonne,
For than agayn shal come to thee	To speke of hir whan thou bigonne :
Sighes and pleyntes, with newe wo,	But tyif she wolde, for thy sake,
That no icching prikketh so. 2450	In armes goodly thee have take, 2500
Who wot it nought, he may go lere	It shulde have be more worth to thee
Of hem that byen love so dere.	Than of tresour greet plentee.
' No-thing thyn herte appesen may,	'Thus shalt thou morne and eek com-
That oft thou wolt goon and assay,	pleyn,
If thou mayst seen, by aventure, 2455	And gete enchesoun to goon ageyn
Thy lyves joy, thyn hertis cure;	Unto thy walk, or to thy place, 2505
So that, by grace if thou might	Where thou biheld hir fleshly face.
Atteyne of hir to have a sight,	And never, for fals suspeccioun,
Than shalt thou doon non other dede	Thou woldest finde occasioun
But with that sight thyn eyen fede. 2460	For to gon unto hir hous.
That faire fresh whan thou mayst see,	So art thou thanne desirous 2510
Thyn herte shal so ravisshed be,	A sight of hir for to have,
That never thou woldest, thy thankis, lete,	If thou thine honour mightest save,
Ne remove, for to see that swete.	Or any erand mightist make
The more thou seest in sothfastnesse, 2465	Thider, for thy loves sake ;
The more thou +coveytest of that swet-	Ful fayn thou woldist, but for drede 2515
nesse;	Thou gost not, lest that men take hede.
The more thyn herte brenneth in fyr,	Wherfore I rede, in thy going,
The more thyn herte is in desyr.	And also in thyn ageyn-coming,
For who considreth every del,	Thou be wel war that men ne wit;
It may be lykned wondir wel, 2470	Feyne thee other cause than it 2520
The peyne of love, unto a fere ;	To go that weye, or faste by ;
For ever [the] more thou neighest nere	To hele wel is no folye.
+Thought, or who-so that it be,	And if so be it happe thee
For verray so he I telle it thee,	That thou thy love ther mayst see,
The hatter ever shal thou brenne, 2475	In siker wyse thou hir salewe, 2523
As experience shal thee kenne.	Wherwith thy colour wol transmewe,
Wher-so [thou] comest in any cost,	And eke thy blood shal al to-quake,
Who is next fyr, he brenneth most.	Thy hewe eek chaungen for hir sake.
And yit forsothe, for al thyn hete, Though thou for love swelte and swete,	But word and wit, with chere ful pale,
	Shul wante for to telle thy tale. 2530
Ne for no-thing thou felen may, 2481 Thou shalt not willen to passe away.	And if thou mayst so fer-forth winne,
And though thou go, yet must thee nede	That thou [thy] resoun durst biginne,
rand though thou go, yet must thee nede	And woldist seyn three thingis or mo,

Thou shalt ful scarsly seyn the two. Though thou bithenke thee never so wel, Thou shalt foryete yit somdel, 2536 But-if thou dele with trecherve. For fals lovers mowe al folve Seyn, what hem lust, withouten drede, They be so double in hir falshede : 2540 For they in herte cunne thenke a thing And seyn another, in hir speking, And whan thy speche is endid al, Right thus to thee it shal bifal; If any word than come to minde, 2545 That thou to seve hast left bihinde, Than thou shalt brenne in greet martyr ; For thou shalt brenne as any fyr. This is the stryf and eke the affray, And the batail that lastith ay. 2550 This bargevn ende may never take, But-if that she thy pees wil make.

'And whan the night is comen, anon A thousand angres shal come upon. To bedde as fast thou wolt thee dight, 2555 Where thou shalt have but smal delyt; For whan thou wenest for to slepe. So ful of peyne shalt thou crepe. Sterte in thy bedde aboute ful wyde, And turne ful ofte on every syde ; 2560 Now downward groffe, and now upright, And walowe in wo the longe night ; Thyne armis shalt thou sprede abrede, As man in werre were +forwerreyd. Than shal thee come a remembraunce Of hir shape and hir semblaunce 2566 Wherto non other may be pere. And wite thou wel, withoute were, That thee shal +seme, somtyme that night, That thou hast hir, that is so bright, 2570 Naked bitwene thyn armes there, Al sothfastnesse as though it were. Thou shalt make castels than in Spayne, And dreme of joye, al but in vayne, And thee delyten of right nought, 2575 Whyl thou so slomrest in that thought, That is so swete and delitable, The which, in soth, nis but a fable, For it ne shal no whyle laste. Than shalt thou sighe and wepe faste, 2580 And say, " Dere god, what thing is this? My dreme is turned al amis. Which was ful swete and apparent, But now I wake, it is al shent

Now yede this mery thought away ! 2585 Twenty tymes upon a day I wolde this thought wolde come agevn. For it alleggith wel my pevn. It makith me ful of joyful thought, It sleeth me, that it lastith noght. 2590 A, lord ! why nil ye me socoure, The joye, I trowe, that I langoure? The deth I wolde me shulde slo Whyl I lye in hir armes two. Myn harm is hard, withouten wene, 2505 My greet unese ful ofte I mene. But wolde Love do so I might Have fully joye of hir so bright, My peyne were quit me richely. Allas, to greet a thing aske I ! 2600 It is but foly, and wrong wening, To aske so outrageous a thing. And who-so askith folily. He moot be warned hastily ; And I ne wot what I may say, 2605 I am so fer out of the way ; For I wolde have ful gret lyking And ful gret jove of lasse thing. For wolde she, of hir gentilnesse, Withouten more, me onis kesse, 2610 It were to me a greet guerdoun, Relees of al my passioun. But it is hard to come therto ; Al is but foly that I do. So high I have myn herte set, 2615 Where I may no comfort get. +I noot wher I sey wel or nought ; But this I wot wel in my thought, That it were +bet of hir aloon, For to stinte my wo and moon. 2620 A loke on +me y-cast goodly, +Than for to have, al utterly, Of another al hool the pley. A ! lord ! wher I shal byde the day That ever she shal my lady be? 2625 He is ful cured that may hir see. A ! god ! whan shal the dawning spring ? To +ly thus is an angry thing ; I have no joye thus here to ly Whan that my love is not me by. 2630 A man to lyen hath gret disese, Which may not slepe ne reste in ese. I wolde it dawed, and were now day, And that the night were went away ; For were it day, I wolde upryse. 2635

A ! slowe sonne, shew thyn enpryse ! Speed thee to sprede thy bemis bright, And chace the derknesse of the night, To putte away the stoundes stronge, Which in me lasten al to longe." 2640

'The night shalt thou contene so, Withoute rest, in peyne and wo; If ever thou knewe of love distresse, Thou shalt mowe lerne in that siknesse. And thus enduring shalt thou ly, 2645 And ryse on morwe up erly Out of thy bedde, and harneys thee Er ever dawning thou mayst see. Al privily than shalt thou goon, What +weder it be, thy-silf aloon, 2650 For reyn, or hayl, for snow, for slete, Thider she dwellith that is so swete, The which may falle aslepe be, And thenkith but litel upon thee. Than shalt thou goon, ful foule aferd; 2655 Loke if the gate be unsperd. And waite without in wo and peyn, Ful yvel a-colde in winde and reyn. Than shal thou go the dore bifore. If thou maist fynde any score, 2660 Or hole, or reft, what ever it were ; Than shalt thou stoupe, and lay to ere, If they within a-slepe be; I mene, alle save thy lady free. Whom waking if thou mayst aspye, 2665 Go put thy-silf in jupartye, To aske grace, and thee bimene, That she may wite, withouten wene, That thou [a]night no rest hast had, So sore for hir thou were bistad. 2670 Wommen wel ought pite to take Of hem that sorwen for hir sake. And loke, for love of that relyke, That thou thenke non other lyke, For +whom thou hast so greet annoy, 2675 +Shal kisse thee er thou go away, And hold that in ful gret deyntee. And, for that no man shal thee see Bifore the hous, ne in the way. Loke thou be goon ageyn er day. 2680 Suche coming, and such going, Such hevinesse, and such walking, Makith lovers, withouten wene, Under hir clothes pale and lene. For Love leveth colour ne cleernesse; 2685 Who loveth trewe hath no fatnesse.

Thou shalt wel by thy-selfe see That thou must nedis assayed be. For men that shape hem other wey Falsy her ladies to bitray, 2690 It is no wonder though they be fat; With false othes hir loves they gat; For oft I see suche losengeours Fatter than abbatis or priours.

'Yet with o thing I thee charge, 2605 That is to seye, that thou be large Unto the mayd that hir doth serve, So best hir thank thou shalt deserve. Yeve hir yiftes, and get hir grace, For so thou may [hir] thank purchase, 2700 That she thee worthy holde and free, Thy lady, and alle that may thee see. Also hir servauntes worshipe ay, And plese as muche as thou may ; Gret good through hem may come to thee, Bicause with hir they been prive. 2706 They shal hir telle how they thee fand Curteis and wvs. and wel doand, And she shal preyse [thee] wel the +mare. Loke out of londe thou be not +fare ; 2710 And if such cause thou have, that thee Bihoveth +gon out of contree, Leve hool thyn herte in hostage, Til thou ageyn make thy passage. Thenk long to see the swete thing 2715 That hath thyn herte in hir keping.

"Now have I told thee, in what wyse A lover shal do me servyse. Do it than, if thou wolt have The mede that thou aftir crave.' 2720

Whan Love al this had boden me, I seide him :—' Sire, how may it be That lovers may in such manere Endure the peyne ye have seid here ? I merveyle me wonder faste, 2725 How any man may live or laste In such peyne, and such brenning, In sorwe and thought, and such sighing, Ay unrelesed wo to make, Whether so it be they slepe or wake. 2730 In such annoy continuely, As helpe me god, this merveile I, How man, but he were maad of stele, Might live a month, such peynes to fale.'

The God of Love than seide me, 2735 'Freend, by the feith I owe to thee, May no man have good, but he it by.

A man loveth more tendirly The thing that he hath bought most dere. For wite thou wel, withouten were, 2740 In thank that thing is taken more, For which a man hath suffred sore. Certis, no wo ne may atteyne Unto the sore of loves peyne. Non yvel therto ne may amounte, 2745 No more than a man [may] counte The dropes that of the water be. For drve as wel the grete see Thou mightist, as the harmes telle Of hem that with Love dwelle 2750 In servyse : for peyne hem sleeth, And that ech man wolde flee the deeth, And trowe they shulde never escape. Nere that hope couthe hem make Glad as man in prisoun set. 2755 And may not geten for to et But barly-breed, and watir pure, And lyeth in vermin and in ordure ; With alle this, yit can he live, Good hope such comfort hath him yive, Which maketh wene that he shal be 2761 Delivered and come to liberte : In fortune is [his] fulle trust. Though he lye in strawe or dust. In hope is al his susterning. 2765 And so for lovers, in hir wening. Whiche Love hath shit in his prisoun : Good-Hope is hir salvacioun. Good-Hope, how sore that they smerte, Yeveth hem bothe wille and herte 2770 To profre hir body to martyre ; For Hope so sore doth hem desyre To suffre ech harm that men devyse, For joye that taftir shal aryse.

'Hope, in desire [to] cacche victorie ; In Hope, of love is al the glorie. 2776 For Hope is al that love may vive : Nere Hope, ther shulde no lover live. Blessid be Hope, which with desvre Avaunceth lovers in such manere. 2780 Good-Hope is curteis for to plese, To kepe lovers from al disese. Hope kepith his lond, and wol abyde, For any peril that may betyde; For Hope to lovers, as most cheef, 2785 Doth hem endure[n] al mischeef ; Hope is her help, whan mister is. And I shal yeve thee eek, y-wis,

Three other thingis, that greet solas Doth to hem that be in my las. 2790

'The first[e] good that may be founde, To hem that in my lace be bounde. Is Swete-Thought, for to recorde Thing wherwith thou canst accorde Best in thyn herte, wher she be; 2795 +Thought in absence is good to thee. Whan any lover doth compleyne. And liveth in distresse and pevne. Than Swete-Thought shal come, as blyve, Awey his angre for to dryve. 2800 It makith lovers have remembraunce Of comfort, and of high plesaunce, That Hope hath hight him for to winne For Thought anoon than shal biginne, As fer. god wot, as he can finde, 2805 To make a mirrour of his minde ; For to biliolde he wol not lette. Hir person he shal afore him sette. Hir laughing eyen, persaunt and clere, Hir shape, hir fourme, hir goodly chere. Hir mouth that is so gracious. 2811 So swete, and eek so saverous ; Of alle hir fetures he shal take hede. His even with alle hir limes fede.

'Thus Swete-Thenking shal aswage 2815 The peyne of lovers, and hir rage. Thy joye shal double, withoute gesse, Whan thou thenkist on hir semlinesse, Or of hir laughing, or of hir chere, That to thee made thy lady dere. 2820 This comfort wol I that thou take; And if the next thou wolt forsake Which is not lesse saverous, Thou shndlist theen to daungerous.

'The seconde shal be Swete-Speche, That hath to many con be leche, 2826 To bringe hem out of wo and were, And helpe many a bachilere; And many a lady sent socoure, That have loved par-amour, 2830 Through speking, whan they mighten here

Of hir lovers, to hem so dere. To them it voidith al hir smerte, The which is closed in hir herte. In herte it makith hem glad and light, Speche, whan they mowe have sight. 2836 And therfore now it cometh to minde In olde dawes, as I finde,

That clerkis writen that hir knewe,	For that wol comfort thee right wel, 2800
Ther was a lady fresh of hewe, 2840	And thou shalt holde thee wel apaved,
Which of hir love made a song.	Whan such a freend thou hast assayed,
On him for to remembre among,	'The thridde good of greet comfort
In which she seide, "Whan that I here	That yeveth to lovers most disport,
Speken of him that is so dere,	Comith of sight and biholding, 2895
To me it voidith al [my] smerte, 2845	That clepid is Swete-Loking,
Y-wis, he sit so nere myn herte.	The whiche may noon ese do,
To speke of him, at eve or morwe,	Whan thou art fer thy lady fro;
It cureth me of al my sorwe.	Wherfore thou prese alwey to be
To me is noon so high plesaunce	In place, where thou mayst hir se. 2000
As of his persone daliaunce." 2850	For it is thing most amerous,
She wist ful wel that Swete-Speking	Most delitable and saverous,
Comfortith in ful muche thing.	For to aswage a mannes sorowe,
Hir love she had ful wel assayed,	To sene his lady by the morowe.
Of him she was ful wel apayed ;	For it is a ful noble thinge 2905
To speke of him hir joye was set. 2855	Whan thyn eyen have meting
Therfore I rede thee that thou get	With that relyke precious,
A felowe that can wel concele	Wherof they be so desirous.
And kepe thy counsel, and wel hele,	But al day after, soth it is,
To whom go shewe hoolly thyn herte,	They have no drede to faren amis, 2910
Bothe wele and wo, joye and smerte : 2860	They dreden neither wind ne reyn,
To gete comfort to him thou go,	Ne [yit] non other maner peyn.
And privily, between yow two,	For whan thyn eyen were thus in blis,
Ye shal speke of that goodly thing,	Yit of hir curtesye, y-wis,
That hath thyn herte in hir keping;	Aloon they can not have hir joye, 2915
Of hir beaute and hir semblaunce, 2865	But to the herte they [it] convoye;
And of hir goodly countenaunce.	Part of hir blis to him +they sende,
Of al thy state thou shalt him sey,	Of al this harm to make an ende.
And aske him counseil how thou may	The eye is a good messangere,
Do any thing that may hir plese;	Which can to the herte in such manere
For it to thee shal do gret ese, 2870	Tidyngis sende, that [he] hath seen, 2921
That he may wite thou trust him so,	To voide him of his peynes cleen.
Bothe of thy wele and of thy wo.	Wherof the herte reioyseth so
And if his herte to love be set,	That a gret party of his wo
His companye is muche the bet,	Is voided, and put awey to flight. 2925
For resoun wol, he shewe to thee 2875	Right as the derknesse of the night
Al uttirly his privite ;	Is chased with clerenesse of the mone,
And what she is he loveth so,	Right so is al his wo ful sone
To thee pleynly he shal undo,	Devoided clene, whan that the sight
Withoute drede of any shame,	Biholden may that fresshe wight 2930
Bothe telle hir renoun and hir name. 2880	That the herte desyreth so,
Than shal he forther, ferre and nere,	That al his derknesse is ago ;
And namely to thy lady dere, In siker wyse; ye, every other	For than the herte is al at ese,
Shal helpen as his owne brother,	Whan they seen that [that] may hem plese.
The Assessed by second states of the second states	'Now have I thee declared al-out, 2935
And kepen cloos in sikernesse. 2885	Of that thou were in drede and dout ;
For it is noble thing, in fay,	For I have told thee feithfully
To have a man thou darst say	What thee may curen utterly, And alle lovers that wole be

Good-Hope alwey kepe by thy syde, And Swete-Thought make eek abyde, Swete-Loking and Swete-Speche; Of alle thyn harmes they shal be leche. Of overy thou shalt have greet plesaunce; If thou canst byde in sufferaunce, 2946 And serve wel without foyntyse, Thou shalt be quit of thyn empryse, With more guerdoun, if that thou live; But al this tyme this I thee yive.' 2950 The God of Love whan al the day

Had taught me, as ye have herd say, And enfourmed compendiously, He vanished awey al sodeynly, And I alone lefte, al sole, 2055 So ful of compleynt and of dole, For I saw no other man ther me by. My woundes me greved wondirly; Me for to curen no-thing I knew. Save the botoun bright of hew. 2960 Wheron was set hoolly my thought ; Of other comfort knew I nought. But it were through the God of Love ; I knew nat elles to my bihove That might me ese or comfort gete, 2065 But-if he wolde him entermete.

The roser was, withoute doute, Closed with an hegge withoute, As ye to-forn have herd me seyn ; And fast I bisied, and wolde fayn 2070 Have passed the have, if I might Have geten in by any slight Unto the botoun so fair to see. But ever I dradde blamed to be. If men wolde have suspeccioun 2975 That I wolde of entencioun Have stole the roses that ther were : Therfore to entre I was in fere. But at the last, as I bithought Whether I sholde passe or nought, 2080 I saw com with a gladde chere To me, a lusty bachelere. Of good stature, and of good hight, And Bialacoil forsothe he hight. Sone he was to Curtesy. 2985 And he me graunted ful gladly The passage of the outer hav. And seide :- ' Sir, how that ye may Passe, if [it] your wille be. The fresshe roser for to see. 2990 And ye the swete savour fele.

Your + warrant may [I be] right wele ; So thou thee kepe fro folye, Shal no man do thee vilanve. If I may helpe you in ought, I shal not feyne, dredeth nought ; For I am bounde to your servyse, Fully devoide of feyntyse,' Than unto Bialacoil saide I. 'I thank you, sir, ful hertely, 3000 And your biheest [I] take at gree. That ye so goodly profer me ; To you it cometh of greet fraunchyse, That ye me profer your servyse.' Than aftir, ful deliverly, 3005 Through the breres anoon wente I, Wherof encombred was the hay. I was wel plesed, the soth to say, To see the botoun fair and swote, So fresshe spronge out of the rote. 2010

And Bialacoil me served wel, Whan I so nygh me mighte fele Of the botoun the swete odour. And so lusty hewed of colour. But than a cherl (foule him bityde !) 3015 Bisyde the roses gan him hyde, To kepe the roses of that roser, Of whom the name was Daunger. This cherl was hid there in the greves. Covered with grasse and with leves, 3020 To spye and take whom that he fond Unto that roser putte an hond. He was not sole, for ther was mo : For with him were other two Of wikked maners, and yvel fame. 3025 That oon was clepid, by his name, Wikked-Tonge, god veve him sorwe ! For neither at eve, ne at morwe, He can of no man [no] good speke , On many a just man doth he wreke. 3030 Ther was a womman eek, that hight Shame, that, who can reken right, Trespas was hir fadir name. Hir moder Resoun ; and thus was Shame [On lyve] brought of these ilk two. 3035 And yet had Trespas never ado With Resoun, ne never lev hir by, He was so hidous and ugly. I mene, this that Trespas hight : But Resoun conceyveth, of a sight, 3040 Shame, of that I spak aforn. And whan that Shame was thus born.

I durst no more ther make abode, For the cherl, he was so wode; 3160 So gan he threten and manace, And thurgh the haye he did me chace. For feer of him I tremblid and quook, So cherlishly his heed he shook ; And seide, if eft he might me take, 3165 I shulde not from his hondis scape.

Than Bialacoil is fled and mate. And I al sole, disconsolate, Was left aloon in peyne and thought ; For shame, to deth I was nygh brought. Than thought I on myn high foly, 3171 How that my body, utterly, Was yeve to peyne and to martyre ; And therto hadde I so gret yre. That I ne durst the haves passe : 3175 There was non hope, there was no grace. I trowe never man wiste of peyne, But he were laced in Loves cheyne ; Ne no man [wot], and sooth it is, 3180 But-if he love, what anger is. Love holdith his-heest to me right wele, Whan peyne he seide I shulde fele. Non herte may thenke, ne tunge seyne, A quarter of my wo and pevne. I might not with the anger laste; 3185 Myn herte in poynt was for to braste. <sup>7</sup>han I thought on the rose, that so W, s through Daunger cast me fro.

And hote him wel,[him] here to plese, 3385	And yit ne wold I, for al Fraunce,	3435
That thou shalt nevermore him displese.	Do thing to do you displesaunce.'
Who can best serve of flatery,	Than Daunger fil in his entent
Shal plese Daunger most uttirly.'	For to foryeve his maltalent ;
My Freend hath seid to me so wel,	But al his wratthe yit at laste
That he me esid hath somdel, 3390	He hath relesed, I preyde so faste :	3440

And eek allegged of my torment ; For through him had I hardement Agayn to Daunger for to go, To preve if I might meke him so. 3395

To Daunger cam I, al ashamed, The which aforn me hadde blamed,

Love †wher thee list; what recchith me,	His cruel wil for to refreyne,
So [thou] fer fro my roses be?	Though I wepe alwey, and †compleyne,
Trust not on me, for noon assay,	And while I was in this torment,
In any tyme to passe the hay.' 3450	Were come of grace, by god sent,
Thus hath he graunted my prayere.	Fraunchyse, and with hir Pite
Than wente I forth, withouten were,	Fulfild the botoun of bountee
Unto my Freend, and tolde him al,	They go to Daunger anon-right
Which was right joyful of my tale.	To forther me with al hir might,
Hesside, 'Now goth wel thyn affaire, 3455	And helpe in worde and in dede, 3505
He shal to thee be debonaire.	For wel they sough that it was nede.
Though he aforn was dispitons,	First, of hir grace, dame Fraunchyse
He shal heeraftir be gracious.	Hath taken [word] of this empryse:
If he were touchid on som good veyne,	She seide, 'Daunger, gret wrong ye do
He shuld yit rewen on thy peyne. 3460	To worche this man so muche wo, 3510
Suffre, I rede, and no boost make,	Or pynen him so angerly;
Til thon at good mes mayst him take.	It is to you gret vilany.
By suffrance, and [by] wordis softe,	I can not see why, ne how,
A man may overcome[n] ofte	That he hath trespassed ageyn you,
Him that aforn he hadde in drede, 3465	Save that he loveth ; wherfore ye shulde
In bookis sothly as I rede.'	The more in cherete of him holde. 3516
Thus hath my Freend with gret com-	The force of love makith him do this;
fort	Who wolde him blame he dide amis?
Avaunced me with high disport,	He leseth more than ye may do;
Which wolde me good as mich as I.	His peyne is hard, ye may see, lo! 3520
And thanne anoon ful sodeynly 3470	And Love in no wyse wolde consente
I took my leve, and streight I went	That the have power to repente;
Unto the hay; for gret talent	For though that quik ye wolde him sloo,
I had to seen the fresh botom,	Fro Love his herte may not go.
Wherin lay my salvacionn;	Now, swete sir, this it your ese 3525
And Daunger took kepe, if that I 3475	Him for to angre or disese?
Kepe him covenaunt trewly.	Allas, what may it you avaunce
So sore I dradde his manasing,	To doon to him so greet grevance?
I durst not breke[n] his bidding;	What worship is it agayn him take,
For, lest that I were of him shent,	Or on your man a werre make, 3530
I brak not his comaundement, 3480	Sith he so lowly every wyse
For to purchase his good wil.	Is redy, as ye lust devyse?
It was [hard] for to come ther-til,	If Love hath caught him in his lace,
His mercy was to for bhinde;	You for t'obeye in every caas,
I wepte, for I ne might it finde.	And been your suget at your wille, 3535
I compleyned and sighed sore,	Shulde ye therfore willen him ille?
And languisshed evermore,	Ye shulde him spare more, al-out,
For I durst not over go	Than him that is bothe prond and stout.
Unto the rose I loved so.	Curtesye wol that yo socour
Thurghout my doming outerly,	Hem that ben meke undir your cure, 3540
'Than had he knowlege certeinly, 3490	His herte is hard, that wole not meke,
'That Love me ladde in sich a wyse,	Whan men of mekenesse him biseke.'
That in me ther was no feyntyse,	'That is certeyn,' seide Pite;
Falsheed, ne no trecherye.	'We see ofte that humilitee
And yit he, ful of vilanye,	Bothe ire, and also felonye 3545
Of disdeyne, and cruelte, 3495	Venquissheth, and also melancolye;
On me ne wolde have pite,	To stonde forth in such duresse,

This crueltee and wikkednesse. Wherfore I pray you, sir Daungere, For to mayntene no lenger here 3550 Such cruel werre agayn your man, As hoolly youres as ever he can ; Nor that ye worchen no more wo +On this caytif that languisshith so, Which wol no more to you trespasse, 3555 But put him hoolly in your grace. His offense ne was but lyte : The God of Love it was to wyte, That he your thral so gretly is, And if ye harm him, ye doon amis ; 3560 For he hath had ful hard penaunce, Sith that ye refte him th'aquevntaunce Of Bialacoil, his moste joye, Which alle his peynes might acove. He was biforn anoyed sore, 3565 But than ye doubled him wel more; For he of blis hath ben ful bare. Sith Bialacoil was fro him fare. Love hath to him do greet distresse, He hath no nede of more duresse. 3570 Voideth from him your ire, I rede; Ye may not winnen in this dede. Maketh Bialacoil repeire ageyn, And haveth pite upon his peyn ; For Fraunchise wol, and I, Pite, 3575 That merciful to him ye be; And sith that she and I accorde, Have upon him misericorde ; For I you pray, and eek moneste. Nought to refusen our requeste ; 3580 For he is hard and fel of thought, That for us two wol do right nought.'

Daunger ne might no more endure, He meked him unto mesure.

<sup>4</sup> I wol in no wyse,' seith Danngere, 3585 'Denye that ye have asked here; I were to greet uncurtesye. I wol ye have the companye Of Bialacoil, as ye devyse; I wol him lette[n] in no wyse.' 3590

To Bialacoil than wente in hy Fraunchyse, and seide ful curteisly :--'Ye have to longe be deignous Unto this lover, and danngerous, Fro him to withdrawe your presence, 3595 Which hath do to him grete offence, That ye not wolde upon him see; Wherfore a sorowful man is he. Shape ye to paye him, and to plese, Of my love if ye wol have ese. 3600 Fulfil his wil, sith that ye knowe Dannger is daunted and brought lowe Thurgh help of me and of Pite; You †thar no more afered be.'

'I shal do right as ye wil,' 3605 Saith Bialacoil, 'for it is skil, Sith Daunger wol that it so be.' Than Fraunchise hath him sent to me, Bialacoil at the biginning Salued me in his coming. 3610 No straungenes was in him seen, No more than he ne had wrathed been. As faire semblaunt than shewed he me. And goodly, as aforn did he: And by the honde, withouten doute, 3615 Within the haye, right al aboute He ladde me, with right good chere, Al environ the vergere, That Daunger had me chased fro. Now have I leve over-al to go; 3620 Now am I raised, at my devys, Fro helle unto paradys. Thus Bialacoil, of gentilnesse, With alle his peyne and besinesse, Hath shewed me, only of grace. 3625 The estres of the swote place.

I saw the rose, whan I was nigh, Was gretter woxen, and more high, Fresh, rody, and fair of hewe, Of colour ever yliche newe, 3630 And whan I had it longe seen, I saugh that through the leves grene The rose spredde to spanishing ; To sene it was a goodly thing. But it ne was so spred on brede. 3635 That men within might knowe the sede ; For it covert was and [en]close Bothe with the leves and with the rose. The stalk was even and grene upright, It was theron a goodly sight ; 3640 And wel the better, withouten wene, For the seed was not [y]-sene. Ful faire it spradde, +god it blesse ! For suche another, as I gesse, Aforn ne was, ne more vermayle. 3645 I was abawed for merveyle. For ever, the fairer that it was, The more I am bounden in Loves laas. Longe I abood there, soth to saye,

The Romaunt of the Rose.

[FRAGMENT B.

30 000 000
Til Bialacoil I gan to praye, 3650	Whos might is knowe fer and wyde,
Whan that I saw him in no wyse	For she is modir of Cupyde,
To me warnen his servyse,	The God of Love, blinde as stoon,
That he me wolde graunte a thing,	That helpith lovers many oon.
Which to remembre is wel sitting;	This lady brought in hir right hond 3705
This is to sayne, that of his grace 365;
He wolde me yeve leyser and space	Wherof the flawme and hote fyr
To me that was so desirous	Hath many a lady in desyr
To have a kissing precious	Of love brought, and sore het,
Of the goodly freshe rose,	And in hir servise hir thertes set. 3710
That +swetely smelleth in my nose; 3660
'For if it you displesed nought,	Right wondirful of apparayle;
I wolde gladly, as I have sought,	By hir atyre so bright and shene,
Have a cos therof freely	Men might perceyve wel, and seen,
Of your yeft; for certainly	She was not of religioun. 3715
I wol non have but by your leve, 366
So loth me were you for to greve.'	Nor of [hir] robe, nor of tresour,
He sayde, 'Frend, so god me spede,	Of broche, †nor of hir riche attour;
Of Chastite I have suche drede,	Ne of hir girdil aboute hir syde,
Thou shuldest not warned be for me,	For that I nil not long abyde. 3720
But I dar not, for Chastite. 3670
Agayn hir dar I not misdo,	She was arayed richely.
For alwey biddeth she me so	Devoyd of pryde certeyn she was ;
To yeve no lover leve to kisse ;	To Bialacoil she wente a pas,
For who therto may winnen, y-wis,	And to him shortly, in a clause, 3725
He of the surplus of the pray 367
May live in hope to get som day.	Ye been of port so daungerous
For who so kissing may attayne,	Unto this lover, and deynous,
Of loves peyne hath, soth to sayne,	To graunte him no-thing but a kis?
The beste and most avenaunt,	To werne it him ye doon amis; 3730
And ernest of the remenaunt.' 3680
Of his answere I syghed sore ;	Is Loves servaunt, as ye may see,
I durst assaye him tho no more,	And hath beaute, wher-through [he] is
I had such drede to greve him ay.	Worthy of love to have the blis.
A man shulde not to muche assaye	How he is semely, biholde and see, 3735
To chafe his frend out of mesure, 368
Nor put his lyf in aventure ;	How he is swote and debonair,
For no man at the firste stroke	Of age yong, lusty, and fair.
Ne may nat felle doun an oke ;	Ther is no lady so hauteyne,
Nor of the reisins have the wyne,	Duchesse, countesse, ne chasteleyne, 3740
Til grapes trype and wel afyne 3690
Be sore empressid, I you ensure,	For to refuse him outerly,
And drawen out of the pressure.	His breeth is also good and swete,
But I, forpeyned wonder stronge,	And eke his lippis rody, and mete
+Thought that I abood right longe	Only to +pleyen, and to kisse. 3745
Aftir the kis, in peyne and wo, 369,
Sith I to kis desyred so :	His teeth arn also whyte and clene;
Til that, trewing on my distresse,	Me thinkith wrong, withouten wene,
Ther +to me Venus the goddesse,	If ye now werne him, trustith me,
Which ay werreyeth Chastite,	To graunte that a kis have he; 3750
Came of hir grace, to socoure me, 3700

The more tyme shul ye waste.'	To me-ward bar he right gret hate,
Whan the flawme of the verry brond,	Espying me erly and late,
That Venus brought in hir right hond,	Til he hath seen the gret[e] chere 3805
Had Bialacoil with hete smete, 3755	Of Bialacoil and me y-fere.
Anoon he +bad, withouten lette,	He mighte not his tunge withstonde
Graunte to me the rose kisse.	Worse to reporte than he fonde,
Than of my peyne I gan to lisse,	He was so ful of cursed rage ;
And to the rose anoon wente I,	It sat him wel of his linage, 3810
And kissid it ful feithfully. 3760	For him an Irish womman bar.
Thar no man aske if I was blythe,	His tunge was fyled sharp, and squar,
Whan the savour soft and lythe	Poignaunt and right kerving,
Strook to myn herte withoute more,	And wonder bitter in speking.
And me alegged of my sore,	For whan that he me gan espye, 3815
So was I ful of joye and blisse. 3765	He swoor, afferming sikirly,
It is fair sich a flour to kisse,	Bitwene Bialacoil and me
It was so swote and saverous.	Was yvel aquayntaunce and privee.
I might not be so anguisshous,	He spak therof so folily,
That I mote glad and joly be,	That he awakid Jelousy; 3820
Whan that I remembre me. 3770	Which, al afrayed in his rysing,
Yit ever among, sothly to seyn,	Whan that he herde [him] jangling,
I suffre noye and moche peyn.	He ran anoon, as he were wood,
The see may never be so stil,	To Bialacoil ther that he stood ;
That with a litel winde it thil	Which hadde lever in this caas 3825
Overwhelme and turne also, 3775	Have been at Reynes or Amyas;
As it were wood, in wawis go.	For foot-hoot, in his felonye
Aftir the calm the trouble sone	To him thus seide Jelousye :
Mot folowe, and chaunge as the mone.	'Why hast thou been so necligent,
Right so fareth Love, that selde in oon	To kepen, whan I was absent, 3330
Whan they in ese wene best to live,	To me thou haddist no reward,
They been with tempest al fordrive.	To truste (to thy confusioun)
Who serveth Love, can telle of wo;	Him thus, to whom suspeccioun
The stoundemele joye mot overgo.	I have right greet, for it is nede; 3835
Now he hurteth, and now he cureth, 3785	It is wel shewed by the dede.
For selde in oo poynt Love endureth.	Greet faute in thee now have I founde ;
Now is it right me to procede,	By god, anoon thou shalt be bounde,
How Shame gan medle and take hede,	And faste loken in a tour,
Thurgh whom felle angres I have had;	Withoute refuyt or socour. 3840
And how the stronge wal was maad, 3790	For Shame to long hath be thee fro ;
And the castell of brede and lengthe,	Over sone she was ago.
That God of Love wan with his strengthe.	Whan thou hast lost bothe drede and fere,
Al this in romance wil I sette,	It semed wel she was not here.
And for no-thing ne wil I lette,	She was [not] bisy, in no wyse, 3845
So that it lyking to hir be, 3795	To kepe thee and [to] chastyse,
That is the flour of beaute ;	And for to helpen Chastitee
For she may best my labour quyte,	To kepe the roser, as thinkith me.
That I for hir love shal endyte.	For than this boy-knave so boldely
Wikkid-Tunge, that the covyne	Ne sholde not have be hardy, 3850
Of every lover can devyne 3800	[Ne] in this +verger had such game,
Worst, and addith more somdel,	Which now me turneth to gret shame.'
(For Wikkid-Tunge seith never wel),	Bialacoil nist what to sey ;

The Romaunt of the Rose. [FRAGMENT B.

Ful fayn he wolde have fled awey,		Of my foly I me repente ;	3905
For fere han hid, nere than he	3855	Now wol I hool sette myn entente
Al sodeynly took him with me.		To kepe, bothe +loude and stille,
And whan I saugh he hadde so,		Bialacoil to do your wille.'
This Jelousye, take us two,		'Shame, Shame,' seyde Jelousy,
I was astoned, and knew no rede,		'To be bitrasshed gret drede have I.	3910
But fledde awey for verrey drede.	3860	Lecherye hath clombe so hye,
Than Shame cam forth ful simply	;	That almost blered is myn ye;
She wende have trespaced ful gretly	;	No wonder is, if that drede have I.
Humble of hir port, and made it sim		Over-al regnith Lechery,
Wering a vayle in stede of wimple,	^ /	Whos might [yit] growith night and	day.
As nonnis doon in hir abbey.	3865	Bothe in cloistre and in abbey	3916
Bicause hir herte was in affray,		Chastite is werreyed over-al.
She gan to speke, within a throwe,		Therfore I wol with siker wal
To Jelousye, right wonder lowe.		Close bothe roses and roser.
First of his grace she bisought,		I have to longe in this maner	3920
And seide : 'Sire, ne leveth nought	2870	Left hem unclosid wilfully;	0,
Wikkid-Tunge, that fals espye,	3070	Wherfore I am right inwardly
Which is so glad to feyne and lye.		Sorowful and repente me.
He hath you maad, thurgh flatering,		But now they shal no lenger be
On Bialacoil a fals lesing.		Unclosid; and yit I drede sore,	3925
His falsnesse is not now anew,	2800	I shal repente ferthermore,	39*3
It is to long that he him knew.	3875	For the game goth al amis.
This is not the firste day;		Counsel I +mot [take] newe, y-wis.
For Wikkid-Tunge hath custom ay		I have to longe tristed thee,
Yongé folkis to bewreye,		But now it shal no lenger be;	0000
And false lesinges on hem +leye.	-00.	For he may best, in every cost,	3930
'Yit nevertheles I see among,	3880	Disceyve, that men tristen most.
		I see wel that I am nygh shent,
That the loigne it is so longe
Of Bialacoil, hertis to lure,		But-if I sette my ful entent
In Loves servise for to endure,		Remedye to purveye.	3935
Drawing suche folk him to,	3885	Therfore close I shal the weye
That he had no-thing with to do;		Fro hem that wol the rose espye,
But in sothnesse I trowe nought,		And come to wayte me vilanye,
That Bialacoil hadde ever in though	t	For, in good feith and in trouthe,
To do trespace or vilanye;		I wol not lette, for no slouthe,	3940
But, for his modir Curtesye	3890	To live the more in sikirnesse,
Hath taught him ever [for] to be		+To make anoon a forteresse,
Good of aqueyntaunce and privee ;		+To enclose the roses of good savour.
For he loveth non hevinesse,		In middis shal I make a tour
But mirthe and pley, and al gladness	se;	To putte Bialacoil in prisoun,	3945
He hateth alle +trecherous,	3895	For ever I drede me of tresoun.
Soleyn folk and envious ;		I trowe I shal him kepe so,
For [wel] ye witen how that he		That he shal have no might to go

But may I lyve a litel while, He shal forthenke his fair semblaunt.' And with that word cam Drede avaunt, Which was abasshed, and in gret fere, Whan he wiste Jelousye was there. 3060 He was for drede in such affray, That not a word durste he say, But quaking stood ful stille aloon. Til Jelousye his wey was goon, Save Shame, that him not forsook ; 3965 Bothe Drede and she ful sore quook : [Til] that at laste Drede abrevde. And to his cosin Shame sevde : 'Shame,' he seide, 'in sothfastnesse, To me it is gret hevinesse, 3970 That the novse so fer is go. And the sclaundre of us two. But sith that it is [so] bifalle, We may it not ageyn [do] calle, Whan onis sprongen is a fame, 3975 For many a yeer withouten blame We han been, and many a day ; For many an April and many a May We han [y]-passed, not [a]shamed. Til Jelousye hath us blamed 3980 Of mistrust and suspecioun Causeles, withouten enchesoun. Go we to Daunger hastily. And late us shewe him openly, That he hath not aright [y]-wrought, 3985 Whan that he sette nought his thought To kepe better the purpryse ; In his doing he is not wyse, He hath to us [y]-do gret wrong, That hath suffred now so long 3990 Bialacoil to have his wille. Alle his lustes to fulfille. He must amende it utterly, Or ellis shal he +vilaynsly Exvled be out of this londe : 3995 For he the werre may not withstonde Of Jelousye, nor the greef, Sith Bialacoil is at mischeef." To Daunger, Shame and Drede anoon

The rights wey ben (bothe a)-goon. 4000 The cherl they founden hem aforn Ligging undir an hawethorn. Undir his heed no pilowe was, But in the stede a trusse of gras. He slombred, and a nappe he took, 4005 Til Shame pitously him shook,

And greet manace on him gan make. 'Why slepist thou whan thou shuld wake?' Quod Shame; 'thou dost us vilanye ! Who tristith thee, he doth folve, 4010 To kepe roses or botouns, Whan they ben faire in hir sesouns. Thou art woxe to familiere Where thou shulde be straunge of chere, Stout of thy port, redy to greve. 4015 Thou dost gret foly for to leve Bialacoil here-in, to calle The vonder man to shenden us alle. Though that thou slepe, we may here Of Jelousie gret novse here. 4020 Art thou now late? ryse up tin hy, And stoppe sone and deliverly Alle the gappis of the hay ; Do no favour, I thee pray, It fallith no-thing to thy name 4025 +Make fair semblaunt, where thou maist blame.

' If Bialacoil be swete and free, Dogged and fel thou shuldist be : Froward and outrageous, y-wis ; A cherl chaungeth that curteis is. 1030 This have I herd ofte in seving. That man [ne] may, for no daunting, Make a sperhauke of a bosarde. Alle men wole holde thee for musarde, That debonair have founden thee ; 4035 It sit thee nought curteis to be; To do men plesaunce or servyse, In thee it is recreanndyse. Let thy werkis, fer and nere, Be lyke thy name, which is Daungere.'

Than, al abawid in shewing, 4041 Anoon spak Dreed, right thus seying, And seide, "Daunger, I drede me That thou ne wolt [not] bisy be To kepe that thou hast to kepe ; 4045 Whan thou shuldist wake, thouart aslepe, Thou shalt be greved certevnly. If thee aspye Jelousy; Or if he finde thee in blame. He hath to-day assailed Shame. 4050 And chased awey, with gret manace, Bialacoil out of this place. And swereth shortly that he shall Enclose him in a sturdy wal : And al is for thy wikkednesse, 4055 For that thee faileth straungenesse.

The Romaunt of the Rose.

Thyn herte, I trowe, be failed al ; Thou shalt repente in special, If Jelousve the sothe knewe: Thou shalt forthenke, and sore rewe.' 4060 With that the cherl his clubbe gan shake, Frouning his eyen gan to make, And hidous chere ; as man in rage, For ire he brente in his visage. Whan that he herde him blamed so, 4065 He seide, 'Out of my wit I go ; To be discomfit I have gret wrong. Certis, I have now lived to long, Sith I may not this closer kepe ; Al quik I wolde be dolven depe, 4070 If any man shal more repeire Into this garden, for foule or faire. Myn herte for ire goth a-fere, That I lete any entre here. I have do foly, now I see, 4075 But now it shal amended be. Who settith foot here any more, Truly, he shal repente it sore ; For no man mo into this place Of me to entre shal have grace. 4080 Lever I hadde, with swerdis tweyne, Thurgh-out myn herte, in every veyne Perced to be, with many a wounde," Than slouthe shulde in me be founde. From hennesforth, by night or day, 4085 I shal defende it, if I may, Withouten any excepcioun Of ech maner condicioun : And if I tany man it graunte, Holdeth me for recreaunte." 4000 Than Daunger on his feet gan stonde, And hente a burdoun in his honde. Wroth in his ire, ne lefte he nought, But thurgh the verger he hath sought. If he might finde hole or trace, 4005 Wher-thurgh that me[n] mot forth by pace, Or any gappe, he dide it close, That no man mighte touche a rose Of the roser al aboute ; He shitteth every man withoute. 4100 Thus day by day Daunger is wers,

More wondirful and more divers, And feller eek than ever he was; For him ful oft I singe 'allas !' For I ne may nought, thurgh his ire, 4105 Recover that I most desire. Myn herte, allas, wol brest a-two,

For Bialacoil I wratthed so. For certeynly, in every membre I quake, whan I me remembre 4110 Of the botoun, which [that] I wolde Fulle ofte a day seen and biholde. And whan I thenke upon the kisse, And how muche joye and blisse I hadde thurgh the savour swete, 4115 For wante of it I grone and grete. Me thenkith I fele yit in my nose The swete sayour of the rose. And now I woot that I mot go So fer the fresshe floures fro, 4120 To me ful welcome were the deeth ; Absens therof, allas, me sleeth ! For whylom with this rose, allas, I touched nose, mouth, and face ; But now the deeth I must abyde. 4125 But Love consente, another tyde, That onis I touche may and kisse, I trowe my peyne shal never lisse. Theron is al my coveityse, Which brent myn herte in many wyse. Now shal repaire agayn sighinge, 4131 Long wacche on nightis, and no slepinge; Thought in wisshing, torment, and wo, With many a turning to and fro, That half my peyne I can not telle. 4135 For I am fallen into helle From paradys and welthe, the more My turment greveth ; more and more Anoyeth now the bittirnesse. That I toforn have felt swetnesse. 4140 And Wikkid-Tunge, thurgh his falshede, Causeth al my wo and drede. On me he leyeth a pitous charge, Bicause his tunge was to large.

Now it is tyme, shortly that I 4145 Telle you som-thing of Jelousy, That was in gret suspecioun. Aboute him lefte he no masoun. [FRAGMENT B.

A man speken of lecherye.	4260	Defenced with the stronge walle.	4310
Everich of hem hath somme vyce ;		Now Jelousye ful wel may be
Oon is dishonest, another is nyce ;		Of drede devoid, in libertee,
If oon be ful of vilanye,		Whether that he slepe or wake ;
Another hath a likerous ye;		For of his roses may noon be take.
If oon be ful of wantonesse,	4265	But I, allas, now morne shal;	4315
Another is a chideresse.	4203	Bicause I was without the wal,
Thus Wikked-Tunge (god yeve	him	Ful moche dole and mone I made.
		Who hadde wist what wo I hadde, shame !) Can putte hem everichone in blame		I trowe he wolde have had pitee.
Withoute desert and causeles;		Love to deere had sold to me	4320
	1070	The good that of his love hadde I.	45
He lyeth, though they been giltles.	4270	I twende a bought it al queyntly;
I have pite to seen the sorwe,		But now, thurgh doubling of my pey	m.
That +waketh bothe eve and morwe,		I see he wolde it selle ageyn,
To innocents doth such grevaunce ;		And me a newe bargeyn lere,	1225
I pray god yeve him evel chaunce,			4325
That he ever so bisy is	4275	The which al-out the more is dere,
Of any womman to seyn amis !		For the solace that I have lorn,
Eek Jelousye god confounde,		Than I hadde it never aforn.
That hath [y]-maad a tour so rounde		Certayn I am ful lyk, indeed,
And made aboute a garisoun		To him that cast in erthe his seed ;	4330
To sette Bialacoil in prisoun ;	4280	And hath joie of the newe spring,
The which is shet there in the tour,		Whan it greneth in the ginning,
Ful longe to holde there sojour,		And is also fair and fresh of flour,
There for to live[n] in penaunce.		Lusty to seen, swote of odour;
And for to do him more grevaunce,		But er he it in sheves shere,	4335
+Ther hath ordeyned Jelousye	4285	May falle a weder that shal it dere,
An olde vekke, for to espye		And make[n] it to fade and falle,
The maner of his governaunce ;		The stalk, the greyn, and floures all	э;
The whiche devel, in hir enfaunce,		That to the † tilier is fordone
Had lerned [muche] of Loves art,		The hope that he hadde to sone.	4340
And of his pleyes took hir part;	4290	I drede, certeyn, that so fare I;
She was †expert in his servyse.		For hope and travaile sikerly
She knew ech wrenche and every gy	se	Ben me biraft al with a storm ;
Of love, and every [loveres] wyle,		The floure nil seden of my corn.
It was [the] harder hir to gyle.		For Love hath so avaunced me,	4345
Of Bialacoil she took ay hede,	4295	Whan I bigan my privitee
That ever he liveth in wo and drede.		To Bialacoil al for to telle,
He kepte him coy and eek privee,		Whom I ne fond froward ne felle,
Lest in him she hadde see		But took a-gree al hool my play.
Any foly countenaunce,		But Love is of so hard assay,	4350
For she knew al the olde daunce.	4300	That al at onis he reved me,
And aftir this, whan Jelousye		Whan I twend best aboven have be.
Had Bialacoil in his baillye,		It is of Love, as of Fortune,
And shette him up that was so free,		That chaungeth ofte, and nil contun
For seure of him he wolde be,		Which whylom wol on folke smyle,
He trusteth sore in his castel ;	4305	And gloumbe on hem another whyle
The stronge werk him lyketh wel.		Now freend, now foo, [thou] shalt him
He dradde nat that no glotouns"		For [in] a twinkling tourneth hir wh	eel.
Shulde stele his roses or botouns.		She can wrythe hir heed awey,
The roses weren assured alle,		This is the concours of hir pley ;	4360

She can areyse that doth morne,	For comfortles the deeth I drede.
And whirle adown, and overturne	Ow I not wel to have distresse,
Who sittith hieghst, +al as hir +list;	Whan false, thurgh hir wikkednesse,
A fool is he that wol hir trist.	And traitours, that arn envyous, 4415
For it tam I that am com down 4365	To noyen me be so coragious ?
Thurgh tchange and revolucioun !	A, Bialacoil ! ful wel I see,
Sith Bialacoil mot fro me twinne,	That they hem shape to disceyve thee,
Shet in the prisoun yond withinne,	To make thee buxom to hir lawe,
His absence at myn herte I fele;	And with hir corde thee to drawe 4420
For al my joye and al myn hele 4370	Wher-so hem lust, right at hir wil;
Was in him and in the rose,	I drede they have thee brought thertil.
That but yon +wal, which him doth close,	Withoute comfort, thought me sleeth ;
Open, that I may him see,	This game wol bringe me to my deeth.
Love nil not that I cured be	For if your +gode wille I lese, 4425
Of the peynes that I endure, 4375	I mote be deed ; I may not chese.
Nor of my cruel aventure.	And if that thou foryete me,
A, Bialacoil, myn owne dere !	Myn herte shal never in lyking be;
Though thou be now a prisonere,	Nor elles-where finde solace,
Kepe atte leste thyn herte to me,	If I be put out of your grace, 4430
And suffre not that it daunted be ; 4380	As it shal never been, I hope ;
Ne lat not Jelousye, in his rage,	Than shulde I falle[n] in wanhope.
Putten thyn herte in no servage.	Anter prese a resolution service
Although he chastice thee withoute,	[Here, at 1. 4070 of the French text,
And make thy body unto him loute,	ends the work of G. de Lorris; and
Have herte as hard as dyamaunt, 4385	begins the work of Jean de Meun.]
Stedefast, and nought pliaunt ;	begins the work of bean de mean.
In prisoun though thy body be,	Allas, in wanhope ?nay, pardee !
At large kepe thyn herte free.	For I wol never dispeired be.
A trewe herte wol not plye	If Hope me faile, than am I 4435
For no manace that it may drye. 4390	Ungracious and unworthy;
If Jelousye doth thee payne,	In Hope I wol comforted be,
Quyte him his whyle thus agayne,	For Love, whan he bitaught hir me,
To venge thee, atte leest in thought,	Seide, that Hope, wher-so I go,
If other way thou mayest nought;	Shulde ay be relees to my wo. 4440
And in this wyse sotilly 4395	But what and she my balis bete,
Worche, and winne the maistry.	And be to me curteis and swete?
But yit I am in gret affray	She is in no-thing ful certeyn.
Lest thou do not as I say ;	Lovers she put in ful gret peyn,
I drede thou canst me greet maugree,	And makith hem with wo to dele. 4445
That thou emprisoned art for me; 4400	Hir fair biheest disceyveth fele,
But that [is] not for my trespas,	For she wol bihote, sikirly,
For thurgh me never discovered was	And failen aftir outrely.
Yit thing that oughte be secree.	A ! that is a ful noyous thing !
Wel more anoy [ther] is in me,	For many a lover, in loving, 4450
Than is in thee, of this mischaunce ; 4405	Hangeth upon hir, and trusteth fast,
For I endure more hard penaunce	Whiche lese hir travel at the last.
Than any [man] can seyn or thinke,	Of thing to comen she woot right nought;
That for the sorwe almost I sinke.	Therfore, if it be wysly sought,
Whan I remembre me of my wo,	Hir counseille, foly is to take. 4455
Ful nygh out of my wit I go. 4410
Inward myn herte I fele blede,	A ful good silogisme, I drede

That he, that wol him with hir holde, For how shuld I evermore him seen ?
Hadde alle tymes this nurnes clere. He may not out and that is wrong
Withoute deceyte, or any were. Bicause the tour is so strong.
That she desireth sikirly ; How shulde he out ? by whos prowesse,
Whan I hir blamed, I did foly. 4470 Out of so strong a forteresse? 4520
But what avayleth hir good wille, By me, certeyn, it nil be do;
Whan she ne may staunche my stounde God woot, I have no wit therto !
ille? But wel I woot I was in rage,
That helpith litel, that she may do, Whan I to Love dide homage.
Outake biheest unto my wo. Who was in cause, in sothfastnesse, 4525
And heeste certeyn, in no wyse, 4475 But hir-silf, dame Idelnesse, Withoute yift, is not to +pryse. Which me conveyed, thurgh fair prayere,
Whan heest and deed a-sundir varie, To entre into that fair vergere?
They doon [me have] a gret contrarie. She was to blame me to leve,
Thus am I possed up and down The which now doth me sore greve. 4530
With dool, thought, and confusioun; 4480 A foolis word is nought to trowe,
Of my disese ther is no noumbre. Ne worth an appel for to lowe;
Daunger and Shame me encumbre, Men shulde him snibbe bittirly,
Drede also, and Jelousye, At pryme temps of his foly.
And Wikked-Tunge, ful of envye, I was a fool, and she me leved, 4535
Of whiche the sharpe and cruel ire 4485 Thurgh whom I am right nought releved. Ful of t me put in gret martire. She accomplished al my wil,
They han my joye fully let, They have my joye fully let,
Sith Bialacoil they have bishet Resoun me seide what shulde falle.
Frome in prisoun wikkidly, Whom I love so entierly, A fool my-silf I may wel calle, 4400 That love asyde I had not levde,
That it wol my bane be, And trowed that dame Resoun seyde.
But I the soner may him see. Resoun had bothe skile and right,
And yit moreover, wurst of alle, Whan she me blamed, with al hir might,
Ther is set to kepe, foule hir bifalle ! To medle of love, that hath me shent;
A rimpled vekke, fer ronne in age, 4495 But certeyn now I wol repent. 4546
Frowning and yelowe in hir visage, 'And shulde I repent? Nay, parde !
Which in awayte lyth day and night, A fals traitour than shulde I be.
That noon of hem may have a sight. The develles engins wolde me take,
Now moot my sorwe enforced be; If I my +lorde wolde forsake, 4550
Ful soth it is, that Love yaf me 4500 Or Bialacoil falsly bitraye.
Three wonder yiftes of his grace, Shulde I at mischeef hate him? nay,
Which I have lorn now in this place, Sith he now, for his curtesye, Sith they ne may, withoute drede, Is in prisoun of Jelousye.
Helpen but litel, who taketh hede. Curtesye certeyn dide he me, 4555
For here availeth no Swete-Thought, 4505 So †muche, it may not yolden be,
And Swete-Speche helpith right nought. Whan he the hay passen me lete,
The thridde was called Swete-Loking, To kisse the rose, faire and swete :

Shulde I therfore cunne him maugree? Nay, certeynly, it shal not be ; 4560 For Love shal never, tif god wil, Here of me, thurgh word or wil, Offence or complaynt, more or lesse, Neither of Hope nor Idilnesse ; For certis, it were wrong that I 4565 Hated hem for hir curtesve. Ther is not ellis, but suffre and thinke, And waken whan I shulde winke ; Abyde in hope, til Love, thurgh chaunce, Sende me socour or allegeaunce, 4570 Expectant ay til I may mete To geten mercy of that swete.

'Whylom I thinke how Love to me Sevde he wolde take[n] att[e] gree My servise, if unpacience 4575 Caused me to doon offence. He seyde, "In thank I shal it take, And high maister eek thee make. If wikkednesse ne reve it thee; But sone, I trowe, that shal not be." 4580 These were his wordis by and by : It semed he loved me trewly. Now is ther not but serve him wele. If that I thinke his thank to fele. My good, myn harm, lyth hool in me; 4586 In Love may no defaute be ; For trewe Love +failid never man. Sothly, the faute mot nedis than (As God forbede !) be founde in me, And how it cometh, I can not see. 4500 Now lat it goon as it may go; Whether Love wol socoure me or slo, He may do hool on me his wil. I am so sore bounde him til. From his servyse I may not fleen : 4595 For lyf and deth, withouten wene, Is in his hand : I may not chese : He may me do bothe winne and lese. And sith so sore he doth me greve, Yit, if my lust he wolde acheve 4600 To Bialacoil goodly to be, I yeve no force what felle on me. For though I dye, as I mot nede, I praye Love, of his goodlihede, To Bialacoil do gentilnesse, 4605 For whom I live in such distresse, That I mote deven for penaunce. But first, withoute repentaunce, I wol me confesse in good entent,

And make in haste my testament, 4610 As lovers doon that felen smerte :--To Bialacoil leve I myn herte Al hool, withoute departing, Or doublenesse of repenting,'

Coment Raisoun vient a L'amant.

Thus as I made my passage 4615 In compleynt, and in cruel rage. And I thist wher to finde a leche That couthe unto myn helping eche, Sodevnly agayn comen doun Out of hir tour I saugh Resoun, 4620 Discrete and wys, and ful plesaunt, And of hir porte ful avenaunt. The righte wey she took to me, Which stood in greet perplexite. That was posshed in every side, 4625 That I nist where I might abyde, Til she, demurely sad of chere, Seide to me as she com nere :-

<sup>6</sup> Myn owne freend, art thou yit greved? How is this quarel yit acheved 4630 Of Loves syde? Anoon me telle; Hast thou not yit of love thy fille? Art thou not wery of thy servyse That thee hath [pyned] in sich wyse? What joye hast thou in thy loving? 4635 Is it swete or bitter thing? Canst thou yit chese, lat me see, What best thy socour mighte be?

'Thou servest a ful noble lord, That maketh thee thral for thy reward, Which ay renewith thy turment, 4641 With foly so he hath thee blent. Thou felle in mischeef thilke day. Whan thou didest, the sothe to say, Obeysaunce and eek homage ; 4645 Thou wroughtest no-thing as the sage. Whan thou bicam his liege man, Thou didist a gret foly than : Thou wistest not what fel therto, With what lord thou haddist to do, 4650 If thou haddist him wel knowe, Thou haddist nought be brought so lowe : For if thou wistest what it were, Thou noldist serve him half a yeer, Not a weke, nor half a day, 4655 Ne yit an hour withoute delay, Ne never than loved paramours,

And namely tho that sparand bene. That wol not wasshe hir hertes clene Of the filthe, nor of the vyce 5365 Of gredy brenning avaryce. The riche man ful fond is, y-wis, That weneth that he loved is. If that his herte it undirstood, It is not he, it is his good ; 5370 He may wel witen in his thought, His good is loved, and he right nought, For if he be a nigard eke, Men wole not sette by him a leke. But haten him : this is the soth. 5375 Lo, what profit his catel doth ! Of every man that may him see. It geteth him nought but enmitee. But he amende thim of that vyce, And knowe him-silf, he is not wys. 5380 'Certis, he shulde ay freendly be, To gete him love also ben free, Or ellis he is not wyse ne sage

Or ellis he is not wyse ne sage No more than is a gote ramage. Thus hath Richesse us alle told; And whan Richesse us this recorded, 5845 Withouten hir we been accorded.

'And we finde in our accordaunce, That False-Semblant and Abstinaunce, With alle the folk of hir bataile, Shulle at the hinder gate assayle, 5850 That Wikkid-Tunge hath in keping, With his Normans, fulle of jangling. And with hem Curtesie and Largesse. 'My moder is of greet prowesse; She hath tan many a forteresse, That cost hath many a pound er this, 5895 Ther I nas not present, y-wis; And yit men seide it was my dede; But I come never in that stede; Ne me ne lyketh, so mote I thee, Such ttoures take withoute me. For-why me thenketh that, in no wyse, It may ben eleped but marchandise.

'Go bye a courser, blak or whyte, And pay therfor ; than art thou quyte. The marchaunt oweth thee right nought, Ne thou him, whan thou [hast] it bought. I wol not selling clepe yeving, 5907 For selling axeth no guerdoning ; Here lyth no thank, ne no meryte, That oon goth from that other al quyte. But this selling is not semblable; 5911 For, whan his hors is in the stable, He may it selle ageyn, pardee, And winne on it, such hap may be; Al may the man not lese, y-wis, 5915 For at the leest the skin is his. Or elles, if it so bityde That he wol kepe his hors to ryde, Yit is he lord av of his hors. But thilke chaffare is wel wors. 5920 There Venus entremeteth nought ; For who-so such chaffare hath bought, He shal not worchen so wysly, That he ne shal lese al outerly Bothe his money and his chaffare ; 5925 But the seller of the ware The prys and profit have shal, Certeyn, the byer shal lese al; For he ne can so dere it bye To have lordship and ful maistrye, 5930 Ne have power to make letting Neither for yift ne for preching, That of his chaffare, maugre his, Another shal have as moche, y-wis, If he wol yeve as moche as he, 5935 Of what contrey so that he be ; Or for right nought, so happe may,

If he can flater hir to hir pay. Ben than suche marchaunts wyse? No. but fooles in every wyse. 5940 Whan they bye such thing wilfully, Ther-as they lese her good +fully. But natheles, this dar I saye, My moder is not wont to paye. For she is neither so fool ne nyce, 5945 To entremete hir of sich vyce. But truste wel, he shal pave al. That repente of his bargeyn shal, Whan Poverte put him in distresse. Al were he scoler to Richesse. 5950 That is for me in gret verning. Whan she assenteth to my willing.

' But, [by] my moder seint Venus, And by hir fader Saturnus. That hir engendrid by his lyf, 5955 But not upon his wedded wyf! Yit wol I more unto you swere, To make this thing the seurere ; Now by that feith, and that +leautee +I owe to alle my brethren free, 5960 Of which ther nis wight under heven That can her fadres names neven. So dyvers and so many ther be That with my moder have be privee ! Yit wolde I swere, for sikernesse, 5965 The pole of helle to my witnesse. Now drinke I not this yeer clarree. If that I lye, or forsworn be ! (For of the goddes the usage is, That who-so him forswereth amis. 5970 Shal that yeer drinke no clarree). Now have I sworn y-nough, pardee ; If I forswere me, than am I lorn, But I wol never be forsworn. Sith Richesse hath me failed here, 5975 She shal abye that trespas +dere, At leeste wey, but [she] hir arme With swerd, or sparth, or gisarme. For certes, sith she loveth not me. Fro thilke tyme that she may see 5080 The castel and the tour to-shake. In sory tyme she shal awake. If I may grype a riche man, I shal so pulle him, if I can, That he shal, in a fewe stoundes, 5985 Lese alle his markes and his poundes. I shal him make his pens outslinge. But-[if] they in his gerner springe :

Our maydens shal eek plukke him so, That him shal neden fetheres mo. 5990 And make him selle his lond to spende, But he the bet cunne him defende. · 'Pore men han maad hir lord of me : Although they not so mighty be, That they may fede me in delvt. 5995 I wol not have hem in despyt. No good man hateth hem, as I gesse ; For chinche and feloun is Richesse, That so can chase hem and dispyse, And hem defoule in sondry wyse. 6000 They loven ful bet, so god me spede, Than doth the riche, chinchy +gnede, And been, in good feith, more stable And trewer, and more serviable : And therfore it suffyseth me 6005 Hir goode herte, and hir +leautee. They han on me set al hir thought, And therfore I forgete hem nought. I +wolde hem bringe in greet noblesse, If that I were god of Richesse, 6010 As I am god of Love, sothly, Such routhe upon hir pleynt have I. Therfore I must his socour be, That pevneth him to serven me : For if he deyde for love of this, 6015 Than semeth in me no love ther is."

'Sir,' seide they, 'sooth is, every del, That ve reherce, and we wot wel Thilk oth to holde is resonable : For it is good and covenable, 6020 That ye on riche men han sworn. For, sir, this wot we wel biforn ; If riche men doon you homage, That is as fooles doon outrage ; But ye shul not forsworen be, 6025 Ne let therfore to drinke clarree, Or piment maked fresh and newe. Ladyes shulle hem such pepir brewe, If that they falle into hir laas. That they for wo mowe sevn 'Allas !' Ladyes shuln ever so curteis be. 6031 That they shal guyte your oth al free. Ne seketh never other vicaire. For they shal speke with hem so faire That ye shal holde you payed ful wel, Though ye you medle never a del. 6036 Lat ladies worche with hir thinges. They shal hem telle so fele tydinges. And moeve hem eke so many requestis

By flatery, that not honest is, 6040 And therto yeve hem such thankinges, What with kissing, and with talkinges, That certes, if they trowed be, Shal never leve hem lond ne fee That it nil as the moeble fare, 6045 Of which they first delivered are. Now may ye telle us al your wille, And we your hestes shal fulfille.

<sup>6</sup> But Fals-Semblant dar not, for drede Of you, sir, medle him of this dede, 6050 For he seith that ye been his fo; He not, if ye wol worche him wo. Wherfore we pray you alle, beau-sire, That ye forgive him now your ire, And that he may dwelle, as your man, With Abstinence, his dere lemman ; 6056 This our accord and our wil now.'

' Parfay,' seide Love, 'I graunte it yow; I wol wel holde him for my man : 6050 Now lat him come:' and he forth ran. 'Fals-Semblant,' quod Love, 'in this wyse I take thee here to my servyse, That thou our freendis helpe alway, And thindre hem neither night ne day, But do thy might hem to releve, 6065 And eek our enemies that thou greve. Thyn be this might, I graunt it thee, My king of harlotes shalt thou be : We wol that thou have such honour. Certeyn, thou art a fals traitour, 6070 And eek a theef; sith thou were born, A thousand tyme thou art forsworn. But, natheles, in our hering, To putte our folk out of douting. I bid thee teche hem, wostow how? 6075 By somme general signe now, In what place thou shalt founden be, If that men had mister of thee; And how men shal thee best espye, For thee to knowe is greet maistrye ; 6080 Tel in what place is thyn haunting.'

F. Sem. 'Sir, I have fele dyvers woning, That I kepe not rehersed be, So that ye wolde respyten me, For if that I telle you the sothe, 6085 I may have harm and shame bothe. If that my felowes wisten it, My tales shulden me be quit; For certeyn, they wolde hate me, If ever I knewe hir cruelte; 6000 For they wolde over-al holde hem stille Of trouthe that is ageyn hir wille; Suche tales kepen they not here. I might eftsone bye it ful dere, If I seide of hem any thing, 6095 That ought displeseth to hir hering. For what word that hem prikke or byteth, In that word noon of hem delvteth. Al were it gospel, the evangyle, That wolde reprove hem of hir gyle, 6100 For they are cruel and hauteyn. And this thing wot I wel, certeyn, If I speke ought to peire hir loos, Your court shal not so wel be cloos, That they ne shal wite it atte last. 6105 Of good men am I nought agast, For they wol taken on hem no-thing, Whan that they knowe al my mening; But he that wol it on him take, He wol himself suspecious make. 6110 That he his lyf let covertly, In Gyle and in Ipocrisy, That me engendred and yaf fostring.'

'They made a ful good engendring,' Quod Love, 'for who so soothly telle, 6115 They engendred the devel of helle!

[FRAGMENT C.

Of Fals-Semblant, ful of flatering, 6140 It is not worth a croked brere ;
He must in worldly folk him seke, Habit ne maketh †monk ne frere	,
And, certes, in the cloistres eke ; But clene lyf and devocioun
I wone no-where but in hem tweye ; Maketh gode men of religioun.
But not lyk even, sooth to seye ; Nathelesse, ther can noon answe	re, 6195
Shortly, I wol herberwe me 6145. How high that ever his heed he s	here
There I hope best to hulstred be; With rasour whetted never so ke	ne,
And certeynly, sikerest hyding That Gyle in braunches cut thrit	tene;
Is underneth humblest clothing. Ther can no wight distincte it so
'Religious folk ben ful covert ; That he dar sey a word therto.	6200
Seculer folk ben more appert. '6150 ' 'But what herberwe that ever	I take,
But natheles, I wol not blame Or what semblant that ever I ma	ke,
Religious folk, ne hem diffame, I mene but gyle, and folowe that	;
In what habit that ever they go : For right no mo than Gibbe our
Religioun humble, and trewe also, [+Fro myce and rattes went his w	vyle],
Wol I not blame, ne dispyse, 6155 Ne entende I [not] but to +begyle	; 6206
But I nil love it, in no wyse. Ne no wight may, by my clothin	g,
I mene of fals religious, Wite with what folk is my dwell	ing,
That stoute ben, and malicious; Ne by my wordis yet, pardee,
That wolen in an abit go, So softe and so plesaunt they be.	6210
And setten not hir herte therto. 6160 Bihold the dedes that I do;
'Religious folk ben al pitous ; But thou be blind, thou oughtest	80;
Thou shalt not seen oon dispitous. For, varie hir wordis fro hir dede	19
They loven no pryde, ne no stryf, They thenke on gyle, without[en]	drede,

That beren in heven hir cierges clere,	I mighte maken you wery. But I wol heten you alway
Of which men rede in chirche, and singe,	To helpe your freendes what I may, 6300
Were take in seculer clothing, 6250	So they wollen my company ;
Whan they resseyved martirdom, And wonnen heven unto her hoom.	For they be shent al-outerly
Good herte maketh the gode thought ;	But-if so falle, that I be
The clothing yeveth ne reveth nought.	Oft with hem, and they with me.
The gode thought and the worching, 6255	And eek my lemman mot they serve, 6305
That maketh †religioun flowring,	Or they shul not my love deserve.
Ther lyth the good religioun	Forsothe, I am a fals traitour ;
After the right entencioun.	God jugged me for a theef trichour;
' Who-so toke a wethers skin,	Forsworn I am, but wel nygh non
And wrapped a gredy wolf therin, 6260	Wot of my gyle, til it be don. 6310
For he shulde go with lambes whyte,	'Thourgh me hath many oon deth

And wel the rather hem disceyve, 6265	But who-so doth, if he wys be, 6315
For, sith they coude not perceyve	Him is right good be war of me.
His treget and his crueltee,	But so sligh is the [+deceyving
They wolde him folowe, al wolde he flee. 'If ther be wolves of sich hewe	That to hard is the] aperceyving.
Amonges these apostlis newe, 6270	For Protheus, that coude him chaunge In every shap, hoomly and straunge, 6320
Thou, holy chirche, thou mayst be wayled!	Coude never sich gyle ne tresoun
Sith that thy citee is assayled	As I; for I com never in toun
Thourgh knightes of thyn owne table,	Ther-as I mighte knowen be,
God wot thy lordship is doutable !	Though men me bothe might here and see.
If they enforce [hem] it to winne, 6275	Ful wel I can my clothes chaunge, 6325
That shulde defende it fro withinne,	Take oon, and make another straunge.
Who might defence ayens hem make?	Now am I knight, now chasteleyn;
Without[en] stroke it mot be take	Now prelat, and now chapeleyn;
Of trepeget or mangonel;	Now prest, now clerk, and now forstere ;
Without displaying of pensel. 6280	Now am I maister, now scolere; 6330
And if god nil don it socour,	Now monk, now chanoun, now baily ;
But lat [hem] renne in this colour,	What-ever mister man am I.
Thou moost thyn heestes laten be.	Now am I prince, now am I page,
Than is ther nought, but yelde thee,	And can by herte every langage.
Or yeve hem tribute, doutelees, 6285	Som-tyme am I hoor and old; 6335
And holde it of hem to have pees :	Now am I yong, [and] stout, and bold ;
But gretter harm bityde thee, That they al maister of it be.	Now am I Robert, now Robyn ;
Wel conne they scorne thee withal;	Now frere Menour, now Iacobyn; And with me folweth my loteby,
, a count they scored thee withat;	And with the forwein my foreby,

To don me'solas and company, 6340	That he, to whom that I am shriven,
That hight dame +Abstinence-Streyned,	Hath me assoiled, and me yiven
In many a queynt array [y]-feyned,	Penaunce soothly, for my sinne,
Right as it cometh to hir lyking,	Which that I fond me gilty inne;
I fulfille al hir desiring.	Ne I ne have never entencioun 6395
Somtyme a wommans cloth take I; 6345	To make double confessioun,
Now am I mayde, now lady.	Ne reherce eft my shrift to thee ;
Somtyme I am religious ;	O shrift is right y-nough to me.
Now lyk an anker in an hous.	This oughte thee suffyce wel,
Somtyme am I prioresse,	Ne be not rebel never-a-del; 6400
And now a nonne, and now abbesse ; 6350	For certes, though thou haddest it sworn,
And go thurgh alle regiouns,	I wot no prest ne prelat born
Seking alle religiouns.	That may to shrift eft me constreyne.
But to what ordre that I am sworn,	And if they don, I wol me pleyne;
I take the strawe, and +lete the corn ;	For I wot where to pleyne wel. 6405
To +blynde folk [ther] I enhabite, 6355	Thou shalt not streyne me a del,
I axe no-more but hir abite.	Ne enforce me, ne +yit me trouble,
What wol ye more? in every wyse,	To make my confessioun double.
Right as me list, I me disgyse.	Ne I have none affectioun
Wel can I bere me under weed ;	To have double absolucioun. 6410
Unlyk is my word to my deed. 6360	The firste is right y-nough to me,
Thus make I in my trappes falle,	This latter assoiling quyte I thee.
Thurgh my pryvileges, alle	I am unbounde ; what mayst thou finde
That ben in Cristendom alyve.	More of my sinnes me to unbinde?
I may assoile, and I may shryve,	For he, that might hath in his hond, 6415
That no prelat may lette me, 6365	Of alle my sinnes me unbond.
Al folk, wher-ever they founde be :	And if thou wolt me thus constreyne,
I noot no prelat may don so,	That me mot nedis on thee pleyne,
But it the pope be, and no mo,	There shal no jugge imperial,
That made thilk establisshing.	Ne bisshop, ne official, 6420
Now is not this a propre thing? 6370	Don jugement on me ; for I
But, were my sleightes aperceyved,	Shal gon and pleyne me openly
[+Ne shulde I more been receyved]	Unto my shrift-fader newe, (That hight not France Wolf untrawe !)
As I was wont; and wostow why? For I dide hem a tregetry;	(That hight not Frere Wolf untrewe !) And he shal +chevise him for me, 6425
	And he shal there is a hor me, 6425 For I trowe he can hampre thee
But theref yeve I litel tale, 6375 I have the silver and the male;	But, lord ! he wolde be wrooth withalle,
So have I preched and eek shriven,	If men him wolde Frere Wolf calle !
So have I take, so have +me yiven,	For he wolde have no pacience,
Thurgh hir foly, husbond and wyf,	But don al cruel vengeaunce ! 6430
That I lede right a joly lyf, 6380	He wolde his might don at the leest,
Thurgh simplesse of the prelacye;	[Ne] no-thing spare for goddes heest.
They know not al my tregetrye.	And, god so wis be my socour,
'But for as moche as man and wyf	But thou yeve me my Saviour
Shuld shewe hir paroche-prest hir lyf	At Ester, whan it lyketh me, 6435

Er any wight his housel took,	I wol forth, and to him goon,
Than have I pryvileges large,	And he shal housel me anoon,
That may of moche thing discharge;	For I am out of thy grucching ;
For he may seye right thus, pardee :	I kepe not dele with thee no-thing." 6440

resonance a maister of divyne;	That he his creatour foryet;

And him, that +begging wol ay greve, How shulde I by his word him leve ? 6540 Unnethe that he nis a micher. Forsworn, or elles +god is lyer." Thus seith Salamon[es] sawes ; Ne we finde writen in no lawes. And namely in our Cristen lay-6545 (Who seith 'ye,' I dar sey 'nay')-That Crist, ne his apostles dere, Whyl that they walkede in erthe here, Were never seen her bred begging, For they nolde beggen for no-thing. 6550 And right thus were men wont to teche ; And in this wyse wolde it preche The maistres of divinitee Somtyme in Paris the citee. 'And if men wolde ther-geyn appose The naked text, and lete the glose, 6556 It mighte sone assoiled be ; · For men may wel the sothe see, That, parde, they mighte axe a thing Pleynly forth, without begging. 6560 For they weren goddes herdes dere, And cure of soules hadden here, They nolde no-thing begge hir fode : For after Crist was don on rode. With thir propre hondes they wrought. And with travel, and elles nought, 6566 They wonnen all hir sustenaunce. And liveden forth in hir penaunce, And the remenaunt +veve awey To other pore +folk alwey. They neither bilden tour ne halle, But +leve in houses smale withalle. A mighty man, that can and may, Shulde with his honde and body alway Winne him his food in laboring, 6575 If he ne have rent or sich a thing, Although he be religious, And god to serven curious. Thus mote he don, or do trespas. But-if it be in certeyn cas, 6580 That I can reherce, if mister be, Right wel, whan the tyme I see. 'Seke the book of Seynt Austin,

Be it in paper or perchemin, 6584 There-as he writ of these worchinges, Thou shalt seen that non excusinges A parfit man ne shulde seke By wordes, ne by dedes eke, Although he be religious,

And god to serven curious. 6500 That he ne shal, so mote I go, With propre hondes and body also, Gete his food in laboring, If he ne have propretee of thing. Yit shulde he selle al his substaunce, 6505 And with his swink have sustenaunce. If he be parfit in bountee. Thus han the bookes tolde me : For he that wol gon ydilly, And useth it ay besily 6600 To haunten other mennes table, He is a trechour, ful of fable ; Ne he ne may, by gode resoun, Excuse him by his orisoun, For men bihoveth, in som gyse, +Som-tyme leven goddes servyse To gon and purchasen her nede. Men mote eten, that is no drede. And slepe, and eek do other thing : So longe may they leve praying. 6610 So may they eek hir praver blinne. While that they werke, hir mete to winne. Sevnt Austin wol therto accorde. In thilke book that I recorde. Justinian eek, that made lawes. 6615 Hath thus forboden, by olde dawes. "No man, up peyne to be deed, Mighty of body, to begge his breed, If he may swinke, it for to gete ; Men shulde him rather mayme or bete, Or doon of him apert justice, 6621 Than suffren him in such malice." They don not wel, so mote I go. That taken such almesse so. But if they have som privelege. 6625 That of the peyne hem wol allege. But how that is, can I not see, But-if the prince disseyved be ; Ne I ne wene not, sikerly, That they may have it rightfully. 6630 But I wol not determyne Of princes power, ne defyne, Ne by my word comprende, y-wis, If it so fer may streeche in this, I wol not entremete a del ; 6635 But I trowe that the book seith wel, Who that taketh almesses, that be Dewe to folk that men may see Lame, feble, wery, and bare, Pore, or in such maner care, 6640

FRAGMENT C.

Amour. (That conne winne hem nevermo, For they have no power therto), He eteth his owne dampning, But-if he lye, that made al thing. And if ye such a truaunt finde, 6645 Chastise him wel, if ye be kinde. But they wolde hate you, percas, And, if ye fillen in hir laas, They wolde eftsones do you scathe, If that they mighte, late or rathe ; 6650 For they be not ful pacient. That han the world thus foule blent. And witeth'wel, [wher] that god bad The good man selle al that he had, And folowe him, and to pore it yive, 6655 He wolde not therfore that he live To serven him in mendience, For it was never his sentence ; But he bad wirken whan that nede is, And folwe him in goode dedes. 6660 Seynt Poule, that loved al holy chirche, He hade th'apostles for to wirche, And winnen hir lyflode in that wyse, 6664 And hem defended truaundyse, And seide, "Wirketh with your honden ;" Thus shulde the thing be understonden. He nolde, y-wis, +bidde hem begging, Ne sellen gospel, ne preching, If a man be so bestial Lest they berafte, with hir asking, Folk of hir catel or of hir thing. 6670 For in this world is many a man That yeveth his good, for he ne can Werne it for shame, or elles he Wolde of the asker delivered be; And, for he him encombreth so, 6675 He yeveth him good to late him go : But it can him no-thing profyte, They lese the yift and the meryte. But she com in another degree;	To yeve ensample, and preche also. 7491
And if of good wil she began,	To fisshen sinful men we go,
That wil was failed her [as] than.	For other fisshing ne fisshe we.
And Fals-Semblant had he seyn als,	And, sir, for that charitee,
But he knew nat that he was fals. 7446	As we be wont, herberwe we crave, 7495
Yet fals was he, but his falsnesse	Your lyf to amende ; Crist it save !
Ne coude he not espye, nor gesse ;	And, so it shulde you nat displese,
For Semblant was so slye wrought,	We wolden, if it were your ese,
That falsnesse he ne espyed nought. 7450	A short sermoun unto you seyn.'
But haddest thou knowen him beforn,	And Wikked-Tonge answerde ageyn,
Thou woldest on a boke have sworn,	'The hous,' quod he, 'such as ye see, 7501
Whan thou him saugh in thilke aray	Shal nat be warned you for me,
That he, that whylom was so gay,	Sey what you list, and I wol here.'
And of the daunce Joly Robin, 7455	'Graunt mercy, swete sire dere !'
Was tho become a Jacobin.	Quod alderfirst Dame Abstinence, 7505
But sothely, what so men him calle.	And thus began she hir sentence :
Frere[s] Prechours been good men alle ;	Const. Abstinence. 'Sir, the first vertue,
Hir order wickedly they beren,	certeyn,
Suche minstrelles if [that] they weren.	The gretest, and most sovereyn
So been Augustins and Cordileres, 7461	That may be founde in any man,
And Carmes, and eek Sakked Freres.	For having, or for wit he can, 7510
And alle freres, shodde and bare,	That is, his tonge to refreyne;
(Though some of hem ben grete and	Therto ought every wight him peyne.
square)	For it is better stille be
Ful holy men, as I hem deme ; 7465	Than for to speken harm, pardee !
Everich of hem wolde good man seme.	And he that herkeneth it gladly, 7515
But shalt thou never of apparence	He is no good man, sikerly,
Seen conclude good consequence	And, sir, aboven al other sinne,
In none argument, y-wis,	In that art thou most gilty inne.
If existence al failed is. 7470	Thou spake a jape not long ago,
For men may finde alway sophyme	(And, sir, that was right yvel do) 7520
The consequence to envenyme,	Of a yong man that here repaired,
Who-so that thath the subteltee	And never yet this place apaired.
The double sentence for to see.	Thou seydest he awaited nothing
Whan the pilgrymes commen were 7475	But to disceyve Fair-Welcoming.
To Wicked-Tonge, that dwelled there,	Ye seyde nothing sooth of that ; 7525
Hir harneis nigh hem was algate ;	But, sir, ye lye ; I tell you plat ;
By Wicked-Tonge adoun they sate,	He ne cometh no more, ne goth, pardee!
That bad hem ner him for to come,	I trow ye shal him never see.
And of tydinges telle him some, 7480	Fair-Welcoming in prison is,
And sayde hem : 'What cas maketh	That ofte hath pleyed with you, er this,
yow	The fairest games that he coude, 7531
To come into this place now ?'	Withoute filthe, stille or loude ;
'Sir,' seyde Strained-Abstinaunce,	Now dar the nat himself solace.
We, for to drye our penaunce,	Ye han also the man do chace,
With hertes pitous and devoute, 7485	That he dar neither come ne go. 7535
Are commen, as pilgrimes gon aboute;	What meveth you to hate him so
Wel nigh on fote alway we go;	But properly your wikked thought,
Ful +dusty been our heles two;	That many a fals lesing hath thought?
And thus bothe we ben sent	That meveth your foole eloquence,
Thurghout this world that is miswent,	That jangleth ever in audience, 7540

And on the folk areyseth blame, And doth hem dishonour and shame, For thing that may have no preving, But lyklinesse, and contriving. For I dar seyn, that Reson demeth, 7545 It is not al sooth thing that semeth And it is sinne to controve Thing that is [for] to reprove ; This wot ye wel; and, sir, therefore Ye arn to blame [wel] the more. 7550 And, nathelesse, he rekketh lyte ; He veveth nat now thereof a myte : For if he thoughte harm, parfay, He wolde come and gon al day; He coude him-selfe nat abstene. 7555 Now cometh he nat, and that is sene, For he ne taketh of it no cure. But-if it be through aventure, And lasse than other folk, algate. And thou here watchest at the gate, 7560 With spere in thyne arest alway; There muse, musard, al the day, Thou wakest night and day for thought ; Y-wis, thy traveyl is for nought. And Jelousye, withouten faile, 7565 Shal never quyte thee thy travaile. And scathe is, that Fair-Welcoming, Without[en] any trespassing, Shal wrongfully in prison be, Ther wepeth and languissheth he. 7570 And though thou never yet, y-wis, Agiltest man no more but this, (Take not a-greef) it were worthy To putte thee out of this baily, And afterward in prison lye, 7575 And fettre thee til that thou dye ; For thou shalt for this sinne dwelle Right in the devils ers of helle. But-if that thou repente thee.' 'Ma fay, thou lyest falsly !' quod he. 'What? welcome with mischaunce now! Have I therfore herbered you To seve me shame, and eek reprove? With sory happe, to your bihove, Am I to-day your herbergere ! 7585 Go, herber you elleswhere than here, That han a lyer called me ! Two tregetours art thou and he, That in myn hous do me this shame, And for my soth-sawe ye me blame. 7590 Is this the sermoun that ye make?

To alle the develles I me take, Or elles, god, thou me confounde . But er men diden this castel founde, It passeth not ten dayes or twelve, 7595 But it was told right to my-selve, And as they seide, right so tolde I, He kiste the Rose privily ! Thus seide I now, and have seid yore ; I not wher he dide any more. 7600 Why shulde men sey me such a thing, If it hadde been gabbing? Right so seide I, and wol seye yit ; I trowe, I lyed not of it; And with my bemes I wol blowe 7605 To alle neighboris a-rowe, How he hath bothe comen and gon.' Tho spak Fals-Semblant right anon, 'Al is not gospel, out of doute, That men sevn in the toune aboute ; 7610 Lev no deef ere to my speking ; I swere yow, sir, it is gabbing ! I trowe ve wot wel certevnly. That no man loveth him tenderly That seith him harm, if he wot it, 7615 Al be he never so pore of wit. And sooth is also sikerly, (This knowe ye, sir, as wel as I), That lovers gladly wol visyten The places ther hir loves habyten. 7620 This man you loveth and eek honoureth ; This man to serve you laboureth : And clepeth you his freend so dere, And this man maketh you good chere, And every-wher that [he] you meteth, He you saleweth, and he you greteth. 7626 He preseth not so ofte, that ye Ought of his come encombred be ; Ther presen other folk on yow Ful ofter than [that] he doth now. 7630 And if his herte him strevned so Unto the Rose for to go, Ye shulde him seen so ofte nede, That ye shulde take him with the dede. He coude his coming not forbere, 7635 Though ye him thrilled with a spere ; It nere not thanne as it is now. But trusteth wel, I swere it yow, That it is clene out of his thought. Sir, certes, he ne thenketh it nought ; No more ne doth Fair-Welcoming. 7641 That sore abyeth al this thing.

······································
And if they were of oon assent,	Semblant, a good man semen ye;
Ful sone were the Rose hent ;	And, Abstinence, ful wyse ye seme ;
The maugre youres wolde be. 7645	Of o talent you bothe I deme. 7674
And sir, of o thing herkeneth me :	What counceil wole ye to me yeven ?'
Sith ye this man, that loveth yow,	F. Sem. 'Right here anoon thou shalt
Han seid such harm and shame now,	be shriven,
Witeth wel, if he gessed it,	And sey thy sinne withoute more ;
Ye may wel demen in your wit, 7650	Of this shalt thou repente sore;
He nolde no-thing love you so,	For I am preest, and have poustee
Ne callen you his freend also,	To shryve folk of most dignitee 7680
But night and day he +wolde wake,	That been, as wyde as world may dure.
The castel to destroye and take,	Of al this world I have the cure,
If it were sooth as ye devyse ; 7655	And that had never yit persoun,
Or som man in som maner wyse	No vicarie of no maner toun.
Might it warne him everydel,	And, god wot, I have of thee 7685
Or by him-self perceyven wel;	A thousand tymes more pitee
For sith he might not come and gon	Than hath thy preest parochial,
As he was whylom wont to don, 7660	Though he thy freend be special.
He might it sone wite and see;	I have avauntage, in o wyse,
But now al other-wyse +doth he.	That your prelates ben not so wyse 7690
Than have tye, sir, al-outerly	Ne half so lettred as am I.
Deserved helle, and jolyly	I am licenced boldely
The deth of helle, douteles, 7665	In divinitee to rede.
That thrallen folk so gilteles.'	And to confessen, out of drede,
Fals-Semblant proveth so this thing	If ye wol you now confesse, 7605
That he can noon answering,	And leve your sinnes more and lesse,
And seeth alwey such apparaunce,	Without abood, knele down anon.
That nygh he fel in repentaunce, 7670	And you shal have absolucion.' 7698
And seide him :- 'Sir, it may wel be.

I. AN A. B. C.

Incipit carmen secundum ordinem literarum Alphabeti.

ALMIGHTY and al merciable quene, To whom that al this world fleeth for socour.

To have relees of sinne, sorwe and tene, Glorious virgine, of alle floures flour, To thee I flee, confounded in errour! 5 Help and releve, thou mighty debonaire, Have mercy on my perilous langour! Venquisshed m'hath my cruel adversaire,

Bountee so fix hath in thyn herte his tente,

That well wot thou wolt my socour be, 10 Thou canst not warne him that, with good entente.

Axeth thyn help. Thyn herte is ay so free, Thou art largesse of pleyn felicitee, Haven of refut, of quiete and of reste.

Lo, how that theyes seven chasen me ! 15

Help, lady bright, er that my ship tobreste !

Comfort is noon, but in yow, lady dere; For lo, my sinne and my confusioun,

Which oughten not in thy presence appere,

Han take on me a grevous accioun 20 Of verrey right and desperacioun :

And, as by right, they mighten wel sustene

That I were worthy my dampnacioun, Nere mercy of you, blisful hevene quene. Doute is ther noon, thou queen of misericorde, 25

That thou n'art cause of grace and mercy here ;

God vouched sauf thurgh thee with us t'acorde.

For certes, Cristes blisful moder dere,

Were now the bowe bent in swich manere, As it was first, of justice and of yre, 30 The rightful God nolde of no mercy here; But thurgh thee han we grace, as we desvre.

Ever hath myn hope of refut been in thee, For heer-biforn ful ofte, in many a wyse, Hast thou to misericorde receyved me, 35 But mercy, lady, at the grete assyse, Whan we shul come bifore the hye justyse !

So litel fruit shal thanne in me be founde, That, but thou er that day me +wel chastyse,

Of verrey right my werk me wol confounde. 40

Fleeing, I fiee for socour to thy tente Me for to hyde from tempest ful of drede, Biseching you that ye you not absente, Though I be wikke. O help yit at this nede! Al have I been a beste in wille and dede, Yit, Iady, thou me clothe with thy grace. Thyn enemy and myn (lady, tak hede) 47 Un-to my deeth in poynt is me to chace.

Virgine, that art so noble of apparaile, And ledest us in-to the hye tour 154 Of Paradys, thou me wisse and counsaile, How I may have thy grace and thy socour; Al have I been in filthe and in errour. Lady, un-to that court thou me ajourne

That cleped is thy bench, O fresshe flour ! Ther-as that mercy ever shal sojourne. 160

Xristus, thy sone, that in this world alighte,

Up-on the cros to suffre his passionn, And +eek, that Longius his herte pighte, And made his herte blood to renneadoun; And al was this for my salvacioun; 165 And I to him am fals and eek unkinde, And yit he wol not my dampnacioun— This thanke I you, socour of al mankinde.

Y saac was figure of his deeth, certeyn, That so fer-forth his fader wolde obeye 170 That him ne roughte no-thing to be slayn; Right so thy sone list, as a lamb, to deye. Now lady, ful of mercy, I you preye,

Sith he his mercy mesured so large, Be ye not skant; for alle we singe and seve

That ye ben from vengeaunce ayour targe.

Zacharie you clepeth the open welle To wasshe sinful soule out of his gilt.

Therfore this lessoun oughte I wel to telle That, nere thy tender herte, we weren spilt.

Now lady brighte, sith thou canst and wilt Ben to the seed of Adam merciable,

So bring us to that palais that is bilt

To penitents that ben to mercy able. Amen. 184

II. THE COMPLEYNTE UNTO PITE.

Prre, that I have sought so yore ago, With herte sore, and ful of besy peyne, That in this world was never wight so wo With-oute dethe ; and, if I shal not feyne, My purpos was, to Pite to compleyne 5 Upon the crueltee and tirannye Of Love, that for my trouthe doth me dye. And when that I, by lengthe of certeyn yeres,

Had ever in oon a tyme sought to speke, To Pite ran I, al bespreynt with teres, 10 To preyen hir on Crueltee m'awreke.

But, er I might with any worde outbreke,

Or tellen any of my peynes smerte, I fond hir deed, and buried in an herte.	Confedred alle by bonde of Crueltee, And been assented that I shal be sleyn.
Adoun I fel, when that I saugh the herse, Deed as a stoon, whyl that the swogh me laste : 16	And I have put my compleynt up ageyn; For to my foos my bille I dar not shewe, Theffect of which seith thus, in wordes
But up I roos, with colour ful diverse,	fewe : 56
And pitously on hir myn yën caste, And ner the corps I gan to presen faste,	The Bille.

Thus am I slayn, sith that Pite is deed; Allas! that day! that ever hit shulde	And noght al only for his evel fare, But for your renoun, as he shal declare.
falle ! What maner man dar now holde up his	'Hit stondeth thus : your contraire,
heed ?	Crueltee, Allyed is ageynst your regalye 65
To whom shal any sorwful herte calle ? 25 Now Crueltee hath cast to sleen us alle,	Under colour of womanly Beautee,
In ydel hope, folk redelees of peyne-	For men [ne] shuld not knowe hir tirannye,
Sith she is deed—to whom shul we com- pleyne?	With Bountee, Gentilesse, and Curtesye,
But yet encreseth me this wonder newe,	And hath depryved you now of your place That hight "Beautee, apertenant to
That no wight woot that she is deed, but I; So many men as in hir tyme hir knewe,	Grace." 70
And yet she dyed not so sodeynly; 32	' For kindly, by your heritage right, Ye been annexed ever unto Bountee ;
For I have sought hir ever ful besily Sith first I hadde wit or mannes minde;	And verrayly ye oughte do your might
But she was deed, er that I coude hir	To helpe Trouthe in his adversitee. Ye been also the coroune of Beautee : 75
finde. 35	And certes, if ye wanten in thise tweyne,
Aboute hir herse ther stoden lustily, Withouten any wo, as thoughte me,	The world is lore; ther †nis no more to seyne.
Bountee parfit, wel armed and richely, And fresshe Beautee, Lust, and Jolitee,	T 'Eek what availeth Maner and Gen-
Assured Maner, Youthe, and Honestee, 40	tilesse
Wisdom, Estaat, [and] Dreed, and Go- vernaunce,	Withoute you, benigne creature? Shal Crueltee be your governeresse? 80
Confedred bothe by bonde and alliaunce.	Allas! what herte may hit longe endure? Wherfor, but ye the rather take cure
A compleynt hadde I, writen, in myn hond,	To breke that perilous alliaunce, Ye sleen hem that ben in your obeisaunce.
For to have put to Pite as a bille, But whan I al this companye ther fond,	'And further over, if ye suffre this, 85
That rather wolden al my cause spille 46	Your renoun is fordo than in a throwe;
Than do me help, I held my pleynte stille:	Ther shal no man wite wel what Pite is. Allas! that your renoun shuld be so lowe!
For to that folk, withouten any faile, Withoute Pite may no bills availe	Ye be than fro your heritage y-throwe

Withoute Pite may no bille availe.

Then leve I al thise virtues, sauf Pite, 50 Keping the corps, as ye have herd me seyn, By Crueltee, that occupieth your place ; 90 And we despeired, that seken to your grace.

'Have mercy on me, thou Herenus quene, That you have sought so tenderly and yore;

Let som streem of your light on me be sene That love and drede you, ay lenger the more. 95

For, sothly for to seyne, I bere the sore, And, though I be not cunning for to plevne.

For goddes love, have mercy on my peyne !

I 'My peyne is this, that what so I desire That have I not, ne no-thing lyk therto; And ever set Desire myn herte on fire; Eek on that other syde, wher-so I go, 102 What maner thing that may encrese wo That have I redy, unsoght, everywhere; Me [ne] lakketh but my deth, and than my bere. 105 'What nedeth to shewe parcel of my peyne?

Sith every wo that herte may bethinke I suffre, and yet I dar not to you pleyne; For wel I woot, al-though I wake or winke, Ye rekke not whether I flete or sinke. 110 But natheles, my trouthe I shal sustene Unto my deeth, and that shal wel be sene.

<sup>4</sup>This is to seyne, I wol be youres ever; Though ye me slee by Crueltee, your fo, Algate my spirit shal never dissever 115 Fro your servyse, for any peyne or wo. Sith ye be deed—allas! that hit is so !— Thus for your deth I may wel wepe and pleyne 118

With herte sore and ful of besy peyne.'

Here endeth the exclamacion of the Deth of Pyte.

The Proem.

I HAVE gret wonder, by this lighte, How that I live, for day ne nighte I may nat slepe wel nigh noght; I have so many an ydel thoght Purely for defaute of slepe. That, by my trouthe, I take +kepe Of no-thing, how hit cometh or goth, Ne me nis no-thing leef nor loth. Al is v-liche good to me-Joye or sorowe, wherso hit be-For I have feling in no-thing, But, as it were, a mased thing, Alway in point to falle a-doun ; For tsory imaginacioun Is alway hoolly in my minde. And wel ye woot, agaynes kinde

And wel ye woot, agaynes kinde Hit were to liven in this wyse; For nature wolde nat suffyse To noon erthely creature Not longe tyme to endure Withoute slepe, and be[en] in sorwe; And I ne may, ne night ne morwe, Slepe; and +thus melancolye, And dreed I have for to dye, Defaute of slepe, and hevinesse Hath sleyn my spirit of quiknesse, That I have lost al lustihede. Suche fantasyes ben in myn hede So I not what is best to do.

But men mighte axe me, why so 30 I may not slepe, and what me is? But natheles, who aske this Leseth his asking trewely. My-selven can not telle why The sooth ; but trewely, as I gesse, 35 I holdë hit be a siknesse That I have suffred this eight yere, And yet my bote is never the nere : For ther is phisicien but oon, That may me hele; but that is doon. 40 Passe we over until eft : That wil not be, moot nede be left ;

Our first matere is good to kepe.	But I mowe of my lorde here !'
So whan I saw I might not slepe,	Such sorwe this lady to her took 95
Til now late, this other night, 45	That trewely I, which made this book,
Upon my bedde I sat upright, 45	Had swich pite and swich rowthe
And bad oon reche me a book,	To rede hir sorwe, that, by my trowthe,
A romaunce, and he hit me took	I ferde the worse al the morwe
To rede and dryve the night away;	After, to thenken on her sorwe. 100
For me thoghte it better play 50	So whan the coude here no word
Then playe[n] either at chesse or tables.	That no man mighte finde hir lord,
And in this boke were writen fables	Ful oft she swouned, and seide 'alas!'
That clerkes hadde, in olde tyme,	For sorwe ful nigh wood she was,
And other poets, put in ryme	Ne she coude no reed but oon ; 105
To rede, and for to be in minde 55	But down on knees she sat anoon,
Whyl men loved the lawe of kinde.	And tweep, that pite was to here.
This book ne spak but of such thinges,	'A ! mercy ! swete lady dere !'
Of quenes lyves, and of kinges,	Quod she to Juno, hir goddesse ;
And many othere thinges smale.	'Help me out of this distresse, 110
Amonge al this I fond a tale 60	And yeve me grace my lord to see
That me thoughte a wonder thing.	Sone, or wite wher-so he be,
This was the tale : Ther was a king	Or how he fareth, or in what wyse,
That highte Seys, and hadde a wyf,	And I shal make you sacrifyse,
The beste that mighte bere lyf;	And hoolly youres become I shal 115
And this quene highte Alcyone. 65	With good wil, body, herte, and al;
So hit befel, therafter sone,	And but thou wilt this, lady swete,
This king wolde wenden over see.	Send me grace to slepe, and mete
To tellen shortly, whan that he	In my slepe som certeyn sweven,
Was in the see, thus in this wyse,	Wher-through that I may knowen even
Soche a tempest gan to ryse 70	Whether my lord be quik or deed.' 121
That brak hir mast, and made it falle,	With that word she heng down the heed,
And clefte hir ship, and dreinte hem alle,	And fil a-swown as cold as ston ;
That never was founden, as it telles,	Hir women caughte her up anon,
Bord ne man, ne nothing elles.	And broghten hir in bed al naked, 125
Right thus this king Seys loste his lyf. 75	And she, forweped and forwaked,
Now for to speken of his wyf :	Was wery, and thus the dede sleep
This lady, that was left at home,	Fil on her, or she toke keep,
Hath wonder, that the king ne come Hoom, for hit was a longe terme.	Through Juno, that had herd hir bone, That made hir [for] to slepe sone; 130
	For as she prayde, +so was don,
Anon her herte †gan to erme; 80 And for that hir thoughte evermo	In dede; for Juno, right anon,
Hit was not wel the dwelte so,	Called thus her messagere
She longed so after the king	To do her erande, and he com nere.
That certes, hit were a pitous thing	Whan he was come, she bad him thus : 135
To telle hir hertely sorwful lyf 85	'Go bet,' quod Juno, 'to Morpheus,
That +hadde, alas ! this noble wyf;	Thou knowest him wel, the god of sleep;
For him she loved alderbest.	Now understond wel, and tak keep.
Anon she sente bothe eest and west	Sey thus on my halfe, that he
To seke him, but they founde nought.	Go faste into the grete see, 140
'Alas!' quoth she, 'that I was wrought!	And bid him that, on alle thing,
And wher my lord, my love, be deed? 91	He take up Seys body the king,
Certes, I nil never ete breed,	That lyth ful pale and no-thing rody.
I make a-vowe to my god here,	Bid him crepe into the body,

III. The Gook of the Duchesse.

And do it goon to Alcyone	45	And bar hit forth to Alcyone,
The quene, ther she lyth alone,		His wyf the quene, ther-as she lay,
And shewe hir shortly, hit is no nay,		Right even a quarter before day,
How hit was dreynt this other day ;	0	And stood right at hir beddes fete,
And do the body speke tso	1	And called hir, right as she hete, 2	200
Right as hit was wont to do,	50	By name, and seyde, 'my swete wyf,
The whyles that hit was on lyve.		Awak ! let be your sorwful lyf !
Go now faste, and hy thee blyve !'		For in your sorwe ther lyth no reed ;
This messager took leve and wente		For certes, swete, I +nam but deed ;
Upon his wey, and never ne stente		Ye shul me never on lyve y-see.	205
and a second sec	55	But good swete herte, [look] that ye
That stant bytwene roches tweye,		Bury my body, †at whiche a tyde
Ther never yet grew corn ne gras,		Ye mowe hit finde the see besyde ;
Ne tree, ne +nothing that ought was,		And far-wel, swete, my worldes blisse !
Beste, ne man, ne +nothing elles,		I praye god your sorwe lisse ; 2	210
	50	To litel whyl our blisse lasteth !'
Came renning fro the cliffes adoun,		With that hir eyen up she casteth,
That made a deedly sleping soun,		And saw noght; '+A!' quod she, 'f	or
And ronnen doun right by a cave		sorwe!'
That was under a rokke y-grave		And deyed within the thridde morwe.
Amid the valey, wonder depe.	65	But what she sayde more in that swow	,
Ther thise goddes laye and slepe,		I may not telle yow as now, 2	216
Morpheus, and Eclympasteyre,		Hit were to longe for to dwelle;
That was the god of slepes heyre,		My first matere I wil yow telle,
That slepe and did non other werk.		Wherfor I have told this thing
	70	Of Alcione and Seys the king. 2	20
As helle pit over-al aboute ;		For thus moche dar I say[e] wel,
They had good leyser for to route		I had be dolven everydel,
To envye, who might slepe beste ;		And deed, right through defaute of slee	ep,
Some henge hir chin upon hir breste		If I nad red and take[n] keep
And tslepe upright, hir heed y-hed, 1	75	Of this tale next before : 2	225
And some lay[e] naked in hir bed,		And I wol telle yow wherfore;
And slepe whyles the dayes laste.		For I ne might, for bote ne bale,
This messager com flying faste,		Slepe, or I had red this tale
And cryed, 'O ho ! awak anon !'	79	Of this dreynte Seys the king,
Hit was for noght; ther herde him non	.	And of the goddes of sleping. 2	30
'Awak !' quod he, ' who is, lyth there ?	,	Whan I had red this tale wel,
And blew his horn right in hir ere,	0	And over-loked hit everydel,
And cryed 'awaketh !' wonder hyë.		Me thoughte wonder if hit were so;
This god of slepe, with his oon yë		For I had never herd speke, or tho,
Cast up, +axed, 'who clepeth there?' 18	35	Of no goddes that coude make 2	35
'Hit am I,' quod this messagere ;		Men [for] to slepe, ne for to wake ;
'Juno bad thou shuldest goon '		For I ne knew never god but oon.
And tolde him what he shulde doon		And in my game I sayde anoon
As I have told yow here-tofore ; -		And yet me list right evel to pleye-
Hit is no need reherse hit more ; 19	0		40
And wente his wey, whan he had sayd.		Through defaute of sleping thus,
Anon this god of slepe a-brayd		I wolde yive thilke Morpheus,
Out of his slepe, and gan to goon,		Or his goddesse, dame Juno,
And did as he had bede him doon ;		Or som wight elles, I ne roghte who-
Took up the dreynte body sone, 19	5	To make me slepe and have som reste-	-

The Minor Poems.

I wil yive him the alder-beste	246	+I loked forth, for I was waked
Yift that ever he abood his lyve,		With smale foules a gret hepe, 295
And here on warde, right now, as bly	vve;	That had affrayed me out of +slepe
If he wol make me slepe a lyte,		Through noyse and swetnesse of hir song;
Of downe of pure dowves whyte	250	And, as me mette, they sate among,
I wil yive him a fether-bed,		Upon my chambre-roof withoute,
Rayed with golde, and right wel cled		Upon the tyles, +al a-boute, 300
In fyn blak satin doutremere,		And songen, everich in his wyse,
And many a pilow, and every bere		The moste solempne servyse
Of clothe of Reynes, to slepe softe ;	255	By note, that ever man, I trowe,
Him thar not nede to turnen ofte.	00	Had herd ; for som of hem song lowe,
And I wol yive him al that falles		Som hye, and al of oon acorde. 305
To a chambre ; and al his halles		To telle shortly, at oo worde,
I wol do peynte with pure golde,		Was never y-herd so swete a steven,
And tapite hem ful many folde	260	But hit had be a thing of heven ;
Of oo sute ; this shal he have,		So mery a soun, so swete entunes,
If I wiste wher were his cave,		That certes, for the toune of Tewnes, 310
If he can make me slepe sone,		I nolde but I had herd hem singe ;
As did the goddesse +Alcione.		For al my chambre gan to ringe
And thus this ilke god, Morpheus,	265	Through singing of hir armonye.
May winne of me mo feës thus		For instrument nor melodye
Than ever he wan ; and to Juno,		Was nowher herd yet half so swete, 315
That is his goddesse, I shal so do,		Nor of acorde half so mete ;
I trow that she shal holde her payd.'		For ther was noon of hem that feyned
I hadde unneth that word y-sayd	270	To singe, for ech of hem him peyned
Right thus as I have told hit yow,	·	To finde out mery crafty notes;
That sodeynly, I niste how,		They ne spared not hir throtes. 320
Swich a lust anoon me took		And, sooth to seyn, my chambre was
To slepe, that right upon my book		Ful wel depeynted, and with glas
I fil aslepe, and therwith even	275	Were al the windowes wel y-glased,
Me mette so inly swete a sweven,		Ful clere, and nat an hole y-crased,
So wonderful, that never yit		That to beholde hit was gret joye. 325
I trowe no man hadde the wit		For hoolly al the storie of Troye
To conne wel my sweven rede;		Was in the glasing y-wroght thus,
No, not Joseph, withoute drede,	280	Of Ector and +king Priamus,
Of Egipte, he that redde so		Of Achilles and +Lamedon,
The kinges meting Pharao,		Of +Medea and of Jason, 330
No more than coude the leste of us;		Of Paris, Eleyne, and Lavyne.
Ne nat scarsly Macrobeus,		And talle the walles with colours fyne
(He that wroot al th'avisioun	285	Were peynted, bothe text and glose,
That he mette, king Scipioun,	Ŭ	+Of al the Romaunce of the Rose.
The noble man, the Affrican—		My windowes weren shet echon, 335

I trowe, a-rede my dremes even.		Upon my bed with brighte bemes,
Lo, thus hit was, this was my sweven.	290	With many glade gilden stremes;
		And eek the welken was so fair,
The Duenu		Blew, bright, clere was the air, 340
The Dream.		And ful atempre, for sothe, hit was ;
ME thoughte thus :that hit was Ma	y,	For nother +cold nor hoot hit nas,
And in the dawning ther I lay,		Ne in al the welken was a cloude.
Me mette thus, in my bed al naked -	-	And on I low them mondon londs

And in the dawning ther I lay, Me mette thus, in my bed al naked :----

And as I lay thus, wonder loude

III. The Book of the Duchesse.

Me thoughte I herde an hunte blowe 345 T' assave his horn, and for to knowe Whether hit were clere or hors of soune. +I herde goinge, up and doune, Men, hors, houndes, and other thing ; And al men speken of hunting, 350 How they wolde slee the hert with strengthe, And how the hert had, upon lengthe, So moche embosed, I not now what. Anon-right, whan I herde that, How that they wolde on hunting goon, I was right glad, and up anoon ; 356 [I] took my hors, and forth I wente Out of my chambre : I never stente Til I com to the feld withoute. Ther overtook I a gret route 360 Of huntes and eek of foresteres, With many relayes and lymeres. And hved hem to the forest faste. And I with hem :-- so at the laste I asked oon, ladde a lymere :---365 'Say, felow, who shal hunte[n] here?' Quod I; and he answerde ageyn, 'Sir, th'emperour Octovien,' Quod he, 'and is heer faste by.' 'A goddes halfe, in good tyme,' quod I, 'Go we faste !' and gan to ryde. 371 Whan we came to the forest-syde. Every man dide, right anoon. As to hunting fil to doon. The mayster-hunte anoon, fot-hoot, 375 With a gret horne blew three moot At the uncoupling of his houndes. Within a whyl the hert [y]-founde is, Y-halowed, and rechased faste Longe tyme; and +at the laste, 380 This hert rused and stal away Fro alle the houndes a prevy way. The houndes had overshote hem alle, And were on a defaute y-falle ; Therwith the hunte wonder faste 385 Blew a forloyn at the laste. I was go walked fro my tree, And as I wente, ther cam by me

And as I wente, ther cam by me A whelp, that fauned me as I stood, That hadde y-folowed, and conde no good. Hit com and creep to me as lowe, 391 Right as hit hadde me y-knowe, Hild doun his heed and joyned his eres, And leyde al smothe doun his heres, I wolde han caught hit, and anoon 395 Hit fledde, and was fro me goon : And I him folwed, and hit forth wente Doun by a floury grene wente Ful thikke of gras, ful softe and swete, With floures fele, faire under fete, 400 And litel used, hit seemed thus : For bothe Flora and Zephirus. They two that make floures growe. Had mad hir dwelling ther, I trowe ; For hit was, on to beholde, 405 As thogh the erthe envye wolde To be gayer than the heven, To have mo floures, swiche seven As in the welken sterres be. Hit had forgete the povertee 410 That winter, through his colde morwes, Had mad hit suffre[n], and his sorwes ; Al was forgeten, and that was sene. For al the wode was waxen grene, Swetnesse of dewe had mad it waxe. 415

Hit is no need eek for to axe Wher ther were many grene greves, Or thikke of trees, so ful of leves ; And every tree stood by him-selve Fro other wel ten foot or twelve. 120 So grete trees, so huge of strengthe, Of fourty or fifty fadme lengthe. Clene withoute bough or stikke, With croppes brode, and eek as thikke-They were nat an inche a-sonder— 425 That hit was shadwe over-al under : And many an hert and many an hinde Was both before me and bihinde. Of founes, soures, bukkes, doës Was ful the wode, and many roës, 430 And many squirelles, that sete Ful hye upon the trees, and ete, And in hir maner made festes, Shortly, hit was so ful of bestes, That thogh Argus, the noble countour, Sete to rekene in his countour, 436 And rekene[d] with his figures ten-For by tho figures mowe al ken. If they be crafty, rekene and noumbre. And telle of every thing the noumbre-Yet shulde he favle to rekene even 441 The wondres, me mette in my sweven.

But forth they romed †wonder faste Doun the wode; so at the laste I was war of a man in blak,

That sat and had y-turned his bak To an oke, an huge tree, 'Lord,' thoghte I, ' who may that be? What ayleth him to sitten here?' Anoon-right I wente nere ; 450 Than fond I sitte even upright A wonder wel-faringe knight-By the maner me thoughte so-Of good mochel, and +yong therto, Of the age of four and twenty yeer. 455 Upon his berde but litel heer, And he was clothed al in blakke. I stalked even unto his bakke. And ther I stood as stille as ought, That, sooth to save, he saw me nought, For-why he heng his heed adoune. 461 And with a deedly sorwful soune He made of ryme ten vers or twelve, Of a compleynt to him-selve, The moste pite, the moste rowthe, 465 That ever I herde; for, by my trowthe, Hit was gret wonder that nature Might suffre[n] any creature To have swich sorwe, and be not deed. Ful pitous, pale, and nothing reed, 470 He sayde a lay, a maner song, Withoute note, withoute song. And hit was this; for +wel I can Reherse hit ; right thus hit began.-¶'I have of sorwe so gret woon, 475 That joye gete I never noon. Now that I see my lady bright, Which I have loved with al my might,

"Is frome deed, and is a-goon." 479 [Allas, [o] deeth! what ayleth thee, 481 That thou noldest have taken me,

Whan that thou toke my lady swete? That was so fayr, so fresh, so free, So good, that men may wel [y]-see 485

Of al goodnesse she had no mete !'— Whan he had mad thus his complaynte, His sorowful herte gan faste faynte, And his spirites waxen dede ; The blood was fled, for pure drede, 490 Doun to his herte, to make him warm— For wel hit feled the herte had harm— To wite eek why hit was a-drad By kinde, and for to make hit glad ; For hit is membre principal 495 Of the body ; and that made al His hewe chaunge and wexe grene And pale, for the blood was sene In no maner lime of his.

Anoon therwith whan I saw this, 500 He ferde thus evel ther he sete, I wente and stood right at his fete, And grettë him, but he spak noght, But argued with his owne thoght, And in his witte disputed faste 505 Why and how his lyf might laste ; Him thoughte his sorwes were so smerte And lay so colde upon his herte : So, through his sorwe and hevy thoght. Made him that he ne herde me noght ; For he had wel nigh lost his minde, 511 Thogh Pan, that men clepe god of kinde, Were for his sorwes never so wrooth.

But at the laste, to sayn right sooth, He was war of me, how I stood 515 Before him, and dide of myn hood, And +grettë him, as I best coude. Debonairly, and no-thing loude, He sayde, 'I prey thee, be not wrooth, I herde the not, to sayn the sooth, 520 Ne I saw theo not, sir, trewely.'

<sup>4</sup> A! goode sir, no fors,' quod I, <sup>4</sup> I am right sory if I have ought Destroubled yow out of your thought; For-yive me if I have mis-take,' 525

'Yis, th'amendes is light to make,' Quod he, 'for ther lyth noon ther-to; Ther is no-thing missayd nor do.'

Lo! how goodly spak this knight, As it had been another wight; 533 He made it nouther tough ne queynte. And I saw that, and gan me aqueynte With him, and fond him so tretable, Right wonder skilful and resonable, As me thoghte, for al his bale. 535 Anoon-right I gan finde a tale To him, to loke wher I might ought.

'Sir,' quod I, 'this game is doon ; I holde that this hert be goon ; 540 Thise huntes conne him nowher see.'

' I do no fors therof,' quod he, ' My thought is ther-on never a del.'

'By our lord,' quod I, 'I trow yow wel, Right so me thinketh by your chere. 545 But, sir, oo thing wol ye here? Me thinketh, in gret sorwe I yow see But certes, [good] sir, yif that ye

But hit may never the rather be do.	My mirthe and meles is fasting,
No man may my sorwe glade,	My countenaunce is nycete,
That maketh my hewe to falle and	And al abaved wher-so I be,
fade,	My pees, in pleding and in werre;	615
And hath myn understonding lorn, 565	Allas! how mighte I fare werre?
That me is wo that I was born !	' My boldnesse is turned to shame,
May noght make my sorwes slyde,	For fals Fortune hath pleyd a game
Nought the remedies of Ovyde ;	Atte ches with me, allas ! the whyle !
Ne Orpheus, god of melodye,	The trayteresse fals and ful of gyle,	620
Ne Dedalus, with +playes slye; 570	That al behoteth and no-thing halt,
Ne hele me may +phisicien,	She goth upright and yet she halt,
Noght Ipocras, ne Galien ;	That baggeth foule and loketh faire,
Me is wo that I live houres twelve;	The dispitousë debonaire,
But who so wol assaye him-selve	That scorneth many a creature !	625
Whether his herte can have pite 575	An ydole of fals portraiture
Of any sorwe, lat him see me.	Is she, for she wil sone wryen ;
I wrecche, that deeth hath mad al naked	She is the monstres heed y-wryen,
Of alle blisse that was ever maked,	As filth over y-strawed with floures;
Y-worthe worste of alle wightes,	Hir moste worship and hir +flour is	630
That hate my dayes and my nightes; 580	To lyen, for that is hir nature;
My lyf, my lustes be me lothe,	Withoute feyth, lawe, or mesure
For al welfare and I be wrothe.	She is fals ; and ever laughinge
The pure deeth is so +my fo,	With oon eye, and that other wepinge	э.
+Thogh I wolde deye, hit wolde not so;	That is broght up, she set al doun.	635
For whan I folwe hit, hit wol flee; 585	I lykne hir to the scorpioun,
I wolde have thit, hit nil not me.	That is a fals flatering beste ;
This is my peyne withoute reed,	For with his hede he maketh feste,
Alway deying, and be not deed,	But al amid his flateringe
That +Sesiphus, that lyth in helle,	With his tayle he wol stinge,	640
May not of more sorwe telle. 590	And envenyme ; and so wol she.
And who so wiste al, by my trouthe,	She is th' envyous charite
My sorwe, but he hadde routhe	That is ay fals, and semeth wele;
And pite of my sorwes smerte,	So turneth she hir false whele
That man hath a feendly herte.	Aboute, for it is no-thing stable,	645
For who so seeth me first on morwe 595	Now by the fyre, now at table ;
May seyn, he hath [y]-met with sorwe;	Ful many oon hath she thus y-blent.
For I am sorwe and sorwe is I.	She is pley of enchauntement,
'Allas! and I wol telle the why;	That semeth oon and is nat so,

And ful devoutly +prayde him to,	Is fairer, clerer, and hath more light
He shulde besette myn herte so,	Than any +planete, [is] in heven,
That it plesaunce to him were,	The mone, or the sterres seven,
And worship to my lady dere.	For al the worlde, so had she	825
'And this was longe, and many a yeer	Surmounted hem alle of beaute,
Or that myn herte was set o-wher, 776	Of maner and of comlinesse,
That I did thus, and niste why;	Of stature and +wel set gladnesse,
I trowe hit cam me kindely.	Of goodlihede tso wel beseye-
Paraunter I was therto table	Shortly, what shal I more seye?	830
As a whyt wal or a table; 780	By god, and by his halwes twelve,
For hit is redy to cacche and take	It was my swete, right as hir-selve !
Al that men wil therin make,	She had so stedfast countenaunce,
Wher-so men wol portreye or peynte,	So noble port and meyntenaunce.
Be the werkes never so queynte.	And Love, that had herd my bone,	835
'And thilke tyme I ferde †so 785	Had espyed me thus sone,
I was able to have lerned tho,	That she ful sone, in my thoght,
And to have coud as wel or better,	As helpe me god, so was y-caught
Paraunter, other art or letter.	So sodenly, that I ne took
But for love cam first in my thought,	No maner treed but at hir look	84c

And loke so debonairly, So goodly speke and so frendly, That certes, I trow, that evermore Nas seyn so blisful a tresore. 855 For every heer [up]on hir hede, Soth to seyn, hit was not rede, Ne nouther yelw, ne broun hit nas; Me thoghte, most lyk gold hit was. And whiche even my lady hadde ! Debonair, goode, glade, and sadde, 860 Simple, of good mochel, noght to wyde ; Therto hir look nas not a-syde, Ne overthwert, but beset so wel, Hit drew and took up, everydel, Alle that on hir gan beholde. 865 Hir eyen semed anoon she wolde Have mercy; fooles wenden so; But hit was never the rather do. Hit nas no countrefeted thing. It was hir owne pure loking, 870 That the goddesse, dame Nature, Had made hem opene by mesure, And close ; for, were she never so glad, Hir loking was not foly sprad. Ne wildely, thogh that she pleyde ; 875 But ever, me thoghte, hir eyen seyde, " By god, my wrathe is al for-yive !"

'Therwith hir liste so wel to live. That dulnesse was of hir a-drad. She nas to sobre ne to glad ; 880 In alle thinges more mesure Had never, I trowe, creature. But many oon with hir loke she herte, And that sat hir ful lyte at herte, For she knew no-thing of hir thoght ; 885 But whether she knew, or knew hit noght, Algate she ne roghte of hem a stree ! To gete hir love no ner nas he That woned at home, than he in Inde : The formest was alway behinde. 800 But gode folk, over al other, She loved as man may do his brother ; Of whiche love she was wonder large, In skilful places that bere charge.

I have no wit that can suffyse To comprehende[n] hir beaute ; But thus moche dar I seyn, that she Was trody, fresh, and lyvely hewed ; 905 And every day hir beaute newed, And negh hir face was alder-best ; For certes, Nature had swich lest To make that fair, that trewly she Was hir cheef patron of beautee, 010 And cheef ensample of al hir werke, And moustre ; for, be hit never so derke, Me thinketh I see hir ever-mo. And yet more-over, thogh alle tho That ever lived were now a-lyve, 915 [They] ne sholde have founde to discrvve In al hir face a wikked signe : For hit was sad, simple, and benigne.

'And which a goodly softe speche Had that swete, my lyyes leche ! 020 So frendly, and so wel y-grounded, Up al resoun so wel y-founded, And so tretable to alle gode. That I dar swere +by the rode, Of eloquence was never founde 925 So swete a sowninge facounde, Ne trewer tonged, ne scorned lasse, Ne bet coude hele; that, by the masse I durste swere, thogh the pope hit songe, That ther was never +through hir tonge Man ne woman gretly harmed ; 931 As for hir, [ther] was al harm hid ; Ne lasse flatering in hir worde, That purely, hir simple recorde Was founde as trewe as any bonde, 935 Or trouthe of any mannes honde. Ne chyde she coude never a del, That knoweth al the world ful wel.

'But swich a fairness of a nekke Had that swete, that boon nor brekke Nas ther non sene, that mis-sat. 941 Hit was whyt, smothe, streght, and †flat, Withouten hole; †and canel-boon, As by seming, had she noon. Hir throte, as I have now memoire, 945 Semed a round tour of yvoire, Of good gretnesse, and noght to grete.

<sup>4</sup> And good faire WHYTE she hete, That was my lady name right. She was bothe fair and bright, 950 She hadde not hir name wrong. Right faire shuldres, and body long

III. The Book of the Duchesse.

She hadde, and armes, every lith Fattish, flesshy, not greet therwith; Right whyte handes, and nayles rede, 955 Rounde brestes; and of good brede Hir hippes were, a streight flat bak. I knew on hir non other lak That al hir limmes nere 'tsewing, In as fer as I had knowing. 960

'Therto she coude so wel pleye, Whan that hir liste, that I dar søye, That she was lyk to torche bright, That every man may take of light Ynogh, and hit hath never the lesse. 965

'To speke of goodnesse ; trewly she o85 Had as moche debonairte As ever had Hester in the bible, And more, if more were possible. And, soth to seyne, therwith-al She had a wit so general, 000 So hool enclyned to alle gode, That al hir wit was set, by the rode, Withoute malice, upon gladnesse ; +Therto I saw never yet a lesse Harmful, than she was in doing. 995 I sey nat that she ne had knowing What +was harm ; or elles she Had coud no good, so thinketh me.

'And trewly, for to speke of trouthe, But she had had, hit had be routhe. 1000 Therof she had so moche hir del— And I dar seyn and swere hit wel— That Trouthe him-self, over al and al, Had chose his maner principal In hir, that was his resting-place. 1005 Ther-to she hadde the moste grace, To have stedfast perseveraunce, And esy, atempre governaunce, That ever I knew or wiste yit; So pure suffraunt was hir wit. 1010 And reson gladly she understood, Hit folowed wel she coude good. She used gladly to do wel; These were hir maners every-del.

'Therwith she loved so wel right, 1015 She wrong do wolde to no wight ; No wight might do hir no shame. She loved so wel hir owne name. Hir luste to holde no wight in honde ; Ne, be thou siker, she +nolde fonde 1020 To holde no wight in balaunce, By half word ne by countenaunce, But-if men wolde upon hir lye ; Ne sende men in-to Walakye, To Pruvse and in-to Tartarve. 1025 To Alisaundre, ne in-to Turkye, And bidde him faste, anoon that he Go hoodles +to the drye see, And come hoom by the Carrenare ; And seye, "Sir, be now right ware 1030 That I may of yow here seyn Worship, or that ye come ageyn !" She ne used no suche knakkes smale.

'But wherfor that I telle my tale ? Right on this same, as I have seyd, 1035 Was hoolly al my love leyd; For certes, she was, that swete wyf, My suffisaunce, my lust, my lyf, Myn hap, myn hele, and al my blisse, My worldes welfare and my tlisse, 1040 And I hirs hoolly, everydel.'

'By our lord,' quod I, 'I trowe yow wel! Hardely, your love was wel beset, I not how ye mighte have do bet.' 'Bet? ne no wight so wel!' quod he. 1045 'I trowe hit, sir,' quod I, 'parde!' 'Nay, leve hit wel!' 'Sir, so do I; I leve yow wel, that trewely Yow thoghte, that she was the beste, And to beholde the alderfaireste, 1050 Who so had loked 'fwith your eyen.'

'With myn? nay, alle that hir seyen Seyde, and swore[n] hit was so. And thogh they ne hadde, I wolde tho

She was as good, and no-thing lyke,	1085	I herde yow telle her-before.' 1136
Thogh hir stories be autentyke ;	1005
Algate she was as trewe as she.		'Ye,' seyde he, 'thou nost what thou menest;
'But wherfor that I telle thee		I have lost more than thou wenest.'
Whan I first my lady sey?		'What los is that, [sir]?' quod I tho;
I was right yong, [the] sooth to sey,	1090	'Nil she not love yow? is hit so? 1140
And ful gret need I hadde to lerne ;		Or have ye oght [y-]doon amis,
Whan my herte wolde yerne		That she hath left yow? is hit this?
To love, it was a greet empryse.		For goddes love, tel me al.'
But as my wit coude best suffyse,		'Before god,' quod he, 'and I shal.
After my yonge childly wit,	1095	I saye right as I have seyd, 1145
Withoute drede, I besette hit		On hir was al my love leyd ;
To love hir in my beste wyse,		And yet she niste hit †never a del
To do hir worship and servyse		Noght longe tyme, leve hit wel.
That I +tho coude, by my trouthe,		For be right siker, I durste noght 1149
Withoute feyning outher slouthe;	1100	For al this worlde telle hir my thoght,
For wonder fayn I wolde hir see.		Ne I wolde have wratthed hir, trewly.
So mochel hit amended me,		For wostow why? she was lady
That, whan I saw hir first a-morwe,		Of the body; she had the herte,
I was warished of al my sorwe		And who hath that, may not asterte.
Of al day after, til hit were eve ;	1105	'But, for to kepe me fro ydelnesse, 1155

III. The Book of the Duckesse.

Trewly I did my besinesse To make songes, as I best coude, And ofte tyme I song hem loude ; And made songes a gret del. Al-thogh I coude not make so wel 1160 Songes, ne knowe the art al. As coude Lamekes sone Tubal, That fond out first the art of songe : For, as his brothers hamers ronge Upon his anyelt up and doun, 1165 Therof he took the firste soun; But Grekes sevn. Pictagoras, That he the firste finder was Of the art ; Aurora telleth so, But therof no fors, of hem two. 1170 Algates songes thus I made Of my feling, myn herte to glade ; And lo ! this was [the] alther-firste, I not wher [that] hit were the werste.---¶ "Lord, hit maketh myn herte light, Whan I thenke on that swete wight 1176 That is so semely on to see ; And wisshe to god hit might so be, That she wolde holde me for hir knight, My lady, that is so fair and bright ! "-'Now have I told thee, sooth to saye, My firste song. Upon a daye 1182 I bethoghte me what wo And sorwe that I suffred tho For hir, and yet she wiste hit noght, 1185 Ne telle hir durste I nat my thoght. "Allas!" thoghte I, "I can no reed ; And, but I telle hir, I +nam but deed ; And if I telle hir, to seve +sooth, I am a-dred she wol be wrooth ; 1100 Allas! what shal I thanne do?" 'In this debat I was so wo. Me thoghte myn herte braste a-tweyn ! So atte laste, soth to sevn. I me bethoghte that nature 1195 Ne formed never in creature So moche beaute, trewely, And bounte, withouten mercy. 'In hope of that, my tale I tolde With sorwe, as that I never sholde, 1200 For nedes ; and, maugree my heed, I moste have told hir or be deed. I not wel how that I began. Ful evel reherse[n] hit I can ;

And eek, as helpe me god with-al,

I trowe hit was in the dismal.

That was the ten woundes of Egipte : For many a word I over-skipte In my tale, for pure fere Lest my wordes mis-set were. 1210 With sorweful herte, and woundes dede, Softe and quaking for pure drede And shame, and stinting in my tale For ferde, and myn hewe al pale, Ful ofte I wex bothe pale and reed; 1215 Bowing to hir, I heng the heed ; I durste nat ones loke hir on, For wit, manere, and al was gon. I sevde "mercy !" and no more ; Hit nas no game, hit sat me sore 1220 'So atte laste, sooth to seyn,

Whan that myn herte was come ageyn, To telle shortly al my speche, With hool herte I gan hir beseche That she wolde be my lady swete ; 1225 And swor, and gan hir hertely hete Ever to be stedfast and trewe, And love hir alwey freshly newe, And never other lady have. And al hir worship for to save 1230 As I best coude : I swor hir this-"For youres is al that ever ther is For evermore, myn herte swete ! And never +false yow, but I mete, I nil, as wis god helpe me so !" 1235

'And whan I had my tale y-do, God wot, she acounted nat a stree Of al my tale, so thoghte me. To telle shortly tas hit is, Trewly hir answere, hit was this; I can not now wel counterfete Hir wordes, but this was the grete Of hir answere ; she sayde, "nay" Al-outerly, Allas! that day The sorwe I suffred, and the wo ! 1245 That trewly Cassandra, that so Bewayled the destruccioun Of Troye and of Ilioun, Had never swich sorwe as I tho. I durste no more say therto For pure fere, but stal away ; And thus I lived ful many a day : That trewely, I hadde no need Ferther than my beddes heed Never a day to seche sorwe; I fond hit redy every morwe, For-why I loved hir in no gere.

'So hit befel, another yere,	So wel, I can nat telle how.'
I thoughte ones I wolde fonde	'Sir,' quod I, 'wher is she now?'
To do hir knowe and understonde 1260	'Now!' quod he, and stinte anoon.
My wo; and she wel understood	Therwith he wex as deed as stoon, 1300
That I ne wilned thing but good,	And seyde, 'allas ! that I was bore !
And worship, and to kepe hir name	That was the los, that her-before
Over tal thing, and drede hir shame,	I tolde thee, that I had lorn.
And was so besy hir to serve ;- 1265	Bethenk how I seyde her-beforn, 1304
And pite were I shulde sterve,	"Thou wost ful litel what thou menest;
Sith that I wilned noon harm, y-wis.	I have lost more than thou wenest "
So whan my lady knew al this,	God wot, allas! right that was she !'
My lady yaf me al hoolly	'Allas! sir, how? what may that be?'
The noble yift of hir mercy, 1270	'She is deed !' 'Nay !' 'Yis, by my
Saving hir worship, by al weyes;	trouthe !'
Dredles, I mene noon other weyes.	'Is that your los? by god, hit is routhe !'
And therwith she yaf me a ring ;	And with that worde, right anoon, 1311
I trowe hit was the firste thing ;	They gan to strake forth ; al was doon,
But if myn herte was y-waxe 1275	For that tyme, the hert-hunting.
Glad, that is no need to axe !	With that, me thoghte, that this king
As helpe me god, I was as blyve,	Gan [quikly] hoomward for to ryde 1315
Reysed, as fro dethe to lyve,	Unto a place +ther besyde,
Of alle happes the alder-beste,	Which was from us but a lyte,
The gladdest and the moste at reste. 1280	A long castel with walles whyte,
For trewely, that swete wight,	By seynt Johan ! on a riche hil,
Whan I had wrong and she the right,	As me mette; but thus it fil. 1320
She wolde alwey so goodely	Right thus me mette, as I yow telle,
For-yeve me so debonairly.	That in the castel †was a belle,
In alle my youthe, in alle chaunce, 1285 She took me in hir governaunce.	As hit had smiten houres twelve
'Therwith she was alway so trewe,
Our joye was ever y-liche newe ;	Therwith I awook my-selve,
Our hertes wern so even a payre,	And fond me lying in my bed ; 1325
	And the book that I had red,
To that other, for no wo.	Of Alcyone and Seys the king,
For sothe, y-liche they suffred tho	And of the goddes of sleping,
Oo blisse and eek oo sorwe bothe;	I fond it in myn honde ful even.
Y-liche they were bothe gladde and	Thoghte I, 'this is so queynt a sweven, wrothe ;	That I wol, by processe of tyme, 1331 Fonde to putte this sweven in ryme
Al was us oon, withoute were. 1295	As I can best; and that anoon.'-
And thus we lived ful many a yere	This was my sweven; now hit is doon. 1334
in the second second	into mas my sweven; now hit is doon. 1334

THE COMPLEYNT OF MARS. IV.

The Proem

"GLADETH, ye foules, of the morow gray, Lo ! Venus risen among yon rowes rede ! And floures fresshe, honoureth ye this dav :

For when the sonne uprist, then wol ye sprede.

But ye lovers, that lye in any drede, Fleëth, lest wikked tonges yow espye ;

Lo! youd the sonne, the candel of jelosye!

With teres blewe, and with a wounded herte

Taketh your leve ; and, with seynt John to borow,

Apeseth somwhat of your sorowes smerte, Tyme cometh eft, that cese shal your sorow ;

The glade night is worth an hevy morow !'-

(Seynt Valentyne ! a foul thus herde I singe

Upon thy day, er sonne gan up-springe).---

Yet sang this foul-'I rede yow al a-wake, And ye, that han not chosen in humble wyse, Without repenting cheseth yow your make.

And ye, that han ful chosen as I devyse, Yet at the leste renoveleth your servyse ; Confermeth it perpetuely to dure, 20 And paciently taketh your aventure.

And for the worship of this hve feste,

Yet wol I, in my briddes wyse, singe The sentence of the compleynt, at the leste.

That woful Mars made atte departinge 25 Fro fresshe Venus in a morweninge, Whan Phebus, with his fyry torches rede, Ransaked every lover in his drede.

The Story.

Whylom the thridde hevenes lord above,

As wel by hevenish revolucioun

As by desert, hath wonne Venus his love, And she hath take him in subjeccioun,

- And as a maistresse taught him his lessoun,
- Comaunding him that never, in hir servyse,

He nere so bold no lover to despyse. 85

For she forbad him jelosve at alle,

And cruelte, and bost, and tirannye ;

She made him at hir lust so humble and talle.

That when hir deyned caste on him hir yë, He took in pacience to live or dye; 40 And thus she brydeleth him in hir man-

- ere. With no-thing but with scourging of hir
- chere

Who regneth now in blisse but Venus,

That hath this worthy knight in governannce?

Who singeth now but Mars, that serveth thus

The faire Venus, causer of plesaunce? He bynt him to perpetual obeisaunce, And she bynt hir to loven him for ever. But so be that his trespas hit dissever.

Thus be they knit, and regnen as in heven By loking most; til hit fil, on a tyde, 51 That by hir bothe assent was set a steven, That Mars shal entre, as faste as he may glyde,

Into hir nexte paleys, to abyde,

Walking his cours til she had him a-take,

- And he preyde hir to haste hir for his sake. 56
- Then seyde he thus-"myn hertes lady swete,

Ye knowe wel my mischef in that place; For sikerly, til that I with yow mete, 59 My lyf stant ther in aventure and grace ; But when I see the beaute of your face,

Ther is no dreed of deeth may do me smerte.

For al your lust is ese to myn herte."

The Minor Poems.

She hath sogret compassion of hir knight, That dwelleth in solitude til she come ; 65 For hit stood so, that ilke tyme, no wight Counseyled him, ne seyde to him welcome, That nigh hir wit for wo was overcome ; Wherfore she spedde hir as faste in hir weye,

Almost in oon day, as he dide in tweye. 70

The grete joye that was betwix hem two, Whan they be met, ther may no tunge telle.

Ther is no more, but unto bed they go,

And thus in joye and blisse I lete hem dwelle ;

This worthy Mars, that is of knighthod welle,

The flour of fairnes lappeth in his armes, And Venus kisseth Mars, the god of armes,

Sojourned hath this Mars, of which I rede, In chambre amid the paleys prively

A certeyn tyme, til him fel a drede, 80 Through Phebus, that was comen hastely Within the paleys-vates sturdely,

With torche in honde, of which the stremes brighte

On Venus chambre knokkeden ful lighte.

The chambre, ther as lay this fresshe quene, 85

Depeynted was with whyte boles grete,

- And by the light she knew, that shoon so shene.
- That Phebus cam to brenne hem with his hete:

This sely Venus, +dreynt in teres wete,

Enbraceth Mars, and sevde, "alas! I dve!

The torch is come, that al this world wol wrve." 91

Up sterte Mars, him liste not to slepe, Whan he his lady herde so compleyne : But, for his nature was not for to wepe, In stede of teres, fro his even twevne of

The fyry sparkes brosten out for peyne ;

And hente his hauberk, that lay him besyde ;

Flee wolde he not, ne mighte him-selven hyde.

He throweth on his helm of huge wighte, And girt him with his swerde; and in his honde

His mighty spere, as he was wont to fighte,

He shaketh so that almost it to-wonde ; Ful hevy he was to walken over londe; He may not holde with Venus companye, But bad hir fleen, lest Phebus hir espye.

O woful Mars ! alas ! what mayst thousevn. 106

That in the paleys of thy disturbaunce Art left behinde, in peril to be sleyn ?

And yet ther-to is double thy penaunce,

For she, that hath thyn herte in governaunce.

Is passed halfe the stremes of thyn yën ; That thou nere swift, wel mayst thou wepe and cryen.

Now fleeth Venus un-to Cylenius tour,

With voide cours, for fere of Phebus light. Alas ! and ther ne hath she no socour, 115 For she ne fond ne saw no maner wight ; And eek as ther she had but litil might ; Wher-for, hir-selven for to hyde and save, Within the gate she fledde into a cave.

Derk was this cave, and smoking as the helle. 120

Not but two pas within the gate hit stood ; A naturel day in derk I lete hir dwelle.

Now wol I speke of Mars, furious and wood :

For sorow he wolde have seen his herte blood :

Sith that he mighte thir don no companve. 125

He ne roghte not a myte for to dye.

So feble he wex, for hete and for his wo,

That nigh he swelt, he mighte unnethe endure :

He passeth but oo steyre in dayes two, But ner the les, for al his hevy armure, 130 He foloweth hir that is his lyves cure ; For whos departing he took gretter yre Thanne for al his brenning in the fyre.

After he walketh softely a pas,

Compleyning, that hit pite was to here. 135 He sevde, "O lady bright, Venus ! alas ! That ever so wyde a compas is my spere ! Alas ! whan shal I mete yow, herte dere, This twelfte day of April I endure, Through jelous Phebus, this misaventure."

IV. The Compleynt of Mars.

Now thelpe god sely Venus allone ! 141 But, as god wolde, hit happed for to be, That, whyl that Venus weping made hir mone, Cylenius, ryding in his chevauchè, 144 Fro Venus valance mighte his paleys see, And Venus he salueth, and maketh chere, And hir receyveth as his frend ful dere.

Mars dwelleth forth in his adversitee, Compleyning ever on hir departinge;

And what his compleynt was, remembreth me; 150

And therfore, in this lusty morweninge, As I beşt can, I wol hit seyn and singe,

And after that I wol my leve take :

And god yeve every wight joye of his make !

The Compleynt of Mars.

The Proem of the Compleynt.

- The ordre of compleynt requireth skilfully, 155
- That if a wight shal pleyne pitously, Ther mot be cause wherfor that men
  - pleyne;

Or men may deme he pleyneth folily And causeles; alas! that am not I!

Wherfor the ground and cause of al my peyne, 160

So as my troubled wit may hit ateyne, I wol reherse; not for to have redresse, But to declare my ground of hevinesse.

Devotion.

The firste tyme, alas! that I was wroght, And for certeyn effectes hider broght 165

By him that lordeth ech intelligence, I yaf my trewe servise and my thoght,

For evermore—how dere I have hit boght !—

To hir, that is of so gret excellence,

- That what wight that first sheweth his presence.
- When she is wroth and taketh of him no cure,

He may not longe in joye of love endure.

This is no feyned mater that I telle; My lady is the verrey sours and welle Of beaute, lust, fredom, and gentilnesse, 175

Of riche aray—how dere men hit selle !— Of al disport in which men frendly dwelle,

Of love and pley, and of benigne humblesse,

Of soune of instruments of al swetnesse; And therto so wel fortuned and thewed,

- That through the world hir goodnesse is y-shewed. 181
- What wonder is then, thogh that I besette
- My servise on suche oon, that may me knette
  - To wele or wo, sith hit lyth in hir might? 184

Therfor my herte for ever I to hir hette;

- Ne trewly, for my dethe, I shal not lette To ben hir trewest servaunt and hir knight.
  - I flater noght, that may wite every wight;

For this day in hir servise shal I dye;

But grace be, I see hir never with yë. 190

A Lady in fear and woe.

- To whom shal I than pleyne of my distresse?
- Who may me helpe, who may my harm redresse?

Shal I compleyne unto my lady free? Nay, certes ! for she hath such hevinesse, For fere and eek for wo, that, as I gesse,

In litil tyme hit wol hir bane be. 196 But were she sauf, hit wer no fors of me.

Alas ! that ever lovers mote endure,

For love, so many a perilous aventure !

For thogh so be that lovers be as trewe 200 As any metal that is forged newe,

In many a cas hem tydeth ofte sorowe. Somtyme hir ladies will not on hem rewe, Somtyme, yif that jelosye hit knewe,

- They mighten lightly leve hir heed to borowe; 205
- Somtyme envyous folke with tunges horowe
- Depraven hem; alas! whom may they plese?

But he be fals, no lover hath his ese.

But what availeth suche a long sermoun Of aventures of lovë, up and doun? 210

I wol returne and speken of my peyne; The point is this of my destruccioun, My righte lady, my salvacioun,

Is in affray, and not to whom to pleyne.

is in anray, and not to whom to preyne.

O herte swete, O lady sovereyne ! 215 For your disese, wel oghte I swoune and swelte.

Thogh I non other harm ne drede felte.

Instability of Happiness.

To what fyn made the god that sit so hye,

Benethen him, love other companye,

And streyneth folk to love, malgre hir hede? 220

And then hir joye, for oght I can espye, Ne lasteth not the twinkeling of an yë,

And somme han never joye til they be dede.

What meneth this? what is this mistihede?

Wherto constreyneth he his folk so faste Thing to desyre, but hit shulde laste? 226

And thogh he made a lover love a thing, And maketh hit seme stedfast and during,

Yet putteth he in hit such misaventure, That reste nis ther noon in his yeving. 230 And that is wonder, that so just a king

Doth such hardnesse to his creature.

Thus, whether love breke or elles dure, Algates he that hath with love to done Hath ofter wo then changed is the mone.

inter offer we then changed is the mone.

Hit semeth he hath to lovers enmite, 236 And lyk a fissher, as men alday may see.

Baiteth his angle-hook with som ples-aunce, Til mony a fish is wood til that he be 239

Sesed ther-with; and then at erst hath he

Al his desyr, and ther-with al mischaunce;

And thogh the lyne breke, he hath penaunce;

For with the hoke he wounded is so sore, That he his wages hath for ever-more.

The Brooch of Thebes.

The broche of Thebes was of suche a kinde, 245

So ful of rubies and of stones Inde,

That every wight, that sette on hit an yë,

He wende anon to worthe out of his minde;

So sore the beaute wolde his herte binde, Til he hit hadde, him thoghte he moste dye; 250 And whan that hit was his, than shuldo he drve

Such wo for drede, ay whyl that he hit hadde.

That welnigh for the fere he shulde madde.

And whan hit was fro his possessioun,

Than had he double wo and passioun 255 For he so fair a tresor had forgo;

But yet this broche, as in conclusioun, Was not the cause of this confusioun ;

But he that wroghte hit enfortuned hit so,

That every wight that had hit shuld have wo; 260

And therfor in the worcher was the vyce, And in the covetour that was so nyce.

So fareth hit by lovers and by me;

For thogh my lady have so gret beaute.

That I was mad til I had gete hir grace, 265

She was not cause of myn adversitee,

But he that wroghte hir, also mot I thee,

That putte suche a beaute in hir face,

That made me to covete and purchace Myn owne deth; him wyte I that I dve. 270 dye, 270 And myn unwit, that ever I clomb so hye

An Appeal for Sympathy.

¶ But to yow, hardy knightes of renoun, Sin that ye be of my divisioun,

Al be I not worthy †so grete a name,

Yet, seyn these clerkes, I am your patroun; 275

Ther-for ye oghte have som compassioun Of my disese, and take it noght a-game. The proudest of yow may be mad ful tame :

Wherfor I prey yow, of your gentilesse,

That ye compleyne for myn hevinesse. 280

And ye, my ladies, that ben trewe and stable,

By way of kinde, ye oghten to be able

To have pite of folk that be in peyne : Now have ye cause to clothe yow in sable; Sith that your emperice, the honorable,

Is desolat, wel oghte ye to pleyne; 286 Now shuld your holy teres falle and reyne,

Alas! your honour and your emperice,

Nigh deed for drede, ne can hir not chevise.

Compleyneth eek, ye lovers, al in-fere, 200 For hirthat, with unfeyned humble chere,

Was ever redy to do yow socour ;

Compleyneth hir that ever hath had yow dere;

Compleyneth beaute, fredom, and manere; Compleyneth hir that endeth your labour; 295 Compleyneth thilke ensample of al honour.

That never dide but al gentilesse ; 297 Kytheth therfor on hir som kindenesse.'

V. THE PARLEMENT OF FOULES.

The Proem.

Turn lys so short, the craft so long to lerne, Th'assay so hard, so sharp the conquering, The dredful joye, that alwey slit so yerne, Al this mene I by love, that my feling 4 Astonyeth with his wonderful worching So sore y-wis, that whan I on him thinke, Nat wot I wel wher that I wake or winke.

For al be that I knowe not love in dede, Ne wot how that he quyteth folk hir hyre, Yet happeth me ful ofte in bokes rede to Of his miracles, and his cruel yre;

Ther rede I wel he wol be lord and syre, I dar not seyn, his strokes been so sore,

But god save swich a lord ! I can no more.

Of usage, what for luste what for lore, 15 On bokes rede I ofte, as I yow tolde. But wherfor that I speke al this? not yore Agon, hit happed me for to beholde Upon a boke, was write with lettres olde ; And ther-upon, accreteyn thing to lerne, ao The longe day ful faste I radde and yerne.

For out of olde feldes, as men seith, Cometh al this newe corn fro yeer to yere; And out of olde bokes, in good feith, Cometh al this newe science that men lere. 25 But now to purpos as of this matere— To rede forth hit gan me so delyte, That al the day me thoughte but a lyte.

This book of which I make mencioun, Entitled was al thus, as I shal telle, 30 'Tullius of the dreme of Scipioun';

Chapitres seven hit hadde, of hevene and helle,

And erthe, and soules that therinne dwelle,

Of whiche, as shortly as I can hit trete, 34 Of his sentence I wol you seyn the grete.

First telleth hit, whan Scipioun was come In Afrik, how he mette Massinisse,

That him for joye in armes hath y-nome. Than telleth thit hir speche and al the blisse

That was betwix hem, til the day gan misse:

And how his auncestre, African so dere, Gan in his slepe that night to him appere.

Than telleth hit that, fro a sterry place, How African hath him Cartage shewed,

And warned him before of al his grace, 45 And seyde him, what man, lered other lewed,

That loveth comun profit, wel y-thewed, He shal unto a blisful place wende,

Ther as joye is that last withouten ende.

The Minor Poems.

Than asked he, if folk that heer be dede Have lyf and dwelling in another place; 51 And African seyde, 'ye, withoute drede,' And that our present worldes lyves space Nis but a maner deth, what wey we trace, And rightful folk shal go, after they dye, To heven, and shewed him the galaxyse. 56

102.

Than shewed he him the litel erthe, that heer is,

At regard of the hevenes quantite; And after shewed he him the nyne speres, And after that the melodye herde he 60 That cometh of thilke speres thryes three, That welle is of musyke and melodye In this world heer, and cause of armonye.

Than bad he him, sin erthe was so lyte, And ful of torment and of harde grace, 65

That he ne shulde him in the world delyte.

Than tolde he him, in certeyn yeres space,

That every sterre shulde come into his place

Ther hit was first; and al shulde out of minde 60

That in this worlde is don of al mankinde.

Than prayde him Scipioun to telle him al The wey to come un-to that hevene blisse; And he seyde, 'know thy-self first immortal,

And loke a besily thou werke and wisse To comun profit, and thou shalt nat misse To comen swiftly to that place dere, 76 That ful of blisse is and of soules clere.

But brekers of the lawe, soth to seyne,

And lecherous folk, after that they be dede, 79

Shul alwey whirle aboute th'erthein peyne, Til many a world be passed, out of drede,

And than, for-yeven alle hir wikked dede,

Than shul they come unto that blisful place.

To which to comen god thee sende his grace !'--

The day gan failen, and the derke night, That reveth bestes from hir besinesse, 86 Berafte me my book for lakke of light, And to my bedde I gan me for to dresse, Fulfild of thought and besy hevinesse; For bothe I hadde thing which that I nolde, 90

And eek I ne hadde that thing that I wolde.

But fynally my spirit, at the laste, For-wery of my labour al the day, Took rest, that made me to slepe faste, And in my slepe I mette, as I lay, 95

How African, right in that selfe aray That Scipioun him saw before that tyde,

Was comen, and stood right at my beddes syde.

The wery hunter, slepinge in his bed,

To wode agein his minde goth anoon ; 100 The juge dremeth how his plees ben sped;

The carter dremeth how his cartes goon; The riche, of gold; the knight fight with his foon.

The seke met he drinketh of the tonne; The lover met he hath hislady wonne. 105

Can I nat seyn if that the cause were

For I had red of African beforn,

That made me to mete that he stood there;

But thus seyde he, 'thou hast thee so wel born

In loking of myn olde book to-torn, 110 Of which Macrobie roghte nat a lyte,

That somdel of thy labour wolde I quyte !'---

Citherea ! thou blisful lady swete,

That with thy fyr-brand dauntest whom thee lest,

And madest me this sweven for to mete,

Be thou my help in this, for thou mayst best; '116

As wisly as I saw thee north-north-west, When I began my sweven for to wryte,

So yif me might to ryme hit and endyte !

The Story.

This forseid African me hente anoon, 120 And forth with him unto a gate broghte Right of a parke, walled with grene stoon; And over the gate, with lettres large

y-wroghte,

Ther weren vers y-writen, as me thoghte,

- v. The parlement of Foules.
- On eyther halfe, of ful gret difference, 125 Of which I shal yow sey the pleyn sentence.
- 'Thorgh me men goon in-to that blisful place
- Of hertes hele and dedly woundes cure ; Thorgh me men goon unto the welle of
- Grace, Ther grene and lusty May shal ever
- endure; 130

This is the wey to al good aventure;

- Be glad, thou reder, and thy sorwe ofcaste,
- Al open am I; passe in, and hy the faste!'
- 'Thorgh me men goon,' than spak that other syde,

'Unto the mortal strokes of the spere, 135

Of which Disdayn and Daunger is the gyde,

Ther tree shal never fruit ne leves bere. This streem you ledeth to the sorwful were,

Ther as the fish in prison is al drye;

Th'eschewing is only the remedye.' 140

Thisevers of gold and blak y-writen were, The whiche I gan a stounde to beholde, For with that oon encressed ay my fere, And with that other gan myn herte bolde; That oon me hette, that other did me colde, 145

No wit had I, for errour, for to chese, To entre or flee, or me to save or lese.

Right as, betwixen adamauntes two Of even might, a peec of iren y-set, 149 That hath no might to meve to ne fro— For what that on may hale, that other let—

Ferde I, that niste whether me was bet, To entre or leve, til African my gyde

- Me hente, and shoof in at the gates wyde,
- And seyde, 'hit stondeth writen in thy face.

Thyn errour, though thou telle it not to me;

But dred thee nat to come in-to this place,

For this wryting is no-thing ment by thee,

Ne by noon, but he Loves servant be ;

- For thou of love hast lost thy tast, I gesse,
- As seek man hath of swete and bitternesse.
- But natheles, al-though that thou be dulle.
- Yit that thou canst not do, yit mayst thou see;
- For many a man that may not stonde a pulle,
- Yit lyketh him at the wrastling for to be, 165

And demeth yit wher he do bet or he; And if thou haddest cunning for t'endyte, I shal thee shewen mater of to wryte.'

With that my hond in his he took anoon, Of which I comfort caughte, and wente in faste :

But lord ! so I was glad and wel begoon ! For over-al, wher that I myn eyen caste, Were treës clad with leves that ay shal laste.

v. The Parlement of Foules.

Hir gilte heres with a golden threde Y-bounden were, untressed as she lay, And naked fro the breste unto the hede Men might hir see; and, sothly for to say, 270 The remenant wel kevered to my pay Right with a subtil kerchef of Valence, Ther was no thikker cloth of no de- fence. The place yaf a thousand savours swote, And Bachus, god of wyn, sat hir besyde, And Cares next, that doth of hunger bote; 276 And, as I seide, amiddes lay Cipryde, To whom on knees two yonge folkes cryde To ben hir help; but thus I leet hir lye, And ferther in the temple I gan espye That, in dispyte of Diane the chaste, 281 Ful many a bowe y-broke heng on the wal Of maydens, suche as gunne hir tymes waste	Of braunches were hir halles and hir boures, Y-wrought after hir craft and hir mesure; Ne ther nas foul that cometh of en- gendrure, 300 That they ne were prest in hir presence, To take hir doom and yeve hir audience. For this was on seynt Valentynes day, Whan every foul cometh ther to chese his make, 310 Of every kinde, that men thenke may; And that so huge a noyse gan they make, Thaf erthe and see, and tree, and every lake So ful was, that unnethe was ther space For me to stonde, so ful was al the place. And right as Aleyn, in the Pleynt of Kinde, 310 Devyseth Nature of aray and face, In swich aray men mighte[n] hir ther finde.

Tho was I war wher that ther sat a quene That, as of light the somer-sonne shene Passeth the sterre, right so over mesure She fairer was than any creature. 301 And in a launde, upon an hille of floures, Was set this noble goddesse Nature;	And that so the, that wonder was to sene. Ther mighte men the royal egle finde, That with his sharpe look perceth the sonne; 331 And other egles of a lower kinde, Of which that clerkes wel devysen conne. ## VI. A COMPLEINT TO HIS LADY.

I. (In seven-line stanzas.)

- The longe night, whan every creature Shulde have hir rest in somwhat, as by kinde,
- Or elles ne may hir lyf nat long endure, Hit falleth most in-to my woful minde How I so fer have broght my-self behinde,
- That, sauf the deeth, ther may no-thing me lisse.

So desespaired I am from alle blisse.

This same thoght me lasteth til the morwe,

And from the morwe forth til hit be eve; Ther nedeth me no care for to borwe.

For bothe I have good leyser and good leve;

Ther is no wight that wol me wo bereve To wepe y-nogh, and wailen al my fille; The sore spark of peyne +doth me spille.

II. (In Terza Rima; imperfect.)

[†The sore spark of peyne doth me spille;] This Love hath [eek] me set in swich a place 16

That my desyr [he] never wol fulfille ; For neither pitee, mercy, neither grace

Can I nat finde; and +fro my sorwful herte,

For to be deed, I can hit nat arace. 20

The more I love, the more she doth me smerte;

Through which I see, with-oute remedye,

That from the deeth I may no wyse asterte;

[+For this day in hir servise shal I dye].

III. (In Terza Rima; imperfect.)

- [†Thus am I slain, with sorwes ful dyverse; 25
  - Ful longe agoon I oghte have taken hede].

Now sothly, what she hight I wol reherse;

Just

- Hir name is Bountee, set in womanhede, Sadnesse in youthe, and Beautee prydelees.
  - And Plesaunce, under governaunce and drede; 30

Hir surname eek is Faire Rewthelees, The Wyse, y-knit un-to Good Aventure, That, for I love hir, †sleeth me giltelees.

Hir love I best, and shal, whyl I may dure.

Bet than my-self an hundred thousand deel.

Than al this worldes richesse or creature.

Now hath nat Lovë me bestowed weel To lovë, ther I never shal have part ? Allas ! right thus is turned me the wheel,

Thus am I slayn with loves fyry dart. 40 I can but love hir best, my swete fo;

Love hath me taught no more of his art But serve alwey, and stinte for no wo,

IV. (In ten-line stanzas.)

[With]-in my trewe careful herte ther is So moche wo, and [eek] so litel blis, 45

That wo is me that ever I was bore; For al that thing which I desyre I mis, And al that ever I wolde nat, I-wis.

That finde I redy to me evermore :

And of al this I not to whom me pleyne. 50

- For she that mighte me out of this bringe
- Ne reccheth nat whether I wepe or singe;

So litel rewthe hath she upon my peyne.

Allas! whan sleping-time is, than I wake,

- Whan I shulde daunce, for fere than I quake ;
  - [+Yow rekketh never wher I flete or sinke;]

This hevy lyf I lede for your sake,

Thogh ye ther-of in no wyse hede take,

<ul> <li>[†For on my wo yow deyneth not to thinke.] 59</li> <li>My hertes lady, and hool my lyves quene! For trewly dorst I seye, as that I fiele, Me semeth that your swetch herte of stele Is whetted now ageynes me to kene.</li> <li>My dere herte, and best beloved fo, Why lyketh yow to do me al this wo, 65 What have I doon that greveth yow, or sayd,</li> <li>But for I serve and love yow and no mo? And whylst I live, I wol +do ever so; And therfor, swete, ne beth nat evil apayd.</li> <li>For so good and so fair as [that] ye be, 70 Hit were [a] right gret wonder but ye hadde</li> <li>Of alle servants, bothe goode and badde; And leest worthy of alle hem, I am he.</li> <li>But never-the-les, my righte lady swete, Thogh that I be unconning and numete 75 To the servants and the mer the servants.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>That ye ne shul me from your service dryve</li> <li>That I nil ay, with alle my wittes fyve, Serve yow trewly, what wo so that I fele.</li> <li>For I am set on yow in swich manere 100 That, thogh ye never wil upon me rewe, I moste yow love, and 'tever been as trewe</li> <li>As any can or may on-lyve [here].</li> <li>'The more that I love yow, goodly free, The lasse finde I that ye loven me; 105 Allas! whan shal that harde wit amende?</li> <li>Wher is now al your wommanly pitee, Your gentilesse and your debonairtee, Wil ye no thing therof upon me spende?</li> <li>And so hool, swete, as I am youres al, 110 And so gret wil as I have yow to serve, Now, certes, and ye lete me thus sterve, Yit have ye wonne ther-on but a smal.</li> </ul>
To serve as I best coude ay your hy- nesse, Yit is ther fayner noon, that wolde I hete, Than I, to do †yow ese, or elles bete What-so I wiste were to †yow distresse. And hadde I might as good as I have wille, Than shulde ye fele wher it wers or noon; 8 i For †in this worlde living is ther noon That fayner wolde your hertes wil fulfille. For bothe I love, and eak dreed yow so sore, And algates moot, and have doon yow, ful yore, And algates moot, and have doon yow, ful yore, and use to eak dreed yow so sore, And algates moot, and have doon yow, ful yore, And algates moot, and have doon yow, ful yore, And lat me serve yow for no more But leveth wel, and be nat wrooth ther- fore, And lat me serve yow forth; lo ! this is al. For I am nat so hardy ne so wood go For to desire that ye shulde love me; For wel I wot, allas ! that may nat be; I am so litel worthy, and ye so good. For ye be oon the worthiest on-lyve, And I the most unlykly for to thryve; 95 Yit, for al this, (now] witeth ye right	<ul> <li>For, at my knowing, I do †no-thing why,</li> <li>And this I wol beseche yow hertely, 115 That, ther ever ye finde, whyl ye live,</li> <li>A trewer servant to yow than am I,</li> <li>Leveth [me] thanne, and sleeth me hardely,</li> <li>And I my deeth to you wol al forgive.</li> <li>And I my deeth to you wol al forgive.</li> <li>And I my deeth to you wol al forgive.</li> <li>And if ye finde no trewer †man than me,</li> <li>[Why] will ye suffre than that I thus spille,</li> <li>at and for no maner gilt but my good wille?</li> <li>As good wer thanne untrewe as trewe to be.</li> <li>But I, my lyf and deeth, to yow obeye,</li> <li>And with right buxom herte hoolly I preye,</li> <li>125 As[is]your moste plesure, sodoth by me;</li> <li>†Wel lever is me lyken yow and dege</li> <li>Than for to any thing or thinks or seye</li> <li>That †mighte yow offende in any tyme.</li> <li>And therfor, swete, rewe on my peynes smerte,</li> <li>30 And of your grace granteth me som drope;</li> <li>For elles may me laste †blis ne hope,</li> </ul>

VII. ANELIDA AND ARCITE.

The Compleynt of feire Anelida and fals Arcite.

Proem.

Thou ferse god of armes, Mars the rede, That in the frosty country called Trace, Within thy grisly temple ful of drede Honoured art, as patroun of that place ! With thy Bellona, Pallas, ful of grace, 5 Be present, and my song continue and gye;

At my beginning thus to thee I crye.

For hit ful depe is sonken in my minde, With pitous herte in English for t'endyte This olde storie, in Latin which I finde, 10 Of quene Anelida and fals Arcite,

That elde, which that al can frete and byte,

As hit hath freten mony a noble storie, Hath nigh devoured out of our memorie.

Be favorable eek, thou Polymnia, 15 On Parnaso that, with thy sustres glade, By Elicon, not fer from Cirrea, Singest with vois memorial in the shade, Under the laurer which that may not fade.

And do that I my ship to haven winne; 20 First folow I Stace, and after him Corinne.

The Story.

Iamque domos patrias, &c. ; Statii Thebais, xii. 519.

Whan Theseus, with werres longe and grete,

The aspre folk of Cithe had over-come,

With laurer crouned, in his char goldbete,

Hoom to his contre-houses is y-come ;— 25 For which the peple blisful, al and somme, So cryden, that unto the sterres hit wente, And him to honouren dide al hir entente ;— Beforn this duk, in signe of hy victorie,

The trompes come, and in his baner large The image of Mars; and, in token of glorie, 31 Men mighten seen of tresor many a charge,

Many a bright helm, and many a spere and targe,

Many a fresh knight, and many a blisful route,

On hors, on fote, in al the felde aboute. 35

Ipolita his wyf, the hardy quene

Of Cithia, that he conquered hadde,

With Emelye, hir yonge suster shene,

Faire in a char of golde he with him ladde,

That al the ground aboute hir char she spradde 40

With brightnesse of the beautee in hir face.

Fulfild of largesse and of alle grace.

With his triumphe and laurer-crouned thus,

In al the floure of fortunes yevinge, Lete I this noble prince Theseus 43 Toward Athenes in his wey rydinge, And founde I wol in shortly for to bringe The slye wey of that I gan to wryte, Of quene Anelida and fals Arcite.

Mars, which that through his furious course of yre, 50

The olde wrath of Juno to fulfille,

Hath set the peples hertes bothe on fyre

Of Thebes and Grece, everich other to kille

With blody speres, ne rested never stille,

But throng now her, now ther, among hem bothe, 55

That everich other slough, so wer they wrothe.

For whan Amphiorax and Tydeus,

Ipomedon, Parthonopee also

Were dede, and slayn [was] proud Campaneus,

And whan the wrecches Thebans, breth- eren two, 60	But never-the-les ful mikel besinesse Had he, er that he mighte his lady winne,
Were slayn, and king Adrastus hoom	And swoor he wolde dyen for distresse, 101
a-go, So desolat stood Thebes and so bare, That no wight coude remedie of his care.	Or from his wit he seyde he wolde twinne. Alas, the whyle ! for hit was routhe and sinne,
And whan the olde Creon gan espye How that the blood roial was broght adoun, 65	That she upon his sorowes wolde rewe, But no-thing thenketh the fals as doth the trewe. 105
He held the cite by his tirannye, And did the gentils of that regionn To been his frendes, and dwellen in the	Hir fredom fond Arcite in swich manere, That al was his that she hath, moche or lyte, toun. So what for love of him, and what for awe, The noble folk wer to the toune y-drawe.	Ne to no creature made she chere Ferther than that hit lyked to Arcite;
Among al these, Anelida the quene 71	Ther was no lak with which he mighte hir wyte, 110
Of Ermony was in that toun dwellinge, That fairer was then is the sonne shene ;	She was so ferforth yeven him to plese, That al that lyked him, hit did hir ese.
Through-out the world so gan hir name springe, That hir to seen had every wight lykinge ;	Ther nas to hir no maner lettre y-sent That touched love, from any maner
For, as of trouthe, is ther noon hir liche, 76 Of al the women in this worlde riche.	wight, That she ne shewed hit him, er hit was brent ;
Yong was this quene, of twenty yeer of elde,	So pleyn she was, and did hir fulle might, That she nil hyden nothing from hir
Of midel stature, and of swich fairnesse,	knight,
That nature had a joye hir to behelde; 80 And for to speken of hir stedfastnesse,	Lest he of any untrouthe hir upbreyde ; Withouten bode his heste she obeyde.
She passed hath Penelope and Lucresse, And shortly, if she shal be comprehended, In hir ne mighte no-thing been amended.	And eek he made him jelous over here, 120 That, what that any man had to hir seyd,
This Theban knight [Arcite] eek, sooth to seyn, 85	Anoon he wolde preyen hir to swere What was that word, or make him evel
Was yong, and ther-with-al a lusty knight,	apayd; Than wende she out of hir wit have brayd;
But he was double in love and no-thing pleyn,	But al this nas but sleight and flaterye, Withouten love he feyned jelosye. 126
And subtil in that crafte over any wight, And with his cunning wan this lady	And al this took she so debonerly,
bright;	That al his wille, hir thoghte hit skilful
For so ferforth he gan hir trouthe assure,	thing, And ever the lenger +loved him tenderly,
That she him †trust over any creature. 91	And did him honour as he were a king, 130
What shuld I seyn? she loved Arcite so, That, whan that he was absent any throwe,	Hir herte was wedded to him with a ring;
Anon hir thoghte hir herte brast a-two;	So ferforth upon trouthe is hir entente,
For in hir sight to hir he bar him lowe, os	That wher he goth, hir herte with him wente.
So that she wende have al his herte
y-knowe; But he was fals; it nas but feyned chere,	Whan she shal ete, on him is so hir
As nedeth not to men such craft to lere,	thoght, 134 That wel unnethe of mete took she keep ;
the state to lefe,	a start wor unnerne of mere took she keep ;

- And whan that she was to hir reste broght,
- On him she thoghte alwey til that she sleep;

Whan he was absent, prevely she weep ; . Thus liveth fair Anelida the quene 139 For fals Arcite, that did hir al this tene.

This fals Arcite, of his new-fangelnesse, For she to him so lowly was and trewe, Took lesse deyntee for hir stedfastnesse, And saw another lady, proud and newe,

- And right anon he cladde him in hir hewe— 145
- Wot I not whether in whyte, rede, or grene-

And falsed fair Anelida the quene.

- But never-the-les, gret wonder was hit noon
- Thogh he wer fals, for hit is kinde of man, 149

Sith Lamek was, that is so longe agoon,

To been in love as fals as ever he can;

He was the firste fader that began

To loven two, and was in bigamye;

And he found tentes first, but-if men lye.

This fals Arcite sumwhat moste he feyne, Whan he wex fals, to covere his traitorye, 156

Right as an hors, that can both byte and pleyne ;

For he bar hir on honde of trecherye,

And swoor he coude hir doublenesse espye,

And al was falsnes that she to him mente;

Thus swoor this theef, and forth his way he wente, 161

Alas ! what herte might enduren hit,

For routhe or wo, hir sorow for to telle ?

Or what man hath the cunning or the wit?

Or what man might with-in the chambre dwelle, 165

If I to him rehersen shal the helle,

That suffreth fair Anelida the quene For fals Arcite, that did hir al this tene?

She wepeth, waileth, swowneth pitously, To grounde deed she falleth as a stoon; Al crampissheth hir limes crokedly, 171 She speketh as hir wit were al agoon; Other colour then asshen hath she noon, Noon other word \she speketh moche or lyte,

But 'mercy, cruel herte myn, Arcite !' 175

- And thus endureth, til that she was so mate
- That she ne hath foot on which she may sustene;

But forth languisshing ever in this estate,

- Of which Arcite hath nother routhe ne tene ;
- His herte was elles-where, newe and grene, 180
- That on hir wo ne deyneth him not to thinke.
- Him rekketh never wher she flete or sinke.

His newe lady holdeth him so narowe

Up by the brydel, at the staves ende,

- That every word, he dradde hit as an arowe;
- Hir daunger made him bothe bowe and bende,
- And as hir liste, made him turne or wende;

For she ne graunted him in hir livinge

No grace, why that he hath lust to singe;

- But drof him forth, unnethe liste hir knowe
- That he was servaunt +to hir ladyshippe, But lest that he wer proude, she held him lowe:
- Thus serveth he, withouten fee or shipe,
- She sent him now to londe, now to shippe;
- And for she yaf him daunger al his fille, Therfor she had him at hir owne wille.

Ensample of this, ye thrifty wimmen alle, Take here Anelida and fals Arcite,

That for hir liste him 'dere herte' calle, And was so meek, therfor he loved hir

- lyte; 200
- The kinde of mannes herte is to delyte
- In thing that straunge is, also god me save !
- For what he may not gete, that wolde he have.

Now turne we to Anelida ageyn,

That pyneth day by day in languisshing;

But whan she saw that hir ne gat no geyn, 206

Upon a day, ful sorowfully weping,

She caste hir for to make a compleying, And with hir owne honde she gan hit

wryte; And sente hit to hir Theban knight Arcite. 210

The Compleynt of Anelida the quene upon fals Arcite.

Proem.

- So thirleth with the poynt of remembraunce,
- The swerd of sorowe, y-whet with fals plesaunce,
  - Myn herte, bare of blis and blak of hewe,

That turned is in quaking al my daunce, My suretee in a-whaped countenaunce; 215

Sith hit availeth not for to ben trewe; For who-so trewest is, hit shal hir rewe,

That serveth love and doth hir observaunce

Alwey to oon, and chaungeth for no newe.

(Strophe.)

1.

I wot my-self as wel as any wight; 220

For I loved oon with al my herte and might

More then my-self, an hundred thousand sythe,

And called him my hertes lyf, my knight, And was al his, as fer as hit was right ;

And whan that he was glad, than was I blythe, 225

And his disese was my deeth as swythe ; And he ayein his trouthe me had plight

For ever-more, his lady me to kythe.

2.

Now is he fals, alas ! and causeles,

And of my wo he is so routheles, 230

That with a worde him list not ones deyne

To bring agein my sorowful herte in pees, For he is caught up in a-nother lees. Right as him list, he laugheth at my peyne, 234

And I ne can myn herte not restreyne, That I ne love him alwey, never-the-les;

And of al this I not to whom me pleyne.

3.

And shal I pleyne—alas! the harde stounde—

Un-to my foo that yaf my herte a wounde, And yet desyreth that myn harm be more? 240

Nay, certes ! ferther wol I never +founde Non other help, my sores for to sounde.

My destince hath shapen it ful yore; I wil non other medecyne ne lore;

I wil ben ay ther I was ones bounde, 245 That I have seid, be seid for ever-more!

4.

Alas! wher is become your gentilesse! Your wordes fulle of plesaunce and humblesse?

Your observaunces in so low manere, And your awayting and your besinesse 250

Upon me, that ye calden your maistresse, Your sovereyn lady in this worlde here?

Alas ! and is ther nother word ne chere Ye vouchesauf upon myn hevinesse ?

Alas ! your love, I bye hit al to dere. 255

5.

Now certes, swete, thogh that ye Thus causeles the cause be Of my dedly adversitee,

Your manly reson oghte it to respyte To slee your frend, and namely me, 260 That never yet in no degree

Offended yow, as wisly he,

That al wot, out of wo my soule quyte !

¶ But for I shewed yow, Arcite,

Al that men wolde to me wryte, 265 And was so besy, yow to delyte—

My honour save—meke, kinde, and free, Therfor ye putte on me the wyte, And of me recche not a myte, Thogh that the swerd of sorow byte 270 My woful herte through your crueltee.

6.

My swete foo, why do ye so, for shame? And thenke ye that furthered be your name, To love a newe, and been untrewe? nay!

And putte yow in sclaunder now and blame, 275

And do to me adversitee and grame, That love yow most, god, wel thou wost ! alway ?

Yet turn ayeyn, and be al pleyn som day,

And than shal this that now is mis be game, 279

And al for-yive, whyl that I live may.

(Antistrophe.)

1,

Lo! herte myn, al this is for to seyne, As whether shal I preye or elles pleyne?

- Whiche is the wey to doon yow to be trewe?
- For either mot I have yow in my cheyne, Or with the dethe ye mot departe us tweyne; 285

Ther ben non other mene weyes newe; For god so wisly on my soule rewe,

As verily ye sleen me with the peyne;

That may ye see unfeyned of myn hewe.

2.

For thus ferforth have I my deth [y]soght, 290

My-self I mordre with my prevy thoght; For sorow and routhe of your unkindenesse

I wepe, I wake, I faste; al helpeth noght;

I weyve joye that is to speke of oght,

I voyde companye, I flee gladnesse ; 295 Who may avaunte hir bet of hevinesse

Then I? and to this plyte have ye me broght,

Withoute gilt ; me nedeth no witnesse.

3.

- And sholde I preye, and weyve womanhede?
- Nay! rather deth then do so foul a dede, And axe mercy gilteles! what nede? 301

And if I pleyne what lyf that I lede.

Yow rekketh not; that know I, out of drede;

And if I unto yow myn othes bede

- For myn excuse, a scorn shal be my mede; 305 Your chere floureth, but hit wol not sede;
- Ful longe agoon I oghte have take hede.

For thogh I hadde yow to-morow ageyn,

I might as wel holde Averill fro reyn,

As holde yow, to make yow stedfast. 310 Almighty god, of trouthe sovereyn,

- Wher is the trouthe of man? who hath hit sleyn?
  - Who that hem loveth shal hem fynde as fast
  - As in a tempest is a roten mast.
- Is that a tame best that is ay feyn 315 To renne away, when he is leest agast?

5.

Now mercy, swete, if I misseye, Have I seyd oght amis, I preye? I not; my wit is al aweye.

I fare as doth the song of Chaunte-pleure. For now I pleyne, and now I pleye, 321 I am so mased that I deye, Arcite hath born awey the keye

Of al my worlde, and my good aventure !

¶ For in this worlde nis creature 325 Wakinge, in more discomfiture Then L, ne more sorow endure :

And if I slepe a furlong wey or tweye, Than thinketh me, that your figure Before me stant, clad in asure, 330 To profren eft a newe assure

For to be trewe, and mercy me to preye.

6.

The longe night this wonder sight I drye,

And on the day for this afray I dye, 334 And of al this right noght, y-wis, ye recche.

Ne never mo myn yën two be drye,

And to your routhe and to your trouthe I crye.

But welawey! to fer be they to feeche; Thus holdeth me my destinee a wrecche. 339

But me to rede out of this drede or gye Ne may my wit, so weyk is hit, not streeche. Conclusion.

- Than ende I thus, sith I may do no more,
- I yeve hit up for now and ever-more ;
- For I shal never eft putten in balaunce My sekernes, ne lerne of love the
- lore. 345 But as the swan. I have herd sevd ful
- yore,
  - Ayeins his deth shal singe in his penaunce,

So singe I here my destiny or chaunce,

How that Arcite Anelida so sore Hath thirled with the poynt of remembraunce ! 350

The story continued.

Whan that Anelida this worful quene Hath of hir hande writen in this wyse, With face deed, betwize pale and grene, She fel a-swowe; and sith she gan to ryse, And unto Mars avoweth sacrifyse 355 With-in the temple, with a sorowful chere,

That shapen was as ye shal after here. 357

VIII. CHAUCERS WORDES UNTO ADAM, HIS OWNE SCRIVEYN.

ADAM scriveyn, if ever it thee bifalle Boece or Troilus to wryten newe,

Under thy lokkes thou most have the scalle,

But after my making thou wryte trewe.

So ofte a daye I mot thy werk renewe, 5 Hit to correcte and eek to rubbe and scrape;

And al is through thy negligence and rape.

IX. THE FORMER AGE.

A BLISFUL lyf, a paisible and a swete

Ledden the peples in the former age ;

They helde hem payed tof fruites, that they ete,

Which that the feldes yave hem by usage;

- They ne were nat forpampred with outrage; 5
- Unknowen was the quern and eek the melle;
- They eten mast, hawes, and swich pounage,

And dronken water of the colde welle.

- Yit nas the ground nat wounded with the plough,
- But corn up-sprong, unsowe of mannes hond, 10
- The which they †gniden, and eete nat half y-nough.

No man yit knew the forwes of his lond;

No man the fyr out of the flint yit fond;

Un-korven and un-grobbed lay the vyne; No man yit in the morter spyces grond 15 To clarre, ne to sause of galantyne, VIII. (Dordes unto Adam.-X. Fortune.

No mader, welde, or wood no litestere Ne knew; the flees was of his former hewe; No flesh ne wiste offence of egge or spere:

No coyn ne knew man which was fals or trewe: 20

- No ship yit karf the wawes grene and blewe;
- No marchaunt yit ne fette outlandish ware ;

No +trompes for the werres folk ne knewe,

No toures heye, and walles rounde or square.

What sholds it han avayled to werreye? 25 Ther lay no profit, ther was no richesse, But cursed was the tyme, I dar wel seye, That men first dide hir swety bysinesse

To grobbe up metal, lurkinge in darknesse,

And in the riveres first gemmes soghte. 30 Allas! than sprong up al the cursednesse Of covetyse, that first our sorwe broghte!

Thise tyraunts putte hem gladly nat in pres.

No †wildnesse, ne no busshes for to winne Ther poverte is, as seith Diogenes, 35 Ther as vitaile is eek so skars and thinne That noght but mast or apples is therinne.

But, ther as bagges been and fat vitaile, Ther wol they gon, and spare for no sinne With al hir ost the cite for t'assaile. 40 Yit were no paleis-chaumbres, ne non halles;

In caves and [in] wodes softe and swete Slepten this blissed folk with-oute walles, On gras or leves in parfit †quiete.

No down of fetheres, ne no bleched shete 45

Was kid to hem, but in seurtee they slepte;

Hir hertes were al oon, with-oute galles, Everich of hem his feith to other kepte.

Unforged was the hauberk and the plate; The lambish peple, voyd of alle vyce, 50 Hadden no fantasye to debate,

But ech of hem wolde other wel cheryce ; No pryde, non envye, non avaryce,

No lord, no taylage by no tyrannye;

Humblesse and pees, good feith, the emperice, 55

[+Fulfilled erthe of olde curtesye.]

Yit was not Jupiter the likerous,

- That first was fader of delicacye,
- Come in this world; ne Nembrot, desirous
- To reynen, had nat maad his toures hye. 60
- Allas, allas! now may men wepe and crye!

For in our dayes nis but covetyse

[And] doublenesse, and tresoun and envye, Poysoun, manslauhtre, and mordre in sondry wyse. 64

Balades de visage sanz peinture.

I. Le Pleintif countre Fortune.

This wrecched worldes transmutacioun, As wele or wo, now povre and now honour,

With-outen ordre or wys discrecioun Governed is by Fortunes errour ; But natheles, the lak of hir favour Ne may nat don me singen, though I dye, 'Iay tout perdu mon temps et mon labour :' For fynally, Fortune, I thee defye !

Yit is me left the light of my resoun, To knowen frend fro fo in thy mirour. 10 So muche hath yit thy whirling up and doun

Y-taught me for to knowen in an hour. But trewely, no force of thy reddour

15

To him that over him-self hath the maystrye!

My suffisaunce shal be my socour : For fynally, Fortune, I thee defye !

O Socrates, thou stedfast champioun, She never mighte be thy tormentour; Thou never dreddest hir oppressioun, Ne in hir chere founde thou no savour. 20 Thou knewe wel deceit of hir colour, And that hir moste worshipe is to lye. I knowe hir eek a fals dissimulour: For fynally, Fortune, I thee defye !

II. La respounse de Fortune au Pleintif.

- No man is wrecched, but him-self hit wene, 25
- And he that hath him-self hath suffisaunce.
- Why seystow thanne I am to thee so kene,

That hast thy-self out of my governaunce?

- Sey thus: 'Graunt mercy of thyn haboundaunce
- That thou hast lent or this.' Why wolt thou stryve? 30
- What wostow yit, how I thee wol avaunce?

And eek thou hast thy beste frend alyve !

I have thee taught divisioun bi-twene

- Frend of effect, and frend of countenaunce;
- Thee nedeth nat the galle of noon hyene, 35

That cureth eyen derke fro hir penaunce ;

- Now seestow cleer, that were in ignoraunce.
- Yit halt thyn ancre, and yit thou mayst arryve
- Ther bountee berth the keye of my substaunce: 39
- And eek thou hast thy beste frend alyve.

How many have I refused to sustene,

Sin I thee fostred have in thy plesaunce ! Woltow than make a statut on thy quene That I shal been ay at thyn ordinaunce ? Thou born art in my regne of variaunce, Aboute the wheel with other most thou dryve. 46

My lore is bet than wikke is thy grevaunce,

And eek thou hast thy beste frend alyve.

III. La respounse du Pleintif countre Fortune.

Thy lore I dampne, hit is adversitee.

My frend maystow nat reven, blind goddesse ! 50

That I thy frendes knowe, I thanke hit thee.

Tak hem agayn, lat hem go lye on presse! The negardye in keping hir richesse Prenostik is thou wolt hir tour assayle; Wikke appetyt comth ay before seknesse: In general, this reule may nat fayle. 56

La respounse de Fortune countre le Pleintif.

Thou pinchest at my mutabilitee, For I thee lente a drope of my richesse, And now me lyketh to with-drawe me. Why sholdestow my realtee oppresse? 60 The see may ebbe and flowen more or lesse; The welkne hath might to shyne, reyne, or hayle;

Right so mot I kythen my brotelnesse. In general, this reule may nat fayle.

Lo, th'execucion of the magestee 65 That al purveyeth of his rightwisnesse, That same thing 'Fortune' clepen ye, Ye blinde bestes, ful of lewednesse ! The hevene hath propretee of sikernesse, This world hath ever resteles travayle; yo Thy laste day is ende of myn intresse : In general, this reule may nat fayle.

Lenvoy de Fortune.

Princes, I prey you of your gentilesse,

Lat nat this man on me thus crye and pleyne,

And I shal quyte you your bisinesse 75 At my requeste, as three of you or tweyne; And, but you list releve him of his peyne, Preyeth his beste frend, of his noblesse, That to som beter estat he may atteyne. 79

XI. MERCILES BEAUTE: A TRIPLE ROUNDEL.

I. Captivity.

Your yën two wol slee me sodenly, I may the beautè of hem not sustene, So woundeth hit through-out my herte kone

And but your word wol helen hastily My hertes wounde, whyl that hit is grene.

Your yën two wol slee me sodenly, I may the beaute of hem not sustene.

Upon my trouthe I sey yow feithfully, That ye ben of my lyf and deeth the quene; For with my deeth the trouthe shal be sene.

Your yen two wol slee me sodenly, , 11 I may the beaute of hem not sustene, So woundeth hit through-out my herte kene.

II. Rejection.

So hath your beauté fro your herte chaced Pitee, that me ne availeth not to pleyne; For Daunger halt your mercy in his cheyne. 16

Giltles my deeth thus han ye me purchaced;

I sey yow sooth, me nedeth not to feyne;

So hath your beaute fro your herte chaced Pitee, that me ne availeth not to pleyne. 20

Allas! that nature hath in yow compassed

So greet beauté, that no man may atteyne To mercy, though he sterve for the peyne. So hath your beauté fro your herte chaced Pitee, that me ne availeth not to pleyne; 25 For Daunaer halt your mercy in his cheme.

III. Escape.

Sin I fro Love escaped am so fat, I never thenk to ben in his prison lene; Sin I am free, I counte him not a bene.

He may answere, and seye this or that ; 30 I do no fors, I speke right as I mene.

Sin I fro Love escaped am so fat, I never thenk to ben in his prison lene.

Love hath my name y-strike out of his sclat,

And he is strike out of my bokes clene 35 For ever-mo; †ther is non other mene.

Sin I fro Love escaped am so fat, I never thenk to ben in his prison lene; Sin I am free, I counte him not a bene. 30

XII. TO ROSEMOUNDE. A BALADE.

MADAME, ye ben of al beauté shryne As fer as cercled is the mappemounde; For as the cristal glorious ye shyne, And lyke ruby ben your chekes rounde. Therwith ye ben so mery and so jocounde, That at a revel whan that I see you dannce. 6

It is an oynement unto my wounde, Thogh ye to me ne do no daliaunce. For thogh I wepe of teres ful a tyne,

- Yet may that wo myn herte nat confounde;
- Your †seemly voys that ye so †smal outtwyne
- Maketh my thoght in joye and blis habounde.

So curteisly I go, with love bounde,

That to my-self I sey, in my penaunce,

Suffyseth me to love you, Rosemounde, 15 Thogh ye to me ne do no daliaunce.

Nas never pyk walwed in galauntyne As I in love am walwed and y-wounde ; For which ful ofte I of my-self divyne

Balade de bon conseyi.

FLEE fro the prees, and dwelle with sothfastnesse,

- Suffyce unto thy good, though hit be smal:
- For hord hath hate, and climbing tikelnesse.

Prees hath envye, and wele blent overal; Savour no more than thee bihove shal; 5

Werk wel thy-self, that other folk canst rede ;

And trouthe shal delivere, hit is no drede.

Tempest thee noght all croked to redresse. In trust of hir that turneth as a bal :

Gret reste stant in litel besinesse ; 10

And eek be war to sporne ageyn an al;

- Stryve noght, as doth the crokke with the wal.
- Daunte thy-self, that dauntest otheres dede ;

And trouthe shal delivere, hit is no drede.

That I am trewe-Tristan the seconde, 20 My love may not sorreyd be nor apunde; I brenne ay in an amorous plesaunce.

XIV. GENTILESSE.

Lioral Balade of Chaucer.

THE firste stok, fader of gentilesse-What man that claymeth gentil for to be, Must folowe his trace, and alle his wittes dresse

Vertu to sewe, and vyces for to flee. For unto vertu longeth dignitee,

And noght the revers, saufly dar I deme, Al were he mytre, croune, or diademe.

This firste stok was ful of rightwisnesse.

Trewe of his word, sobre, pitous, and free,

Clene of his goste, and loved besinesse, 10 Ageinst the vyce of slouthe, in honestee ;

And, but his heir love vertu, as dide he, He is noght gentil, thogh he riche seme, Al were he mytre, croune, or diademe.

Vyce may wel be heir to old richesse; 15 But ther may no man, as men may wel see, Bequethe his heir his vertuous noblesse That is appropred unto no degree, But to the firste fader in magestee, That +maketh him his heir, that can him queme. 20

Al were he mytre, croune, or diademe.

XV. LAK OF STEDFASTNESSE.

Balade.

Som tyme this world was so stedfast and stable,

That manness word was obligacioun, And now hit is so fals and deceivable, That word and deed, as in conclusioun, Ben no-thing lyk, for turned up so doun 5 Is al this world for mede and wilfulnesse, That al is lost for lak of stedfastnesse.

What maketh this world to be so variable, But lust that folk have in dissensioun ? Among us now a man is holde unable, 10 But-if he can, by som collusioun,

Don his neighbour wrong or oppressioun. What causeth this, but wilful wrecchednesse.

That al is lost, for lak of stedfastnesse?

Trouthe is put down, resoun is holden fable; 15

Vertu hath now no dominacioun, Pitee exyled, no man is merciable. Through covetyse is blent discrecioun ; The world hath mad a permutacioun Fro right to wrong, fro trouthe to fikelnesse, 20

That al is lost, for lak of stedfastnesse.

Lenvoy to King Richard.

O prince, desyre to be honourable, Cherish thy folk and hate extorcioun ! Suffre no thing, that may be reprevable To thyn estat, don in thy regioun. 25 Shew forth thy swerd of castigacioun, Dred God, dolaw, love trouthe and worthinesse, 27

And wed thy folk agein to stedfastnesse.

XVII. LENVOY DE CHAUCER A BUKTON.

The counseil of Chaucer touching Mariage, which was sent to Bukton.

- Mr maister Bukton, whan of Criste our kinge
- Was axed, what is trouthe or sothfastnesse,
- He nat a word answerde to that axinge,
- As who saith: 'no man is al trewe,' I gesse.

And therfor, thogh I highte to expresse

The sorwe and wo that is in mariage, 6

I dar not wryte of hit no wikkednesse, Lest I my-self falle eft in swich dotage.

I wol nat seyn, how that hit is the cheyne Of Sathanas, on which he gnaweth ever, 10 But I dar seyn, were he out of his peyne, As by his wille, he wolde be bounde never.

But thilke doted fool that eft hath lever X-cheyned be than out of prisonn crepe, God lete him never fro his wo dissever, 15 Ne no man him bewayle, though he wepe.

But yit, lest thou do worse, tak a wyf;

Bet is to wedde, than brenne in worse wyse.

But thou shalt have sorwe on thy flesh, thy lyf,

And been thy wyves thral, as seyn these wyse; 20

And if that holy writ may nat suffyse,

Experience shal thee teche, so may happe.

That thee were lever to be take in Fryse Than eft to falle of wedding in the trappe.

Envoy.

XVIII. THE COMPLEYNT OF VENUS.

I. (The Lover's worthiness.)

THER his so by comfort to my plesaunce, Whan that I am in any hevinesse, As for to have leyser of remembraunce Upon the manhod and the worthinesse, Upon the trouthe, and on the stedfastnesse Of him whos I am al, whyI I may dure ; 6 Ther oghte blame me no creature, For every wight preiseth his gentilesse.

In him is bountee, wisdom, governaunce Wel more then any mannes wit can gesse; For grace hath wold so ferforth him avaunce

That of knighthode he is parfit richesse. Honour honoureth him for his noblesse; Therto so wel hath formed him Nature, That I am his for ever, I him assure, 15 For every wight preiseth his gentilesse.

And not-withstanding al his suffisaunce, His gentil herte is of so greet humblesse To me in worde, in werke, in contenaunce, And me to serve is al his besinesse, 20 That I am set in verrey sikernesse. Thus oghte I blesse wel myn aventure, Sith that him list me serven and honoure; For every wight preiseth his gentilesse.

II. (Disquietude caused by Jealousy.)

Now certes, Love, hit is right covenable That men ful dere bye thy noble thing, 26 As wake a-bedde, and fasten at the table, Weping to laughe, and singe in compleyning.

And down to caste visage and loking,

Often to chaungen hewe and contenaunce, +Pleyne in sleping, and dremen at the daunce.

Al the revers of any glad feling.

Jalousye be hanged by a cable ! She wolde al knowe through hir espying; Ther doth no wight no-thing so resonable, That al nis harm in hir imagening. 30 Thus dere abought is lovë, in yeving,

Which ofte he yiveth with-oute ordinaunce, *

As sorow ynogh, and litel of plesaunce, Al the revers of any glad feling, 40

A litel tyme his yift is agreable, But ful encomberous is the using ; For sotel Jalousye, the deceyvable, Ful often-tyme causeth destourbing. Thus be we ever in drede and suffering, In nonnecrtevn we languisshe in pen-

aunce, 46

And han ful often many an hard meschaunce,

Al the revers of any glad feling.

III. (Satisfaction in Constancy.)

But certes, Love, I sey nat in such wyse That for t'escape out of your lace I mente; For Iso longe have been in yourservyse 5: That for to lete of wol I never assente; No force thogh Jalousye me tormente; Suffyceth me to see him whan I may, 54 And therfore certes, to myn ending-day To love him best ne shal I never repente.

And certes, Love, whan I me wel avyse On any estat that man may represente, Than have ye maked me, through your franchyse.

Chese the best that ever on erthe wente. Now love wel, herte, and look thou never stente; 61

And let the jelous putte hit in assay That, for no peyne wol I nat sey nay; To love him best ne shal I never repente.

Herte, to thee hit oghte y-nogh suffyse 65 That Love so hy a grace to thee sente, To chese the worthiest in alle wyse And most agreable unto myn entente. Seche no ferther, neyther wey ne wente, Sith I have suffisaunce unto my pay. 70 Thus wol I ende this compleynt or lay; To love him best ne shal I never repente.

Lenvoy.

Princess, receiveth this compleynt in gree,

Unto your excellent benignitee

Direct after my litel suffisaunce. For eld, that in my spirit dulleth me,

Hath of endyting al the soteltee

Wel ny bereft out of my remembraunce:

And eek to me hit is a greet penaunce.

Sith rym in English hath swich scarsitee, To folowe word by word the curiositee 81

Of Graunson, flour of hem that make in Fraunce.

THE COMPLEINT OF CHAUCER TO HIS XIX. EMPTY PURSE.

To you, my purse, and to non other wight Compleyne I, for ye be my lady dere ! I am so sory, now that ye be light; For certes, but ye make me hevy chere, Me were as leef be leyd up-on my bere ; 5 For whiche un-to your mercy thus I crye: Beth hevy ageyn, or elles mot I dye !

Now youcheth sauf this day, or hit be night,

That I of you the blisful soun may here, Or see your colour lyk the sonne bright, That of yelownesse hadde never pere. 11 Ye be my lyf, ye be myn hertes stere, Quene of comfort and of good companye: Beth hevy ageyn, or elles mot I dye !

Now purs, that be to me my lyves light, 15 And saveour, as down in this worlde here, Out of this toune help me through your might,

Sin that ye wole nat been my tresorere ; For I am shave as nye as any frere. But yit I pray un-to your curtesye : 20 Beth hevy ageyn, or elles mot I dye !

XXI. AGAINST WOMEN UNCONSTANT.

Balade.

MADAME, for your newe-fangelnesse, Many a servant have ye put out of grace, I take my leve of your unstedfastnesse, For wel I wot, whyl ye have lyves space, Ye can not love ful half yeer in a place; 5 To newe thing your lust is ever kene; In stede of blew, thus may ye were al grene.

Right as a mirour nothing may enpresse, But, lightly as it cometh, so mot it pace, So fareth your love, your werkes bereth witnesse, 10

Ther is no feith that may your herte enbrace : But, as a wedercok, that turneth his face With every wind, ye fare, and that is sene;

In stede of blew, thus may ye were al grene.

Ye might be shryned, for your brotelnesse, Bet than Dalyda, Creseide or Candace; 16 For ever in chaunging †stant your sikernesse,

That tache may no wight fro your herte arace :

If ye lese oon, ye can wel tweyn purchace; Al light for somer, ye woot wel what I mene, 20

In stede of blew, thus may ye were al grene.

XXII. AN AMOROUS COMPLEINT. (COMPLEINT DAMOURS.)

An amorous Compleint, made at Windsor.

I, which that am the sorwefulleste

That in this world was ever yit livinge, And leest recoverer of him-selven can, Beginne +thus my deedly compleininge On hir, that may to lyf and deeth me bringe, 5 Which hath on me no mercy ne no rewthe That love hir best, but sleeth me for my trewthe.

Can I noght doon ne seye that may yow lyke,

+For certes, now, allas! allas! the whyle! Your plesaunce is to laughen whan I syke, 10

And thus ye me from al my blisse exyle.

Ye han me cast in thilke spitous yle Ther never man on lyve mighte asterte; This have I for I lovë you, swete herte!

Sooth is, that wel I woot, by lyklinesse, If that it were thing possible to do 10 Tacompte youre beute and goodnesse, I have no wonder thogh ye do me wo; Sith I, th'nuworthiest that may ryde or go, Durste ever thinken in so hy a place, 20 What wonder is, thogh ye do me no grace?

Allas! thus is my lyf brought to an ende, My deeth, I see, is my conclusionn; I may wel singe, 'in sory tyme I spende My lyf;' that song may have confusioun ! For mercy, pitee, and deep affeccioun, 26 I sey for me, for al my deedly chere, Alle thise diden, in that, me love yow dere.

And in this wyse and in dispayre I live In love; nay, but in dispayre I dye! 30 But shal I thus [to] yow my deeth for-give, That causeles doth me this sorow drye? Ye, certes, I! For she of my folye

Hath nought to done, although she do me sterve ;

Hit is nat with hir wil that I hir serve! 35

Than sith I am of my sorowe the cause

And sith that I have this, withoute hir reed,

Than may I seyn, right shortly in a clause, It is no blame unto hir womanheed

Though swich a wrecche as I be for hir deed; 40

[And] yet alwey two thinges doon me dyë, That is to seyn, hir beutee and myn yë.

So that, algates, she is the verray rote Of my disses, and of my dethe also; For with oon word she mighte be my bote, If that she vouched sauf for to do so. 46 But [why] than is hir gladnesse at my wo? It is hir wone plesaunce for to take, To seen hir servaunts dyen for hir sake !

But certes, than is al my wonderinge, 50 Sithen she is the fayrest creature As to my dome, that ever was livinge, The benignest and beste eek that nature Hath wrought or shal, whyl that the world may dure, Why that she lefte pite so behinde? 55 It was, y-wis, a greet defaute in kinde.

Yit is al this no lak to hir, pardee, But god or nature sore wolde I blame; For, though she shewe no pite unto me, Sithen that she doth othere men the same, I ne oughte to despyse my ladies game; 6 I tishir pley to laughen whan men syketh, And I assente, al that hir list and lyketh!

Yit wolde I, as I dar, with sorweful herte Biseche un-to your meke womanhede 65 That I now dorste my sharpe sorwes smerte

Shewe by worde, that ye wolde ones rede The pleynte of me, the which ful sore drede

That I have seid here, through myn unconninge,

In any worde to your displesinge. 70

Lothest of anything that ever was loth Were me, as wisly god my soule save !

To seyn a thing through which ye might be wroth;

And, to that day that I be leyd in grave,

A trewer servaunt shulle ye never have ; And, though that I on yow have pleyned here, 76

Forgiveth it me, myn owne lady dere !

Ever have I been, and shal, how-so I wende,

Outher to live or dye, your humble trewe; Ye been to me my ginning and myn ende, Sonne of the sterre bright and clere of

hewe, 81

Alwey in oon to love yow freshly newe, By god and by my trouthe, is myn entente; To live or dye, I wol it never repente !

This compleynt on seint Valentynes day, Whan every foul [ther] chesen shal his make, 86

To hir, whos I am hool, and shal alwey,

This woful song and this compleynt I make,

That never yit wolde me to mercy take ; And yit wol I [for] evermore her serve 90 And love hir best, although she do me sterve.

XXIII. A BALADE OF COMPLEYNT.

[This is added as being a good example of a Compleynt in Chaucer's style.]

COMPLEXNE ne coude, ne might myn herte never

My peynes halve, ne what torment I have, Though that I sholde in your presence ben ever,

My hertes lady, as wisly he me save

That bountee made, and beutee list to grave 5

In your persone, and bad hem bothe infere Ever t'awayte, and ay be wher ye were.

As wisly he gye alle my joyes here

As I am youres, and to yow sad and trewe, And ye, my lyf and cause of my good chere, 10 And deeth also, whan ye my peynes newe, My worldes joye, whom I wol serve and sewe.

My heven hool, and al my suffisaunce, Whom for to serve is set al my plesaunce.

Beseching yow in my most humble wyse Taccepte in worth this litel povre dyte, 16 And for my trouthe my service nat despyse.

Myn observaunce eek have nat in despyte, Ne yit to long to suffren in this plyte;

I yow beseche, myn hertes lady, here, 20 Sith I yow serve, and so wil yeer by yere.

METRE I. Carmina qui quondam studio florente peregi.

ALLAS ! I, weping, an constreined to biginnen vers of sorowfal matere, that whylom in florisching studie made delitable ditees. For lo ! rendinge Muses of 5 poetes endyten to me thinges to be writen ; and dreav yers of wreechednesse weten my face with verray teres. At the leeste, no drede ne mighte overcomen tho Muses, that they ne weren

- 10 felawes, and folweden my wey, that is to seyn, whan I was expled; they that weren glorie of my youthe, whylom weleful and greene, comforten now the sorowful werdes of me, olde man. For elde
- 15 is comen unwarly upon me, hasted by the harmes that I have, and sorow hath comaunded his age to be in me. Heres hore ben shad overtymeliche upon myn heved, and the slake skin trembleth upon
- 20 myn empted body. Thilke deeth of men is weleful that ne cometh not in yeres that ben swete, but cometh to wrecches, often y-cleped. Allas! allas! with how deef an ere deeth, cruel, torneth awey
- 25 fro wreeches, and naiteth to closen wepinge eyen! Whyl Fortune, unfeithful, favorede me with lighte goodes, the sorowful houre, that is to seyn, the deeth, hadde almost dreynt myn heved. But 30 now, for Fortune cloudy hath channeed hir deceyvable chere to me-ward, myn unpitous lyf draweth a-long unagreable dwellinges in me. O ye, my frendes, what or wherto avauntede ye me to ben weleful? for he that hath fallen stood nat in 3 stedefast degree.

PROSE I. Hec dum mecum tacitus ipse reputarem.

Whyle that I stille recordede thise thinges with my-self, and markede my weeply compleynte with office of pointel, I saw, stondinge aboven the heighte of myn heved, a woman of ful greet re- 5 verence by semblaunt, hir even brenninge and cleer-seinge over the comune might of men ; with a lyfly colour, and with swich vigour and strengthe that it ne mighte nat ben empted; al were it 1 so that she was ful of so greet age, that men ne wolde nat trowen, in no manere. that she were of oure elde. The stature of hir was of a doutous jugement; for som-tyme she constreinede and shronk I hir-selven lyk to the comune mesure of men, and sum-tyme it semede that she touchede the hevene with the heighte of hir heved ; and whan she heef hir heved hver, she percede the selve hevene, so 2 that the sighte of men looking was in vdel. Hir clothes weren maked of right delve thredes and subtil crafte, of perdurable matere; the whiche clothes she

- 25 hadde woven with hir owene hondes, as I knew wel after by hirself, declaringe and shewinge to me the beautee; the whiche clothes a derknesse of a forleten and dispysed elde hadde dusked and
- 30 derked, as it is wont to derken bismokede images. In the nethereste hem or bordure of thise clothes men redden, y-woven in, a Grekissh P, that signifyeth the lyf Actif; and aboven that
- 35 lettre, in the heyeste bordure, a Grekissh T, that signifyeth the lyf Contemplatif. And bi-twixen these two lettres ther weren seyn degrees, nobly y-wroght in manere of laddres; by whiche degrees 40 men mighten climben fro the nethereste
- lettre to the uppereste. Natheles, handes of some men hadde corven that cloth by violence and by strengthe; and everiche man of hem hadde born awey 45 swiche peces as he mighte geten. And
- forsothe, this forseide woman bar smale bokes in hir right hand, and in hir left hand she bar a ceptre. And whan she say thise poetical Muses aprochen aboute
- 50 my bed, and endytinge wordes to my wepinges, she was a litel amoved, and glowede with cruel eyen. 'Who,' quod she, 'hath suffred aprochen to this syke man thise comune strompetes of swich
- 55 a place that men clepen the theatre? The whiche nat only ne asswagen nat hise sorwes with none remedies, but they wolden feden and norisshen hem with swete venim. Forsothe, thise ben tho
- 60 that with thornes and prikkinges of talents or affections, which that ne ben no-thing fructefyinge nor profitable, destroyen the corn plentevous of fruites of resour: for they holden the hertes
- 65 of men in usage, but they ne delivere nat folk fro maladye. But if ye Muses hadden withdrawen fro me, with your flateryes, any uncunninge and unprofitable man, as men ben wont to finde
- 70 comunity amonges the poeple, I wolde wene suffre the lasse grevously; for-why, in swiche an unprofitable man, myn ententes ne weren no-thing endumaged. But ye withdrawen +from me this man, 75 that hat be norisshed in the studies or 75 that hat be norisshed in the studies or scoles of Eleaticis and of Achademicis in Grece. But goth now rather awey, ve mermaidenes, whiche that ben swete til it be at the laste, and suffreth this man to be cured and heled by myne Muses,' 80 that is to seyn, by note ful sciences. And thus this companye of Muses y-blamed casten wrothly the chere dounward to the erthe; and, shewinge by reednesse hir shame, they passeden sorowfully the 85 threshfold. And I, of whom the sighte, plounged in teres, was derked so that I ne mighte not knowen what that womman was, of so imperial auctoritee, I wex al abaisshed and astoned, and caste 90 my sighte doun to the erthe, and bigan stille for to abvde what she wolde don afterward. Tho com she ner, and sette hir doun up-on the uttereste corner of my bed; and she, biholdinge my chere, 95 that was cast to the erthe, hevy and grevous of wepinge, compleinede, with thise wordes that I shal seven, the perturbacioun of my thought.

METRE II. Heu quam precipiti mersa profundo.

'Allas! how the thought of man, dreint in over-throwinge deepnesse, dulleth, and forleteth his propre cleernesse, mintinge to goon in-to foreine derknesses, as ofte as his anoyous bisinesse wexeth with- 5 oute mesure, that is driven to and fro with worldly windes! This man, that whylom was free, to whom the hevene was open and knowen, and was wont to goon in heveneliche pathes, and saugh 10 the lightnesse of the rede sonne, and saugh the sterres of the colde mone, and whiche sterre in hevene useth wandering recourses, y-flit by dyverse speres-this man, overcomer, hadde comprehended 15 al this by noumbre of acountinge in astronomye. And over this, he was wont to seken the causes whennes the souning windes moeven and bisien the smothe water of the see ; and what spirit torneth 20 the stable hevene; and why the sterre aryseth out of the rede eest, to fallen in the westrene wawes ; and what atempreth the lusty houres of the firste somer 25 sesonn, that highteth and apparaileth the orthe with rosen flowres; and who maketh that plentevouse autompne, in fulle yeres, fleteth with' hevy grapes. And eek this man was wont to tell the 30 dyverse causes of nature that weren y-hidde. Allas! now lyeth he empted of light of his thought; and his nekke is pressed with hevy cheynes; and bereth his ohere endyned adoun for the grete 35 weighte, and is constreined to looken on the fool erthe!

PROSE II. Set medicine, inquit, tempus est.

But tyme is now,' quod she, ' of medicine more than of compleinte.' Forsothe than she, entendinge to me-ward with alle the lookinge of hir eyen, seide :-- 'Art 5 nat thou he,' quod she, ' that whylom y-norished with my milk, and fostered with myne metes, were escaped and comen to corage of a parfit man ? Certes, I yuf the swiche armures that, yif thou

- in thy-self ne haddest first cast hem a-wey, they shulden han defended thee in sikernesse that may nat ben over-comen. Knowest thou me nat ? Why art thou stille ? Is it for shame or for astoninge?
- 15 It were me lever that it were for shame; but it semeth me that astoninge hath oppressed thee.' And whan she say me nat only stille, but with-outen office of tunge and al doumb, she leide hir hand
- 20 softely upon my brest, and seide: 'Here nis no peril,' quod she; 'he is fallen into a litargie, whiche that is a comune sykenes to hertes that ben deceived. He hath a litel foryeten him-self, but certes
- 25 he shal lightly remembren him-self, yif so be that he hath knowen me or now; and that he may so don, I wil wypen a litel his eyen, that ben derked by the cloude of mortal thinges.' Thise wordes
- 30 seide she, and with the lappe of hir garment, v-plyted in a frounce, she dryede myn eyen, that weren fulle of the wawes of my wepinges.

METRE III. Tunc me discussa liquerunt nocte tenebre.

Thus, whan that night was discussed and chased a-wey, derknesses forleften me, and to myn eyen repeirede avein hir firste strengthe. And, right by ensaumple as the sonne is hid whan the sterres ben clustred (that is to seyn, whan sterres ben covered with cloudes) by a swifte winde that highte Chorus, and that the firmament stant derked by wete ploungy cloudes, and that the sterres nat apperen up-on hevene, so that the night semeth sprad up-on erthe : yif thanne the wind that highte Borias, y-sent out of the caves of the contree of Trace, beteth this night (that is to seyn, chaseth it a-wey), and descovereth the closed day : than shyneth Phebus y-shaken with sodein light, and smyteth with his bemes in mervelinge eyen.

PROSE III. Haud aliter tristicie nebulis dissolutis.

Right so, and non other wyse, the cloudes of sorwe dissolved and don a-wey, I took hevene, and receivede minde to knowen the face of my fysicien; so that I sette myn eyen on hir, and fastnede my lookinge. I beholde my norice Philosophie, in whos houses I hadde conversed and haunted fro my youthe; and I seide thus. 'O thou maistresse of alle vertues, descended from the soverein sete, why artow comen in-to this solitarie place of myn exil? Artow comen for thou art maked coupable with me of false blames?

Phil. 'O,' quod she, 'my norry, sholde I forsaken thee now, and sholde I nat parten with thee, by comme travaile, the charge that thou hast suffred for envie of my name? Certes, it nere not leveful ne sittinge thing to Philosophie, to leten with-outen companye the way of him that is innocent. Sholde I thanne redoute my blame, and agrysen as though ther were bifallen a newe thing? quasi dicercl, non. For trowestow that Philosophie be now alderfirst assailed in perils by folk of wikkede mancres? Have I nat striven with ful greet stryf, in olde tyme, bifore the age of my Plato, ayeines the foolhardinesse of folye? And eek, the same Plato bivinge, his maister Socrates deservede victorie of unrightful deeth in my presence. The heritage of which Socratesthe heritage is to seyn the doctrine of the whiche Socrates in his opinioun of Felicitee,

- 55 that I depe welchulesse—whan that the poeple of Epicurians and Stoiciens and many othre enforceden hem to go ravisshe everich man for his part—that is to seyn, that everich of hem wolde drawen to the 40 defence of his opinioun the wordes of
- Socrates-they, as in partie of hir preye, to-drowen me, cryinge and debatinge ther-ayeins, and corven and to-renten my clothes that I hadde woven with myn
- 45 handes; and with the cloutes that they hadden araced out of my clothes they wenten awey, weninge that I hadde gon with hem everydel. In whiche Epicuriens and Stoiciens, for as moche as ther
- 50 semede some traces or steppes of myn habite, the folye of men, weninge the Epicuriens and Stoiciens my famileres, perverted (sc. persequendo) some through the errour of the wikkede or uncunninge
- 55 multitude of hem. This is to seyn that, for they semede philosophres, they weren pursued to the deeth and slayn. So yif thou hast nat knowen the exilinge of Anaxogore, ne the enpoysoninge of Socrates, ne 60 the tourments of Zeno, for they weren straungeres: yit mightestow han knowen
- the Senecciens and the Canios and the +Soranos, of whiche folk the renoun is neither over-olde ne unsolempne. The 65 whiche men, no-thing elles ne broughte
- hem to the deeth but only for they weren enfourmed of myne maneres, and semeden most unlyke to the studies of wikkede folk. And forthy thou oughtest nat
- 70 to wondren though that I, in the bittre see of this lyf, be fordriven with tempestes blowinge aboute, in the whiche tempestes this is my most purpos, that is to seyn, to displesen to wikkede men. Of
- 75 whiche shrewes, al be the ost never so greet, it is to dispyse; for it nis governed with no leder of resoun, but it is ravisshed only by fletinge errour folyly and lightly. And if they som-tyme, makinge an ost aveins us, assaile us as strenger, our leder 80 draweth to-gidere hise richesses in-to his tour, and they ben ententif aboute sarpulers or sachels un profitable for to taken. But we that ben heye aboven, siker fro alle tumulte and wode noise, warnestored 85 and enclosed in switch a palis, whider as that chateringe or anoyinge folye ne may nat atayne, we scorne switche ravineres and hencheres of fouleste thinges.

METRE IV. Quisquis composito serenus euo.

Who-so it be that is cleer of vertu, sad, and wel ordinat of livinge, that hath put under foot the proude werdes and looketh upright up-on either fortune, he may holde his chere undiscomfited. The rage 5 ne the manaces of the see, commoevinge or chasinge upward hete fro the botme. ne shal not moeve that man; ne the unstable mountaigne that highte Vesevus. that wrytheth out through his brokene 10 chiminees smokinge fyres. Ne the wey of +thonder-leyt, that is wont to smyten heye toures, ne shal nat moeve that man. Wher-to thanne, o wrecches, drede ve tirauntes that ben wode and felonous 15 with-oute any strengthe? Hope after no-thing, ne drede nat; and so shaltow desarmen the ire of thilke unmighty tiraunt. But who-so that, quakinge, dredeth or desireth thing that nis nat 20 stable of his right, that man that so doth hath cast awey his sheld and is remoeved fro his place, and enlaceth him in the cheyne with the which he may ben 25 drawen.

PROSE IV. Sentisne, inquit, hec.

Felestow,' quod she, 'thise thinges, and entrem they aught in thy corage? Artow lyke an asse to the harpe? Why wepestow, why spillestow teres? Yif thou abydest after help of thy leche, thee 5 bihoveth discovere thy wounde.' Tho I, that hadde gadered strengthe in my corage, answerede and seide: 'And medeth it yit,' quod I, 'of rehersinge or of amonicioun; and sheweth it na tro y-nough by him-self the sharpnesse of Fortune, that wexeth wood aveins me? Ne moeveth it nat thee to seen the face or the manere of this place (i. prisoun)? 15 Is this the librarie whiche that thou haddest chosen for a right certein sets to thee in mynhous, ther-as thou desputedest ofte with me of the sciences of thinges touchinge divinitee and touchinge man-20 kinde? Was thanne myn habite swich

- as it is now? Was than my face or my chere swiche as now (quasi diceret, non), whan I soughte with thee secrets of nature, whan thou enformedest my ma-
- 25 neres and the resoun of alle my lyf to the ensaumple of the ordre of hevene? Is nat this the guerdoun that I referre to thee, to whom I have be obeisant? Certes, thou confermedest, by the mouth of Plato,
- 30 this sentence, that is to seyn, that commune thinges or commanditees weren blisful, yif they that hadden studied al fully to wisdom governeden thilke thinges, or elles yif it so bifille that the governoures of
- 35 comunalitees studieden to geten wisdom. Thou seidest eek, by the mouth of the same Plato, that it was a necessarie cause, wyse men to taken and desire the governance of comune thinges, for that
- 40 the governments of citees, y-left in the handes of felonous tormentours citizenes, ne sholde nat bringe in pestilence and destruccioun to gode folk. And therfor I, folwinge thilke auctoritee (sc. Platonis),
- 45 desired to putten forth in execucioun and in acte of comune administracioun thilke thinges that I hadde lerned of thee among my secree resting-whyles. Thou, and god that putte thee in the thoughtes of wyse
- 50 folk, ben knowinge with me, that nothing ne broughte me to maistrie or dignitee, but the comune studie of alle goodnesse. And ther-of comth it that bi-twixen wikked folk and me han ben
- 55 grevous discordes, that ne mighten ben relessed by preyeres; for this libertee hath the freedom of conscience, that the wratthe of more mighty folk hath alwey ben despysed of me for savacioun of right. How
- 60 ofte have I resisted and withstonde thilke man that highte Conigaste, that made alwey assautes ayeins the prospre fortunes of pore feble folk? How ofte eek have I put of or cast out him, Trigwille, provost of the kinges hous, bothe of the 6 wronges that he hadde bigunne to don, and eek fully performed? How ofte have I covered and defended by the auctoritee of me, put ayeins perils-that is to seyn, put myn auctoritee in peril for-the 7 wrecched pore folk, that the covetyse of straungeres unpunished tourmenteden alwey with miseyses and grevaunces out of noumbre? Never man ne drow me yit fro right to wronge. Whan I say the 7 fortunes and the richesses of the poeple of the provinces ben harmed or amenused, outher by privee ravynes or by comune tributes or cariages, as sory was I as they that suffreden the harm. ---- Glossa. 8 Whan that Theodoric, the king of Gothes, in a dere yere, hadde hise gerneres ful of corn, and comaundede that no man ne sholde byen no corn til his corn were sold, and that at a grevous dere prys, Boece withstood that & ordinaunce, and over-com it, knowinge al this the king him-self .---- Textus. Whan it was in the soure hungry tyme, ther was establisshed or cryed grevous and inplitable coempcioun, that men sayen of wel it sholde greetly turmenten and endamagen al the province of Campaigne, I took stryf ayeins the provost of the pretorie for comune profit. And, the king knowinge of it, I overcom it, so that the coempcioun ne was not axed ne took effect, ----- [Glossa.] + Coempcioun, that is to seyn, comune achat or bying to-gidere, that were establisshed up-on the poeple by swiche a manere imposicioun, as who-so boughte : a busshel corn, he moste yeve the king the fifte part .---- [Textus.] Paulin, a counseiller of Rome, the richesses of the whiche Paulin the houndes of the palays, that is to seyn, the officeres, wolden han devoured by hope and covetise, yit drow I him out of the jowes (sc. faucibus) of hem that gapeden. And for as moche as the peyne of the accusacioun ajuged biforn ne sholde nat sodeinly henten ne punisshen wrongfully Albin, a counseiller of Rome, I putte me ayeins the hates and indignaciouns of the accusor Ciprian. Is it nat thanne y-nough y-seyn, that I have pur-15 chased grete discordes ayeins my-self? But I oughte be the more assured ayeins alle othre folk (s. Romayns), that for the love of rightwisnesse I ne reserved never no-thing to my-self to hemward of the 20 kinges halle, sc. officers, by the whiche I were the more siker. But thorugh tho same accusors accusinge, I am condempned. Of the noumbir of the whiche accusors oon Basilius, that whylom was 25 chased out of the kinges service, is now compelled in accusinge of my name, for nede of foreine moneye. Also Opilion and Gaudencius han accused me, al be it so that the justice regal hadde whylom 30 demed hem bothe to go in-to exil for hir trecherves and fraudes withoute noumbir. To whiche jugement they nolden nat obeye, but defendeden hem by the sikernesse of holy houses, that is to seyn, fledden 35 into scintuaries ; and whan this was aperceived to the king, he comaundede, that but they voidede the citee of Ravenne by certein day assigned, that men sholde merken hem on the forheved with an hoot 40 vren and chasen hem out of the toune. Now what thing, semeth thee, mighte ben lykned to this crueltee ? For certes, thilke same day was received the accusinge of my name by thilke same accusors. What 45 may ben seid her-to ? (quasi diceret, nichil). Hath my studie and my cunninge deserved thus : or elles the forseide dampnacioun of me, made that hem rightful accusors or no? (quasi diceret, non). Was 50 not Fortune ashamed of this? Certes, al hadde nat Fortune ben ashamed that innocence was accused, yit oughte she han had shame of the filthe of myne accusours. 5 But, axestow in somme, of what gilt

55 Dut, axestow in somme, of what gut I am accused men seyn that I wolde save the companye of the senatours. And desirest thou to heren in what manere? I am accused that I sholde han desfo tourbed the accusor to beren lettres, by whiche he sholde han maked the senatoures gilty ayeins the kinges real majestee. O maistresse, what demestow of this? Shal I forsake this blame, that I ne be no shame to thee? (quasi diceret, non). 165 Certes, I have wold it, that is to seyn, the savacioun of the senat, ne I shal never leten to wilne it, and that I confesse and am aknowe; but the entente of the accusor to be destourbed shal cese. For 170 shal I clepe it thanne a felonie or a sinne that I have desired the savacioun of the ordre of the senat? (quasi diceret, dubito quid). And certes yit hadde thilke same senat don by me, thorugh hir decrets and 175 hir jugements, as though it were a sinne or a felonie; that is to seem, to wilne the savacioun of hem (sc. senatus). But folye, that lyeth alwey to him-self, may not chaunge the merite of thinges. Ne I trowe 180 nat, by the jugement of Socrates, that it were leveful to me to hyde the sothe. ne assente to lesinges. But certes, how so ever it be of this, I putte it to gessen or preisen to the jugement of thee and of 185 wyse folk. Of whiche thing al the ordinaunce and the sothe, for as moche as folk that ben to comen after our dayes shullen knowen it. I have put it in scripture and in remembraunce. For touching 190 the lettres falsly maked, by whiche lettres I am accused to han hoped the fredom of Rome, what aperteneth me to speke therof? Of whiche lettres the fraude hadde ben shewed apertly, yif I hadde had 195 libertee for to han used and been at the confessioun of myne accusours, the whiche thing in alle nedes hath greet strengthe. For what other fredom may men hopen? Certes, I wolde that som 2001 other fredom mighte ben hoped. I wolde thanne han answered by the wordes of a man that highte Canius; for whan he was accused by Gaius Cesar, Germeynes sone, that he (Canius) was know- 205 inge and consentinge of a conjuracioun y-maked ayeins him (sc. Gaius), this Canius answerede thus: "Yif I hadde wist it, thou haddest nat wist it." In which thing sorwe hath nat so dulled my 210 wit, that I pleyne only that shrewede folk aparailen felonies aveins vertu : but I wondre greetly how that they may performe thinges that they hadde hoped for to

- <sup>215</sup> don. For-why, to wilne shrewednesse, that comth peraventure of our defaute; but it is lyk a monstre and a mervaille, how that, in the present sighte of god, may ben acheved and performed swiche
- 220 thinges as every felonous man hath conceived in his thought ayeins innocents. For which thing oon of thy famileres nat unskiftelly axed thus: "Yif god is, whennes comen wikkede thinges? And
- 225 yif god ne is, whennes comen gode thinges?" But al hadde it ben leveful that felonous folk, that now desiren the blood and the deeth of alle gode men and eek of alle the senat, han wilned to gon
- 230 destroyen me, whom they han seven alwey batailen and defenden gode men and eek al the senat, yit had I nat desserved of the faderes, that is to seyn, of the senatoures, that they sholden wilne my 235 destruction.
- Thou remembrest wel, as I gesse, that whan I wolde doon or seven any thing, thou thyself, alwey present, rewledest me. At the city of Verone, whan that the
- 240 king, gredy of comune slaughter, caste him to transporten up al the ordre of the senat the gilt of his real majestee, of the whiche gilt that Albin was accused, with how gret sikernesse of peril to me de-
- 245 fendede I al the senat! Thou wost wel that I seve sooth, ne I ne avauntede me never in preysinge of my-self. For alwey, whan any wight receiveth precious renoun in avauntinge him-self of his werkes, he
- 250 amenuseth the secree of his conscience. But now thou mayst well seen to what ende I am comen for myne innocence; I receive peyne of fals felonye for guerdon of verray vertu. And what open con-
- 255 fessioun of felonye hadde ever juges so acordant in crueltee, that is to seyn, as myn accusinge hath, that either error of mannes wit or elles condicioun of Fortune, that is uncertein to alle mortal
- 260 folk, ne submittede some of hem, that is to seyn, that it ne enclynede som juge to han pitee or compassioun? For al-thogh I hadde ben accused that I wolde brenne holy houses, and strangle prestes with 265 wikkede swerde, or that I hadde greythed deeth to al gode men, algates the sentence sholde han punisshed me, present, confessed, or convict. But now I am remewed fro the citee of Rome almost fyve hundred thousand pas, I am with-oute defence 27 dampned to proscripcioun and to the deeth, for the studie and bountees that I have doon to the senat. But O, wel ben they worthy of merite (as who seith; nay), ther mighte never yit non of hem be 27 convict of swiche a blame as myne is! Of whiche trespas, myne accusours sayen ful wel the dignitee; the whiche dignitee, for they wolden derken it with medeling of som felonye, they baren me on hand, 28 and lyeden, that I hadde polut and defouled my conscience with sacrilege, for coveitise of dignitee. And certes, thou thyself, that art plaunted in me, chacedest out of the sege of my corage al coveitise of 28 mortal thinges; ne sacrilege hadde no leve to han a place in me biforn thyne eyen. For thou droppedest every day in myne eres and in my thought thilke comaundement of Pictagoras, that is to 20 seyn, men shal serve to godde, and not to goddes. Ne it was nat convenient, ne no nede, to taken help of the foulest spirites ; I, that thou hast ordeined and set in swiche excellence that thou makedest me 29 lyk to god, And over this, the right clene secree chaumbre of myne hous, that is to seyn, my wuf, and the companye of myn honest freendes, and my wyves fader, as wel holy as worthy to ben reverenced 30 thorugh his owne dedes, defenden me from alle suspecioun of swich blame. But O malice! For they that accusen me taken of thee, Philosophie, feith of so gret blame! For they trowen that I have had 30 affinitee to malefice or enchauntement, by-cause that I am replenisshed and fulfilled with thy techinges, and enformed of thy maneres. And thus it suffiseth not only, that thy reverence ne availe me not, 31 but-yif that thou, of thy free wille, rather be blemished with myn offencioun. But certes, to the harmes that I have, ther bitydeth yit this encrees of harm, that the gessinge and the jugement of moche 31, folk ne looken no-thing to the desertes of thinges, but only to the aventure of fortune; and jugen that only swiche thinges ben purveyed of god, whiche that 320 temporel welefulnesse commendeth. Glose. As thus: that, yif a wight have prosperitee, he is a good man and worthy to han that prosperitee; and who-so hath adversitee, he is a wikked man, and god 325 hath forsake him, and he is worthy to han that adversitee. This is the opinioun of some folk .---- And ther-of comth that good gessinge, first of alle thing, forsaketh wrecches : certes, it greveth me to thinke 330 right now the dyverse sentences that the poeple seith of me. And thus moche I seve, that the laste charge of contrarious fortune is this: that, whan that any blame is levd upon a caitif, men wenen 335 that he hath deserved that he suffreth. And I, that am put awey fro gode men, and despoiled of dignitees, and defouled of my name by gessinge, have suffred torment for my gode dedes. Certes, me 340 semeth that I see the felonous covines of wikked men habounden in joye and in gladnesse. And I see that every lorel shapeth him to finde out newe fraudes for to accuse gode folk. And I see that gode

345 men beth overthrowen for drede of my peril; and every luxurious tourmentour dar doon alle felonye unpunisshed and ben excited therto by yiftes; and innocents ne ben not only despoiled of siker-350 nesse but of defence; and therfore me list to cryen to god in this wyse :--

METRE V. O stelliferi conditor orbis.

O thou maker of the whele that bereth the sterres, which that art y-fastned to thy perdurable chayer, and tornest the herene with a ravisshing sweigh, and 5 constreinest the sterres to suffren thy lawe; so that the mone som-tyme shyning with hir ful hornes, meting with alle the beness of the sonne hir brother, hyddeth the sterres that ben lesse; and somtyme, 10 whan the mone, pale with hir derke hornes, approchet the sonne, lessth hir

Thou restreinest the day by shorter dwelling, in the tyme of colde winter that maketh the leves to falle. Thou dividest the swifte tydes of 20 the night, whan the hote somer is comen. Thy might atempreth the variaunts sesons of the yere ; so that Zephirus the deboneir wind bringeth ayein, in the first somer sesoun, the leves that the wind that 25 highte Boreas hath reft awey in autumpne. that is to seen, in the laste ende of somer : and the sedes that the sterre that highte Arcturus saw, ben waxen heye cornes whan the sterre Sirius eschaufeth hem. 30 Ther nis no-thing unbounde from his olde lawe, ne forleteth the werke of his propre O thou governour, governinge estat. alle thinges by certein ende, why refusestow only to governe the werkes of 35 men by dewe manere? Why suffrest thou that slydinge fortune torneth so grete entrechaunginges of thinges, so that anoyous peyne, that sholde dewely punisshe felouns, punissheth innocents? 40 And folk of wikkede maneres sitten in heye chayres, and anoyinge folk treden, and that unrightfully, on the nekkes of holy men? And vertu, cler-shyninge naturelly, is hid in derke derkenesses, and 45 the rightful man bereth the blame and the pevne of the feloun. Ne forsweringe ne the fraude, covered and kembd with a fals colour, ne anoyeth nat to shrewes; the whiche shrewes, whan hem list to 50 usen hir strengthe, they rejoysen hem to putten under hem the sovereyne kinges, whiche that poeple with-outen noumbre O thou, what so ever thou dreden. be that knittest alle bondes of thinges, 55 loke on thise wrecchede erthes; we men that ben nat a foule party, but a fayr party of so grete a werk, we ben tormented in this see of fortune. Thou governour, withdraw and restreyne the ravisshinge 60 flodes, and fastne and ferme thise erthes stable with thilke bonde, with whiche thou governest the hevene that is so large.'

PROSE V. Hic ubi continuato dolore delatraui.

Whan I hadde, with a continuel sorwe, sobbed or borken out thise thinges, she with hir chere pesible, and no-thing amoved with my compleintes, seide thus:

- 5 'Whan I say thee,' quod she, 'sorweful and wepinge, I wiste anon that thou were a wreeche and exiled ; but I wiste never how fer thyne exile was, yif thy tale ne hadde shewed it to me. But certes, al be sentence of my bokes. And certeinly of thy desertes, bistowed in comune good, 50 thou hast seid sooth, but after the multitude of thy gode dedes, thou hast seid fewe; and of the honestee or of the falsnesse of thinges that ben aposed ayeins thee, thou hast remembred thinges that 55 ben knowen to alle folk. And of the felonves and fraudes of thyne accusours. it semeth thee have y-touched it forsothe rightfully and shortly, al mighten tho same thinges betere and more plenti- 60 vousely ben couth in the mouthe of the poeple that knoweth al this. Thou hast eek blamed gretly and compleined of the wrongful dede of the senat. And thou hast sorwed for my blame, and thou hast 65 wopen for the damage of thy renoun that is apayred; and thy laste sorwe eschaufede ayeins fortune, and compleinest that guerdouns ne ben nat evenliche yolden to the desertes of folk. And in the latere 70 ende of thy wode Muse, thou preyedest that thilke pees that governeth the hevene sholde governe the erthe. But for that manye tribulaciouns of affecciouns han assailed thee, and sorwe and ire and 75 wepinge to-drawen thee dyversely; as thou art now feble of thought, mightier remedies ne shullen nat yit touchen thee, for whiche we wol usen somdel lighter medicines : so that thilke passiouns that 80 ben woxen harde in swellinge, by perturbaciouns flowing in-to thy thought, mowen wexen esy and softe, to receiven the strengthe of a more mighty and more egre medicine, by an ester touchinge. 85

'Wistestow never yit that thou were 70 any other thing?' quod she. 'No,' quod I.

- 85 And for thou hast foryeten by whiche governements the world is governed, forthy wenestow that thise mutaciouns of fortune fleten with-oute governour. Thise ben grete causes not only to maladye,
- 90 but, certes, grete causes to deeth. But I thanke the auctor and the maker of hele, that nature hath not al forleten thee. I have grete norisshinges of thyn hele, and that is, the southe sentence of
- 95 governaunce of the worlde; that thou bilevest that the governinge of it nis nat subject ne underput to the folie of thise happes aventurons, but to the resoun of god. And therefor doute thee no-thing;
- 100 for of this litel spark thyn hete of lyf shal shyne. But for as moche as it is nat týme yit of faster remedies, and the nature of thoughtes deceived is this, that as ofte as they casten awey sothe 105 opiniouns, they clothen hem in falsa
- opinious, of which false opinious the derkenesse of perturbacioun wexeth up, that confoundeth the verray insighte : and that derkenesse shal I assaye som-

PROSE I. Postea paulisper conticuit.

After this she stinte a litel; and, after that she hadde gadered by atempre stillenesse myn attencioun, she seide thus: (As who mighte seyn thus: After thise 5 thinges she stinte a litel; and whan she aperceived by atempre stillenesse that I was ententif to herkene hir, she bigan to speke in this wyse): 'Yif I,' quod she, 'have understonden and knowen outrely the causes to and the habit of thy maladye, thou languissest and art defeted for desyr and talent of thy rather fortune. She, that ilke Fortune only, that is channeed, as thou feynest, to the ward, hath perverted the cleernesse and the estat of thy corage. 12 I understonde the fele-folde colours and deceites of thilke merveilous monstre Fortune, and how she useth ful flateringe familaritee with hem that she enforceth to bigyle; so longe, til that she conformed zo with unsufferable sorve hem that she hath left in despeyr unpurveyed. And yif thou remembrest wel the kinde, the mancres, and the desert of thilke Fortune, thou shalt wel knowe that, as in hir, 25 thou never ne haddest ne hast y-lost any fair thing. But, as I trowe, I shal nat gretly travailen to do thee remembran on thise thinges. For thon were wont to 30 hurtelen and despysen hir, with manly wordes, whan she was blanndissinge and present, and pursewedest hir with sentences that were drawen out of myn entree, that is to seyn, out of myn informa-

- 35 cioun. But no sodein mutacioun ne bitydeth nat with-oute a manere chaunginge of corages ; and so is it befallen that thou art a litel departed fro the pees of thy thought.
- But now is tyme that thou drinke and 40 ataste some softe and delitable thinges : so that, whan they ben entred with-in thee, it mowe maken wey to strengere drinkes of medicynes. Com now forth 45 therfore the suasioun of swetenesse rethorien, whiche that goth only the right wey, whyl she forsaketh nat myne estatuts. And with Rhetorice com forth Musice, a damisel of our hous, that 50 singeth now lighter moedes or prolaciouns, now hevyer. What eyleth thee, man? What is it that hath cast thee in-to morninge and in-to wepinge? I trowe that thou hast seyn som newe thing and 55 uncouth. Thou wenest that Fortune be chaunged ayein thee; but thou wenest wrong, yif thou that wene. Alwey tho ben hir maneres; she hath rather kept, as to thee-ward, hir propre stablenesse in to the chaunginge of hir-self. Right swich was she whan she flatered thee, and deceived thee with unleveful lykinges of fals welefulnesse. Thou hast now knowen and atavnt the doutous or double visage 65 of thilke blinde goddesse Fortune. She, that yit covereth hir and wimpleth hir to other folk, hath shewed hir everydel to thee. Yif thou aprovest hir and thenkest that she is good, use hir maneres 70 and pleyne thee nat. And yif thou agrysest hir false trecherye, despyse and cast awey hir that pleyeth so harmfully ; for she, that is now cause of so muche sorwe to thee, sholde ben cause to thee of 75 pees and of joye. She hath forsaken thee, forsothe; the whiche that never man may ben siker that she ne shal forsake him.—Glose. But natheles, some bokes han the text thus: For sothe, she hath forsaken thee, ne ther nis no man siker 80 that she ne hath nat forsaken.——

Holdestow than thilke welefulnesse precious to thee that shal passen? And is present Fortune dereworthe to thee, which that nis nat feithful for to dwelle; 85 and, whan she goth awey, that she bringeth a wight in sorwe? For sin she may nat ben with-holden at a mannes wille, she maketh him a wrecche whan she departeth fro him. What other thing ou is flittinge Fortune but a maner shewinge of wrecchednesse that is to comen? Ne it ne suffyseth nat only to loken on thinge that is present biforn the eyen of a man. But wisdom loketh and amesureth the os ende of thinges; and the same chaunginge from oon in-to an-other, that is to seyn, from adversitee in-to prosperitee. maketh that the manaces of Fortune ne ben nat for to dreden, ne the flateringes 100 of hir to ben desired. Thus, at the laste, it bihoveth thee to suffren with evene wille in pacience al that is don in-with the floor of Fortune, that is to seyn, in this world, sin thou hast ones put thy nekke 105 under the yok of hir. For yif thou wolt wryten a lawe of wendinge and of dwellinge to Fortune, whiche that thou hast chosen frely to ben thy lady, artow nat wrongful in that, and makest Fortune 110 wroth and aspere by thyn inpatience, and vit thou mayst nat chaunge hir? Yif thou committest and bitakest thy sailes to the winde, thou shalt be shoven, not thider that thou woldest, but whider 115 that the wind shoveth thee. Yif thou castest thy sedes in-to the feldes, thou sholdest han in minde that the yeres ben. amonges, other-whyle plentevous and other-whyle bareyne. Thou hast bitaken 120 thy-self to the governaunce of Fortune, and for-thy it bihoveth thee to ben obeisaunt to the maneres of thy lady. Enforcest thou thee to aresten or withholden the swiftnesse and the sweigh of 125 hir turninge whele? O thou fool of alle mortal fooles, if Fortune bigan to dwelle stable, she cesede thanne to ben Fortune !

METRE I. Hec cum superba uerterit uices dextra.

Whan Fortune with a proud right hand hath torned hir chaunginge stoundes, she fareth lyk the maneres of the boilinge Eurype.---Glosa. Eurype 5 is an arm of the see that ebbeth and floweth: and som-tyme the streem is on o sude, and som-tyme on the other .----Text. She, cruel Fortune, casteth adoun kinges that whylom weren y-drad; and to she, deceivable, enhaunseth up the humble chere of him that is discomfited. Ne she neither hereth ne rekketh of wrecchede wepinges; and she is so hard that she laugheth and scorneth the wep-15 inges of hem, the whiche she hath maked wepe with hir free wille. Thus she pleyeth, and thus she proeveth hir strengthes; and sheweth a greet wonder to alle hir servauntes, yif that a wight 20 is seyn weleful, and overthrowe in an houre.

PROSE II. Vellem autem pauca tecum.

Certes, I wolde pleten with thee a fewe thinges, usinge the wordes of Fortune; tak hede now thy-self, yif that she axeth right. "O thou man, wher-fore makest 5 thou megilty by thyne every-dayes pleyninges? What wrong have I don thee? What goodes have I bireft thee that weren thyne? Stryf or plete with me, bifore what juge that thou wolt, of the 10 possessioun of richesses or of dignitees. And yif thou mayst shewen me that ever any mortal man hath received any of tho thinges to ben hise in propre, than wol I graunte frely that alle thilke thinges 15 weren thyne whiche that thou axest. Whan that nature broughte thee forth out of thy moder wombe, I receyved thee naked and nedy of alle thinges, and I norisshede thee with my richesses. 20 and was redy and ententif through my favour to susteyne thee ; and that maketh thee now inpacient ayeins me; and I envirounde thee with alle the aboundance and shyninge of alle goodes that ben in my right. Now it lyketh me to 2 with-drawen my hand; thou hast had grace as he that hath used of foreine goodes; thou hast no right to pleyne thee, as though thou haddest outrely forlorn alle thy thinges. Why pleynest thou 3 thanne? I have done thee no wrong. Richesses, honours, and swiche other thinges ben of my right. My servauntes knowen me for hir lady; they comen with me, and departen whan I wende. 3 I dar wel affermen hardily, that yif tho thinges, of which thou pleynest that thou hast forlorn, hadde ben thyne, thou ne haddest not lorn hem. Shal I thanne only ben defended to usen my right? 4 Certes, it is leveful to the hevene to make clere dayes, and, after that, to coveren tho same dayes with derke nightes. The yeer hath eek leve to apparailen the visage of the erthe, now with floures and 4 now with fruit, and to confounden hem som-tyme with reynes and with coldes. The see hath eek his right to ben somtyme calme and blaundishing with smothe water, and som-tyme to ben hor- 5 rible with wawes and with tempestes. But the covetise of men, that may nat ben stanched, shal it binde me to ben stedefast, sin that stedefastnesse is uncouth to my maneres? Swich is my 5 strengthe, and this pley I pleye continuely. I torne the whirlinge wheel with the torning cercle; I am glad to chaungen the lowest to the heyest, and the heyest to the lowest. Worth up, if 6 thou wolt, so it be by this lawe, that theu ne holde nat that I do thee wronge thogh thou descende adoun, whan the resoun of my pley axeth it. Wistest thou nat how Cresus, the king of Lydiens, of 6 whiche king Cyrus was ful sore agast a litel biforn, that this rewliche Cresus was caught of Cyrus and lad to the fyr to ben brent, but that a rayn descendede doun fro hevene that rescowede him? 7 And is it out of thy minde how that Paulus, consul of Rome, whan he hadde taken the king of Perciens, weep pitously for the captivitee of the self kinge?

- 75 What other thing biwailen the cryinges of tragedies but only the dedes of Fortune, that with an unwar stroke overtorneth realmes of grete nobley ?—Glose. Tragedie is to seyn, a dites of a prosperite for

- 85 is ful of harm? What right hast thon to pleyne, yif thon hast taken more plentevously of the gode syde, that is to seyn, of my richesses and prosperites; and what eek if I ne be nat al departed for thee?
- 90 What eek yif my mutabilitee yiveth thee rightful cause of hope to han yit beter thinges? Natheles dismaye thee nat in thy thought; and thou that art put in the comune realme of alle, ne desyre nat

Though Plentee, that is goddesse of richesses, hielde adoun with ful horn, and withdraweth nat hir hand, as many richesses as the see torneth upward 5 sandes whan it is moeved with ravisshinge blastes, or elles as many richesses as ther shynen brighte sterres on hevene on the sterry nightes; vit, for al that, mankinde nolde not cese to wepe wrecch-10 ede pleyntes. And al be it so that god receyveth gladly hir preyers, and yiveth them (as fool-large) moche gold, and aparaileth coveitous men with noble or clere honours : yit semeth hem haven 15 y-geten no-thing, but alwey hir cruel ravyne, devouringe al that they han geten, sheweth other gapinges ; that is to seyn, gapen and desyren yit after mo richesses. What brydles mighten withholden, 20 to any certein ende, the desordence covetise of men, whan, ever the rather that it fleteth in large yiftes, the more ay brenneth in hem the thurst of havinge? But natheles, that thou shalt not wilne to leten thy-self a wrecche, hast thou foryeten the noumber and the manere of thy welefulnesse? I holde me 30 stille, how that the soveravne men of the citee token thee in cure and kepinge. whan thou were orphelin of fader and moder, and were chosen in affinitee of princes of the citee; and thou bigunne 35 rather to be leef and dere than forto ben a neighbour; the whiche thing is the most precious kinde of any propinquitee or alyaunce that may ben. - 95 For, al-though that selde is ther any feith that fortunous thinges wolen dwellen, yit natheles the laste day of a mannes lyf is a manere deeth to Fortune, and also to thilke that hath dwelt. And therfor, what, wenestow, thar [thee] reeche, yif ro thou forlete hir in deyinge, or elles that she, Fortune, forlete thee in fleeinge awey?

Thanne seide I thus: 'O norice of alle vertues, thou seist ful sooth; ne I ne may nath forsake the right swifte ocurs of my prosperitee; that is to seyn, that prosperitee ne be comen to me wonder swiftly and sone. 5 But this is a thing that greetly smertch me whan it remembreth me. For in allo adversitee of fortune, the most unsely kinde of contrarious fortune is to han ben weleful.'

Phil. 'But that thou,'quod she, 'abyest thus the torment of thy false opinioun, that mayst thou nat rightfully blamen ne aretten to thinges: as who seith, for

- 15 thou hast pit many habundanness of thinges. ——Text For al he it so that the ydel name of aventurous welefulnesse moeveth thee now, it is loveful that thou rekne with me of how manye grete thinges 20 thou hast yit plentee. And therfor, yif

Phil, 'I have som-what avaunsed and forthered thee,' quod she, 'yif that thou anoye nat or forthinke nat of al thy fortune : as who seith. I have som-what comforted thee, so that thou tempest thee 75 nat thus with al thy fortune, sin thou hast yit thy beste thinges. But I may nat suffren thy delices, that pleynest so wepinge and anguissous, for that ther lakketh somwhat to thy welefulnesse. For what man 80 is so sad or of so parfit welefulnesse, that he ne stryveth and pleyneth on som halve ayen the qualitee of his estat? For-why ful anguissous thing is the condicioun of mannes goodes; for either it cometh nat 85 al-togider to a wight, or elles it last nat perpetuel. For sum man hath grete richesses, but he is ashamed of his ungentel linage; and som is renowned of noblesse of kinrede, but he is enclosed in 90 so grete anguisshe of nede of thinges, that him were lever that he were unknowe, And som man haboundeth both in richesse and noblesse, but yit he bewaileth his chaste lyf, for he ne hath no wyf, 95 And som man is well and selily y-maried, but he hath no children, and norissheth his richesses to the eyres of strange folkes. And som man is gladed with children, but he wepeth ful sory for the 100 trespas of his sone or of his doughter. And for this ther ne acordeth no wight lightly to the condicioun of his fortune : for alwey to every man ther is in somwhat that, unassayed, he ne wot nat; or 105 elles he dredeth that he hath assaved. And adde this also, that every weleful man hath a ful delicat felinge ; so that, but-vif alle thinges bifalle at his owne wil, for he is impacient, or is nat used to 110 han non adversitee, anon he is throwen adoun for every litel thing. And ful litel thinges ben tho that withdrawen the somme or the perfeccionn of blisfulnesse fro hem that ben most fortunat. How 115 many men, trowest thou, wolden demen hem-self to ben almost in hevene, yif they mighten atayne to the leest party of the remnaunt of thy fortune? This same top place that thon clepest exil, is contract to hem that enhabiten heer, and forthy

- nothing [is] wrecched but whan thou wenest it: as who seith, thou thy-self, ne no wight elles, nis a wrecche, but whan he 125 wench him-self a wrecche by reputacioun of
- his corage. And ayeinward, alle fortune is blisful to a man by the agreablete or by the egalitee of him that suffreth it. What man is that, that is so weleful,
- 130 that field changen his estat whan he hath lost pacience? The swetnesse of mannes welefulnesse is sprayned with many biternesses; the whiche welefulnesse, al-though it seme swete and joyful
- 135 to hem that useth it, yit may it nat ben with-holden that it ne goth away whan it wole. Thanne is it well sene, how wrecched is the blisfulnesse of mortal thinges, that neither it dureth perpetuel with hem
- 140 that every fortune receiven agreablely or egaly, ne it delyteth nat in al to hem that ben anguissous. O ye mortal folk, what seke ye thanne blisfulnesse out of your-self, whiche that is put in your-self? 145 Errour and folye confoundeth yow.
- I shal show the shortely the point of soveregne blisfulnesse. Is ther anything more precious to the than thyself? Thou wolt answere, "nay." Thanne,
- 150 yif it so be that thou art mighty over thy-self, that is to seyn, by tranquillitee of thy sould, than hast thou thing in thy power that thou noldest never lesen, ne Fortune ne may nat beneme it thee.
- 155 And that thou mayst knowe that blisfulnesse ne may nat standen in thinges that ben fortunous and temporel, now understonde and gader it to-gidere thus : Yif blisfulnesse be the sovereyn good of nature
- 160 that liveth by resoun, ne thilke thing nis nat sovereyn good that may be taken awey in any wyse, (for more worthy thing and more digne is thilke thing that may nat ben taken awey); than sheweth
- 165 it wel, that the unstablenesse of fortune may nat atayne to receiven verray blisfulnesse. And yit more-over : what man that this toumbling welefulnesse ledeth, either he woot that it is chaungeable, or elles he woot it nat. And yif he woot 17 it nat, what blisful fortune may ther be in the blindnesse of ignorance? And yif he woot that it is chaungeable, he moot alwey ben adrad that he ne lese that thing that he ne doubteth nat but that 17. he may lesen it; as who seith, he mot ben alwey agast, lest he lese that he wot wel he may lese it. For which, the continuel dreed that he hath ne suffreth him nat to ben weleful. Or yif he lese it, he 18 weneth to be dispysed and forleten. Certes eek, that is a ful litel good that is born with evene herte whan it is lost; that is to seyn, that men do no more fors of the lost than of the havinge. And for as 18 moche as thou thy-self art he, to whom it hath ben shewed and proved by ful manye demonstraciouns, as I wot wel. that the sowles of men ne mowe nat deven in no wyse : and eek sin it is cleer 10 and certein, that fortunous welefulnesse endeth by the deeth of the body: it may nat ben douted that, vif that deeth may take awey blisfulnesse, that alle the kinde of mortal thinges ne descendeth in-to IC wrecchednesse by the ende of the deeth. And sin we knowen wel, that many a man hath sought the fruit of blisfulnesse nat only with suffringe of deeth, but eek with suffringe of peynes and tormentes ; 20 how mighte than this present lvf maken men blisful, sin that, whan thilke selve lyf is ended, it ne maketh folk no wreaches?

METRE IV. Quisquis uolet perennem.

What maner man, stable and war, that wole founden him a perdurable sete, and ne wole nat ben cast down with the londe blastes of the wind Eurus; and wole despyse the see, manasinge with flodes; 5 lat him eschewen to bilde on the cop of the mountaigne or in the moiste sandes. For the felle wind Auster tormenteth the cop of the mountaigne with all his strengthes; and the lause sandes refusen of to beren the hevy wighte. And forthy, if thou wolt fleen the perilons aventure, that is to seyn, of the worlde; have minde certainly to facchen thyn hous of a meryce 15 site in a lowe stoon. For al-though the wind, troubling the see, thondre with over-throwinges, thou that art put in quiste, and weleful by strengthe of thy palis, shalt leden a cleer age, scorninge 20 the woodnesses and the ires of the eyr.

PROSE V. Set cum rationum iam in te.

But for as moche as the norisshinges of my resouns descenden now in-to thee, I trove it were tyme to usen a litel strenger medicynes. Now understond 5 heer, al were it so that the yiftes of Fortune ne were nat brutel ne transitorie, what is ther in hem that may be thyn in any tyme, or elles that it nis foul, yif that it be considered and loked perfitly? 10 Richesses, ben they precious by the nature

- of henesses, ben they precious by the nature of hem-self, or elles by the nature of thee? What is most worth of richesses? Is it nat gold or might of moneye assembled? Certes, thilke gold and
- 15 thilke moneye shyneth and yeveth betere renoun to hem that despenden it thanne to thilke folk that mokeren it; for avarice maketh alwey mokereres to ben hated, and largesse maketh folk cleer of renoun.
- 20 For sin that swich thing as is transferred fram o man to another ne may nat dwellen with no man; certes, thanne is thilke moneye precious whan it is translated into other folk and stenteth to ben
- 25 had, by usage of large yevinge of him that hath generit. And also: yif that al the moneye that is over-al in the worlde were gadered toward o man, it sholde maken alle other men to ben nedy as of
- 30 that. And certes a voys al hool, that is to seyn, with-oute amenusinge, fulfilleth to-gidere the hering of moche folk; but certes, youre richesses ne mowen nat passen in-to moche folke with-oute amen-
- 35 usinge. And whan they ben apassed, nedes they maken hem pore that for-gon the richesses. O! streite and nedy clepe I this richesse, sin that many folk ne may nat han it al, ne al may it nat comen to o man with-outen povertee of 40 alle other folk! And the shyninge of gemmes, that I clepe precious stones, draweth it nat the even of folk to hemward, that is to sevn, for the beautee? But certes, vif ther were beautee or bountee 45 in the shyninge of stones, thilke cleernesse is of the stones hem-self, and nat of men; for whiche I wondre gretly that men mervailen on swiche thinges. Forwhy, what thing is it, that yif it wanteth 50 moeving and joynture of sowle and body, that by right mighte semen a fair creature to him that hath a sowle of resoun? For al be it so that gemmes drawen to hem-self a litel of the laste beautee of the 55 world, through the entente of hir creatour and through the distinctioun of hem-self : vit, for as mochel as they ben put under youre excellence, they ne han nat deserved by no wey that ye sholden mervailen on 60 hem. And the beautee of feldes, delyteth it nat mochel un-to vow?'

Boeca. 'Why sholds it not delyten us, sin that it is a right fair porcioun of the right faire worke, that is to seym, of this 65 world? And right so ben we gladed somtyme of the face of the see whan it is cleer; and also mervailen we on the hevene and on the sterres, and on the sonne and on the mone.' 72

Philosophye, 'Aperteneth,' quod she, 'any of thilke thinges to thee? Why darst thou glorifyen thee in the shyninge of any swiche thinges? Art thou distingwed and embelised by the springinge 75 floures of the first somer sesoun, or swelleth thy plentee in the fruites of somer? Why art thou ravisshed with ydel joyes? Why embracest thou straunge goodes as they weren thyne? Fortune ne 80 shal never maken that swiche thinges ben thyne, that nature of thinges hath maked foreine fro thee. Sooth is that, with-outen doute, the frutes of the erthe owen to ben to the norissinge of bestes. 85 And yif thou wolt fulfille thy nede after that it suffyseth to nature, than is it no nede that thou seke after the superfluitee of fortune. - to shyne with dyverse clothinge? Of whiche clothinge yif the beautee be agreeable to loken up-on, I woll mervailen too on the nature of the matere of thilke
- clothes, or elles on the werkman that wroughte hem. But also a long route of meynee, maketh that a blisful man? The whiche servants, yif they ben vicious of
- 105 condiciouns, it is a great charge and a distruccioun to the hous, and a greet enemy to the lord him-self. And yif they ben goode men, how shal straunge or foreine goodnesse ben put in the normbre
- 110 of thy richesse? So that, by all these forseide thinges, it is clearly y-shewed, that never oon of thilke thinges that thou acountedest for thyne goodes nas nat thy good. In the whiche thinges,
- 115 yif ther be no beautee to ben desyred, why sholdest thou ben sory yif thou less hem, or why sholdest thou rejoysen thee to holden hem? For yif they ben faire of hir owne kinde, what aperteneth that
- 120 to thee? For al so wel sholden they han ben faire by hem-selve, though they weren departed fram alle thyne richesses. Forwhy faire ne precious ne weren they nat, for that they comen among thy richesses;
- 125 but, for they semeden faire and precious, ther-for thou haddest lever rekne hem amonges thy richesses. But what desirest thou of Fortune with so grete a noise, and with so grete a fare? I trowe
- 130 thou seke to dryve awey nede with habundance of thinges; but certes, it torneth to you al in the contrarie. Forwhy certes, it nodeth of ful manye helpinges to kepen the diversitee of
- 135 precious ostelments. And sooth it is, that of manye thinges han they nede that manye thinges han; and ayeinward, of litel nedeth hem that mesuren hir fille after the nede of kinde, and nat after
- 140 the outrage of coveityse. Is it thanne so, that ye men ne han no proper good y-set in you, for which ye moten seken outward youre goodes in foreine and subgit thinges? So is thanne the condicioun of thinges torned up-so-down, 14. that a man, that is a devyne beest by merite of his resoun, thinketh that himself nis neither faire ne noble, but-yif it be thorugh possessioun of ostelments that ne han no sowles. And certes, al 150 other thinges ben apaved of hir owne beautee; but ye men, that ben semblable to god by your resonable thought, desiren to aparailen your excellent kinde of the lowest thinges ; ne ye understonden nat 15. how greet a wrong ve don to your creatour. For he wolde that mankinde were most worthy and noble of any othre erthely thinges; and ve threste adoun your dignitees benethe the lowest thinges. 16 For yif that al the good of every thinge be more precious than is thilke thing whos that the good is : sin ye demen that the fouleste thinges ben youre goodes, thanne submitten ye and putten 16 your-selven under the fouleste thinges by your estimacioun; and certes, this tydeth nat with-oute youre desertes. For certes, swiche is the condicioun of alle mankinde, that only whan it hath know- 170 inge of it-selve, than passeth it in noblesse alle other thinges; and whan it forleteth the knowinge of it-self, than is it brought binethen alle beestes. Forwhy al other livinge beestes han of kinde 175 to knowe nat hem-self; but whan that men leten the knowinge of hemself, it cometh hem of vice. But how brode sheweth the errour and the folye of yow men, that wenen that any thing may 18 ben aparailed with straunge aparailements! But for sothe that may nat ben doon. For yif a wight shyneth with thinges that ben put to him, as thus, if thilke thinges shynen with which a man is 18; aparailed, certes, thilke thinges ben comended and preysed with which he is aparailed ; but natheles, the thing that is covered and wrapped under that dwelleth in his filthe. And I denye 190 that thilke thing be good that anoyeth him that hath it. Gabbe I of this?

Thou wolt seye "nay." Certes, richesses han anoyed ful ofte hem that han tho 95 richesses; sin that every wikked shrewe, (and for his wikkednesse the more gredy after other folkes richesses, wher-so ever it be in any place, be it gold or precious stones), weneth him only most worthy too that hath hem. Thou thanne, that so bisy dredest now the swerd and now the spere, yif thou haddest entred in the path of this lyf a voide wayferinge man, than woldest thou singe beforn the theef; no as who seith, a pore man, that berth no richesse on him by the weye, may boldely singe biforn theves, for he hath nat wherof to ben robbed. O precious and right cleer is the blisfulnesse of mortal richesses, 215 that, whan thou hast geten it, than hast thou lorn thy sikernesse !

METRE V. Felix nimium prior etas.

Blisful was the first age of men ! They helden hem apayed with the metes that the trewe feldes broughten forth. They ne distroyede nor deceivede nat hem-self 5 with outrage. They weren wont lightly to slaken hir hunger at even with acornes of okes. They ne coude nat medly the yifte of Bachus to the cleer hony; that is to seyn, they coude make no piment nor to clarree; ne they coude nat medle the brighte fleeses of the contree of Seriens with the venim of Tyrie ; this is to seyn. they coude nat deven whyte fleeses of Serien contree with the blode of a maner shelfisshe 15 that men finden in Tyrie, with whiche blood men deyen purpur. They slepen hoolsom slepes up-on the gras, and dronken of the renninge wateres; and layen under the shadwes of the heye pyn-trees. Ne no

- so gest ne straungere ne carf yit the heye see with ores or with shippes; ne they ne hadde seyn yit none newe strondes, to leden marchandyse in-to dyverse contrees. Tho weren the cruel clariouns
- 25 ful hust and ful stille, ne blood y-shad by egre hate ne hadde nat deyed yit armures. For wher-to or which woodnesse of enemys wolde first moeven armes, whan they seven cruel woundes, ne none medes be of blood y-shad? I wolde go that oure tymes sholde torne ayein to the olde maneres! But the anguissous love of havinge brenneth in folk more cruely than the fyr of the mountaigne Ethna, that ay brenneth. Allas! what 35 was he that first dalf up the gobetos or the weightes of gold covered under erthe, and the precious stones that wolden han ben hid? He dalf up precious perils. That is to seyn, that he that hem first up 40 dalf, he dalf up a precious peril; for why for the preciousnesse of swiche thinge, hath many man ben in peril.

PROSE VI. Quid autem de dignitatibus.

But what shal I seye of dignitees and of powers, the whiche ye men, that neither knowen verray dignitee ne verray power, areysen hem as heye as the hevene? The whiche dignitees and 5 powers, yif they comen to any wikked man, they don as grete damages and destrucciouns as doth the flaumbe of the mountaigne Ethna, whan the flaumbe walweth up; ne no deluge ne doth so to cruel harmes. Certes, thee remembreth wel, as I trowe, that thilke dignitee that men clepen the imperie of consulers, the whiche that whylom was biginninge of fredom, youre eldres coveiteden to han 15 don away that dignitee, for the pryde of the consulers. And right for the same pryde your eldres, biforn that tyme, hadden don awey, out of the citee of Rome, the kinges name; that is to seyn, 20 they nolde han no lenger no king. But now, yif so be that dignitees and powers be yeven to goode men, the whiche thing is ful selde, what agreable thing is ther in the dignitees or powers but only the 25 goodnesse of folkes that usen hem? And therfor it is thus, that honour ne comth nat to vertu for cause of dignitee, but ayeinward honour comth to dignitee for cause of vertu. But whiche is thilke 30, youre dereworthe power, that is so cleer and so requerable? O ye ertheliche bestes, considere ye nat over which thinge that it semeth that ye han power?

- 35 Now yif thou saye a mous amonges other mys, that chalaunged to him-self-ward right and power over alle other mys, how greet scorn woldest thou han of it! Gloss. So fareth it by men; the body hath
- 40 power over the body. For yif thou loke wel up-on the body of a wight, what thing shalt thou finde more freele than is mankinde; the whiche men wel ofte ben slayn with bytinge of smale flyes, or elles
- 45 with the entringe of crepinge wormes in-to the privetees of mannes body? But wher shal man finden any man that may exercen or haunten any right up-on another man, but only up-on his body,
- 50 or elles up-on thinges that ben lowere than the body, the whiche I clepe fortunous possessiouns? Mayst thou ever have any comaundement over a free corage? Mayst thou remuen fro the estat content of the set of the
- 55 of his propre reste a thought that is clyvinge to-gidere in him-self by stedefast resoun? As whylom a tyraunt wende to confounde a free man of corage, and wende to constreyne him by torment,
- 60 to maken him discoveren and acusen folk that wisten of a coniuracioun, which I clepe a confederacie, that was cast ayeins this tyraunt; but this free man boot of his owne tonge and casts it in the visage
- 65 of thilke wode tyraunt; so that the torments that this tyraunt wende to han maked matere of crueltee, this wyse man maked it matere of verta.

But what thing is it that a man may

- 70 don to another man, that he ne may receyven the same thing of othre folk in him-self: or thus, what may a man don to folk, that folk ne may don him the same? I have herd told of Busirides, that was
- 75 wont to sleen his gestes that herberweden in his hous; and he was sleyn him-self of Ercules that was his gest. Regulus hadde taken in bataile many men of Affrike and cast hem in-to feteres; but
- So some after he moste yeve his handes to ben bounde with the cheynes of hem that he hadde whylom overcomen. Wenest thou thanne that he be mighty, that hath no power to don a thing, that othre

85 ne may don in him that he doth in othre?

And yit more-over, yif it so were that thise dignitees or poweres hadden any propre or natural goodnesse in hem-self, never nolden they comen to shrewes, For contrarious thinges ne ben nat wont oo to ben y-felawshiped to-gidere. Nature refuseth that contrarious thinges ben v-joigned. And so, as I am in certein that right wikked folk han dignitees ofte tyme, than sheweth it wel that dignitees 95 and powers ne ben nat goode of hir owne kinde; sin that they suffren hem-self to cleven or joinen hem to shrewes. And certes, the same thing may I most digneliche jugen and seyn of alle the ro yiftes of fortune that most plentevously comen to shrewes; of the whiche yiftes, I trowe that it oughte ben considered, that no man douteth that he nis strong in whom he seeth strengthe; and in 10 whom that swiftnesse is, sooth it is that he is swift. Also musike maketh musiciens, and phisike maketh phisiciens, and rethorike rethoriens. For-why the nature of every thing maketh his pro- 110 pretee, ne it is nat entremedled with the effects of the contrarious thinges; and, as of wil, it chaseth out thinges that ben to it contrarie, But certes, richesse may not restreyne avarice unstaunched; ne II power ne maketh nat a man mighty over him-self, whiche that vicious lustes holden destreyned with cheynes that ne mowen nat be unbounden. And dignitees that ben yeven to shrewede folk nat 120 only ne maketh hem nat digne, but it sheweth rather al openly that they ben unworthy and undigne. And why is it thus? Certes, for ye han joye to clepen thinges with false names that beren hem 12 alle in the contrarie; the whiche names ben ful ofte reproeved by the effecte of the same thinges; so that thise ilke. richesses ne oughten nat by right to ben cleped richesses; ne swich power ne 130 oughte nat ben cleped power ; ne swich dignitee ne oughte nat ben cleped dignitee. And at the laste, I may conclude the same thing of alle the yiftes of Fortune, in which ther nis nothing 131 to ben desired, ne that hath in him-self naturel bountee, as it is ful wel y-sene. For neither they ne joignen hem nat alwey to goode men, ne maken hem o alwey goode to whom that they ben y-joigned.

METRE VI. Nouimus quantas dederit ruinas.

We han wel knowen how many grete harmes and destrucciouns weren don by the emperor Nero. He leet brenne the citee of Rome, and made sleen the 5 senatoures. And he. cruel, whylom slew his brother; and he was maked moist with the blood of his moder; that is to seyn, he leet sleen and slitten the body of his moder, to seen wher he was conceived; to and he loked on every halve up-on her colde dede body, ne no tere ne wette his face, but he was so hard-herted that he mighte ben domes-man or juge of hir dede beautee. And natheles, yit govern-15 ede this Nero by ceptre alle the poeples that Phebus the sonne may seen, cominge from his outereste arvsinge til he hyde his bemes under the wawes; that is to seyn, he governed alle the poeples by to ceptre imperial that the sonne goth aboute. from est to west. And eek this Nero governed by ceptre alle the poeples that ben under the colde sterres that highten " septem triones "; this is to seyn, he gover-25 nede alle the poeples that ben under the party of the north. And eek Nero governed alle the poeples that the violent wind Nothus scorkleth, and baketh the brenning sandes by his drye hete; that is to 30 seyn, alle the poeples in the south. But vit ne mighte nat al his hve power torne the woodnesse of this wikked Nero. Allas ! it is a grevous fortune, as ofte as wikked swerd is joigned to cruel venim : that is 35 to seyn, venimous crueltee to lordshippe.'

PROSE VII. Tum ego, scis, inquam.

Thanne seyde I thus: 'Thou wost wel thyself that the coveitise of mortal thinges ne hadde never lordshipe of me; but I have wel desired matere of thinges 5 to done, as who seith, I desire to han matere of governaunce over comunalities, for verta, stille, ne sholde nat elden;' that is to seyn, that [him] leste that, or he vez olde, his vertu, that lay now ful stille, ne should nat perisshe unexercised in govern- to aunce of comune; for which men mighten speken or wryten of his goode governement.

Philosophye. 'For sothe,' quod she, 'and that is a thing that may drawen 15 to governaunce swiche hertes as ben worthy and noble of hir nature; but natheles, it may nat drawen or tollen swiche hertes as ben y-brought to the fulle perfeccioun of vertu, that is to seyn, 20 coveitise of glorie and renoun to han wel administred the comune thinges or don gode desertes to profit of the comune. For see now and considere, how litel and how voide of alle prys is thilke glorie. 25 Certein thing is, as thou hast lerned by the demonstracioun of astronomye, that al the environinge of the erthe aboute ne halt nat but the resoun of a prikke at regard of the greetnesse of hevene; 30 that is to seyn, that yif ther were maked comparisoun of the erthe to the greetnesse of hevene, men wolden jugen in al, that the erthe ne helde no space. Of the whiche litel regionn of this worlde, the 35 ferthe partye is enhabited with livinge bestes that we knowen, as thou thyself hast y-lerned by Tholomee that proveth it. And yif thou haddest with-drawen and abated in thy thought fro thilke 40 ferthe partye as moche space as the see and the mareys contenen and over-goon, and as moche space as the regioun of droughte over-streccheth, that is to seyn, sandes and desertes, wel unnethe sholde 45 ther dwellen a right streit place to the habitacioun of men. And ye thanne, that ben environed and closed with-in the leste prikke of thilke prikke, thinken ye to manifesten your renoun and don 50 youre name to ben born forth? But your glorie, that is so narwe and so streite y-throngen in-to so litel boundes, how mochel coveiteth it in largesse and in greet doinge? And also sette this 55 there-to: that many a nacioun, dvverse of tonge and of maneres and eek of resoun of hir livinge, ben enhabited in the clos of thilke litel habitacle; to the 60 whiche naciouns, what for difficultee of weyes and what for dyversitee of lan-

- gages, and what for defaute of unusage and entrecomuninge of marchaundise, nat only the names of singuler men ne <sup>6</sup>5 may nat streechen, but eek the fame of
- citees ne may nat streechen. At the laste, certes, in the tyme of Marcus Tullius, as him-self writ in his book, that the renoun of the comune of Rome ne
- 70 hadde nat yit passed ne cloumben over the mountaigne that highte Cancasus; and yit was, thilke tyme, Rome wel waxen and greetly redouted of the Parthes and eek of other folk enhabitinge aboute.
- 75 Seestow nat thanne how streit and how compressed is thilke glorie that ye travailen aboute to shewe and to multiplye? May thanne the glorie of a singuler Romaine streechen thider as the fame
- So of the name of Rome may nat climben ne passen? And eek, seestow nat that the maneres of dyverse folk and eek hir lawes ben discordaunt among hem-self; so that thilke thing that som men jueen
- 85 worthy of preysinge, other folk jugen that it is worthy of torment? And therof comth it that, though a man delyte him in preysinge of his renoun, he may nat in no wyse bringen forth ne spreden
- 90 his name to many maner poeples. Therefor every man oughte to ben apayed of his glorie that is publisshed among his owne neighbours; and thilke noble renoum shal ben restreyned within the
- 95 boundes of o manere folke. But how many a man, that was ful noble in his tyme, hath the wrecched and nedy foryetinge of wryteres put out of minde and don awey! Al be it so that, certes,
- 100 thilke wrytinges profiten litel; the whiche wrytinges long and derk elde doth awey, bothe hem and eek hir autours. But ye men semen to geten yow a perdurabletee, whan ye thenken that, in tyme too
- not cominge, your fame shal lasten. But natheles, yif thou wolt maken comparisoun to the endeles spaces of eternitee, what thing hast thou by whiche thou mayst rejoysen thee of long lastinge of thy name? For yif ther were maked 11 comparisoun of the abydinge of a moment to ten thousand winter, for as mochel as bothe the spaces ben ended, yit hath the moment som porcioun of it, al-though it litel be. But natheles, thilke selve noum- 11 bre of yeres, and eek as many yeres as ther-to may be multiplyed, ne may nat, certes, ben comparisoned to the perdurabletee that is endeles; for of thinges that han ende may be maked comparisoun, 12 but of thinges that ben with-outen ende, to thinges that han ende, may be maked no comparisoun. And forthy is it that, al-though renoun, of as long tyme as ever thee list to thinken, were thought to the 1: regard of eternitee, that is unstaunchable and infinit, it ne sholde nat only semen litel, but pleynliche right naught. But ye men, certes, ne conne don nothing a-right, but-yif it be for the audience 13 of poeple and for ydel rumours; and ye forsaken the grete worthinesse of conscience and of vertu, and ye seken your guerdouns of the smale wordes of Have now heer and 1 straunge folk. understonde, in the lightnesse of swich pryde and veine glorie, how a man scornede festivaly and merily swich vanitee. Whylom ther was a man that hadde assayed with stryvinge wordes 14 another man, the whiche, nat for usage of verray vertu but for proud veine glorie, had taken up-on him falsly the name of a philosophre. This rather man that I spak of thoughte he wolde assaye, L wher he, thilke, were a philosophre or no; that is to seyn, yif that he wolde han suffred lightly in pacience the wronges that weren don un-to him. This feynede philosophre took pacience a litel 1 whyle, and, whan he hadde received wordes of outrage, he, as in stryvinge ayein and rejoysinge of him-self, seyde at the laste right thus: "understondest thou nat that I am a philosophre?" That 15 other man answerde agein ful bytingly, and seyde : "I hadde wel understonden it, yif thou haddest holden thy tonge stille." But what is it to thise noble o worthy men (for, certes, of swiche folke speke I) that seken glorie with vertu? What is it?' quod she; 'what atteyneth fame to swiche folk, whan the body is resolved by the deeth at the laste? For 5 yif it so be that men dyen in al, that is to seyn, body and sowle, the whiche thing our resoun defendeth us to bileven. thanne is ther no glorie in no wyse. For what sholde thilke glorie ben, whan he, o of whom thilke glorie is seyd to be, nis right naught in no wyse? And yif the sowle, whiche that hath in it-self science of goode werkes, unbounden fro the prison of the erthe, wendeth frely to the 75 hevene, despyseth it nat thanne alle erthely occupacioun; and, being in hevene, rejoyseth that it is exempt fro alle erthely thinges? As who seith, thanne rekketh the soule of no glorie of renoun that, Who-so with overthrowinge thought, only seketh glorie of fame, and weneth that it be sovereyn good : lat him loken up-on the brode shewinge 5 contrees of hevene, and up-on the streite site of this erthe; and he shal ben ashamed of the encrees of his name, that may nat fulfille the litel compas of the erthe. O! what coveiten proude folk to 10 liften up hir nekkes in ydel in the dedly yok of this worlde? For al-though that renoun y-sprad, passinge to ferne poeples, goth by dyverse tonges; and al-though that grete houses or kinredes shynen 15 with clere titles of honours; yit, natheles, deeth despyseth alle heye glorie of fame : and deeth wrappeth to-gidere the heve hevedes and the lowe, and maketh egal and evene the heyeste to the loweste. 20 Wher wonen now the bones of trewe

Fabricius? What is now Brutus, or stierne Catoun? The thinne fame, yit lastinge, of hir ydel names, is marked with a fewe lettres; but al-though that 25 we han knowen the faire wordes of the fames of hem, it is nat yeven to knowe hem that ben dede and consumpte. Liggeth thanne stille, al outrely unknowable; ne fame ne maketh yow nat knowe. And yif ye wene to liven the longer for 30 winde of your mortal name, whan o oruel day shal ravisshe yow, thanne is the seconde deeth dwellinge un-to yow.' Glose. The first deeth he clepeth heer the departinge of the body and the soule; and 35 the seconde deeth he clepeth, as heer, the stintinge of the renour of fame.

PROSE VIII. Set ne me inexorabile contra fortunam.

'But for as mochel as thou shalt nat wenen,' quod she, 'that I bere untretable bataile ayeins fortune, yit som-tyme it bifalleth that she, deceyvable, deserveth to han right good thank of men; and 5 that is, whan she hir-self opneth, and whan she descovereth hir frount, and sheweth hir maneres. Peraventure yit understondest thou nat that I shal seve. It is a wonder that I desire to telle, and 10 forthy unnethe may I unpleyten my sentence with wordes; for I deme that contrarious Fortune profiteth more to men than Fortune debonaire. For alwey, whan Fortune semeth debonaire, 15 than she lyeth falsly in bihetinge the hope of welefulnesse; but forsothe contrarious Fortune is alwey soothfast, whan she sheweth hir-self unstable thorugh hir chaunginge. The amiable Fortune 20 decevveth folk : the contrarie Fortune techeth. The amiable. Fortune bindeth with the beautee of false goodes the hertes of folk that usen hem; the contrarie Fortune unbindeth hem by the 25 knowinge of freele welefulnesse. The amiable Fortune mayst thou seen alwey + windy and flowinge, and ever misknowinge of hir-self; the contrarie Fortune is a tempre and restreyned, and wys 30 thorugh exercise of hir adversitee. fast goodes, and haleth hem ayein as with an hocke. Wenest thou thanne that thou oughtest to leten this a litel thing, that this aspre and horrible 4<sup>10</sup> Fortune hath discovered to thee the thoughtes of thy trewe freendes? Forwhy this ilke Fortune hath departed and uncovered to thee bothe the certein

- visages and eek the doutous visages of 45 thy felawes. Whan she departed awey fro thee, she took awey hir freendes, and lafte thee thyne freendes. Now whan thou were riche and weleful, as thee semede, with how mochel woldest thou

METRE VIII, Quod mundus stabili fide.

That the world with stable feith varieth acordable chaunginges; that the contrarious qualitee of elements holden among hem-self aliaunce perdurable; that Phebus the sonne with his goldene chariet 5 bringeth forth the rosene day; that the mone hath commaundement over the nightes, which nightes Hesperus the evesterre hath brought ; that the see, greedy to flowen, constreyneth with a certein ic ende hise flodes, so that it is nat leveful to strecche hise brode termes or boundes up-on the erthes, that is to seyn, to covere al the erthe :-- al this acordaunce of thinges is bounden with Love, that I governeth erthe and see, and hath also commaundements to the hevenes. And yif this Love slakede the brydeles, alle thinges that now loven hem to-gederes wolden maken a bataile continuely, and 20 stryven to fordoon the fasoun of this worlde, the whiche they now leden in acordable feith by faire moevinges. This Love halt to-gideres poeples joigned with an holy bond, and knitteth sacrement 2; of mariages of chaste loves; and Love endyteth lawes to trewe felawes. O! weleful were mankinde, yif thilke Love that governeth hevene governed youre corages !'

BOOK III.

PROSE I. Iam cantum illa finierat.

Br this she hadde ended hir song, whan the sweetnesse of hir ditee hadde thorugh-perced me that was desirous of herkninge, and I astoned hadde yit 5 streighte myn eres, that is to seyn, to herkne the bet what she wolde seye; so that a litel here-after I seyde thus : 'O thou that art sovereyn comfort of anguissons corages, so thou hast remounted to and norisshed me with the weighte of thy sentences and with delyt of thy singinge; so that I trowe nat now that I be unparigul to the strokes of Fortune : as who seyth, I dar wel now suffren al the is assuites of Fortune, and wel defende me fro hir. And the remedies whiche that thou seydest her-biforn weren right sharpe, nat only that I am nat a-grisen of hem now, but I, desirous of heringe, axe gretely to heren the remedies.' Than 20 seyde she thus : 'That felede I ful wel,' quod she, 'whan that thou, ententif and stille, ravisshedest my wordes; and I abood til that thou haddest swich habite of thy thought as thou hast now; or elles 25 til that I my-self hadde maked to thee the same habit, which that is a more verray thing. And certes, the remenaunt of thinges that ben yit to seve ben swiche, that first whan men tasten hem they ben 30 bytinge, but whan they ben receyved withinne a wight, than ben they swete.

Boethius. Book III: Prose II.

But for thou seyst that thou art so desirons to harkne hem, with how gret 35 brenninge woldest thou glowen, yif thou wistest whider I wol leden thee!' 'Whider is that?' quod I.

'To thilke verray welefulnesse,' quod she, 'of whiche thyn herte dremeth; 40 but for as moche as thy sighte is ocupied and distorbed by imaginacioun of ertholy thinges, thou mayst nat yit seen thilke selve welefulnesse.' 'Do,' quod I, 'and shewe me what is thilke verray weleful-45 nesse, I preye thee, with-oute taryinge.'

'That wole I gladly don,' quod she, 'for the cause of thee; but I wol first marken thee by wordes and I wol enforcen me to enformen thee thilke false 50 cause of blisfulnesse that thou more knowest; so that, whan thou hast fully biholden thilke false goods, and torned thyn eyen to that other syde, thou mowe knowe the cleernesse of verray blisful-55 nesse.

METRE I. Qui serere ingenuum uolet agrum.

Hony is the more swete, yif mouthes han first tasted savoures that ben wikkid. The sterres shynen more agreably whan the wind Nothus leteth his ploungy blastes; to and after that Lucifer the day-sterre

PROSE II. Tunc defixo paullulum uisu.

The fastnede she a litel the sighte of hir eyen, and with-drow hir right as it were in-to the streite sete of hir thought; and bigan to speke right thus : 'Alle the cures,' quod she, ' of mortal folk, whiche 5 that travaylen hem in many maner studies, goon certes by diverse weyes, but natheles they enforcen hem alle to comen only to oon ende of blisfulnesse. And blisfulnesse is swiche a good, that 10 who-so that hath geten it, he ne may, over that, no-thing more desvre. And this thing is forsothe the soverevn good that contevneth in him-self alle maner goodes; to the whiche good yif ther 15 failede any thing, it mighte nat ben cleped sovereyn good : for thanne were ther som good, out of this ilke sovereyn good, that mighte ben desired. Now is it cleer and certein thanne, that blisful- 20 nesse is a parfit estat by the congregacioun of alle goodes; the whiche blisfulnesse, as I have seyd, alle mortal folk enforcen hem to geten by diverse weyes. For-why the coveitise of verray 25 good is naturelly y-plaunted in the hertes of men; but the miswandringe errour mis-ledeth hem in-to false goodes. Of the whiche men, som of hem wenen that sovereyn good be to liven with-oute nede 30 of any thing, and travaylen hem to be haboundaunt of richesses. And som other men demen that soverevn good be, for to ben right digne of reverence; and enforcen hem to ben reverenced 35 among hir neighbours by the honours that they han y-geten. And som folk ther ben that holden, that right heigh power be sovereyn good, and enforcen hem for to regnen, or elles to joignen 40 hem to hem that regnen. And it semeth to some other folk, that noblesse of renoun be the sovereyn good ; and hasten hem to geten glorious name by the arts of werre and of pees. And many folk 45 mesuren and gessen that soverevn good be joye and gladnesse, and wenen that it be right blisful thing to ploungen hem in voluptuous delvt. And ther ben folk that entrechaungen the causes and the 50 endes of thise forseyde goodes, as they that desiren richesses to han power and delytes; or elles they desiren power for to han moneye, or for cause of renoun.

- 55 In thise thinges, and in swiche othre thinges, is torned alle the entencioun of desiringes and of werkes of men; as thus: noblesse and favour of people, whiche that yeveth to men, as it semeth
- 60 hem, a maner cleernesse of renoun; and wyf and children, that men desiren for cause of delyt and of merinesse. But forsothe, frendes ne sholden nat be rekned a-mong the godes of fortune, but
- 65 of vertu; for it is a ful holy maner thing. Alle thise othre thinges, forsothe, ben taken for cause of power or elles for cause of delyt. Certes, now am I redy to referren the goodes of the body to thise
- 70 forseide thinges aboven; for it semeth that strengthe and gretnesse of body yeven power and worthinesse, and that beautee and swiftnesse yeven noblesses and glorie of renoun; and hele of body
- 75 semeth yeven delyt. In alle thise thinges it semeth only that blisfulnesse is desired. For-why thill& thing that every man desireth most over alle thinges, he demeth that it be the sovereyn good;
- 80 but I have defyned that blisfulnesse is the sovercyn good; for which every wight demeth, that thilke estat that he desireth over alle thinges, that it be blisfulnesse. Nov hast thou thanne biforn thyn eyen
- 85 almost al the purposed forme of the welefulnesse of man-kinde, that is to seyn, richesses, honours, power, and glorie, and delyts. The whiche delyt only considerede Epicurus, and juged and establisshed that
- 90 delyt is the sovereyn good ; for as moche as alle othre thinges, as him thoughte, bi-refte awey joye and mirthe fram the herte. But I retorne ayein to the studies of men, of whiche men the corage alwey
- 95 reherseth and seketh the sovereyn good, al be it so that it be with a derked memorie; but he not by whiche path, right as a dronken man not nat by whiche path he may retorne him to his
- (co hous. Semeth it thanne that folk folyen and erren that enforcen hem to have nede of nothing? Certes, ther nis non other thing that may so wel performe blisfulnesse, as an estat plentivous of alle

105 goodes, that ne hath nede of non other thing, but that is suffisaunt of himself unto him-self. And folyen swiche folk thanne, that wenen that thilke thing that is right good, that it be eek right worthy of honour and of reverence? I Certes, nay. For that thing nis neither foul ne worthy to ben despised, that wel neigh al the entencioun of mortal folk travaylen for to geten it. And power, oughte nat that eek to ben rekened I amonges goodes? What elles? For it is nat to wene that thilke thing, that is most worthy of alle thinges, be feble and with-oute strengthe. And cleernesse of renoun, oughte that to ben despised ? I Certes, ther may no man forsake, that al thing that is right excellent and noble, that it ne semeth to ben right cleer and renomed. For certes, it nedeth nat to seve, that blisfulnesse be [nat] anguissous 1: ne drery, ne subgit to grevaunces ne to sorwes, sin that in right litel thinges folk seken to have and to usen that may delyten hem. Certes, thise ben the thinges that men wolen and desiren to I geten. And for this cause desiren they richesses, dignitees, regnes, glorie, and delices. For therby wenen they to han suffisaunce, honour, power, renoun, and gladnesse. Than is it good, that men I seken thus by so many diverse studies. In whiche desyr it may lightly ben shewed how gret is the strengthe of nature ; for how so that men han diverse sentences and discordinge, algates men 1. acorden alle in lovinge the ende of good.

METRE II. Quantas rerum flectat habenas.

It lyketh me to shewe, by subtil song, with slakke and delitable soun of strenges, how that Nature, mighty, enclineth and flitteth the governements of thinges, and by whiche lawes she, purveyable, kepeth 5 the grete world ; and how she, bindinge, restreyneth alle thinges by a bonde that may nat ben unbounde. Al be it so that the lyouns of the contre of Pene beren the faire chaynes, and taken metes of 10 the handes of folk that yeven it hem, and dreden hir sturdy maystres of whiche they ben wont to suffren betinges : vif that hir horrible mouthes ben be-bled. 15 that is to seyn, of bestes devoured, hir corage of time passed, that hath ben ydel and rested, repeyreth ayein; and they roren grevously and remembren on hir nature, and slaken hir nekkes fram hir 20 chaynes unbounde ; and hir mayster, first to-torn with blody tooth, assayeth the wode wrathes of hem; this is to sevn. they freten hir mayster. And the jangelinge brid that singeth on the heve 25 braunches, that is to seyn, in the wode, and after is enclosed in a strevt cage : al-though that the pleyinge bisinesse of men yeveth hem honiede drinkes and large metes with swete studie, yit nathe-30 les, vif thilke brid, skippinge out of hir strevte cage, seeth the agreables shadewes

- of the wodes, she defouleth with hir feet hir metes y-shad, and seketh mourninge only the wode; and twitereth, desiringe 35 the wode, with hir swete vois. The yerde
- of a tree, that is haled a-doon by mighty strengthe, boweth redily the crop a-doon : but yif that the hand of him that it bente lat it gon ayein, anon the crop loketh 40 up-right to hevene. The sonne Phebus,
- that falleth at even in the westrene wawes, retorneth ayein eftsones his carte, by privee path, ther-as it is wont aryse. Alle thinges seken ayein to hir propre
- 45 cours, and alle thinges rejoysen hem of hir retorninge ayein to hir nature. Ne non ordinaunce nis bitaken to thinges, but that that hath joyned the endinge to the beginninge, and hath maked the 50 cours of it-self stable, that it chaungeth nat from his propre kinde.

PROSE III. Vos quoque, o terrena animalia.

Certes also ye men, that ben ertheliche beestes, dromen alwey youre beginninge, al-though it be with a thinne imaginacioun; and by a maner thoughte, al be 5 it nat cleerly ne parfitly, ye loken fram a-fer to thilke verray from of bisfulnesse; and ther-fore naturel entencioun ledeth you to thilke verray good, but many maner errours mis-torneth you ther-froc

Consider now yif that by thilke thinges, 10 by whiche a man weneth to geten him blisfulnesse, yif that he may comen to thilke ende that he weneth to come by nature. For yif that moneye or honours, or thise other forseyde thinges bringen 15 to men swich a thing that no good ne fayle hem ne semeth fayle, cortes than wole I graunte that they ben maked blisful by thilke thinges that they han geten. But vif so be that thilke thinges 20 ne mowen nat performen that they biheten, and that ther be defaute of manye goodes, sheweth it nat thanne cleerly that fals beautee of blisfulnesse is knowen and ateint in thilke thinges? First and 25 forward thou thy-self, that haddest habundaunces of richesses nat long agon, I axe yif that, in the habundaunce of alle thilke richesses, thou were never anguissous or sory in thy corage of any 30 wrong or grevaunce that bi-tidde thee on any syde?' 'Certes,' quod I, 'it ne remembreth me nat that evere I was so free of my thought that I ne was alwey in anguissh of som-what.'

'And was nat that,' quod she, ' for that thee lakked somewhat that thou noldest nat han lakked, or elles thou haddest that thou noldest nat han had?' ' Right so is it,' quod I, 40

'Thanne desiredest thou the presence of that oon and the absence of that other?' 'I graunte wel,' quod I.

'Forsothe,' quod she, 'than nedeth ther som-what that every man desireth ?' 45 'Ye, ther nedeth,' quod I.

'Certes,' quod she, 'and he that hath lakke or nede of aught nis nat in every wey suffisant to himself?' 'No,' quod I. 50

'And thou,' quod she, 'in al the plentee of thy richesses haddest thilke lakke of suffisaunse?' 'What elles?' quod I.

'Thanne may nat richesses maken that a man nis nedy, ne that he be suffisaunt 55 to him-self; and that was it that they bi-highten, as it semeth. And eek certes I trowe, that this be gredly to considere, that moneye ne hath nat in his owne kinde that it ne may ben bi-nomen of 60 hem that han it, maugre hem ?' 'I biknowe it wel,' quod I.

'Why sholdest thou nat bi-knowen it,' quod she, 'whan every day the strenger

65 folk bi-nemen it fro the febler, mangre hem? For whennes comen elles alle thise foreyne compleyntes or quereles of pletinges, but for that men axen ayein here moneye that hath ben bi-nomen hem by 70 force or by gyle, and alwey maugre hem?' 'Right so is it,' quod I.

'Than,' quod she, 'hath a man nede to seken him foreyne helpe by whiche he may defende his moneye?' 'Who may 75 sey nay?' quod I.

'Certes,' quod she; 'and him nedede non help, yif he ne hadde no moneye that he mighte lese?' 'That is douteles,' quod I.

- So 'Than is this thinge torned in-to the contrarye,' quod she. 'For richesses, that men wenen sholde make suffisaunce, they maken a man rather han nede of foreyne help ! Which is the manere or
- <sup>85</sup> the gyse,' quod she, ' that richesse may dryve awey nede? Riche folk, may they neither han hunger ne thurst? Thise riche men, may they fele no cold on hir limes on winter? But thou wolt answeren,
- 90 that riche men han y-now wher-with they may staunchen hir hunger, slaken hir thurst, and don a-wey cold. In this wyse may nede be counforted by richesses; but certes, nede ne may nat al outrely
- 95 ben don a-wey. For though this nede, that is alwey gapinge and gredy, be fulfild with richesses, and axe any thing, yit dwelleth thanne a nede that mighte be fulfild. I holde me stille, and telle
- 100 nat how that litel thing suffiseth to nature; but certes to avarice y-nough ne suffiseth no-thing. For sin that richesses ne may nat al don awey nede, but richesses maken nedo, what may it thanne
- 105 be, that ye wenen that richesses mowen yeven you suffisaunce?

METRE III. Quamvis fluente diues auri gurgite.

Al were it so that a riche coveytous man hadde a river fletinge al of gold, yit sholde it never stannchen his coveitise; and though he hadde his nekke ycharged with precious stones of the rede 5 see, and though he do ere his feldes plentivous with an hundred oxen, never ne shal his bytinge bisinesse for-leten him whyl he liveth, ne the lighte richesses ne sholle nat beren him companye whan he 16 is deed.

PROSE IV. Set dignitates.

But dignitees, to whom they ben comen. maken they him honorable and reverent? Han they nat so gret strengthe, that they may putte vertues in the hertes of folk that usen the lordshipes of hem? Or 5 elles may they don a-wey the vyces? Certes, they ne be nat wont to don awey wikkednesse, but they ben wont rather to shewen wikkednesse. And ther-of comth it that I have right grete desdeyn, I that dignitees ben yeven ofte to wikked men; for which thing Catullus cleped a consul of Rome, that highte Nonius, "postum" or "boch"; as who seyth, he cleped him a congregacioun of vyces in his brest, as a postum is ful of corupcioun, al were this Nonius set in a chayre of dignitee. Seest thou nat thanne how gret vilenye dignitees don to wikked men? Certes, unworthinesse of wikked 2 men sholde be the lasse y-sene, yif they nere renomed of none honours. Certes, thou thyself ne mightest nat ben brought with as manye perils as thou mightest suffren that thou woldest beren the 2 magistrat with Decorat ; that is to seyn, that for no peril that mighte befallen thee by offence of the king Theodorike, thou noldest nat be felawe in governaunce with Decorat; whan thou says that he hadde 3 wikked corage of a likerous shrewe and of an accusor. Ne I ne may nat, for swiche honours, jugen hem worthy of reverence, that I deme and holde unworthy to han thilke same honours. Now 3. yif thou saye a man that were fulfild of wisdom, certes, thou ne mightest nat deme that he were unworthy to the honour, or elles to the wisdom of which to he is fulfild ?'-' No,' quod I.-' Certes, dignitees,' quod she, ' apertienen proprely to vertu : and vertu transporteth dignitee anon to thilke man to which she hir-self is conjoigned. And for as moche as 15 honours of poeple ne may nat maken folk digne of honour, it is wel seyn cleerly that they ne han no propre beautee of dignitee. And yit men oughten taken more heed in this. For yif it so be that 50 a wikked wight be so mochel the foulere and the more out-cast, that he is despysed of most folk, so as dignitee ne may nat maken shrewes digne of reverence, the which shrewes dignitee sheweth to moche 55 folk, thanne maketh dignitee shrewes rather so moche more despysed than preysed; and forsothe nat unpunisshed : that is for to seyn, that shrewes revengen hem ageinward up-on dignitees; for they 50 yilden ayein to dignitees as gret guerdoun, whan they bi-spotten and defoulen dignitees with hir vilenye. And for as mochel as thou mowe knowe that thilke verray reverence ne may nat comen by 65 thise shadewy transitorie dignitees, undirstond now thus : yif that a man hadde used and had many maner dignitees of consules, and were comen peraventure amonge straunge naciouns, sholde thilke 70 honour maken him worshipful and redouted of straunge folk? Certes, yif that honour of poeple were a naturel yift to dignitees, it ne mighte never cesen nowher amonges no maner folk to 75 don his office, right as fyr in every contree ne stinteth nat to eschaufen and to ben hoot. But for as moche as for to ben holden honourable or reverent ne cometh nat to folk of hir propre So strengthe of nature, but only of the false opinioun of folk, that is to seyn, that wenen that dignitees maken folk digne of honour ; anon therfore whan that they comen ther-as folk ne knowen nat thilke digni-85 tees, hir honours vanisshen awey, and that anon. But that is amonges straunge folk, mayst thou seyn ; but amonges hem ther they weren born, ne duren nat thilke dignitees alwey? Certes, the dig-oo nitee of the provostrie of Rome was whylom a gret power; now is it nothing but an ydel name, and the rente of the senatorie a gret charge. And vif a wight whylom hadde the office to taken hede to the vitailes of the poeple, as of corn and 95 other thinges, he was holden amonges grete; but what thing is now more outcast thanne thilke provostrie? And, as I have seyd a litel her-biforn, that thilke thing that hath no propre beautee of 100 him-self receiveth som-tyme prys and shyninge, and som-tyme leseth it by the opinioun of usaunces. Now yif that dignitees thanne ne mowen nat maken folk digne of reverence, and vif that dignitees 105 wexen foule of hir wille by the filthe of shrewes, and yif that dignitees lesen hir shyninge by chaunginge of tymes, and yif they wexen foule by estimacioun of poeple : what is it that they han in hem- 110 self of beautee that oughte ben desired? as who seuth, non; thanne ne mowen they yeven no beautee of dignitee to non other.

METRE IV. Quamvis se, Tyrio superbus ostro.

Al be it so that the proude Nero, with alle his wode luxurie, kembde him and aparailede him with faire purpres of Tirie, and with whyte perles, algates yit throf he hateful to alle folk: this is to 5 seyn, that al was he behated of alle folk. Yit this wikked Nero hadde gret lordship, and yaw hylom to the reverents senatours the unworshipful setes of dignitees. Unworshipful setes he clepeth here, for that to Nero, that was so wikked, yof the dignitees. Who-so wolde thanne resonably wenen, that bilisfulnesse were in swiche honours as ben peven by vicious shrewes?

PROSE V. An uero regna regumque familiaritas.

But regnes and familiaritees of kinges, may they maken a man to ben mighty? How elles, whan hir blisfulnesse dureth perpetuely? But certes, the olde age of tyme passed, and eek of present tyme 5 now, is ful of ensamples how that kinges ben chaunged in-to wrecchednesse out of hir welefulnesse. O ! a noble thing and a cleer thing is power, that is nat to founden mighty to kepen it-self! And yif that power of reaumes be auctour and maker of blisfulnesse, yif thilke power lakketh on any syde, amenuseth it nat thilke blisfulnesse and bringeth in 15 wrecchednesse? But yit, al be it so that the reaumes of mankinde strecchen brode, vit mot ther nede ben moche folk, over whiche that every king ne hath no lordshipe ne comaundement. And certes, 20 up-on thilke syde that power faileth,

- which that maketh folk blisful, right on that same syde noun-power entreth under-nethe, that maketh hem wrecches; in this manere thanne moten kinges han 25 more porcioun of wrecchednesse than of
- 25 more porcioun of wrecchednesse than of welefulnesse. A tyraunt, that was king of Sisile, that hadde assayed the peril of his estat, shewede by similitude the dredes of reaumes by gastnesse of a swerd
- 30 that heng over the heved of his familier. What thing is thanne this power, that may nat don awey the bytinges of bisinesse, ne eschewe the prikkes of drede ? And certes, yit wolden they liven in
- 35 sikernesse, but they may nat; and yit they glorifye hem in hir power. Holdest thou thanne that thike man be mighty, that thou seest that he wolde don that he may nat don? And holdest thou
- 40 thanne him a mighty man, that hath envirownede his sydes with men of armes or serjaunts, and dredeth more hem that he maketh agast than they dreden him, and that is put in the handes of his
- 45 servaunts for he sholde seme mighty? But of familieres or servaunts of kinges what sholde I telle thee anything, sin that I myself have shewed thee that reaumes hemself ben ful of gret foblesse?
- 50 The whiche familieres, certes, the ryal power of kinges, in hoel estat and in estat abated, ful ofte throweth adown. Nero constreynede Senek, his familier and his mayster, to chesen on what deeth
- 55 he wolde deyen. Antonius comaundede that knightes slowen with hir swerdes Papinian his familier, which Papinian hadde ben longe tyme ful mighty amonges hem of the court. And vit. certes, they wolden bothe han renounced hir power; of whiche two Senek enforcede him to yeven to Nero his richesses, and also to han gon in-to solitarie exil. But whan the grete weighte, that is to seyn, of lordes power or of fortune. draweth hem that shullen falle, neither of hem ne mighte do that he wolde, What thing is thanne thilke power, that though men han it, yit they ben agast; and whanne thou woldest han it, thou nart nat siker; and yif thou woldest forleten it, thou mayst nat eschuen it? But whether swiche men ben frendes at nede, as ben conseyled by fortune and nat by vertu? Certes, swiche folk as weleful fortune maketh freendes, contrarious fortune maketh hem enemys. And what pestilence is more mighty for to anoye a wight than a familier enemy?

METRE V. Qui se uolet esse potentem.

Who-so wol be mighty, he mot daunten his cruel corage, ne putte nat his nekke, overcomen, under the foule reynes of lecherye. For al-beit so that thy lordshipe streeche so fer, that the contree or at thy lawes, and that the last ile in the see, that hight Tyle, be thral to thee, yit, yif thou mayst nat putten awey thy foule derke desyrs, and dryven out fro thee wreched complaintes, certes, it nis no power that thou hast.

PROSE VI. Gloria uero quam fallax saepe.

But glorie, how deceivable and how foul is it ofte! For which thing nat unskilfully a tragedien, that is to seyn, a maker of ditees that highten tragedies, cryde and seide: "O glorie, glorie," quod a he, "thou art nothing elles to thousandes of folkes but a greet sweller of eres!" For manye han had ful greet renoun by the false opinioun of the poeple, and what thing may ben thought fouler than swicher preyseinge? For thilks folk that ben preysed falsly, they moten nedes han shame of hir preysinges. And yif that folk han geten hem thonk or preysinge 15 by hir desertes, what thing hath thilke prys eched or encresed to the conscience of wyse folk, that mesuren hir good, nat by the rumour of the poeple, but by the soothfastnesse of conscience? And 20 yif it seme a fair thing, a man to han encresed and spred his name, than folweth it that it is demed to ben a foul thing, yif it ne be y-sprad and encresed. But, as I seyde a litel her-biforn that, sin 25 ther mot nedes ben many folk, to whiche folk the renoun of a man ne may nat comen, it befalleth that he, that thou wenest be glorious and renomed, semeth in the nexte partie of the erthes to ben 30 with-oute glorie and with-oute renoun. And certes, amonges thise thinges I ne trowe nat that the prys and grace of the poeple nis neither worthy to ben remembred, ne cometh of wyse jugement, 35 ne is ferme perdurably. But now, of this name of gentilesse, what man is it that ne may wel seen how veyn and how flittinge a thing it is? For yif the name of gentilesse be referred to renoun and 40 cleernesse of linage, thanne is gentil name but a foreine thing, that is to seyn, to hem that glorifyen hem of hir linage. For it semeth that gentilesse be a maner prevsinge that comth of the deserte of an-45 cestres. And vif preysinge maketh gentilesse, thanne moten they nedes be gentil that ben preysed. For which thing it folweth, that yif thou ne have no gentilesse of thy-self, that is to seyn, preyse 50 that comth of thy deserte, foreine gentilesse ne maketh thee nat gentil. But certes, yif ther be any good in gentilesse. I trowe it be al-only this, that it semeth as that a maner necessitee be imposed to gentil 55 men, for that they ne sholden nat outrayen or forliven fro the virtues of hir noble kinrede.

- METRE VI. Omne hominum genus in terris.

Al the linage of men that ben in erthe ben of semblable birthe. On allone is fader of thinges. On allone ministreth alle thinges. He yaf to the sonne hise bemes; he yaf to the mone hir hornes. 5 He yaf the men to the erthe; he yaf the sterres to the hevene. He enclose this hye sete. Thanne comen alle mortal folk of noble sede; why noisen ye or bosten of 10 youre eldres? For yif thou loke your biginninge, and god your auctor and your maker, thanne nis ther no forlived wight, but-yif he norisshe his corage un-to vyces, and forlete his propre burthe.

PROSE VII. Quid autem de corporis uoluptatibus.

But what shal I seye of delices of body, of whiche delices the desiringes ben ful of anguissh, and the fulfillinges of hem ben ful of penaunce? How greet syknesse and how grete sorwes unsufferable, 5 right as a maner fruit of wikkednesse. ben thilke delices wont to bringen to the bodies of folk that usen hem ! Of whiche delices I not what joye may ben had of hir moevinge. But this wot I wel, that 10 who-so-ever wole remembren him of hise luxures, he shal wel understonde that the issues of delices ben sorwful and sorve. And vif thilke delices mowen maken folk blisful, than by the same 15 cause moten thise bestes ben cleped blisful; of whiche bestes al the entencioun hasteth to fulfille hir bodily jolitee. And the gladnesse of wyf and children were an honest thing, but it hath ben seyd 20 that it is over muchel aveins kinde, that children han ben founden tormentours to hir fadres, I not how manye : of whiche children how bytinge is every condicioun, it nedeth nat to tellen it thee, that hast 25 or this tyme assayed it, and art yit now anguissous. In this approve I the sentence of my disciple Euripidis, that seyde. that " he that hath no children is weleful by infortune." 30

PROSE VIII. Nihil igitur dubium est.

Now is it no doute thanne that thise weyes ne ben a maner misledinges to blisfulnesse, ne that they ne mowe nat leden folk thider as they biheten to leden 5 hem. But with how grete harmes thise

- forseyde weyes ben enlaced, I shal shewe thee shortly. For-why yif thou enforcest thee to asemble moneye, thou most bireven him his moneye that hath it. And
- 10 yif thou wolt shynen with dignitees, thou most bisechen and supplien hem that yeven tho dignitees. And yif thou coveitest by honour to gon biforn other folk, thou shalt defoule thy-self thorugh hum-

- 25 thy body. Now is it thanne wel seen, how litel and how brotel possessioun they coveiten, that putten the goodes of the body aboven hir owne resoun. For mayst thou sormounten thise olifaunts in gret-
- 30 nesse or weight of body? Or mayst thou ben stronger than the bole? Mayst thou ben swifter than the tygre? Bihold the spaces and the stablenesse and the swifte cours of the hevene, and stint som-tyme
- 35 to wondren on foule thinges; the which hevene, certes, nis nat rather for thise thinges to ben wondred up-on, than for the resoun by which it is governed. But the shyning of thy forme, that is to seyn.
- to the beautee of thy body, how swiftly passingo is it, and how transitorie; certes, it is more flittinge than the mutabilitee of flowers of the somer-sesoun. For so Aristotle telleth, that yif that men hadden even of a beest that highte lynx, so that 4 the lokinge of folk mighte percen thorugh the thinges that with-stonden it, who-so loked thanne in the entrailes of the body of Alcibiades, that was ful fayr in the superfice with-oute, it shold seme right 5 foul. And forthy, yif thou semest fayr, thy nature maketh nat that, but the desceivaunce of the feblesse of the even that loken. But preyse the goodes of the body as mochel as ever thee list; so that 5 thou knowe algates that, what-so it be, that is to seyn, of the goodes of thy body, which that thou wondrest up-on, may ben destroyed or dissolved by the hete of a fevere of three dayes. Of alle whiche 6 forseyde thinges I may reducen this shortly in a somme, that thise worldly goodes, whiche that ne mowen nat yeven that they biheten, ne ben nat parfit by the congregacioun of alle goodes; that 6 they ne ben nat weyes ne pathes that bringen men to blisfulnesse, ne maken men to ben blisful.

METRE VIII. Eheu! quae miseros tramite deuios.

Allas! which folye and which ignoraunce misledeth wandringe wrecches fro the path of verray goode ! Certes, ye ne seken no gold in grene trees, ne ye ne gaderen nat precious stones in the 5 vynes, ne ye ne hyden nat your ginnes in the hye mountaignes to cacchen fish of whiche ye may maken riche festes. And yif yow lyketh to hunte to roes, ye ne gon nat to the fordes of the water that I highte Tyrene. And over this, men knowen wel the crykes and the cavernes of the see y-hid in the flodes, and knowen eek which water is most plentivous of whyte perles, and knowen which water I haboundeth most of rede purpre, that is to seyn, of a maner shelle-fish with which men dyen purpre; and knowen which strondes habounden most with tendre fisshes, or of sharpe fisshes that highten echines. But 2 folk suffren hem-self to ben so blinde. that hem ne reccheth nat to knowe where thilke goodes ben y-hid whiche that they

But I preye that they coveiten richesse and honours, 30 so that, whan they han geten tho false goodes with greet travaile, that ther-by they move knowen the verray goodes.

PROSE IX. Hactenus mendacis formam.

It suffyseth that I haveshewed hider-to the forme of false welefulnesse, so that, yif thon loke now cleerly, the order of myn entencioun requireth from hennes-5 forth to shewen thee the verray welefulnesse.' 'For sothe,' quod I, 'I see wel now that suffisaunce may nat comen by richesses, ne power by reames, ne reverence by dignitees, ne gentilesse by glorie, one ioye by delices.'

'And hast thou wel knowen the causes,' quod she, 'why it is?' 'Certes, me semeth,'quod i, 'that I see hem right as though it were thorugh a litel clifte; but 15 me were lever knowen hem more openly of thee.'

<sup>4</sup> Certes,' quod she, 'the resonn is al redy. For thilke thing that simply is o thing, with-outen any devisionn, the or errour and folye of mankinde departeth and devydeth it, and misledeth it and transporteth from verray and parfit good to goodes that ben false and unparfit. But sey me this. Wenest thou that he, 25 that hath nede of power, that him ne lakketh no-thing? ' 'Nay', quod I.

'Suffisaunce and power ben thanne of o kinde?' 'So semeth it,' quod I.

'And demest thon,' quod she, 'that 35 a thing that is of this manere, that is to seyn, sufficient and mighty, oughte ben despysed, or elles that it be right digne of,' reverence aboven alle thinges?' 'Certes.' quod I, 'it nis no doute, that it is right worthy to ben reverenced.'

'Lat us,' quod she, 'adden thanne reverence to suffisance and to power, so that we demen that thise three thinges ben al o thing.' 'Certes,' quod I, 'lat us adden it, yif we wolen graunten the sothe.' 45

'What demest thou thanne?' quod she; 'is that a derk thing and nat noble. that is suffisaunt, reverent, and mighty, or elles that it is right noble and right cleer by celebritee of renoun? Consider 50 thanne,' quod she, 'as we han graunted her-biforn, that he that ne hath nede of no-thing, and is most mighty and most digne of honour, yif him nedeth any cleernesse of renoun, which cleernesse he 55 mighte nat graunten of him-self, so that, for lakke of thilke cleernesse, he mighte seme the febeler on any syde or the more out-cast?' Glose. This is to seyn, nay ; for who-so that is suffisaunt, mighty, and 60 reverent, cleernesse of renoun folweth of the forseyde thinges ; he hath it al redy of his suffisaunce. Boece, 'I may nat,' guod I, 'denye it ; but I mot graunte as it is, that this thing be right celebrable by 65 cleernesse of renoun and noblesse.'

'Thanne folweth it,' quod she, 'that we adden eleernesse of renorm to the three forseyde thinges, so that ther ne be amonges hem no difference?' 'This is 70 a consequence,' quod I.

'This thing thanne,' quod she, 'that ne hath nede of no foreine thing, and that may don alle thinges by hise strengthes, and that is noble and honourable, nis nat 75 that a mery thing and a joyful?' 'But whennes,' quod I, 'that any sorwe mighte comen to this thing that is swiche, certes, I may nat thinke.'

'Thanne moten we graunte,' quod she, 80 'that this thing be ful of gladnesse, yif the forseyde thinges ben sothe; and certes, also mote we graunten that suffisaunce, power, noblesse, reverence, and gladnesse ben only dyverse by names, but 85 hir substaunce hath no diversitee.' 'It mot needly been so,' quod I.

'Thilke thing thanne,' quod she, 'that is oon and simple in his nature, the which manere ?' quod I.

'Thilke man,' quod she, 'that secheth richesses to fleen povertee, he ne travaileth him nat for to gete power ; for he

- 100 hath lever ben derk and vyl; and eek withdraweth from him-self many naturel delyts, for he nolde lese the moneye that he hath assembled. But certes, in this manere he ne geteth him nat suffisaunce
- 105 that power forleteth, and that molestie prikketh, and that filthe maketh out-cast, and that derkenesse hydeth. And certes, he that desireth only power, he wasteth and scatereth richesse, and despyseth

- 115 many anguisshes byten him; and whan he ne may nat don tho defautes a-wey, he forleteth to ben mighty, and that is the thing that he most desireth. And right thus may I maken semblable resouns of
- 120 honours, and of glorie, and of delyts. For so as every of thise forseyde thinges is the same that thise other thinges ben, that is to seyn, at oon thing, who-so that ever seketh to geten that oon of thise,

- 135 'Thanne,' quod she, 'ne sholden men nat by no wey seken blisfulnesse inswiche thinges as men wene that they ne mowen yeven but o thing senglely of alle that men seken.' 'I graunte wel,' quod I; 140 'ne no sother thing ne may ben sayd.'

forme and the causes of false weleful-Now torne and flitte the even nesse. of thy thought; for ther shalt thou seen anon thilke verray blisfulnesse that 14 I have bihight thee.' 'Certes,' quod I, 'it is cleer and open, thogh it were to a blinde man ; and that shewedest thou me ful wel a litel her-biforn, whan thou enforcedest thee to shewe me the causes 15 of the false blisfulnesse. For but-vif I be bigyled, thanne is thilke the verray blisfulnesse parfit, that parfitly maketh a man suffisaunt, mighty, honourable. noble, and ful of gladnesse. And, for 15 thou shalt wel knowe that I have wel understonden thise thinges with-in my herte, I knowe wel that thilke blisfulnesse, that may verrayly yeven oon of the forseyde thinges, sin they ben al oon, 16 I knowe, douteles, that thilke thing is the fulle blisfulnesse.'

' Now hast thou thanne,' quod she, 'the

'O my norie,' quod she, 'by this opinioun I seye that thou art blisful, yif thou putte this ther-to that I shal seyn.' 16 'What is that?' quod L

'Trowest thou that ther be any thing in thise erthely mortal toumbling thinges that may bringen this estat?' Certes,' quod I, 'I trowe it naught; and thou 17 hast shewed me wel that over thikke good ther mis no-thing more to ben desired.'

'Thise thinges thanne,' quod she, 'that is to sey, erthely suffisaurce and power and suiche thinges, either they semen lyke-17 nesses of verray good, or elles it semeth that they yeve to mortal folk a maner of goodes that ne ben nat parfit; but thilke good that is verray and parfit, that may they nat yeven.' 'I acorde me wel,' 18 quod I.

'Thanne,' quod she, 'for as mochel as thou hast knowen which is thilke verray blisfulnesse, and eek whiche thilke thinges ben that lyen falsly blisfulnesse, 18 that is to seyn, that by deceite semen verray goodes, now behoveth thee to knowe whennes and where thou mowe seke, thilke verray blisfulnesse.' 'Certes,' quod I, 'that desire I greetly, and have 19 abiden longe tyme to herknen it.'

'But for as moche,' quod she, 'as it lyketh to my disciple Plato, in his book of "in Timeo," that in right litel thinges 95 men sholden bisechen the help of god, what jugest thou that be now to done, so that we may deserve to finde the sete of thilke verray good?' 'Certes,' quod I, 'I deme that we shollen clepen the fader soo of alle goodes; for with-outen him nis ther no-thing founden a-right.'

'Thou seyst a-right,' quod she; and bigan anon to singen right thus :---

METRE IX. O qui perpetua mundum ratione gubernas.

'O thou fader, creator of hevene and of erthes, that governest this world by perdurable resoun, that comaundest the tymes to gon from sin that age hadde 5 beginninge: thou that dwellest thy-self ay stedefast and stable, and yevest alle othre thinges to ben moeved ; ne foreine causes necesseden thee never to compoune werk of floteringe matere, but only the 10 forme of soverein good y-set with-in thee with-oute envye, that moevede thee freely. Thou that art alder-fayrest, beringe the faire world in thy thought, formedest this world to the lyknesse semblable of 15 that faire world in thy thought. Thou drawest al thing of thy soverein ensaumpler, and comaundest that this world, parfitliche y-maked, have freely and absolut his parfit parties. Thou 20 bindest the elements by noumbres proporcionables, that the colde thinges mowen acorden with the hote thinges. and the drye thinges with the moiste thinges; that the fyr, that is purest, ne 25 flee nat over hye, ne that the hevinesse ne drawe nat adoun over-lowe the erthes that ben plounged in the wateres. Thou knittest to-gider the mene sowle of treble kinde, moevinge alle thinges, and de-30 vydest it by membres acordinge; and whan it is thus devyded, it hath asembled

a moevinge in-to two roundes; it goth to torne ayein to him-self, and environmeth a ful deep thought, and torneth the hevene by semblable image. Thou by 35 evene-lyke causes enhansest the sowles and the lasse lyves, and, ablinge hem heve by lighte cartes, thou sowest hem in-to hevene and in-to erthe ; and whan they ben converted to thee by thy be- 40 nigne lawe, thou makest hem retorne ayein to thee by ayein-ledinge fyr. O fader, yive thou to the thought to styen up in-to thy streite sete, and graunte him to environne the welle of good; and, the 45 lighte y-founde, graunte him to fichen the clere sightes of his corage in thee. And scater thou and to-breke thou the weightes and the cloudes of erthely hevinesse, and shyne thou by thy brightnesse. For thou 50 art cleernesse; thou art peysible reste to debonaire folk; thou thy-self art biginninge, berer, leder, path, and terme; to loke on thee, that is our ende.

PROSE X. Quoniam igitur quae sit imperfecti.

For as moche thanne as thou hast seyn, which is the forme of good that nis nat parfit, and which is the forme of good that is parfit, now trowe I that it were good to shewe in what this perfeccioun of blisful- 5. nesse is set. And in this thing, I trowe that we sholden first enquere for to witen, yif that any swiche maner good as thilke good that thou hast diffinisshed a litel heer-biforn, that is to seyn, soverein good, 10 may ben founde in the nature of thinges ; for that yevn imaginacioun of thought ne decevve us nat, and putte us out of the sothfastnesse of thilke thing that is summitted unto us. But it may nat ben 15 deneyed that thilke good ne is, and that it nis right as welle of alle goodes. For al thing that is cleped inparfit is proeved inparfit by the amenusinge of perfeccioun or of thing that is parfit. And ther-of 20 comth it, that in every thing general, yif that men seen any-thing that is inparfit, certes, in thilke general ther mot ben som-thing that is parfit; for yif so be that perfeccioun is don awey, men may nat 25 thinke ne seve fro whennes thilke thing is that is cleped inparfit. For the nature of thinges ne took nat hir beginninge of thinges amenused and inparfit, but it 30 proceedeth of thinges that ben al hoole

- and absolut, and descendeth so down in-to outterest thinges, and in-to thinges empty and with-outen frut. But, as I have y-showed a litel her-biforn, that yif ther
- 35 be a blisfulnesse that be freele and veyn and inparfit, ther may no man doute that ther nis som blisfulnesse that is sad, stedefast, and parfit.' Boece. 'This is concluded,' quod I, 'fermely and soth-40 fastly.'

Philosophie. 'But considere also,' quod she, 'in wham this blisfulnesse enhabiteth. The comune acordaunce and conceite of the corages of men proeveth

- 45 and graunteth, that god, prince of alle thinges, is good. For, so as nothing ne may ben thought bettre than god, it may nat ben douted thanne that he, that nothing nis bettre, that he nis good.
- 50 Certes, resoun sheweth that god is so good, that it proveth by verray force that parfit good is in him. For yif god ne is swich, he ne may nat ben prince of alle thinges; for certes som-thing possessing
- 55 in itself parfit good, sholde ben more worthy than god, and it sholde semen that thilke thing were first, and elder than god. For we han shewed apertly that alle thinges that ben parfit ben first or
- Go thinges that ben unparfit; and for-thy, for as moche as that my resoun or my proces ne go nat a-wey with-oute an ende, we owen to grannten that the soverein god is right ful of soverein parfit good.
- 65 And we han establisshed that the soverein good is verray blisfulnesse : thanne mot it nedes be, that verray blisfulnesse is set in soverein god.' 'This take I wel,' quod I, 'ne this ne may nat ben withseid in no 70 manere.'

5 good' 'In which manere?' quod I. 'Wenest thou aught,' quod she, 'that this prince of alle thinges have y-take thilke soverein good any-wher out of himself, of which soverein good men proveth that he is ful, right as thou mightest 80 thinken that god, that hath blisfulnesse in him-self, and thilke blisfulnesse that is in him, weren dyvers in substaunce? For vif thou wene that god have received thilke good out of him-self, thou mayst 85 wene that he that yaf thilke good to god be more worthy than is god. But I am bi-knowen and confesse, and that right dignely, that god is right worthy aboven alle thinges ; and, yif so be that this good 90 be in him by nature, but that it is dyvers fro him by weninge resoun, sin we speke of god prince of alle thinges : feigne whoso feigne may, who was he that hath conjoigned thise dyverse thinges to-gider? 95 And eek, at the laste, see wel that a thing that is dyvers from any thing, that thilke thing nis nat that same thing fro which it is understonden to ben dyvers. Thanne folweth it, that thilke thing that by his 100 nature is dyvers fro soverein good, that that thing nis nat soverein good; but certes, that were a felonous corsednesse to thinken that of him that nothing nis more worth. For alwey, of alle thinges, 105 the nature of hem ne may nat ben bettre than his biginning; for which I may concluden, by right verray resoun, that thilke that is biginning of alle thinges, thilke same thing is soverein good in his 110 'Thou hast seyd rightsubstaunce.' fully,' quod I.

'But we han graunted,' quod she, 'that the soverein good is blisfulnesse.' 'And that is sooth,' quod I. 115

'Thanne,' quod she, 'moten we nedes graunten and confessen that thilke same soverein good be god.' 'Certes,' quod I, 'I ne may nat denye ne withstonde the resouns purposed; and I see wel that rao it folweth by strengthe of the premisses.'

'Loke now,' quod she, 'yif this be proved yit more fermely thus: that ther ne mowen nat ben two soverein goodes that ben dyverse amonge hem-self. For 125 certes, the goodes that ben dyverse amonges hem-self, that oon nis nat that that other is; thanne ne may neither of hem ben partif, so as either of hem lak(30) keth to other. But that that nis nat parfit, men may seen apertly that it nis nat soverein. The thinges, thanne, that ben sovereinly goode, ne mowen by no wey ben dyverse. But I have wel con-135 cluded that blisfulnesse and god ben the soverein good; for whiche it mot nedes ben, that soverein blisfulnesse is soverein divinitee.' 'Nothing,' quod I, 'nis more soothfast than this, ne more forme 40 by resonn; ne a more worthy thing than god may nat ben concluded.'

<sup>4</sup>Up-on thise thinges thanne, 'quod she, 'right as thise geometriens, whan they han shewed hir proposiciouns, ben wont <sup>145</sup> to bringen in thinges that they clepen porismes, or declaraciouns of foreside thinges, right so wole I yeve thee heer as a corollarie, or a mede of coroune. For-

why, for as moche as by the getinge of 150 blisfulnesse men ben maked blisful, and blisfulnesse is divinitee : thanne is it manifest and open, that by the getinge of divinitee men ben maked blisful. Right as by the getinge of justice [they ben 155 maked just), and by the getinge of sapience they ben maked wyse: right so, nedes, by the semblable rescon, whan they han geten divinitee, they ben maked goddes. Thanne is every blisful man too god; but certes, by nature, ther nis but

o god; but bettes, of metne, ther his but o god; but, by the participacion of divinitee, ther ne let ne desturbeth nothing that ther ne ben manye goddes.' 'This is,' quod I, 'a fair thing and 165 a precious, clepe it as thou wolt; be it porisme or corollarie,' or mede of corouse or declaringes. 'Certes,' quod she, 'nothing nis fayrer than is the thing that by resoun sholde 'p ben added to thise forseide thinges.' 'What thing?' quod I.

<sup>4</sup>So,<sup>2</sup> quod she, <sup>4</sup> as it semeth that blisfulnesse conteneth many thinges, it were for to witen whether that alle thise 175 thinges maken or conjoignen as a maner body of blisfulnesse, by dyversitee of parties or of membres; or elles, yif that any of alle thike thinges be swich that it accomplisshe by him-self the substance of 180 blisfulnesse, so that alle thise othre thinges ben referred and brought to blisfulnesse,' that is to sum, as to the cheef of hem. 'I wolde,' quod I, 'that thou makedest me cleerly to understonde what thou seyst, and that thou recordedest me the 185 forseyde thinges.'

'Have I nat juged,' quod she, 'that blisfulnesse is good?' 'Yis, forsothe,' quod I; 'and that soverein good.'

'Adde thanne,' quod she, 'thilke good, 190 that is maked blisfulnesse, to alle the forseide thinges; for thilke same blisfulnesse that is demed to ben soverein suffisaunce, thilke selve is soverein power, soverein reverence, soverein cleernesse or 195 noblesse, and soverein delyt. Conclusio. What seyst thou thanne of alle thise thinges, that is to seyn, suffisaunce, power, and this othre thinges; ben they thanne as membres of blisfulnesse, or ben 200 they referred and brought to soverein good, right as alle thinges that ben brought to the chief of hem?' 'I understonde wel;' quod I, 'what thou purposest to seke : but I desire for to herkne 205 that thou shewe it me.'

'Tak now thus the discrecion of this question,' quod she. .'Yif alle thise thinges; quod she, 'weren membres to felicitee, than weren they dyverse that 210 oon from that other; and swich is the nature of parties or of membres, that dyverse membres compounen a body.' 'Certes,' quod I, 'it hath wel ben shewed heer-biforn, that alle thise thinges ben 215 alle o thing.'

'Thanne ben they none membres,' quod she; 'for elles it sholde seme that blisfulnesse were conicigned al of on membre allone; but that is a thing that may 220 nat be don.' 'This thing,' quod I, 'nis nat doutous; but I abyde to herknen the remnant of thy questioun.'

'This is open and cleer,' quod she, 'that alle othre thinges ben referred and 225 brought to good. For therefore is suffisaunce requered, for it is demed to ben good; and forthy is power requered, for men trowen also that it be good; and this same thing mowen we thinken and con- 230 jecten of reverence, and of noblesse, and of delyt. Thanne is soverein good the somme and the cause of al that aughte ben desired; forwhy thilks thing that #35 with-holdeth no good in it-self, ne semblaunce of good, it ne may nat wel in no mancre be desired ne requered. And the contrarie : for thogh that thinges by hir nature ne ben nat goode, algates, yif men 40 wene that ben goode, yit ben they desired

- as though that bein goode, yit ben they desired as though that they weren verrayliche goode. And therfor is it that men oughten to wene by right, that bountee be the soverein fyn, and the cause of alle
- 245 the thinges that ben to requeren. But cortes, thilke that is cause for which men requeren any thing, it semeth that thilke same thing be most desired. As thus: yif that a wight wolde ryden for cause of
- 250 hele, he ne desireth nat so mochel the moovinge to ryden, as the effect of his hele. Now thanne, sin that alle thinges ben requered for the grace of good, they ne ben nat desired of alle folk more
- 255 thanne the same good. But we han graunted that blisfulnesse is that thing, for whiche that alle thise othre thinges ben desired; thanne is it thus: that, certes, only blisfulnesse is requered and
- 260 desired. By which thing it sheweth cleerly, that of good and of blisfulnesse is al oon and the same substaunce.' 'I see nat,' quod I, 'wherfore that men mighten discorden in this.'
- 265 'And we han shewed that god and verray blisfulnesse is al oo thing.' 'That is sooth,' quod I.

'Thanne mowen we conclude sikerly, that the substaunce of god is set in thilke 270 same good, and in non other place.

30 yif alle thise thinges ben alle oon same thing, they ne han nat wherby that they mowen ben put in the noumber of thinges that oughten ben requered or, desired.' 'It is shewed,' quod I; 'ne her-of may 35 ther no man douten.'

'The thinges thanne,' quod she, ' that ne ben no goodes whanne they ben dyverse, and whan they beginnen to ben alle oon thing thanne ben they goodes, 40 ne comth it hem nat thanne by the getinge of unitee, that they ben maked goodes?' 'So it semeth,' quod I.

'But al thing that is good,' quod she, 'grauntest thou that it be good by the 45 participacionn of good, or no?' 'I graunte it,' quod L

'Thanne most thou graunten,' quod she, 'by semblable resonn, that oon and good be oo same thing. For of thinges, 50 of whiche that the effect nis nat naturelly

- diverse, nedes the substance mot be oo same thing.' 'I ne may nat denye that,' quod I.
- <sup>4</sup> Hast thou nat knowen wel,<sup>2</sup> quod she, 55 'that al thing that is hath so longe his dwellinge and his substannee as longe as it is oon; but whan it forleteth to ben oon, it mot nedes dyen and corump togider?<sup>2</sup> 'In which manere?<sup>2</sup> quod I.
- <sup>60</sup> 'Right as in bestes,' quod she, 'whan the sowle and the body ben conjoigned in oon and dwellen to-gider, it is cleped a beest. And whan hir unitee is destroyed by the disseverance of that oon from
- 65 that other, than showeth it well that it is a ded thing, and that it nis no lenger no beest. And the body of a wight, whyl it dwelleth in oo forme by conjunccioun of membres, it is well seyn that it is
- 70 a figure of man-kinde. And yif the parties of the body ben so devyded and dissevered, that oon fro that other, that they destroyen unitee, the body forleteth to ben that it was biforn. And, who-so 75 wolde renne in the same manere by alle
- thinges, he sholde seen that, with-oute donte, every thing is in his substance as longe as it is oon; and whan it forleteth to ben oon, it dyeth and perissheth.' 'Whan I considere,' quod I, 'manye 80 thinges, I see non other.'

'Is ther any-thing thanne,' quod she, ' that, in as moche as it liveth naturelly. that forleteth the talent or appetvt of his beinge, and desireth to come to deeth and 85 to corupcioun?' 'Yif I considere,' quod I, 'the beestes that han any maner nature of wilninge and of nillinge, I ne finde no beest, but-yif it be constreined fro with-oute forth, that forleteth or 90 despyseth the entencioun to liven and to duren, or that wole, his thankes, hasten him to dyen. For every beest travaileth him to deffende and kepe the savacioun of his lyf, and eschueth deeth 95 and destruccioun. But certes. I doute me of herbes and of trees, that is to seyn, that I am in a doute of swiche thinges as herbes or trees, that ne han no felinge sowles, ne no naturel wirkinges servinge to 100 appetytes as bestes han, whether they han appetut to dwellen and to duren.'

'Certes,' quod she, 'ne ther-of thar thee nat doute. Now loke up-on thise herbes and thise trees ; they wexen first 105 in swiche places as ben covenable to hem, in whiche places they ne mowen nat sone dyen ne dryen, as longe as hir nature may deffenden hem. For som of hem waxen in feeldes, and som in moun- 110 taignes, and othre waxen in mareys, and othre cleven on roches, and somme waxen plentivous in sondes; and yif that any wight enforce him to beren hem in-to othre places, they wexen drye. For 115 nature yeveth to every thing that that is convenient to him, and travaileth that they ne dye nat, as longe as they han power to dwellen and to liven. What woltow seyn of this, that they drawen 120 alle hir norisshinges by hir rotes, right as they hadden hir mouthes y-plounged with-in the erthes, and sheden by hir maryes hir wode and hir bark? And what woltow seyn of this, that thilke 125 thing that is right softe, as the marye is, that is alwey hid in the sete, al withinne, and that is defended fro with-oute by the stdefastnesse of wode; and that 130 the uttereste bark is put ayeins the destemperaunce of the havene, as a defendour mighty to suffren harm? And thus, certes, maystow wel seen how greet is the diligence of nature; for alle thinges

- 135 renovelon and puplisshen hem with seed y-multiplyed; ne ther nis no man that ne wot wel that they ne ben right as a foundement and edifice, for to duren nat only for a tyme, but right as for
- 140 to duren perdurably by generacioun. And the thinges eak that men wenen ne haven none sowles, ne desire they nat ech of hem by semblable resoun to kepen that is hirs, that is to seyn, that is accordinge to
- 145 hir nature in conservacioun of hir beinge and enduringe? For wher-for elles bereth lightnesse the flaumbes up, and the weighte presseth the orthe a-doun, but for as moche as thilke places and thilke
- 150 moevinges ben covenable to everich of hem? And forsothe every thing kepeth thilke that is acordinge and propre to him, right as thinges that ben contraries and enemys corompen hem. And yit the
- 155 harde thinges, as stones, clyven and holden hir parties to-gider right faste and harde, and deffenden hem in withstondinge that they ne departe nat lightly a-twinne. And the thinges that ben
- 160 softe and fletinge, as is water and eyr, they departen lightly, and yeven place to hem that breken or devyden hem; but natheles, they retornen sone ayein in-to the same thinges fro whennes they
- 165 ben arraced. But fyr fleeth and refuseth al devisioun. No I ne trete nat heer now of wilful moevinges of the sowle that is knowinge, but of the naturel entencioun of thinges, as thus: right as
- 170 we swolwe the mete that we receiven and no thinke nat on it, and as we drawen our breeth in slepinge that we wite it nat whyle we slepen. For certes, in the beestes, the love of hir livinges ne of hir
- 175 beinges ne comth nat of the wilninges of the sowle, but of the biginninges of nature. For certes, thorugh constreininge causes, wil desireth and embraceth ful ofte tyme the deeth that nature dredeth; that is to seyn as thus: that 180 a man may ben constreyned so, by som cause, that his wil desireth and taketh the deeth which that nature hateth and dredeth ful sore. And somtyme we seeth the contrarye, as thus: that the wil of 185 a wight destorbeth and constrevneth that that nature desireth and requereth alwey, that is to seyn, the work of generacioun, by the whiche generacioun only dwelleth and is sustened the long dura- 100 bletee of mortal thinges. And thus this charitee and this love, that every thing hath to him-self, ne comth nat of the moevinge of the sowle, but of the entencioun of nature. For the purvisunce 195 of god hath veven to thinges that ben creat of him this, that is a ful gret cause to liven and to duren : for which they desiren naturelly hir lyf as longe as ever they mowen. For which thou mayst nat 200 drede, by no manere, that alle the thinges that ben anywhere, that they ne requeren naturelly the ferme stablenesse of perdurable dwellinge, and eek the eschuinge of destruccioun.' 'Now con- 205 fesse I wel,' quod I, 'that I see now wel certeinly, with-oute doutes, the thinges that whylom semeden uncertain to me.'

'But,' quod she, 'thilke thing that desireth to be and to dwellen perdurably, 210 he desireth to ben oon; for yif that that oon were destroyed, certes, beinge ne shulde ther non dwellen to no wight.' 'That is sooth,' quod L.

'Thanne,' quod she, 'desiren alle 215 thinges oon ?' 'I assente,' quod I.

'And I have shewed,' quod she, 'that thilke same oon is thilke that is good?' 'Ye, for sothe,' quod I.

'Alle thinges thanne,' quod she, 're-220 quiren good; and thilke good thanne mayst thou descryven right thus: good is thilke thing that every wight desireth.' 'Ther ne may be thought,' quod I, 'no more verray thing. For either alle 225 thinges ben referred and brought to nought, and floteren with-oute governour, despoiled of oon as of hir propre heved; or elles, yif ther be any thing to which

Thanne seyde she thus: 'O my nory,' quod she, 'I have gret gladnesse of thee;

235 for thou hast fieched in thyn herte the middel soothfastnesse, that is to seyn, the prikke; but this thing hath ben descovered to thee, in that thou seydest that thou wistest nat a litel her-biforn." 240 ' What was that?' guod I.

'That thou ne wistest nat,' quod she, 'which was the ende of thinges; and certes, that is the thing that every wight desireth; and for as mochel as we han 245 gadered and comprehended that good is thilke thing that is desired of alle, thanne moten we nedes confessen, that good is the fyn of alle thinges.

For wherfor elles demen ve of your owne wil the rightes. whan ye ben axed, but-yif so were that the norisshinge of resoun ne livede y- 40 plounged in the depthe of your herte? this is to seyn, how sholden men demen the sooth of any thing that were axed, yif ther nere a rote of sooth fastnesse that were yplounged and hid in naturel principles, the 45 whiche sooth fastnesse lived with-in the deepnesse of the thought. #### PROSE XII. Tum ego, Platoni, inquam.

Thanne seide I thus: 'I acorde me gretly to Plato, for thou remembrest and recordest me thise thinges yit the secounde tyme; that is to seyn, first whan I loste my memorie by the contagious 5 conjunctioun of the body with the sowle; and eftsones afterward, whan I loste it, confounded by the charge and by the burdene of my sorwe.'

And thanne seide she thus: 'yif thou to loke,' quod she, 'first the thinges that thou hast graunted, it ne shal nat ben right for that thou ne shalt remembren thilke thing that thou seydest that thou nistest nat.' 'What thing ?' quod L 15.

'By whiche governement,' quod she, 'that this world is governed.' 'Me remembreth it wel,'quod I; 'and I confesse wel that I ne wiste it naught. But al-beit so that I see now from a-fer what 20 thou purposest, algates, I desire yit to herkene it of thee more pleynly.'

'Thou ne wendest nat,' quod she, 'a litel her-biforn, that men sholden

- 25 doute that this world is governed by god.' 'Certes,'quod I, 'ne yit ne doute I it naught, ne I nel never wene that it were to doute; as who seith, but I worl wel that god governeth this world; and
- 30 I shal shortly answeren thee by what resouns I am brought to this. This world,' quod I, ' of so manye dyverse and contrarious parties, ne mighte never han ben assembled in o forme, but-yif ther
- 35 nere oon that conjoignede so manye dyverse thinges; and the same dyversitee of hir natures, that so discorden that oon fro that other, moste departen and unjoignen the thinges that ben con-

- 50 that alle thinges ben y-maked and y-lad, I clepe him "god"; that is a word that is used to alle folk.'

Thanne seyde she: 'sin thou felest thus thise thinges,' quod she, 'I trowe

- 'And that, to governe this world,' 65 quod she, 'ne shal he never han nede of non help fro with-oute? For elles, yif he hadde nede of any help, he ne sholde nat have no ful suffisaunce?' 'Yis, thus it mot nedes be,' quod I.
- 70 'Thanne ordeineth he by him-self alone alle thinges?' quod she, 'That may nat be deneyed,' quod I.

'And I have shewed that god is the same good ?' 'It remembreth me wel,' 75 quod I. 'Thanne ordeineth he alle thinges by thilke good,' quod she; 'sin he, which that we han acorded to be good, governeth alle thinges by him-self; and he is as a keye and a stere by which that the 80 edifice of this world is y-kept stable and with-oute coroumpinge.' 'I acorde me greetly,' quod I; 'and I aperceivede a litel her-biforn that thou woldest seve thus; al-be-it so that it were by a thinne 85 suspecioun.'

'I trowe it wel,' quod she; 'for, as I trowe, thou ledest now more ententify thyne eyen to loken the verray goods. But natheles the thing that I shal telle go thee yit ne sheweth nat lasse to loken.' 'What is that?' quod I.

'So as men trowen,' quod she, 'and that rightfully, that god governeth alle thinges by the keye of his goodnesse, of and alle thise same thinges, as I have taught thee, hasten hem by naturel entencioun to comen to good : ther may no man douten that they ne be governed voluntariely, and that they ne converten 100 hem of hir owne wil to the wil of hir ordenour, as they that ben acordinge and enclyninge to hir governour and hir king.' 'It mot nedes be so,' quod I; 'for the reaume ne sholde nat semen 105 blisful yif ther were a yok of misdrawinges in dyverse parties; ne the savinge of obedient thinges ne sholde nat be.

'Thanne is ther nothing,' quod she, 110 'that kepeth his nature, that enforceth him to goon ayein god ?' 'No,'quod I.

'And yif that any-thing enforcede him to with-stonde god, mighte it availen at the laste ayeins him, that we han nig graunted to ben almighty by the right of blisfulnesse?' . 'Certes,' quod I, 'aloutrely it ne mighte mat availen him.'

'Thanne is ther no-thing,' quod she, 'that either wole or may with-stonden 120 to this soverein good ?' 'I trowe nat,' quod I.

'Thanne is thilke the soverein good,' quod she, 'that alle thinges governeth strongly, and ordeyneth hem softely.' 125 Thanne seyde I thus: 'I delvte me.'

quod I, 'nat only in the endes or in the somme of the resouns that thou hast concluded and proeved, but thilke wordes 130 that thou usest delyten me moche more; so, at the laste, fooles that sumtyme renden grete thinges oughten ben ashamed of hem-self;' that is to seyn, that we fooles that remvehenden wikkedly the

- 135 thinges that touchen goddes governaunce, we oughten ben ashamed of our-self: as I, that seyds that god refueth only the werkes of men, and ne entremeteth nat of hem.
- 140 'Thou hast wel herd,' quod she, 'the fables of the poetes, how the giaunts assaileden the hevene with the goddes; but forsothe, the debonair force of god deposede hem, as it was worthy; that is
- 145 to seyn, destroyede the giaunts, as it was worthy. But wilt thou that we joignen to-gider thilke same resours? For peraventure, of swich conjuncioun may sterten up som fair sparkle of sooth.' 150 'Do,' quod I, 'as thee liste.'
  - 'Wenest thou,' quod she, 'that god ne be almighty? No man is in doute of it.' 'Certes,' quod I, 'no wight ne douteth it, yif he be in his minde.'
- 155 'But he, 'quod she, 'that is almighty, ther nis nothing that he ne may?' 'That is sooth,' quod I.

'May god don yvel?' quod she. 'Nay, forsothe,' quod I.

- 100 'Thanne is yvel nothing,' quod she, 'sin that he ne may nat don yvel that may don alle thinges.' 'Scornest thou me?' quod I; 'or elles pleyest thou or deceivest thou me, that hast so woven me
- 165 with thy resouns the hous of Dedalus, so entrelaced that it is unable to be unlaced; thou that other-whyle entrest ther thou issest, and other-whyle issest ther thou entrest, ne foldest thou nat
- 170 to-gider, by replicacioun of wordes, a maner wonderful cercle or environinge of the simplicitee devyno? For certes, a litel her-biforn, whan thou bigune at blisfulnesse, thou seydest that it is soverein
- 175 good; and seydest that it is set in soverein god; and seydest that god him-self is soverein good; and that god is the fulle blisfulnesse: for which thou vave me as a covenable yift, that is to seyn, that no wight nis blisful but-vif he be god also 180 ther-with. And seidest eek, that the forme of good is the substaunce of god and of blisfulnesse; and seidest, that thilke same oon is thilke same good, that is requered and desired of alle the 185 kinde of thinges. And thou proevedest, in disputinge, that god governeth all the thinges of the world by the governements of bountee, and seydest, that alle thinges wolen obeyen to him; and seydest, that 190 the nature of yvel nis no-thing. And thise thinges ne shewedest thou nat with none resouns y-taken fro with-oute, but by proeves in cercles and hoomlich knowen; the whiche proeves drawen to hem-self 195 hir feith and hir acord, everich of hem of other.'

Thanne seyde she thus: 'I ne scorne thee nat, ne pleye, ne deceive thee; but I have shewed thee the thing that is 200 grettest over alle thinges by the yift of god, that we whylom preveden. For this is the forme of the devyne substaunce. that is swich that it ne slydeth nat in-to outterest foreine thinges, ne ne receiveth 205 no straunge thinges in him; but right as Parmenides seyde in Greek of thilke devyne substaunce; he seyde thus : that "thilke devyne substaunce torneth the world and the moevable cercle of thinges, 210 whyl thilke devyne substaunce kepeth it-self with-oute moevinge;" that is to seyn, that it ne moeveth never-mo, and yit it moeveth alle othre thinges. But natheles, vif I have stired resouns that ne ben nat 215 taken fro with-oute the compas of thing of which we treten, but resouns that ben bistowed with-in that compas, ther nis nat why that thou sholdest merveilen : sin thou hast lerned by the sentence of 220 Plato, that "nedes the wordes moten be cosines to the thinges of which they speken."

METRE XII. Felix, qui potuit boni.

Blisful is that man that may seen the clere welle of good; blisful is he that may unbinden him fro the bondes of the hevy erthe. The poete of Trace, Orpheus,

- 5 that whylom hadde right greet sorwe for the deeth of his wyf, after that he hadde maked, by his weeply songes, the wodes, moevable, to rennen; and hadde maked the riveres to stonden stille; and
- to hadde maked the hertes and the hindes to joignen, dredeles, hir sydes to cruel lyouns, for to herknen his songe; and hadde maked that the hare was nat agast of the hounde, which that was plesed by
- 15 his songe: so, whan the moste ardaunt love of his wif brende the entrailes of his brest, ne the songes that hadden overcomen alle thinges ne mighten nat asswagen hir lord Orpheus, he pleynede
- ao him of the hevene goddes that weren crael to him; he wente him to the houses of helle. And there he temprede hise blaundisshinge songes by resovninge strenges, and spak and song in wepinge
- 25 al that ever he hadde received and laved out of the noble welles of his moder Calliope the goddesse; and he song with as mochel as he mighte of wepinge, and with as moche as love, that doublede his
- 30 sorwe, mighte yeve him and techen him; and he commoevede the helle, and requerede and bisoughte by swete preyere the lordes of sowles in helle, of relesinge; that is to seyn, to yilden him his wyf.
- 35 Cerberus, the porter of helle, with his three hevedes, was caught and al abayst for the newe song; and the three goddesses, Furies, and vengeresses of felonyes, that tormenten and agasten the sowles

40 by anoy, woxen sorwful and sory, and wepen teres for pitee. Tho ne was nat the heved of Ixion y-tormented by the overthrowinge wheel; and Tantalus, that was destroyed by the woodnesse of longe thurst, despyseth the flodes to drinke; 4 the fowl that highte voltor, that eteth the stomak or the giser of Tityus, is so fulfild of his song that it nil eten ne tyren no more. At the laste the lord and juge of sowles was moeved to miseri- 50 cordes and cryde, "we ben overcomen," quod he; "yive we to Orpheus his wyf to bere him companye; he hath wel ybought hir by his song and his ditee; but we wol putte a lawe in this, and 5 covenaunt in the yifte : that is to seyn, that, til he be out of helle, yif he loke behinde him, that his wyf shal comen ayein unto us." But what is he that may yive a lawe to loveres? Love is 6 a gretter lawe and a strenger to him-self than any lawe that men may yeven. Allas! whan Orpheus and his wyf weren almest at the termes of the night, that is to seyn, at the laste boundes of helle, Orpheus 6 lokede abakward on Eurydice his wyf, and loste hir, and was deed.

This fable aperteineth to yow alle, whoso-ever desireth or seketh to lede his thought in-to the soverein day, that is to yo sym, to clearnesse of soverein good. For who-so that ever be so overcomen that he facehe his eyen into the putte of helle, that is to seyn, who-so sette his thoughtes in erthely thinges, al that ever he hath 75 drawen of the noble good celestial, he leseth it whan he loketh the helles, that is to seyn, into lowe thinges of the erthe

PROSE I. Hec cum Philosophia, dignitate uultus.

WHAN Philosophye hadde songen softely and dolitably the forseide thinges, kepinge the dignitee of hir chere and the weighte of hir wordes, I thanne, that ne hadde nat al-outerly foryeten the wepinge and 5 the mourninge that was set in myn herte, forbrak the entencioun of hir that entendede yit to seyn some othre thinges. 'O,' quod I, 'thou that art gyderesse of verrey light; the thinges that thou hast 10 seid me hider-to ben so clere to me and so shewinge by the devyne lookinge of hem, and by thy resouns, that they ne mowen ben overcomen. And thilke 15 thinges that thou toldest me, al-be-it so that I hadde whylom forveten hem, for the sorwe of the wrong that hath ben don to me, yit natheles they ne weren nat al-outrely unknowen to me. But this 20 same is, namely, a right greet cause of my sorwe, so as the governour of thinges is good, yif that yveles mowen ben by any weyes; or elles yif that yveles passen with-oute punisshinge. The whiche thing 25 only, how worthy it is to ben wondred up-on, thou considerest it wel thy-self certeinly. But yit to this thing ther is yit another thing y-joigned, more to ben

- wondred up-on. For felonye is emperesse, 30 and floureth ful of richesses; and vertu nis nat al-only with-oute medes, but it is cast under and fortroden under the feet of felonous folk : and it abyeth the
- torments in stede of wikkede felounes. 35 Of alle whiche thinges ther nis no wight that may merveylen y-nough, ne compleine, that swiche thinges ben doon in the regne of god, that alle thinges woot and alle thinges may, and ne wole nat to but only gode thinges.

Thanne scyde she thus : 'Certes,' quod she, 'that were a greet merveyle, and an enbasshinge with-outen ende, and wel more horrible than alle monstres, yif it is were as thou wenest: that is to seem, that

- (1) were as the were stated as the background of the state state and an ordenour of meynee, that the vesseles that ben foule and vyle sholden ben honoured and heried, and so the precious vesseles sholden ben de-
- fould and vyle; but it nis nat so. For yif tho thinges that I have concluded a litel her-biforn ben kept hole and unraced, thou shalt wel knowe by the 55 autoritee of god, of the whos regne
- 35 attornee of got, of the whose regne I speke, that certes the gode folk ben alwey mighty, and shrewes ben alwey out-cast and feble; ne the vyces ne ben never-mo with-oute peyne, ne the vertues
- 60 ne ben nat with-oute mede; and that blisfulnesses comen alwey to goode folk, and infortune comth alwey to wikked folk. And thou shalt wel knowe many thinges of this kinde, that shollen cesen thy pleintes, and strengthen thee with 65 stedefast sadnesse. And for thou hast seyn the forme of the verray blisfulnesse by me, that have whylom shewed it thee, and thou hast knowen in whom blisfulnesse is y-set, alle thinges y-treted that 70 I trowe ben necessarie to putten forth. I shal shewe thee the wey that shal bringen thee ayein un-to thyn hous. And I shal ficchen fetheres in thy thought, by whiche it may arysen in heighte, so 75 that, alle tribulacioun y-don awey, thou, by my gydinge and by my path and by my sledes, shalt mowe retorne hool and sound in-to thy contree.

METRE I. Sunt etenim pennae uolucres mihi.

I have, forsothe, swifte fetheres that surmounten the heighte of hevene. Whan the swifte thought hath clothed it-self in tho fetheres, it despyseth the hateful erthes, and surmounteth the roundnesse 5 of the grete avr ; and it seeth the cloudes behinde his bak; and passeth the heighte of the region of the fyr, that eschaufeth by the swifte moevinge of the firmament, til that he areyseth him in-to the houses 10 that beren the sterres, and joyneth his weyes with the sonne Phebus, and felawshipeth the wey of the olde colde Saturnus; and he y-maked a knight of the clere sterre; that is to seyn, that the 15 thought is maked goddes knight by the sekinge of trouthe to comen to the verray knowlecke of god. And thilke thoght renneth by the cercle of the sterres, in alle places ther-as the shyninge night is 20 peinted; that is to seyn, the night that is cloudeles; for on nightes that ben cloudeles it semeth as the hevene were peinted with dyverse images of sterres. And whanne he hath y-doon ther y-nough, he shal 25 forleten the laste hevene, and he shal pressen and wenden on the bak of the swifte firmament, and he shal ben maked parfit of the worshipful light of god. Ther halt the lord of kinges the ceptre 30 of his might, and atempreth the governements of the world, and the shyninge juge of thinges, stable in him-self, governeth the swifte cart or wayn, that is to 35 seyn, the circuler movinge of the some.

- And yif thy wey ledeth the ayein so that thou be brought thider, thanne wolt thou saye now that that is the contract that thou requerest, of which
- 40 thou ne haddest no minde: "but now it remembreth me wel, heer was I born, heer wol I fastne my degree, heer wole I dwelle." But yif thee lyketh thanne to loken on the derknesse of the erthe
- 45 that thou hast forleten, thanne shalt thou seen that thise felonous tyraunts, that the wrecchede peple dredeth, now shollen ben exyled fro thilke fayre contree.'

PROSE II. Tum ego, Papae, inquam.

Than seyde I thus: 'owh ! I wondre me that thou binetest me so grete thinges; ne I ne doute nat that thou ne mayst wel performe that thou binetest. But 5 I preye thee only this, that thou ne tarye nat to telle me thike thinges that thou hast moeved.'

'First,' quod she, 'thou most nedes knowen, that goode folk ben alwey to stronge and mighty, and the shrewes ben feble and desert and naked of alle strengthes. And of thise thinges, certes, everich of hem is declared and shewed by other. For so as good and yvel ben

- <sup>15</sup> two contraries, yif so be that good be stedefast, than sheweth the feblesse of yvel al openly; and yif thou knowe cleerly the frelenesse of yvel, the stedefastnesse of good is knowen. But for as
- 20 moche as the fey of my sentence shal be the more forme and haboundannt, I will gon by that oo wey and by that other; and I wole conferme the thinges that ben purposed, now on this syde and
- 25 now on that syde. Two thinges ther ben in whiche the effect of alle the dedes of mankinde standeth, that is to seyn, wil and power; and yif that oon of thise two fayleth, ther nis nothing that may be

don. For yif that wil lakketh, ther nis go no wight that undertaketh to don that he wol nat don; and yif power fayleth, the wil nis but in ydel and stant for nanght. And ther-of cometh it, that yif thou see a wight that wolde geten that 35 he may nat geten, thou mayst nat douten that power ne fayleth him to haven that he wolde.' 'This is open and cleer,' quod I; 'ne it may nat ben deneyed in no manere.' open

'And yif thou see a wight,' quod she, 'that hath doon that he wolde doon, thou nilt nat douten that he ne hath had power to don it?' 'No,' quod L

'And in that that every wight may, 45 in that men may holden him mighty; as who seyth, in so moche as man is mighty to don a thing, in so mochel men halt him mighty; and in that that he ne may, in that men demen him to be feble.' 'I 50 confesse it wel, 'quod I.

'Remembreth thee,' quod she, 'that I have gadered and shewed by forseyde resouns that al the entencioun of the will of mankinde, which that is lad by dyverse 55 studies, hasteth to comen to blisfulnesse?' 'I tremembreth me wel,' quod I, 'that it hath ben shewed.'

'And recordeth thee nat thanne,' quod she, 'that blisfulnesse is thilke same good 60 that men requeren; so that, whan that blisfulnesse is requered of alle, that good also is requered and desired of alle?' 'It ne recordeth me nat,' quod I; 'for I have it gretly alwey ficched in my 65 memorie.'

'Alle folk thanne,' quod she, 'goode and eek badde, enforcen hem with-oute difference of entencioun to comen to good?' 'This is a verray conse-70 quence,' quod I.

'And certein is,' quod she, ' that by the getinge of good ben men y-maked goode?' ' This is certein,' quod I.

'Thanne geten goode men that they 75 desiren?' 'So semeth it,' quod I.

'But wikkede folk,' quod she, 'yif they geten the good that they desiren, they ne mowe nat be wikkede?' 'So is it,' quod L, So

'Thanne, so as that oon and that other,' quod she, 'desiren good; and the goode folk geten good, and nat the wikke folk; thanne nis it no doute that the 85 goode folk ne ben mighty and the wikkede folk ben feble?' 'Who-so that ever,' quod L, 'douteth of this, he ne may nat considere the nature of thinges ne the consequence of resouns.'

90 And over this quod she, 'Yif that ther be two thinges that han oo same purpose by kinde, and that oon of hem pursueth and parformeth thilke same thing by naturel office, and that other ne may nat

95 doon thilke naturel office, but folweth, by other manere thanne is convenable to nature, him that acomplissheth his purpos kindely, and yit he ne acomplissheth nat his owne purpos: whether of thise not two demestors for more mighty ?' ' ' ' i'i' that I conjecte,' quod I, 'that thou wolt seye, algates yit I desire to herkne it more pleynly of thee.'

'Thou will nat thanne deneye,' quod no5 she, 'that the moevement of goinge nis in men by kinde ?' 'No, forstothe,' quod L 'Ne thou ne doutest nat,' quod she, 'that thilke naturel office of goinge ne be the office of feet?' 'I ne doute it no nat,' quod L

'Thanne,' quod she, ' yif that a wight be mighty to moeve and goth upon his feet, and another, to whom thilke naturel office of feet lakketh, enforceth him to

115 gon crepinge up-on his handes: whiche of thise two oughte to ben holden the more mighty by right?' 'Knit forth the remenant, 'quod I; 'for no wight ne douteth that he that may gon by naturel roo office of feet ne be more mighty than he that ne may nat.'

'But the soverein good,' quod she, 'that is eveneliche purposed to the gode folk and to badde, the gode folk seken it 125 by naturel office of vertues, and the shrewes enforcen hem to geten it by dyverse coveityse of enthely thinges, which that nis no naturel office to geten thilke same soverein good. Trowestow that it to be any other wyse? ' 'Nay,' quod I;

'for the consequence is open and shewinge of thinges that I have graunted; that nedes gode folk moten ben mighty, and shrewes feeble and unmighty.'

'Thou rennest a-right biforn me,' quod 135 she, 'and this is the jugement ; that is to seyn, I juge of thee right as thise leches ben wont to hopen of syke folk, whan they aperceyven that nature is redressed and withstondeth to the maladve. But, 140 for I see thee now al redy to the understondinge. I shal shewe thee more thikke and continuel resouns. For loke now how greetly sheweth the feblesse and infirmitee of wikkede folk, that ne mowen 145 nat comen to that hir naturel entencioun ledeth hem, and yit almost thilke naturel entencioun constreineth hem. And what were to demen thanne of shrewes, yif thilke naturel help hadde forleten hem, the 150 which naturel help of intencioun goth awey biforn hem, and is so greet that unnethe it may ben overcome? Consider thanne how greet defaute of power and how greet feblesse ther is in wikkede 155 felonous folk : as who seath, the aretter thing that is coveited and the desire nat acomplisshed, of the lasse might is he that coveiteth it and may nat acomplisshe. And forthy Philosophie scyth thus by soverein 160 good: Ne shrewes ne requeren nat lighte medes ne veyne games, whiche they ne may folwen ne holden ; but they failen of thilke somme and of the heighte of thinges, that is to seyn, soverein good ; ne 165 thise wrecches ne comen nat to the effect of soverein good, the which they enforcen hem only to geten, by nightes and by dayes; in the getinge of which good the strengthe of good folk is ful wel v-sene. 170 For right so as thou mightest demen him mighty of goinge, that gooth on his feet til he mighte come to thilke place, fro the whiche place ther ne laye no wey forther to ben gon; right so most thou nedes 175 demen him for right mighty, that geteth and ateyneth to the ende of alle thinges that ben to desire, biyonde the which ende ther nis nothing to desire. Of the which power of good folk men may conclude, that 180 the wikked men semen to be bareine and naked of alle strengthe. For-why forleten they vertues and folwen vyces? Nis it nat for that they ne knowen nat

- 185 the goodes ? But what thing is more feble and more caitif thanne is the blindnesse of ignorance ? . Or elles they knowen ful wel whiche thinges that they oughten folwe, but lecherye and coveityse over-
- 190 throweth hem mistorned; and certes, so doth distemperature to feble men, that ne mowen nat wrastlen ayeins the vyces. Ne knowen they nat thanne wel that they forleten the good wilfully, and tornen
- 195 hem wilfully to vyces? And in this wyse they ne forleten nat only to ben mighty, but they forleten al-outrely in any wyse for to ben. For they that forleten the comune fyn of alle thinges that ben, they
- 200 forleten also therwith-al for to ben. And per-aventure it sholds semen to som folk that this were a merveile to seyen: that shrewes, whiche that continen the more partye of men, ne ben nat ne han no
- 205 beinge; but natheles, it is so, and thus stant this thing. For they that ben shrowes, I deneye nat that they ben shrewes; but I deneye, and seye simplely and pleinly, that they ne ben nat, ne han
- 210 no beinge. For right as thou mightest seven of the carayne of a man, that it were a deed man, but thou ne mightest nat simplely callen it a man; so graunte I well forsothe, that vicious folk ben wik-
- 215 ked, but I ne may nat graunten absolutly and simplely that they ben. For thilke thing that with-holdeth ordre and kepeth nature, thilke thing is and hath beinge; but what thing that faileth of that, that
- 220 is to seyn, that he forletth naturel ordre, he forleteth thilke thing that is set in his nature. But thou wolts seyn, that shrewes mowen. Certes, that ne deneye I nat; but certes, hir power ne descendeth nat
- 225 of strengthe, but of feblesse. For they moven don wikkednesses; the whiche they ne mighte nat don, yif they mighten dwellen in the forme and in the doinge of good folk. And thilke power sheweth ful
- 230 evidently that they ne mowen right naught. For so as I have gadered and proeved a litel her-biforn, that yvel is naught; and so as shrewes mowen only but shrewednesses, this conclusionn is al cleer, that shrewes ne mowen right 2; naught, ne han no power. And for as moche as thou understonde which is the strengthe of this power of shrewes, I have definisshed a litel her-biforn, that nothing is so mighty as soverein good.' 'That 2. is sooth,' quod I.

'And thilke same soverein good may don non yvel?' 'Certes, no,'quod I.

'Is ther any wight thanne,' quod she, 'that weneth that men mowen doon alle 24 thinges?' 'No man,' quod I, 'but-yif he be out of his witte.'

'But, certes, shrewes mowen don yvel,' quod she. 'Ye, wolde god,' quod I, 'that they mighten don non !'

'Thanne,' quod she, 'so as he that is mighty to doon only but goode thinges may don alle thinges; and they that ben mighty to don yvele thinges ne mowen nat alle thinges : thanne is it open thing 2 and manifest, that they that mowen don yvel ben of lasse power. And yit, to proeve this conclusioun, ther helpeth me this, that I have y-shewed her-biforn, that alle power is to be noumbred among thinges 24 that men oughten requere. And I have shewed that alle thinges, that oughten ben desired, ben referred to good, right as to a maner heighte of hir nature. But for to mowen don yvel and felonve ne may 2 nat ben referred to good. Thanne nis nat yvel of the noumbir of thinges that oughte ben desired. But alle power oughte ben desired and requered. Than is it open and cleer that the power ne the 2 mowinge of shrewes nis no power; and of alle thise thinges it sheweth wel, that the goode folke ben certeinly mighty, and the shrewes douteles ben unmighty. And it is cleer and open that thilke opinioun of 2 Plato is verray and sooth, that seith, that only wyse men may doon that they desiren; and shrewes mowen haunten that hem lyketh, but that they desiren, that is to seyn, to comen to sovereign good, 2. they ne han no power to acomplisshen that. For shrewes don that hem list, whan, by tho thinges in which they delyten, they wenen to ateine to thilke

285 good that they desiren ; but they ne geten ne ateinen nat ther-to, for vyces ne comen nat to blisfulnesse,

METRE II. Quos uides sedere celsos.

Who-so that the covertoures of hir veyne aparailes mighte strepen of thise proude kinges, that thou seest sitten on heigh in hir chaires gliteringe in shyninge 5 purpre, envirouned with sorwful armures, manasinge with cruel mouth, blowinge by woodnesse of herte, he shulde seen thanne that thilke lordes beren with-inne hir corages ful streite cheines. For to lecherve tormenteth hem in that oon syde with gredy venims; and troublable ire, that araiseth in him the flodes of troublinges, tormenteth up-on that other syde hir thought; or sorwe halt hem wery 15 and y-caught; or slydinge and deceivinge hope tormenteth hem. And therfore, sen thou seest oon heed, that is to seyn, oon tyraunt, beren so manye tyrannyes, thanne ne doth thilke tyraunt nat that 20 he desireth, sin he is cast doun with so manye wikkede lordes; that is to seyn, with so manye vyces, that han so wikkedly lordshipes over him.

PROSE III. Videsne igitur quanto in coeno.

Seestow nat thanne in how grete filthe thise shrewes ben y-wrapped, and with which cleernesse thise good folk shynen? In this sheweth it wel, that to goode folk 5 ne lakketh never-mo hir medes, ne shrewes lakken never-mo torments. For of alle thinges that ben y-doon, thilke thing, for which any-thing is don, it semeth as by right that thilke thing be to the mede of that: as thus: vif a man renneth in the stadie. or in the forlong. for the corone, thanne lyth the mede in the corone for which he renneth. And I have shewed that blisfulnesse is thilke 15 same good for which that alle thinges ben doon. Thanne is thilke same good ben doon. Thanne is thilke same good purposed to the workes of mankinde right as a comune mede; which mede ne may ben dissevered fro good folk. For no wight as by right, fro thennes-forth that 20 him lakketh goodnesse, ne shal ben cleped good. For which thing, folk of goode maneres, hir medes ne forsaken hem never-mo. For al-be-it so that shrewes wexen as wode as hem list ayeins goode 25 folk, vit never-the-lesse the corone of wyse men shal nat fallen ne faden. For foreine shrewednesse ne binimeth nat fro the corages of goode folk hir propre . honour. But yif that any wight rejoyse 30 him of goodnesse that he hadde take fro with-oute (as who seith, wif that any wight hadde his goodnesse of any other man than of him-self), certes, he that vaf him thilke goodnesse, or elles som other wight, 35 mighte binime it him. But for as moche as to every wight his owne propre bountee yeveth him his mede, thanne at erst shal he failen of mede whan he forleteth to ben good. And at the laste, so as alle 40 medes ben requered for men wenen that they ben goode, who is he that wolde deme, that he that is right mighty of good were part-les of mede? And of what mede shal he be guerdoned? Certes, of 45 right faire mede and right grete aboven alle medes. Remembre thee of thilke noble corolarie that I yaf thee a litel her-biforn ; and gader it to-gider in this manere :-- so as good him-self is blisful- 50 nesse, thanne is it cleer and certein, that alle good folk ben maked blisful for they ben goode : and thilke folk that ben blisful, it acordeth and is covenable to ben goddes. Thanne is the mede of goode 55 folk swich that no day shal enpeiren it, ne no wikkednesse ne shal derken it, ne power of no wight ne shal nat amenusen it, that is to seyn, to ben maked goddes. And sin it is thus, that goode men ne failen 60 never-mo of hir mede, certes, no wys man ne may doute of undepartable peyne of the shrewes ; that is to seyn, that the peyne of shrewes ne departeth nat from hem-self never-mo. For so as goode and yvel, and 65 peyne and medes ben contrarve, it mot nedes ben, that right as we seen bityden in guerdoun of goode, that also mot the peyne of yvel answery, by the contrarye party, to shrewes. Now thanne, so as 70 bountee and prowesse ben the mede to goode folk, al-so is shrewednesse it-self torment to shrewes. Thanne, who-so that ever is entecched and defouled with 75 perce, he ne douteth nat, that he is

- 75 peyne, he he dolled hat, that he is enteched and defouled with yvel. Yiff shrewes thanne wolen preysen hem-self, may it semen to hem that they ben withouten party of torment, sin they ben
- So swiche that the uttereste wikkednesse (that is to seyn, wikkede thevees, which that is the uttereste and the worste kinde of shrevednesse) ne defouleth ne enteccheth nat hem only, but infecteth and en-
- 85 venimeth hem gretly? And also look on shrewes, that ben the contrarie party of goode men, how greet peyne felawshipeth and folweth hem! For thou hast lerned a litel her-biforn, that al thing that is
- go and hath beinge is oon, and thilke same oon is good; thanne is this the consequence that it semeth wel, that al that is and hath beinge is good; this is to seyn, as who seyth, that beinge and unites and
- 95 goodnesse is al oon. And in this manere it folweth thanne, that al thing that faileth to ben good, it stinteth for to be and for to han any beinge : wherfore it is, that shrewes stinten for to ben that
- 100 they weren. But thilke other forme of mankinde, that is to seyn, the forme of the body with-oute, sheweth yit that thise shrewes weren whylom men; wher-for, whan they ben perverted and torned in-to
- 105 malice, certes, than han they forlorn the nature of mankinde. But so as only bountee and prowesse may enhansen every man over other men; thanne mot it nedes be that shrewes, which that
- to shrewednesse hath cast out of the condicioun of mankinde, ben put under the merite and the desert of men. Thanne bitydeth it, that yif thou seest a wight that be transformed into yyces, thou ne
- 115 mayst nat wene that he be a man. For yif he be ardaunt in avaryce, and that he be a ravinour by violence of foreine richesse, thou shalt seyn that he is lyke to the wolf. And yif he be felonous and
- 120 with-oute reste, and exercyse his tonge to chydinges, thou shalt lykne him to the hound. And vif he be a prevey awaitour v-hid, and rejoyseth him to ravisshe by wyles, thou shalt seyn him lyke to the fox-whelpes. And yif he be distempre 12 and quaketh for ire, men shal wene that he bereth the corage of a lyoun. And vif he be dredful and fleinge, and dredeth thinges that ne oughten nat to ben dred, men shal holden him lyk to the hert, 13 And vif he be slow and astoned and lache, he liveth as an asse. And yif he be light and unstedefast of corage, and chaungeth ay his studies, he is lykned to briddes. And if he be plounged in foule 13 and unclene luxuries, he is with-holden in the foule delyces of the foule sowe. Thanne folweth it, that he that forleteth bountee and prowesse, he forleteth to ben a man ; sin he may nat passen in-to the 14 condicioun of god, he is torned in-to a beest.

METRE III. Vela Neritii dulcis.

Eurus the wind aryvede the sailes of Ulixes, duk of the contree of Narice, and his wandringe shippes by the see, in-to the ile ther-as Circes, the faire goddesse. doughter of the sonne, dwelleth; that 5 medleth to hir news gestes drinkes that ben touched and maked with enchauntements. And after that hir hand, mighty over the herbes, hadde chaunged hir gestes in-to dyverse maneres; that oon of 10 hem, is covered his face with forme of a boor; that other is chaunged in-to a lyoun of the contree of Marmorike, and his nayles and his teeth wexen; that other of hem is neweliche chaunged in-to 15 a wolf, and howleth whan he wolde were : that other goth debonairely in the hous as a tygre of Inde. But al-be-it so that the godhed of Mercurie, that is cleped the brid of Arcadie, hath had mercy of the 20 duke Ulixes, biseged with dyverse vyeles. and hath unbounden him fro the pestilence of his ostesse, algates the roweres and the marineres hadden by this ydrawen in-to hir mouthes and dronken 25 the wikkede drinkes. . They that weren woxen swyn hadden by this v-chaunged hir mete of breed, for to eten akornes of okes. Non of hir limes ne dwelleth with

- 30 hem hole, but they han lost the voice and the body; only hir thought dwelleth with hem stable, that wepeth and biweileth the monstruous chaunginge that they suffren. O overlight hand (as who egith,
- 35 O! feble and light is the hand of Circes the enchaunteresse, that chaungeth the bodyes of folkes in-to bestes, to regard and to comparisoun of mutacioum that is maked by vyces); no the herbes of Circes ne ben nat
- to mighty. For al-be-it so that they may chaungen the limes of the body, algates yit they may nat chaunge the hertes; for with-inne is y-hid the strengthe and vigor of men, in the scoree tour of hir hertes;
- 45 that is to seyn, the strengthe of resour. But thilke venims of vyces to-drawen a man to hem more mightly than the venim of Circes; for vyces ben so oruel that they percen and thorugh-passen the corage 50 with-inne: and, thook they ne anove nat
- the body, yit vyces wooden to destroye men by wounde of thought.'

PROSE IV. Tum ego, Fateor, inquam.

Than seyde I thus: 'I confesse and am a-knowe it,' quod I; 'ne I ne see nat that men may sayn, as by right, that shrewes ne ben chaunged in-to bestes 5 by the qualitee of hir soules, al-be-it so that they kepen yit the forme of the body of mankinde. But I nolde nat of shrewes, af which the thought cruel woodeth al-wey in-to destruction of goode men, to that it were leveful to hem to don that.'

'Certes,' quod she, 'ne is nis nat leveful to hem, as I shal wel shewe thee in covenable place; but natheles, yif so were that thilke that men wenen be leveful to

- 15 shrewes were binomen hem, so that they ne mighte nat anoyen or doon harm to goode men, certes, a greet partye of the peyne to shrewes sholde ben allegged and releved. For al-be-it so that this ne seme nat
- so credible thing, per-aventure, to some folk, yit moot it nedes be, that shrewes ben more wrecches and unsely whan they may doon and performe that they co-

veiten, than yif they mighte nat complisshen that they coveiten. For yif so 25 be that it be wrecchednesse to wilne to don yvel, than is more wrecchednesse to mowen don vvel : with-oute whiche mowinge the wrecched wil sholde languisshe with-oute effect. Than, sin that everiche 30 of thise thinges hath his wrecchednesse, that is to seyn, wil to don yvel and mowinge to don yvel, it moot nedes be that they ben constreyned by three unselinesses, that wolen and mowen and performen felonyes 35 and shrewednesses.' 'I acorde me,' quod I; 'but I desire gretly that shrewes losten sone thilke unselinesse, that is to seyn, that shrewes weren despoyled of mowinge to don vvel.' 40

'So shallen they, 'quod she, 'soner, peraventure, than thou woldest ; or soner than they hem-self wene to lakken mowinge to don yvel. For ther nis no-thing so late in so shorte boundes of this lyf, that 45 is long to abyde, nameliche, to a corage inmortel; of whiche shrewes the grete hope, and the hye compassinges of shrewednesses, is ofte destroyed by a sodevn ende, or they ben war : and that 50 thing estableth to shrewes the ende of hir shrewednesse. For yif that shrewednesse maketh wrecches, than mot he nedes ben most wrecched that lengest is a shrewe ; the whiche wikked shrewes wolde I demen 55 aldermost unsely and caitifs, yif that hir shrewednesse ne were finisshed, at the leste wey, by the outtereste deeth. For yif I have concluded sooth of the unselinesse of shrewednesse, than sheweth it 60 cleerly that thilke wrecchednesse is withouten ende, the whiche is certein to ben perdurable.' 'Certes,' quod I, 'this conclusioun is hard and wonderful to graunte : but I knowe wel that it acordeth 65 moche to the thinges that I have graunted her-biforn.'

'Thou hast,' quod she, 'the right estimacioun of this; but who-so-ever wene that it be a hard thing to acorde him to 70 a conclusioun, it is right that he shewe that some of the premisses ben false; or elles he moot shewe that the collacioun of proposiciouns nis nat speedful to a

- 75 necessarie conclusion. And yif it be nat so, but that the premisses ben y-graunted, ther is not why he shold blame the argument. For this thing that Lshal telle thee now ne shal nat seme lasse
- 80 wonderful; but of the thinges that ben taken also it is necessarie; 'as who septh, it folweth of that which that is purposed biform, 'What is that?' quod I.
- <sup>6</sup> Certes,<sup>7</sup> quod she, <sup>6</sup> that is, that thise 85 wikked shrowes ben more blisful, or elles Lasse vereches, that abyen the torments that they han deserved, than yif no peyne of justice ne chastysede hem. Ne this ne seye I nat now, for that any man mighte
- 90 thenke, that the maners of shrewes ben coriged and chastysed by veniaunce, and that they ben brought to the right wey by the drede of the torment, ne for that they yeven to other folk ensaumple to fleen
- 95 fro vyces; but I understande yit in another manere, that shrewes ben more unsely whan they ne ben nat punisshed, al-be-it so that ther ne be had no resoun or lawe of correccioun, ne non ensaumple
- 100 of lokinge.' 'And what manere shal that ben,' quod I, 'other than hath be told her-biforn?'

'Have we nat thanne graunted,' quod she, 'that goode folk ben blisful, and 105 shrewes hen wreeches?' 'Yis,' quod I. 'Thanne,' quod she, 'yif that any good were added to the wreechednesse of any wight, nis he nat more weleful than he that ne hath no medlinge of good in his 110 solitarie wreechednesse?' 'So semeth it,' quod I.

cioun of som good ?' 'Why sholde he nat ?' quod L

'Thanne, certes,' quod she, 'han shrewes, whan they ben punisshed, som-125 what of good anexed to hir wrecchednesse, that is to seyn, the same peyne that they suffren, which that is good by the resoun of justice; and whan thilke same shrewes ascapen with-oute torment, than han they som-what more of yvel yit 13 over the wikkednesse that they han don, that is to seyn, defaute of peyne; which defaute of peyne, thou hast graunted, is yvel for the deserte of felonye.' 'I ne may nat denye it,' quod I. 13

'Moche more thanne,' quod she, 'ben shrewes unsely, whan they ben wrongfully delivered fro peyne, than whan they ben punisshed by rightful venjaunce. But this is open thing and cleer, 14 that it is right that shrewes ben punisshed, and it is wikkednesse and wrong that they escapen unpunisshed.' 'Who mighte deneye that?' quod L

'But,' quod she, 'may any man denye 14, that al that is right nis good; and also the contrarie, that al that is wrong is wikke?' 'Certes,' quod I, 'these thinges ben clere y-nough; and that we han concluded a litel her-biforn. But 152 I praye thee that thou telle me, yif thou acordest to leten no torment to sowles, after that the body is ended by the deeth i' this is to seyn, understandestow aught that sowles han any torment after the 155 deeth of the body?

'Certes,' quod she, 'ye; and that right greet; of which sowles,' quod she, 'I trowe that some ben tormented by asprenesse of peyne; and some sowles, I trowe, 16 ben exercised by a purginge mekenesse. But my conseil nis nat to determinye of thise peynes. But I have travailed and told yit hiderto, for thou sholdest knowe that the mowinge of shrewes, which 16; mowinge thee semeth to ben unworthy, nis no mowinge : and eek of shrewes, of which thou pleinedest that they ne were nat punisshed, that thou woldest seen that they ne weren never-mo with-outen 170 the torments of hir wikkednesse : and of the licence of the mowinge to don uvel, that thou prevdest that it mighte sone ben ended, and that thou woldest favn lernen that it ne sholde nat longe dure : and 175 that shrewes ben more unselv vif they

And after this, I have shewed thee that more unsely 180 ben shrewes, whan they escapen withoute hir rightful peyne, than whan they ben punisshed by rightful venjaunce. And of this sentence folweth it, that thanne ben shrewes constreined at the 185 laste with most grevous torment, whan men wenethat they ne be nat punisshed.'

Whan I consider thy resouns,' quod I, 'I ne trowe nat that men seyn any-thing more verayly. And yif I torne ayein to too the studies of men, who is he to whom it sholde seme that he ne sholde nat only leven thise thinges, but eek gladly herkne hem?'

'Certes,' quod she, 'so it is; but men 195 may nat. For they han hir eyen so wont to the derknesse of erthely thinges, that they ne may nat liften hem up to the light of cleer softhästnesse; but they ben lyke to briddes, of which the night light-

200 neth hir lokinge, and the day blindeth hem. For whan men loken nat the ordre of thinges, but hir lustes and talents, they wene that either the leve or the mowinge to don wikkednesse, or elles the scapinge 205 with-oute peyne, be weleful. But consider the jugement of the perdurable lawe. For yif thou conferme thy corage to the beste thinges, thou ne hast no nede of no juge to yeven thee prys or mede; for 210 thou hast joyned thy-self to the most excellent thing. And yif thou have enclyned thy studies to the wikked thinges, ne seek no foreyne wreker out of thyself; for thou thy-self hast thrist thy-self 215 in-to wikke thinges: right as thou

And what woltow seyn of this : yif that a man hadde al forlorn his sighte and hadde foryeten that he ever saugh, and wende that no-thing ne fayl- 230 ede him of perfeccioun of mankinde, now we that mighten seen the same thinges, wolde we nat wene that he were blinde? Ne also ne acordeth nat the poeple to that I shal seyn, the which thing is sus-235 tened by a stronge foundement of resouns, that is to seyn, that more unsely ben they that don wrong to othre folk than they that the wrong suffren.' 'I wolde heren thilke same resouns,' quod I. 240

'Denyestow,' quod she, 'that alle shrewes ne ben worthy to han torment?' 'Nay,' quod I.

'But,' quod she, 'I am certein, by many resouns, that shrewes ben unsely.' 245 'It acordeth,' quod I.

'Thanne ne doutestow nat,' quod she, 'that thilke folk that ben worthy of torment, that they ne ben wreeches ?' 'It acordeth wel,' quod I. 250

'Yif thou were thanne,' quod she, 'y-set a juge or a knower of thinges, whether, trowestow, that men sholden tormenten him that hath don the wrong,' 255 'I ne doute nat,' quod I, 'that I nolde don suffisannt satisfaccioun to him that hadde suffred the wrong by the sorwe of him that hadde don the wrong.'

'Thanne semeth it,'quod she, 'that the 260 doere of wrong is more wreeche than he that suffred wrong ?' 'That folweth wel,'quod I.

'Than,' quod she, ' by these causes and by othre causes that ben enforced by the 265 same rote, filthe or sinne, by the propre nature of it, maketh men wrecches; and it sheweth wel, that the wrong that men don nis nat the wrecchednesse of him that receiveth the wrong, but the 270 wrecchednesse of him that doth the But certes,' quod she, 'thise wrong. oratours or advocats don al the contrarye: for they enforcen hem to commoeve the juges to han pitee of hem that 275 han suffred and receyved the thinges that ben grevous and aspre, and yit men sholden more rightfully han pitee of hem

'Thus is it,' quod I. 'But so as thou hast yeven or bi-hight me to unwrappen the hid causes of thinges, and to discovere me the resouns covered with derknesses, I prey thee that thou devyse and 5 juge me of this matere, and that thou do me to understonden it; for this miracle or this wonder troubleth me right gretly.'

And thanne she, a litel what smylinge. seyde : 'thou clepest me,' quod she, 'to 10 telle thing that is grettest of alle thinges that mowen ben axed, and to the whiche questioun unnethes is ther aught y-nough to laven it; as who seyth, unnethes is ther suffisauntly anything to answere parfitly to 15 thy questioun. For the matere of it is swich, that whan o doute is determined and cut awey, ther wexen other doutes with-oute number : right as the hevedes wexen of Ydre, the serpent that Ercules 20 slowh. Ne ther ne were no manere ne non ende, but-vif that a wight constreinede tho doutes by a right lyfly and quik fyr of thought; that is to seyn, by vigour and strengthe of wit. For in this 25 manere men weren wont to maken questions of the simplicitee of the purviaunce of god, and of the order of destince, and of sodein happe, and of the knowinge and predestinacioun divyne, and of the libertee 30 of free wille; the whiche thinges thou thy-self aperceyvest wel, of what weight they ben. But for as mochel as the knowinge of thise thinges is a maner porcioun of the medicine of thee, al-be-it 35

so that I have litel tyme to don it, yit natheles I wol enforcen me to shewe somwhat of it. But al-thogh the norisshinges of ditee of musike delyteth 40 thee, thou most suffren and forberen

- Tho spak she right as by another 45 biginninge, and seyde thus. 'The engendringe of alle thinges,' quod she, 'and alle the progressiouns of muable nature, and al that moeveth in any manere, taketh his causes, his ordre, and his
- 50 formes, of the stablenesse of the divyne thoght; and thilke divyne thought, that is y-set and put in the tour, that is to seyn, in the heighte, of the simplicitee of god, stablissheth many maner gyses to thinges
- 55 that ben to done; the whiche maner, whan that men loken it in thilke pure clennesse of the divyne intelligence, it is y-cleped purviaunce; but whan thilke maner is referred by men to thinges that
- 60 it moveth and disponeth, thanne of olde men it was cleped destinee. The whiche thinges, yif that any wight loketh wel in his thought the strengthe of that oon and of that other, he shal lightly mowen seen,
- 65 that thise two thinges ben dyverse. For purvisunce is thilke divyne reson that is established in the soverein prince of thinges; the whiche purvisunce disponeth alle thinges. But destinee is the
- 70 disposicioun and ordinaunce clyvinge to moevable thinges, by the whiche disposicioun the purviaunce knitteth alle thinges in hir ordres; for purviaunce embraceth alle thinges to-hepe, al-thogh
- 75 that they ben dyverse, and al-thogh they ben infinite; but destinee departeth and ordeineth alle thinges singulerly, and divyded in moevinges, in places, in formes, in tymes, as thus: lat the un-

- 85 that ben called destinee. And al-be-it so that thise thinges ben dyverse, yit nathe-les hangeth that oon on that other: forwhy the order destinal procedeth of the simplicitee of purviaunce. For right as a werkman, that aperceyveth in his 90 thoght the forme of the thing that he wol make, and moeveth the effect of the werk, and ledeth that he hadde loked biforn in his thoght simply and presently, by temporel ordinaunce : certes, 95 right so god disponeth in his purviaunce, singularly and stably, the thinges that ben to done, but he aministreth in many maneres and in dyverse tymes, by destinee, thilke same thinges that he hath 100 disponed. Thanne, whether that destinee be exercysed outher by some divyne spirits, servaunts to the divyne purviaunce, or elles by som sowle, or elles by alle nature servinge to god, or elles by 105 the celestial moevinges of sterres, or elles by the vertu of angeles, or elles by the dyverse subtilitee of develes, or elles by any of hem, or elles by hem alle, the destinal ordinaunce is y-woven and acom- 110" plisshed. Certes, it is open thing, that the purviaunce is an unmoevable and simple forme of thinges to done; and the moveable bond and the temporel ordinaunce of thinges, whiche that the 115 divyne simplicitee of purviaunce hath ordeyned to done, that is destinee. For which it is, that alle thinges that ben put under destinee ben, certes, subgits to purviaunce, to whiche purviaunce des- 120 tinee itself is subgit and under. But some thinges ben put under purviaunce, that surmounten the ordinaunce of destinee; and tho ben thilke that stably ben v-ficched negh to the firste godhed : they 125 surmounten the ordre of destinal moev-For right as of cercles that abletee. tornen a-boute a same centre or a-boute a poynt, thilke cercle that is innerest or most with-inne joyneth to the simplesse 130 of the middel, and is, as it were, a centre or a poynt to that other cercles that tornen a-bouten him; and thilke that is outterest, compassed by larger envyronninge, is unfolden by larger spaces, in so 135 moche as it is forthest fro the middel simplicitee of the poynt; and yif ther be any-thing that knitteth and felawshippeth him-self to thilke middel porth, it iqo is constreined in-to simplicitee, that is to seyn, in-to unmoevabletee, and it ceseth to be shad and to fisten dyversely: right so, by semblable resoun, thilke thing that departeth for thest fro the first thoght of

- 150 seyn, god And yif the thing clyveth to the stedefastnesse of the thoght of god, and be with-oute moevinge, certes, it sormounteth the necessitee of destinee. Thanne right swich comparison as it is
- 155 of skilinge to understondinge, and of thing that is engendred to thing that is, and of tyme to eternitee, and of the cercle to the centre, right so is the ordre of moevable destinee to the stable sim-
- <sup>150</sup> plicites of purviance. Thilke ordinance moveth the hevene and the sterres, and atempreth the elements togideramongeshem-self, and transformeth hem by entrechaungeable mutacioun;
- 165 and thilke same ordre neweth ayein alle thinges growinge and fallinge a-donn, by semblable progressiouns of sedes and of sexes, that is to seyn, male and femele. And this ilke ordre constreineth the for-
- 170 tunes and the dedes of men by a bond of causes, nat able to ben unbounde; the whiche destinal causes, whan they passen out fro the biginninges of the unmoevable purviance, it mot nedes be that they ne
- (75 be nat mutable. And thus ben the thinges ful wel y-governed, yif that the simplicited dwellinge in the divyne thoght sheweth forth the ordre of causes, unable to ben y-bowed; and this ordre con-
- 180 streineth by his propre stabletee the moevable thinges, or elles they sholden fleten folily. For which it is, that alle thinges semen to ben confus and trouble to us men, for we ne mowen nat considere
- 185 thilke ordinaunce; natheles, the propre maner of every thinge, dressinge hem to goode, disponeth hem alle,

For ther nis no-thing don for cause of yvel; ne thilke thing that is don by wikkede folk nis nat don for yvel. The whiche 190 shrewes, as I have shewed ful plentivously, seken good, but wikked errour mistorneth hem, ne the ordre cominge fro the poynt of soverein good ne de-clyneth nat fro his biginninge. But thou 195 mayst seyn, what unreste may ben a worse confusionn than that gode men han somtyme adversitee and somtyme prosperitee, and shrewes also now han thinges that they desiren, and now 200 thinges that they haten? Whether men liven now in swich hoolnesse of thoght, (as who seyth, ben men now so wyse), that swiche folk as they demen to ben gode folk or shrewes, that it moste nedes ben 205 that folk ben swiche as they wenen? But in this manere the domes of men discorden, that thilke men that some folk demen worthy of mede, other folk demen hem worthy of torment. But lat 210 us graunte. I pose that som man may wel demen or knowen the gode folk and the badde; may he thanne knowen and seen thilke innereste atempraunce of corages, as it hath ben wont to be seyd of bodies; 215 as who seyth, may a man speken and determinen of atempraunces in corages, as men were wont to demen or speken of complexiouns and atempraunces of bodies ? No it ne is nat an unlyk miracle, to hem 220 that ne knowen it nat, (as who seith, but. it is lyke a merveil or a miracle to hem that ne knowen it nat), why that swete thinges ben covenable to some bodies that ben hole, and to some bodies bittere thinges 225 ben covenable; and also, why that some syke folk ben holpen with lighte medicynes, and some folk ben holpen with sharpe medicynes. But natheles, the leche that knoweth the manere and the 230 atempraunce of hele and of maladye, ne merveileth of it no-thing. But what other thing semeth hele of corages but bountee and prowesse? And what other thing semeth maladye of corages but 235 vyces? Who is elles kepere of good or dryver awey of yvel, but god, governour and lecher of thoughtes? The whiche god. whan he hath biholden from the heye

- 255 wot. And Lucan, my familer, telleth that "the victorious cause lykede to the goddes, and the cause overcomen lykede to Catoun." Thanne, what-so-ever thou mayst seen that is don in this world 200 unhoped or unwened, certes, it is the
- (a) involved of involved, certes, it is the right order of thinges; but, as to thy wikkede opinioun, it is a confusioun. But I suppose that som man be so wel y-thewed, that the divyne jugement and 26 the iugement of makinde acorden hem
- 205 the jugement of manufacture accorden here to-gider of him; but he is so unstedefast of corage, that, yil any adversite come to him, he wol forleten, par-aventure, to continue innocence, by the which he ne
- 270 may nat with-holden fortune. Thanne the wyse dispensacioun of god spareth him, the whiche man adversitee mighte enpeyren; for that god wol nat suffren him to travaile, to whom that travaile
- 275 nis nat covenable. Another man is parfit in alle vertues, and is an holy man, and negh to god, so that the purviaunce of god wolde demen, that it were a felonye that he were touched with any adver-
- 280 sitees; so that he wol nat suffre that swich a man be moeved with any bodily maladye. But so as seyde a philosophre, the more excellent by me: he seyde in Grek, that "vertues han edified the body
- 285 of the holy man." And ofte tyme it bitydeth, that the somme of thinges that ben to done is taken to governe to gode folk, for that the malice haboundant of shrewes sholde ben abated. And god 200 yeveth and departed to other folk pros-peritees and adversitees y-medled tohepe, after the qualitee of hir corages, and remordeth som folk by adversitee, for they ne sholde nat wexen proude by longe welefulnesse. And other folk he suffreth 295 to ben travailed with harde thinges, for that they sholden confermen the vertues of corage by the usage and exercitacioun of pacience. And other folk dreden more than they oughten +that whiche they 300 mighten wel beren; and somme dispyse that they mowe nat beren; and thilke folk god ledeth in-to experience of himself by aspre and sorwful thinges. And many othre folk han bought honourable 305 renoun of this world by the prys of glorious deeth. And som men, that ne mowen nat ben overcomen by torments, have veven ensaumple to othre folk, that vertu may nat ben overcomen by adver- 310 sitees; and of alle thinges ther nis no doute, that they ne ben don rightfully and ordenely, to the profit of hem to whom we seen thise thinges bityde. For certes, that adversitee comth somtyme 315 to shrewes, and somtyme that they desiren, it comth of thise forseide causes. And of sorwful thinges that bityden to shrewes, certes, no man ne wondreth ; for alle men wenen that they han wel de- 320 served it, and that they ben of wikkede merite; of whiche shrewes the torment somtyme agasteth othre to don felonyes. and somtyme it amendeth hem that suffren the torments. And the pros- 325 peritee that is yeven to shrewes sheweth a greet argument to gode folk, what thing they sholde demen of thilke welefulnesse, the whiche prosperitee men seen ofte serven to shrewes. In the which thing 330 I trowe that god dispenseth; for, peraventure, the nature of som man is so overthrowinge to yvel, and so uncovenable, that the nedy povertee of his houshold mighte rather egren him to don 335 felonves. And to the maladye of him god putteth remedie, to veven him richesses. And som other man biholdeth his conscience defouled with sinnes, and maketh comparisoun of his fortune and of him- 340 self; and dredeth, per-aventure, that his blisfulnesse, of which the usage is joyeful to him, that the lesinge of thilke blisfulnesse ne be nat sorwful to him; and 45 therfor he wol chaunge his maneres, and, for he dredeth to lese his fortune, he forleteth his wikkednesse. To othre folk is welefulnesse y-yeven unworthily, the whiche overthroweth hem in-to distruc-50 cioun that they han deserved. And to som othre folk is yeven power to punisshen, for that it shal be cause of continuacioun and exercysinge to gode folk and cause of torment to shrewes. For so as 355 ther nis non alyaunce by-twixe gode folk and shrewes, ne shrewes ne mowen nat acorden amonges hem-self. And why nat? For shrewes discorden of hem-self by hir vyces, the whiche vyces al to-60 renden hir consciences; and don ofte tyme thinges, the whiche thinges, whan they han don hem, they demen that tho thinges ne sholden nat han ben don. For which thing thilke soverein purveaunce 65 hath maked ofte tyme fair miracle; so that shrewes han maked shrewes to ben gode men. For whan that som shrewes seen that they suffren wrongfully felonyes of othre shrewes, they wexen eschaufed 70 in-to hate of hem that anoveden hem, and retornen to the frut of vertu, whan they studien to ben unlyk to hem that they han hated. Certes, only this is the divyne might, to the whiche might yveles ben 375 thanne gode, whan it useth tho yveles covenably, and draweth out the effect of any gode; as who seyth, that yvel is good only to the might of god, for the might of god ordeyneth thilke yvel to good. For oon so ordre embraseth alle thinges, so that what wight that departeth fro the resoun of thilke ordre which that is assigned to him, algates yit he slydeth in-to another ordre, so that no-thing nis leveful to folye 85 in the reame of the divyne purviaunce; as who seyth, nothing nis with-outen ordi-

b it nis nat leveful to man to comprehenden by wit, ne unfolden by word, alle the subtil ordinaunces and disposiciouns of the divvne entente. For only it oughte suffise to han loked, that god him-self, maker of alle natures, ordeineth and 395 dresseth alle thinges to gode ; whyl that he hasteth to with-holden the thinges that he hath maked in-to his semblaunce, that is to seyn, for to with-holden thinges in-to good, for he him-self is good, he 400 chaseth out al yvel fro the boundes of his comunalitee by the ordre of necessitee destinable. For which it folweth, that yif thou loke the purvisunce ordeininge the thinges that men wenen ben out- 405 rageous or haboundant in erthes, thou ne shalt not seen in no place no-thing of vvel. But I see now that thou art charged with the weighte of the questioun, and wery with the lengthe of. my 410 resoun ; and that thou abydest som sweetnesse of songe. If thou, wys, wilt demen in thy pure thought the rightes or the lawes of the heve thonderer, that is to seyn, of god, loke thou and bihold the heightes of the soverein hevene. There kepen the sterres, 5 by rightful alliaunce of thinges, hir olde pees. The sonne, y-moeved by his rody fyr, ne distorbeth nat the colde cercle of the mone. No the sterre y-cleped 'the Bere,' that enclyneth his ravisshinge 10 courses abouten the soverein heighte of the worlde, ne the same sterre Ursa nis never-mo wasshen in the depe westrene see, ne coveiteth nat to deven his flaumbes in the see of the occian, al-thogh he see 15 othre sterres y-plounged in the see. And Hesperus the sterre bodeth and telleth alwey the late nightes; and Lucifer the sterre bringeth ayein the clere day. And thus maketh Love entrechaungeable the 20 perdurable courses; and thus is discordable bataile y-put out of the contree of the sterres. This acordaunce atempreth by evenelyk maneres the elements, that the moiste thinges, stryvinge with the 25

drye thinges, yeven place by stoundes; and the colde thinges joynen hem by feyth to the hote thinges; and that the lighte fyr aryseth in to heighte; and the

PROSE I. Dixerat, orationisque cursum.

She hadde sevd, and torned the cours of hir resoun to some othre thinges to ben treted and to ben y-sped. Thanne seyde I. 'Certes, rightful is thyn amonestinge 5 and ful digne by auctoritee. But that thou seidest whylom, that the questioun of the divyne purviaunce is enlaced with many other questiouns, I understonde wel and proeve it by the same thing. But

10 I axe yif that thou wenest that hap be any thing in any weys; and, yif thou wenest that hap be anything, what is it?'

Thanne quod she, 'I haste me to yilden 15 and assoilen to thee the dette of my bihest, and to shewen and opnen the wey, by which wey thou mayst come ayein to thy contree. But al-be-it so that the thinges which that thou axest ben right

20 profitable to knowe, yit ben they diverse somwhat fro the path of my purpos; and it is to douten that thou ne be maked wery by mis-weyes, so that thou ne mayst nat suffyce to mesuren the right wey.'

25 'Ne doute thee ther-of nothing,' quod I.

'For, for to knowen thilke thinges togedere, in the whiche thinges I delyte me greetly, that shal ben to me in stede of reste; sin it is nat to douten of the thinges folwinge, whan every syde of thy 3 disputacioun shal han be stedefast to me by undoutous feith.'

Thanne seyde she, 'That manere wol I don thee'; and bigan to speken right thus. 'Certes,' quod she, 'yif any wight 3 diffinisshe hap in this manere, that is to seyn, that "hap is bitydinge y-brought forth by foolish moevinge and by no knettinge of causes," I conferme that hap nis right naught in no wyse; and I deme 4 al-outrely that hap nis, ne dwelleth but a voice, as who seith, but an ydel word, with-outen any significacioun of thing submitted to that vois. For what place mighte ben left, or dwellinge, to folye 4 and to disordenaunce, sin that god ledeth and constreineth alle thinges by ordre? For this sentence is verray and sooth, that "nothing ne hath his beinge of naught"; to the whiche sentence none 5 of thise olde folk ne withseyde never; al-be-it so that they ne understoden ne meneden it naught by god, prince and

- beginnere of werkinge, but they easten 55 [it] as a manere foundement of subject material, that is to seyn, of the nature of alle resoun. And yif that any thing is woxen or comen of no causes, than shal it seme that thilke thing is comen or woxen
- 60 of naught; but yif this ne may nat ben don, thanne is it nat possible, that hap be any swich thing as I have diffinisshed a litel heer-biforn.' 'How shal it thanne be?' quod I. 'Nis ther thanne
- 65 no-thing that by right may be cleped either "hap" or elles "aventure of fortune"; or is ther aught, al-be-it so that it is hid fro the peple, to which these wordes ben covenable?"
- 70 'Myn Aristotulis,' quod she, 'in the book of his Phisik, diffinissheth this thing by short resoun, and neigh to the sothe.' 'In which manere?' quod I.

"As ofte, quod she, 'as men doon any 75 thing for grace of any other thing, and an-other thing than thilke thing that men entenden to don bitydeth by some causes, it is cleped "hap." Right as a man dalf the erthe by cause of tilyingo

- 80 of the feeld, and founde ther a gobet of gold bidolven, thanne wenen folk that it is bifalle by fortunous bitydinge. But, for sothe, it nis nat of naught, for it hath his propre causes; of whiche causes the
- 85 cours unforcesyn and unwar semeth to han maked hap. For yif the tilvere of the feld ne dolve nat in the erthe, and yif the hyder of the gold ne hadde hid the gold in thilke place, the gold ne hadde on at been founde. Thise ben thanne the - causes of the abregginge of fortuit hap, the which abregginge of fortuit hap comth of causes encountringe and flowinge to-gidere to hem-self, and nat by the
- 95 entencioun of the doer. For neither the hyder of the gold ne the delver of the feeld ne understoden nat that the gold sholde han ben founde; but, as I sayde, it bitidde and ran to-gidere that he dalf
- no ther-as "hat other hadde hid the gold. Now may I thus diffnisshe "hap." Hap is an unwar bitydinge of causes assembled in thinges that ben don for som other thing. But thilke ordre, proceedinge by an unceschable bindinge togidere, 105 which that descendeth fro the welle of purviance that ordeineth alle thinges in hir places and in hir tymes, maketh that the causes rennen and assemblen togidere.

METRE II. Puro clarum lumine Phebum.

Homer with the hony mouth, that is to seyn, Homer with the swete ditees, singeth, that the sonne is cleer by pure light; nathcles yit ne may it nat, by the infirme light of his bemes, breken or percent he 3inwarde entrailes of the erthe, or elles of the see. So ne seeth nat god, maker of the grete world : to him, that loketh alle thinges from an heigh, ne withstondeth nat no thinges by hevinesse of erthe; ne to the night ne withstondeth nat to him by the blake cloudes. Thilke god seeth, in oo strok of thought, alle thinges that ben, or weren, or sholle comen; and thilke god, for he loketh and seeth alle thinges 15 alone, thou mayst sayn that he is the verray some.'

PROSE III. Tum ego, en, inquam.

Thanne seyde I, 'now am I confounded by a more hard doute than I was.'

'What doute is that?' quod she. 'For certes, I conjecte now by whiche thinges thou art troubled.' 5

'It semeth,' quod I, 'to repugnen and to contrarien greetly, that god knoweth biforn alle thinges, and that ther is any freedom of libertee. For yif so be that god loketh alle thinges biforn, ne god ne 10 may nat ben desseived in no manere, than mot it nedes been, that alle thinges bityden the whiche that the purvisunce of god hath seyn biforn to comen. For which, yif that god knoweth biforn nat 15 only the werkes of men, but also hir conseiles and hir willes, thanne ne shal ther be no libertee of arbitre ; ne, certes, ther ne may be noon other dede, ne no wil, but thilke which that the divyne 20 purviaunce, that may nat ben desseived, hath feled biforn. For yif that they mighten wrythen awey in othre manere than they ben purveyed, than sholde ther be no stedefast prescience of thing to 25 comen, but rather an uncertein opinioun; the whiche thing to trowen of god, I deme it felonve and unleveful. Ne I ne proeve nat thilke same resoun, as who seyth, I ne alowe nat, or I ne preyse nat, thilke same 30 resoun, by which that som men wenen that they mowen assoilen and unknitten the knotte of this questioun. For, certes,

- they seyn that thing nis nat to comen 35 for that the purviance of god hath seyn it biforn that is to comen, but rather the contrarye, and that is this : that, for that the thing is to comen, therfore ne may it nat ben hid fro the purviance of god; 30 and in this manere this necessite slydeth
- aye in into the contrary partye : ne it ne bihoveth nat, nedes, that thinges bityden that ben purvyed, but it bihoveth, nedes, that thinges that ben to comen
- 45 ben y-porveyed: but as it were y-travailed, as who seyth, that thilke answere proceedeth right as thogh men travaileden, or weren bisy to enqueren, the whiche thing is cause of the whiche thing :-as, whether the
- 50 prescience is cause of the necessitee of thinges to comen, or elles that the necessitee of thinges to comen is cause of the purviance. But I ne enforce me nat now to shewen it, that the bitydinge
- 55 of thinges y-wist biforn is necessarie, how so or in what manere that the ordre of causes hath it-self; al-thogh that it ne seme nat that the prescience bringe in necessitee of bitydinge to thinges to
- 60 comen. For certes, yif that any wight sitteth, it bihoveth by necessite that the opinioun be sooth of him that conjecteth that he sitteth; and ageinward also is it of the contrarge : yif the opinioun be
- 65 south of any wight for that he sitteth, it bihoveth by necessitee that he sitte. Thanne is heer necessitee in that oon and in that other: for in that oon is necessitee of sittinge, and, certes, in that
- 70 other is necessitee of sooth. But therfore ne sitteth nat a wight, for that the opinioun of the sittinge is sooth; but the opinioun is rather sooth, for that a wight sitteth biforn. And thus, al-thogh that
- 75 the cause of the sooth cometh of that other syde (as who seyth, that al-though the cause of sooth comth of the sitting, and nat af the treve opinioun), algates yit is ther comune necessitee in that oon and in
- So that other. Thus sheweth it, that I may make semblable skiles of the purviance of god and of thinges to comen. For although that, for that thinges ben to comen, ther-fore ben they purveyed, nat, certes, for that they ben purveyed, ther- 85 fore ne bityde they nat. Yit natheles, bihoveth it by necessitee, that either the thinges to comen ben y-purveyed of god, or elles that the thinges that ben purveved of god bityden. And this thing go only suffiseth y-nough to destroyen the freedom of oure arbitre, that is to seyn, of oure free wil. But now, certes, sheweth it wel, how fer fro the sothe and how up-sodoun is this thing that we seyn, that the 95 bitydinge of temporel thinges is cause of the eterne prescience. But for to wenen that god purvyeth the thinges to comen for they ben to comen, what other thing is it but for to wene that thilke thinges 100 that bitidden whylom ben causes of thilke soverein purvyaunce that is in god? And her-to I adde yit this thing that, right as whan that I wot that a thing is, it bihoveth by necessitee that thilke selve 105 thing be; and eek, whan I have knowe that any thing shal bityden, so byhoveth it by necessitee that thilke thing bityde : -so folweth it thanne. that the bitydinge of the thing y-wist biforn ne may nat 110 ben eschued. And at the laste, vif that any wight wene a thing to ben other weyes thanne it is, it is nat only unscience, but it is deceivable opinioun ful diverse and fer fro the sothe of science. 115 Wherfore, yif any thing be so to comen, that the bitydinge of hit ne be nat certein ne necessarie, who may weten biforn that thilke thing is to comen? For right as science ne may nat ben medled with 120 falsnesse (as who seyth, that yif I wot a thing, it ne may not be false that I ne wot it), right so thilke thing that is conceived by science ne may nat ben non other weys than as it is conceived. For that is 125 the cause why that science wanteth lesing (as who seyth, why that witinge ne receiveth nat lesinge of that it wot); for it bihoveth, by necessitee, that every thing be right as science comprehendeth it to be. What 130 shal I thanne seyn? In whiche manere knoweth god biforn the thinges to comen, yif they ne be nat certein? For yif that he deme that they ben to comen uneschewably, and so may be that it is 135 possible that they ne shollen nat comen, god is deceived. But nat only to trowen that god is deceived, but for to speke it with mouth, it is a felonous sinne. But 140 yif that god wot that, right so as thinges ben to comen, so shullen they comen-so that he wite egaly, as who seyth, indifferently, that thinges mowen ben doon or elles nat v-doon-what is thilke prescience 115 that ne comprehendeth no certein thing ne stable? Or elles what difference is ther bitwixe the prescience and thilke jape-worthy divyninge of Tiresie the divynour, that seyde : "Al that I seye," 150 guod he, "either it shal be, or elles it ne shal nat be?" Or elles how mochel is worth the devyne prescience more than the opinioun of mankinde, yif so be that it demeth the thinges uncertein, as 155 men doon; of the whiche domes of men the bitydinge nis nat certein? But yif so be that non uncertein thing ne may ben in him that is right certein welle of alle thinges, thanne is the bitydinge :160 certein of thilke thinges whiche he hath wist biforn fermely to comen. For which it folweth, that the freedom of the conseiles and of the werkes of mankind nis non, sin that the thoght of god, that 165 seeth alle thinges without errour of falsnesse, bindeth and constreineth hem to a bitydinge by necessitee. And yif this thing be ones y-graunted and received, that is to seyn, that ther nis no free wille. 170 than sheweth it wel, how greet destruccioun and how grete damages ther folwen of thinges of mankinde. For in vdel ben ther thanne purposed and bihight medes to gode folk, and peynes to badde folk, 175 sin that no moevinge of free corage voluntarie ne hath nat deserved hem. that is to seyn, neither mede ne peyne ; and it sholde seme thanne, that thilke thing is alderworst, which that is now demed , 180 for aldermost just and most rightful, that is to seyn, that shrewes ben punisshed, or elles that gode folk ben y-gerdoned : the whiche folk, sin that hir propre wil ne sent hem nat to that oon ne to that 185 other, that is to seyn, neither to gode ne to harm, but constreineth hem certein necessitee of thinges to comen: thanne ne shollen ther nevere ben, ne nevere weren, vyce ne vertu, but it sholde rather ben confusioun of alle desertes medled 190 with-outen discrecioun. And yit ther folweth an-other inconvenient, +than whiche ther ne may ben thoght no more felonous ne more wikke; and that is this: that, so as the ordre of thinges is y-led and comth 195 of the purviaunce of god, ne that no-thing nis leveful to the conseiles of mankinde (as who seyth, that men han no power to doon no-thing, ne wilne no-thing), than folweth it, that oure vyces ben referred to 200 the maker of alle good (as who seyth, than folweth it, that god oughte han the blame of oure vyces, sin he constreineth us by necessitee to doon vyces). Thanne is ther no resoun to hopen in god, ne for to preven 205 to god; for what sholde any wight hopen to god, or why sholde he preven to god, sin that the ordenaunce of destinee, which that ne may nat ben inclyned, knitteth and streineth alle thinges that men may 210 desiren? Thanne sholde ther be doon awey thilke only allyaunce bitwixen god and men, that is to seyn, to hopen and to preyen. But by the prys of rightwisnesse and of verray mekenesse we deserven the 215 gerdoun of the divyne grace, which that is inestimable, that is to seyn, that it is so greet, that it ne may not ben ful y-preused. And this is only the manere, that is to seyn, hope and preyeres, for which it 220 semeth that men mowen speke with god. and by resoun of supplicacioun be conjoined to thilke cleernesse, that nis nat aproched no rather or that men beseken it and impetren it. And yif men wene 225 nat that hope ne preveres ne han no strengthes, by the necessitee of thinges to comen y-received, what thing is ther thanne by whiche we mowen ben conjoined and clyven to thilke soverein 230 prince of thinges? For which it bihoveth. by necessitee, that the linage of mankinde, as thou songe a litel her-biforn, be departed and unjoined from his welle. and failen of his biginninge, that is to 235 scyn, god.

METRE III. Quenam discors federa rerum.

What discordable cause hath to-rent and unjoined the binding, or the alliaunce, of thinges, that is to sayn, the conjunccioun of god and man? Whiche god hath 5 establisshed so greet bataile bitwixen thise two soothfast or verray thinges, that is to sayn, bitwixen the purviaunce of god and free wil, that they ben singuler and devyded, ne that they ne wolen nat to be medeled ne coupled to-gitere? But ther nis no discord to the verray thinges, but they elyven, certein, alway to hemself. But the thought of man, confounded and overthrowen by the dirke membres

- 15 of the body, ne may nat, by fyr of his derked looking, that is to seyn, by the vigour of his nights, whyl the soule is in the body, knowe the thinne subtil knittinges of thinges. But wherfore enchaufeth 20 it so, by so greet love, to finden thilke
- notes of sooth y-covered; that is to sayn, wherfore enchaufeth the thoght of man by so greet desyr to knowen thilke notificacions that ben y-hid under the covertoures of
- 25 sooth ? Wot it aught thilke thing that it, anguissous, desireth to knowe? As who seith, nay; for no man travaileth for to witen thinges that he wot. And therfore the texte seith thus: but who travaileth to
- 30 witen thinges y-knowe? And yif that he ne knoweth hem nat, what seketh thilke blinde thoght? What is he that desireth any thing of which he wot right naught? As who seith, who so desireth any thing,
- 35 nedes, somwhat he knoueth of it; or elles, he ne coude nat desire it. Or who may folwen thinges that ne ben nat y-wist? And though that he seke tho thinges, wher shal he finde hem? What wight, that is
- to al unconninge and ignoraunt, may knowen the forme that is y-founde? But whan the soule biholdeth and seeth the heye thoght, that is to seyn, god, than knoweth it to-gidere the somme and the
- 45 singularitees, that is to seyn, the principles and everich by him-self. But now, whyl the soule is hid in the cloude and in the derkenesse of the membres of the body, it ne hath nat al for-yeten it-self, but it with-holdeth the somme of thinges, so and leseth the singularitees. Thanne, who-so that seeketh soothnesse, he nis in neither nother habite; for he noot nat al, ne he ne hath nat al foryeten : but yit him remembreth the somme of thinges 55 that he with-holdeth, and axeth conseil, and retrette deepliche thinges y-seyn biforn, that is to seyn, the grete somme in his minde : so that he move adden the parties that he hath for-yeten to thilks 60 that he hath with-holden.

PROSE IV. Tum illa : Vetus, inquit, hec est.

Thanne seide she: 'this is,' quod she, 'the olde question of the purviaunce of god ; and Marcus Tullius, whan he devyded the divynaciouns. that is to sevn. in his book that he wroot of divynaciouns, he 5 moevede gretly this questioun ; and thou thy-self has y-sought it mochel, and outrely, and longe; but yit ne hath it nat ben determined ne y-sped fermely and diligently of any of yow. And the 10 cause of this derkenesse and of this difficultee is, for that the moevinge of the resoun of mankinde ne may nat moeven to (that is to seven, applyen or joinen to) the simplicitee of the devyne prescience; the 15 whiche simplicitee of the devune prescience. yif that men mighten thinken it in any maner, that is to seyn, that yif men mighten thinken and comprehenden the thinges as god seeth hem, thanne ne sholde ther 20 dwellen outrely no doute : the whiche resoun and cause of difficultee I shal assaye at the laste to shewe and to speden, whan I have first y-spended and answered to tho resouns by which thou art y- 25 moeved. For I axe why thou wenest that thilke resouns of hem that assoilen this questioun ne ben nat speedful v-nough ne sufficient : the whiche solucioun, or the whiche resoun, for that it demeth that 30 the prescience nis nat cause of necessitee to thinges to comen, than ne weneth it nat that freedom of wil be destorbed or y-let by prescience. For ne drawestow nat arguments from elles-where of the 35 necessitee of thinges to-comen (as who seith, any other wey than thus) but that thilke thinges that the prescience wot biforn ne mowen nat unbityde? That is

- 40 to seyn, that they moten bityde. But thanne, yif that prescience ne putteth no necessitee to thinges to comen, as thou thy-self hast confessed it and biknowen a litel her-biforn, what cause or
- 45 what is it (as who seith, ther may no cause be) by which that the endes voluntarie of thinges mighten be constreined to certein bitydinge? For by grace of positionn, so that thou mowe the betere understonde
- 50 this that folweth, I pose, per impossibile, that there he no prescience. Thanne axe I, quod she, 'in as mochel as apertieneth to that, sholden thanne thinges that comen of free wil ben constreined to bi-55 tyden by necessite?' Boece. 'Nav,'
- quod I.

<sup>4</sup> Thanne ayeinward, 'quod she, 'I suppose that ther be prescience, but that it ne putteth no necessitee to thinges; 60 thanne trowe I, that thilke selve freedom of wil shal dwellen al hool and absolut and unbounden. But thou wolt seyn

- that, al-be-it so that prescience nis nat cause of the necessitee of bitydinge to 65 thinges to comen, algates yit it is a signe that the thinges ben to bityden by necessite. By this manere thanne, althogh the prescience ne hadde never
- y-ben, yit algate or at the least weye it 70 is certain thing, that the endes and bitydinges of thinges to comen sholden ben necessaria. For every signe sheweth and signifyeth only what the thing is.
- but it ne maketh nat the thing that it 75 signifyeth. For which it bihoveth first to shewen, that no-thing ne bitydeth
- that it ne bitydeth by necessitee, so that it may appere that the prescience is signe of this necessitee; or elles, yif ther nere
- So no necessitee, certes, thilke prescience ne mighte nat be signe of thing that nis nat. But certes, it is now certein that the proeve of this, y-sustened by stidefast resoun, ne shal nat ben lad ne proeved
- 85 by signes ne by arguments y-taken fro with-oute, but by causes covenable and necessarie. But thon maysi seyn, how may it be that the thinges ne bityden nat that ben y-purveyed to comen? But, certes, right as we trowen that the oo thinges which that the purviance wot biforn to comen ne ben nat to bityden : but that ne sholden we nat demen ; but rather, al-thogh that they shal bityden. vit ne have they no necessitee of hir 95 And this maystow kinde to bityden. lightly aperceiven by this that I shall sevn. For we seen many thinges whan they ben don biforn oure even, right as men seen the cartere worken in the 100 torninge or atempringe or adressinge of hise cartes or charietes. And by this manere (as who seith, maystow understonde) of alle othere workmen. Is ther thanne any necessitee, as who seith, in oure 105 lokinge, that constreineth or compelleth any of thilke thinges to ben don so?' Boece. 'Nay,' quod I; 'for in ydel and in veyn were al the effect of craft, vif that alle thinges weren moeved by con- IIC streininge;' that is to seyn, by constreininge of oure eyen or of oure sight.

'The thinges thanne,' quod she, 'that, whan men doon hem, ne han no necessitee that men doon hem, eek tho same 115 thinges, first or they ben doon, they ben to comen with-oute necessitee. For-why ther ben somme thinges to bityden, of which the endes and the bitydinges of hem ben absolut and guit of alle neces- 120 sitee. For certes, I ne trowe nat that any man wolde seyn this: that tho thinges that men doon now, that they ne weren to bityden first or they weren y-doon; and thilke same thinges, al- 125 thogh that men had y-wist hem biforn, yit they han free bitydinges. For right as science of thinges present ne bringeth in no necessitee to thinges that men doon, right so the prescience of thinges 130 to comen ne bringeth in no necessitee to thinges to bityden. But thou mayst seyn, that of thilke same it is y-douted, as whether that of thilke thinges that ne han non issues and bitydinges necessaries, 135 yif ther-of may ben any prescience; for certes, they semen to discorden. For thou wenest that, yif that thinges ben y-seyn biforn, that necessitee folweth to hem; and yif necessitee faileth hem, they ne mighten nat ben wist biforn, and that no-thing ne may ben comprehended by science but certein; and yif tho thinges that ne han no certein bi-45 tydinges ben purveyed as certein, it sholde ben dirknesse of opinioun, nat soothfastnesse of science. And thou wenest that it be diverse fro the hoolnesse of science that any man sholde 50 deme a thing to ben other-weys thanne it is it-self. And the cause of this erroure is, that of alle the thinges that every wight hath y-knowe, they wenen that tho thinges been y-knowe al-oonly by the 55 strengthe and by the nature of the thinges that ben y-wist or y-knowe; and it is al the contrarie. For al that ever is y-knowe, it is rather comprehended and knowen, nat after his strengthe and 60 his nature, but after the facultee, that is to seyn, the power and the nature, of hem that knowen. And, for that this thing shal mowen shewen by a short ensaumple : the same roundnesse of a body, other-65 weys the sighte of the eye knoweth it, and other-weyes the touchinge. The lokinge, by castinge of his bemes, waiteth and seeth from afer al the body to-gidere, with-oute moevinge of it-self; but the 70 touchinge clyveth and conjoineth to the rounde body, and moeveth aboute the environinge, and comprehendeth by parties the roundnesse. And the man him-self, other-weys wit biholdeth him, 75 and other-weys imaginacioun, and otherweys resoun, and other-weys intelligence. For the wit comprehendeth withouteforth the figure of the body of the man that is establissed in the matere subject: 80 but the imaginacioun comprehendeth only the figure withoute the matere. Resoun surmounteth imaginacioun, and comprehendeth by universal lokinge the comune spece that is in the singuler 85 peces. But the eye of intelligence is hevere : for it surmounteth the environinge of the universitee, and looketh, over that, by pure subtilitee of thoght, thilke same simple forme of man that is perdurably in the divune thought. In whiche 190 this oughte greetly to ben considered, that the heveste strengthe to comprehenden thinges enbraseth and contieneth the lowere strengthe; but the lowere strengthe ne aryseth nat in no manere 195 to heyere strengthe. For wit ne may no-thing comprehende out of matere, ne the imaginacioun ne loketh nat the universels speces, ne resoun taketh nat the simple forme so as intelligence taketh it ; 200 but intelligence, that looketh al aboven, whan it hath comprehended the forme, it knoweth and demeth alle the thinges that ben under that forme. But she knoweth hem in thilke manere in the 205 whiche it comprehendeth thilke same simple forme that ne may never ben knowen to none of that other; that is to seyn, to none of the three forseide thinges of the soule. For it knoweth the univer- 210 sitee. of resoun, and the figure of the imaginacioun, and the sensible material conceived by wit ; ne it ne useth nat nor of resoun ne of imaginacioun ne of wit withoute-forth ; but it biholdeth alle 215 thinges, so as I shal seve, by a strok of thought formely, withoute discours or collacioun. Certes resoun, whan it looketh any-thing universel, it ne useth nat of imaginacioun, nor of witte, and algates 220 yit it comprehendeth the thinges imaginable and sensible ; for resoun is she that diffinisseth the universel of hir conseyte right thus :- man is a resonable twofoted beest. And how so that this 225 knowinge is universel, yet nis ther no wight that ne woot wel that a man is a thing imaginable and sensible; and this same considereth wel resoun: but that nis nat by imaginacioun nor by wit. 220 but it looketh it by a resonable concepcioun. Also imaginacioun, al-be-it so that it taketh of wit the beginninges to seen and to formen the figures, algates, althogh that wit ne were nat present, yit 235 it environeth and comprehendeth alle thinges sensible : nat by resoun sensible of deminge, but by resoun imaginatif. Seestow nat thanne that alle the thinges. in knowinge, usen more of hir facultee 240 or of hir power than they doon of the facultee or power of thinges that ben yknowe? Ne that nis nat wrong; for so as every jugement is the dede or doinge 245 of him that demeth, it bihoveth that every wight performe the werk and his entencioun, nat of foreine power, but of his propre power.

METRE IV. Quondam porticus attulit.

The Porche, that is to seyn, a gate of the town of Athenes ther-as philosophres hadden hir congregacioun to desputen, thilke Porche broughte som-tyme olde 5 men, ful derke in hir sentences, that is to seyn, philosophres that highten Stoiciens, that wenden that images and sensibilitees, that is to seyn, sensible imaginaciouns, or elles imaginaciouns of sensible 10 thinges, weren empreinted in-to sowles

- fro bodies withoute-forth ; as who seith, that thilke Stoiciens wenden that the soule hadde ben naked of it-self, as a mirour or a clene parchemin, so that alle figures
- 15 mosten first comen fro thinges fro withouteforth in-to sowles, and ben empreinted in-to sowles : Text : right as we ben wont somtyme, by a swifte pointel, to ficchen lettres empreinted in the smothenesse or
- 20 in the pleinnesse of the table of wex or in parchemin that ne hath no figure ne note in it. Glose. But now argueth Boece ayeins that opinioun, and seith thus : But yif the thryvinge sowle ne un-
- 25 pleyteth no-thing, that is to seyn, ne doth no-thing, by his propre moevinges, but suffreth and lyth subgit to tho figures and to the notes of bodies withoute-forth. and yildeth images ydel and veyn in the
- 30 manere of a mirour, whennes thryveth thanne or whennes comth thilke knowinge in our sowle, that discerneth and biholdeth alle thinges? And whennes is thilke strengthe that biholdeth the singu-
- 35 ler thinges; or whennes is the strengthe that devydeth thinges y-knowe; and thilke strengthe that gadereth to-gidere the thinges devyded; and the strengthe that cheseth his entrechaunged wey?

For som-tyme it heveth up the heved, 40 that is to seyn, that it heveth up the entencioun to right heye thinges; and som-tyme it descendeth in-to right lowe thinges. And whan it retorneth in-to him-self, it reproeveth and destroyeth the false 45 thinges by the trewe thinges. Certes, this strengthe is cause more efficient, and mochel more mighty to seen and to knowe thinges, than thilke cause that suffreth and receiveth the notes and the 50 figures impressed in maner of matere. Algates the passioun, that is to seyn, the suffraunce or the wit, in the quike body, goth biforn, excitinge and moevinge the strengthes of the thought. Right so as 55 whan that cleernesse smyteth the eyen and moeveth hem to seen, or right so as vois or soun hurteleth to the eres and commoeveth hem to herkne, than is the strengthe of the thought y-moeved and 60 excited, and clepeth forth, to semblable moevinges, the speces that it halt withinne it-self; and addeth tho speces to the notes and to the thinges withouteforth, and medleth the images of thinges 65 withoute-forth to tho formes y-hidde with-inne him-self.

PROSE V. Quod si in corporibus sentiendis.

But what yif that in bodies to ben feled, that is to seyn, in the takinge of knowelechinge of bodily thinges, and al-beit so that the qualitees of bodies, that ben objecte fro withoute-forth, moeven 5 and entalenten the instruments of the wittes; and al-be-it so that the passioun of the body, that is to seyn, the wit or the suffraunce, goth to-forn the strengthe of the workinge corage, the which passioun 1 or suffraunce clepeth forth the dede of the thoght in him-self, and moeveth and exciteth in this mene whyle the formes that resten withinne-forth; and yif that, in sensible bodies, as I have seyd, our. corage nis nat y-taught or empreinted by passioun to knowe thise thinges, but demeth and knoweth, of his owne strengthe, the passioun or suffraunce

20 subject to the body : moche more thanne tho thinges that ben absolut and quite fro alle talents or affecciouns of bodies, as god or his aungeles, ne folwen nat in discerninge thinges object fro withoute-25 forth, but they accomplisshen and speden the dede of hir thoght. By this resoun thanne ther comen many maner knowinges to dyverse and differinge substaunces. For the wit of the body, the 30 whiche wit is naked and despoiled of alle other knowinges, thilke wit comth to beestes that ne mowen nat moeven hem-self her and ther, as oystres and muscules, and other swiche shelle-fish of 35 the see, that clyven and ben norisshed to roches. But the imaginacioun comth to remuable beestes, that semen to han talent to fleen or to desiren any thing. But resoun is al-only to the linage of to mankinde, right as intelligence is only [to] the devyne nature : of which it folweth, that thilke knowinge is more worth than thise othre, sin it knoweth by his propre nature nat only his subject, as 45 who seith, it ne knoweth nat al-only that apertieneth properly to his knowinge, but it knoweth the subjects of alle other knowinges. But how shal it thanne be. yif that wit and imaginacioun stryven 50 ayein resoninge, and seyn, that of thilke universel thing that resoun weneth to seen, that it nis right naught? For wit and imaginacioun seyn that that, that is sensible or imaginable, it ne may nat be 55 universel. Thanne is either the jugement of resoun sooth, ne that ther nis nothing sensible; or elles, for that resoun

- nothing sensible; or elles, for that resoun wot wel that many thinges ben subject to wit and to imaginacioun, thanne is 60 the concepcioun of resoun veyn and false, which that loketh and comprehendeth that that is sensible and singuler as universel. And yif that resoun wolde
- answeren ayein to thise two, that is to 65 seyn, to witte and to imaginacioun, and seyn, that soothly she hir-self, that is to seyn, resoun, loketh and comprehendeth, by resoun of universalitee, bothe that that is sensible and that that is imagin-
- 70 able; and that thilke two, that is to seyn.

wit and imaginacioun, ne mowen nat strecchen ne enhansen hem-self to the knowinge of universalitee, for that the knowinge of hem ne may exceden ne surmounte the bodily figures : certes, of 75 the knowinge of thinges, men oughten rather yeven credence to the more stedefast and to the more parfit jugement. In this maner stryvinge thanne, we that han strengthe of resoninge and of 80 imagininge and of wit, that is to seyn, by resoun and by imaginacioun and by wit, we sholde rather preyse the cause of resoun; as who seith, than the cause of wit and of imaginacioun. 85

Semblable thing is it, that the resoun of mankinde ne weneth nat that the devyne intelligence bi-holdeth or knoweth thinges to comen, but right as the resoun of mankinde knoweth hem. For 90 thou arguest and seyst thus : that yif it ne seme nat to men that some thinges han certein and necessarie bitydinges. they ne mowen nat ben wist biforn certeinly to bityden. And thanne nis ther 95 no prescience of thilke thinges; and yif we trowe that prescience be in thise thinges, thanne is ther no-thing that it ne bitydeth by necessitee. But certes, yif we mighten han the jugement of the 100 devyne thoght, as we ben parsoneres of resoun, right so as we han demed that it behoveth that imaginacioun and wit be binethe resoun, right so wolde we demen that it were rightful thing, that 105 mannes resoun oughte to submitten itself and to ben binethe the divyne thoght. For which, yif that we mowen, as who seith, that, yif that we mowen, I counseyle, that we enhance us in-to the 110 heighte of thilke sovereyn intelligence ; for ther shal resoun wel seen that, that it ne may nat biholden in it-self. And certes that is this, in what maner the prescience of god seeth alle thinges cer- 115 teins and diffinisshed, al-thogh they ne han no certein issues or bitydinges; ne this is non opinioun, but it is rather the simplicitee of the sovereyn science, that nis nat enclosed nor y-shet within none 120 boundes.

METRE V. Quam variis terris animalia permeant figuris.

The beestes passen by the erthes by ful diverse figures. For som of hem han hir bodies straught and crepen in the dust. and drawen after hem a tras or a foruh 5 y-continued; that is to seym, as nadres or snakes. And other beestes, by the wandringe lightnesse of hir winges, beten the windes, and over-swimmen the spaces of the longe eyr by moist fleeinge. And other 10 beestes gladen hem-self to diggen hir tras or hir steppes in the erthe with hir goings or with hir feet, and to goon either by the grene feldes, or elles to walken under the wodes. And al-be-it so that thou 15 seest that they alle discorden by diverse formes, algates hir faces, enclined, hevieth hir dulle wittes. Only the linage of man heveth heyeste his heye heved, and

PROSE VI. Quoniam igitur, uti paullo ante.

Therfor thanne, as I have showed a litel her-biforn, that al thing that is y-wist nis nat knowen by his nature propre, but by the nature of hem that 5 comprehenden it, lat us loke now, in as mochel as it is leveful to us, as wibe seith, lat us loke now as we moven, which that the estat is of the devyne substance; so that we mowen eek knowen what his

- To science is. The commune jugement of alle creatures resonables thanne is this: that god is eterne. Lat us considere thanne what is eternitee; for certes that shal shewen us to-gidere the devyne
- 15 nature and the devyne science. Eternitee, thanne, is parfit possessioun and al-togidere of lyf interminable; and that sheweth more cleerly by the comparisoun or the collacioun of temporel thinges. For al thing that liveth in tyme it is present, and procedeth fro preterits in-to a futures, that is to seyn, fro tyme passed in-to tyme cominge; ne ther nis no-thing establisshed in tyme that may embracen to-gider al the space of his lyf. For certes, yit ne hath it taken the tyme of 2 to-morwe, and it hath lost the tyme of visterday. And certes, in the lyf of this day, ye ne liven no more but right as in the moevable and transitorie moment. Thanne thilke thing that suffreth tem- 3 porel condicioun, al-thogh that it never bigan to be, ne thogh it never cese for to be, as Aristotle demed of the world, and al-thogh that the lyf of it be streeched with infinitee of tyme, yit algates nis 3 it no swich thing that men mighten trowen by right that it is eterne. For al-thogh that it comprehende and embrace the space of lvf infinit, vit algates ne embraceth it nat the space of the lyf 4 al-togider : for it ne hath nat the futures that ne ben nat yit, ne it ne hath no lenger the preterits that ben y-doon or y-passed. But thilke thing thanne, that hath and comprehendeth to-gider al the plentee of 4 the lyf interminable, to whom ther ne faileth naught of the future, and to whom ther nis naught of the preterit escaped nor y-passed, thilke same is y-witnessed and y-proeved by right to be eterne. And 5 it bihoveth by necessitee that thilke thing be al-wey present to him-self, and compotent; as who seith, al-wey present to him-self, and so mighty that al be right at his plesaunce; and that he have al present 5. the infinitee of the moevable tyme, Wher-for som men trowen wrongfully that, whan they heren that it semede to Plato that this world ne hadde never beginninge of tyme, ne that it never 6 shal han failinge, they wenen in this maner that this world be maked coeterne with his maker; as who seith, they wene that this world and god ben maked togider eterne, and that is a wrongful weninge. 6 For other thing is it to ben y-lad by lyf interminable, as Plato graunted to the world, and other thing is it to embrace to-gider al the present of the lyf inter-70 minable, the whiche thing it is cleer and manifest that it is propre to the devyne thoght. Ne it ne sholde nat semen to us, that god

- is elder thanne thinges that ben y-maked 75 by quantitee of tyme, but rather by the propretee of his simple nature. For this ilke infinit moevinge of temporel thinges folweth this presentarie estat of lyf unmoevable; and so as it ne may nat
- So countrefeten it ne feynen it ne be evenlyke to it for the inmoveabletee, that is to seyn, that is in the eternite of god, it faileth and faileth in-to moevinge fro the simplicitee of the presence of god, and
- $5 discnereseth in-to the infinit quantitee of future and of preterit : and so as it ne may nat han togider al the plentee of the lyf, algates yit, for as moche as it ne ceseth never for to ben in som maner, it 90 semeth som-del to us, that it folweth and
- resembleth thike thing that it ne may nat atayne to ne fulfillen, and bindeth itself to som maner presence of this litel and swifte moment : the which presence
- 95 of this likel and swifte moment, for that it bereth a maner image or lyknesse of the ay-dwellinge presence of god, it graunteth, to swiche maner thinges as it bitydeth to, that it semeth hem as thise thinges too hay x-ben, and ben.

And, for that the presence of which list moment ne may nat dwelle, ther-for it ravisshed and took the infinit way of tyme, that is to seyn, by successiour; and 105 by this maner is it y-doon, for that it sholde continue the lyf in goinge, of the whiche lyf it ne mighte nat enbrace the plentee in dwellinge. And for-thy, yif we wollen putten worthy names to to thinges, and folwen Plato, lat us seye thanne soothly, that god is eterne, and the world is perpetuel. Thanne, sin that every jugement knowethand comprehendeth by his owne nature thinges that ben 1<sup>15</sup> subject un-to him, ther is soothly to god, al-weys, an eterne and presentarie estat ; and the science of him, that over-passeth al temporel moevement, dwelleth in the simplicitee of his presence, and embraceth and considereth alle the infinit spaces of 120 tymes, preterits and futures, and loketh, in his simple knowinge, alle thinges of preterit right as they weren y-doon presently right now. Yif thou wolt thanne thenken and avyse the prescience, by 125 which it knoweth alle thinges, thou ne shal nat demen it as prescience of thinges to comen, but thou shalt demen it more rightfully that it is science of presence or of instaunce, that never ne faileth. For 130 which it nis nat v-cleved "previdence." but it sholde rather ben cleped "purviaunce." that is establisshed ful fer fro right lowe thinges, and biholdeth from a-fer alle thinges, right as it were fro the 135 heye heighte of thinges. Why axestow thanne, or why desputestow thanne, that thilke thinges ben doon by necessitee whiche that ben y-seyn and knowen by the devyne sighte, sin that, forsothe, men 140 ne maken nat thilke thinges necessarie which that they seen ben y-doon in hir sighte? For addeth thy biholdinge any necessitee to thilke thinges that thou biholdest presente?' 'Nay,' quod I. 145

Philosophie. 'Certes, thanne, if men mighte maken any digne comparisoun or collacioun of the presence devyne and of the presence of mankinde, right so as ye seen some thinges in this temporel pre- 150 sent, right so seeth god alle thinges by his eterne present. Wher-fore this devyne prescience ne chaungeth nat the nature ne the propretee of thinges, but biholdeth swiche thinges present to him- 155 ward as they shullen bityde to yow-ward in tyme to comen. Ne it confoundeth nat the jugement of thinges; but by o sighte of his thought, he knoweth the thinges to comen, as wel necessarie as nat 160 necessarie. Right so as whan ye seen to-gider a man walken on the erthe and the sonne arysen in the hevene, al-be-it so that ye seen and biholden that oon and that other to-gider, yit natheles ye demen 165 and discernen that that oon is voluntarie and that other necessarie. Right so thanne the devyne lookinge, biholdinge н 5

alle thinges under him, ne troubleth nat

- 170 the qualitee of thinges that ben certeinly present to him-ward; but, as to the condicioun of tyme, forsothe, they ben future. For which it folweth, that this nis noon opinioun, but rather a stedefast
- 175 knowinge, y-strengthed by soothnesse, that, whanne that god knoweth anything to be, he ne unwot nat that thilke thing wanteth necessitee to be; this is to seyn, that, whan that god knoweth any thing to
- 180 bityde, he wot wel that it ne hath no necessize to bityde. And yi' thou sayst heer, that thilke thing that god seeth to bityde, it ne may nat unbityde (as who seith, it mot bityde), and thilke thing that
- 185 ne may nat unbityde it mot bityde by necessitee, and that thou streyne me by this name of necessitee : certes, I wol wel confessen and biknowe a thing of ful sad trouthe, but unnethe shal ther any wight
- 190 mowe seen it or come ther-to, but-yif that he be biholder of the devyne thoght. For I wol answeren thee thus: that thilke thing that is future, whan it is referred to the devyne knowinge, thanne is it
- 195 necessarie; but certes, whan it is understonden in his owne kinde, men seen it is outrely free, and absolut fro alle necessite.
- For certes, ther ben two maneres of 200 necessitee. That oon necessitee is simple, as thus: that it bihoveth by necessitee, that alle men be mortal or deedly. Another necessitee is conditionel, as thus : yif thou wost that a man walketh, it
- 205 bihoveth by necessitee that he walke. Thilke thing thanne that any wight hath y-knowe to be, it ne may ben non other weyes thanne he knoweth it to be. But this condicioun ne draweth nat with hir
- 210 thilke necessite simple. For certes, this necessite conditionel, the propre nature of it ne maketh it nat, but the adjeccioun of the condicioun maketh it. For no necessite ne constreyneth a man to gon,
- <sup>215</sup> that goth by his propre wil; al-beit so that, whan he goth, that it is necessarie that he goth. Right on this same maner thanne, yif that the purviannee of god seeth any thing present, than mot thilke thing ben by necessitee, al-thogh that it 22 ne have no necessitee of his owne nature. But certes, the futures that bityden by freedom of arbitre, god seeth hem alle to-gider present. Thise thinges thanne, yif they ben referred to the devyne sighte, thanne 22, ben they maked necessarie by the condicioun of the devyne knowinge. But certes, vif thilke thinges be considered by hem-self, they ben absolut of necessitee. and ne forleten nat ne cesen nat of the 230 libertee of hir owne nature. Thanne, certes, with-oute doute, alle the thinges shollen ben doon which that god wot biforn that they ben to comen. But som of hem comen and bityden of free arbitre 23 or of free wille, that, al-be-it so that they bityden, yit algates ne lese they nat hir propre nature in beinge; by the which first, or that they weren y-doon, they hadden power nat to han bitid.' Boece, 240 'What is this to seyn thanne,' guod I. 'that thinges ne ben nat necessarie by hir propre nature, so as they comen in alle maneres in the lyknesse of necessitee by the condicioun of the devyne science?' 24

'This is the difference,' quod she ; 'that tho thinges that I purposede thee a litel heer-biforn, that is to sevn, the sonne arysinge and the man walkinge, that, ther-whyles that thilke thinges been y- 25 doon, they ne mighte nat ben undoon; natheles, that oon of hem, or it was y-doon, it bihoved by necessitee that it was y-doon, but nat that other. Right so is it here, that the thinges that god hath 25 present, with-oute doute they shollen been. But som of hem descendeth of the nature of thinges, as the sonne arysinge; and som descendeth of the power of the doeres, as the man walkinge. Thanne 26 seide I no wrong, that yif these thinges ben referred to the devyne knowinge. thanne ben they necessarie; and yif they ben considered by hem-self, thanne ben they absolut fro the bond of necessitee, 26, Right so as alle thinges that apereth or sheweth to the wittes, yif thou referre it to resoun, it is universel; and yif thou referre it or loke it to it-self, than is it singuler. But now, yif thou seyst thus, 270 that yif it be in my power to chaunge my purpos, than shal I voide the purviaunce of god, whan that, peraventure, I shall han chaunged the thinges that he know-:75 eth biforn, thanne shal I answere thee thus. Certes, thou mayst wel chaunge thy purpos; but, for as mochel as the present soothnesse of the devyne purviaunce biholdeth that thou mayst 80 chaunge thy purpos, and whether thou wolt chaunge it or no, and whiderward that thou torne it, thou ne mayst nat eschuen the devyne prescience; right as thou ne mayst nat fleen the sighte of the 285 presente eye, al-though that thou torne thy-self by thy free wil in-to dyverse acciouns. But thou mayst seyn ayein : "How shal it thanne be? Shal nat the devyne science be chaunged by my distoo posicioun, whan that I wol o thing now, and now another? And thilke prescience, ne semeth it nat to entrechaunge stoundes of knowinge;"' as who seith, ne shal it nat seme to us, that the devyne prescience entre-195 Chaungeth hise dyverse stoundes of knowinge, so that it knowe sum-tyme o thing and sum-tyme the contrarie of that thing? 'No, forsothe,' quod I.

Divisophie. 'For the devyne sighte you remeth to-form and seeth alle futures, and clepeth hem ayein, and retorneth hem to the presence of his propre knowinge; ne he ne entrechangeth nat, so as thou wenest, the stoundes of forknowgos inge, as now this, now that; but he aydwellinge comth biforn, and embraceth at ostrook alle thy mutaciouns. And this presence to comprehenden and to seen alle thinges, god ne hath nat taken it of jot the bitydinge of thinges to come, but of his propre simplicitee. And her-by is assoiled thilke thing that thou puttest a litel her-biforn, that is to seyn, that it is unworthy thing to seyn, that our futures yeven cause of the science of god. For 315 certes, this strengthe of the devyne science, which that embraceth alle thinges by his presentarie knowinge, establissheth maner to alle thinges, and it ne oweth naught to latter thinges ; and 320 sin that these thinges ben thus, that is to seyn, sin that necessitee nis nat in thinges by the devyne prescience, than is ther freedom of arbitre, that dwelleth hool and unwemmed to mortal men. Ne the lawes ne 325 purposen nat wikkedly medes and peynes to the willinges of men that ben unbounden and quite of alle necessitee. And god, biholder and for-witer of alle thinges, dwelleth above ; and the present eternitee 330 of his sighte renneth alwey with the dyverse qualitee of oure dedes, dispensinge and ordeyninge medes to goode men, and torments to wikked men. Ne in ydel ne in veyn ne ben ther nat put in god 335 hope and preyeres, that ne mowen nat ben unspeedful ne with-oute effect, whan they ben rightful. Withstond thanne and eschue thou vyces; worshipe and love thou virtues; areys thy corage to right- 340 ful hopes; yilde thou humble preveres a-heigh. Gret necessitee of prowesse and vertu is encharged and commaunded to yow, yif ye nil nat dissimulen; sin that ye worken and doon, that is to seyn, 315 your dedes or your workes, biforn the even of the juge that seeth and demeth alle thinges.' To whom be glorye and worshipe by infinit tymes. AMEN.

 The double sorve of Troilus to tellen, That was the king Priamus sone of Troye,

In lovinge, how his aventures fellen Fro wo to wele, and after out of joye, My purpos is, er that I parte fro ye. 5 Thesiphone, thou help me for t'endyte Thise woful vers, that wepen as I wryte !

2. To thee clepe I, thou goddesse of torment,

Thou cruel Furie, sorwing ever in peyne; Help me, that am the sorwful instrument That helpeth lovers, as I can, to pleyne! For wel sit it, the sothe for to seyne, 12 A woful wight to han a drery fere, And, to a sorwful tale, a sory chere.

3. For I, that god of Loves servaunts serve, Ne dar to Love, for myn unlyklinesse, 16 Preyen for speed, al sholde I therfor sterve,

So fer am I fro his help in derknesse; But nathelees, if this may doon gladnesse To any lover, and his cause avayle, 20 Have he my thank, and myn be this travayle!

 But ye loveres, that bathen in gladnesse,

If any drope of pitee in yow be,

Remembreth yow on passed hevinesse That ye han felt, and on the adversitee 25 Of othere folk, and thenketh how that ye Han felt that Love dorste yow displese; Or ye han wonne him with to greet an ese. 5. And preyeth for hem that ben in the cas Of Troilus, as ye may after here, 30 That love hem bringe in hevene to solas, And eek for me preyeth to god so dere, That I have might to shewe, in som manere,

Swich peyne and wo as Loves folk endure, In Troilus unsely aventure. 35

6. And biddeth eek for hem that been despeyred in love, that never nil recovered be,

And eek for hem that falsly been apeyred Thorugh wikked tonges, be it he or she; Thus biddeth god, for his benignitee, 40 To graunte hem sone out of this world to pace,

That been despeyred out of Loves grace.

- 7. And biddeth eek for hem that been at ese,
- That god hem graunte ay good perseveraunce,

And sende hem might hir ladies so to plese, 45

That it to Love be worship and plesaunce. For so hope I my soule best avaunce,

To preye for hem that Loves servaunts be, And wryte hir wo, and live in charitee.

8. And for to have of hem compassioun so As though I were hir owene brother dere. Now herkeneth with a gode entencionn, For now wol I gon streight to my matere, In whiche ye may the double sorwes here

Troilus and Crisepde.

- Of Troilns, in loving of Criseyde, 55 And how that she forsook him er she deyde.
- 9. IT is wel wist, how that the Grekes stronge

In armes with a thousand shippes wente To Troyo-wardes, and the citee longe Assegeden neighten yeer er they stente, 60 And, in diverse wyse and oon entents, The ravisshing to wreken of Eleyne, By Paris doon, they wroughten al hir peyne.

10. Now fil it so, that in the torn ther was Dwellinge a lord of greet auctoritee, 65 A gret devyn that cleped was Calkas, That in science so expert was, that he Knew wel that Troye sholde destroyed be, By answere of his god, that highte thus, Dann Phebus or Apollo Delphicus. 70

 So whan this Calkas knew by calculinge,

And eek by answere of this Appollo,

That Grekes sholden swich a peple bringe, Thorugh which that Troye moste been for-do.

He caste anoon out of the toun to go; 75

For wel wiste he, by sort, that Troye sholde

Destroyed been, ye, wolde who-so nolde.

12. For which, for to departen softely Took purpos ful this forknowinge wyse, And to the Grekes ost ful prively 80 He stal anoon; and they, in curteys wyse, Him deden bothe worship and servyse, In trust that he hath conning hem to rede In every peril which that is to drede

- 13. The noyse up roos, whan it was first aspyed, 85
- Thorugh al the toun, and generally was spoken,

That Calkas traytor fled was, and allyed

- With hem of Grece; and casten to ben wroken
- On him that falsly hadde his feith so broken :

And seyden, he and al his kin at ones 90 Ben worthy for to brennen, fel and bones. 14. Now hadde Calkas left, in this meschaunce,

Al unwist of this false and wikked dede. His doughter, which that was in gret penaunce.

For of hir lyf she was ful sore in drede, 95 As she that niste what was best to rede; For bothe a widowe was she, and allone Of any freend, to whom she dorste hir mone.

15. Criseyde was this lady name a-right; As to my dome, in al Troyes citee 100 Nas noon so fair, for passing every wight So anngellyk was hir natyf beautee,

That lyk a thing inmortal semed she, As doth an hevenish parfit creature,

- That down were sent in scorning of nature. 105
- 16. This lady, which that al-day herde at ere
- Hir fadres shame, his falsnesse and tresoun,

Wel nigh out of hir wit for sorwe and fere, In widewes habit large of samit broun,

On knees she fil biforn Ector a-doun; 110 With pitous voys, and tendrely wepinge, His mercy bad, hir-selven excusinge.

17. Now was this Ector pitons of nature, And saw that she was sorwfully bigoon, And that she was so fair a creature; 115 Of his goodnesse he gladed hir anoon, And seyde, 'lat your fadres treson goon

Forth with mischaunce, and ye your-self, in joye,

Dwelleth with us, whyl you good list, in Troye.

18. And al th'onour that men may doon yow have, 120

As ferforth as your fader dwelled here, Ye shul han, and your body shal men save,

As fer as I may ought enquere or here.'

- And she him thonked with ful humble chere,
- And ofter wolde, and it hadde ben his wille, 125
- And took hir leve, and hoom, and held hir stille.

31. O blinde world, O blinde entencioun ! How ofte falleth al th'effect contraire

Of surquidrye and foul presumpcioun ;

For caught is proud, and caught is debonaire.

This Troilus is clomben on the staire, 215 And litel weneth that he moot descenden.

- But al-day fayleth thing that foles wenden.
- 32. As proude Bayard ginneth for to skippe

Out of the wey, so priketh him his corn, Til he a lash have of the longe whippe, 220 Than thenketh he, 'though I praunce al biforn

First in the trays, ful fat and newe shorn, Yet am I but an hors, and horses lawe I moot endure, and with my feres drawe.'

83. So ferde it by this fers and proude knight; 225

Though he a worthy kinges sone were,

And wende no-thing hadde had swiche might

That he, that now was most in pryde above, 230

Wex sodeynly most subget un-to love.

34. For-thy ensample taketh of this man, Ye wyse, proude, and worthy folkes alle, To scornen Love, which that so some can The freedom of your hertes to him thralle; For ever it was, and ever it shal bifalle, That Love is he that alle thing may binde;

For may no man for-do the lawe of kinde.

35. That this be sooth, hath preved and doth yit; 239

For this trowe I ye knowen, alle or some, Men reden not that folk han gretter wit Than they that han be most with love

y-nome; And strengest folk ben therwith overcome,

The worthiest and grettest of degree; 244 This was, and is, and yet men shal it see.

36. And trewelich it sit wel to be so;

For alderwysest han ther-with ben plesed; And they that han ben aldermost in wo,

With love han been conforted most and esed; 249

And ofte it hath the cruel herte apesed,

And worthy folk maad worthier of name, And causeth most to dreden vyce and shame,

37. Now sith it may not goodly be withstonde,

And is a thing so vertuous in kinde,

Refuseth not to Love for to be bonde, 255

Sin, as him-selven list, he may yow binde.

- The yerde is bet that bowen wole and winde
- Than that that brest; and therfor I yow rede
- To folwen him that so wel can yow lede.

38. But for to tellen forth in special 260 As of this kinges sone of which I tolde, And leten other thing collateral,

Of him thenke I my tale for to holde,

Bothe of his joye, and of his cares colde; And al his work, as touching this matere, For I it gan, I wil ther-to refere. 206

39. With-inne the temple he wente him forth pleyinge,

This Troilus, of every wight aboute, On this lady and now on that lokinge,

Wher-so she were of toune, or of withoute: 270

And up-on cas bifel, that thorugh a route His eye perced, and so depe it wente,

God wolde I were aryved in the port Of deeth, to which my sorwe wil me lede!	And waylest for thy sinne and thyn offence, And hast for ferde caught attricioun ? God save hem that bi-seged han our toun, And so can leye our jolytee on presse, And bring our lusty folk to holinesse!'

- 81. These wordes seyde he for the nones alle, 561 That with swich thing he mighte him
- angry maken,

And with an angre don his sorwe falle,

As for the tyme, and his corage awaken; But wel he wiste, as fer as tonges spaken, Ther nas a man of gretter hardinesse 566 Than he, ne more desired worthinesse.

82. 'What cas,' quod Troilus, 'or what aventure

Hath gyded thee to see my languisshinge, That am refus of every creature? gyo But for the love of god, at my preyinge, Go henne a-way, for certes, my deyinge Wol thee disese, and I mot nedes deye; Ther-for go wey, ther is no more to seve.

 But if thou wene I be thus syk for drede, 575

It is not so, and ther-for scorne nought;

Ther is a-nother thing I take of hede

Wel more than ought the Grekes han y-wrought,

Which cause is of my deeth, for sorwe and thought.

- But though that I now telle thee it ne leste, 580
- Be thou nought wrooth, I hyde it for the beste.'
- This Pandare, that neigh malt for wo and routhe,

Ful often seyde, 'allas ! what may this be?

Now freend,' quod he, 'if ever love or trouthe

Hath been, or is, bi-twixen thee and me,

Ne do thou never swiche a crueltee 586 To hyde fro thy freend so greet a care ;

Wostow nought wel that it am I, Pandare?

85. I wole parten with thee al thy peyne,

If it be so I do thee no comfort, 550 As it is freendes right, sooth for to seyne, To entreparten wo, as glad desport.

I have, and shal, for trewe or fals report,

In wrong and right y-loved thee al my lyve; 594

Hyd not thy wo fro me, but telle it blyve.'

86. Then gan this sorwful Troilus to syke, And seyde him thus, 'god leve it be my beste To telle it thee; for, sith it may thee lyke,

Yet wole I telle it, though myn herte breste; 599

And wel wot I thou mayst do me no reste. But lest thow deme I truste not to thee.

Now herkne, freend, for thus it stant with me.

87. Love, a-yeins the which who-so defendeth

Him-selven most, him alder-lest avayleth, With desespeir so sorwfully me offendeth, That streyght un-to the deeth myn herte sayleth. 606 Ther-to desyr so brenningly me assaylleth,

That to ben slayn it were a gretter joye

To me than king of Grece been and Troye !

88. Suffiseth this, my fulle freend Pandare, That I have seyd, for now wostow my wo; And for the love of god, my colde care 612 So hyd it wel, I telle it never to mo;

For harmes mighte folwen, mo than two, If it were wist; but be thou in gladnesse, And lat me sterve, unknowe, of my distresse,' 616

- 89. 'How hastow thus unkindely and longe
- Hid this fro me, thou fool ?' quod Pandarus;
- 'Paraunter thou might after swich oon longe,
- That myn avys anoon may helpen us.' 620

' This were a wonder thing,' quod Troilus,

'Thou coudest never in love thy-selven wisse;

How devel maystow bringen me to blisse?'

90. 'Ye, Troilus, now herke,' quod Pandare,

'Though I be nyce ; it happeth ofte so, 625 That oon that exces doth ful yvele fare

By good counseyl can kepe his freend ther-fro.

I have my-self eek seyn a blind man go Ther-as he fel that coude loke wyde;

A fool may eek a wys man ofte gyde. 630

91. A whetston is no kerving instrument, And yet it maketh sharpe kerving-tolis.

- And ther thow woost that I have ought miswent,
- Eschewe thou that, for swich thing to thee scole is ;

Thus ofte wyse men ben war by folis. 635 If thou do so, thy wit is wel biwared;

By his contrarie is every thing declared.

92. For how might ever sweetnesse have be knowe

To him that never tasted bitternesse?

Ne no man may be inly glad, I trowe, 640 That never was in sorwe or som distresse; Eek whyt by blak, by shame eek worthinesse,

Ech set by other, more for other semeth;

As men may see; and so the wyse it demeth.

93. Sith thus of two contraries is a lore,

I, that have in love so ofte assayed 646 Grevaunces, oughte conne, and wel the more Counsayllen thee of that thou art amayed. Eek thee ne oughte nat ben yvel apayed, Thongh I desyre with thee for to bere 650 Thyn hevy charge; it shal the lasse dere.

94. J woot wel that it fareth thus by me As to thy brother Parys an herdesse, Which that y-cleped was Oënone, 654 Wroot in a compleynt of hir hevinesse:

Ye sey the lettre that she wroot, y gesse?' 'Nay, never yet, y-wis,' quod Troilus.

- 'Now,' quod Pandare, 'herkneth ; it was thus.—
- 95. "Phebus, that first fond art of medicyne,"
- Quod she, "and coude in every wightes care 660

Remede and reed, by herbes he knew fyne, Yet to him-self his conninge was fal bare; For love hadde him so bounden in a snare, Al for the doughter of the kinge Admete, That al his craft ne coude his sorwe bete."— 665

96. Right so fare I, unhappily for me; Ilove oon best, and that me smerteth sore; And yet, paraunter, can I rede thee,

And not my-self; repreve me no more. 669 I have no cause, I woot wel, for to sore

- As doth an hauk that listeth for to pleye,
- But to thyn help yet somwhat can I seye.

97. And of o thing right siker maystow be, That certayn, for to deyen in the peyne,

That I shal never-mo discoveren thee; 675 Ne, by my trouthe, I kepe nat restreyne

Thee fro thy love, thogh that it were Eleyne,

That is thy brotheres wyf, if ich it wiste; Be what she be, and love hir as thee liste.

98. Therfore, as freend fullich in me assure, 680

And tel me plat what is thyn enchesoun,

- And final cause of wo that ye endure ;
- For douteth no-thing, myn entencioun

Nis nought to yow of reprehencioun,

To speke as now, for no wight may bireve 685

A man to love, til that him list to leve.

99. And witeth wel, that bothe two ben vyces,

Mistrusten alle, or elles alle leve ;

But wel I woot, the mene of it no vyce is, For for to trusten sum wight is a preve 600 Of trouthe, and for-thy wolde I fayn remeve

- Thy wrong conceyte, and do thee som wight triste,
- Thy wo to telle; and tel me, if thee liste.
- 100. The wyse seyth, "wo him that is allone,
- For, and he falle, he hath noon help to ryse;" 695

And sith thou hast a felawe, tel thy mone; For this nis not, certeyn, the nexte wyse To winnen love, as techen us the wyse, To walwe and wepe as Niobe the quene, Whos teres yet in marbel been y-sene, 700

101. Lat be thy weping and thy drerinesse. And lat us lissen wo with other speche; So may thy woful tyme seme lesse. Delyte not in wo thy wo to seche, 704 As doon thise foles that hir sorwes eche? With sorwe, whan they han misaventure, And listen nought to seche hem other cure.

BOOK III.

Incipit Prohemium Tercii Libri.

1. O BLISFUL light, of whiche the bemes clere

Adorneth al the thridde hevene faire ! O sonnes leef, O Joves doughter dere, Plesaunce of love, O goodly debonaire, In gentil hertes ay redy to repaire ! 5 O verray cause of hele and of gladnesse, V-heried be thy might and thy goodnesse !

2. In hevene and helle, in erthe and salte see

Is felt thy might, if that I wel descerne ; As man, brid, best, fish, herbe and grene tree 10

Thee fele in tymes with vapour eterne. God loveth, and to love wol nought werne; And in this world no lyves creature, With-outen love, is worth, or may endure.

3. Ye Joves first to thilke effectes glade, 15 Thorugh which that thinges liven alle and be,

Comeveden, and amorous thim made On mortal thing, and as yow list, ay ye Yeve him in love ese or adversitee ;

And in a thousand formes down him sente For love in erthe, and whom yow liste, he hente.

4. Ye fierse Mars apeysen of his ire,

And, as yow list, ye maken hertes digne ; Algates, hem that ye wol sette a-fyre,

They dreden shame, and vices they resigne; 25

Ye do hem corteys be, fresshe and benigne, And hye or lowe, after a wight entendeth; The joyes that he hath, your might him sendeth.

5. Ye holden regne and hous in unitee; Ye soothfast cause of frendship been also; Ye knowe al thilke covered qualitee 31 Of thinges which that folk on wondren so, Whan they can not construe how it may jo, She loveth him, or why he loveth here; As why this fish, and nought that, cometh, to were, 35

6. Ye folk a lawe han set in universe, And this knowe I by hem that loveres be, That who-so stryveth with yow hath the werse:

Now, lady bright, for thy benignitee, At reverence of hem that serven thee, 40 Whos clerk I am, so techeth me devyse Som joye of that is felt in thy servyse.

 Ye in my naked herte sentement Inhelde, and do me shewe of thy swetnesse.—

Caliope, thy vois be now present, 45 For now is nede; sestow not my destresse, How I mot telle anon-right the gladnesse Of Troilus, to Venus heryinge?

To which gladnes, who nede hath, god him bringe !

- 158. And seyde, 'nece, but ye helpe us now, 1100
- Allas, your owne Troilus is lorn !'
- 'Y-wis, so wolde I, and I wiste how,
- Ful fayn,' quod she; 'allas! that I was born!'
- 'Ye, nece, wol ye pullen out the thorn
- That stiketh in his herte?' quod Pandare; 'Sey "al foryeve," and stint is al this
- fare !' 1106
- 159. 'Ye, that to me,' quod she, 'ful lever were

Than al the good the sonne aboute gooth'; And therwith-al she swoor him in his ere,

- 'Y-wis, my dere herte, I am nought wrooth, 110
- Have here my trouthe and many another ooth ;

Now speek to me, for it am I, Criseyde !'

- But al for nought; yet mighte he not a-breyde.
- 160. Therwith his pous and pawmes of his hondes
- They gan to frote, and wete his temples tweyne, 1115
- And, to deliveren him from bittre bondes, She ofte him kiste; and, shortly for to
- seyne,
- Him to revoken she dide al hir peyne.
- And at the laste, he gan his breeth to drawe,
- And of his swough sone after that adawe,
- 161. And gan bet minde and reson to him take, 1121

But wonder sore he was abayst, y-wis.

And with a syk, whan he gan bet a-wake.

- He seyde, 'O mercy, god, what thing is this?'
- 'Why do ye with your-selven thus amis?'
- Quod tho Criseyde, 'is this a mannes game? 1126
- What, Troilus! wol ye do thus, for shame?'
- 162. And therwith-al hir arm over him she leyde,

And al foryaf, and ofte tyme him keste.

He thonked hir, and to hir spak, and seyde 1130 As fil to purpos for his herte reste.

And she to that answerde him as hir leste;

And with hir goodly wordes him disporte She gan, and ofte his sorwes to comforte.

- 163. Quod Pandarus, 'for ought I can espyen, 1135

He jelous was, sin ther was cause noon; And eek the signe, that he took it by,

She bad him that to telle hir bisily,

Or elles, certeyn, she bar him on honde, That this was doon of malis, hir to fonde.

166. With-outen more, shortly for to seyne, 1156

He moste obeye un-to his lady heste ;

- And for the lasse harm, he moste fevne.
- He seyde hir, whan she was at swiche a feste
- She mighte on him han loked at the leste;

Not I not what, al dere y-nough a risshe, As he that nedes moste a cause fisshe.

167. And she answerde, 'swete, al were it so,

What harm was that, sin I non yvel mene?

- 177. And as the newe abaysshed nightingale,
- That stinteth first whan she biginneth singe,

Whan that she hereth any herde tale, 1235 Or in the hegges any wight steringe,

And after siker dooth hir voys out-ringe; Right so Criseyde, whan hir drede stente, Opned hir herte, and tolde him hir entente.

- 178. And right as he that seeth his deeth y-shapen, 1240
- And deve moot, in ought that he may gesse,

And sodeynly rescous doth him escapen,

- And from his deeth is brought in sikernesse,
- For al this world, in swich present gladnesse 1244

Was Troilus, and hath his lady swete;

With worse hap god lat us never mete !

- 179. Hir armes smale, hir streyghte bak and softe,
- Hir sydes longe, fleshly, smothe, and whyte
- He gan to stroke, and good thrift bad ful ofte
- Hir snowish throte, hir brestes rounde and lyte; 1250

Thus in this hevene he gan him to delyte,

- And ther-with-al a thousand tyme hir kiste;
- That, what to done, for joye unnethe he wiste.
- 180. Than seyde he thus, 'O, Love, O, Charitee,

Thy moder eek, Citherea the swete, 1255 After thy-self next heried be she,

Venus mene I, the wel-willy planete ;

And next that, Imenëus, I thee grete;

For never man was to yow goddes holde

- As I, which ye han brought fro cares colde. 1260
- 181. Benigne Love, thou holy bond of thinges,
- Who-so wol grace, and list thee nought honouren,

Lo, his desyr wol flee with-outen winges.

For, noldestow of bountee hem socouren That serven best and most alwey labouren,

- Yet were al lost, that dar I wel seyn, certes, 1266
- But-if thy grace passed our desertes.
- 182. And for thou me, that coude leest deserve
- Of hem that nombred been un-to thy grace,

Hast holpen, ther I lykly was to sterve,

And me bistowed in so heygh a place 1271 That thilke boundes may no blisse pace, I can no more, but laude and reverence Be to thy bounte and thyn excellence!'

183. And therwith-al Criseyde anoon he kiste, 1275

Of which, certeyn, she felte no disese.

And thus seyde he, 'now wolde god I wiste,

Myn herte swete, how I yow mighte plese! What man,' quod he, ' was ever thus at ese

As I, on whiche the faireste and the beste 1280

That ever I say, deyneth hir herte reste.

184. Here may men seen that mercy passeth right;

The experience of that is felt in me,

That am unworthy to so swete a wight.

But herte myn, of your benignitee, 1285 So thenketh, though that I unworthy be,

Yet mot I nede amenden in som wyse,

Right thourgh the vertu of your heyghe servyse.

- 185. And for the love of god, my lady dere.
- Sin god hath wrought me for I shal yow serve, 1250

As thus I mene, that ye wol be my stere, To do me live, if that yow liste, or sterve, So techeth me how that I may deserve

Your thank, so that I, thurgh myn ignoraunce, 1204

Ne do no-thing that yow be displesaunce.

186. For certes, fresshe wommanliche wyf, This dar I seye, that trouthe and diligence,

That shal ye finden in me al my lyf,

Ne I wol not, certeyn, breken your defence;

And if I do, present or in absence, 1300 For love of god, lat slee me with the dede, If that it lyke un-to your womanhede.'

187. 'Y-wis,' quod she, 'myn owne hertes list.

My ground of ese, and al myn herte dere, Graunt mercy, for on that is al my trist:

But late us falle awey fro this matere; For it suffyseth, this that seyd is here.

And at o word, with-outen repentaunce,

Wel-come, my knight, my pees, my suffisaunce !'

133. Of hir delyt, or joyes oon the leste Were impossible to my wit to seye; 1311 But juggeth, ye that han ben at the feste Of swich gladnesse, if that hem listepleye! I can no more, but thus thise ilke tweye

That night, be-twixen dreed and sikernesse, 1315

Felten in love the grete worthinesse.

189. O blisful night, of hem so longe y-sought,

How blithe un-to hem bothe two thou were !

Why ne hadde I swich on with my soule y-bought,

Ye, or the leeste joye that was there ? 1320 A-wey, thou foule daunger and thou fere, And lat hem in this hevene blisse dwelle, That is so heygh, that al ne can I telle !

190. But sooth is, though I can not tellen al, As can myn auctor, of his excellence, 1325 Yet have I seyd, and, god to-forn, I shal In every thing al hoolly his sentence.

And if that I, at loves reverence,

Have any word in eched for the beste,

Doth therwith-al right as your-selven leste. 1330

191. For myne wordes, here and every part,

I speke hem alle under correccioun Of yow, that feling han in loves art, And putte it al in your discrecioun T' encrese or maken diminucioun Of my langage, and that I yow bi-seche; But now to purpos of my rather speche.

192. Thise ilke two, that ben in armes laft,

So looth to hem a-sonder goon it were,

That ech from other wende been biraft,

Or elles, lo, this was hir moste fere, 1341 That al this thing but nyce dremes were; For which ful ofte ech of hem seyde, 'O swete,

Clippe ich yow thus, or elles I it mete ?'

193. And, lord ! so he gan goodly on hir see, 1345

That never his look ne bleynte from hir face,

And seyde, 'O dere herte, may it be

That it be sooth, that ye ben in this place?'

'Ye, herte myn, god thank I of his grace!' Quod tho Criseyde, and therwith-al him kiste, 1350

That where his spirit was, for joye he niste.

194. This Troilus ful ofte hir eyen two

Gan for to kisse, and seyde, 'O eyen clere, It were ye that wroughte me swich wo,

Ye humble nettes of my lady dere! 1355 Though ther be mercy writen in your chere.

God wot, the text ful hard is, sooth, to finde,

How coude ye with-outen bond me binde?'

195. Therwith he gan hir faste in armes take, 1359

And wel an hundred tymes gan he syke, Noughtswichesorwful sykes as men make For wo, or elles whan that folk ben syke, But esy sykes, swiche as been to lyke, That shewed his affeccioun with-inne;

Of swiche sykes coude he nought bilinne.

196. Sone after this they speke of sondry thinges, 1366

As fil to purpos of this aventure,

And pleyinge entrechaungeden hir ringes, Of which I can nought tellen no scripture; But wel I woot a broche, gold and asure, In whiche a ruby set was lyk an herte, 1371

Criseyde him yaf, and stak it on his sherte.

207. This Troilus, that with the wordes felte,

As thoughte him tho, for piëtous distresse, The blody teres from his herte melte, 1445 As he that never yet swich hevinesse

Assaved hadde, out of so greet gladnesse,

Gan therwith-al Criseyde his lady dere

In armes streyne, and seyde in this manere:---

208. 'O cruel day, accusour of the joye

That night and love han stole and faste y-wryen, 1451

A-cursed be thy coming in-to Troye,

For every bore hath oon of thy bright yën! Envyous day, what list thee so to spyen?

- What hastow lost, why sekestow this place.
- Ther god thy lyght so quenche, for his grace ?
- 209. Allas! what han thise loveres thee agilt,

Dispitous day? thyn be the pyne of helle!

- For many a lovere hastow shent, and wilt;
- Thy pouring in wol no-wher lete hem dwelle, 1460
- What proferestow thy light here for to selle?

Go selle it hem that smale seles graven,

- We wol thee nought, us nedeth no day haven.'
- 210. And eek the sonne Tytan gan he chyde,
- And seyde, 'O fool, wel may men thee dispyse, 1465
- That hast the Dawing al night by thy syde,

And suffrest hir so sone up fro thee ryse,

For to disesen loveres in this wyse.

What! hold your bed ther, thou, and eek thy Morwe!

I bidde god, so yeve yow bothe sorwe !'

211. Therwith ful sore he sighte, and thus he seyde, 1471
'My lady right, and of my wele or wo The welleand rote, O goodly myn, Criseyde, And shal I go?

Now fele I that myn herte moot a-two ! 1475

For how sholde I my lyf an houre save, Sin that with yow is al the lyf I have?

212. What shal I doon, for certes, I not how,

Ne whanne, allas! I shal the tyme see, That in this plyt I may be eft with yow; And of my lyf, god woot how that shal be, 1481

Sin that desyr right now so byteth me,

That I am deed anoon, but I retourne.

How sholde I longe, allas! fro yow sojourne?

213. But nathelees, myn owene lady bright, 1485

Yit were it so that I wiste outrely,

That I, your humble servaunt and your knight,

Were in your herte set so fermely

As ye in myn, the which thing, trewely, Me lever were than thise worldes tweyne, Yet sholde I bet enduren al my peyne.'

214. To that Criseyde answerde right anoon, 1492

And with a syk she seyde, 'O herte dere, The game, y-wis, so ferforth now is goon, That first shal Phebus falle fro his spere, And every egle been the dowves fere, 1496 And every roche out of his place sterte, Er Troilus out of Crisevides herte !

215. Ye be so depe in-with myn herte grave,

That, though I wolde it turne out of my thought, 1500

As wisly verray god my soule save,

To dyen in the peyne, I coude nought !

And, for the love of god that us hath wrought,

Lat in your brayn non other fantasye So crepe, that it cause me to dye! 1505

216. And that ye me wolde han as faste in minde

As I have yow, that wolde I yow bi-seche; And, if I wiste soothly that to finde,

God mighte not a poynt my joyes eche ! But, herte myn, with-oute more speche,

Beth to me trewe, or elles were it routhe; For I am thyn, by god and by my trouthe!

- 217. Beth glad for-thy, and live in sikernesse;
- Thus seyde I never er this, ne shal to mo; 1514

And if to yow it were a gret gladnesse To turne ayein, soone after that ye go,

As fayn wolde I as ye, it were so,

As wisly god myn herte bringe at reste!' And him in armes took, and ofte keste.

- 218. Agayns his wil, sin it mot nedes be,
- This Troilus up roos, and faste him cledde, 1521
- And in his armes took his lady free
- An hundred tyme, and on his wey him spedde,
- And with swich wordes as his herte bledde,

He seyde, 'farewel, my dere herte swete,

- Ther god us graunte sounde and sone to mete !' 1526
- 219. To which no word for sorve she answerde,
- So sore gan his parting hir destreyne; And Troilus un-to his palays ferde,
- As woo bigon as she was, sooth to seyne; So hard him wrong of sharp desyr the peyne 1531
- For to ben eft there he was in plesaunce,
- That it may never out of his remembraunce.

220. Retorned to his rëal palais, sone 1534 He softe in-to his bed gan for to slinke,

To slepe longe, as he was wont to done,

- But al for nought ; he may wel ligge and winke,
- But sleep ne may ther in his herte sinke;
- Thenkinge how she, for whom desyr him brende,
- A thousand-fold was worth more than he wende. 1540
- 221. And in his thought gan up and down to winde

Hir wordes alle, and every contenaunce, And fermely impressen in his minde

The leste poynt that to him was pleasunce; And verrayliche, of thilke remembraunce,

- Desyr al newe him brende, and lust to brede 1546
- Gan more than erst, and yet took he non hede.
- 222. Criseyde also, right in the same wyse, Of Troilus gan in hir herte shette 1549 His worthinesse, his lust, his dedes wyse, His gentilesse, and how she with him mette.
- Thonkinge love he so wel hir bisette ;
- Desyring eft to have hir herte dere
- In swich a plyt, she dorste make him chere.
- 223. Pandare, a-morwe which that comen was 1555
- Un-to his nece, and gan hir fayre grete, Seyde, 'al this night so reyned it, allas !

That al my drede is that ye, nece swete,

- Han litel layser had to slepe and mete ;
- Al night,' quod he, 'hath reyn so do me wake, 1560
- That som of us, I trowe, hir hedes ake.'
- 224. And ner he com, and seyde, 'how stont it now

This mery morwe, nece, how can ye fare?' Criseyde answerde, 'never the bet for yow,

- Fox that ye been, god yeve your herte care! 1565
- God helpe me so, ye caused al this fare,
- Trow I,' quod she, ' for alle your wordes whyte;
- O! who-so seeth yow knoweth yow ful lyte !'
- 225. With that she gan hir face for to wrye
- With the shete, and wex for shame al reed; 1570

And Pandarus gan under for to prye, And seyde, 'nece, if that I shal ben deed.

Have here a swerd, and smyteth of myn heed.'

With that his arm al sodeynly he thriste

Under hir nekke, and at the laste hir kiste. 1575

226. I passe al that which chargeth nought to seve.

What! God foryaf his deeth, and she al-so

Foryaf, and with hir uncle gan to pleye, For other cause was ther noon than so. But of this thing right to the effect to go, Whan tyme was, hom til hir hous she wente, 1581 227. Now torne we ayein to Troilus, That restelees ful longe a-bedde lay, And prevely sente after Pandarus, 1585 To him to come in al the haste he may. - A tyme of trewe, and tho they gonnen trete,
- Hir prisoneres to chaungen, moste and leste, 59

And for the surplus yeven sommes grete. This thing anoon was couth in every strete,

Bothe in th'assege, in toune, and everywhere,

And with the firste it cam to Calkas ere.

10. Whan Calkas knew this tretis sholde holde,

In consistorie, among the Grekes, sone 65 He gan in thringe forth, with lordes olde,

And sette him there-as he was wont to done;

And with a chaunged face hem bad a bone,

For love of god, to don that reverence,

To stinte noyse, and yeve him audience.

And though I mighte, I wolde not do so.

But canstow pleyen raket, to and fro, 460

Netle in, dokke out, now this, now that, Pandare?

Now foule falle hir, for thy wo that care !

67. Thow farest eek by me, thou Pandarus,

As he, that whan a wight is wo bi-goon,

- He cometh to him a pas, and seyth right thus, 465
- "Thenk not on smert, and thou shalt fele noon."
- Thou most me first transmuwen in a stoon,
- And reve me my passiounes alle,

Er thou so lightly do my wo to falle.

- 68. The deeth may wel out of my brest departe 470
- The lyf, so longe may this sorve myne; But fro my soule shal Criseydes darte

Out never-mo; but down with Proserpyne,

Whan I am deed, I wol go wone in pyne; And ther I wol eternally compleyne 475 My wo, and how that twinned be we tweyne.

 Thow hast here maad an argument, for fyn,

How that it sholde lasse peyne be

Criseyde to for-goon, for she was myn,

And live in ese and in felicitee. 480

- Why gabbestow, that seydest thus to me
- That "him is wors that is fro wele ythrowe,
- Than he hadde erst non of that wele y-knowe?"
- 70. But tel me now, sin that thee thinketh so light

To changen so in love, ay to and fro, 485 Why hastow not don bisily thy might To changen hir that doth thee al thy wo? Why niltow lete hir fro thyn herte go? Why niltow love an-other lady swete, That may thyn herte setten in quiete?

- 71. If thou hast had in love ay yet mischaunce, 491
- And canst it not out of thyn herte dryve, I, that livede in lust and in plesaunce
- With hir as muche as creature on-lyve,
- How sholde I that foryete, and that so blyve? 495
- O where hastow ben hid so longe in muwe, That canst so wel and formely arguwe?

 Nay, nay, god wot, nought worth is al thy reed,

For which, for what that ever may bifalle,

With-outen wordes mo, I wol be deed, 500 O deeth, that endere art of sorwes alle, Com now, sin I so ofte after thee calle; For sely is that deeth, soth for to seyne, That, ofte y-cleped, cometh and endeth peyne.

73. Wel wot I, wnyl my lyf was in quiete,

Er thou me slowe, I wolde have yeven hyre; 506

But now thy cominge is to me so swete, That in this world I no-thing so desyre. O deeth, sin with this sorwe I am a-fyre, Thou outher do meanoon in teres drenche, Or with thy colde strook myn hete

Ayens hir wil, unpreyed, day and night, Do me, at my requeste, this servyse, Delivere now the world, so dostow right, Of me, that am the wofulleste wight 516 That ever was; for tyme is that I sterve, Sin in this world of right nought may I serve'

75. This Troilus in teres gan distille,

As licour out of alambyk ful faste; 520 And Pandarus gan holde his tunge stille,

- And to the ground his eyen down he caste.
- But nathelees, thus thoughte he at the laste,
- 'What, parde, rather than my felawe deye,

Yet shal I som-what more un-to him seye:'

 And seyde, 'freend, sin thou hast swich distresse, 526
 And sin thee list myn arguments to blame,

Whynilt thy-selven helpen doon redresse, And with thy manhod letten al this grame?

Go ravisshe hir ne canstow not for shame! And outher lat hir out of toune fare, 531 Or hold hir stille, and leve thy nyce fare.

- 77. Artow in Troye, and hast non hardiment
- To take a womman which that loveth thee,

And wolde hir-selven been of thyn assent? Now is not this a nyce vanitee? 536 Rys up anoon, and lat this weping be,

And kyth thou art a man, for in this houre

I wil be deed, or she shal bleven oure.'

78. To this answerde him Troilus ful softe, 540

And seyde, 'parde, leve brother dere,

Al this have I my-self yet thought ful ofte, And more thing than thou devysest here. But why this thing is laft, thou shalt wel here : 514

And whan thou me hast yeve an audience, Ther-after mayst thou telle al thy sentence.

79. First, sin thou wost this toun hath al this werre

For ravisshing of wommen so by might, It sholde not be suffred me to erre, 549 As it stant now, ne doon so gret unright. I sholde han also blame of every wight, My fadres graunt if that I so withstode, Sin she is changed for the tounes goode.

 I have eek thought, so it were hir assent,

To aske hir at my fuder, of his grace; 557 Than thenke I, this were hir accusement, Sin wel I woot I may hir not purchace. For sin my fader, in so heigh a place As parlement, hath hir eschaunge enseled, He nil for me his lettre be repeled. 500

81. Yet drede I most hir herte to pertourbe

With violence, if I do swich a game; For if I wolde it openly distourbe, I moste been disclaundre to hir name. And me were lever deed than hir defame, As nolde god but-if I sholde have fir honour lever than my lyft to says 6!

82. Thus am I lost, for ought that I can see;

For certeyn is, sin that I am hir knight, I moste hir honour lever han than me In every cas, as lovere oughte of right, 571 Thus am I with desyr and reson twight: Desyr for to distourben hir me redeth, And reson nil not, so myn herte dredeth.'

- Thus we pinge that he coude never cesse, 575
- He seyde, 'allas! how shal I, wrecche, fare?
- For wel fele I alwey my love encresse,
- And hope is lasse and lasse alwey, Pandare!

Encressen eek the causes of my care; So wel-a-wey, why nil myn herte breste? For, as in love, ther is but litel reste.' 581

84. Pandare answerde, 'freend, thou mayst, for me,

Don as thee list; but hadde ich it so hote,

And thyn estat, she sholde go with me;

Though al this toun cryede on this thing by note, 585

I nolde sette at al that noyse a grote.

- For when men han wel cryed, than wol they roune;
- A wonder last but nyne night never in toune.
- 85. Devyne not in reson ay so depe

Ne curteysly, but help thy-self anoon ; 590 Bet is that othere than thy-selven wepe, And namely, sin ye two been al oon.

Rys up, for by myn heed, she shal not goon;

And rather be in blame a lyte y-founde

Than sterve here as a gnat, with-oute wounde. 595

86. It is no shame un-to yow, ne no vyce

Hir to with-holden, that ye loveth most.

Paraunter, she mighte holden thee for nyce

To lete hir go thus to the Grekes ost.

Thenk eek Fortune, as wel thy-selven wost, 600

And weyveth wrecches, for hir cowardyse.

87. And though thy lady wolde a litel hir greve,

Thou shalt thy pees ful wel here-after make,

But as for me, certayn, I can not leve 605 That she wolde it as now for yvel take.

- Why sholde than for ferd thyn herte quake?
- Thenk eek how Paris hath, that is thy brother,
- A love; and why shaltow not have another?
- 88. And Troilus, o thing I dar thee swere, 610

That if Criseyde, whiche that is thy leef, Now loveth thee as wel as thou dost here, God helpe me so, she nil not take a-greef, Though thou do bote a-noon in this mischeef.

And if she wilneth fro thee for to passe, Thanne is she fals; so love hir wel the

- 89. For-thy tak herte, and thenk, right as a knight,

Thourgh love is broken alday every lawe.

Kyth now sumwhat thy corage and thy might,

Have mercy on thy-self, for any awe. 620

- Lat not this wrecched wo thin herte gnawe,
- But manly set the world on sixe and sevene;

And, if thou deye a martir, go to hevene.

90. I wol my-self be with thee at this dede,

Though ich and al my kin, up-on a stounde, 625

As seyden bothe the moste and eek the leste, 440

Was never er that day wist at any feste.

- 64. Nor in this world ther is non instrument
- Delicious, through wind, or touche, or corde,

As fer as any wight hath ever y-went, That tonge telle or herte may recorde, 445 That at that feste it nas wel herd acorde; Ne of ladies eek so fayr a companye

On daunce, er tho, was never y-seyn with yë.

65. But what avayleth this to Troilus, That for his sorwe no-thing of it roughte? For ever in oon his herte pittous 451 Ful bisily Criseyde his lady soughte. On hir was ever al that his herte thoughte. Now this, now that, so faste imagininge, That glade, y-wis, can him no festeyinge.

66. These ladies eek that at this feste been, 456

Sin that he saw his lady was a-weye, It was his sorwe upon hem for to seen, Or for to here on instruments so pleye. For she, that of his herte berth the keye, Was absent, lo, this was his fantasye, 467 That no wight sholde make melodye.

- 67. Nor ther nas houre in al the day or night,
- Whan he was ther-as no wight mighte him here,

That he ne seyde, 'O lufsom lady bright,

How have ye faren, sin that ye were here? 466

Wel-come, y-wis, myn owene lady dere.' But welaway, al this nas but a mase;

Fortune his howve entended bet to glase.

68. The lettres eek, that she of olde tyme Hadde him y-sent, he wolde allone rede,

An hundred sythe, a-twixen noon and pryme; 472

Refiguringe hir shap, hir womanhede,

- With-inne his herte, and every word and dede
- That passed was, and thus he droof to an ende 475
- The ferthe day, and seyde, he wolde wende.

69. And scyde, 'leve brother Pandarus, Intendestow that we shul herë bleve Til Sarpedoun wol forth congeyen us? Yet were it fairer that we toke our leve. For goddes love, lat us now sone at eve Our leve take, and homward lat us torne; For trewely, I nil not thus sojorne.' 483

70. Pandare answerde, 'be we comen hider

To feechen fyr, and rennen hoom ayeyn? God helpe me so, I can not tellen whider We mighten goon, if I shal soothly seyn, Ther any wight is of us more fayn

Than Sarpedoun ; and if we hennes hye Thus sodeinly, I holde it vilanye, 490

- 71. Sin that we seyden that we wolde bleve
- With him a wouke; and now, thus sodeinly,

The ferthe day to take of him our leve,

He wolde wondren on it, trewely! 494 Lat us holde forth our purpos fermely; And sin that ye bihighten him to byde,

Hold forward now, and after lat us ryde.'

- 72. Thus Pandarus, with alle peyne and wo.
- Made him to dwelle; and at the woukes ende,

Of Sarpedoun they toke hir leve tho, 500

And on hir wey they spedden hem to wende.

Quod Troilus, ' now god me grace sende,

That I may finden, at myn hom-cominge, Criseyde comen !' and ther-with gan he

- singe.
- 73. 'Ye, hasel-wode !' thoughte this Pandare, 505

And to him-self ful softely he seyde, 'God woot, refreyden may this hote fare

Er Calkas sende Troilus Criseyde !'

But natheles, he japed thus, and seyde,

- And swor, y-wis, his herte him wel bihighte, 510
- She wolde come as sone as ever she mighte.
- 74. Whan they un-to the paleys were y-comen

Of Troilus, they down of hors alighte,

Book V.]

- Sin I am thyn, and hoolly at thy wille? What joye hastow thyn owene folk to spille? 588
- 85. Wel hastow, lord, y-wroke on me thyn ire.

Thou mighty god, and dredful for to grevel Now mercy, lord, thou wost wel I desire Thy grace most, of alle lustes leve. 592 And live and deve I wol in thy bileve; For which I n'axe in guerdon but a bone, That thou Criseyde ayein me sende sone.

86. Distreyne hir herte as faste to retorne As thou dost myn to longen hir to see; Than woot I wel, that she nil not sojorne. Now, blisful lord, so cruel thou ne be Un-to the blood of Troye, I preye thee, 600

As Juno was un-to the blood Thebane, For which the folk of Thebes caughte hir bane.'

87. And after this he to the yates wente Ther-as Criseyde out-rood a ful good paas, And up and doun ther made he many a wente, 605

And to him-self ful ofte he seyde 'allas ! From hennes rood my blisse and my solas ! As wolde blisful god now, for his joye,

I mighte hir seen ayein come in-to Troye.

- 88. And to the yonder hille I gan hir gyde, Allas! and there I took of hir my leve! And yond I saugh hir to hir fader ryde.
- For sorwe of which myn herte shal tocleve. 613

And hider hoom I com whan it was eve; And here I dwelle out-cast from alle joye, And shal, til I may seen hir eft in Troye.<sup>2</sup>

89. And of him-self imagined he ofte

To ben defet, and pale, and waxen lesse

- Than he was wont, and that men seyde softe,
- 'What may it be? who can the sothe gesse 620

Why Troilus hath al this hevinesse?' And al this nas but his malencolve.

That he hadde of him-self swich fantasye.

90. Another tyme imaginen he wolde 'That every wight that wente by the weye

Had of him routhe, and that they seyen sholde, 626

'I am right sory Troilus wol deye.'

And thus he droof a day yet forth or tweye. As ye have herd, swich lyf right gan he lede, As he that stood bitwixen hope and drede.

91. For which him lyked in his songes shewe 631

Th'encheson of his wo, as he best mighte, And make a song of wordes but a fewe, Somwhat his woful herte for to lighte.

- And whan he was from every mannes
- sighte, 635 With softe voys he, of his lady dere,

That was absent, gan singe as ye may here.

92. 'O sterre, of which I lost have al the light,

With herte soor wel oughte I to bewayle, That ever derk in torment, night by night, Toward my deeth with wind in stere I sayle; 641

sayle; 641 For which the tenthe night if that I fayle The gyding of thy bemes brighte an houre, My ship and me Caribdis wol devoure.

93. This song when he thus songen hadde, sone 645

He fil ayein in-to his sykes olde ;

And every night, as was his wone to done, He stood the brighte mone to beholde,

And al his sorwe he to the mone tolde ;

And seyde, 'y-wis, whan thou art horned newe, 650

I shal be glad, if al the world be trewe !

94. I saugh thyn hornes olde eek by the morwe,

Whan hennes rood my righte lady dere, That cause is of my torment and my sorwe; For whiche, O brighte Lucina the clere, 655 For love of god, ren faste aboute thy spere! For whan thyn hornes newe ginne springe, Than shal she come, that may my blisse bringe !'

95. The day is more, and lenger every night,

Than they be wont to be, him thoughte tho; 660 And that the sonne wente his course unright

By lenger wey than it was wont to go; And seyde, 'y-wis, me dredeth ever-mo,

The sonnes sone, Pheton, be on-lyve,

And that his fadres cartamis he dryve.' 665

96. Upon the walles faste eek wolde he walke.

And on the Grekes ost he wolde see,

And to him-self right thus he wolde talke,

'Lo, vonder is myn owene lady free,

Or elles yonder, ther tho tentes be ! 670 And thennes comth this eyr, that is so sote.

That in my soule I fele it doth me bote,

97. And hardely this wind, that more and more

Thus stoundemele encreseth in my face,

Is of my ladyes depe sykes sore. 675

I preve it thus, for in non othere place

Of al this toun, save onliche in this space.

- Fele I no wind that souneth so lyk peyne; It seyth, "allas! why twinned be we
- tweyne?"'
- 98. This longe tyme he dryveth forth right thus. 680
- Til fully passed was the nynthe night;
- And ay bi-syde him was this Pandarus,
- That bisily dide alle his fulle might

Him to comforte, and make his herte light;

Yevinge him hope alwey, the tenthe morwe That she shal come, and stinten al his 686

- sorwe.
- 99. Up-on that other syde eek was Crisevde.
- With wommen fewe, among the Grekes stronge;

For which ful ofte a day 'allas!' she seyde.

'That I was born! Wel may myn herte longe 600

After my deeth; for now live I to longe !

Allas ! and I ne may it not amende ;

For now is wors than ever yet I wende.

100. My fader nil for no-thing do me grace

To goon ayein, for nought I can him queme; 695

And if so be that I my terme passe,

My Troilus shal in his herte deme 697 That I am fals, and so it may wel seme. Thus shal I have unthank on every syde; That I was born, so weylawey the tyde !

101. And if that I me putte in jupartye, To stele awey by nighte, and it bifalle That I be caught, I shal be holde a spye ; Or elles, lo, this drede I most of alle, If in the hondes of som wrecche I falle. I am but lost, al be myn herte trewe : 706 Now mighty god, thou on my sorwe rewe !'

102. Ful pale y-waxen was hir brighte face, Hir limes lene, as she that al the day

- Stood whan she dorste, and loked on the place 710
- Ther she was born, and ther she dwelt hadde ay.

And al the night wepinge, allas ! she lay. And thus despeired, out of alle cure,

She ladde hir lyf, this woful creature.

103. Ful ofte a day she sighte eek for destresse, 715

And in hir-self she wente ay portrayinge Of Troilus the grete worthinesse.

And alle his goodly wordes recordinge

Sin first that day hir love bigan to springe. And thus she sette hir woful herte a-fyre Thorugh remembraunce of that she gan desyre. 721

- 104. In al this world ther nis so cruel herte
- That hir hadde herd compleynen in hir sorwe.

That nolde han wopen for hir peynes smerte,

So tendrely she weep, bothe eve and morwe. Hir nedede no teres for to borwe. 726

And this was yet the worste of al hir pevne. Ther was no wight to whom she dorste hir pleyne.

- 105. Ful rewfully she loked up-on Troye, Biheld the toures heighe and eek the halles; 730
- 'Allas !' quod she, 'the plesaunce and the joye

The whiche that now al torned in-to galle is,

- Have I had ofte with-inne yonder walles! O Troilus, what dostow now,' she seyde ;
- Lord ! whether yet thou thenke up-on Criseyde ? 735

106. Allas! Ine hadde trowed on your lore, And went with yow, as ye me radde er this! Thanne hadde I now not syked half so sore. Who mighte have seyd, that I had doon a-mis

To stele awey with swich on as he is ? 740 But al to late cometh the letuarie, Whan men the cors un-to the grave carie.

107. To late is now to speke of this matere; Prudence, allas! oon of thyn eyen three Me lakked alwey, er that I cam here; 745 On tyme y-passed, wel remembred me; And present tyme eek coude I wel y-see. But futur tyme, er I was in the snare, Coude I not seen; that causeth now my care. 749

108. But natheles, bityde what bityde, I shal to-morwe at night, by est or weste, Out of this ost stele on som maner syde, And go with Troilus wher-as him leste. This purpos wol I holde, and this is beste. No fors of wikked tonges janglerye, 755 For ever on love han wreeches had envye.

109. For who-so wole of every word take hede,

Or rewlen him by every wightes wit, Ne shal he never thryven, out of drede. For that that som men blamen ever yit, Lo, other maner folk commenden it. 761 And as for me, for al swich variaunce, Felicitee clepe I my suffisaunce.

The Invocation.

But at my ginning, trusteth wel, I wol make invocacioun, With special devocioun, Unto the god of slepe anoon, That dwelleth in a cave of stoon 70 Upon a streem that comth fro Lete, That is a flood of helle unswete : Besyde a folk men clepe Cimerie. Ther slepeth ay this god unmerie With his slepy thousand sones 75 That alway for to slepe hir wone is-And to this god, that I of rede, Preve I, that he wol me spede My sweven for to telle aright, If every dreem stonde in his might, 80 And he, that mover is of al That is and was, and ever shal, So vive hem jove that hit here Of alle that they dreme to-vere. And for to stonden alle in grace 85 Of hir loves, or in what place That hem wer levest for to stonde. And shelde hem fro +povert and shonde, And fro unhappe and ech disese, And sende hem althat may hem plese, co That take hit wel, and scorne hit noght, Ne hit misdemen in her thoght Through malicious entencioun. « And who-so, through presumpcioun, Or hate or scorne, or through envye, 05 Dispyt, or jape, or vilanye, Misdeme hit, preye I Jesus god That (dreme he barfoot, dreme he shod), That every harm that any man Hath had, sith [that] the world began, 100 Befalle him therof, or he sterve, And graunte he mote hit ful deserve, Lo! with swich a conclusioun As had of his avisioun Cresus, that was king of Lyde, 105 That high upon a gebet dyde ! This praver shal he have of me: I am no bet in charite !

Now herkneth, as I have you seyd, What that I mette, or I abreyd. 110

The Dream.

Of Decembre the tenthe day, Whan hit was night, to slepe I lay Right ther as I was wont to done, And fil on slepe wonder sone, As he that wery was for-go On pilgrimage myles two To the corsevnt Leonard. To make lythe of that was hard. But as I +sleep, me mette I was Within a temple y-mad of glas; 120 In whiche ther were mo images Of gold, stondinge in sondry stages, And mo riche tabernacles, And with perree mo pinacles, And mo curious portreytures, 125 And quevnte maner of figures Of olde werke, then I saw ever. For certevnly, I niste never Wher that I was, but wel wiste I. Hit was of Venus redely, 130 The temple ; for, in portreyture, I saw anoon-right hir figure Naked fletinge in a see. And also on hir heed, pardee, Hir rose-garlond whyt and reed, 135 And hir comb to kembe hir heed. Hir dowves, and daun Cupido, Hir blinde sone, and Vulcano, That in his face was ful broun. But as I romed up and doun. 1.10 I fond that on a wal ther was

I fond that on a wal ther was Thus writen, on a table of bras: 'I wol now singe, if that I can, The armes, and al-so the man, That first cam, through his destinee, 'I table, with ful moche pyne, Unto the strondes of Lavyne,' And tho began the story anoon, As I shal telle yow echoon. First saw I the destruccionn Of Troye, through the Greek Sinoun, (That] with his false forsweringe, And his chere and his lesinge

And his chere and his lesinge Made the hors broght into Troye, 155 Thorgh which Troyens loste al hir joye. And after this was grave, allas ! How Ilioun assailed was And wonne, and king Priam y-slayn, The Hous of Same.

Weninge hit had al be so. As he hir swoor; and her-by demed That he was good, for he swich semed. Allas! what harm doth apparence, 265 Whan hit is fals in existence ! For he to hir a traitour was: Wherfor she slow hir-self, allas ! Lo, how a woman doth amis, To love him that unknowen is ! 270 For. by Crist. lo! thus hit fareth : 'Hit is not al gold, that glareth.' For, al-so brouke I wel myn heed. Ther may be under goodliheed Kevered many a shrewed vyce ; Therfor be no wight so nyce, To take a love only for chere, For speche, or for frendly manere; For this shal every woman finde That som man, of his pure kinde, 280 Wol shewen outward the faireste, Til he have caught that what him leste; And thanne wol he causes finde. And swere how that she is unkinde, Or fals, or prevy, or double was, 285. Al this seve I by Eneas And Dido, and hir nyce lest, That lovede al to sone a gest ; Therfor I wol seve a proverbe. That 'he that fully knoweth th'erbe 200 May saufly leye hit to his yë ';

Withoute dreed, this is no lye. But let us speke of Eneas, How he betrayed hir, allas ! And lefte hir ful unkindely. 295 So whan she saw al-utterly, That he wolde hir of trouthe faile, And wende fro hir to Itaile, She gan to wringe hir hondes two.

'Allas I' quod she, 'what me is wo ! 300 Allas I is every man thus trewe, That every yere wolde have a newe, If hit so longe tyme dure, Or elles three, peraventure? As thus: of oon he wolde have fame 305 In magnifying of his name; Another for frendship, seith he; And yet ther shal the thridde be, That shal be taken for delyt, Lo, or for singular profyt.' 310

In swiche wordes gan to pleyne Dido of hir grete peyne,

As me mette redely: Non other auctour alegge I. 'Allas !' quod she, 'my swete herte, 315 Have pitee on my sorwes smerte, And slee me not ! go noght away ! O woful Dido, wel away !' Quod she to hir-selve tho. 'O Eneas! what wil ye do? 320 O, that your love, ne your bonde, That ye han sworn with your right honde, Ne my cruel deeth,' quod she, ' May holde yow still heer with me ! O, haveth of my deeth pitee ! 325 Y-wis, my dere herte, ye Knowen ful wel that never yit, As fer-forth as I hadde wit. Agilte [I] yow in thoght ne deed. O, have ye men swich goodliheed 330 In speche, and never a deel of trouthe? Allas, that ever hadde routhe Any woman on any man ! Now see I wel, and telle can, We wrecched wimmen conne non art; 335 For certeyn, for the more part, Thus we be served everichone. How sore that ye men conne grone, Anoon, as we have yow receyved, Certeinly we ben deceyved ; 340 For, though your love laste a sesoun. Wayte upon the conclusioun, And eek how that ye determynen. And for the more part diffynen.

'O, we lawey that I was born ! For through yow is my name lorn, And alle myn actes red and songe Over al this lond, on every tonge. O wikke Fame ! for ther nis Nothing so swift, lo, as she is ! 3.50 O, sooth is, every thing is wist, Though hit be kevered with the mist. Eek, thogh I mighte duren ever, That I have doon, rekever I never, That I ne shal be seyd, allas, 355 Y-shamed be through Eneas, And that I shal thus juged be-" Lo, right as she hath doon, now she Wol do eftsones, hardily ;" Thus seyth the peple prevely.'--360 But that is doon, nis not to done : +Al hir compleynt ne al hir mone. Was every vertu in my heved, 550	I wol thee telle what I am,
What with his sours and with my drede,	And whider thou shalt, and why I cam
That al my feling gan to dede;	To +done this, so that thou take
For-why hit was to greet affray.	Good herte, and not for fere quake.'
Thus I longe in his clawes lay,	'Gladly,' quod I. 'Now wel,' quod he :
Til at the laste he to me spak 555	'First I, that in my feet have thee, 606
In mannes vois, and seyde, 'Awak !	Of which thou hast a feer and wonder,
And be not + so a-gast, for shame !'	Am dwelling with the god of thonder,
And called me tho by my name. (50)	Which that men callen Jupiter, (101)
And, for I sholde the bet abreyde-	That dooth me flee ful ofte fer 610
Me mette-' Awak,' to me he seyde, 560	To do al his comaundement.
Right in the same vois and stevene	And for this cause he hath me sent
That useth oon I coude nevene ;	To thee: now therkne, by thy trouthe!
And with that vois, soth for to sayn,	Certeyn, he hath of thee routhe,
My minde cam to me agayn ;	That thou so longe trewely 615
For hit was goodly seyd to me, 565	Hast served so ententify
So nas hit never wont to be.	His blinde nevew Cupido.
And herwithal I gan to stere,	And fair Venus [goddesse] also, (110)
And he me in his feet to bere, (60)	Withoute guerdoun ever yit,
Til that he felte that I had hete,	And nevertheles hast set thy wit- 620
And felte eek tho myn herte bete. 570	Although that in thy hede ful +lyte is—
And tho gan he me to disporte,	To make bokes, songes, dytees,
And with wordes to comforte,	In ryme, or elles in cadence,
And sayde twyës, 'Seynte Marie !	As thou best canst, in reverence
Thou art noyous for to carie,	Of Love, and of his servants eke, 625
And nothing nedeth hit, pardee ! 575	That have his servise soght, and seke;
For al-so wis god helpe me	And peynest thee to preyse his art,
As thou non harm shalt have of this;	Although thou haddest never part; (120)
And this cas, that betid thee is, (70)	Wherfor, al-so god me blesse,
Is for thy lore and for thy prow ;	Joves halt hit greet humblesse 630
Let see! darst thou yet loke now? 580	And vertu eek, that thou wolt make
Be ful assured, boldely,	A-night ful ofte thyn heed to ake,
I am thy frend.' And therwith I	In thy studie so thou wrytest,
Gan for to wondren in my minde.	And ever-mo of love endytest,
'O god,' thoughte I, 'that madest kinde,
Shal I non other weyes dye? 585	In honour of him and preysinges, 635 And in his folkes furtheringes,
Wher Joves wol me stellifye,
Or what thing may this signifye?	And in hir matere al devysest, (129) And noght him nor his folk despysest,
I neither am Enok, ne Elye, (80)	Although thou mayst go in the daunce
Ne Romulus, ne Ganymede	Of hem that him list not avaunce. 640
That was y-bore up, as men rede, 590	'Wherfor, as I seyde, y-wis,
To hevene with dan Jupiter,	Jupiter considereth this,
And maad the goddes boteler.'	And also, beau sir, other thinges;
Lo! this was tho my fantasye!	That is, that thou hast no tydinges
But he that bar me gan espye	Of Loves folk, if they be glade, 645
That I so thoghte, and seyde this :- 595	Ne of noght elles that god made ;
'Thou demest of thy-self amis;	And noght only fro fer contree
For Joves is not ther-aboute—	That ther no tyding comth to thee, (140)
I dar wel putte thee out of doute— (90)	But of thy verray neyghebores,
To make of thee as yet a sterre.	That dwellen almost at thy dores, 650
But er I bere thee moche ferre, 600	Thou herest neither that ne this:

The Hous of Fame.

333

For whan thy labour doon al is,	Though that Fame hadde al the pyes
And hast y-maad thy rekeninges,	In al a realme, and al the spyes,
In stede of reste and newe thinges,	How that yet she shulde here al this, 705
Thou gost hoom to thy hous anoon; 655	Or they espye hit.' 'O yis, yis !'
And, also domb as any stoon,	Quod he to me, 'that can I preve
Thou sittest at another boke,	By resoun, worthy for to leve, • (200)
Til fully daswed is thy loke, (150)	So that thou yeve thyn advertence
And livest thus as an hermyte,	To understonde my sentence. 710
Although thyn abstinence is lyte. 660	'First shalt thou heren wher she dwell-
'And therfor Joves, through his grace,	eth,
Wol that I bere thee to a place,	And so thyn owne book hit telleth ;
Which that hight THE HOUS OF FAME,	Hir paleys stant, as I shal seye,
To do thee som disport and game,	Right even in middes of the weye
In som recompensacioun 665	Betwixen hevene, erthe, and see ; 715
Of labour and devocioun	That, what-so-ever in al these three
That thou hast had, lo ! causeles,	Is spoken, in privee or aperte,
To Cupido, the reccheles ! (160)	The wey therto is so overte, (210)
And thus this god, thorgh his meryte,	And stant eek in so juste a place,
Wol with som maner thing thee quyte,	That every soun mot to hit pace, 720
So that thou wolt be of good chere. 671	Or what so comth fro any tonge,
For truste wel, that thou shalt here,	Be hit rouned, red, or songe,
When we be comen ther I seye,	Or spoke in seurtee or drede,
Mo wonder thinges, dar I leye,	Certein, hit moste thider nede.
Of Loves folke mo tydinges, 675	'Now herkne wel; for-why I wille 725
Bothe soth-sawes and lesinges;	Tellen thee a propre skile,
And mo loves newe begonne,	And tworthy demonstracioun
And longe y-served loves wonne, (170)	In myn imagynacioun. (220)
And mo loves casuelly	'Geffrey, thou wost right wel this,
That been betid, no man wot why, 680	That every kindly thing that is, 730
But as a blind man stert an hare;	Hath a kindly stede ther he
And more jolytee and fare,	May best in hit conserved be ;
Whyl that they finde love of stele,	Unto which place every thing,
As thinketh hem, and over-al wele;	Through his kindly enclyning,
Mo discords, and mo jelousyes, 635	Moveth for to come to, 735
Mo murmurs, and mo novelryes,	Whan that hit is awey therfro;
And mo dissimulaciouns,	As thus; lo, thou mayst al day see
And feyned reparaciouns; (180)	That any thing that hevy be, (230)
And mo berdes in two houres	As stoon or leed, or thing of wighte,
Withoute rasour or sisoures 690	And ber hit never so hye on highte, 740
Y-maad, then greynes be of sondes;	Lat go thyn hand, hit falleth doun.
And eke mo holdinge in hondes,	'Right so seye I by fyre or soun,
And also mo renovelaunces	Or smoke, or other thinges lighte,
Of olde forleten aqueyntaunces;	Alwey they seke upward on highte ;
Mo love-dayes and acordes 695	Whyl ech of hem is at his large, 745
Then on instruments ben cordes :	Light thing up, and dounward charge.
And eke of loves mo eschaunges	'And for this cause mayst thou see,
Than ever cornes were in graunges; (190)	That every river to the see (240)
Unethe maistow trowen this?'- 600	Enclyned is to go, by kinde.
Quod he.' 'No, helpe me god so wis !'-	And by these skilles, as I finde, 750
Quod I. 'No? why?' quod he. 'For hit	Hath fish dwellinge in floode and see,
Were impossible, to my wit,	And treës eek in erthe be.

[BOOK II.

Thus every thing, by this resoun,	That hit at bothe brinkes be.
Hath his propre mansioun,	Al-thogh thou mowe hit not y-see
To which hit seketh to repaire, 755	Above, hit goth yet alway under, 805
As ther hit shulde not apaire.	Although thou thenke hit a gret wonder.
Lo, this sentence is knowen couthe	And who-so seith of trouthe I varie,
Of every philosophres mouthe, (250)	Bid him proven the contrarie. (300)
As Aristotle and dan Platon,	And right thus every word, y-wis,
And other clerkes many oon ; 760	That loude or privee spoken is, 810
And to confirme my resoun,	Moveth first an air aboute,
Thou wost wel this, that speche is soun,	And of this moving, out of doute,
Or elles no man mighte hit here ;	Another air anoon is meved,
Now therkne what I wol thee lere.	As I have of the water preved,
'Soun is noght but air y-broken, 765	That every cercle causeth other. 815
And every speche that is spoken,	Right so of air, my leve brother;
Loud or privee, foul or fair,	Everich air in other stereth (309)
In his substaunce is but air; (260)	More and more, and speche up bereth,
For as flaumbe is but lighted smoke,	Or vois, or noise, or word, or soun,
Right so soun is air y-broke. 770	Ay through multiplicacioun, 820
But this may be in many wyse,	Til hit be atte House of Fame ;
Of which I wil thee two devyse,	Tak hit in ernest or in game.
As soun that comth of pype or harpe.	'Now have I told, if thou have minde,
For whan a pype is blowen sharpe,	How speche or soun, of pure kinde,
The air is twist with violence, 775	Enclyned is upward to meve ; 825
And rent; lo, this is my sentence;	This, mayst thou fele, wel I preve.
Eek, whan men harpe-stringes smyte,	And that the mansioun, y-wis,
Whether hit be moche or lyte, (270)	That every thing enclyned to is, (320)
Lo, with the strook the air to-breketh; 779	Hath his kindeliche stede :
Right so hit breketh whan men speketh.	+Than sheweth hit, withouten drede, 830
Thus wost thou wel what thing is speche.	That kindely the mansioun
'Now hennesforth I wol thee teche,	Of every speche, of every soun,
How every speche, or noise, or soun,	Be hit either foul or fair,
Through his multiplicacioun,	Hath his kinde place in air.
Thogh hit were pyped of a mouse, 785	And sin that every thing, that is 835
Moot nede come to Fames House.	Out of his kinde place, y-wis,
I preve hit thus—tak hede now—	Moveth thider for to go
By experience; for if that thou (280)	If hit a-weye be therfro, (330)
Throwe on water now a stoon,	As I before have preved thee,
Wel wost thou, hit wol make anoon 790	Hit seweth, every soun, pardee, 840
A litel roundel as a cercle,	Moveth kindely to pace
Paraventure brood as a covercle;	Al up into his kindely place.
And right anoon thou shalt see weel,	And this place of which I telle,
That wheel wol cause another wheel,	Ther as Fame list to dwelle,
And that the thridde, and so forth,	Is set amiddes of these three, 845
brother, 795	Heven, erthe, and eek the see,
Every cercle causing other,	As most conservatif the soun.
Wyder than himselve was;	Than is this the conclusioun, (340)
And thus, fro roundel to compas, (290)	That every speche of every man
Ech aboute other goinge,	As I thee telle first began, 850
Caused of otheres steringe, 800	Moveth up on high to pace
And multiplying ever-mo,	Kindely to Fames place.
Til that hit be so fer y-go	'Telle me this feithfully,

The Hous of Fame.

Have I not preved thus simply,
Withouten any subtiltee 855
Of speche, or gret prolixitee
Of termes of philosophye,
Of figures of poetrye, (350)
Or colours of rethoryke?
Pardee, hit oghte thee to lyke ; 860
For hard langage and hard matere
Is encombrous for to here
At ones; wost thou not wel this?'
And I answerde, and seyde, 'Yis.'
'A ha!' quod he, 'lo, so I can 865
Lewedly to a lewed man
Speke, and shewe him swiche skiles,
That he may shake hem by the biles, (360)
So palpable they shulden be.
But tel me this, now pray I thee, 870
How thinkth thee my conclusioun ?'
[Quod he]. 'A good persuasioun,' Quod I, 'hit is; and lyk to be Right so as thou hast preved me.'
'By god,' quod he, 'and as I leve, 875
Thou shalt have yit, or hit be eve,
Of every word of this sentence
A preve, by experience ; (370)
And with thyn eres heren wel
Top and tail, and everydel, 880
That every word that spoken is Comth into Fames Hous, y-wis,
As I have seyd ; what wilt thou more ?'
And with this word upper to sore
He gan, and seyde, 'By Seynt Jame ! 885
Now wil we speken al of game.'-
'How farest thou?' quod he to me.
'Wel,' quod I. 'Now see,' quod he, (380)
'By thy trouthe, yond adoun,
Wher that thou knowest any toun, 890
Or hous, or any other thing.
And whan thou hast of ought knowing,
Loke that thou warne me,
And I anoon shal telle thee
How fer that thou art now therfro.' 895
And I adoun †gan loken tho,
And beheld feldes and plaines, (389)
And now hilles, and now mountaines,
Now valeys, and now forestes,
And now, unethes, grete bestes ; 900
Now riveres, now citees,
Now tounes, and now grete trees,
Now shippes sailinge in the see.
But thus sone in a whyle he

Was flowen fro the grounde so hyë, 905
That al the world, as to myn yë,
No more semed than a prikke;
Or elles was the air so thikke (400)
That I ne mighte not discerne.
With that he spak to me as yerne, 910
And seyde : 'Seestow any toun
Or ought thou knowest yonder down?'
I seyde, 'Nay.' 'No wonder nis,'
Quod he, 'for half so high as this Nas Alexander Macedo; 915
Ne the king, dan Scipio,
That saw in dreme, at point devys,
Helle and erthe, and paradys; (410)
Ne eek the wrecche Dedalus,
Ne his child, nyce Icarus, 920
That fleigh so highe that the hete
His winges malt, and he fel wete
In-mid the see, and ther he dreynte, For whom was maked moch compleynte.
'Now turn upward,' quod he, 'thy face,
And behold this large place, 926 This air ; but loke thou ne be Adrad of hem that thou shalt see ; (420)
For in this regioun, certein,
Dwelleth many a citezein, 930
Of which that speketh dan Plato.
These ben the eyrish bestes, lo !'
And so saw I al that meynee
Bothe goon and also flee.
'Now,' quod he tho, ' cast up thyn yë; 935
See yonder, lo, the Galaxyë,
Which men clepeth the Milky Wey,
For hit is whyt : and somme, parfey, (430)
Callen hit Watlinge Strete :
That ones was y-brent with hete, 940
Whan the sonnes sone, the rede,
That highte Pheton, wolde lede
Algate his fader cart, and gye.
The cart-hors gonne wel espye
That he ne coude no governaunce, 945
And gonne for to lepe and launce,
And beren him now up, now down,
Til that he saw the Scorpioun, (440)
Which that in heven a signe is yit.
And he, for ferde, loste his wit, 950
Of that, and leet the reynes goon
Of his hors; and they anoon
Gonne up to mounte, and doun descende
Til bothe the eyr and erthe brende;
Til Jupiter, lo, atte laste, 955

Him slow, and fro the carte caste.	Or +Atlantes doughtres sevene,
Lo, is it not a greet mischaunce,	How alle these arn set in hevene; (500)
To lete a fole han governaunce (450)	For though thou have hem ofte on honde,
Of thing that he can not demeine?'	Yet nostow not wher that they stonde.'
And with this word, soth for to seyne,	'No fors,' quod I, 'hit is no nede: 1011
He gan alway upper to sore, 961	I leve as wel, so god me spede,
And gladded me ay more and more,	Hem that wryte of this matere,
So feithfully to me spak he.	As though I knew hir places here;
Tho gan I loken under me,	And eek they shynen here so brighte,
And beheld the eyrish bestes, 965	Hit shulde shenden al my sighte, 1016
Cloudes, mistes, and tempestes,	To loke on hem.' 'That may wel be,'
Snowes, hailes, reines, windes,	Quod he. And so forth bar he me (510)
And th'engendring in hir kindes, (460)	A whyl, and than he gan to crye,
And al the wey through whiche I cam ;	That never herde I thing so hye, 1020
'O god,' quod I, 'that made Adam, 970	'Now up the heed ; for al is wel ;
Moche is thy might and thy noblesse !'	Seynt Julyan, lo, bon hostel !
And tho thoughte I upon Boëce,	See here the House of Fame, lo !
That writ, 'a thought may flee so hyë,	Maistow not heren that I do?'
With fetheres of Philosophye,	'What?' quod I. 'The grete soun,' 1025
To passen everich element; 975	Quod he, 'that rumbleth up and down
And whan he hath so fer y-went,	In Fames Hous, ful of tydinges,
Than may be seen, behind his bak,	Bothe of fair speche and chydinges, (520)
Cloud, and al that I of spak.' (470)	And of fals and soth compouned,
Tho gan I wexen in a were,	Herkne wel; hit is not rouned, 1030
And seyde, 'I woot wel I am here ; 080	Herestow not the grete swogh?'
But wher in body or in gost	'Yis, pardee,' quod I, 'wel y-nogh.'
I noot, y-wis; but god, thou wost !'	'And what soun is it lyk?' quod he.
For more cleer entendement	'Peter ! lyk beting of the see,'
Nadde he me never yit y-sent.	Quod I, 'again the roches holowe, 1035
And than thoughte I on Marcian, 985	Whan tempest doth the shippes swalowe;
And eek on Anteclaudian,	And lat a man stonde, out of doute,
That sooth was hir descripcioun	A myle thens, and here hit route; (530)
Of al the hevenes regioun, (480)	Or elles lyk the last humblinge
As fer as that I saw the preve ;	After the clappe of a thundringe, 1040
Therfor I can hem now beleve. 990	When Joves hath the air y-bete;
With that this egle gan to crye :	But hit doth me for fere swete,'
'Lat be,' quod he, 'thy fantasye;	'Nay, dred thee not therof,' quod he,
Wilt thou lere of sterres aught ?'	'Hit is nothing wil byten thee;
'Nay, certeinly,' quod I, 'right naught ;	Thou shalt non harm have, trewely.' 1045
And why? for I am now to old.' 995	And with this word bothe he and I
'Elles I wolde thee have told,'	As nigh the place arryved were
Quod he, 'the sterres names, lo,	As men may casten with a spere. (540)
And al the hevenes signes to, (490)	I nistë how, but in a strete
And which they been.' 'No fors,' quod I.	He sette me faire on my fete, 1050
'Yis, pardee,' quod he; 'wostowwhy? 1000	And seyde, 'Walke forth a pas,
For whan thou redest poetrye,	And tak thyn aventure or cas,
How goddes gonne stellifye	That thou shalt finde in Fames place.'
Brid, fish, beste, or him or here,	'Now,' quod I, 'whyl we han space
As the Raven, or either Bere,	To speke, or that I go fro thee, 1055
Or Ariones harpe fyn, 1005	For the love of god, tel me,
Castor, Pollux, or Delphyn,	In sooth that wil I of thee lere,

Invocation.

O god of science and of light, Apollo, through thy grete might, This litel laste book thou gye ! Nat that I wilne, for maistrye, Here art poetical be shewed : 1005 But, for the rym is light and lewed, Yit make hit sumwhat agreable, Though som vers faile in a sillable ; And that I do no diligence To shewe craft, but o sentence. #### The Dream.

Whan I was fro this egle goon, (20) 1110 I gan beholde upon this place. And certein, or I ferther pace, I wol yow al the shap devyse Of hous and tsite ; and al the wyse How I gan to this place aproche That stood upon so high a roche, Hyer stant ther noon in Spaine. But up I clomb with alle paine, And though to climbe hit greved me, Yit I ententif was to see, (30) 1120 And for to pouren wonder lowe, If I coude any weyes knowe What maner stoon this roche was; For hit was lyk a thing of glas, But that hit shoon ful more clere ; 1125 But of what congeled matere Hit was, I niste redely.

But at the laste espyed I, And found that hit was, every deel, A roche of ysee, and not of steel. (40) 1130 Thoughte I, 'By Seynt Thomas of Kent ! This were a feble foundement To bilden on a place hye; He oughte him litel glorifye That her-on bilt, god so me save !' 1135

Tho saw I al the half y-grave With famous folkes names fele, That had y-been in mochel wele,

But wel unethes coude I knowe (50) 1140	Imageries and tabernacles, (100) 1190
Any lettres for to rede	I saw; and ful eek of windowes,
Hir names by ; for, out of drede,	As flakes falle in grete snowes.
They were almost of-thowed so,	And eek in ech of the pinacles
That of the lettres oon or two	Weren sondry habitacles,

Of which that I yow telle heer,	Wel more, by a thousand del, 1495
Of lede and yren bothe, y-wis. 1445	Than hit was erst, that saugh I wel.
For yren Martes metal is,	Tho saugh I, on a piler by,
Which that god is of bataile;	Of yren wroght ful sternely,
And the leed, withouten faile,	The grete poete, daun Lucan,
Is, lo, the metal of Saturne,	And on his shuldres bar up than, (410)
That hath ful large wheel to turne. (360)	As highe as that I mighte see, 1501
Tho stoden forth, on every rowe, 1451	The fame of Julius and Pompee.
Of hem which that I coude knowe, And by him stoden alle these cleri
Thogh I hem noght by ordre telle,	That writen of Romes mighty werkes,
To make yow to long to dwelle. That, if I wolde hir names telle,
These, of whiche I ginne rede, 1455	Al to longe moste I dwelle.
Ther saugh I stonden, out of drede :	And next him on a piler stood
Upon an yren piler strong,	Of soulfre, lyk as he were wood,
That peynted was, al endelong,	Dan Claudian, the soth to telle,
With tygres blode in every place,	That bar up al the fame of helle, (420) 1510
The Tholosan that highte Stace, (370) 1460	Of Pluto, and of Proserpyne,
That bar of Thebes up the fame	That quene is of the derke pyne.
Upon his shuldres, and the name	What shulde I more telle of this?
Also of cruel Achilles.	The halle was al ful, y-wis,
And by him stood, withouten lees,	Of hem that writen olde gestes, 1515
Ful wonder hye on a pileer 1465	As ben on treës rokes nestes ;
Of yren, he, the gret Omeer ;	But hit a ful confus matere
And with him Dares and Tytus	Were al the gestes for to here,
Before, and eek he, Lollius,	That they of write, and how they

And ech of these, as have I joye,	But whyl that I beheld this sighte, (430)
	I herde a noise aprochen blyve, 1521
Was besy for to bere up Troye. So hevy ther-of was the fame,	That ferde as been don in an hyve, Agen her tyme of out-fleyinge ;
That for to bere hit was no game.	Right swiche a maner murmuringe,
But yit I gan ful wel espye, 1475	For al the would hit armed and
Betwix hem was a litel envye.	Tho gan I loke aboute and see,
Oon seyde, Omere made lyes,	That ther com entring tin the halle
Feyninge in his poetryes,	A right gret company with-alle,
And was to Grekes favorable ;	And that of sondry regiouns,
Therfor held he hit but fable. (390) 1480	Of alleskinnes condiciouns, (440) 1530
Tho saugh I stonde on a pileer,	That dwelle in erthe under the mone,
That was of tinned yren cleer,	Pore and ryche. And also sone
That Latin poete, [dan] Virgyle,	As they were come into the halle,
That bore hath up a longe whyle	They gonne doun on kneës falle
The fame of Pius Eneas. 1485	Before this ilke noble quene, 1535
And next him on a piler was,	And seyde, 'Graunte us, lady shene,
Of coper, Venus clerk, Ovyde,	Ech of us, of thy grace, a bone !'
That hath y-sowen wonder wyde	And somme of hem she graunted
The grete god of Loves name.	sone,
And ther he bar up wel his fame, (400)	And somme she werned wel and faire;
Upon this piler, also hye 1491	And somme she graunted the contraire
As I might see hit with myn yë:	Of hir axing utterly. (451) 1541
For-why this halle, of whiche I rede	But thus I seye yow trewely,
Was woxe on thighte, lengthe and brede,	What hir cause was, I niste.

By god ! and therfor go your wey.'	And also god your soule blesse !
'Alas,' quod they, 'and welaway !	For we han wel deserved hit,
Telle us, what may your cause be ?'	Therfor is right that we ben quit.'
'For me list hit noght,' quod she;	'As thryve I,' quod she, 'ye shal
' No wight shal speke of yow, y-wis, 1565	faile,
Good ne harm, ne that ne this.'	Good werkes shal yow noght availe 1616
And with that word she gan to calle	To have of me good fame as now.
Hir messanger, that was in halle,	But wite ye what? I graunte yow,
And bad that he shulde faste goon,	That ye shal have a shrewed fame 1619
+Up peyne to be blind anoon, (480) 1570	And wikked loos, and worse name, (530)
For Eolus, the god of winde ;	Though ye good loos have wel deserved,
'In Trace ther ye shul him finde,	Now go your wey, for ye be served ;
And bid him bringe his clarioun,	And thou, dan Eolus, let see !
That is ful dyvers of his soun,	Tak forth thy trumpe anon,' quod she,
And hit is cleped Clere Laude, 1575	'That is y-cleped Sclaunder light, 1625
With which he wont is to heraude	And blow hir loos, that every wight
Hem that me list y-preised be :	Speke of hem harm and shrewednesse,
And also bid him how that he	In stede of good and worthinesse.
Bringe his other clarioun,	For thou shalt trumpe al the contraire
That highte Sclaundre in every toun, (490)	Of that they han don wel or faire.' 1630
With which he wont is to diffame 1581	'Alas,' thoughte I, 'what aventures
Hem that me list, and do hem shame.'	Han these sory creatures ! (542)
This messanger gan faste goon,	For they, amonges al the pres,
And found wher, in a cave of stoon,	Shul thus be shamed gilteles!
In a contree that highte Trace, 1585	But what! hit moste nedes be,' 1635
This Eolus, with harde grace,	What did this Eolus, but he
Held the windes in distresse,	Tok out his blakke trumpe of bras,
And gan hem under him to presse,	That fouler than the devil was,
That they gonne as beres rore,	And gan this trumpe for to blowe,
He bond and pressed hem so sore. (500)	As al the world shulde overthrowe; (550)
This messanger gan faste crye, 1591	That through-out every regionn 1641
'Rys up,' quod he, ' and faste hye,	Wente this foule trumpes soun,
Til that thou at my lady be;	As swift as pelet out of gonne,
And tak thy clarions eek with thee,	Whan fyr is in the poudre ronne.

And swiche a smoke gan out-wende 1645
Out of his foule trumpes ende,
Blak, blo, grenish, swartish reed,
As doth wher that men melte leed,
Lo, al on high fro the tuel !
And therto oo thing saugh I wel, (560) 1650
That, the ferther that hit ran,
The gretter wexen hit began,
As doth the river from a welle,
And hit stank as the pit of helle.
Alas, thus was hir shame y-ronge, 1655
And giltelees, on every tonge,
The com the thridde companye,
And gunne up to the dees to hye,
And down on knees they fille anon,
And seyde, 'We ben everichon (570) 1660
Folk that han ful trewely
Deserved fame rightfully,
And praye yow, hit mot be knowe,
Right as hit is, and forth y-blowe.'
'I graunte,' quod she, ' for me list 1665
That now your gode +werk be wist;
And yit ye shul han better loos,
Right in dispyt of alle your foos,
Than worthy is; and that anoon :
Lat now,'quod she, 'thy trumpe goon, (580)
Thou Eolus, that is so blak ; 1671
And out thyn other trumpe tak
That highte Laude, and blow hit so
That through the world hir fame go
Al esely, and not to faste, 1675
That hit be knowen atte laste.'
• 'Ful gladly, lady myn,' he seyde ;
And out his trumpe of golde he brayde
Anon, and sette hit to his mouthe,
And blew hit est, and west, and southe, (500)
And north, as loude as any thunder, 1681
That every wight hadde of hit wonder,
So brode hit ran, or than hit stente.
And, certes, al the breeth that wente
Out of his trumpes mouthe smelde 1685
As men a pot-ful +bawme helde
Among a basket ful of roses;
This favour dide he til hir loses,

And right with this I gan aspye, Ther com the ferthe companye—(600) 1690 But certeyn they were wonder fewe— And gonne stonden in a rewe, And seyden, 'Certes, lady brighte, We han don wel with al our mighte; But we ne kepen have no fame. 1695 Hyd our werkes and our name, For goddes love! for certes we Han certeyn doon hit for bountee, And for no maner other thing.' 'I graunte yow al your asking,' (610) 1700 Quod she; 'let your twerk be deed.'

With that aboute I clew myn heed, And saugh anoon the fifte route That to this lady gonne loute, And doun on knees anoon to falle; 1705 And to hir tho besoughten alle To hyde hir gode werkes eek, And seyde, they yeven noght a leek For fame, ne for swich renoun; For they, for contemplacioun (620) 1710 And goddes love, hadde y-wrought; Ne of fame wolde they nought,

'What ?' quod she, 'and be ye wood ? And wene ye for to do good, And for to have of that no fame? 1715 Have ye dispyt to have my name? Nay, ye shul liven everichoon ! Blow thy trumpe and that anoon,' Quod she, 'thon Eolus, I hote, And ring this folkes +werk by note, (630) That al the world may of hit here.' 1721 And he gan blowe hir loos so clere In his golden clarioun, That through the world wente the soun, +So kenely, and eek so softe; 1725 But atte laste hit was on-lofte.

Thoo com the sexte companye, And gonne faste on Fame crye. Right vertaily, in this manere They seyden : 'Mercy, lady dere ! (640) 1730 To telle certein, as hit is, We han don neither that ne this, But ydel al our lyf y-be. But, natheles, yit preye we, That we mowe han so good a fame, And greet renoun and knowen name, As they that han don noble gestes, And acheved alle hir lestes. As wel of love as other thing ; Al was us never broche ne ring, (650) 1740 Ne elles nought, from wimmen sent, Ne ones in hir herte y-ment To make us only frendly chere, But mighte temen us on bere ; Yit lat us to the peple seme 1745 Swiche as the world may of us deme,

For by assay ther may no man hit preve. But god forbede but men shulde leve to Wel more thing then men han seen with vë!

Men shal nat wenen every-thing a lyë

But-if him-self hit seeth, or elles dooth :

For, god wot, thing is never the lasse sooth.

Thogh every wight ne may hit nat y-see. Bernard the monk ne saugh nat al, parde! Than mote we to bokes that we finde,

Through which that olde thinges been in minde,

And to the doctrine of these olde wyse, 20 Yeve credence, in every skilful wyse, 20 That tellen of these olde appreved stories, Of holinesse, of regnes, of victories, Of volve, of hate, of other sundry thinges, Of whiche I may not maken rehersinges. And if that olde bokes were a-weye, 25 Y-loren were of remembranne the keye. Wel oghte us than honorren and beleve Ther-as ther is non other assay by preve. These bokes, ther we han non other preve. And as for me, thogh that I can but And, as for me, though that my wit be lyte, lyte, On bokes for to rede I me delyte, On bokes for to rede I me delyte, 30 30 And in myn herte have hem in reverence; And to hem yeve I feyth and ful credence. And to hem yeve swich lust and swich And in myn herte have hem in reverence credence, That ther is wel unethe game noon So hertely, that ther is game noon That from my bokes make me to goon, That fro my bokes maketh me to goon, But hit be other up-on the haly-day, But hit be seldom, on the holyday ; 35 35 Save, certeynly, whan that the month of Or elles in the joly tyme of May; May Whan that I here the smale foules singe, Is comen, and that I here the foules singe. And that the floures ginne for to springe, And that the floures ginnen for to springe, Farwel my studie, as lasting that sesoun ! Farwel my book and my devocioun ! Now have I therto this condicioun 40 Now have I than swich a condicioun, That, of alle the floures in the mede, That, of alle the floures in the mede, 41 Than love I most these floures whyte and Than love I most these floures whyte and rede, rede. Swiche as men callen daysies in our toun. Swiche as men callen daysies in our toun. To hem have I so greet affectioun, To hem have I so greet affeccioun, 44 44 As I seyde erst, whan comen is the May, As I seyde erst, whan comen is the May, That in my bed ther daweth me no day That in my bed ther daweth me no day That I nam up, and walking in the mede That I nam up, and walking in the mede To seen these floures agein the sonne To seen this flour agein the sonne sprede, sprede, Whan it up-riseth by the morwe shene, 49 Whan hit upryseth erly by the morwe ; The longe day, thus walking in the grene. That blisful sighte softneth al my sorwe, And whan the sonne ginneth for to weste, So glad am I whan that I have presence Than closeth hit, and draweth hit to reste. Of hit, to doon al maner reverence, 52 So sore hit is afered of the night. Til on the morwe, that hit is dayes light. This dayesye, of alle floures flour, 55 As she, that is of alle floures flour, Fulfild of vertu and of alle honour, Fulfilled of al vertu and honour, 54 And ever y-lyke fair and fresh of hewe, And ever y-lyke fair, and fresh of hewe ; As wel in winter as in somer newe. And I love hit, and ever y-lyke newe, And ever shal, til that myn herte dye ; Al swere I nat, of this I wol nat lye, Ther loved no wight hotter in his lyve. And whan that hit is eve, I renne blyve, 60 [Cf. 11, 51-3, above.] As sone as ever the sonne ginneth weste, To seen this flour, how it wol go to reste,

> For fere of night, so hateth she derknesse! Hir chere is pleynly sprad in the bright,

> Of the sonne, for ther hit wol unclose. 65 Allas! that I ne had English, ryme or nesse

prose,

Fain wolde I preisen, if I coude aright; 59 But wo is me, hit lyth nat in my might!

For wel I wot, that folk han her-beforn Of making ropen, and lad a-weythe corn; And I come after, glening here and there.

And am ful glad if I may finde an ere Of any goodly word that they han left. 65 And, if hit happe me rehersen eft

That they han in her fresshe songes sayd, I hope that they wil nat ben evel apayd, Sith hit is seid in forthering and honour Of hem that either serven leef or flour. 70

[Cf. p. 354, col. 2, 11. 188-196.]

For trusteth wel, I ne have nat undertake

As of the leef, ageyn the flour, to make ; Ne of the flour to make, ageyn the leef,

No more than of the corn ageyn the sheef.

For, as to me, is leefer noon ne lother; 75 I am with-holde yit with never nother.

I not who serveth leef, ne who the flour; That nis nothing the entent of my labour. For this work is al of another tunne, 70 of olde story. er swich stryf was begunne.

But wherfor that I spak, to yeve credence

To bokes olde and doon hem reverence, Is for men shulde autoritees beleve.

Ther as ther lyth non other assay by preve.

For myn entent is, or I fro yow fare, 85 The naked text in English to declare

Of many a story, or elles of many a geste, As autours seyn ; leveth hem if yow leste ! Suffisant this flour to preyse aright! But helpeth, ye that han conning and might,

Ye lovers, that can make of sentement; In this cas oghte ye be diligent 70 To forthren me somwhat in my labour, Whether ye ben with the leef or with the flour.

For wel I wot, that ye han her-biforn Of making ropen, and lad awey the corn; And I come after, glening here and there, 75

And am ful glad if I may finde an ere Of any goodly word that ye han left. And thogh it happen me rehercen eft

That ye han in your fresshe songes sayd,

For-bereth me, and beth nat evel apayd,

Sin that ye see I do hit in the honour 81 Of love, and eek in service of the flour.

Whom that I serve as I have wit or might.

She is the clernesse and the verray light, That in this derke worlde me wynt and ledeth. 85

The herte in-with my sorowful brest yow dredeth,

And loveth so sore, that ye ben verrayly

The maistresse of my wit, and nothing I. My word, my werk, is knit so in your bonde, That, as an harpe obeyeth to the honde 90 And maketh hit soune after his finger-inge, Right so mowe ye out of myn herte

kight so mowe ye out of myn herte bringe

Swich vois, right as yow list, to laughe or pleyne.

Be ye my gyde and lady sovereyne;

As to myn erthly god, to yow I calle, 95

Bothe in this werke and in my sorwes alle.

But wherfor that I spak, to give credence

To olde stories, and doon hem reverence, And that men mosten more thing beleve Then men may seen at eye or elles preve?

That shal I seyn, whan that I see my tyme; 101

I may not al at ones speke in ryme.

My besy gost, that thrusteth alwey newe

Whan passed was almost the month of May,

And I had romed, al the someres day, 90

- The grene medew, of which that I yow tolde,
- Upon the fresshe daysy to beholde,
- And that the sonne out of the south gan weste,
- And closed was the flour and goon to reste
- For derknesse of the night, of which she dredde, 95
- Hoom to myn hous ful swiftly I me spedde;
- And, in a litel erber that I have,
- Y-benched newe with turves fresshe ygrave,

I bad men shulde me my couche make ; For deyntee of the newe someres sake, 100 I bad hem strowe floures on my bed.

Whan I was layd, and had myn eyen hed, I fel a-slepe with-in an houre or two.

Me mette how I was in the medew tho, And that I romed in that same gyse, 105 To seen that flour, as ye han herd devyse. Fair was this medew, as thoughte me overal:

With floures swote enbrowded was it al;

As for to speke of gomme, or erbe, or tree,

Comparisoun may noon y-maked be. 110 For hit surmounted pleynly alle odoures, And eek of riche beaute alle floures.

Forgeten had the erthe his pore estat

Of winter, that him naked made and mat, And with his swerd of cold so sore had greved.

Now had the atempre sonne al that releved,

And clothed him in grene al newe agayn. The smale foules, of the seson fayn,

That from the panter and the net ben scaped, 119

Upon the fouler, that hem made a-whaped In winter, and distroyed had hir brood, To seen this flour so yong, so fresh of hewe, Constreyned me with so gledy desyr, 105

That in my herte I fele yit the fyr,

That made me to ryse er hit wer day-

And this was now the firste morwe of May---

With dredful herte and glad devocioun,

For to ben at the resureccioun 110

- Of this flour, whan that it shuld unclose Agayn the sonne, that roos as rede as rose,
- That in the brest was of the beste that day.

That Agenores doghter ladde away. 114 [Cf, p. 354, col. 2, ll. 197-210.]

And doun on knees anon-right I me sette, And, as I conde, this fresche flour I grette; Kneling alwey, til hit unclosed was, Upon the smale softe swote gras,

That was with floures swote enbrouded al,

Of swich swetnesse and swich odour over-al, 120

That, for to speke of gomme, or herbe, or tree,

Comparisoun may noon y-maked be;

For hit surmounteth pleynly alle odoures, And eek of riche beautee alle floures.

Forgeten had the erthe his pore estat 125 Of winter, that him naked made and mat, And with his swerd of cold so sore greved;

Now hath the atempre sonne al that releved

That naked was, and clad hit new agayn. The smale foules, of the seson fayn, 130 That from the panter and the net ben scaped,

Upon the fouler, that hem made a-whaped In winter, and distroyed had hir brood,

353

In his despyt, hem thoughte hit did hem good To singe of him, and in hir song despyse Che foule cherl that, for his covetyse, 124 I ad hem betrayed with his sophistrye. Chis was hir song—' the fouler we defye!' How clippeth she the dede cors, allas ! Now what leoun that be in this foreste, How doth this woful Tisbe in this cas! My body mote he trenden, or what beste How kisseth she his frosty mouth so cold ! That wilde is, gnawen mote he now myn 'Who hath doon this, and who hath herte!' been so bold 879 And with that worde he to the wimpel To sleen my leef? O spek, my Piramus ! sterte. (140) 845 I am thy Tisbe, that thee calleth thus!'

- And therwith-al she lifteth up his heed. This woful man, that was nat fully deed.
- Whan that he herde the name of Tisbe crven.
- On her he caste his hevy deedly yen 885 And doun again, and yeldeth up the (181) gost.

Tisbe rist up, withouten noise or bost,

- And seigh her wimpel and his empty shethe.
- And eek his swerd, that him hath doon to dethe ;
- Than spak she thus : ' My woful hand,' quod she, 800
- 'Is strong y-nogh in swiche a werk to me:
- For love shal vive me strengthe and hardinesse

To make my wounde large y-nogh, I gesse. I wol thee folwen deed, and I wol be

- Felawe and cause eek of thy deeth,' quod she. (100) 805
- 'And thogh that nothing save the deeth only

Mighte thee fro me departe trewely,

- Thou shalt no more departe now fro
- Than fro the deeth, for I wol go with thee !

'And now, ye wrecched jelous fadres oure, 000

We, that weren whylom children youre, We prayen yow, withouten more envye. That in o grave y-fere we moten lye,

Sin love hath brought us to this pitous ende! (199) And rightwis god to every lover sende, 905

That loveth trewely, more prosperitee Than ever hadde Piramus and Tisbe ! And lat no gentil woman her assure

To putten her in swiche an aventure.

- But god forbede but a woman can 010 Been as trewe and loving as a man !
- And, for my part, I shal anoon it kythe !'
- And, with that worde, his swerd she took as swythe,
- That warm was of her loves blood and hoot. (200)
- And to the herte she her-selven smoot. 915 And thus ar Tisbe and Piramus ago.

Of trewe men I finde but fewe mo

- In alle my bokes, save this Piramus.
- And therfor have I spoken of him thus.
- For hit is devatee to us men to finde 020 A man that can in love be trewe and kinde

Heer may ye seen, what lover so he be, A woman dar and can as wel as he. Explicit legenda Tesbe.

III. THE LEGEND OF DIDO, QUEEN OF CARTHAGE.

Incipit Legenda Didonis Martiris, Cartaginis regine.

GLORY and honour, Virgil Mantuan,

Be to thy name! and I shal, as I can, 925 Folow thy lantern, as thou gost biforn, How Eneas to Dido was forsworn,

In thyn Eneïd and Naso wol I take

- The tenour, and the grete effectes make.
  - Whan Troye broght was to destruccioun 030
- By Grekes sleighte, and namely by Sinoun,

Feyning the hors y-offred to Minerve,

Through which that many a Troyan moste sterve; (10) And Ector had, after his deeth, appered, And fyr so wood, it mighte nat be stered. 935

In al the noble tour of Ilioun,

That of the citee was the cheef dungeoun;

And al the contree was so lowe y-broght,

And Priamus the king fordoon and noght;

And Eneas was charged by Venus 940 To fleen awey, he took Ascanius,

- That was his sone, in his right hand, and fledde ;
- And on his bakke he bar and with him ledde (20)

His olde fader, cleped Anchises,

And by the weye his wyf Creusa he lees. 945 And mochel sorwe hadde he in his minde Er that he coude his felawshippe finde. But, at the laste, whan he had hem founde. 948 He made him redy in a certein stounde, And to the see ful faste he gan him hye, And saileth forth with al his companye Toward Itaile, as wolde destinee. But of his aventures in the see (30)Nis nat to purpos for to speke of here, For hit acordeth nat to my matere. 955 But, as I seide, of him and of Dido Shal be my tale, til that I have do. So longe he sailed in the salte see Til in Libye unnethe aryved he,

With shippes seven and with no more navye; 950

And glad was he to londe for to hye, So was he with the tempest al to-shake.

And whan that he the haven had ytake, (40) He had a knight, was called Achates; 964

And him of all his felawshippe he chees To goon with him, the contre for tespye; He took with him no more companye.

But forth they goon, and lafte his shippes ryde,

His fore and he, with-outen any gyde, 969 So longe he walketh in this wildernesse Til, at the laste, he mette an hunteresse. A bowe in honde and arwes hadde she, Her clothes cutted were unto the knee; (50) But she was yit the fairest creature That ever was y-formed by nature; 975 And Enceas and Achates she grette.

And thus she to hem spak, whan she hem mette

'Sawe ye,' quod she, 'as ye han walked wyde,

Any of my sustren walke yow besyde, With any wilde boor or other beste _____980 That they han hunted to, in this foreste, Y-tukked up, with arwes in her cas?' (59) 'Nay, soothly, lady,' quod this Eneas; 'But, by thy beaute, as hit thinketh me, Thou mightest never erthely womman be, But Phebus suster artow, as I gesse. ____986 And, if so be that thou be a goddesse, Have mercy on our labour and our wo'

'I nam no goddes, soothly,' quod she that no goddes, soothly,' quod she tho;

'For maidens walken in this contree here, With arwes and with bowe, in this manere. 991

This is the regne of Libie, ther ye been, Of which that Dido lady is and queen'-And shortly tolde him all the occasioun (71) Why Dido com into that regioun, 995 Of which as now me lusteth nat to ryme; Hit nedeth nat; hit nere but los of tyme. For this is al and som, it was Venus,

His owne moder, that spak with him thus; And to Cartage she bad he sholde him dighte, 1000

And vanished anoon out of his sighte. I coude folwe, word for word, Virgyle, But it wolde lasten al to longe a whyle. (80)

This noble queen, that cleped was Dido, That whylom was the wyf of Sitheo, noo That fairer was then is the brighter sonne, This noble toun of Cartage hath begonne; In which she regneth in so greet honour, That she was holde of alle quenes flour.

Of gentilesse, of freedom, of beautee; 1010 That wel was him that mighte her ones see:

Of kinges and of lordes so desyred, (89) That al the world her beaute hadde yfyred;

She stood so wel in every wightes grace.

Whan Eneas was come un-to that place, 1015

Unto the maister-temple of al the toun Ther Dido was in her devocioun,

Ful prively his wey than hath he nome. Whan he was in the large temple come, I can nat seyn if that hit be possible, rozo But Venus hadde him maked invisible—

Thus seith the book, with-outen any lees. And whan this Eneas and Achates (100) Hadden in this temple been over-al,

Than founde they, depeynted on a wal, How Troye and al the lond destroyed was. 'Allas! that I was born,'quod Eneas, 1027 'Through-out the world our shame is kid so wyde,

Now it is peynted upon every syde !

We, that weren in prosperitee, 1030 Be now disslaundred, and in swich degree, No lenger for to liven I ne kepe !'

And, with that worde, he brast out for to wepe (110) So tendrely, that routhe hit was to sene

This fresshe lady, of the citee quene, 1035 Stood in the temple, in her estat royal,

So richely, and eek so fair with-al,

So yong, so lusty, with her even glade,

- That, if that god, that heven and erthe made.
- Wolde han a love, for beaute and goodnesse. 1040
- And womanhod, and trouthe, and seemlinesse,
- Whom sholde he loven but this lady swete?
- There nis no womman to him half so mete. (120)
  - Fortune, that hath the world in governaunce.
- Hath sodeinly broght in so newe a chaunce. 1045

That never was ther yit so fremd a cas. For al the companye of Eneas,

Which that he wende han loren in the see,

Aryved is, nat fer fro that citee ;

For which, the grettest of his lordes some By aventure ben to the citee come, 1051 Unto that same temple, for to seke

The quene, and of her socour her beseke ; Swich renoun was ther spronge of her goodnesse. (131)

- And, whan they hadden told al hir distresse. 1055
- And al hir tempest and hir harde cas. Unto the quene appered Eneas,

And openly beknew that hit was he.

Who hadde joye than but his meynee,

That hadden founde hir lord, hir governour? 1060

The quene saw they dide him swich honour.

And had herd ofte of Eneas, er tho,

And in her herte she hadde routhe and wo (140)

That ever swich a noble man as he

Shal been disherited in swich degree: 1065 And saw the man, that he was lyk a knight.

And suffisaunt of persone and of might. And lyk to been a veray gentil man; And wel his wordes he besette can.

And had a noble visage for the nones, 1070 And formed wel of braunes and of bones, For, after Venus, hadde he swich fairnesse.

That no man might be half so fair, I gesse. (150)

And wel a lord he semed for to be.

And, for he was a straunger, somwhat she 1075

Lyked him the bet, as, god do bote.

To som folk ofte newe thing is swote.

Anoon her herte hath pitee of his wo,

And, with that pitee, love com in also :

And thus, for pitee and for gentilesse, 1080 Refresshed moste he been of his distresse. She seide, certes, that she sory was

That he hath had swich peril and swich cas: (160)

And, in her frendly speche, in this manere She to him spak, and seide as ye may here. 1085

'Be ye nat Venus sone and Anchises ?

In good feith, al the worship and encrees That I may goodly doon yow, ye shul have.

Your shippes and your meynee shal I save: '

And many a gentil word she spak him to ; And comaunded her messageres go 1001 The same day, with-outen any faile,

His shippes for to seke, and hem vitaile.

She many a beste to the shippes sente, (171)

And with the wyn she gan hem to presente: 1095

And to her royal paleys she her spedde, And Eneas alwey with her she ledde.

What nedeth yow the feste to descryve?

He never beter at ese was his lyve.

Ful was the feste of devntees and richesse, 1100

Of instruments, of song, and of gladnesse, And many an amorous loking and devys.

This Eneas is come to Paradys (180) Out of the swolow of helle, and thus in

To hors is al her lusty folk y-go; (270) Un-to the court the houndes been y-broght, And up-on coursers, swift as any thoght, Her yonge knightes hoven al aboute, 1196 And of her wommen eek an huge route. Up-on a thikke palfrey, paper-whyt, With sadel rede, enbrouded with delyt, Of gold the barres up-enbossed hye, 1200 Sit Dido, al in gold and perre wrye; And she is fair, as is the brighte morve, That heleth seke folk of nightes sorve. (280)

Up-on a courser, startling as the fyr, Men mighte turne him with a litel wyr, Sit Eneas, lyk Phebus to devyse; 1206 So was he fresshe arayed in his wyse.

The fomy brydel with the bit of gold

- Governeth he, right as him-self hath wold.
- And forth this noble quene thus lat I ryde 1210

An hunting, with this Troyan by her syde. The herd of hertes founden is anoon,

With 'hey! go bet! prik thou! lat goon, lat goon ! (290)

Why nil the leoun comen or the bere, That I mighte ones mete him with this spere?'

Thus seyn thise yonge folk, and up they kille

- These + hertes wilde, and han hem at hir wille.
  - Among al this to-romblen gan the heven,

The thunder rored with a grisly steven ; Down com the rain, with hail and sleet so faste, 1220

With hevenes fyr, that hit so sore agaste This noble quene, and also her meynee, That ech of hem was glad a-wey to fice. (300) And shortly, fro the tempest her to save, She fledde her-self into a litel cave, 1225 And with her wente this Eness al-so; I noot, with hem if ther wente any mo; The autour maketh of hit no mencioun. And here began the depe affeccioun

- Betwix hem two; this was the firste morwe 1230
- Of her gladnesse, and ginning of her sorwe.

For ther hath Eneas y-kneled so, (309)

And told her al his herte, and al his wo,

And sworn so depe, to her to be trewe,

For wele or wo, and chaunge for no newe, 1235

And as a fals lover so wel can pleyne,

- That sely Dido rewed on his peyne,
- And took him for husband, †to been his wyf

For ever-mo, whyl that hem laste lyf.

And after this, whan that the tempest stente, 1240

- With mirth out as they comen, hoom they wente.
  - The wikked fame up roos, and that anon, (319)

How Eneas hath with the quene y-gon

In-to the cave; and demed as hem liste; And whan the king, that Yarbas hight, hit wiste, 1245

As he that had her loved ever his lyf,

And wowed her, to have her to his wyf,

Swich sorwe as he hath maked, and swich chere,

Hit is a routhe and pitee for to here.

But, as in love, al-day hit happeth so, 1250 That oon shal laughen at anothers wo;

Now laugheth Eneas, and is in joye

And more richesse than ever he was in Troye. (330)

O sely womman, ful of innocence, 1254 Ful of pitee, of trouthe, and conscience,

What maked yow to men to trusten so?

Have ye swich routhe upon hir feined wo, And han swich olde ensamples yow beforn?

See ye nat alle, how they been for-sworn ? Wher see ye oon, that he ne hath laft his

1260

Or been unkinde, or doon hir som mischeef,

Or pilled her, or bosted of his deds? (330) Ye may as wel hit seen, as ye may rede; Tak heed now of this grete gentil-man, This Troyan, that so wel her pleson can, That feineth him so trawe and obeising, So gentil and so privy of his doing, 1267

And can so wel doon alle his obeisaunces, And when she goth to temple and hoom aggyn, 1270 And fusten til he hath his lady seyn, And bere in his devyses, for her sake, Noot I nat what; and songes wolde he make, (350) Justen, and doon of armes many thinges, Sende her lettres, tokens, broches, ringes— Now herkneth, how he shal his lady: serve! 1276 Ther-as he was in peril for to sterve For hunger, and for mischeef in the see, And al his folk with tempest al to-driven, She hath her body and eek her reame yiven 1281 In-to his hond, ther-as she mighte have been Of other lond than of Cartage a queen, And lived in joye y-nogh; what wolde ye more? (361) This Enest, that hat ho dep y-swore, Is wery of his caft with-in a throwe; 1286 The hote ernest is al over-blowe. And shapeth him to stele a-wey by nighte. This Dido hath suspecioun of this, 1390 And thoughte wel, that hit was al a-mis; For in his bedde he lyth a-night and syketh; She asketh him anoon, what him mis- lyketh— (370) 'My dere herte, which that I love most?' 'Certes,' quod he, 'this night my fadres gost 1295 Hath in my sleep so sore me tormented, And existine is no for to saile ; For which, me thinketh, brosten is myn hertet ' 1300 Ther-with his false teres out they sterte; And taketh her with-in his armes two. 'Is that in ernest,' quod she ; 'wily e so? (380)	I am a gentil-woman and a queen, 1306 Ye wil nat fro your wyf thus foule fleen ? That I was born I allas! what shal I do?' To telle in short, this noble queen Dido, She seketh halwes, and doth sacrifyæe; She kneleth, cryeth, that routhe is to devyse; 1311 Conjureth him, and profreth him to be His thral, his servant in the leste gree; She falleth him to fote, and swowneth there (301) Dischevele, with her brighte gilte here, And seith, 'have mercy! let me with yow ryde! 1316 Thise lordes, which that wonen me besyde Wil me destroyen only for your sake. And, so ye wil me now to wyve take, As ye han sworn, than wol I yive yow leve 1320 To sleen me with your swerd now sone at eve ! For than yit shal I dyen as your wyf. I am with childe, and yive my child his lyf. (400) Mercy, lord ! have pite in your thoght; For on a night, slepinge, he let her lye, And, as a traitour, forth he gan to saile Toward the large contree of Itaile. Thus hat he laft Dido in wo and pyne ; And wedded ther a lady hight Lavyne. A cloth he lafte, and eek his swerd stonding, (409) fisa; Whan he fro Dido stal in her sleping, Right at her beddes heed, so gan he hye What that he staft Dido in wo and pyne ; And wedded ther a lady hight Lavyne. A cloth he lafte of r his sake; And soide, 'O cloth, whyl Jupiter hit leste, Tak now my soule, unbind me of this unreste! 1333 I have fulfild of fortune al the cours.' And thus, allas ! with-outen his socours, Twenty tyme y-swowned hath she thanne, And, whan that she un-to her suster Anne (420)

- Ther was a king that highte Pelleus, (30)

That had a brother, which that highte Eson:

And, whan for age he mighte unnethes gon.

He yaf to Pelleus the governing 1400

Of al his regne, and made him lord and king.

Of which Eson this Jasoun geten was,

That, in his tyme, in al that lond, ther nas Nat swich a famous knight of gentilesse,

Of freedom, and of strengthe and lustinesse. 1405

After his fader deeth, he bar him so (39) That ther nas noon that liste been his fo, But dide him al honour and companye ; Of which this Pelleus hath greet envye, Imagining that Jasoun mighte be 1410 Enhaunsed so, and put in swich degree With love of lordes of his regioun, That from his regne he may be put adoun. #### PART II. THE LEGEND OF MEDEA.

To Colcos comen is this duk Jasoun, That is of love devourer and dragoun. 1581 As matere appetyteth forme al-wey,

And from forme in-to forme hit passen may,

Or as a welle that were botomlees, Right so can fals Jasoun have no pees. For, to desyren, through his appetyt, 1586 To doon with gentil wommen his delyt, This is his lust and his felicitee. (221)

Jasoun is romed forth to the citee, That whylom cleped was Jaconitos, 1590 That was the maister-toun of al Colcos, And hath y-told the cause of his coming Un-to Oëtes, of that contre king,

Preying him that he moste doon his assay 1594

To gete the flees of gold, if that he may; Of which the king assenteth to his bone, And doth him honour, as hit is to done, So ferforth, that his doghter and his eyr, Medea, which that was so wys and fair That fairer saw ther never man with yẽ, He made her doon to Jasoun companyë, At mete, and sitte by him in the halle.

Now was Jasoun a semely man withalle, (236)

And lyk a lord, and had a greet renoun, And of his loke as real as leoun, 1600 And goodly of his speche, and famulere, And coulde of love al craft and art plenere With-oute boke, with everich observaunce. And, as fortune her oghte a foul meschaunce.

She wex enamoured upon this man. 1610 'Jasoun,' quod she, ' for ought I see or can,

As of this thing the which ye been aboute, Ye han your-self y-put in moche doute.

For, who-so wol this aventure acheve,

He may nat wel asterten, as I leve, 1615 With-outen deeth, but I his helpe be. (249) But natheles, hit is my wille', quod she, 'To forthren yow, so that ye shal nat dye, But turnen, sound, hoom to your Tessalye,'

<sup>6</sup> My righte lady, 'quod this Jasoun tho, <sup>6</sup> That ye han of my dethe or of my wo Any reward, and doon me this honour, I wot wel that my might ne my labour May nat deserve hit in my lyves day ; 1634 God thanke yow, ther I ne can ne may. Your man am I, and lowly you beseche, To been my help, with-oute more speche; But certes, for my deeth shal I nat spare.' (261)

The gan this Medea to him declare The peril of this cas, fro point to point, And of his batail, and in what digiont He mote stande, of which no creature, Save only she, ne mighte his lyf assure. And shortly, to the point right for to go, They been accorded ful, betwix hem two,

That Jasoun shal her wedde, as trewe knight; 1636

And term y-set, to come some at night (270) Unto her chambre, and make ther his ooth,

Upon the goddes, that he, for leef ne looth, 1639

Ne sholde her never falsen, night ne day, To been her husbond, whyl he liven may,

As she that from his deeth him saved here.

And her-upon, at night they mette y-fere, And doth his ooth, and goth with her to bedde. 1644

And on the morwe, upward he him spedde; For she hath taught him how he shal

nat faile (279)

The flees to winne, and stinten his bataile; And saved him his lyf and his honour;

And gat him greet name as a conquerour Right through the sleight of her enchantement. 1650

Now hath Jasoun the flees, and hoom is went

With Medea, and tresor ful gret woon, But unwist of her fader is she goon

To Tessaly, with duk Jasoun her leef,

That afterward hath broght her to mescheef. 1655

For as a traitour he is from her go,

And with her lafte his yonge children two, (290)

And falsly hath betrayed her, allas ! And ever in love a cheef traitour he was ; And wedded yit the thridde wyf anon, 1660 That was the doghter of the king Creon.

This is the meed of loving and guerdoun That Medea received of Jasoun

- Right for her trouthe and for her kindenesse,
- That loved him better than her-self, I gesse, 1665

And lafte her fader and her heritage.

And of Jasoun this is the vassalage, (300) That, in his dayes, nas ther noon y-founde So fals a lover going on the grounde.

- And therfor in her lettre thus she seyde 1670
- First, whan she of his falsnesse him umbreyde,

'Why lyked me thy yelow heer to see More then the boundes of myn honestee, Why lyked me thy youthe and thy fairnesse,

- And of thy tonge the infinit graciousnesse? 1675
- O, haddest thou in thy conquest deed y-be,
- Ful mikel untrouthe had ther dyed with thee!' (310)

Wel can Ovyde her lettre in vers endyte, Which were as now to long for me to wryte.

V. THE LEGEND OF LUCRETIA.

Incipit Legenda Lucrecie Rome, Martiris.

Now moot I seyn the exiling of kinges Of Rome, for hir horrible doinges, 1681 And of the laste king Tarquinius,

As saith Ovyde and Titus Livius.

- But for that cause telle I nat this storie, But for to preise and drawen to memorie The verray wyf, the verray trewe Lucresse, That, for her wyfhood and her stedfastnesse. 1687
- Nat only that thise payens her comende, But he, that cleped is in our legende (10) The grete Austin, hath greet compassioun 1600

Of this Lucresse, that starf at Rome toun; And in what wyse, I wol but shortly trete, And of this thing I touche but the grete.

Whan Ardea beseged was aboute

With Romains, that ful sterne were and stoute, 1695

Ful longe lay the sege, and litel wroghte, So that they were half ydel, as hem thoghte; (18)

And in his pley Tarquinius the yonge Gan for to jape, for he was light of tonge, And seyde, that 'it was an ydel lyf; 1700 No man did ther no more than his wyf; And lat us speke of wyves, that is best; Praise every man his owne, as him lest,

And with our speche lat us ese our herte.' A knight, that highte Colatyne, up sterte, 1705 And seyde thus, 'nay, for hit is no nede To trowen on the word, but on the dede.

I have a wyf,' quod he, 'that, as I trowe, Is holden good of alle that ever her knowe; (30)

Go we to-night to Rome, and we shul see.'

Tarquinius answerde, 'that lyketh me.'

To Rome be they come, and faste hem dighte

To Colatynes hous, and down they lighte, Tarquinius, and eek this Colatyne.

- The husbond knew the estres wel and fyne, 1715
- And prively into the hous they goon ;

Nor at the gate porter was ther noon ;

And at the chambre-dore they abyde. (39) This noble wyf sat by her beddes syde

Dischevele, for no malice she ne thoghte;

And softe wolle our book seith that she wroghte 1721

To kepen her fro slouthe and ydelnesse; And bad her servants doon hir businesse,

And axeth hem, 'what tydings heren ye? How seith men of the sege, how shal hit be?

God wolde the walles weren falle adoun; Myn husbond is so longe out of this toun,

For which the dreed doth me so sore smerte,

And ther-withal unto her throte he sterte,

And sette the point al sharp upon her

- No word she spak, she hath no might therto.

What shal she sayn? her wit is al ago.

Right as a wolf that fynt a lomb aloon,

- To whom shal she compleyne, or make moon? (120)

- What ! shal she crye, or how shal she asterte
- That hath her by the throte, with swerde at herte?

She axeth grace; and seith al that she can.

'Ne wolt thou nat,' quod he, this cruel man, 1805 'As wisly Jupiter my soule save,

As I shal in the stable slee thy knave,

And leye him in thy bed, and loude crye, That I thee finde in suche avouterye; (130) And thus thou shalt be deed, and also lese 1810

Thy name, for thou shalt non other chese.' Thise Romain wyves loveden so hir name

At thilke tyme, and dredden so the shame, That, what for fere of slaundre and drede of deeth, 1814

She loste bothe at-ones wit and breeth,

And in a swough she lay and wex so deed,

Men mighte smyten of her arm or heed ; She feleth no-thing, neither foul ne fair.

Tarquinius, that art a kinges eyr, (140) And sholdest, as by linage and by right, Doon as a lord and as a verray knight, Why hastow doon dispyt to chivalrye? Why hastow doon this lady vilanye? Allas! of thee this was a vileins dede!

But now to purpos; in the story I rede, Whan he was goon, al this mischaunce is falle. 1826

This lady sente after her frendes alle, 'Fader, moder, husbond, al y-fere; And al dischevele, with her heres clere, In habit swich as women used tho 1830 Unto the burying of her frendes go,

She sit in halle with a sorweful sighte.

Her frendes axen what her aylen mighte, And who was deed? And she sit ay wepinge, A word for shame ne may she forth out-

bringe, 1835

Ne upon hem she dorste nat beholde. But atte laste of Tarquiny she hem tolde, This rewful cas, and al this thing horrible. The wo to tellen hit were impossible, (160) That she and alle her frendes made atones. 1840

Al hadde folkes hertes been of stones,

Hit mighte have maked hem upon her rewe,

Her herte was so wyfly and so trewe.

She seide, that, for her gilt ne for her blame,

Her husbond sholde nat have the foule name, 1845 That wolde she nat suffre, by no wey. And they answerden alle, upon hir fey,

That they foryeve hit her, for hit was right; . (169)

Hit was no gilt, hit lay nat in her might; And seiden her ensamples many oon. 1850 But al for noght; for thus she seide anoon,

'Be as be may,' quod she, ' of forgiving, I wol nat have no forgift for no-thing.' But prively she caughte forth a knyf, 1854

And therwith-al she rafte her-self her lyf; And as she fel adoun, she caste her look, And of her clothes yit she hede took; For in her falling yit she hadde care

Lest that her feet or swiche thing lay bare; (180)

So welshe loved clennesse and eek trouthe. Of her had al the toun of Rome routhe.

And Brutus by her chaste blode hath swore 1862

That Tarquin sholdey-banisht be ther-fore, And al his kin; and let the peple calle,

And openly the tale he tolde hem alle,

And openly let carie her on a bere 1866 Through al the toun, that men may see and here

The horrible deed of her oppressionn. Ne never was ther king in Rome tonn (190) Sin thilk day; and she was holden there A seint, and ever her day y-halwed dere As in hir lawe: and thus endeth Lucresse, The nolle wyf, as Titus bereth witnesse.

I tell hit, for she was of love so trewe, Ne in her wille she chaunged for no newe. And for the stable herte, sad and kinde,

That in these women men may alday finde; 1877

Ther as they caste hir herte, ther hit dwelleth.

VI. THE LEGEND OF ARIADNE.

Incipit Legenda Adriane de Athenes.

JUGE infernal, Minos, of Crete king,

- Now cometh thy lot, now comestow on the ring;
- Nat for thy sake only wryte I this storie, But for to clepe agein unto memorie 1889 Of Theseus the grete untrouthe of love;
- For which the goddes of the heven above Ben wrothe, and wreche han take for thy
- sinne.
- Be reed for shame ! now I thy lyf beginne. Minos, that was the mighty king of Crete,
- That hadde an hundred citees stronge and grete, (10) 1895
- To scole hath sent his sone Androgeus,
- To Athenes; of the whiche hit happed thus,

That he was slayn, lerning philosophye, Right in that citee, nat but for envye.

The grete Minos, of the whiche I speke, His sones deeth is comen for to wreke ; Alcathoe he bisegeth harde and longe. But natheles the walles be so stronge, And Nisus, that was king of that citee, So chivalrous, that litel dredeth he; 1905 Of Minos or his ost took he no cure, (21) Til on a day befel an aventure, That Nisus doghter stood upon the wal, And of the sege saw the maner al. 1000 So happed hit, that, at a scarmishing, She caste her herte upon Minos the king. For his beautee and for his chivalrye. So sore, that she wende for to dye. And, shortly of this proces for to pace, She made Minos winnen thilke place, 1015 So that the citee was al at his wille, (31) To saven whom him list, or elles spille ; But wikkedly he quitte her kindenesse, And let her drenche in sorowe and distresse, 1919 Nere that the goddes hadde of her pite;

But that tale were to long as now for me. Athenes wan this king Minos also,

And Alcathoe and other tounes mo;

And this th'effect, that Minos hath so driven

Hem of Athenes, that they mote him yiven (40) 1925

Fro yere to yere her owne children dere For to be slayn, as ye shul after here.

This Minos hath a monstre, a wikked beste.

That was so cruel that, without areste,

- Whan that a man was broght in his presence, 1930
- He wolde him ete, ther helpeth no defence.

And every thridde yeer, with-outen doute, They casten lot, and, as hit com aboute On riche, on pore, he moste his sone

- take, (49) 1934 And of his child he moste present make
- Unto Minos, to save him or to spille,
- Or lete his beste devoure him at his wille.

And this hath Minos don, right in despyt; To wreke his sone was set al his delyt,

And maken hem of Athenes his thral 1940 Fro yere to yere, whyl that he liven shal; And hoom he saileth whan this toun is wonne.

This wikked custom is so longe y-ronne Til that of Athenes king Egeus

Mot sende his owne sone, Theseus, 1945 Sith that the lot is fallen him upon, (61) To be devoured, for grace is ther non.

And forth is lad this world yonge knight Unto the court of king Minos ful right, And in a prison, fetered, cast is he 1950 Til thilke tyme he sholde y-freten be.

- Wel maystow wepe, O woful Theseus, That art a kinges sone, and dampned thus.
- Me thinketh this, that thou were depe y-holde 1954

To whom that saved thee fro cares colde! And now, if any woman helpe thee, (71) Wel oughtestow her servant for to be, And been her trewe lover yeer by yere! But now to come ageyn to my matere. The tour, ther as this Theseus is throwe Down in the botom derke and wonder lowe, 1961

Was joyning in the walle to a foreyne; And hit was longing to the doghtren tweyne

Of king Minos, that in hir chambres grete Dwelten above, toward the maisterstrete, (80) 1965 In mochel mirthe, in joye and in solas. Not I nat how, hit happed ther, per cas, As Theseus compleyned him by nighte, The kinges doghter, Adrian that highte, And eek her suster Phedra, herden al 1970 His compleyning, as they stode on the wal And lokeden upon the brighte mone : Hem leste nat to go to bedde sone. And of his wo they had compassioun ; A kinges sone to ben in swich prisoun And be devoured, thoughte hem gret pitee. (91) 1976

Than Adrian spak to her suster free, And seyde, 'Phedra, leve suster dere, This woful lordes sone may ye nat here, How pitously compleymeth he his kin, And eek his pore estat that he is in, 1981 And gitteless ? now certes, hit is routhe ! And if ye wol assenten, by my trouthe, He shal be holpen, how so that we do !'

Phedra answerde, 'y-wis, me is as wo For him as ever I was for any man ; 1986 And, to his help, the beste reed I can (102) Is that we doon the gayler prively To come, and speke with ns hastily.

And doon this woful man with him to come. 1000

For if he may this monstre overcome,

Than were he quit; ther is noon other bote.

Lat us wel taste him at his herte-rote, That, if so be that he a wepen have.

Wher that he dar, his lyf to kepe and save, (110) 1995

Fighten with this fend, and him defende. For, in the prison, ther he shal descende, Ye wite wel, that the beste is in a place

That nis nat derk, and hath roum eek

To welde an ax or swerd or staf or knyf, So that, me thinketh, he sholde save his lyf; 2001 If that he be a man, he shal do so.

And we shul make him balles eek also Of wexe and towe, that, whan he gapeth faste.

faste, 2004 Into the bestes throte he shal hem caste To slake his hunger and encombre his teeth; (121)

And right anon, whan that Thesens seeth The beste achoked, he shal on him lepe

To sleen him, or they comen more to-hepe. This wepen shal the gayler, or that tyde, Ful privily within the prison hyde; sour And, for the hous is crinkled to and fro, And hath so queinte weyes for to go— For hit is shapen as the mase is wroght—

Therto have I a remedie in my thoght,

That, by a clewe of twyne, as he hath goon, (131) 2016

The same wey he may returne anoon,

Folwing alwey the threed, as he hath come.

And, whan that he this beste hath overcome,

Then may he fleen awey out of this drede, And eek the gayler may he with him

Iede, 2021

And him avaunce at hoom in his contree, Sin that so greet a lordes sone is he.

What sholde I lenger sermoun of hit make? 2025

The gayler cometh, and with him Theseus. And whan thise thinges been acorded thus, (142)

'The righte lady of my lyf,' quod he,

'I, sorweful man, y-dampned to the deeth, Fro yow, whyl that me lasteth lyf or breeth, 2011

I wol nat twinne, after this aventure.

But in your servise thus I wol endure.

That, as a wrecche unknowe, I wol yow serve 2034

For ever-mo, til that myn herte sterve.

Forsake I wol at hoom myn heritage, (151) And, as I seide, ben of your court a page, If that ye vouche-sauf that, in this place, Ye graunte me to han so gret a grace

That I may han nat but my mete and drinke; 2040

And for my sustenance yit wol I swinke,

This is my reed, if that he dar hit take.'

Adoun sit Theseus upon his knee :--

Right as yow list, that Minos ne no God shilde hit, for the shame of women alle ! wight-And leve me never swich a cas befalle ! Sin that he saw me never with eyen But sende yow grace and sleighte of sightherte also, Ne no man elles, shal me conne espye; So slyly and so wel I shal me gye, Yow to defende and knightly sleen your 2045 And me so wel disfigure and so lowe, (161) 2085 . fo. That in this world ther shal no man me And leve herafter that I may yow finde To me and to my suster here so kinde, knowe, That I repente nat to give yow lyf! (203) To han my lyf, and for to han presence Yit were hit better that I were your Of yow, that doon to me this excellence. And to my fader shal I senden here 2050 wyf, This worthy man, that is now your gay-Sin that ye been as gentil born as I, 2090 And have a reaume, nat but faste by, lere, And, him to guerdon, that he shal wel be Then that I suffred giltles yow to sterve, Oon of the grettest men of my contree. Or that I let yow as a page serve ; And yif I dorste seyn, my lady bright, Hit is not profit, as unto your kinrede ; I am a kinges sone, and eek a knight; But what is that that man nil do for As wolde god, vif that hit mighte be (171) drede? 2005 Ye weren in my contree, alle three, And to my suster, sin that hit is so (211) And I with yow, to bere yow companye, That she mot goon with me, if that I go, Than shulde ve seen vif that I ther-of lye! Or elles suffre deeth as wel as I. And, if I profre yow in low manere 2060 That ye unto your sone as trewely . 2000 To ben your page and serven yow right Doon her be wedded at your hoom-coming. This is the fynal ende of al this thing ; here. But I yow serve as lowly in that place, Ye swere hit heer, on al that may be I prev to Mars to vive me swiche a grace sworn.' My dere herte, of Athenes duchesse !' 'A kinges sone, and eek a knight,' This lady smyleth at his stedfastnesse, quod she. 2080 And at his hertly wordes, and his chere, 'To been my servant in so low degree, And to her suster seide in this manere,

Al softely, 'now, suster myn,' quod she, 'Now be we duchesses, bothe I and ye, And sikered to the regais of Athenes, (243) And bothe her-after lykly to be quenes, And saved fro his deeth a kinges sone, As ever of gentil women is the wone arg To save a gentil man, emforth hir might, In honest cause, and namely in his right. Me thinketh no wight oghte her-of us blame,

Ne beren us ther-for an evel name.' 2135 And shortly of this matere for to make,

This Theseus of her hath leve y-take, (252) And every point +performed was in dede As ye have in this covenant herd me rede. His wepen, his clew, his thing that I have said, 2140

Was by the gayler in the hous y-laid Ther as this Minotaur hath his dwelling, Right faste by the dore, at his entring.

And Theseus is lad unto his deeth, 2144 And forth un-to this Minotaur he geeth, And by the teching of this Adriane (261) He overcom this beste, and was his bane; And out he cometh by the clewe again

Ful prevely, whan he this beste hath slain; 2149

And by the gayler geten hath a barge,

And of his wyves tresor gan hit charge,

And took his wyf, and eek her suster free, And eek the gayler, and with hem alle three

Is stole awey out of the lond by nighte,

And to the contre of Ennopye him dighte 2155

Ther as he had a frend of his knowinge.

Ther festen they, ther dauncen they and singe; (272)

And in his armes hath this Adriane,

That of the beste hath kept him from his bane; 2159

And gat him ther a newe barge anoon,

And of his contree-folk a ful gret woon,

And taketh his leve, and hoomward saileth he.

And in an yle, amid the wilde see,

Ther as ther dwelte creature noon

Save wilde bestes, and that ful many oon, 2165

He made his ship a-londe for to sette ; And in that yle half a day he lette, (282)

- And seide, that on the lond he moste him > reste.
- His mariners han doon right as him leste;

And, for to tellen shortly in this cas, 2170 Whan Adriane his wyf a-slepe was,

For that her suster fairer was than she,

He taketh her in his hond, and forth goth he

To shippe, and as a traitour stal his way

- Whyl that this Adriane a-slepe lay, 2175
- And to his contree-ward he saileth blyve--- (201)
- A twenty devil way the wind him dryve !--

And fond his fader drenched in the see.

Me list no more to speke of him, parde; Thise false lovers, poison be hir bane !

But I wol turne again to Adriane 2181 That is with slepe for werinesse atake.

Ful sorwefully her herte may awake.

Allas! for thee my herte hath now pite!

Right in the dawening awaketh she, 2185 And gropeth in the bedde, and fond right

- noght. (301)
- 'Allas!' quod she, 'that ever I was wroght!

I am betrayed !' and her heer to-rente,

And to the stronde bar-fot faste she wente,

And cryed, 'Theseus ! myn herte swete !

Wher be ye, that I may nat with yow mete. 2101

And mighte thus with bestes been yslain?'

The holwe rokkes answerde her again ;

No man she saw, and yit shyned the mone, 2104

And hye upon a rokke she wente sone,

And saw his barge sailing in the see, (311)

Cold wex her herte, and right thus seide she.

'Meker than ye finde I the bestes wilde !'

Hadde he nat sinne, that her thus begylde?

She cryed, 'O turne again, for routhe and sinne! 2200

Thy barge hath nat al his meiny inne !'

Her kerchef on a pole up stikked she,

Ascaunce that he sholde hit wel y-see,

387

And him remembre that she was behinde, And turne again, and on the stronde her finde: (320) 2205

But al for noght; his wey he is y-goon.

'Thou bed,' quod she, 'that hast receyved two.

Thou shalt answere of two, and nat of oon !

Wher is thy gretter part away y-goon ?

- Allas! wher shal I, wrecched wight, become!
- For, thogh so be that ship or boot heer come, 2215

Hoom to my contree dar I nat for drede; (331)

I can my-selven in this cas nat rede !' What shal I telle more her compleining ?

Hit is so long, hit were an hevy thing.

In her epistle Naso telleth al ; 2220 But shortly to the ende I telle shal.

The goddes have her holpen, for pitee;

And, in the signe of Taurus, men may

The stones of her coroun shyne clere.— I wol no more speke of this matere;

But thus this false lover can begyle 2226 His trewe love. The devil †him quyte his whyle! (342)

VII. THE LEGEND OF PHILOMELA.

Incipit Legenda Philomene.

Deus dator formarum.

- THOU yiver of the formes, that hast wroght
- The faire world, and bare hit in thy thoght
- Eternally, or thou thy werk began, 2230
- Why madest thou, unto the slaundre of man,

Or-al be that hit was not thy doing,

As for that fyn to make swiche a thing-

Why suffrest thou that Tereus was bore, That is in love so fals and so forswore,

- That, fro this world up to the firste hevene, 2236
- Corrumpeth, whan that folk his name nevene? (10)
- And, as to me, so grisly was his dede,

That, whan that I his foule story rede,

Myn eyen wexen foule and sore also ; 2240 Yit last the venim of so longe ago,

That hit enfecteth him that wol beholde

The story of Tereus, of which I tolde.

Of Trace was he lord, and kin to Marte, The cruel god that stant with blody darte; 2245 And wedded had he, with a blisful chere, King Pandiones faire doghter dere, (20) That highte Progne, flour of her contree, Thogh Juno list nat at the feste be,

Ne Ymeneus, that god of wedding is;

But at the feste redy been, y-wis, 2251 The furies three, with alle hir mortel brond.

The owle al night aboute the balkes word, That prophet is of wo and of mischannee, This revel, ful of songe and ful of dannee, Lasteth a fourtenight, or litel lasse. 2560 But, shortly of this story for to passe, 3(30) For I am wery of him for to telle,

Five yeer his wyf and he togeder dwelle, Til on a day she gan so sore longe 2260 To seen her suster, that she saw nat longe, That for desyr she niste what to seye.

But to her husband gan she for to preye, For goddes love, that she moste ones goon 2264

Her suster for to seen, and come anoon, Or elles, but she moste to her wende,

She preyde him, that he wolde after her sende; (40)

And this was, day by day, al her prayere With al humblesse of wyfhood, word, and chere. 2269

The Legend of Philomela.

This Tereus let make his shippes yare, And into Grece him-self is forth y-fare Unto his fader in lawe, and gan him preye To vouche-sauf that, for a month or tweye, That Philomene, his wyves suster, mighte On Progne his wyf but ones have a sighte— 2275 'And she shal come to yow again anoon. Myself with her wol bothe come and goon, (50) And as myn hertes lyf I wol her kepe.'	The ores pulleth forth the vessel faste, And into Trace arriveth at the laste, And up into a forest he her ledde, 2310 And to a cave privily him speedde ; And, in this derke cave, yif her leste, Or leste noght, he bad her for to reste ; Of whiche her herte agroos, and seyde thus, 'Wher is my suster, brother Terens?' 2315 And therwith-al she wepte tenderly, And quock for fere, pale and pitously, Right as the lamb that of the wolf is biten ; Or as the colver, that of the egle is

For which this sely Progne hath swich wo, (119) 2346

That ny her sorweful herte brak a-two; And thus in teres lete I Progne dwelle,

And of her suster forth I wol yow telle. This woful lady lerned had in youthe

So that she werken and enbrouden couthe, And weven in her stole the radevore

As hit of women hath be woned yore.

And, shortly for to seyn, she hath her fille

- Of mete and drink, and clothing at her wille, 2355
- And coude eek rede, and wel y-nogh endyte,

But with a penne coude she nat wryte; But lettres can she weven to and fro, (131)

So that, by that the yeer was al a-go,

She had y-woven in a stamin large 2360 How she was broght from Athenes in a barge.

And in a cave how that she was broght; And al the thing that Tereus hath wroght, She waf hit wel, and wroot the story above,

How she was served for her suster love; And to a knave a ring she yaf anoon, 2366And prayed him, by signes, forto goon (140) Unto the quene, and beren her that clooth, And by signes swor him many an ooth.

She sholde him yeve what she geten mighte. 2370

This knave anoon unto the quene him dighte, And took hit her, and al the maner tolde. And, whan that Progne hath this thing beholde,

No word she spak, for sorwe and eek for rage;

But feyned her to goon on pilgrimage 2375

To Bachus temple; and, in a litel stounde,

Her dombe suster sitting hath she founde,

Weping in the castel her aloon, (151)

- Allas! the wo, the compleint, and the moon
- That Progne upon her dombe suster maketh! 2380

In armes everich of hem other taketh,

- And thus I lete hem in hir sorwe dwelle. The remenant is no charge for to telle.
- For this is al and som, thus was she served,

That never harm a-gilte ne deserved 2385 Unto this cruel man, that she of wiste.

Ye may be war of men, yif that yow liste. (160)

For, al be that he wol nat, for his shame, Doon so as Tereus, to lese his name,

Ne serve yow as a mordrour or a knave, Ful litel whyle shul ye trewe him have,

- That wol I seyn, al were he now my brother, 2302
- But hit so be that he may have non other. (166)

Or that the mone ones wente aboute. (110)

But tymes foure the mone hath hid her face

Sin thilke day ye wente fro this place, 2505 And foure tymes light the world again.

But for al that, yif I shal soothly sain,

Yit hath the streem of Sitho nat y-broght From Athenes the ship; yit comth hit noght.

And, yif that ye the terme rekne wolde,

As I or other trewe lovers sholde. 2511

I pleyne not, god wot, beforn my day.'-

But al her lettre wryten I ne may (120) By ordre, for hit were to me a charge ;

Her lettre was right long and ther-to large; 2515

But here and there in ryme I have hit laid.

Ther as me thoughte that she wel hath said.-

She seide, 'thy sailes comen nat again, Ne to thy word ther nis no fev certein : But I wot why ye come nat,' quod she;

'For I was of my love to you so free.

2521 And of the goddes that ye han forswore,

Yif that hir vengeance falle on yow therfore, (130)

Ye be nat suffisaunt to bere the peyne.

To moche trusted I, wel may I pleyne, 2525

Upon your linage and your faire tonge, And on your teres falsly out y-wronge. How coude ye wepe so by craft?' quod she:

' May ther swiche teres feyned be? Now certes, yif ye wolde have in memorie, Hit oghte be to yow but litel glorie 2531 To have a sely mayde thus betrayed !

To god,' quod she, ' preye I, and ofte have prayed, (140)

That hit be now the grettest prys of alle, And moste honour that ever yow shall befalle ! 2535

And whan thyn olde auncestres peynted be,

In which men may hir worthinesse see. Than, preye I god, thou peynted be also, That folk may reden, for-by as they go, " Lo ! this is he, that with his flaterye 2540 Betrayed hath and doon her vilanve

That was his trewe love in thoghte and dede !"

But sothly, of oo point yit may they rede, That ye ben lyk your fader as in this; (151) For he begyled Adriane, v-wis. 2545 With swiche an art and swiche sotelte As thou thy-selven hast begyled me. As in that point, al-thogh hit be nat fayr, Thou folwest him, certein, and art his eyr. But sin thus sinfully ye me begyle, 2550 My body mote ye seen, within a whyle, Right in the haven of Athenes fletinge, With-outen sepulture and buryinge; (160) Thogh ve ben harder then is any stoon.'

And, whan this lettre was forth sent anoon.

And knew how brotel and how fals he was.

She for dispeyr for-dide herself, allas !

Swich sorwe hath she, for she besette her so.

Be war, ye women, of your sotil fo, 2559 Sin yit this day men may ensample see ; And trusteth, as in love, no man but me. (168)

Incipit Legenda Ypermistre.

Is Greee whylom weren brethren two, Of whiche that oon was called Danao, That many a sone hath of his body wonne, As swiche false lovers ofte conne. 2565 Among his sones alle ther was oon

That aldermost he lovede of everichoon.

- And whan this child was born, this Danao Shoop him a name, and called him Lino.
- That other brother called was Egiste, 2570 That was of love as fals as ever him liste. (10)
- And many a doghter gat he in his lyve; Of which he gat upon his righte wyve

A doghter dere, and dide her for to calle Ypermistra, yongest of hem alle; 2575 The whiche child, of her nativitee,

To alle gode thewes born was she,

- As lyked to the goddes, or she was born, That of the shefe she sholde be the corn; (18)
- The Wirdes, that we clepen Destinee, 2580 Hath shapen her that she mot nedes be Pitouse, sadde, wyse, and trewe as steel; And to this woman hit accordeth weel.
- For, though that Venus yaf her greet beautee.
- With Jupiter compouned so was she 2585 That conscience, trouthe, and dreed of shame.
- And of her wyfhood for to kepe her name, This, thoughte her, was felicitee as here. And rede Mars was, that tyme of the yere,

So feble, that his malice is him raft, 2590 Repressed hath Venus his crael craft; (30) †What with Venus and other oppressioun Of houses. Mars his venim is adoun,

- And this was in the paleys of Egiste,
- That in his hous was lord, right as him liste;
- And thus the day they dryven to an ende: 2620
- The frendes taken leve, and hoom they wende. (60)
- The night is come, the bryd shal go to bedde:

Egiste to his chambre faste him spedde.

And privily he let his doghter calle.

- Whan that the hous was voided of hem alle, 2625
- He loked on his doghter with glad chere,

And to her spak, as ye shul after here.

A TREATISE ON THE ASTROLABE.

PROLOGUS.

LITEL Lowis my sone, I have perceived wel by certeyne evidences thyn abilite to lerne sciencez touchinge noundres and proporciouns; and as wel considere I thy 5 bisy prevere in special to lerne the Tretis of the Astrolabie. Than, for as mechel as a philosofre seith, 'he wrappeth him in his frend, that condescendeth to the rightful prevers of his frend,' ther-for to have I geven the a suffisaunt Astrolabie

- as for oure orizonte, compowned after the latitude of Oxenford; up-on which, by mediacion of this litel tretis, I purpose to teche thee a certein nombre of conclu-
- <sup>15</sup> sions apertening to the same instrument. I save a certein of conclusionns, for three causes. The furste cause is this : truste wel that alle the conclusionus that han ben founde, or elles possibly mighten be
- 20 founde in so noble an instrument as an Astrolabie, ben un-knowe perfitly to any mortal man in this regioun, as I suppose. A-nother cause is this; that sothly, in any tretis of the Astrolabie that I have seyn,
- 25 there ben some conclusions that wole nat in alle thinges performen hir bihestes; and some of hem ben to harde to thy tendre age of ten yeer to conseyve. This tretis, divided in fyve parties, wole I shewe
- 30 thee under ful lighte rewles and naked wordes in English; for Latin ne canstow vit but smal, my lyte sone. But natheles, suffyse to thee thise trewe conclusiouns in English, as wel as suffyseth to thise noble clerkes Grekes thise same conclusiouns in a Greek, and to Arabiens in Arabik, and to Jewes in Ebrew, and to the Latin folk in Latin ; whiche Latin folk han hem furst out of othre diverse langages, and writen in hir owne tonge, that is to sein, in 4 Latin. And god wot, that in alle thise langages, and in many mo, han thise conclusiouns ben suffisantly lerned and taught, and yit by diverse rewles, right as diverse pathes leden diverse folk the righte wey to Rome. Now wol I prey medkly every discreet persone that redeth or hereth this litel tretis, to have my rewde endyting for excused, and my superfluite of wordes, for two causes. The firste cause is, for that curious endyting and hard sentence is ful hevy atones for swich a child to lerne. And the seconde cause is this, that sothly me semeth betre to wryten un-to a child twyes a good ; sentence, than he forgete it ones. And Lowis, yif so be that I shewe thee in my lighte English as trewe conclusiouns touching this matere, and naught only as trewe but as many and as subtil conclusiouns as ben shewed in Latin in any commune tretis of the Astrolabie, con me the more thank; and preve god save the king, that is lord of this langage, and alle 65 that him feyth bereth and obeyeth, everech in his degree, the more and the lasse. But considere wel, that I ne usurpe nat to have founde this work of my labour or of myn engyn. I nam but a lewd com-70 pilatour of the labour of olde Astrologiens, and have hit translated in myn English only for thy doctrine; and with this swered shal I sleen envye.

I. The firste partie of this tretis shal 75 reherse the figures and the membres of thyn Astrolabie, bi-cause that thou shalt han the grettre knowing of thyn owne instrument.

II. The second partie shal teche thee go werken the verrey practik of the forseide conclusions, as ferforth and as narwe as may be shewed in so smal an instrument portatif aboute. For wel wot every astrologien that smallest fractions ne wol 85 nat ben shewed in so smal an instrument, as in subtil tables calculed for a cause. III. The thridde partie shal contienen diverse tables of longitudes and latitudes of sterros fixe for the Astrolabie, and co tables of declinacions of the sonne, and tables of longitudes of citeez and of townes; and as wel for the governance of a clokke as for to finde the altitude meridian; and many another notable conclusioun, after the kalendres of the 95 reverent clerkes, frere I. Somer and frere N. Lenne.

IV. The ferthe partie shal ben a theorik to declare the moevinge of the celestial bodies with the causes. The whiche 100 ferthe partie in special shal shewen a table of the verray moeving of the mone from houre to houre, every day and in every signe, after thyn almenak; upon which table there folwith a canon, suffi-105 sant to teche as wel the maner of the wyrking of that same conclusion, as to knowe in oure orizonte with which degree of the zodiac that the mone ariseth in any latitude; and the arising of any 110 planete after his latitude fro the ecliptik lyne.

V. The fifte partie shal ben an introductorie after thestatutz of oure doctours, in which thou maist lerne a gret part of 115 the general rewles of theorik in astrologie. In which fifte partie shaltow finde tables of equacions of houses aftur the latitude of Oxenford; and tables of dignetes of planetes, and other noteful thinges, yif 120 god wol vouche-sauf and his modur the mayde, mo than I bohete, &c.

PART I.

HERE BIGINNETH THE DESCRIPCION OF THE ASTROLABLE.

 Thyn Astrolabie hath a ring to putten on the thoumbe of thy right hand in taking the heighte of thinges. And tak keep, for from hennes-forthward, 5 I wol elepe the heighte of any thing that is taken by thy rewle, the altitude, withoute mo wordes.

2. This ring renneth in a maner turet, fast to the moder of thyn Astrolabie, in so rowm a space that hit desturbeth nat the instrument to hangen after his righte 5 centre. 8. The Moder of thyn Astrolabie is the thikkeste plate, perced with a large hole, that ressayveth in hir wombe the thinne plates compowned for diverse clymatz, and thy rist shapen in manere of a net or 5 of a webbe of a loppe; and for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

4. This moder is devyded on the bakhalf with a lyne, that cometh dessendinge fro the ring down to the nethereste bordure. The whiche lyne, fro the forseide ring un-to the centre of the large 5 hole amidde, is cleped the south lyne, or elles the lyne meridional. And the remenant of this lyne downe to the bordure is cleped the north lyne, or elles the lo lyne of midnight. And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

5. Over-thwart this for-seide longe lyne, ther crosseth him another lyne of the same lengthe from est to west. Of the whiche lyne, from a litel croys + in

- 5 the bordure un-to the centre of the large hole, is cleped the Est lyne, or elles the lyne Orientale; and the remenant of this lyne fro the forseide + un-to the bordure, is cleped the West lyne, or the lyne Occi-
- 10 dentale. Now hastow here the foure quarters of thin astrolabie, devyded after the foure principals plages or quarters of the firmament. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

6. The est side of thyn Astrolabie is cleped the right side, and the west side is cleped the left side. Forget nat this, litel Lowis. Put the ring of thyn Astro-

- 5 lable upon the thoumbe of thy right hand, and thanne wole his right syde be toward thy left syde, and his left syde wol be toward thy right syde; tak this rewle general, as wel on the bak as on
- 10 the wombe-side. Upon the ende of this est lyne, as I first seide, is marked a litel +, wher-as evere-mo generally is considered the entring of the first degree in which the sonne aryseth. And for the 15 more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

7. Fro this litel + up to the ende of the lyne meridional, under the ring, shaltow finden the bordure devyded with oo degrees; and by that same proporcioun

- 5 is every quarter of thin Astrolabie devyded. Over the whiche degrees ther ben noumbres of augrim, that devyden thilke same degrees fro fyve to fyve, as sheweth by longe strykes by-twene. Of
- <sup>10</sup> whiche longe strykes the space by-twene contienith a mile-wey. And every degree of the bordure continenth foure minutes, that is to seyn, minutes of an houre. And for more declaracioun, lo here the 15 figure.

8. Under the compas of thilke degrees ben writen the names of the Twelve Signes, as Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricornus, Aquarius, Pisces; and the 5 nombres of the degrees of tho signes ben writen in augrim above, and with longe devisiouns, fro fyve to fyve ; devyded fro tyme that the signe entreth un-to the laste ende. But understond wel, that 10 thise degrees of signes ben everich of hem considered of 60 minutes, and every minute of 60 secondes, and so forth in-to smale fraccions infinit, as seith Alka-And ther-for, know wel, that 15 bucius. a degree of the bordure contieneth foure minutes, and a degree of a signe contieneth 60 minutes, and have this in minde. And for the more declaracioun. lo here thy figure.

9. Next this folweth the Cercle of the Dayes, that ben figured in maner of degrees, that continent in noumbre 365; divyded also with longe strykes fro fyve to fyve, and the nombres in augrim 5 writen under that cercle. And for more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

10. Next the Cercle of the Dayes, folweth the Cercle of the names of the Monthes; that is to seyen, Januare, Februare, Marcius, Aprile, Mayus, Juin, Julius, Augustus, Septembre, October, 5 Novembre, Decembre. The names of thise monthes were cleped in Arabiens, somme for hir propretees, and some by statutz of lordes, some by other lordes of Rome. Eek of thise monthes, as lyked in to Julius Cesar and to Cesar Augustus, some were compowned of diverse nombres of dayes, as Juil and August. Thanne hath Januare 31 dayes, Februare 28, March 31, Aprille 30, May 31, Junius 30, 1 Julius 31, Augustus 31, September 30, Octobre 31, Novembre 30, December 31, Natheles, al-though that Julius Cesar took 2 dayes out of Feverer and put hem in his moneth of Juille, and Augustus 2 Cesar cleped the moneth of August after his name, and ordeyned it of 31 dayes, yit truste wel, that the sonne dwelleth ther-for nevere the more ne lesse in oon signe than in another.

11. Than folwen the names of the Halidayes in the Kalender, and next hem the lettres of the Abc. on which they fallen. And for the more declara-5 cioun, lo here thy figure.

12. Next the forseide Cercle of the Abc., under the cros-lyne, is marked the scale, in maner of two squyres, or elles in manere of laddres, that serveth by hise 5 12 poyntes and his devisions of ful many a subtil conclusion. Of this forseide scale, fro the cross-lyne un-to the verre angle, is cleped tumbra versa, and the nether partie is cleped the tumbra 10 recta, or elles umbra extensa. And for the more declaracion, lo here the figure.

18. Thanne hastow a brood Rewle, that hath on either ende a square plate perced with a certein holes, some more and some lesse, to resseyven the stremes 5 of the sonne by day, and eek by mediacionn of thyn eye, to knowe the altitude of sterres by nighte. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure. 14. Thanne is ther a large Pyn, in maner of an extree, that goth thorow the hole, that halt the tables of the clymates and the riet in the wombe of 5 the Moder, thorw which Pyn ther goth a litel wegge which that is cleped 'the hors,' that streyneth alle thise parties tohepe; this forseide grete Pyn, in maner of an extree, is imagined to be the Pol 10 Artik in thyn Astrolabie. And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

15. The wombeside of thyn Astrolabie is also devyded with a longe croys in foure quarters from est to west, fro south to north, fro right syde to left syde, as is 5 the bak-syde. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

16. The bordure of which wombe-side is devyded fro the poynt of the est lyne un-to the poynt of the south lyne under the ring, in 90 degres; and by that same 5 proporcioun is every quarter devyded as is the bak-syde, that amonteth 360 degrees. And understond wel, that degrees of this bordure ben answering and consentrik to the degrees of the Equinoxial, 10 that is devyded in the same nombre as every othere cercle is in the heye hevene.

This same bordure is devyded also with

23 lettres capitals and a smal croys +

above the south lyne, that sheweth the 24 hourse equals of the clokke; and, as 15 I have said, 5 of thise degrees maken a mile-wey, and 3 mile-wey maken an houre. And every degree of this bordure contencth 4 minutes, and every minut 60 secoundes; now have I told thee twye. 20 And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

17. The plate under thy riet is descryved with 3 principal cercles; of whiche the leste is cleped the cercle of Cancer. by-cause that the heved of Cancer turneth evermor consentrik up-on the same 5 cercle. In this heved of Cancer is the grettest declinacioun northward of the sonne. And ther-for is he cleped the Solsticioun of Somer; whiche declinacioun, aftur Ptholome, is 23 degrees 10 and 50 minutes, as wel in Cancer as in Capricorne. This signe of Cancer is cleped the Tropik of Somer, of tropos, that is to seyn 'agaynward ;' for thanne by-ginneth the sonne to passe fro us- 15 ward. And for the more declaracioun. lo here the figure.

The middel cercle in wydnesse, of thise 3, is cleped the Cercle Equinoxial; up-on whiche turneth evermo the hedes of 20 Aries and Libra. And understond wel. that evermo this Cercle Equinoxial turneth justly fro verrey est to verrey west ; as I have shewed thee in the spere solide. This same cercle is cleped also the Weyere, 25 equator, of the day; for whan the sonne is in the hevedes of Aries and Libra, than ben the dayes and the nightes ilvke of lengthe in al the world. And therfore ben thise two signes called the 30 Equinoxies. And alle that moeveth within the hevedes of thise Aries and Libra. his moeving is cleped north-ward; and alle that moeveth with-oute thise hevedes. his moeving is cleped south-ward as fro 25 the equinoxial, Tak keep of thise latitudes north and sowth, and forget it nat. By this Cercle Equinoxial ben considered the 24 houres of the clokke ; for everemo the arysing of 15 degrees of the equinoxial 40 maketh an houre equal of the clokke. This equinoxial is cleped the girdel of the firste moeving, or elles of the angulus primi motus vel primi mobilis. And nota, 45 that firste moeving is cleped 'moeving'

- of the first moevable of the 8 spere, which moeving is fro est to west, and eft agayn in-to est; also it is clepid 'girdel' of the first moeving, for it 50 departeth the firste moevable, that is to seyn, the spere, in two ilyke parties, evene-distantz fro the poles of this world. The wydeste of thise three principal
- cercles is cleped the Cercle of Capricorne, 55 by-cause that the heved of Capricorne turneth evermo consentrik up-on the same cercle. In the heved of this for-
- seide Capricorne is the grettest declinacioun southward of the sonne, and ther-60 for is it cleped the Solsticioun of Winter.
- This signe of Capricorne is also cleped the Tropik of Winter, for thanne byginneth the sonne to come agayn to us-ward. And for the more declaracioun, lo here 65 thy figure.
  - 18. Upon this forseide plate ben compassed certein cercles that highten Almicanteras, of which som of hem semen perfit cercles, and somme semen inperfit.
  - 5 The centre that standith a-middes the narwest cercle is cleped the Senith; and the netherest cercle, or the firste cercle, is clepid the Orisonte, that is to seyn, the cercle that devydeth the two emi-
- 10 speries, that is, the partie of the hevene a-bove the erthe and the partie be-nethe. Thise Almicanteras ben compowned by two and two, al-be-it so that on divers Astrolabies some Almicanteras ben de-
- 15 vyded by oon, and some by two, and somme by three, after the quantite of the Astrolabie. This forseide senith is imagened to ben the verrey point over the crowne of thyn heved; and also this
- 20 senith is the verrey pool of the orisonte in every regioun. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

19. From this senith, as it semeth, ther come a maner crokede strykes lyke to the clawes of a loppe, or elles like to the werk of a womanes calle, in kerving over-

5 thwart the Almikanteras. And thise same strykes or divisiouns ben cleped Azimuthz. And they devyden the orisonte of thyn Astrolabie in four and twenty devisiouns. And thise Azimutz serven to knowe the costes of the firma to ment, and to othre conclusiouns, as for to knowe the cenith of the sonne and of every sterre. And for more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

20. Next thise azimutz, under the Cercle of Cancer, ben ther twelve devisionns embelif, moche like to the shap of the azimutes, that shewen the spaces of the houres of planetes; and for more 5 declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

21. The Riet of thyn Astrolabie with thy zodiak, shapen in maner of a net or of a loppe-webbe after the olde descripcioun, which thow mayst tornen up and down as thy-self lyketh, conteneth 5 certein nombre of sterres fixes, with hir longitudes and latitudes determinat ; vif so be that the makere have nat erred. The names of the sterres ben writen in the margin of the riet ther as they sitte ; 10 of whiche sterres the smale poynt is cleped the Centre. And understond also that alle sterres sittinge with-in the zodiak of thyn Astrolabie ben cleped ' sterres of the north,' for they arysen 15 by northo the est lyne. And alle the remenant fixed, out of the zodiak, ben cleped 'sterres of the south;' but I sey nat that they arysen alle by southe the est lyne; witnesse on Aldeberan and 20 Algomeysa. Generally understond this rewle, that thilke sterres that ben cleped sterres of the north arysen rather than the degree of hir longitude, and alle the sterres of the south arysen after the 25 degree of hir longitude ; this is to seyn, sterres fixed in thyn Astrolabie, The mesure of this longitude of sterres is taken in the lyne ecliptik of hevene, under which lyne, whan that the sonne 30 and the mone ben lyne-right or elles in the superfice of this lyne, than is the eclips of the sonne or of the mone; as I shal declare, and eek the cause why. But sothly the Ecliptik Lyne of thy 3 zodiak is the outtereste bordure of thy zodiak, ther the degrees ben marked,

Thy Zodiak of thyn Astrolabie is shapen as a compas which that conteneth a large 40 brede, as after the quantite of thyn Astrolabie : in ensample that the zodiak in hevene is imagened to ben a superfice contening a latitude of twelve degrees. wheras al the remenant of cercles in the 45 hevene ben imagined verrey lynes withoute env latitude. Amiddes this celestial zodiak vs imagined a lyne, which that is cleped the Ecliptik Lyne, under which lyne is evermo the wey of the sonne. 50 Thus ben ther six degrees of the zodiak on that oon side of the lyne, and six degrees on that other. This zodiak is devided in twelve principal devisiouns, that departen the twelve signes. And, 55 for the streitnes of thin Astrolabie, than is every smal devisioun in a signe departid by two degrees and two : I mene degrees contening sixty minutes. And this forseide hevenissh zodiak is cleped 60 the Cercle of the Signes, or the Cercle

- of the Destes; for zodia in langage of Greek sowneth 'bestes' in Latin tonge; and in the zodiak ben the twelve signes that han names of bestes; or elles, for
- 65 whan the sonne entreth in any of the signes, he taketh the propretee of swich bestes; or elles, for that the sterres that ben there fixed ben disposed in signes of bestes, or shape like bestes; or elles, 70 whan the planetes ben under thilke signes, they causen us by hir influence operaciouns and effectes lyk to the operaciouns of bestes. And understonde also, that whan an hot planete cometh in-to.
- 75 an hot signe, than encresseth his hete;

and yif a planete be cold, thanne amenuseth his coldnesse, by-cause of the hote signe. And by this conclusioun maystow take ensample in alle the signes, be they moist or drye, or moeble or fix ; rekening 80 the qualitee of the planete as I first seide, And everich of thise twelve signes hath respecte to a certein parcelle of the body of a man and hath it in governance: as Aries hath thyn heved, and Taurus thy 85 nekke and thy throte. Gemini thyn armholes and thyn armes, and so forth ; as shal be shewed more pleyn in the fifte partie of this tretis. This zodiak, which that is part of the eighte spere, over- 90 kerveth the equinoxial; and he overkerveth him again in evene parties; and that on half declineth southward, and that other northward, as pleynly declareth the tretis of the spere. And for 95 more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

22. Thanne hastow a label, that is schapen lyk a rewle, save that it is streit and hath no plates on either ende with holes; but, with the smale point of the forseide label, shaltow calcule thyne 5 equaciouns in the bordure of thin Astrolabie, as by thyn almury. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

28. Thyn Almury is cleped the Denticle of Capricorne, or elles the Calculer. This same Almury sit fix in the heed of Capricorne, and it serveth of many a necessarie conclusion in equacious of thinges, 5 as shal be shewed; and for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

Here endeth the descripcion of the Astrolabie.

PART II.

HERE BYGINNEN THE CONCLUSIONS OF THE ASTROLABIE.

To fynde the degree in which the sonne is day by day, after hir cours a-boute.

Rekene and knowe which is the day of thy monthe; and ley thy rewle up that same day; and thanne wol the verray point of thy rewle sitten in the bordure, up-on the degree of thy sonne. 5 Ensample as thus; the yeer of oure lord 1391, the 1z day of March at midday, I wolde knowe the degree of the sonne. I soughte in the bak-half of myn Astrolabie, and fond the cercle of the dayes, to the which I knowe by the names of the monthes writen under the same cercle. The leide I my revel over this forseide day, and fond the point of my rewle in 15 the bordure up-on the firste degree of Aries, a litel with-in the degree; and thus knowe I this conclusioun. Another day, I wolde knowe the degree of my sonne, and this was at midday in the 20 13 day of Decembre; I fond the day of the monthe in maner as I seide; tho

- leide I my rewle up-on this forseide 13 day, and fond the point of my rewle in the bordure up-on the first degree of 25 Capricorne, a life with-in the degree;
- and than hadde I of this conclusioun the ful experience. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

To know the altitude of the sonne, or of othre celestial bodies.

Put the ring of thyn Astrolabie up-on thy right thoumbe, and turne thy lift syde agayn the light of the sonne. And remeve thy rewle up and doun, til that 5 the stremes of the sonne shyne thorgh bothe holes of thy rewle. Loke thanne how many degrees thy rewle is areised fro the litel crois up-on thyn est line, and tak ther the altitude of thy sonne. And

- to in this same wyse maistow knowe by nighte the altitude of the mone, or of brightesterres. This chapitre isso general ever in oon, that ther nedith no more declaracion; but forget it nat. And for
- 15 the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.
  - 3. To knowe every tyme of the day by light of the sonne, and every tyme of the night by the sterres fixe, and eke to knowe by night or by day the degree of any signe that assendeth on the Est Orisonte, which that is cleped community the Assendent, or elles Oruscupum.

Tak the altitude of the sonne whan thee list, as I have said; and set the degree of the sonne, in cas that it be by-forn the middel of the day, among 5 thyn almikanteras on the est side of thyn Astrolabie; and yif it be after the middel of the day, set the degree of thy sonne up-on the west side; tak this manere of setting for a general rewle, ones for to evere. And whan thou hast set the degree of thy sonne up as many almikanteras of heyghte as was the altitude of the sonne taken by thy rewle, ley over thy label, up-on the degree of the sonne : and thanne wol the point of thy label 15 sitten in the bordure, up-on the verrey tyd of the day. Ensample as thus : the yeer of oure lord 1301, the 12 day of March, I wold knowe the tyd of the day. I took the altitude of my sonne, and 20 fond that it was 25 degrees and 30 of minutes of heyghte in the bordure on the bak-syde. The turnede I myn Astrolabie, and by-cause that it was by-forn midday, I turnede my riet, and sette the 25 degree of the sonne, that is to sevn, the I degree of Aries, on the right syde of myn Astrolabie, up-on that 25 degrees and 30 of minutes of heyghte among myn almikanteras; tho leide I my label up-on 30 the degree of my sonne, and fond the poynte of my label in the bordure, up-on a capital lettre that is cleped an X; tho rekened I alle the capitalles lettres fro the lyne of midnight un-to this forseide 35 lettre X, and fond that it was 9 of the clokke of the day. Tho loked I down up-on the est orisonte, and fond there the 20 degree of Geminis assending; which that I tok for myn assendent, 40 And in this wyse hadde I the experience for ever-mo in which maner I sholde knowe the tyd of the day, and eek myn assendent. The wolde I wite the same night folwing the hour of the night, and 45 wroughte in this wyse. Among an heep of sterris fixe, it lyked me for to take the altitude of the feire white sterre that is cleped Alhabor; and fond hir sitting on the west side of the lyne of midday, 50 +18 degres of heighte taken by my rewle on the bak-syde. Tho sette I the centre of this Alhabor up-on +18 degrees among myn almikanteras, up-on the west syde ; by-cause that she was founden on the 55 west syde. The leide I my label over the degree of the sonne that was descended under the weste orisonte, and rikened alle the lettres capitals fro the lyne of midday un-to the point of my 60 label in the bordure; and fond that it was passed +8 of the clokke the space of +2 degrees. Tho loked I down up-on myn est orisonte, and fond ther +23 degrees of 65 Libra assending, whom I tok for myn assendent; and thus lerned I to knowe ones for ever in which manere I shuld come to the houre of the night and to myn assendent; as verreyly as may be 70 taken by so smal an instrument. But natheles, in general, wolde I warne thee

- for ever, he mak thee nevere bold to have take a just ascendent by thyn Astrolabie, or elles to have set justly 75 a clokke, whan any celestial body by
- 7.5 a chocke, what thy central dody by which that thow wenest governe thilke thinges ben ney the south lyne; for trust wel, whan that the soune is ney the meridional lyne, the degree of the sonne
- So renneth so longe consentrik up-on the almikanteras, that sothly thou shalt erre fro the just assendent. The same conclusious sey I by the centre of any sterre fix by night; and more-over, by experi-
- 85 ence, I wot wel that in oure orisonte, from 11 of the clokke un-to con of the clokke, in taking of a just assendent in a portatif Astrolabie, hit is to hard to knowe. I mene, from 11 of the clokke go biforn the houre of noon til con of the clokke next folwing. And for the more
  - declaracion, lo here thy figure.

4. Special declaracion of the assendent.

The assendent sothly, as wel in alle nativitez as in questionns and eleccionns of tymes, is a thing which that thise astrologiens gretly observen; wher-fore 5 me semeth convenient, sin that I speke of the assendent, to make of it special declaracionu. The assendent sothly, to take it at the largeste, is thilke degree that assendeth at any of thise forseide to tymes upon the est orisonte; and therefor, yif that any planet assende at that same tyme in thilke forseide †degree of his longitude, men seyn that thilke planete is in horoscopo. But sothly, the 15 hous of the assendent, that is to seyn, the firste hous or the est angle, is a thing more brood and large. For after the statutz of astrologiens, what celestial body that is 5 degrees above thilk degree that assendeth, or with-in that noumbre, that 20 is to seyn, nere the degree that assendeth, yit rikne they thilke planet in the assendent. And what planete that is under thilke degree that assendith the space of +25 degrees, yit seyn they that thilke 25 planete is lyk to him that is in the hous of the assendent : but sothly, yif he passe the bondes of thise forseide spaces, above or, bynethe, they seyn that the planete is failling fro the assendent. Yit sein thise 30 astrologiens, that the assendent, and eke the lord of the assendent, may be shapen for to be fortunat or infortunat, as thus : a fortunat assendent clepen they whan that no wikkid planete, as Saturne or 35 Mars, or elles the Tail of the Dragoun, is in the hous of the assendent, ne that no wikked planete have non aspecte of enemite up-on the assendent; but they wol caste that they have a fortunat 40 planete in hir assendent and yit in his felicitee, and than sey they that it is wel. Forther-over, they seyn that the infortuning of an assendent is the contrarie of thise forseide thinges The lord of 45 the assendent. sey they, that he is fortunat, whan he is in good place fro the assendent as in angle ; or in a succedent, where-as he is in his dignitee and conforted with frendly aspectes of planetes 50 and wel resceived, and eek that he may seen the assendent, and that he be nat retrograd ne combust, ne joigned with no shrewe in the same signe ; ne that he be nat in his descencionn, ne joigned with 55 no planete in his discencioun, ne have up-on him non aspecte infortunat; and than sey they that he is wel. Natheles, thise ben observauncez of judicial matiere and rytes of payens, in which my spirit 60 ne hath no feith, ne no knowing of hir horoscopum; for they sevn that every signe is departed in 3 evene parties by to degrees, and thilke porcioun they clepe a Face. And al-thogh that a planete 65 have a latitude fro the ecliptik, yit sey some folk, so that the planete arvse in that same signe with any degree of the forseide face in which his longitude is

- 70 rekned, that yit is the planete in horoscopo, be it in nativite or in eleccioun, &c. And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.
  - 5. To knowe the verrey equacioun of the degree of the sonne, yif so be that it falle by-twize thyn Almikanteras.

For as moche as the almikanteras in thyn Astrolabie been compouned by two and two, where-as some almikanteras in sondry Astrolabies ben compouned by 5 oon and oon, or elles by two and two, it is necessarie to thy lerning to teche thee first to knowe and worke with thyn owne instrument. Wher-for, whan that the degree of thy sonne faileth by-twixe

- to two almikanteras, or elles yif thyn almikanteras ben graven with over gret a point of a compas, (for bothe thise thinges may cause errour as wel in knowing of the tyd of the day as of the
- 15 verrey assendent), thou most werken in this wyse. Set the degree of thy sonne up-on the heyer almikanteras of bothe, and waite wel wher as thin almury toucheth the bordure, and set
- 20 ther a prikke of inke. Set down agayn the degree of thy sonne up-on the nethere almikanteras of bothe, and set ther another prikke. Remewe thanne thyn almury in the bordure evene amid-
- 25 des bothe prikkes, and this wol lede justly the degree of thy sonne to sitte by-twixe bothe almikanteras in his right place. Ley thanne thy label over the degree of thy sonne; and find in the
- 3) bordure the verrey tyde of the day or of the night. And as verreyly shaltow finde up-on thyn est orisonte thyn assendent. And for more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.
  - 6. To knowe the spring of the dawing and the ende of the evening, the which ben called the two crepusculis:

Set the nadir of thy sonne up-on 18 degrees of heighte among thyn almikanteras on the west syde, and ley thy label on the degree of thy sonne, and thanne 5 shal the poynt of thy label schewe the

5 shal the poynt of thy label schewe the spring of day. Also set the nadir of thy sonne up-on 18 degrees of heighte a-mong thyn almikanteras on the est side, and ley over thy label up-on the degree of the sonne, and with the point of thy label 10 find in the bordure the ende of the evening, that is, verrey night. The nadir of the sonne is thilke degree that is opposit to the degree of the sonne, in the seventhe signe, as thus: every degree 15 of Aries by ordre is nadir to every degree of Libra by ordre; and Taurus to Scorpion: Gemini to Sagittare; Cancer to Capricorne ; Leo to Aquarie ; Virgo to Pisces; and yif any degree in thy zodiak 20 be dirk, his nadir shal declare him. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

To knowe the arch of the day, that some folk callen the day artificial, from the sonne arysing til hit go to reste.

Set the degree of thy sonne up-on thyn est orisonte, and ley thy label on the degree of the sonne, and at the poynt of thy label in the bordure set a prikke. Turn thanne thy riet aboute til the 5 degree of the sonne sit up-on the west orisonte, and ley thy label up-on the same degree of the sonne, and at the point of thy label set a-nother prikke. Rekne thanne the quantitee of tyme in 10 the bordure by-twixe bothe prikkes, and tak ther thyn ark of the day. The remenant of the bordure under the orisonte is the ark of the night. Thus maistow rekne bothe arches, or every porcion, 15 of whether that thee lyketh. And by this manere of wyrking maistow see how longe that any sterre fix dwelleth a-bove the erthe, fro tyme that he ryseth til he go to reste. But the day natural, that 20 is to sevn 24 houres, is the revolucioun of the equinoxial with as moche partie of the zodiak as the sonne of his propre moevinge passeth in the mene whyle. And for the more declaracioun, lo here 25 thy figure.

8. To turn the houres in-equales in houres equales.

Knowe the nombre of the degrees in the houres in-equales, and departe hem by 15, and tak ther thyn houres equales. And for the more declaracioun, lo here 5 thy figure.

9. To knowe the quantitee of the day vulgare, that is to seven, from spring of the day un-to verrey night.

Know the quantitee of thy crepusculis, as I have taught in the chapitre bi-forn, and adde hem to the arch of thy day artificial; and tak ther the space of alle 5 the hole day vulgar, un-to verrey night. The same manere maystow worke, to knowe the quantitee of the vulgar night. And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

10. To knowe the quantite of houres inequales by day.

Understond wel, that thise houres inequales ben cleped houres of planetes, and understond wel that som-tyme ben they lengere by day than by night, and 5 som-tyme the contrarie. But understond wel, that evermo, generaly, the hour inequal of the day with the houre in-equal of the night contenen 30 degrees of the bordure, whiche bordure is ever-mo to answering to the degrees of the equi-

- answering to the degrees of the option noxial; wher-for departs the arch of the day artificial in 12, and tak ther the quantitee of the hours in-equal by day. And yif thow abate the quantitee of the 15 hours in-equal by daye out of 30, than
- shal the remenant that leveth performe the houre inequal by night. And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

11. To knowe the quantite of houres equales.

The quantitee of houres equales, that is to seyn, the houres of the clokke, ben departed by 15 degrees al-redy in the bordure of thyn Astrolabie, as wel by 5 night as by day, generaly for evere. What nedeth more declaracioun? Wherfor, whan thee list to know how manye houres of the clokke ben passed, or any part of any of thise houres that ben to passed, or elles how many houres or partie of houres ben to come, fro swich a tyme to swich a tyme, by day or by nighte, knowe the degree of thy sonne.

and ley thy label on it; turne thy riet aboute joyntly with thy label, and with 15 the point of it rekne in the bordure fro the sonne aryse un-to the same place ther thou desirest, by day as by nighte. This conclusioun wol I declare in the laste chapitre of the 4 partie of this tretis zo so openly, that ther shal lakke no worde that nedeth to the declaracioun. And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

12. Special declaracioun of the houres of planetes.

Understond wel, that evere-mo, fro the arysing of the sonne til it go to reste, the nadir of the sonne shal shewe the houre of the planete, and fro that tyme forward al the night til the sonne aryse; than 5 shal the verrey degree of the sonne shewe the houre of the planete. Ensample as thus. The 13 day of March fil up-on a Saterday per aventure, and, at the arising of the sonne, I fond the secounde 10 degree of Aries sitting up-on myn est orisonte, al-be-it that it was but lite : than fond I the 2 degree of Libra, nadir of my sonne, dessending on my west orisonte, up-on which west orisonte every 15 day generally, at the sonne ariste, entreth the houre of any planete, after which planete the day bereth his name; and endeth in the nexte stryk of the plate under the forseide west orisonte; and 20 evere, as the sonne climbeth uppere and uppere, so goth his nadir dounere and dounere, teching by swich strykes the houres of planetes by ordre as they sitten in the hevene. The first houre inequal 25 of every Satterday is to Saturne; and the secounde, to Jupiter ; the 3, to Mars ; the 4, to the Sonne; the 5, to Venus; the 6, to Mercurius; the 7, to the Mone; and thanne agayn, the 8 is to Saturne ; the 9, 30 to Jupiter; the 10, to Mars; the 11, to the Sonne; the 12, to Venus; and now is my sonne gon to reste as for that Setterday. Thanne sheweth the verrey degree of the sonne the houre of Mercurie 35 entring under my west orisonte at eve; and next him succedeth the Mone ; and so forth by ordre, planete after planete, in houre after houre, al the night longe til the

- Now ryseth the sonne that 40 sonne aryse. Sonday by the morwe; and the nadir of the sonne, up on the west orizonte, sheweth me the entring of the houre of the forseide sonne. And in this maner
- 45 succedeth planete under planete, fro Saturne un-to the Mone, and fro the Mone up a-gayn to Saturne, houre after hours generaly. And thus knowe I this conclusioun. And for the more declara-
- 50 cioun, lo here the figure.

13. To knowe the altitude of the sonne in middes of the day, that is cleped the altitude meridian.

Set the degree of the sonne up-on the lyne meridional, and rikene how many degrees of almikanteras ben by-twixe thyn est orisonte and the degree of the 5 sonne. And tak ther thyn altitude meridian : this is to sevne, the hevest of the sonne as for that day. So maystow knowe in the same lyne, the hevest cours that any sterre fix climbeth by to night; this is to seyn, that whan any sterre fix is passed the lyne meridional, than by-ginneth it to descende, and so doth the sonne. And for the more

14. To knowe the degree of the sonne by thy riet, for a maner curiositee, &c.

Sek bysily with thy rewle the heyest of the sonne in midde of the day; turne thanne thyn Astrolabie, and with a prikke of ink marke the nombre of that 5 same altitude in the lyne meridional. Turne thanne thy riet aboute til thou fynde a degree of thy zodiak acording with the prikke, this is to seyn, sittinge on the prikke; and in sooth, thou shalt

- 10 finde but two degrees in al the zodiak of that condicioun; and yit thilke two degrees ben in diverse signes; than maistow lightly by the sesoun of the yere knowe the signe in whiche that is the
- 15 sonne. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

15. To know which day is lyk to which day as of lengthe, &c.

Loke whiche degrees ben y-lyke fer fro the hevedes of Cancer and Capricorn; and lok, whan the sonne is in any of thilke degrees, than ben the dayes y-lyke of lengthe. This is to sevn, that as long 5 is that day in that monthe, as was swich a day in swich a month ; ther varieth but lite. Also, yif thou take two dayes naturaly in the veer y-lyke fer fro eyther pointe of the equinoxial in the opposit 10 parties, than as long is the day artificial of that on day as is the night of that othere, and the contrarie. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

16. This chapitre is a maner declaracioun to conclusiouns that folwen.

Understond wel that thy zodiak is departid in two halfe cercles, as fro the heved of Capricorne un-to the heved of Cancer: and agaynward fro the heved of Cancer un-to the heved of Capricorne, 5 The heved of Capricorne is the lowest point, wher-as the sonne goth in winter ; and the heved of Cancer is the hevest point, in whiche the sonne goth in somer. And ther-for understond wel, that any 10 two degrees that ben y-lyke fer fro any of thise two hevedes, truste wel that thilke two degrees ben of y-lyke declinacioun, be it southward or northward ; and the dayes of hem ben y-lyke of 15 lengthe, and the nightes also; and the shadwes y-lyke, and the altitudes y-lyke at midday for evere. And for more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

17. To knowe the verrey degree of any maner sterre straunge or unstraunge after his longitude, though he be indeterminat in thyn Astrolabie; sothly to the trowthe, thus he shal be knowe.

Tak the altitude of this sterre whan he is on the est side of the lyne meridional, as ney as thou mayst gesse; and tak an assendent a-non right by som maner sterre fix which that thou knowest; and 5 for-get nat the altitude of the firste sterre. ne thyn assendent. And whan that this is don, espye diligently whan this same firste sterre passeth any-thing the south to westward, and hath him a-non right in the same noumbre of altitude on the west side of this lyne meridional as he was caught on the est side; and tak a newe assendent a-non right by som 15 maner sterre fixe which that thou knowest: and for-get nat this secounde assendent. And whan that this is don, rikne thanne how manye degrees ben by-twixe the firste assendent and the 20 seconde assendent, and rikne wel the middel degree by-twene bothe assendentes. and set thilke middel degree up-on thin est orisonte; and waite thanne what degree that sit up-on the lyne meri-25 dional, and tak ther the verrey degree of the ecliptik in which the sterre stondeth for the tyme. For in the ecliptik is the longitude of a celestial body rekened, evene fro the heved of Aries 30 un-to the ende of Pisces. And his latitude is rikned after the quantitee of his declinacion, north or south to-warde the poles of this world; as thus. Yif it be of the sonne or of any fix sterre, rekene 35 his latitude or his declinacioun fro the

- so his hardened of his declination into the equinoxial cercle; and yif it be of a planete, rekne than the quantitee of his latitude fro the ecliptik lyne. Al-be-it so that fro the equinoxial may the decli-
- to nacion or the latitude of any body celestial be rikned, after the site north or south, and after the quantitee of his declinacion. And right so may the latitude or the declinacion of any body celestial,
- 45 save only of the sonne, after his site north or south, and after the quantitee of his declination, be rekned fro the ecliptik lyne; fro which lyne alle planetes som tyme declynen north or south, save 50 only the for-seide sonne. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.
  - 18. To knowe the degrees of the longitudes of fixe sterres after that they ben determinat in thin Astrolabie, yif so be that they ben trevely set.

Set the centre of the sterre up-on the lyne meridional, and tak keep of thy zodiak, and loke what degree of any signe that sit on the same lyne meridional at that same tyme, and tak the degree in 5 which the storre standeth; and with that same degree comth that same sterre un-to that same lyne fro the orisonte. And for more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

19. To know with which degree of the zodiak any sterre fire in thyn Astrolabie aryseth up-on the est orisonte, al-thogh his dwelling be in a-nother signe.

Set the centre of the sterre up-on the est orisonte, and loke what degree of any signe that sit up-on the same orisonte at that same tyme. And understond wel. that with that same degree aryseth that 5 same sterre; and this merveyllous arysing with a strange degree in another signe is by-cause that the latitude of the sterre fix is either north or south fro the equi-But sothly, the latitudes of 10 noxial. planetes ben comunly rekned fro the ecliptik, bi-cause that non of hem declineth but fewe degrees out fro the brede of the zodiak. And tak good keep of this chapitre of arysing of the celestial 15 bodies; for truste wel, that neyther mone ne sterre as in oure embelif orisonte aryseth with that same degree of his longitude, save in oo cas; and that is, whan they have no latitude fro the 20 ecliptik lyne. But natheles, som tyme is everiche of thise planetes under the same lyne. And for more declaracioun, lo here thy figure,

20. To knowe the declinacioun of any degree in the zodiak fro the equinoxial cercle, &c.

Set the degree of any signe up-on the lyne meridional, and rikne his altitude in almikanteras fro the est orizonte up to the same degree set in the forseide lyne, and set ther a prikke. Turne up  $\varsigma$ thanne thy riet, and set the heved of Aries or Libra in the same meridional lyne, and set ther a-nother prikke. And whan that this is don, considere the altitudes of hem bothe; for sothly the ro difference of thike altitudes is the declinacion of thike degree fro the equinxial. And yif so be that thik degree be northward fro the equinoxial, than is his 15 declinacion north; yif it be southward, than is it south. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

21. To knowe for what latitude in any regioun the almikanteras of any table ben compouned.

Rikne how manye degrees of almikanteras, in the meridional lyne, be fro the cercle equinoxial un-to the senith; or elles fro the pool artik un-to the north

- 5 orisonte; and for so gret a latitude or for so smal a latitude is the table compouned. And for more declaracion, lo here thy figure.
  - 22. To knowe in special the latitude of oure countray, I mene after the latitude of Oxenford, and the heighte of oure pol.

Understond wel, that as fer is the heved of Aries or Libra in the equinoxial from oure orisonte as is the senith from the pole artik; and as hey is the pol artik fro the

- 5 orisonte, as the equinoxial is fer fro the senith. I prove it thus by the latitude of Oxenford. Understond wel, that the heyghte of oure pool artik fro oure north orisonte is 51 degrees and 50 minutes;
- 10 than is the senith from oure pool artik 38 degrees and 10 minutes; than is the equinoxial from oure senith 51 degrees and 50 minutes; than is oure south orisonte from oure equinoxial 38 degrees
- 15 and 10 minutes. Understond well this rekning. Also for-get nat that the senith is 90 degrees of heyghte fro the orisonte, and oure equinoxial is 90 degrees from oure pool artik. Also this shorte rewle
- 20 is soth, that the latitude of any place in a regionn is the distance fro the senith unto the equinoxial. And for more declaracionn, lo here thy figure.
  - 23. To prove evidently the latitude of any place in a regioun, by the preve of the heyghte of the pol artik in that same place.

In some winters night, whan the firmament is clere and thikke-sterred, waite a tyme til that any sterre fix sit lyne-right perpendicular over the pol artik, and 5 clepe that sterre A. And wayte a-nother sterre that sit lyne-right under A, and under the pol, and clepe that sterre F. And understond wel, that F is nat considered but only to declare that A sit evene overe the pool. Tak thanne a-non in right the altitude of A from the orisonte, and forget it nat. Lat A and F go farwel til agayns the dawening a gret whyle; and come thanne agayn, and abyd til that A is evene under the pol and under 1 F; for sothly, than wol F sitte over the pool, and A wol sitte under the pool. Tak than eft-sones the altitude of A from the orisonte, and note as wel his secounde altitude as his firste altitude ; and whan 2 that this is don, rikne how manye degrees that the firste altitude of A excedeth his seconde altitude, and tak half thilke porcioun that is exceded, and adde it to his seconde altitude; and tak ther the 2 elevacioun of thy pool, and eke the latitude of thy regioun. For thise two ben of a nombre; this is to seyn, as many degrees as thy pool is elevat, so michel is the latitude of the regioun. 3 Ensample as thus: par aventure, the altitude of A in the evening is 56 degrees of heyghte. Than wol his seconde altitude or the dawing be 48; that is 8 lasse than 56, that was his firste altitude at even. 3; Take thanne the half of 8, and adde it to 48, that was his seconde altitude, and than hastow 52. Now hastow the heyghte of thy pol, and the latitude of the regioun. But understond wel, that to prove this 44 conclusioun and many a-nother fair conclusioun, thou most have a plomet hanging on a lyne heyer than thin heved on a perche; and thilke lyne mot hange evene perpendiculer by-twixe the 4. pool and thyn eye; and thanne shaltow seen yif A sitte evene over the pool and over F at evene; and also yif F sitte evene over the pool and over A or day. And for more declaracion, lo here thy 50 figure.

Another conclusioun to prove the heyghte of the pool artik fro the orisonte.

Tak any sterre fixe that nevere dissendeth under the orisonte in thilke regionn, and considere his heyest altitude and his lowest altitude fro the orisonte; 5 and make a nombre of bothe thise altitudes. Tak thanne and abate half that nombre, and tak ther the elevacioun of the pol artik in that same regioun. And for more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

25. A-nother conclusioun to prove the latitude of the region, &c.

Understond wel that the latitude of any place in a regioun is verrevly the space by-twixe the senith of hem that dwellen there and the equinoxial cerkle, 5 north or southe, taking the mesure in the meridional lyne, as sheweth in the almikanteras of thyn Astrolabie. And thilke space is as moche as the pool artik is hey in the same place fro the orisonte. 10 And than is the depressioun of the pol antartik, that is to seyn, than is the pol antartik by-nethe the orisonte, the same quantite of space, neither more ne lasse. Thanne, yif thow desire to knowe this 15 latitude of the regioun, tak the altitude of the sonne in the middel of the day, whan the sonne is in the hevedes of Aries or of Libra; (for thanne moeveth the sonne in the lyne equinoxial); and

a) abate the nombre of that same sonnes altitude out of 90, and thanne is the remenaunt of the noumbre that leveth the latitude of the regioun. As thus: I suppose that the sonne is thilke day

25 at noon 38 degrees and 10 minutes of heyghte. Abate thanne thise degrees and minutes out of 90; so leveth there 51 degrees and 50 minutes, the latitude. I sey nat this but for ensample; for wel

30 I wot the latitude of Oxenforde is certein minutes lasse, as I mighte prove. Now yif so be that thee semeth to long a taryinge, to abyde til that the sonne be in the hevedes of Aries or of Libra, thanne

35 waite whan the sonne is in any other degree of the zodiak, and considere the degree of his declinacion fro the equinoxial lyne; and yif it so be that the sonnes declinacion be northward fro the a equinoxial, abate thanne fro the sonnes altitude at noon the nombre of his declinacion, and thanne hastow the heighte of the hevedes of Aries and Libra. As thus: my sonne is, par aventure, in the firste degree of Leoun, +58 degrees and 45 10 minutes of heighte at noon and his declinacion is almost + 20 degrees northward fro the equinoxial: abate thanne thilke +20 degrees of declinacion out of the altitude at noon, than leveth thee so 38 degrees and odde minutes ; lo ther the heved of Aries or Libra, and thyn equinoxial in that regioun. Also yif so be that the sonnes declinacioun be southward fro the equinoxial, adde thanne 55 thilke declinacion to the altitude of the sonne at noon ; and tak ther the hevedes of Aries and Libra, and thyn equinoxial, Abate thanne the heyghte of the equinoxial out of 90 degrees, and thanne 60 leveth there the distans of the pole, 51 degrees and 50 minutes, of that regioun fro the equinoxial. Or elles, yif thee lest, take the heyest altitude fro the equinoxial of any sterre fix that thou 65 knowest, and tak his nethere elongacioun lengthing fro the same equinoxial lyne, and wirke in the maner forseid. And for more declaracion, lo here thy figure.

26. Declaracioun of the assensioun of signes, &c.

The excellence of the spere solide, amonges other noble conclusiouns, sheweth manifeste the diverse assenciouns of signes in diverse places, as wel in the righte cercle as in the embelif cercle. 5 Thise auctours wryten that thilke signe is cleped of right ascensioun, with which more part of the cercle equinoxial and lasse part of the zodiak ascendeth; and thilke signe assendeth embelif, with 10 whiche lasse part of the equinoxial and more part of the zodiak assendeth. Ferther-over they seyn, that in thilko cuntrey where as the senith of hem that dwellen there is in the equinoxial lyne, 15 and her orisonte passing by the poles of this worlde, thilke folke han this right cercle and the right orisonte ; and everemo the arch of the day and the arch of the night is ther y-like long, and the sonne 20 twyes every yeer passinge thorow the senith of her heved; and two someres and two winteres in a yeer han this forseide poeple: And the almikanteras 25 in her Astrolabies ben streighte as a lyne, so as sheweth in this figure. The utilite to knowe the assenciouns in the righte cercle is this: truste wel that by mediacioun of thilke assenciouns thise astro-30 logiens, by hir tables and hir instrumentz, knowen verreyly the assencioun of every degree and minut in al the zodiak, as shal be shewed. And nota that this

- forseid righte orisonte, that is cleped 35 orison rectum, divydeth the equinoxial in-to right angles; and the embelif orisonte, wher-as the pol is enhaused up-on
- * the orisonte, overkerveth the equinoxial in embelif angles, as sheweth in the figure.
- 40 And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.
  - This is the conclusioun to knowe the assenciouns of signes in the right cercle, that is, circulus directus, &c.

Set the heved of what signe thee liste to knowe his assending in the right cercle up-on the lyne meridional; and waite wher thyn almury toucheth the bordure,

- 5 and set ther a prikke. Turne thanne thy riet westward til that the ende of the forseide signe sitte up-on the meridional lyne; and eft-sones waite wher thyn almury toucheth the bordure, and set
- to ther another prikke. Rikne thanne the nombre of degrees in the bordure bytwixe bothe prikkes, and tak the assencioun of the signe in the right cercle. And thus maystow wyrke with every
- 15 porcioun of thy zodiak, &c. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.
  - To know the assencions of signes in the embelif cercle in every regioun, I mene, in circulo obliquo.

Set the hered of the signe which as thee list to knowe his ascensioun up-on the est orisonte, and waite wher thyn almury toucheth the bordure, and set 5 ther a prikke. Turne thanne thy riet upward til that the ende of the same signe sitte up-on the est orisonte, and waite eft-sones wher as thyn almury toucheth the bordure, and set ther a-nother prikke. Rikne thanne the noumbre of degrees in the bordure bytwixe bothe prikkes, and tak ther the assencioun of the signe in the embelif cercle. And understond wel, that alle signes in thy zodiak, fro the heved of : Aries unto the ende of Virgo, ben cleped signes of the north fro the equinoxial ; and these signes arysen by-twixe the verrey est and the verrey north in oure orisonte generaly for evere. And alle : signes fro the heved of Libra un-to the ende of Pisces ben cleped signes of the south fro the equinoxial ; and thise signes arysen ever-mo by-twixe the verrey est and the verrey south in oure orisonte. Also every signe by-twixe the heved of Capricorne un-to the ende of Geminis aryseth on oure orisonte in lasse than two houres equales; and thise same signes. fro the heved of Capricorne un-to the ende of Geminis, ben cleped 'tortuos signes ' or ' croked signes,' for they arisen embelif on oure orisonte ; and thise crokede signes ben obedient to the signes that ben of right assencioun. The signes 3 of right assencioun ben fro the heved of Cancer to the +ende of Sagittare; and thise signes arysen more upright, and they ben called, eke sovereyn signes; and everich of hem aryseth in more space 4 than in two houres. Of which signes, Gemini obeyeth to Cancer ; and Taurus to Leo; Aries to Virgo; Pisces to Libra; Aquarius to Scorpioun ; and Capricorne to Sagittare. And thus ever-mo two 4 signes, that ben y-lyke fer fro the heved of Capricorne, obeyen everich of hem til other. And for more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

29. To knowe justly the foure quarters of the world, as est, west, north, and sowth.

Take the altitude of thy sonne whan thee list, and note wel the quarter of the world in which the sonne is for the tyme by the azimutz. Turne thanne thyn Astrolabie, and set the degree of the 5 sonne in the almikanteras of his altitude, on thilke side that the sonne stant, as is the manere in taking of houres; and ley thy label on the degree of the sonne, and o rikene how many degrees of the bordure ben by-twixe the lyne meridional and the point of thy label; and note wel that noumbre. Turne thanne a-gayn thyn Astrolabie, and set the point of thy gret 15 rewle, ther thou takest thyne altitudes, up-on as many degrees in his bordure fro his meridional as was the point of thy label fro the lyne meridional on the wombe-syde. Tak thanne thyn Astroto labie with bothe handes sadly and slely, and lat the sonne shyne thorow bothe holes of thy rewle; and sleyly, in thilke shyninge, lat thyn Astrolabie couch adoun evene up-on a smothe grond, and thanne 25 wol the verrey lyne meridional of thyn Astrolabie lye evene south, and the est lyne wole lye est, and the west lyne west, and north lyne north, so that thou werke softly and avisely in the couching ; and 30 thus hastow the 4 quarters of the firmament. And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.

30. To knowe the altitude of planetes fro the wey of the sonne, whether so they be north or south fro the forseide wey.

Lok whan that a planete is in the lyne meridional, vif that hir altitude be of the same heyghte that is the degree of the sonne for that day, and than is the planete 5 in the verrey wey of the sonne, and hath no latitude. And yif the altitude of the planete be heyere than the degree of the sonne, than is the planete north fro the wey of the sonne swich a quantite of latitude as sheweth by thyn almikanteras. And vif the altitude of the planete be lasse than the degree of the sonne, thanne is the planete south fro the wey of the sonne swich a quantite of latitude as sheweth 15 by thyn almikanteras. This is to seyn, fro the wey wher-as the sonne wente thilke day, but nat from the wey of the sonne in every place of the zodiak. And for the more declaracioun, lo here the 20 figure, 31. To know the senith of the arysing of the sonne, this is to seyn, the partie of the orisonte in which that the sonne aryseth.

Thou most first considere that the sonne aryseth nat al-wey verrey est, but some tyme by north the est, and som tyme by southe the est. Sothly, the sonne arvseth never-mo verrev est in oure ori- 5 sonte, but he be in the heved of Aries or Libra. Now is thyp orisonte departed in 24 parties by thy azimutz, in significacion of 24 partiez of the world; al-be-it so that shipmen rikne thilke partiez in 32, 10 Thanne is ther no more but waite in which azimut that thy sonne entreth at his arysing; and take ther the senith of the arvsing of the sonne. The manere of the devisioun of thyn Astrolabie is this; 15 I mene, as in this cas. First is it devided in 4 plages principals with the lyne that goth from est to west, and than with a-nother lyne that goth fro south to north. Than is it devided in smale partiez of 20 azimutz, as est, and est by southe, whereas is the firste azimut above the est lyne ; and so forth, fro partie to partie, til that thou come agavn un-to the est lyne. Thus maistow understond also the senith of 25 any sterre, in which partie he ryseth, &c. And for the more declaracion, lo here the figure.

32. To knowe in which partie of the firmament is the conjunction.

Considere the tyme of the conjunction by thy kalender, as thus; lok how many houres thilke conjunction is fro the midday of the day precedent, as sheweth by the canoun of thy kalender. Rikne 5 thanne thilke nombre of houres in the bordure of thyn Astrolabie, as thou art wont to do in knowing of the houres of the day or of the night; and ley thy label over the degree of the sonne ; and thanne 10 wol the point of thy label sitte up-on the hour of the conjunction. Loke thanne in which azimut the degree of thy sonne sitteth, and in that partie of the firmament is the conjunctioun. And for the 15 more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

To knowe the senith of the altitude of the sonne, &c.

This is no more to seen but any tyme of the day tak the altitude of the sonne; and by the azimut in which he stondeth, maystou seen in which partie of the fir-5 mament he is. And in the same wyse maystou seen, by the night, of any sterre, whether the sterre sitte est or west or north, or any partie by-twene, after the name of the azimut in which is the sterre.

- 10 And for the more declaracioun, lo here the figure.
  - 34. To know sothly the degree of the longitude of the mone, or of any planete that hath no latitude for the tyme fro the ecliptic lyne.

Tak the altitude of the mone, and rikne thyn altitude up among thyne almikanteras on which syde that the mone stande; and set there a prikke. Tak

- 5 thenne anon-right, up-on the mones syde, the altitude of any sterre fix which that thou knowest, and set his centre up-on his altitude among thyn almikanteras ther the sterre is founde. Waite thanne
- 10 which degree of the zodiak toucheth the prikke of the altitude of the mone, and tak ther the degree in which the mone standeth. This conclusion is verrey sooth, yif the sterres in thyn Astrolabie
- 15 stonden after the trowthe; of comune, tretis of Astrolabie ne make non excepcioun whether the mone have latitude, or non; ne on whether syde of the mone the altitude of the storre fix be taken. And
- 20 nota, that yif the mone shewe himself by light of day, than maystow wyrke this same conclusioun by the sonne, as well as by the fix sterre. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.
  - 35. This is the workinge of the conclusion, to knowe yif that any planete be directe or retrograde.

Tak the altitude of any sterre that is eleped a planete, and note it wel. And tak eek anon the altitude of any sterre fix that thou knowest, and note it wel 5 also. Come thanne agayn the thridde or the ferthe night next folwing ; for thanne shaltow aperceyve wel the moeving of a planete, whether so he moeve forthward or bakward. Awaite wel thanne whan that thy sterre fix is in the same altitude I that she was whan thou toke hir firste altitude ; and tak than eftsones the altitude of the forseide planete, and note it wel. For trust wel, yif so be that the planete be on the right syde of the meri- 1 dional lyne, so that his seconde altitude be lasse than his firste altitude was, thanne is the planete directe. And yif he be on the west syde in that condicion, thanne is he retrograd. And yif so be 2 that this planete be up-on the est syde whan his altitude is taken, so that his secounde altitude be more than his firste altitude, thanne is he retrograde, and yif he be on the west syde, than is he directe. 2 But the contrarie of thise parties is of the cours of the mone; for sothly, the mone moeyeth the contrarie from othere planetes as in hir episicle, but in non other manere. And for the more declaracioun, 3 lo here thy figure.

The conclusiouns of equaciouns of houses, after the Astrolabie, &c.

Set the by-ginning of the degree that assendeth up-on the ende of the 8 houre inequal; thanne wol the by-ginning of the 2 hous sitte up-on the lyne of midnight. Remeve thanne the degree that 5 assendeth, and set him on the ende of the 10 hour inequal; and thanne wol the byginning of the 3 hous sitte up-on the midnight lyne. Bring up agayn the same degree that assendeth first, and set him I up-on the orisonte; and thanne wol the beginning of the 4 hous sitte up-on the lyne of midnight. Tak thanne the nadir of the degree that first assendeth, and set him on the ende of the 2 houre inequal; and thanne wol the beginning of the 5 hous sitte up-on the lyne of midnight; set thanne the nadir of the assendent on the ende of the 4 houre, than wol the beginning of the 6 house sitte on the midnight lyne. The beginning of the 7 hous is nadir of the assendent, and the beginning of the 8 hous is nadir of the 2; and the beginning of the 9 hous is 25 nadir of the 3; and the beginning of the 10 hous is the nadir of the 4; and the beginning of the 11 hous is nadir of the 5; and the beginning of the 12 hous is nadir of the 6. And for the more declaracion, 30 lo here the figure.

37. A-nother manere of equaciouns of houses by the Astrolabie.

Tak thyn assendent, and thanne hastow thy 4 angles; for wel thou wost that the opposit of thyn assendent, that is to seyn, thy beginning of the 7 hous, sit up-on the 5 west orizonte ; and the beginning of the 10 hous sit up-on the lyne meridional; and his opposit up-on the lyne of midnight. Thanne ley thy label over the degree that assendeth, and rekne fro the to point of thy label alle the degrees in the bordure, til thou come to the meridional lyne; and departe alle thilke degrees in 3 evene parties, and take the evene equacion of 3.; for ley thy label over 15 everich of 3 parties, and than maistow see by thy label in which degree of the zodiak [is] the beginning of everich of thise same houses fro the assendent : that is to seyn, the beginning of the 20 12 house next above thyn assendent; and thanne the beginning of the 11 house; and thanne the 10, up-on the meridional lvne : as I first seide. The same wyse wirke thou fro the assendent down to the 25 lyne of midnight; and thanne thus hastow other 3 houses, that is to seyn, the beginning of the 2, and the 3, and the 4 houses; thanne is the nadir of thise 3 houses the beginning of the 3 houses to that folwen. And for the more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.

To finde the lyne merydional to dwelle fix in any certein place.

Tak a rond plate of metal; for warping, the brodere the bettre; and make therupon a just compas, a lite with in the bordure; and ley this ronde plate up-on 5 an evene groud, or on an evene ston, or on an evene stok fix in the grounde; and lev it even by a level. And in centre of the compas stike an evene pin or a wyr upright; the smallere the betere. Set thy pin by a plom-rewle evene upright ; 10 and let this pin he no lengere than a quarter of the diametre of thy compas. fro the centre. And waite bisily aboute 10 or 11 of the clokke: and whan the sonne shyneth, whan the shadwe of the 15 pin entreth any-thing with-in the cercle of thy plate an heer-mele, and mark ther a prikke with inke. Abyde thanne stille waiting on the sonne after 1 of the clokke. til that the schadwe of the wyr or of the 20 pin passe ony-thing out of the cercle of the compas, be it never so lyte ; and set ther a-nother prikke of inke. Take than a compas, and mesure evene the middel by-twixe bothe prikkes; and set ther a 25 prikke. Take thanne a rewle, and draw a stryke, evene a-lyne fro the pin un-to the middel prikke; and tak ther thy lyne meridional for evere-mo, as in that same place. And yif thow drawe a cros-lyne 30 over-thwart the compas, justly over the lyne meridional, than hastow est and west and south ; and, par consequence, than the nadir of the south lyne is the north lyne. And for more declaracioun, 35 lo here thy figure.

39. Descripcion of the meridional lyne, of longitudes, and latitudes of citees and townes from on to a-nother of clymatz.

This lyne meridional is but a maner descripcion of lyne imagined, that passeth upon the poles of this world and by the senith of oure heved. And hit is y-cleped the lyne meridional; for in what place 5 that any maner man is at any tyme of the yeer, whan that the sonne by moeving of the firmament cometh to his verrey meridian place, than is hit verrey midday, that we clepen oure noon, as to thilke 10 man; and therfore is it cleped the lyne of midday. And nota, for evermo, of 2 citees or of 2 tounes, of whiche that o toun aprocheth more toward the est than doth that other toun, truste wel that 15 thilke tounes han diverse meridians, Nota also, that the arch of the equinoxial, that is conteyned or bounded by-twixe the 2 meridians, is cleped the longitude of

- 20 the toun. And yif so be that two tounes have y-lyke meridian, or oon meridian, than is the distance of hem bothe y-lyke fer fro the est; and the contrarie. And in this manere they chaunge nat her
- 25 moridian, but sothly they chaungen her almikanteras; for the enhausing of the pool and the distance of the sonne. The longitude of a clymat is a lyne imagined fro est to west, y-lyke distant by-twene
- 30 them alle. The latitude of a clymat is a lyne imagined from north to south the space of the erthe, fro the byginning of the firste clymat unto the verrey ende of the same climat, evene directe agayns
- 25 the pole artik. Thus seyn some auctours; and somme of hem seyn that yif men clepen the latitude, thay mene the arch meridian that is contiened or intercept by-twixe the senith and the equinoxial.
- 40 Thanne sey they that the distance fro the equinoxial unto the ende of a clymat, evene agayns the pole artyk, is the latitude of a clymat for sothe. And for more declaracioun, lo here thy figure.
  - 40. To knowe with which degree of the zodiak that any planete assendith on the orisonte, whether so that his latitude be north or south.

Knowe by thyn almenak the degree of the eeliptik of any signe in which that the planete is rekned for to be, and that is cleped the degree of his latitude; and 5 knowe also the degree of his latitude fro the eeliptik, north or south. And by thise samples folwinge in special, maystow wirke † for sothe in every signe of the zodiak. The degree of the longitude.

- 10 par aventure, of Venus or of another planete, was 6 of Capricorne, and the latitude of him was northward 2 degrees fro the celiptik lyne. I tok a subtil compas, and cleped that oon poynt of my
- 15 compas A, and that other poynt F. Than tok I the point of A, and set it in the ecliptik lyne evene in my zodiak, in the degree of the longitude of Venus, that is to seyn, in the 6 degree of Capricorne; and thanne sette I the point of F upward : in the same signe, bycause that the latitude was north, up-on the latitude of Venus, that is to seyn, in the 6 degree fro the heved of Capricorne ; and thus have I 2 degrees by-twixe my two prikkes, Than leide I down softely my compas. and sette the degree of the longitude up-on the orisonte; tho tok I and wexede my label in maner of a peyre tables to resceyve distinctly the prikkes of my compas. Tho tok I this forseide label, and leide it fix over the degree of my longitude; tho tok I up my compas, and sette the point of A in the wex on my label, as evene as I coude gesse over the ecliptik lyne, in the ende of the longitude; and sette the point of F endlang in my label up-on the space of the latitude, inwarde and over the zodiak, that is to seyn, north-ward fro the ecliptik. Than leide I down my compas, and lokede wel in the wey upon the prikke of A and of F; tho turned I my riet til that the prikke of F sat up-on the orisonte; than saw I wel that the body of Venus, in hir . latitude of 2 degrees septentrionalis, assended, in the ende of the 6 degree. in the heved of Capricorne. And nota. that in the same maner maistow wirke with any latitude septentrional in alle signes; but sothly the latitude meridional of a planete in Capricorne may not be take, by-cause of the litel space by-twixe the ecliptik and the bordure of the Astrolabie; but sothly, in alle other signes it ; may.

Also the degree, par aventure, of Jupiter or of a-nother planete, was in the first degree of Pisces in longitude, and his latitude was 3 degrees meridional; tho tok I the point of A, and sette it in the firste degree of Pisces on the ecliptik, and thanne sette I the point of F donnward in the same signe, by-cause that the latitude was south 3 degrees, that is to seyn, fro the heved of Pisces; and thus have I 3 degrees by-twise bothe prikkes; thanne sette I the degree of the longitude up-on the orisonte. Tho tok I my label, and leide it fix upon the degree of the longitude: tho sette I the point of A on my label, evene over the ecliptik lyne, in the ende evene of the degree of the longitude, and sette the point of F endlang in 5 my label the space tof 3 degrees of the latitude fro the zodiak, this is to seyn, southward fro the ecliptik, toward the bordure; and turned my riet til the prikke of F sat up-on the orisonte; thanne saw I wel that the body of Jupiter, in his latitude of 3 degrees meridional, ascended with 14 degrees of Pisces in horoscopo. And in this maner maistow wirke with any latitude meri-35 dional, as I first seide, save in Capricorne. And yif thou wolt pleye this craft with the arysing of the mone, loke thou rekne wel hir cours houre by houre; for she ne dwelleth nat in a degree of hir longitude but a litel whyle, as thou wel knowest; 90 but natheles, yif thou rekne hir verreye moeving by thy tables houre after houre, †thou shalt do wel y-now.

SUPPLEMENTARY PROPOSITIONS.

41. Umbra Recta.

Yif it so be that thou wilt werke by umbra recta, and thou may come to the bas of the toure, in this maner thou schalt werke. Tak the altitude of the 5 tour by bothe holes, so that thy rewle ligge even in a poynt. Ensample as thus : I see him thorw at the poynt of 4 ; than mete I the space be-tween me and the tour, and I finde it 20 feet; than 10 be-holde I how 4 is to 12, right so is the space betwixe thee and the tour to the altitude of the tour. For 4 is the thridde part of 12, so is the space be-tween thee and the tour the thridde part of the 15 altitude of the tour ; than thryes 20 feet is the heighte of the tour, with adding of thyn owne persone to thyn eye. And this rewle is so general in umbra recta. fro the poynt of oon to 12. And yif thy to rewle falle upon 5, than is 5 12-partyes of the heyght the space be-tween thee and the toure; with adding of thyn owne heyght.

42. Umbra Versa.

Another maner of werkinge, by umbra versa. Yif so be that thou may nat come to the bas of the tour, I see him thorw the nombre of I; I sette ther a prikke at my fote; than go I neer to the tour, and 5 I see him thorw at the poynt of 2, and there I sette a-nother prikke; and I beholde how 1 hath him to 12, and ther finde I that it hath him twelfe sythes; than beholde I how 2 hath him to 12, and 10 thou shalt finde it sexe sythes; than thou shalt finde that as 12 above 6 is the numbre of 6, right so is the space between thy two prikkes the space of 6 tymes thyn altitude. And note, that at 15 the ferste altitude of 1, thou settest a prikke; and afterward, whan thou seest him at 2, ther thou settest an-other prikke; than thou findest between two prikkys 60 feet; than thou shalt finde 20 that 10 is the 6-party of 60. And then is 10 feet the altitude of the tour. For other poyntis, vif it fille in umbra versa, as thus: I sette caas it fill upon +2, and at the secunde upon +3; than schalt thou 25 finde that 2 is 6 partyes of 12; and 3 is 4 partyes of 12; than passeth 6 4, by nombre of 2; so is the space between two prikkes twyes the heyghte of the tour. And vif the differens were threes, than 30 shulde it be three tymes; and thus mayst thou werke fro 2 to 12; and yif it be 4, 4 tymes; or 5, 5 tymes; et sic de ceteris.

43. Umbra Recta.

An-other maner of wyrking be umbra recta. Yif it so be that thou mays nat come to the bass of the tour, in this maner thou schalt werke. Sette thy rewle 5 upon 1 till thou see the altitude, and sette at thy foot a prikke. Than sette thy rewle upon 2, and beholde what is the differense be-tween 1 and 2, and thou shalt finde that it is 1. Than mete the 10 space be-tween two prikkes, and that is the 12 partie of the altitude of the tour. And yif ther were 2, it were the 6 partye; et sic deimorps. And note, yif it were 5, it were

- 15 the 5 party of 12; and 7, 7 party of 12; and note, at the altitude of thy conclusioun, adde the stature of thyn heyghte to thyn eye.

44. Another maner conclusion, to knowe the mene mole and the argumentis of any planete. To know the mene mote and the argumentis of every planete fro yere to yere, from day to day, from houre to houre, and from smale fractionis infinite.

In this maner shalt thou worche: consider thy rote first, the whiche is made the beginning of the tables fro the yere of oure lord 1397, and entere hit in-to

- 5 thy slate for the laste meridie of December; and than consider the yere of oure lord, what is the date, and be-hold whether thy date be more or lasse than the yere 1397. And yf hit so be that hit
- 10 be more, loke how many yeres hit passeth, and with so many entere into thy tables in the first lyne theras is writen anni collect it expansi. And loke where the same planet is writen in the hede of thy
- 15 table, and than loke what thou findest in directe of the same yere of oure lord whiche is passid, be hit 8, or 9, or 10, or what nombre that evere it be, til the tyme that thou come to 20, or 40, or 60. And that thou findest in directe +wryte : in thy slate under thy rote, and adde hit to-geder, and that is thy mene mote, for the laste meridian of the December, for the same yere whiche that thou hast purposed. And if hit so be that hit passe : 20, consider wel that fro 1 to 20 ben anni expansi, and fro 20 to 3000 ben anni collecti; and if thy nombere passe 20, than take that thou findest in directe of 20, and if hit be more, as 6 or 18, than take that : thou findest in directe there-of, that is to sayen, signes, degrees, minutes, and secoundes, and adde to-gedere un-to thy rote; and thus to make rotes. And note, that if hit so be that the yere of oure lord be +lasse than the rote, which is the yere of oure lord 1397, than shalt thou wryte in the same wyse furst thy rote in thy slate, and after entere in-to thy table in the same yere that be lasse, as I taught 4 be-fore; and than consider how many signes, degrees, minutes, and secoundes thyn entringe conteyneth. And so be that ther be 2 entrees, than adde hem togeder, and after with-drawe hem from 4 the rote, the yere of oure lord 1307; and the residue that leveth is thy mene mote fro the laste meridie of December, the whiche thou hast purposed ; and if hit so be that thou wolt weten thy mene mote 5 for any day, or for any fraccioun of day. in this maner thou shalt worche. Make thy rote fro the laste day of Decembere in the maner as I have taught, and afterward behold how many monethes, dayes, 5 and houres ben passid from the meridie of Decembere, and with that entere with the laste moneth that is ful passed, and take that thou findest in directe of him, and wryte hit in thy slate; and entere 6 with as mony dayes as be more, and wryte that thou findest in directe of the same planete that thou worchest for; and in the same wyse in the table of houres, for houres that ben passed, and adde alle 6 these to thy rote; and the residue is the mene mote for the same day and the same houre.

45. Another manere to knowe the mene mote.

Whan thou wolt make the mene mote of eny planete to be by Arsechieles tables, take thy rote, the whiche is for the yere of oure lord 1307; and if so be that thy 5 yere be passid the date, wryte that date, and than wryte the nombere of the yeres. Than with-drawe the yeres out of the yeres that ben passed that rote. Ensampul as thus: the yere of oure lord o 1400, +I wolde witen, precise, my rote; than wroot I furst 1400. And under that nombere I wrote a 1397; than withdrow I the laste nombere out of that, and than fond I the residue was 3 yere; I wiste 5 that 3 yere was passed fro the rote, the whiche was writen in my tables. Than after-ward soghte I in my tables the annis collectis et expansis, and amonge myn expanse yeres fond I 3 yeer. Than tok o I alle the signes, degrees, and minutes, that I fond directe under the same planete that I wroghte for, and wroot so many signes, degrees, and minutes in my slate, and after-ward added I to signes. 5 degrees, minutes, and secoundes, the whiche I fond in my rote the yere of oure lord 1397; and kepte the residue; and than had I the mene mote for the laste day of Decembere. And if thou woldest o wete the mene mote of any planete in March, Aprile, or May, other in any other tyme or moneth of the yere, loke how many monethes and dayes ben passed from the laste day of Decembere, the vere 5 of oure lord 1400; and so with monethes and daves entere in-to thy table ther thou findest thy mene mote y-writen in monethes and daves, and take alle the signes, degrees, minutes, and secoundes o that thou findest v-write in directe of thy monethes, and adde to signes, degrees, minutes, and secoundes that thou findest with thy rote the yere of oure lord 1400. and the residue that leveth is the mene 5 mote for that same day. And note, if hit so be that thou woldest wete the mene mote in any yere that is lasse than thy rote, with-drawe the nombere of so many yeres as hit is lasse than the yere of oure lord a 1307, and kepe the residue ; and so 50 many yeres, monethes, and dayes entere in-to thy tabelis of thy mene mote. And take alle the signes, degrees, and minutes, and secoundes, that thou findest in directe of alle the yeres, monethes, and 55 dayes, and wryte hem in thy slate; and above thilke nombere wryte the signes, degrees, minutes, and secoundes, the whiche thou findest with thy rote the yere of oure lord a 1307; and with-drawe 60 alle the nethere signes and degrees fro the signes and degrees, minutes, and secoundes of other signes with thy rote; and thy residue that leveth is thy mene mote for that day. 65

46. For to knowe at what houre of the day, or of the night, shal be flode or ebbe*.

First wite thou certeinly, how that haven stondeth, that thou list to werke for; that is to say in whiche place of the firmament the mone being, maketh fulle see. Than awayte thou redily in what 5 degree of the zodiak that the mone at that tyme is inne. Bringe furth than the labelle, and set the point therof in that same cost that the mone maketh flode, and set thou there the degree of 10 the mone according with the egge of the label. Than afterward awayte where is than the degree of the sonne, at that tyme. Remeve thou than the label fro the mone, and bringe and sette it justly 15 upon the degree of the sonne. And the point of the label shal than declare to thee, at what houre of the day or of the night shal be flode. And there also maist thou wite by the same point of the 20 label, whether it be, at that same tyme, flode or ebbe, or half flode, or quarter flode, or ebbe, or half or quarter ebbe ; or ellis at what houre it was last, or shall be next by night or by day, thou than 25 shalt esely knowe, &c. Furthermore, if it so be that thou happe to worke for this matere aboute the tyme of the conjunccioun, bringe furthe the degree of the fro the sonne, so remeve thon the labelle than fro the degree of the mone, and bringe it to the degree of the sonne. And worke thou than as thou dide before, &c. Or elles knowe thou what houre it is that thou art inne, by thyn instrument. Than bringe thou furth fro thennes the labelle and ley it upon the degree of the mone, and therby may thou wite also whan it was flode, or whan it wol be next, be it night or day; &c.

- And weddede the quene Ipolita, (10) And broghte hir hoom with him in his contree 869

With muchel glorie and greet solempnitee, And eek hir yonge suster Emelye.

And thus with victorie and with melodye

Lete I this noble duk to Athenes ryde,

And al his hoost, in armes, him bisyde. And certes, if it nere to long to here, 875 I wolde han told yow fully the manere, How wonnen was the regne of Femenye By Theseus, and by his chivalrye; (20) And of the grete bataille for the nones Bitwixen Athenës and Amazones; 880 And how asseged was Ipolita, The faire hardy quene of Scithia : And of the feste that was at hir weddinge. And of the tempest at hir hoom-cominge: But al that thing I moot as now forbere. I have, God woot, a large feeld to ere. 886 And wayke been the oxen in my plough. The remenant of the tale is long y-nough.

T. 1053-113c.

- And in the gardin, at the sonne up-riste, She walketh up and doun, and as hir liste
- She gadereth floures, party whyte and rede,
- To make a sotil gerland for hir hede,
- And as an aungel hevenly she song. 1055 The grete tour, that was so thikke and strong.
- Which of the castel was the chief dongeoun, (199)
- (Ther-as the knightes weren in prisoun, Of whiche I tolde yow, and tellen shal)
- Was evene joynant to the gardin-wal, 1060 Ther as this Emelye hadde hir pleyinge.
- Bright was the sonne, and cleer that morweninge,
- And Palamon, this woful prisoner,
- As was his wone, by leve of his gayler,
- Was risen, and romed in a chambre on heigh.
- In which he al the noble citee seigh,
- And eek the gardin, ful of braunches grene, (209)
- Ther-as this fresshe Emelye the shene
- Was in hir walk, and romed up and doun. 1069
- This sorweful prisoner, this Palamoun, Goth in the chambre, roming to and fro, And to him-self compleyning of his wo; That he was born, ful ofte he sevde. 'alas!'
- And so bifel, by aventure or cas,
- That thurgh a window, thikke of many a barre 1075
- Of yren greet, and square as any sparre, He caste his eye upon Emelya,
- And ther-with-al he bleynte, and cryde 'a !' (220)
- As though he stongen were un-to the herte. 1070
- And with that cry Arcite anon up-sterte, And seyde, 'Cosin myn, what eyleth thee,
- That art so pale and deedly on to see?
- Why crydestow? who hath thee doon offence?
- For Goddes love, tak al in pacience 1084 Our prisoun, for it may non other be; Fortune hath yeven us this adversitee. Som wikke aspect or disposicioun
- Of Saturne, by sum constellacioun, (230)

- Hath yeven us this, al-though we hadde it sworn;
- So stood the heven whan that we were born; 1000
- We moste endure it: this is the short and pleyn.'
  - This Palamon answerde, and seyde ageyn,
- ' Cosyn, for sothe, of this opinioun
- Thou hast a veyn imaginacioun.
- This prison caused me nat for to crye. 1095
- But I was hurt right now thurgh-out myn yë
- In-to myn herte, that wol my bane be. The fairnesse of that lady that I see (240) Yond in the gardin romen to and fro, Is cause of al my crying and my wo. 1100 I noot wher she be womman or goddesse; But Venus is it, soothly, as I gesse.' And ther-with-al on kneës doun he fil, And seyde: ' Venus, if it be thy wil
- Yow in this gardin thus to transfigure 1105 Bifore me, sorweful wrecche creature,
- Out of this prisoun help that we may scapen.
- And if so be my destinee be shapen (250) By eterne word to dyen in prisonn, Of our linage have som compassionn, 1110 That is so lowe y-broght by tirannye.' And with that word Aroite gan espye
- Wher-as this lady romed to and fro.
- And with that sighte hir beautee hurte him so.
- That, if that Palamon was wounded sore, Arcite is hurt as muche as he, or more. And with a sigh he seyde pitously : (250)
- 'The fresshe beautee sleeth me sodeynly
- Of hir that rometh in the yonder place ;
- And, but I have hir mercy and hir grace,
- That I may seen hir atte leeste weye, 1121
- I nam but deed; ther nis namore to seye.' This Palamon, whan he tho wordes herde.
- Dispitously he loked, and answerde :
- 'Whether seistow this in ernest or in pley?'
  - 'Nay,' quod Arcite, 'in ernest, by my fey!
- God help me so, me list ful yvele pleye.' This Palamon gan knitte his browes tweye: (270)

For to be fals, ne for to be traytour 1130 To me, that am thy cosin and thy brother Y-sworn ful depe, and ech of us til other, That never, for to dyen in the peyne, Til that the deeth departe shal us tweyne, Neither of us in love to hindren other, 1135 Ne in non other cas, my leve brother ; But that thou sholdest trewely forthren me In every cas, and I shal forthren thee. (280) This was thyn ooth, and myn also, certeyn; I wot right wel, thou darst it nat with seyn. Thus artow of my counseil, out of doute. And now thou woldest falsly been aboute To love my lady, whom I love and serve, And ever shal, til that myn herte sterve. Now certes, fals Arcite, thou shalt nat so. I loved hir first, and tolde thee my wo 1146 As to my counseil, and my brother sworn To forthre me, as I have told biforn. (200) For which thou art y-bounden as a knight To helpen me, if it lay in thy might, 1150 Or elles artow fals, I dar wel seyn.'

This Arcitë ful proudly spak ageyn, 'Thou shalt,' quod he, 'be rather fals than I;

But thou art fals, I telle thee utterly; For par amour I loved hir firster thow. 1155 What wiltow seyn ? thou wistest nat yet now

Whether she be a womman or goddesse! Thyn is affeccioun of holinesse, (300 And myn is love, as to a creature; For which I tolde thee myn aventure : 160 As to my cosin, and my brother sworn. I pose, that thou lovedest hir biforn; Wostow nat wel the olde clerkes sawe, That "who shal yeave a lover any lawe?" Love is a gretter lawe, by my pan, 1165 Than may be yeve to any erthly man. And therefore positif lawe and swich decree

Is broke al-day for love, in ech degree. (310) A man moot nedes love, mangree his heed. He may nat fleen it, thogh he sholde be deed, 1170

Al be she mayde, or widwe, or elles wyf. And eek it is nat lykly, al thy lyf.

To stonden in hir grace; namore shal I; For wel thou woost thy-selven, verraily, That thou and I be dampned to prisoun Perpetuelly; us gayneth no raunsoun.

We stryve as dide the houndes for the boon, 1177

- They foughte al day, and yet hir part was noon; (320)
- Ther cam a kyte, whyl that they were wrothe,
- And bar awey the boon bitwixe hem bothe, 1180
- And therfore, at the kinges court, my brother,

Ech man for him-self, ther is non other.

Love if thee list; for I love and ay shal;

And soothly, leve brother, this is al.

Here in this prisoun mote we endure, 1185 And everich of us take his aventure.'

Greet was the stryf and long bitwixe hem tweye,

If that I hadde leyser for to seye; (330) But to th'effect. It happed on a day, (To telle it yow as shortly as I may) 1100

A worthy duk that highte Perotheus,

That felawe was un-to duk Theseus

Sin thilke day that they were children lyte,

Was come to Athenes, his felawe to visyte, And for to pleye, as he was wont to do, For in this world he loved no man so: 1196 And he loved him as tendrely agevn.

So wel they loved, as olde bokes seyn, (340) That whan that oon was deed, sothly to telle.

His felawe wente and soghte him doun in helle; 1200

But of that story list me nat to wryte.

Duk Perotheus loved wel Arcite,

And hadde him knowe at Thebes yeer by yere;

And fynally, at requeste and preyere 1204 Of Perotheus, with-oute any raunsoun, Duk Theseus him leet out of prisoun,

Duk Theseus nim leet out of prisoun,

Freely to goon, wher that him liste over-al, In swich a gyse, as I you tellen shal. (350)

This was the forward, pleynly for t'endyte,

Bitwixen Thesens and him Arcite : 1210 That if so were, that Arcite were y-founde Ever in his lyf, by day or night or stounde In any contree of this Theseus,

And he were caught, it was acorded thus,

That with a swerd he sholde lese his heed; 1215

Ther nas non other remedye ne reed, But taketh his leve, and homward he him spedde; (359)

Let him be war, his nekke lyth to wedde ! How greet a sorwe suffreth now Arcite !

The deeth he feleth thurgh his herte smyte; 1220

He wepeth, wayleth, cryeth pitously; To sleen him.self he wayteth prively. He seyde, 'Allas that day that I was born! Now is my prison worse than biforn; Now is me shape eternally to dwelle 1225 Noght in purgatorie, but in helle. Allas! that ever knew I Perotheus! For elles hadde I dwelled with Thesens Y-fetered in his prisoun ever-mo. (371) Than hadde I been in blisse, and nat in wo, Only the sighte of hir, whom that I serve, Though that I never hir grace may deserve, Wolde han suffised right y-nough for me, O dere cosin Palamon,' quod he,

'Thyn is the victorie of this aventure, 1235 Ful blisfully in prison maistow dure; In prison? certes nay, but in paradys! Wel hath fortune y-turned thee the dys, That has the sighte of hir, and I th'absence. (381) 1239 For possible is, sin thou hast hir presence, And art a knight, a worthy and an able. That by som cas, sin fortune is chaungeable,

Thou mayst to thy desyr som-tyme atteyne. But I, that am exyled, and bareyne

Of alle grace, and in so greet despeir, 1245 That ther nis erthe, water, fyr, ne eir, Ne creature, that of hem maked is,

That may me helpe or doon confort in this: Wel oughte I sterve in wanhope and distresse; (301)

Farwel my lyf, my lust, and my gladnesse ! Allas, why pleynen folk so in commune

Of purveyaunce of God, or of fortune, That yeveth hem ful ofte in many a gyse Wel bettre than they can hem-self devyse? Som man desyreth for to han richesse, 1255 That cause is of his mordre or greet siknesse.

And som man wolde out of his prison fayn, That in his hous is of his meynee slayn. Infinite harmes been in this matere; (401) We witen nat what thing we preyen here. We faren as he that dronke is as a mous: 1260

A dronke man wot wel he hath an hous, Buthe noot which the righte wey is thider; And to a dronke man the wey is slider. And certes, in this world so faren we; We seken faste after felicitee, 1266 But we goon wrong ful often, trewely. Thus may we sey en alle, and namely I, (410) That wende and hadde a greet opinioun, That, if I mighte escapen from prisoun, Than hadde I been in joye and perfit hele, 1271 Ther now I am exyled fro my wele. Sin that I may nat seen yow, Emelye, I nam but deed ; ther nis no remedye.'

Up-on that other syde Palamon, 1275 Whan that he wiste Arcite was agon, Swich sorwe he maketh, that the grete tour

Resouncth of his youling and clamour. The pure fettres on his shines grete (421) Weren of his bittre salte teres wete. 1250 'Allas !' quod he, 'Arcita, cosin myn, Of al our stryf, God woot, the fruytis thyn. Thow walkest now in Thebes at thy large, And of my wo thou yevest litel charge. Thou mayst, sin thou hast wisdom and manhede, 1285 Assemblen alle the folk of our kinrede, And make a werre so sharp on this citee, That by som aventure, or som tretee, Thou mayst have hir to lady and to wyf, For whom that 1 †mot nedes less my lyf. For, as by wey of possibilitee, (433) ragi Sith thou art at thy large, of prison free, And art a lord, greet is thyn avanutage, More than is myn, that sterve here in a cage. 120

For I mot wepe and wayle, whyl I live, With al the wo that prison may me yive, And eek with peyne that love me yiveth also, (439)

That doubleth al my torment and my wo.' Ther-with the fyr of jelousye up-sterte

With-inne his brest, and hente him by the herte 1300

So woodly, that he lyk was to biholde The box-tree, or the asshen dede and colde.

- Tho seyde he; 'O cruel goddes, that governe
- This world with binding of your word eterne,

And wryten in the table of athamaunt 1305 Your parlement, and your eterne graunt, What is mankinde more un-to yow holde Than is the sheep, that rouketh in the folde? (450)

For slayn is man right as another beste, And dwelleth eek in prison and areste, And hath siknesse, and greet adversitee, And ofte tymes giltelees, pardee! 1312

What governance is in this prescience, That giltelees tormenteth innocence? And yet encreseth this al my penaunce, That man is bounden to his observaunce, For Goddes sake, to letten of his wille, Ther as a beest may al his lust fulfille. (460) And whan a beest is deed, he hath no peyne; But man after his deeth moot wepe and

pleyne, 1320

Though in this world he have care and wo: With-outen doute it may stonden so.

Th' answere of this I lete to divynis,

But wel I woot, that in this world gret pyne is.

Allas! I see a serpent or a theef, 1325 That many a trewe man hath doon mescheef,

Goon at his large, and wher him list may turne. (469)

But I mot been in prison thurgh Saturne, And eek thurgh Juno, jalous and eek wood, That hath destroyed wel ny al the blood Of Thebes, with his waste walles wyde. And Venus sleeth me on that other syde For jelousye, and fere of him Areite.'

Now wol I stinte of Palamon a lyte, And lete him in his prison stille dwelle, And of Arcita forth I wol yow telle, 1336

The somer passeth, and the nightes longe (479)

Encresen double wyse the peynes stronge Bothe of the lovere and the prisoner. I noot which hath the worfullere mester. For shortly for to seyn, this Palamoun Perpetuelly is dampned to prisoun, 1342 In cheynes and in fettres to ben deed ; And Arcite is exyled upon his heed For ever-mo as out of that contree, 1345 Ne never-mo he shal his lady see.

Yow loveres axe I now this questionn, Who hath the worse, Arcite or Palamoun? That oon may seen his lady day by day, But in prison he moot dwelle alway. 1350 That other wher him list may ryde or go, But seen his lady shal he never-mo. (494) Now demeth as yow liste, ye that can, For I wol telle forth as I bigan.

Explicit prima Pars.

Sequitur pars secunda.

Whan that Arcite to Thebes comen was, Ful ofte a day he swelte and seyde 'allas,' For seen his lady shal he never-mo. 1357 And shortly to concluden al his wo, (500) So muche sorwe had never creature

That is, or shal, whyl that the world may dure. 1360

His sleep, his mete, his drink is him biraft, That lene he wex, and drye as is a shaft. His eyen holwe, and grisly to biholde;

His hewe falwe, and pale as asshen colde,

And solitarie he was, and ever allone, 1365 And wailling al the night, making his mone.

And if he herde song or instrument,

Then wolde he wepe, he mighte nat be stent; (510)

So feble eek were his spirits, and so lowe, 1369

And chaunged so, that no man coude knowe His speche nor his vois, though men it herde.

And in his gere, for al the world he ferde Nat oonly lyk the loveres maladye Of Hereos, but rather lyk manye Engendred of humour malencolyk, 1375 Biforen, in his celle fantastyk,

And shortly, turned was al up-so-down Bothe habit and eek disposicioun (520) Of him, this woful lovere dawn Arcite.

What sholds I al-day of his wo endyte? Whan he endured hadde a yeer or two This cruel torment, and this peyne and wo, At Thebes, in his contree, as I seyde, Up-on a night, in sleep as he him leyde, Him thoughte how that the winged god

Mercurie 1385 Biforn him stood, and bad him to be murye,

T. 1305-1388.

His slepy yerde in hond he bar uprighte;
An hat he werede up-on his heres brighte.
Arrayed was this god (as he took keep)
As he was whan that Argus took his sleep;
And seyde him thus : 'T' Athénës shaltou
wende; (533) 1391
Ther is thee shapen of thy wo an ende.'
And with that word Arcite wook and sterte.	1
'Now trewely, how sore that me smerte,'	1
Quod he, 't'Athénës right now wol I fare;
Ne for the drede of deeth shal I nat spare
To see my lady, that I love and serve;
In hir presence I recche nat to sterve.' (540)
And with that word he caughte a greet mirour, 1399	1
And saugh that chaunged was al his colour,
And saugh his visage al in another kinde.
And right anoon it ran him in his minde,
That, sith his face was so disfigured
Of maladye, the which he hadde endured,
He mighte wel, if that he bar him lowe,
Live in Athénes ever-more unknowe, 1406
And seen his lady wel ny day by day.
And right anon he chaunged his array,

And al allone, save oonly a squyer, 1410 That knew his privetee and al his cas, Which was disgysed povrely, as he was, T'Athénës is he goon the nexte way. And to the court he wente up-on a day, And at the gate he profreth his servyse, To drugge and drawe, what so men wol devyse, 1416 And shortly of this matere for to seyn, He fil in office with a chamberleyn, (560)

And cladde him as a povre laborer, (551)

The which that dwelling was with Emelye; For he was wys, and coude soon aspys 1420 Of every servaunt, which that serveth here.

Wel could he hewen wode, and water bere, For he was yong and mighty for the nones, And ther-to he was strong and big of bones To doon that any wight can him devyse. A yeer or two he was in this servyse, Page of the chambreof Emelyethe brights; And 'Philostrate ' he seide that he highte. But half so wel biloved a man as he (571) Ne was ther never in court, of his degree; He was so gentil of condicioun, 1431 That thurghout al the court was his renoun. They seyden, that it were a charitee That Theseus wolde enhauncen his degree, And putten him in worshipful servyse, Ther as he mighte his vertu excercyse. And thus, with-inne a whyle, his name is spronge 1437

Bothe of his dedes, and his goode tonge, That Theseus hath taken him so neer (581) That of his chambre he made him asquyer, And yaf him gold to mayntene his degree ; And eek men broghte him out of his contree

From yeer to yeer, ful prively, his rente; But honestly and slyly he it spente,

That no man wondred how that he it hadde. 1445

And three yeer in this wyse his lyf he ladde,

And bar him so in pees and eek in werre, Ther nas no man that Theseus hath derre. And in this blisse lete I now Arcite, (591) And speke I wol of Palamon a lyte. 1450

In derknesse and horrible and strong prisoun

This seven yeer hath seten Palamonn, Forpyned, what for wo and for distresse Who feleth double scor and hevinesse But Palamon ? that love destreyneth so, That wood out of his wit he gooth for wo; And eek therto he is a prisoner 1457 Perpetuelly, noght oonly for a yeer. (600) Who could ryme in English proprely His martirdom ? for sothe, it am nat I; Therefore I passe as lightly as I may.

It fel that in the seventhe yeer, in May, The thridde night, (as olde bokes seyn, That al this storie tellen more pleyn,) Were it by aventure or destinee, 1465 (As, whan a thing is shapen, it shal bo,) That, sone after the midnight, Palamoun, By helping of a freend, brak his prisoun, And fleeth the citee, faste as he may go; For he had yive his gayler drinke so 1470 Of a clarree, maad of a certeyn wyrn, (513) With nercotikes and opie of Thebes fyn, That al that night, thogh that men wolde him shake,

The gayler sleep, he mighte nat awake; And thus he floeth as faste as ever he may. 1475

The night was short, and faste by the day,

That nedes-cost he moste him-selven hyde, And til a grove, faste ther besyde, (620) With dredful foot than stalketh Palamoun.

- For shortly, this was his opinioun, 1480
- That in that grove he wolde him hyde al day.
- And in the night than wolde he take his way

To Thebes-ward, his freendes for to preye On Theseus to helpe him to werreye;

On Theseus to herpe him to werreye;

And shortly, outher he wolde lese his lyf, Or winnen Emelye un-to his wyf; 1486 This is th'effect and his entente pleyn.

Now wol I torne un-to Arcite ageyn,(630) That litel wiste how ny that was his care,

Til that fortune had broght him in the snare. 1490

The bisy larke, messager of day, Saluëth in hir song the morwe gray; And fyry Phebus ryseth up so brighte, That al the orient laugheth of the lighte. And with his stremes dryeth in the greves The silver dropes, hanging on the leves. And Arcite, that is in the court royal With Theseus, his squyer principal, (640) Is risen, and loketh on the myrie day. And, for to doon his observaunce to May, Remembring on the poynt of his desyr, He on a courser, sterting as the fyr, 1502 Is riden in-to the feeldes, him to pleye, Out of the court, were it a myle or tweye ; And to the grove, of which that I yow tolde, 1505

By aventure, his wey he gan to holde, To maken him a gerland of the greves, Were it of wodebinde or hawethorn-leves, And loude he song ageyn the sonne shene : ' May, with alle thy floures and thy grene, Wel-come be thou, faire fresshe May, 1511 I hope that I som grene gete may.' (654) And from his courser, with a lusty herte, In-to the grove fal hastily he stere, And in a path he rometh up and doun, Ther-as, by aventure, this Palamoun 1516 Was in a bush, that no man mighte him see,

For sore afered of his deeth was he. (660) No-thing ne knew he that it was Arcite : God wot he wolde have trowed it ful lyte. But sooth is seyd, gon sithen many yeres, That 'feeld hath eyen, and the wode hath eres.' 1522

It is ful fair a man to bere him evene, For al-day meteth men at unset stevene. Ful litel woot Arcite of his felawe, 1525 That was so ny to herknen al his sawe, For in the bush he sitteth now ful stille.

Whan that Arcite had romed al his fille, And songen al the roundel lustily, (671) In-to a studie he fil sodeynly, 1530 As doon thise loveres in hir queynte geres, Now un the croppe, now down in the berees, Now up, now down, as boket in a welle. Right as the Friday, soothly for to telle, Now it shyneth, now it reyneth faste, 1535 Right so can gery Yenus overcaste The hertes of hir folk; right as hir day Is gerful, right so chaungeth she array. Selde is the Friday al the wyke -lyke.

Whan that Arcite had songe, he gan to syke. (682) 1540 And sette him down with-outen any more : 'Alas!' quod he, 'that day that I was bore! How longe, Juno, thurgh thy crueltee, Woltow werreyen Thebes the citee? Allas! y-broght is to confusioun 1545 The blood royal of Cadme and Amphioun ; Of Cadmus, which that was the firste man (680)That Thebes bulte, or first the toun bigan, And of the citee first was crouned king. Of his linage am I, and his of-spring 1550 By verray ligne, as of the stok royal : And now I am so caitif and so thral. That he, that is my mortal enemy, I serve him as his squyer povrely. 1554 And yet doth Juno me wel more shame, For I dar noght biknowe myn owne name : But ther-as I was wont to highte Arcite, Now highte I Philostrate, noght worth a myte. (700)Allas! thou felle Mars, allas! Juno, 1559 Thus hath your ire our kinrede al fordo, Save only me, and wrecched Palamoun, That Theseus martyreth in prisoun. And over al this, to sleen me utterly, Love hath his fyry dart so brenningly Y-stiked thurgh my trewe careful herte, That shapen was my deeth erst than my sherte. 1566

Ye sleen me with your eyen, Emelye; Ye been the cause wherfor that I dye. (710) Of al the remenant of myn other care Ne sette I nat the mountaunce of a tare, So that I coude don aught to your ple- sannee!'	And I wol love hir, maugre al thy might! But, for as muche thou art a worthy knight, And wilnest to darreyne hir by batayle, Have heer my trouthe, to-morve I wol nat fayle, for any other wight, That here I wol be founden as a knight, And bringen harneys right y-nough for thee; And chees the beste, and leve the worste for me. And mete and drinke this night wol I bringe for thee, and clothes for thy beddinge. (758) And, if so be that thou my lady winne, And alee me in this wode ther I am inne, Thou mayst wel have thy lady, as for me.' This Palamon answerde: 'I graunte it thee.' for me. O cupide, out of alle charites! O regne, that wolt no felawe have with thee! Fol sooth is seyd, that love ne lordshipe Wol noght, his thankes, have no felawe- shipe; for anon un-to the toun, (770) And on the morwe, er it were dayses light, Ful prively two harneys hath he dight, fogo Bothe suffissunt and mete to darreyne The bardialle in the feeld bitwix hem tweyne. And in the forwe, and place y-set, This Arcite and the Palamon the form, Wel noght have thy have and place y-set, This Arcite and the feeld bitwix hem tweyne. And on his hors, allone as he was born, He carieth al this Palamon be met. Tho changen gan the colour in hir face; Right as the hunter in the regne of Trace, This Arcite and this Palamon be met. Tho changen gan the colour in hir face; Right as the hunter in the regne of Trace, This Arcite and this Palamon be met. The changen gan the colour in hir face; Right as the hunter in the regne of Trace, This Arcite and this Palamon be met. The changen gan the colour in hir face; Right as the hunter in the regne of Trace, That hereth bothe bowes and the leves, And hereth bothe bowes and the leves, And thinketh, 'heer cometh my mortel enery.

T. 1647-1732.

For outher I mot sleen him at the gappe, Or he mot sleen me, if that me mishappe ' So ferden they, in chaunging of hir hewe, 1647 As fer as everich of hem other knewe. (790)

Ther nas no good day, ne no saluing ; But streight, with-outen word or rehersing, Everich of hem halp for to armen other, As freendly as he were his owne brother ; And after that, with sharpe speres stronge They foynen ech at other wonder longe. Thou mightest wene that this Palamoun In his fighting were a wood leoun, 1656 And as a cruel tygre was Arcite :

As wilde bores gonne they to smyte, (800) That frothen whyte as foom for ire wood.

Up to the ancle foghte they in hir blood. And in this wyse Ilete hem fighting dwelle; And forth I wol of Theseus yow telle.

The destinee, ministre general, That executeth in the world over-al

The purveyaunce, that God hath seyn biforn, 1665

So strong it is, that, though the world had sworn

The contrarie of a thing, by ye or nay, Yet somtyme it shal fallen on a day (810) That falleth nat eft with-inne a thousand yere.

For certainly, our appetytes here, 1670 Be it of werre, or pees, or hate, or love, Al is this reuled by the sighte above. This mene I now by mighty Theseus, That for to honten is so desirous,

And namely at the grete hert in May, 1675 That in his bed ther daweth him no day,

That he nis clad, and redy for to ryde With hunte and horn, and houndes him bisyde. (820) For in his hunting hath he swich delyt, That it is al his joye and appetyt 1680 To been him-self the grete hertes bane; For after Mars he serveth now Diane.

Cleer was the day, as I have told er this, And Theseus, with alle joye and blis, With his Joplita, the fayre quene, 1685 And Emelye, clothed al in grene, On hunting be they riden royally. And to the grove, that stood ful faste by,

- In which ther was an hert, as men him tolde, (831)
- Duk Theseus the streighte wey hath holde. 1690

And to the launde he rydeth him ful right,

For thider was the hert wont have his flight,

And over a brook, and so forth on his weye. This duk wol han a cours at him, or tweye,

- With houndes, swiche as that him list comaunde. 1695
  - And whan this duk was come un-to the launde,

Under the sonne he loketh, and anon He was war of Aroite and Palamon, (540) That fonghten breme, as it were bores two; The brighte swerdes wenten to and fro 1700 So hidously, that with the lesste strook It seemed as it wolde felle an ook;

But what they were, no-thing he ne woot. This duk his courser with his spores smoot,

And at a stert he was bitwix hem two, 1705 And pulled out a swerd and cryed, 'ho ! Namore, up peyne of lesing of your heed. By mighty Mars, he shal anon be deed, (850) That smyteth any strook, that I may seen! But telleth me what mister men ye been, That been so hardy for to fighten here 1711 With-outen juge or other officere,

As it were in a listes royally?'

This Palamon answerde hastily

And seyde : 'sire, what nedeth wordes mo? 1715

We have the deeth deserved bothe two. Two woful wrecches been we, two caytyves, (859)

That been encombred of our owne lyves; And as thou art a rightful lord and juge, Ne geve us neither mercy ne refuge, 1720 But slee me first, for seynte charitee;

But slee my felawe eek as wel as me.

Or slee him first; for, though thou knowe it lyte,

This is thy mortal fo, this is Arcite, 1724 That fro thy lond is banished on his heed, For which he hath deserved to be deed. For this is he that cam un-to thy gate, And seyde, that he bighte Philostrate. (870) Thus hath he japed thee ful many a yeer, And thou has maked him thy chief squyer:

T. 1733-1816.]

And this is he that loveth Emelye. 1731 For sith the day is come that I shal dye, I make pleynly my confessioun, That I am thilke world Palamoun, That I am thilke world Palamoun, I am thy mortal fo, and it am I 1736 That I wold by persent in hir sighte. (880) That I wol dye present in hir sighte. (880) Therfore I axe deeth and my juwyse; But slee my felawe in the same wyse, 1740 For bothe ham we deserved to be slayn.<sup>3</sup>

This worthy duk answerde anon agayn, And seyde, 'This is a short conclusion: Youre owne mouth, by your confessioun, Hath dampned you, and I wol it recorde, It nedeth noght to pyne yow with the

- corde. 1746 Ye shul be deed, by mighty Mars the
  - rede!' The quene anon, for verray wommanhede, (890)

Gan for to wepe, and so dide Emelye, And alle the ladies in the companye. 1750 Gret pitce was it, as it thoughte hem alle,

That ever swich a chaunce sholde falle; For gentil men they were, of greet estat, And no-thing but for love was this debat; And sawe hir blody woundes wyde and sore: 1755

And alle cryden, bothe lasse and more,

'Have mercy, lord, up-on us wommen alle !'

And on hir bare knees adoun they falle,

And wolde have kist his feet ther-as he stood, (901)

Til at the laste aslaked was his mood; 1760 For pitce renneth sone in gentil herte.

And though he first for ire quook and storte.

He hath considered shortly, in a clause,

- The trespas of hem bothe, and eek the cause:
- And al-though that his ire hir gilt accused, (907) 1765

Yet in his reson he hem bothe excused ; As thus: he thoghte wel, that every man Wol helpe him-self in love, if that he can, And eek delivere him-self out of prisoun ; And eek his herte had compassioun 1770 Of wommen, for they wepen ever in oon ; And in his gentil herte he thoghte anoon, And softe un-to himself he seyde : 'fy Up-on a lord that wol have no mercy,

- But been a leoun, bothe in word and dede, 1775
- To hem that been in repentaunce and drede

As wel as to a proud despitous man (919) That wol maynteyne that he first bigan ! That lord hath litel of discrecioun,

That in swich cas can no divisioun, 1780 But weyeth pryde and humblesse after oon.'

And shortly, whan his ire is thus agoon, He gan to loken up with eyen lighte,

And spak thise same wordes al on highte:---

'The god of love, a ! benedicite, 1785 How mighty and how greet a lord is he ! Ayeins his might ther gayneth none obstacles.

He may be cleped a god for his miracles; For he can maken at his owne gyse (931) Of everich herte, as that him list devyse. Lo heer, this Arcite and this Palamoun, That quitly weren out of my prisoun, 1702

And mighte han lived in Thebes royally, And witen I am hir mortal enemy,

And yet hath love, maugree hir eyen two, Y-broght hem hider bothe for to dye!

Now loketh, is nat that an heigh folye? Who may been a fool, but-if he love? (941) Bihold, for Goddessake that sit above, 1800 Se how they bledd! be they noght wel arrayed? Thus hath hir lord, the god of love, y-payed

Hir wages and hir fees for hir servyse ! And yet they wenen for to been ful wyse That serven love, for aught that may bifalle! 1805

But this is yet the beste game of alle, That she, for whom they han this jolitee, Can hem ther-for as muche thank as me; She woot namore of al this hote fare, (951) By God, than woot a cokkow or an hare ! But al mot been assayed, hoot and cold ; A man mot been a fool, or yong or old ; I woot it by my-self ful yore agoon : 1813 For in my tyme a servant was I on. And therfore, sin I knowe of loves peyne, And woot how sore it can a man distreyne, As he that hath ben caught ofte in his las, I yow forveve al hoolly this trespas, (960) At requeste of the quene that kneleth here, And eek of Emelye, my suster dere. 1820 And ye shul bothe anon un-to me swere, That never-mo ye shul my contree dere, Ne make werre up-on me night ne day,

But been my freendes in al that ye may; I yow foryeve this trespas every del.' 1825 And they him swore his axing fayre and wel.

And him of lordshipe and of mercy preyde, And he hem graunteth grace, and thus he seyde: (970)'To speke of royal linage and richesse,

Though that she were a quene or a princesse, 1830

Ech of yow bothe is worthy, doutelees, To wedden whan tyme is, but nathelees I speke as for my suster Emelye,

For whom ye have this stryf and jelousye; Ye woot your-self, she may not wedden two At ones, though ye fighten ever-mo : 1836 That oon of yow, al be him looth or leef. He moot go pypen in an ivy-leef: (080)This is to seyn, she may nat now han bothe.

Al be ye never so jelous, ne so wrothe. 1840 And for-thy I yow putte in this degree.

That ech of yow shal have his destinee

As him is shape; and herkneth in what wyse;

Lo, heer your ende of that I shal devyse.

My wil is this, for plat conclusioun, 1845 With-outen any replicacioun,

If that yow lyketh, tak it for the beste.

That everich of yow shal gon wher him leste (990)

Frely, with-outen raunson or daunger;

And this day fifty wykes, fer ne ner, 1850 Everich of yow shal bringe an hundred knightes. Armed for listes up at alle rightes,

Al redy to darreyne hir by bataille.

And this bihote I yow, with-outen faille,

Up-on my trouthe, and as I am a knight, That whether of yow bothe that hath might, (998) 1856

This is to seyn, that whether he or thou

May with his hundred, as I spak of now, Sleen his contrarie, or out of listes dryve. Him shal I yeve Emelya to wyve, 1860 To whom that fortune yeveth so fair a grace.

The listes shal I maken in this place, And God so wisly on my soule rewe, As I shal even juge been and trewe. 1864 Ye shul non other ende with me maken. That oon of yow ne shal be deed or taken. And if yow thinketh this is wel v-savd. Seyeth your avys, and holdeth yow apayd. This is your ende and your conclusioun.'

Who loketh lightly now but Palamoun? Who springeth up for joye but Arcite? 1871 Who couthe telle, or who couthe it endyte, The joye that is maked in the place

Whan Theseus hath doon so fair a grace? But doun on knees wente every maner wight. 1875

And thanked him with al her herte and might,

And namely the Thebans ofte sythe.

And thus with good hope and with herte blythe (1020)

They take hir leve, and hom-ward gonne they ryde

To Thebes, with his olde walles wyde. 1880 Explicit secunda pars.

Sequitur pars tercia.

I trowe men wolde deme it necligence, If I forvete to tellen the dispence

Of Theseus, that goth so bisily

To maken up the listes royally;

That swich a noble theatre as it was, 1885 I dar wel seyn that in this world ther nas,

The circuit a myle was aboute, (1029) Walled of stoon, and diched al with-oute. Round was the shap, in maner of compas, Ful of degrees, the heighte of sixty pas, 1890 That, whan a man was set on o degree, He letted nat his felawe for to see.

Est-ward ther stood a gate of marbel whyt.

West-ward, right swich another in the opposit. 1894

And shortly to concluden, swich a place Was noon in erthe, as in so litel space; For in the lond ther nas no crafty man. That geometrie or ars-metrik can, (1040)

Ne purtreyour, ne kerver of images, That Theseus ne yaf him mete and wages That thesere for to maken and devyse. 1901 And for to doon his ryte and saorifyse, He est-ward hath, up-on the gate above, In worship of Venns, goddesse of love, Don make an anter and an oratorie ; 1905 And west-ward, in the minde and in memorie Of Mars, he maked hath right swich another,	Ne yet the grete strengthe of Hercules— Th'enchauntements of Medea and Circes— Ne of Turnus, with the hardy fiers corage, The riche Cresus, caytif in servage. 1946 Thus may ye seen that wisdom ne richesse, Beautee ne sleighte, strengthe, ne hardi- nesse, (1090) Ne may with Venus holde champartye; For as hir list the world than may she gye. (1090)

An oratorie riche for to see,	Suffyceth heer ensamples oon or two,
In worship of Dyane of chastitee,	And though I coude rekne a thousand mo,
Hath Theseus don wroght in noble wyse.
	The statue of Venus, glorious for to see,
But yet hadde I foryeten to devyse	Was naked fleting in the large see, 1956
The noble kerving, and the portreitures,	And fro the navele doun all covered

Wroght on the wal, ful pitous to biholde,	A rose gerland, fresh and wel smellinge;
The broken slepes, and the sykes colde ;	Above hir heed hir dowves flikeringe.
The sacred teres, and the waymenting;	Biforn hir stood hir sone Cupido,
The fyry strokes of the desiring, 1922	Up-on his shuldres winges hadde he two;
That loves servaunts in this lyf enduren;	And blind he was, as it is ofte sene; 1965
The othes, that hir covenants assuren;	A bowe he bar and arwes brighte and
Plesaunce and hope, desyr, fool-hardi-	kene.
nesse, 1925	Why sholde I noght as wel cek telle
Beautee and youthe, bauderie, richesse,	yow al
Charmes and force, lesinges, flaterye,	The portreiture, that was up-on the wal
Dispense, bisynesse, and jelousye, (1070)	With-inne the temple of mighty Mars the
That wered of yelwe goldes a gerland,	rede? (1111)
And a cokkow sitting on hir hand; 1930	Al peynted was the wal, in lengthe and
Festes, instruments, caroles, dannces,	brede, 1970
Lust and array, and alle the circum-	Lyk to the estres of the grisly place, staunces	That highte the grete temple of Mars in shal,	In thilke colde frosty regionn,

By ordre weren peynted on the wal, 1934	Ther-as Mars hath his sovereyn mansioun.
And mo than I can make of mencioun.	First on the wal was peynted a foreste,
For soothly, al the mount of Citheroun,	In which ther dwelleth neither man ne
Ther Venus hath hir principal dwelling,	beste, 1976
Was shewed on the wal in portreying,	With knotty knarry bareyn treës olde
With al the gardin, and the lustinesse.	Of stubbes sharpe and hidous to biholde ;
Nat was foryeten the porter Ydelnesse,	In which ther ran a rumbel and a swough,
Ne Narcisus the faire of yore agon, 1941	As though a storm sholde bresten every
Ne yet the folye of king Salamon, (1084)	bough: 1980

- And downward from an hille, under a bente, (1123) 1981
- Ther stood the temple of Mars armipotente,
- Wroght al of burned steel, of which thentree

Was long and streit, and gastly for to see. And ther-out cam a rage and such a vese, That it made al the gates for to ress. 1986 The northern light in at the dores shoon, For windowe on the wal ne was ther noon, Thurgh which men mighten any light discerne, (1131)

The dores were alle of adamant eterne,

Y-clenched overthwart and endelong 1991 With iren tough; and, for to make it strong,

Every piler, the temple to sustene,

Was tonne-greet, of iren bright and shene. Ther saugh I first the derke imagining Of felonye, and al the compassing ; 1996 The cruel ire, reed as any glede ; (1139) The pykepurs, and eek the pale drede ;

The smyler with the knyf under the cloke; The shepne brenning with the blake smoke; 2000

The treson of the mordring in the bedde; The open werre, with woundes al bibledde;

Contek, with blody knyf and sharp manace;

Al ful of chirking was that sory place. The sleere of him-self yet saugh I ther, 2005 His horts-blood hath bathed al his heer; The nayl y-driven in the shode a-night; The colde deeth, with month gaping upright. (1150)

Amiddes of the temple sat meschaunce, With disconfort and sory contenaunce.

Yet saugh I woodnesse laughing in his rage; 2011

Armed compleint, out-hees, and fiers outrage.

- The careyne in the bush, with throte y-corve:
- A thousand slayn, and nat of qualm y-storve; 2014

The tiraunt, with the prey by force y-raft; The toun destroyed, ther was no-thing laft. Yet saugh I brent the shippes hoppesteres; The hunte strangled with the wilde beres: The sowe freten the child right in the cradel; (116) The cook y-scalded, for al his longe ladel, Noght was foryeten by th'infortune of Marte; 2001 The carter over-riden with his carte,

Under the wheel ful lowe he lay adoun. Ther were also, of Martes divisioun,

The barbour, and the bocher, and the smith 2025

That forgeth sharpe swerdes on his stith. And al above, depeynted in a tour, (1169) Saw I conquest sittinge in greet honour, With the sharpe swerde over his heed Hanginge by a sotil twynes threed. 2030 Depeynted was the slaughtre of Julius, Of grete Nero, and of Antonius : Al be that thilke tyme they were unborn, Yet was hir deeth depeynted ther-biforn, By manasinge of Mars, right by figure ; So was it shewed in that portreiture As is depeynted in the sterres above, (1179) Who shal be slayn or elles deed for love. Suffyceth oon ensample in stories olde, I may not rekne hem alle, thogh I wolde. The statue of Mars up-on a carte stood, Armed, and loked grim as he were wood; And over his heed ther shynen two figures Of sterres, that been cleped in scriptures, That oon Puella, that other Rubeus, 2045 This god of armes was arrayed thus :---A wolf ther stood biforn him at his feet With even rede, and of a man he eet; (1100) With sotil pencel was depeynt this storie, In redoutinge of Mars and of his glorie.

Now to the temple of Diane the chaste As shortly as I can I wol me haste, 2052 To telle yow al the descripcioun. Depeynted been the walles up and down Of hunting and of shamfast chastitee, 2055 Ther saugh I how woful Calistopee, (1198) Whan that Diane agreed was with here, Was turned from a womman til a bere, And after was she maad the lode-sterre; Thus was it peynt. I can say yow no ferre; 2000 Hir sone is eek a sterre, as men may see,

Ther saugh I Dane, y-turned til a tree, I mene nat the goddesse Diane,

But Penneus doughter, which that highte Dane. 2064

His longe heer was kembd bihinde his bak, As any ravenes fether it shoon for-blak :

A wrethe of gold arm-greet, of huge wighte, 2145

Upon his heed, set ful of stones brighte, Of fyne rubies and of dyamaunts.

Aboute his char ther wenten whyte alaunts, (1290)

Twenty and mo, as grete as any steer,

To hunten at the leoun or the deer, 2150 And folwed him, with mosel faste y-bounde, Colers of gold, and torets fyled rounde. An hundred lordes hadde he in his route Armed ful wel, with hertes sterne and stoute.

With Arcita, in stories as men finde, 2155 The grete Emetreus, the king of Inde, Up-on a stede bay, trapped in steel, Covered in cloth of gold diapred weel, (1300) Cam ryding lyk the god of armes, Mars. His cote-armure was of cloth of Tars, 2160 Couched with perles whyte and rounde and grete.

His sadel was of brend gold newe y-bete; A mantelet upon his shuldre hanginge Bret-ful of rubies rede, as fyr sparklinge. His crispe heer lyk ringes was y-ronne, 2165 And that was yelow, and glitered as the sonne.

Hisnose was heigh, his eyen bright citryn, His lippes rounde, his colour was sangwyn, A fewe fraknes in his face v-sprevnd, (1311) Betwixen yelow and somdel blak y-meynd. And as a leoun he his loking caste. 2171 Of fyve and twenty yeer his age I caste. His berd was wel bigonne for to springe ; His voys was as a trompe thunderinge. Up-on his heed he wered of laurer grene A gerland fresh and lusty for to sene. 2176 Up-on his hand he bar, for his deduyt, An egle tame, as env lilie whyt. (1320)An hundred lordes hadde he with him there.

Al armed, sanf hir heddes, in al hir gere, Ful richely in alle maner thinges. 2181 For trusteth wel, that dukes, erles, kinges, Were gadered in this noble companye, For love and for encrees of chivalrye. Aboute this king ther ran on every part Ful many a tame looun and lepart. 2186 And in this wyse thise lordes, alle and some,

Ben on the Sonday to the citee come (1330) Aboute pryme, and in the toun alight.

This Theseus, this duk, this worthy knight, 2100 Whan he had broght hem in-to his citee, And inned hem, everich in his degree, He festeth hem, and dooth so greet labour To esen hem, and dooth so greet labour That yet men weneth that no mannes wit Of noon estat ne coude amenden it. 2196 The minstraleye, the service at the feste, The grete yiftes to the moste and leste, The riche array of Theseus paleys, (1341) Ne who sat first ne last up-on the deys, Whatladies fairest been or best daunsinge, Or which of hem can dauncen best and

singe, 2202

Ne who most folingly speketh of love : What haukes sitten on the perche above, What houndes liggen on the floor adoun : Of al this make I now no mencioun ; 2206 But al th'effect, that thinketh me the beste :

Now comth the poynt, and herkneth if yow leste. (1350)

The Sonday night, er day bigan to springe,

When Palamon the larke herde singe, 2210 Although it nere nat day by houres two, Yet song the larke, and Palamon also.

With holy herte, and with an heigh corage He roos, to wenden on his pilgrimage

Un-to the blisful Citherea benigne, 2215 I mene Venus, honurable and digne.

And in hir houre he walketh forth a pas Un-to the listes, ther hir temple was, (1360) And doun he kneleth, and with humble chere 2210

And herte soor, he seyde as ye shul here.

Faireste of faire, o lady myn, Venus, Doughter to Jove and spouse of Vulcanus, Thou glader of the mount of Citheroun, For thilke love thou haddest to Adoun, Have pitee of my bittre teres smerte, 2223 And tak myn humble preverat thyn herte. Allas ! I ne have no langage to telle (1369) Th'effectes ne the torments of myn helle ; Myn herte may myne harmes nat biwreye; I am so confus, that I can noght seye. 230

T. 2233-2318.

But mercy, lady bright, that knowest weel My thought, and seest what harmes that I feel.

Considere al this, and rewe up-on my sore.

As wisly as I shal for evermore, 2234 Emforth my might, thy trewe servant be, And holden werre alwey with chastitee ; That make I myn avow, so ye me helpe. I kepe noght of armes for to yelpe, (1380) Ne I ne axe nat to-morwe to have victorie, Ne renoun in this cas, ne veyne glorie 2240 Of pris of armes blowen up and doun,

But I wolde have fully possessioun

Of Emelye, and dye in thy servyse ;

Find thou the maner how, and in what wyse.

I reache nat, but it may bettre be, 2245 To have victorie of hem, or they of me, So that I have my lady in myne armes. For though so be that Mars is god of armes, (1390) Your vertu is so greet in hevene above,

That, if yow list, I shall we have my love. Thy temple wol I worshipe evermo, 2251 And on thyn auter, wher I ryde or go, I wol don sacrifice, and fyres bete. And if ye wol nat so, my lady swete, 2254

Than preye I thee, to-morwe with a spere That Arcita me thurgh the herte bere.

Thanne rekke I noght, whan I have lost my lyf, (1399) Though that Arcita winne hir to his wyf. This is th'effect and ende of my prevere.

Yif me my love, thou blisful lady dere.' Whan th'orisoun was doon of Palamon,

His sacrifice he dide, and that anon 2262 Ful pitously, with alle circumstances, Al telle I noght as now his observances. But atte laste the statue of Venus shook, And made a signe, wher-by that he took That his preyere accepted was that day. For thogh the signe shewed a delay, (1410) Yet wiste he wel that graunted was his bone:

And with glad herte he wente him hoom ful sone. 2270

The thridde houre inequal that Palamon Bigan to Venus temple for to goon, Up roos the sonne, and up roos Emelye, And to the temple of Diane gan hye. Hir maydens, that she thider with hir ladde, 2275

Ful redily with hem the fyr they hadde, Th'encens, the clothes, and the remenant al

That to the sacrifyce longen shal; (1420) The hornes fulle of meth, as was the gyse; Ther lakked noght to doon hir sacrifyse. Smoking the temple, ful of clothes faire, This Emelye, with herte debonaire, 2282 Hir body wessh with water of a welle; But how she dide hir ryte I dar nat telle, But ib way thing in general; 2285

And yet it were a game to heren al;

To him that meneth wel, it were no charge:

But it is good a man ben at his large. (1430) Hir brighte heer was kempt, untressed al ; A coroune of a grene ook cerial 2300 Up-on hir heed was set ful fair and mete. Two fyres on the auter gan she bete,

And dide hir thinges, as men may biholde In Stace of Thebes, and thise bokes olde.

Whan kindled was the fyr, with pitous chere 2295

Un-to Diane she spak, as ye may here. 'O chaste goddesse of the wodes grene.

To whom bothe heven and erthe and see is sene, (1440)

Quene of the regne of Pluto derk and lowe,

Goddesse of maydens, that myn herte hast knowe 2300

Ful many a yeer, and woost what I desire,

As keep me fro thy vengeaunce and thyn ire,

That Attheon aboughte cruelly.

Chaste goddesse, wel wostow that I

Desire to been a mayden al my lyf, 2305 Ne never wol I be no love ne wyf.

I am, thou woost, yet of thy companye,

A mayde, and love hunting and venerye,

And for to walken in the wodes wilde,

And noght to been a wyf, and be with childe. (1452) 2310

Noght wol I knowe companye of man. Now help me, lady, sith ye may and can, For tho thre formes that thou hast in thee. And Palamon, that hath swich love to me, And eek Arcite, that loveth me so score, This grace I preve thee with-oute more. As sende love and pees bitwixe hem two; And fro me turne awey hir hertes so, (1460) That al hir hote love, and hir desyr,

And al hir bisy torment, and hir fyr 2320 Be queynt, or turned in another place; And if so be thou wolt not do me grace, Or if my destinee be shapen so,

That I shal nedes have oon of hem two, As sende me him that most desireth me. Bihold, goddesse of clene chastitee, 2326 The bittre teres that on my chekes falle. Sin thon are mayde, and keper of us alle, My maydenhede thou kepe and wel conserve, (1471)

And whyl I live a mayde, I wol thee serve,' 2330

The fyres brenne up-on the auter clere, Whyl Emelye was thus in hir preyere; But sodeinly she sangh a sighte queynte, For right anon oon of the fyres queynte, And quiked agayn, and after that anon That other fyr was queynt, and al agon; And as it queynte, it made a whistelinge, As doon thise wete brondes in hir brenninge, (1480)

And at the brondes ende out-ran anoon As it were blody dropes many oon; 2340 For which so sore agast was Emelye,

That she was wel ny mad, and gan to crye, For she ne wiste what it signifyed ;

But only for the fere thus hath she cryed, And weep, that it was pitce for to here,

And ther-with-al Diane gan appere, 2346 With bowe in hond, right as an hunteresse,

And seyde: 'Doghter, stint thyn hevinesse. (1400)

Among the goddes hys it is affermed, And by eterne word write and confermed, Thou shalt ben wedded un-to oon of tho That han for thee so muchel care and wo; But un-to which of hem I may nat telle. Farwel, for I ne may no lenger dwelle.

The fyres which that on myn auter brenne 2355 Shul thee declaren, er that thou go henne.

Thyn aventure of love, as in this cas.'

And with that word, the arwes in the cas Of the goddesse clateren faste and ringe, And forth she wente, and made a vanissh-

inge; (1502) 2360

For which this Emelye astoned was, And seyde, 'What amounteth this, allas ! I putte me in thy proteccioun,

Diane, and in thy disposicioun.'

And hoom she gooth anon the nexte weye. 2365

This is th'effect, ther is namore to seye.

The nexte houre of Mars folwinge this, Arcite un-to the temple walked is (1510) Of fierse Mars, to doon his sacrifyse, With alle the rytes of his payen wyse. 2370 With pitous herte and heigh devocioun, Right thus to Mars he seyde his orisoun :

O stronge god, that in the regnes colde Of Trace honoured art, and lord y-holde, And hast in every regne and every lond Of armes al the brydel in thyn hond, 2376 And hem fortunest as thee list devyse,

Accept of me my pitous sacrifyse. (1520) If so be that my youthe may deserve,

And that my might be worthy for to serve 2380

Thy godhede, that I may been oon of thyne,

Than preye I thee to rewe up-on my pyne. For thilke peyne, and thilke hote fyr,

In which thou whylom brendest for desyr, Whan that thou usedest the grete beautee Of fayre yonge fresshe Venus free, 2386 And haddest hir in armes at thy wille,

Al-though thee ones on a tyme misfille

Whan Vulcanus had caught thee in his las, (1531)

And fond thee ligging by his wyf, allas ! For thilke sorwe that was in thyn herte, Have routhe as wel up-on my peynes smerte. 2302

I am yong and unkonning, as thou wost, And, as I trowe, with love offended most,

That ever was any lyves creature; 2395 For she, that dooth me al this wo endure, Ne reccheth never wher I sinke or flete. And wel I woot, er she me mercy hete,

I moot with strengthe winne hir in the place; (1541)

And wel I woot, withouten help or grace Of thee, ne may my strengthe noght availle. 2401

Than help me, lord, to-morwe in my bataille,

That by his fortune hath hir faire ywonne.'

Anon ther is a noyse of peple bigonne 2660

For joye of this, so loude and heigh withalle,

It semed that the listes sholde falle.

What can now faire Venus doon above? What seith she now? what dooth this quene of love? But wepeth so, for wanting of hir wille,

Til that hir teres in the listes fille; 2666

She seyde : 'I am ashamed, doutelees.'

Saturnus seyde : 'Doghter, hold thy pees.

Mars hath his wille, his knight hath al his bone, (1811)

And, by myn heed, thou shalt ben esed sone.' 2670

The trompes, with the loude minstralcye,

The heraudes, that ful loude yolle and crye,

Been in hir wele for joye of daun Arcite.

But herkneth me, and stinteth now a lyte,

Which a miracle ther bifel anon. 2675 This fierse Arcite hath of his helm y-don,

And on a courser, for to shewe his face,

He priketh endelong the large place, (1820)

Loking upward up-on this Emelye; 2679 And she agayn him caste a freendlich yë, (For wommen, as to speken in comune, They folwen al the favour of fortune); And she was al his chere, as in his herte, Out of the ground a furie infernal sterte, From Pluto sent, at requeste of Saturne, For which his hors for fere gan to turne, And leep asyde, and foundred as he leep ; And, er that Arcite may taken keep, (1830) He pighte him on the pomel of his heed, That in the place he lay as he were deed. 2600

His brest to-brosten with his sadel-bowe. As blak he lay as any cole or crowe, So was the blood y-ronnen in his face. Anon he was y-born out of the place With herte soor, to Theseus paleys. 2605 Tho was he corven out of his harneys, And in a bed y-brought ful faire and blyve,

For he was yet in memorie and alyve, (1840) And alway crying after Emelye.

Duk Theseus, with al his companye, 2700 Is comen hoom to Athenes his citee, With alle blisse and greet solempnitee. Al be it that this aventure was falle, He nolde noght disconforten hem alle. Men seyde eek, that Arcite shal nat dye; He shal ben heled of his maladye. 2706 And of another thing they were as fayn, That of hem alle was ther noon y-slayn, Al were they sore y-hurt, and namely oon, That with a spere was thirled his brest-boon. (1852) 2710 To othere woundes, and to broken armes, Some hadden salves, and some hadden charmes:

Fermacies of herbes, and eek save

They dronken, for they wolde hir limes have.

For which this noble duk, as he wel can, Conforteth and honoureth every man, 2716 And made revel al the longe night, Un-to the straunge lordes, as was right. Ne ther was holden no disconfitinge, (1861) But as a justes or a tourneyinge; 2720 For soothly ther was no disconfiture, For falling nis nat but an aventure; Ne to be lad with fors un-to the stake Unyolden, and with twenty knightes take. Right of the same is al the strete y-wrye. Up-on the right hond wente old Egeus, 2005 And on that other syde duk Theseus,

With vessels in hir hand of gold ful fyn, Al ful of hony, milk, and blood, and wyn ; Eek Palamon, with ful greet companye ; And after that cam woful Emelye, 2010 With fyr in honde, as was that tyme the gyse, (2053)

To do th'office of funeral servyse.

Heigh labour, and ful greet apparaillinge Was at the service and the fyr-makinge, That with his grene top the heven raughte, And twenty fadme of brede the armes straughte; 2916

This is to seyn, the bowes were so brode.

Of stree first ther was leyd ful many a lode. (2060)

In certeyn boundes, that they may nat flee;

That same prince and that moevere,' quod he,

'Hath stablissed, in this wrecched world adoun, 2995

Certeyne dayes and duracioun

To al that is engendred in this place, (2139) Over the whiche day they may nat pace, Al mowe they yet tho dayes wel abregge; Ther needeth non auctoritee allegge, 3000 For it is preved by experience,

But that me list declaren my sentence, Than may men by this ordre wel discerne, That thik moevere stable is and eterne. Wel may men knowe, but it be a fool, 3005 That every part deryveth from his hool. For nature hath nat take his beginning Of no party ne cantel of a thing, (2150) But of a thing that parfit is and stable, Descending so, til it be corrumpable. 3010 And therfore, of his wyse purveyaunce, He hath so wel biset his ordinaunce, That speces of thinges and progressions Shullen enduren by successionus.

And nat eterne be, with-oute lyë : 3015 This maistow understonde and seen at yë.

'Lo the ook, that hath so long a norisshinge

From tyme that it first biginneth springe, And hath so long a lyf, as we may see, (2161) Yet at the laste wasted is the tree, 3020

'Considereth eek, how that the harde stoon

Under our feet, on which we trede and goon,

Yit wasteth it, as it lyth by the weye. The brode river somtyme wexeth dreye. The grete tounes see we wane and wende. Than may ye see that al this thing hath ende. 3026

<sup>6</sup>Of man and womman seen we wel also, That nedeth, in oon of thise termes two, This is to seyn, in youthe or elles age, (2171) He moot ben deed, the king as shal a page; 3030

Som in his bed, som in the depe see, Som in the large feeld, as men may se; Ther helpeth noght, al goth that ilke weye. Thanne may I seyn that al this thing moot deye. 3034 What maketh this but Jupiter the king? The which is prince and cause of alle thing, Converting al un-to his propre welle, From which it is deryved, sooth to telle. And here-agayns no creature on lyve (218)

Of no degree availleth for to stryve. 3040 'Thanne is it wisdom, as it thinketh me, To maken vertu of necessitee.

And take it wel, that we may nat eschue, And namely that to us alle is due.

And who-so gruccheth ought, he dooth folye, 3045

And rebel is to him that al may gye, And certeinly a man hath most honour To dyen in his excellence and flour, (2190) Whan he is siker of his gode name;

Than hath he doon his freend, ne him, no shame. 3050

And gladder oghte his freend ben of his deeth,

Whan with honour up-yolden is his breeth, Than whan his name apalled is for age; For al forgeten is his vasselage.

Than is it best, as for a worthy fame, 3055 To dyen whan that he is best of name.

The contrarie of al this is wilfulnesse.

Why grucchen we? why have we hevinesse, (2200)

That good Arcite, of chivalrye flour Departed is, with duetee and honour, 3060 Out of this foule prison of this lyf?

Why grucchen heer his cosin and his wyf Of his wel-fare that loved hem so weel?

Can he hem thank? nay, God wot, never a deel,

That bothe his soule and eek hem-self offende, 3065

And yet they mowe hir lustes nat amende.

THE MILLERES TALE.

Here biginneth the Millere his tale.

WHYLOM ther was dwellinge at Oxenford A riche gnof, that gestes heeld to bord,

And of his craft he was a Carpenter.

With him ther was dwellinge a povre scoler, 3190

Had lerned art, but al his fantasye

Was turned for to lerne astrologye,

And coude a certeyn of conclusiouns

To demen by interrogaciouns,

If that men axed him in certein houres, 3195 Whan that men sholde have droghte or elles shoures. (10)

Or if men axed him what sholde bifalle Of every thing, I may nat rekene hem alle.

This clerk was cleped hende Nicholas; Of derne love he coude and of solas; 3200 And ther-to he was sleigh and ful privee, And lyk a mayden meke for to see. A chambre hadde he in that hostelrye Allone, with-outen any companye, Fulfetislyy-dight with herbes swote; 3200 And he him-self as swete as is the rote (20) Of licorys, or any cetewale. His akInageste and bokes grete and smale, His astrelable, longinge for his art, His augrim-stones layen faire a-part 3210 On shelves couched at his beddes heed : His pressey r-covered with a falding reed.

His presse y-covered with a faiding feed, And al above ther lay a gay sautrye, On which he made a nightes melodye So swetely, that al the chambre rong; 315 And Angelus ad virginem he song; (30) And after that he song the kinges note; Ful often blessed was his mery throte. And thus this swete clerk his tyme spente After his freendes finding and his rente.

This Carpenter had wedded newe a wyf Which that he lovede more than his lyf; Of eightetene yeer she was of age.

Jalous he was, and heeld hir narwe in cage, | 2 Q 5

For she was wilde and yong, and he was old, (39) 3225

And demed him-self ben lyk a cokewold. He knew nat Catoun, for his wit was rude, That bad man sholde wedde his similitude. Men sholde wedden after hir estaat, For youthe and elde is often at debaat, 3230 But sith that he was fallen in the snare, He moste endure, as other folk, his care.

Fair was this yonge wyf, and ther-with-al As any wesele hir body gent and smal. A ceput she werede barred al of silk, 3235 A barmclooth eek as whyt as morne milk Up-on hir lendes, ful of many a gore. (51) Whyt was hir smok and bronded al bidore And eek bihinde, on hir coler aboute,

Of col-blak silk, with-inne and eek withoute. 3240

The tapes of hir whyte voluper Were of the same suyte of hir coler; Hir filet brood of silk, and set ful hye: And sikerly she hadde a likerous yë, 3244 Ful smale y-pulled were hir browss two, And tho were bent, and blake as any sloo. (60)

She was ful more blisful on to see Than is the newe pere-jonette tree; 3248 And softer than the wolle is of a wether. And by hir girdel heeng a purs of lether Tasseld with silk, and perled with latoan. In al this world, to seken up and doun,

There nis no man so wys, that coude thenche

So gay a popelote, or swich a wenche. 3254 Ful brighter was the shyning of hir hewe Than in the tour the noble y-forged newe. But of hir song, it was as loude and yerne As any swalwe sittinge on a berne. (72) Ther-to she could skippe and make game, As any kide or calf folwinge his dame. 350

T. 3261-3352.

Hir mouth was swete as bragot or the meeth,
Or hord of apples leyd in hey or heeth.
Winsinge she was, as is a joly colt,
Long as a mast, and upright as a bolt.
A brooch she baar up-on hir lowe coler, 3265
As brood as is the bos of a bocler. (80)
Hir shoes were laced on hir legges hye ;
She was a prymerole, a pigges-nye
For any lord to leggen in his bedde,
Or yet for any good yeman to wedde. 3270
Now sire, and eft sire, so bifel the cas, That on a day this hende Nicholas
Fil with this yonge wyf to rage and pleye,
Whyl that hir housbond was at Oseneye,
As clerkes ben ful subtile and ful queynte;
And prively he caughte hir by the queynte,

THE REVES TALE.

Here biginneth the Reves tale.

Ar Trumpington, nat fer fro Cantebrigge, Ther goth a brook and over that a brigge, Up-on the whiche brook therstant a melle; And this is verray soft that I yow telle.

A Miller was ther dwelling many a day; As eny pecok he was proud and gay. 3026

- Pypen he coude and fisshe, and nettes bete,
- And turne coppes, and wel wrastle and shete;
- And by his belt he baar a long panade,
- And of a swerd ful trenchant was the blade, 3030

A joly popper baar he in his pouche; (11)

Ther was no man for peril dorste him touche.

A Sheffeld thwitel baar he in his hose; Round was his face, and camuse was his nose.

As piled as an ape was his skulle. 3935 He was a market-beter atte fulle.

Ther dorste no wight hand up-on him legge,

That he ne swoor he sholde anon abegge. A theef he was for sothe of corn and mele, And that a sly, and usaunt for to stele. His name was hoten diynous Simkin. (21) A wyf he hadde, y-comen of noble kin ; The person of the toun hir fader was.

With hir he yaf ful many a panne of bras, For that Simkin sholde in his blood allye. She was y-fostred in a nonnerye; 3946 asters

T. 3945-4028.

For Simkin wolde no wyf, as he sayde, But she were wel y-norissed and a mayde, To saven his estaat of yomanrye. 3949 And she was proud, and pert as is a pyc. A ful fair sighte was it on hem two; (31) On haly-dayes biforn hir wolde he go With his tipet bounden about his heed, And she cam after in a gyte of reed; And Simkin hadde hosen of the same. Ther dorste no wirth clepen hir bat

'dame.' 3956 Was noon so hardy that wente by the weye That with hir dorste rage or ones pleye, But-if he wolde be slayn of Simkin 3959 With panade, or with knyf, or boydekin. For jalous folk ben perilous evermo, (41) Algate they wolde hir wyves wenden so. And eek, for she was somdel smoterlich, She was as digne as water in a dich; And růl of hoker and of bisemare. 3965 Hir thoughte that a lady sholde hir spare,

What for hir kinrede and hir nortelrye That she had lerned in the nonnerve.

A doghter hadde they bitwixe hem two Of twenty yeer, with-outen any mo, 3970 Savinge a child that was of half-yeer age; In cradel it lay and was a propre page.

This wenche thikke and wel y-growen was, (53)

With camuse nose and yën greye as glas; With buttokes brode and brestes rounde and hye, 3975 But right fair was hir heer, I wol nat lye.

The person of the toun, for she was feir, In purpos was to maken hir his heir

Bothe of his catel and his messuage, 3979 And strange he made it of hir mariage. His purpos was for to bistowe hir hye (61) In-to som worthy blood of auncetrye;

For holy chirches good moot been despended

On holy chirches blood, that is descended. Therfore he wolde his holy blood honoure, Though that he holy chirche sholde deyoure. 3086

Gretsoken hath this miller, out of doute, With whete and malt of al the land aboute; And nameliche ther was a greet collegge, Men clepen the Soler-halle at Cantebregge, Ther was hir whete and eek hir malt y-grounde. (71) 3901

And on a day it happed, in a stounde, Sik lay the manneiple on a maladye; Men wenden wisly that he sholde dye. For which this miller stal bothe mele and corn corn 3995 An hundred tyme more than biforn ; For ther-biforn he stal but curteisly.

But now he was a theef outrageously,

For which the wardeyn chidde and made fare. (79)

But ther-of sette the miller nata tare; 4000 He craketh boost, and swoor it was nat so.

Than were ther yonge povre clerkes two, That dwelten in this halle, of which I seye. Testif they were, and lusty for to pleye, And, only for hir mirthe and revelye.

And, only for hir mirthe and revelrye,

Up-on the wardeyn bisily they crye, 4006 To yeve hem leve but a litel stounde

To goon to mille and seen hir corn ygrounde;

And hardily, they dorste leye hir nekke, The miller shold nat stele hem half a pekke (90) 4010

Of corn by sleighte, ne by force hem reve; And at the laste the wardevn vaf hem leve,

John hight that oon, and Aleyn hight that other:

Of o toun were they born, that highte Strother, 4014

Fer in the north, I can nat telle where. This Aleyn maketh redy al his gere,

And on an hors the sak he caste anon.

Forth goth Aleyn the clerk, and also John, With good swerd and with bokeler by hir syde. (90) 4019

John knew the wey, hem nedede no gyde, And at the mille the sak adoun he layth. Aleyn spak first, 'al hayl, Symond, y-fayth;

How fares thy faire doghter and thy wyf?' 'Aleyn! welcome,' quod Simkin, 'by my lyf.

And John also, how now, what do ye heer?' 'Symond,' quod John, 'by god, nede has na peer; 4026

Him boës serve him-selve that has na swayn,

Or elles he is a fool, as clerkes sayn.

Our manciple, I hope he wil be deed, 4029 Swa werkes ay the wanges in his heed. And forthy is I come, and eek Alayn, (111) To grinde our corn and carie it ham agayn;

- I pray yow spede us hethen that ye may.'
  - 'It shal be doon,' quod Simkin, 'by my fay; 4034
- What wol ye doon whyl that it is in hande?' 'By god, right by the hoper wil I stande,'
- Quod John, 'and se how that the corn gas in ;

Yet saugh I never, by my fader kin, 4038 How that the hoper wagges til and fra.'

Aleyn answerde, 'John, and wiltow swa, Than wil I be bynethe, by my croun, (121) And se how that the mele falles down

In-to the trough ; that sal be my disport.

- For John, in faith, I may been of your sort:
- I is as ille a miller as are ye.' 4045 This miller smyled of hir nycetee,
- And thoghte, 'al this nis doon but for a wyle;

They wene that no man may hem bigyle ;

But, by my thrift, yet shal I blere hir yë

For al the sleighte in hir philosophye. 4050

The more queynte crekes that they make,

The more wol I stele whan I take. (132)

- In stede of flour, yet wol I yeve hem bren.
- "The gretteste clerkes been noght the wysest men,"
- As whylom to the wolf thus spak the mare; 4055
- Of al hir art I counte noght a tare.'

Out at the dore he gooth ful prively,

Whan that he saugh his tyme, softely;

He loketh up and down til he hath founde The clerkes hors, ther as it stood y-bounde

Bihinde the mille, under a levesel; 4061 And to the hors he gooth him faire and

- wel; (142) He strepeth of the brydel right anon.
- And whan the hors was loos, he ginneth gon

Toward the fen, ther wilde mares renne,

- Forth with wehee, thurgh thikke and thurgh thenne. 4066
  - This miller gooth agayn, no word he seyde,
- But dooth his note, and with the clerkes pleyde,

Til that hir corn was faire and wel ygrounde.

And whan the mele is sakked and ybounde, (150) 4070

This John goth out and fynt his hors away, And gan to crye 'harrow' and 'weylaway! Our hors is lorn ! Alayn, for goddes banes, Step on thy feet, com out, man, al at anes ! Allas, our wardeyn has his palfrey lorn.' This Aleyn al forgat, bothe mele and corn, Al was out of his mynde his housbondrye. 'What? whilk way is he geen?' he gan to crye.

The wyf cam leping inward with a ren, She seyde, 'allas! your hors goth to the fen (160) 4080

With wilde mares, as faste as he may go. Unthank come on his hand that bond him so.

- And he that bettre sholde han knit the reyne.'
  - 'Allas,' quod John, 'Aleyn, for Cristes peyne,

Lay doun thy swerd, and I wil myn alswa; I is ful wight, god waat, as is a raa; 4,686 By goddes herte he sal nat scape us bathe. Why nadstow pit the capul in the lathe? Il-hayl, by god, Aleyn, thou is a fonne!'

This sely clerkes han ful faste y-ronne To-ward the fen, bothe Aleyn and eek John. (171) 4091

And whan the miller saugh that they were gon,

He half a busshel of hir flour hath take,

And bad his wyf go knede it in a cake, He seyde, 'I trowe the clerkes were aferd; Yet can a miller make a clerkes berd 4096 For al his art; now lat hem goon hir weye, Lo wher they goon, ye, lat the children pleye;

They gete him nat so lightly, by mycroun ?" Thise sely clerkes rennen up and doun

With 'keep, keep, stand, stand, jossa, warderere, (181) 4101

Ga whistle thou, and I shal kepe him here !'

But shortly, til that it was verray night,

They coude nat, though they do al hir might, 4104

Hir capul cacche, he ran alwey so faste, Til in a dich they caughte him atte laste, Wery and weet, as beste is in the reyn, Comth sely John, and with him comth Aleyn.

'Allas,' quod John, 'the day that I was born!

Now are we drive til hething and til scorn. (190) 4110

Our corn is stole, men wil us foles calle, Bathe the wardeyn and our felawes alle, And namely the miller ; weylaway !'

Thus pleyneth John as he goth by the way

Toward the mille, and Bayard in his hond. The miller sitting by the fyr he fond, 4116 For it was night, and forther mighte they noght:

But, for the love of god, they him bisoght Of herberwe and of ese, as for hir peny.

The miller seyde agayn, 'if ther be eny, Swich as it is, yet shal ye have your part. Myn hous is streit, but ye han lerned art ; Ye conne by argumentes make a place

A myle brood of twenty foot of space. (204) Lat see now if this place may suffyse, 4125 Or make it roum with speche, as is youre gyse.'

'Now, Symond,' seyde John, 'by seint Cutberd,

Ay is thou mery, and this is faire answerd. I have herd seyd, man sal taa of twa thinges 4129 Slyk as he fyndes, or taa slyk as he bringes.

But specially, I pray thee, hoste dere, (211) Get us som mete and drinke, and make us chere.

And we wil payen trewely atte fulle.

With empty hand men may na haukes tulle;

Lo here our silver, redy for to spende.' 4135 This miller in-to toun his doghter sende For ale and breed, and rosted hem a goos, And bond hir hors, it sholde nat gon loos; And in his owne chambre hem made a bed (219) 4139

With shetes and with chalons fairey-spred, Noght from his owne bed ten foot or twelve, His doghter hadde a bed, al by hir-selve, Right in the same chambre, by and by :

It might be no bet, and cause why, 4144 Ther was no roumer herberwein the place. They soupen and they speke, hem to solace, And drinken ever strong ale atte beste. Aboute midnight wente they to reste.

- Wel hath this miller vernisshed his heed;
- Ful pale he was for-dronken, and nat reed. 4150
- He yexeth, and he speketh thurgh the nose (231)
- As he were on the quakke, or on the pose.
- To bedde he gooth, and with him goth his wyf.

As any jay she light was and jolyf,

So was hir joly whistle wel y-wet. 4155 The cradel at hir beddes feet is set,

To rokken, and to yeve the child to souke,

And whan that dronken al was in the crouke,

To bedde went the doghter right anon; To bedde gooth Aleyn and also John; 4 r6o Ther nas na more, hem nedede no dwale. This miller hath so wisly bibbed ale, (a2) That as an hors he snorteth in his sleep, Ne of his tayl bihinde he took no keep. His wyf bar him a burdon, a ful strong, Men mighte hir routing here two furlong; The wenche routeth eek par companye.

Aleyn the clerk, that herd this melodye, He poked John, and seyde, 'slepestow? Herdestow ever slyk a sang er now? 4170 Lo, whilk a compline is y-mel hem alle! A wilde fyr np-on thair bodyes falle!(252) Wha herkned ever slyk a ferly thing? Ye, they sal have the flour of il ending. This lange night ther tydes me na reste; But yet, na fors; al sal be for the beste. For John,' seyde he, 'als ever moot I thryve,

If that I may, yon wenche wil I swyve. Som esement has lawe y-shapen us; 4179 For John, ther is a lawe that says thus, That gif a man in a point bey-greved, (261) That in another he sal be releved. Our corn is stoln, shortly, it is na nay, And we han had an il fit al this day. And sin I sal have neen amendement, 4185 Agayn my los I wil have esement. By goddes saule, it sal neen other be !'

This John answerde, 'Alayn, avyse thee, The miller is a perilous man,' he seyde, 'And gif that he out of his sleep abreyde

- He mighte doon us bathe a vileinye.' (271) Aleyn answerde, 'I count him nat a flye;' 4192
- And up he rist, and by the wenche he crepte.

This wenche lay upright, and faste slepte, Til he so ny was, er she mighte espye, 4195 That it had been to late for to crye,

And shortly for to seyn, they were at on ; Now pley, Aleyn ! for I wol speke of John.

This John lyth stille a furlong-wey or two,

And to him-self he maketh routhe and wo: (280) 4200

'Allas!' quod he, 'this is a wikked jape; Now may I seyn that I is but an ape. Yet has my felawe som-what for his harm; He has the milleris doghter in his arm. He auntred him, and has his nedes sped, And I lye as a drafsek in my bed; 4206 And when this jape is tald another day, I sal been halde a daf, a cokenay! I wil aryse, and auntre it, by my fayth! "Unhardy is unsely," thus men sayth.' And up he roos and softely he wente (ayi) Une to the cradel, and in his hand it hente.

And baar it softe un-to his beddes feet. Sone after this the wyf hir routing leet,

And gan awake, and wente hir out to pisse, 4215

And cam agayn, and gan hir cradel misse, And groped heer and ther, but she fond noon.

- 'Allas!' quod she, 'I hadde almost misgoon;
- I hadde almost gon to the clerkes bed.

Ey, ben'cite ! thanne hadde I foule y-sped : ' And forth she gooth til she the cradel fond, (301) 4221 fond. (301) 4221 She gropeth alwey forther with hir hond,

And fond the bed, and thoghte noght but good,

By-cause that the cradel by it stood, 4224 And niste where she was, for it was derk; But faire and well she creep in to the clerk, And lyth ful stille, and wolde han caught a sleep.

With-inne a whyl this John the clerk up leep, 4228

And on this gode wyf he leyth on sore. So mery a fit ne hadde she nat ful yore; He priketh harde and depe as he were mad. (311)

This joly lyf han thise two clerkes lad Til that the thridde cok bigan to singe.

Aleyn wex wery in the daweninge, 4234 For he had swonken al the longe night; And seyde, 'far wel, Malin, swete wight! The day is come, I may no lenger byde; But evermo, wher so I go or ryde,

I is thyn awen clerk, swa have I seel !'

'Now dere lemman,' quod she, 'go, far weel! (320) 4240

But er thou go, o thing I wol'thee telle, Whan that thou wendest homward by the melle,

Right at the entree of the dore bihinde, Thou shalt a cake of half a busshel finde That was y-maked of thyn owne mele,

Which that I heelp my fader for to stele.

And, gode lemman, god thee save and kepe!' 4247

And with that word almost she gan to wepe.

Aleyn up-rist, and thoughte, 'er that it dawe,

I wol go crepen in by my felawe; 4250 And fond the cradel with his hand anon, 'By god,' thoghte he, 'al wrang I have misgon; (332)

Myn heed is toty of my swink to-night, That maketh me that I go nat aright. 4254

I woot wel by the cradel, I have misgo,

Heer lyth the miller and his wyf also.'

And forth he goth, a twenty devel way,

Un-to the bed ther-as the miller lay.

He wende have cropen by his felawe John; And by the miller in he creep anon, 4260 And caughte hym by the nekke, and softe

he spak: (341)

He seyde, 'thou, John, thou swynes-heed, awak

For Cristes saule, and heer a noble game. For by that lord that called is seint Jame,

As I have thryes, in this shorte night, 4265 Swyved the milleres doghter bolt-upright, Whyl thow hast as a coward been agast.'

'Ye, false harlot,' quod the miller, 'hast?

A! false traitour ! false clerk !' quod he, 'Thou shalt be deed, by goddes dignitee !

T. 4269-4322.

Who dorste be so bold to disparage (351) My doghter, that is come of swich linage?' And by the throte-bolle he caughte Alayn. And he hente hym despitously agayn,

And on the nose he smoot him with his fest. 4275

Down ran the blody streem up-on his brest; And in the floor, with nose and mouth to-broke,

They walwe as doon two pigges in a poke. And up they goon, and down agayn anon, Til that the miller sporned at a stoon, 4280 And down he fil bakward up-on his wyf,

That wiste no-thing of this nyce stryf;

For she was falle aslepe a lyte wight (363) With John the clerk, that waked hadde

- al night.
- And with the fal, out of hir sleep she breyde— 4285
- 'Help, holy croys of Bromeholm,' she seyde,

'In manus tuas! lord, to thee I calle!

Awak, Symond ! the feend is on us falle,

Myn herte is broken, help, I nam but deed;

There lyth oon up my wombe and up myn heed; 4290

Help, Simkin, for the false clerkes fighte.'

This John sterte up as faste as ever he mighte, (372)

And graspeth by the walles to and fro,

To finde a staf; and she sterte up also, And knew the estres bet than dide this John. 4295

And by the wal a staf she fond anon,

And saugh a litel shimering of a light,

For at an hole in shoon the mone bright; And by that light she saugh hem bothe two,

But sikerly she niste who was who, 4300 But as she saugh a whyt thing in hir yë. And whan she gan the whyte thing espye, She wende the clerk hadde wered a volnpeer. (383)

And with the staf she drough ay neer and neer, 4304

And wende han hit this Aleyn at the fulle, And smoot the miller on the pyled skulle, That doun he gooth and cryde, 'harrow ! I dye !'

Thise clerkes bete him weel and lete him lye ;

And greythen hem, and toke hir hors anon, And eek hir mele, and on hir wey they gon. (100) 410

And at the mille yet they toke hir cake Of half a busshel flour, ful wel y-bake.

Thus is the proude miller wel y-bete,

And hath y-lost the grinding of the whete, And payed for the soper every-deel 4315 Of Aleyn and of John, that bette him weel. His wyf is swyved, and his doghter als; Lo, swich it is a miller to be fuls!

And therfore this proverbe is seyd ful sooth, 4319

<sup>4</sup> Him thar nat wene wel that yvel dooth ; A gylour shal him-self bigyled be.<sup>7</sup> (401) And God, that sitteth heighe in magestee, Save al this companye grete and smale ! Thus have I quit the miller in my tale,

Here is ended the Reves tale.

THE COOK'S PROLOGUE.

The prologe of the Cokes tale,

THE Cook of London, whyl the Reve spak, For jove, him thoughte, he clawed him on the bak. 4326 'Ha! ha!' quod he, ' for Cristes passioun, This miller hadde a sharp conclusioun Upon his argument of herbergage ! Wel sevde Salomon in his langage, 4330 "Ne bringe nat every man in-to thyn hous:' For herberwing by nighte is perilous. Wel oghte a man avysed for to be (0)Whom that he broghte in-to his privetee. I pray to god, so yeve me sorwe and care, If ever, sith I highte Hogge of Ware, 4336 Herde I a miller bettre y-set a-werk. He hadde a jape of malice in the derk. But god forbede that we stinten here :

And therfore, if ye vouche-sauf to here A tale of me, that am a povre man, 4341 I wol yow telle as wel as ever I can A litel jape that fil in our citee.'

Our host answerde, and seide, 'I graunte it thee; (20) 4344 Now telle on, Roger, loke that it be good ; For many a pastee hastow laten blood, And many a Jakke of Dover hastow sold That hath been twyes hoot and twyes cold. Of many a pilgrim hastow Cristes curs, For of thy persly yet they fare the wors, That they han eten with thy stubbel-goos; For in thy shoppe is many a flye loos. Our Hoste sey wel that the brighte sonne Th'ark of his artificial day had ronne The fourthe part, and half an houre, and

- more;
- And though he were not depe expert in lore,

He wiste it was the eightetethe day Of April, that is messager to May ; And sey well that the shadwe of every tree Was as in lengthe the same quantitee That was the body erect that caused it. And therfor by the shadwe he took his wit That Phobus, which that shoon so clere and brighte.

Degrees was fyve and fourty clombe on highte;

And for that day, as in that latitude, It was ten of the clokke, he gan conclude, And sodevnly he plighte his hors aboute. 'Lordinges,' quod he, 'I warne yow, al this route. 16 The fourthe party of this day is goon : Now, for the love of god and of seint John. Leseth no tyme, as ferforth as ye may ; Lordinges, the tyme wasteth night and day, 20 And steleth from us, what prively slepinge, And what thurgh necligence in our wakinge. As dooth the streem, that turneth never agayn, Descending fro the montaigne in-to playn. Wel can Senek, and many a philosophre 25 Biwailen tyme, more than gold in cofre. # THE TALE OF THE MAN OF LAWE.

Here beginneth the Man of Lawe his Tale.

In Surrie whylom dwelte a companye Of chapmen riche, and therto sadde and trewe, 135

That wyde-wher senten her spycerye, Clothes of gold, and satins riche of hewe; Herchaffar was so thrifty and so newe, (40) That every wight hath deyntee to chaffare With hem, and eek to sellen hem hir ware, 140

Now fel it, that the maistres of that sort Han shapen hem to Rome for to wende; Were it for chapmanhode or for disport, Non other message wolde they thider sende.

But	comen	hem-self	to	Rome,	this	is	the
	ende;						145

And in swich place, as thoughte hem avantage

For her entente, they take her herbergage.

Sojourned han thise marchants in that toun (50)

A certein tyme, as fel to hir plesance.

And so bifel, that th'excellent renoun 150 Of th'emperoures doghter, dame Custance, Reported was, with every circumstance.

Un-to thise Surrien marchants in swich wyse.

Fro day to day, as I shal yow devyse.

This was the commune vois of every man—     155       Our Emperour of Rome, god him see,	With sterres, whan that he his birthe took, That he for love shulde han his deeth, allas! For in the sterres, clerer than is glas,
A doghter hath that, sin the world bigan, To rekne as wel hir goodnesse as beautee, Nas never swich another as is she; (61)	Is writen, god wot, who-so coude it rede, 195 The deeth of every man, withouten drede.
I prey to god in honour hir sustene, 160 And wolde she were of al Europe the	In sterres, many a winter ther-biforn, Was writen the deeth of Ector, Achilles, Of Borney Labor the sterres and the sterres an

Yowthe, with-oute grenehede or folye ; To alle hir werkes vertu is hir gyde,	The deeth; but mennes wittes been so dulle,
Humblesse hath slayn in hir al tirannye. She is mirour of alle curteisye; (68) 166	That no wight can wel rede it atte fulle.
Hir herte is verray chambre of holinesse, Hir hand, ministre of fredom for almesse,'	This sowdan for his privee conseil sente, And, shortly of this mater for to pace, 205
And al this vois was soth, as god is trewe,	He hath to hem declared his entente, And seyde hem certein, 'but he mighte
But now to purpos lat us turne agayn; 170	have grace (109) To han Custance with-inne a litel space,
Thise marchants han doon fraught hir shippes newe,	He nas but deed;' and charged hem, in
And, whan they han this blisful mayden seyn,	hye, To shapen for his lyf som remedye. 210
Hoom to Surryë been they went ful fayn, And doon her nedes as they han don yore,	Diverse men diverse thinges seyden ;
And liven in wele; I can sey yow no more.	They argumenten, casten up and down Many a subtil resoun forth they leyden,
Now fel it, that thise marchants stode in grace 176	They speken of magik and abusioun ; But finally, as in conclusioun, 215
Of him, that was the sowdan of Surrye;	They can not seen in that non avantage,
For whan they came from any strange place, (80)	Ne in non other wey, save mariage. (119)
He wolde, of his benigne carteisye,	Than sawe they ther-in swich difficultee
Make hem good chere, and bisily espye 180 Fydings of sondry regnes, for to lere The wondresthat they mighteseen or here.	By wey of resoun, for to speke al playn, By-cause that ther wasswich diversitee 22:0 Bitwene hir bothe lawes, that they sayn, plesance Fo han hir figure in his remembrance,	And he answerde, 'rather than I lese 225 Custance, I wol be cristned doutelees;

That al his lust and al his bisy cure (90) Was for to love hir whyl his lyf may dure.	I mot ben hires, I may non other chese. I prey yow holde your arguments in pees; (130)
Paraventure in thilke large book 190 Which that men clepe the heven, y-writen	Saveth my lyf, and beeth noght recchelees To geten hir that hath my lyf in cure ; 230
was	For in this wo I may not longe endure.'

What nedeth gretter dilatacioun? I seye, by tretis and embassadrye, And by the popes mediacionn, . And al the chirche, and al the chivalrye, That, in destruccioun of Maumetrye, 236 And in encrees of Cristes lawe dere, They ben acorded, so as ye shal here; (140)

How that the sowdan and his baronage And alle his liges shulde y-cristned be, 240 And he shal han Custance in mariage, And certein gold, I noot what quantitee, And her-to founden suffisant seurtee; This same accord was sworn on cyther syde; Now, faire Custance, almighty god thee gyde! 245

Now wolde som men waiten, as I gesse, That I shulde tellen al the purveyance That th'emperour, of his grete noblesse, Hath shapen for his doghter dame Custance. (151)

Wel may men knowe that so gret ordinance 250

May no man tellen in a litel clause As was arrayed for so heigh a cause,

Bisshopes ben shapen with hir for to wende,

Lordes, ladyes, knightes of renoun, And other folk y-nowe, this is the ende; And notifyed is thurgh-out the town 256 That every wight, with gret devocioun, Shulde preyen Crist that he this maring Receyve in gree, and speed this vinge.(161)

The day is comen of hir departinge, 260 I sey, the woful day fatal is come,

That ther may be no lenger taryinge,

- But forthward they hem dressen, alle and some :
- Custance, that was with sorve al overcome, 264

Ful pale arist, and dresseth hir to wende; For wel she seeth ther is non other ende.

Allas! what wonder is it though she wepte, That shal be sent to strange nacioun (170) Fro freendes, that so tendrely hir kepte, And to be bounden under subjectioun 270 Of oon, she knoweth not his condicioun. Housbondes been alle gode, and han ben yore,

That knowen wyves, I dar say yow no more.

'Fader,' she sayde, 'thy wrecched child Custance,

Thy yonge doghter, fostred up so softe, 275 And ye, my moder, my soverayn plosance Over alle thing, out-taken Crist on-lofte, Custance, your child, hir recomandeth

ofte (180) Un-to your grace, for I shal to Surryë, Ne shal I never seen yow more with yë. 280

Allas! un-to the Barbre nacioun

I moste anon, sin that it is your wille; But Crist, that starf for our redempcioun.

So yeve me grace, his hestes to fulfille :

- I, wrecche womman, no fors though I spille. 285
- Wommen are born to thraldom and penance,

And to ben under mannes governance.'

THE SHIPMANNES TALE.

Here biginneth the Shipmannes Tale.

- A MARCHANT whylom dwelled at Seint Denys,
- That riche was, for which men helde him wys;
- A wyf he hadde of excellent beautee,

And compaignable and revelous was she,

Which is a thing that causeth more dispence 1195

Than worth is al the chere and reverence That men hem doon at festes and at daunces; Swiche salutaciouns and contenaunces

Passen as dooth a shadwe up-on the wal,

But wo is him that payen moot for al; 1200 The sely housbond, algate he mot paye; He moot us clothe, and he moot us

arraye, (12)

Al for his owene worship richely, In which array we dannee jolily. 1204 And if that he noght may, par-aventure, Or elles, list no swich dispence endure, But thinketh it is wasted and y-lost, Than moot another payen for our cest, Or lene us gold, and that is perilous.

This noble Marchant heeld a worthy hous, (20) 1210 For which he hadde alday so greet repair For his largesse, and for his wyf was fair, That wonder is ; but herkneht to my tale. Amonges alle his gestes, grete and smale, Ther was a monk, a fair man and a bold, I trowe of thritty winter he was old, 1116 That ever in oon was drawing to that place. This yonge monk, that was so fair of face, Aqueinted was so with the gode man, Sith that hir firste knoweliche bigan, 1220 That in his hous as famulier was he (31) As it possible is any freend to be.

And for as muchel as this gode man And eek this monk, of which that I bigan, Were bothe two y-born in o village, 1225 The monk him claimeth as for cosinage; And he again, he seith nat ones nay,

But was as glad ther-of as fowel of day; For to his herte it was a greet plesaunce. Thusbeen they knit with oterne alliaunce, And ech of hem gan other for tassure 1231 Of bretherhede, whyl that hir lyf may dure. (42)

Free was daun John, and namely of dispence,

As in that hous; and ful of diligence 1234 To doon plesaunce, and also greet costage. He noght forgat to yeve the leeste page In al that hous; but, after hir degree.

He yaf the lord, and sitthe al his meynee, When that he cam, som maner honest thing; 1239 For which they were as glad of his coming

As fowel is fayn, whan that the sonne up-ryseth. (51)

Na more of this as now, for it suffyseth.

But so bifel, this marchant on a day Shoop him to make redy his array

Toward the toun of Brugges for to fare, 1245 To byen ther a porcioun of ware;

For which he hath to Paris sent anon

A messager, and preyed hath daun John That he sholde come to Seint Denys to pleye 1249

pleye 1249 With him and with his wyfa day or tweye, Er he to Brugges wente, in alle wyse. (61)

This noble monk, of which I yow devyse, Hath of his abbot, as him list, licence, By-cause he was a man of heigh prudence, And eek an officer, out for to ryde, 1255 To seen hir graunges and hir bernes wyde; And un-to Seint Denys he comth anon.

Who was so welcome as my lord dann John,

Our dere cosin, ful of curtelsye? 1259 With him broghte he a jubbe of Malvesye, And eek another, ful of fyn Vernage, (71) And volatyl, as ay was his usage.

- And thus I lete hem ete and drinke and pleye,
- This marchant and this monk, a day or tweye.
  - The thridde day, this marchant up aryseth, 1265
- And on his nedes sadly him avyseth,

And up in-to his countour-hous goth he To rekene with him-self, as wel may be,

Of thilke yeer, how that it with him stood,

And how that he despended hadde his good ; 1270

And if that he encressed were or noon, (81) His bokes and his bagges many oon

He leith biforn him on his counting-bord ; Ful riche was his tresor and his hord,

For which ful faste his countour-dore he shette; 1275

And cek he nolde that no man sholde him lette

Of his accountes, for the mene tyme; And thus he sit til it was passed pryme.

Daun John was risen in the morwe also, And in the gardin walketh to and fro, 1280 And hath his thinges seyd ful curteisly.

This gode wyf cam walking prively (92) In-to the gardin, ther he walketh softe, And him saleweth, as she hath don ofte. A mayde child cam in hir companye, 1285 Which as hir list she may governe and gye. For yet under the yerde was the mayde. 'O dere cosin myn, daun John,'she sayde, 'What eyleth yow so rathe for to ryse?' 'Nece,' quod he, 'it oghte y-nough suffyse Fyve houres for to ale up-on anight, (101) But it were for an old appalled wight,

As been thise wedded men, that lye and dare

As in a forme sit a wery hare,

Were al for-straught with houndes grete and smale. 1295

But dere nece, why be ye so pale? I trowe certes that our gode man (107) Hath yow laboured sith the night bigan,

T. 13039-13126.

That yow were nede to resten hastily?' 1299 And with that word he lough ful merily, And of his owene thought he wex al reed.

This faire wyf gan for to shake hir heed, And seydethus, 'yo, god wot al,' quod she; 'Nay, cosin myn, it stant nat so with me. Fo<sub>i</sub>, by that god that yaf me soule and lyf, In al the reme of France is ther nowyf 1300 That lasse lust hat h to that sory pley.

For I may singe "allas" and "weylawey, That I was born,"but to no wight,'quod she, 'Dar I nat telle how that it stant with me. Wherfore I thinke out of this land to wende. (121) 1311

Or elles of my-self to make an ende, So ful am I of drede and eek of care.'

Thismonk bigan up-on this wyf to stare, And seyde, 'allas, my nece, god forbede That ye, for any sorwe or any drede, 1316 Fordoyour-self; but telleth meyour grief; Paraventure I may, in your meschief, Conseille or helpe, and therfore telleth me Al your anoy, for it shal been secree; 1320 For on my porthors here I make an ooth, That never in my lyf, for lief ne looth, (132) Ne shal I of no conseil yow biwreye.'

'The same agayn to yow,' quod she, 'I seye; 1324

By god and by this porthors, I yow swere, Though men me wolde al in-to peces tere, Ne shal I never, for to goon to helle,

Biwreye a word of thing that ye me telle, Nat for no cosinage ne alliance,

But verraily, for love and affiance.' 1330 Thus been they sworn, and heer-upon they kiste, (141)

And ech of hem tolde other what hem liste. 'Cosin,' quod she, 'if that I hadde a space,

As I have noon, and namely in this place, Than wolde I telle a legende of my lyf, 1335 What I have suffred sith I was a wyf

With myn housbonde, al be he your cosyn.'

'Nay,' quod this monk, 'by god and seint Martyn,

He is na more cosin un-to me 1330 Than is this leef that hangeth on the tree ! I clepe him so, by Seint Denys of Fraunce, To have the more cause of aqueintaunce Of yow, which I have loved specially (153) Aboven alle wommen sikerly ; This swere I yow on my professioun. 1345 Telleth your grief, lest that he come adoun, And hasteth yow, and gooth your wey anon.'

'My dere love,' quod she, 'o my daun John. (158)

Ful lief were me this conseil for to hyde, But out it moot, I may namore abyde. 1350 Myn housbond is to me the worste man That ever was, sith that the world bigan. But sith I am a wyf, it sit nat me

To tellen no wight of our privetee, 1354 Neither a-bedde, ne in non other place; God shilde I sholde it tellen, for his grace! A wyf ne shal nat seyn of hir housbonde But al honour, as I can understonde;

Save un-to yow thus muche I tellen shal;

As help me god, he is noght worth at al 1360 In no degree the value of a flye. (171) But yet me greveth most his nigardye;

And wel ye woot that wommen naturelly Desyren thinges sixe, as wel as I. 1364 They wolde that hir housbondes sholde be Hardy, and wyse, and riche, and ther-to free.

And buxom to his wyf, and fresh a-bedde. But, by that ilke lord that for us bledde, For his honour, my-self for to arraye,

A Sonday next, I moste nedes paye 1370 An hundred frankes, or elles am I lorn. Yet were me lever that I were unborn (182) Than me were doon a sclaundre or vileinye;

And if myn housbond eek it mighte espye, I nere but lost, and therfore I yow preye Lene me this somme, or elles moot I deve. 1376

Daun John, I seye, lene me thise hundred frankes;

Pardee, I wol nat faille yow my thankes, If that yow list to doon that I yow praye. For at a certein day I wol yow paye, 1380 And doon to yow what plesance and servyce (191)

That I may doon, right as yow list devyse. And but I do, god take on me vengeance As foul as ever had Geniloun of France!'

This gentil monk answerde in this manere; 1385

'Now, trewely, myn owene lady dere,

- I have,' quod he, 'on yow so greet a routhe, That I yow swere and plighte yow my trouthe.
- That whan your housbond is to Flaundres fare.

I wol delivere yow out of this care; 1390 For I wol bringe yow an hundred frankes.' And with that word he caughte hir by the finakes. (202)

- And hir embraceth harde, and kiste hir ofte.
- 'Goth now your wey,' quod he, 'al stille and softe,

And lat us dyne as sone as that ye may; For by my chilindre it is pryme of day. 1396 Goth now, and beeth as trewe as I shal be.'

'Now, elles god forbede, sire,' quod she, And forth she gooth, as jolif as a pye,

And bad the cokes that they sholde hem hye, 1400

So that men mighte dyne, and that anon. Up to hir housbonde is this wyf y-gon, (212) And knokketh at his countour boldely.

'Qui la?' quod he. 'Peter! it am I.'

Quod she, 'what, sire, how longe wol ye faste? 1405

PROLOGUE TO MELIBEUS.

'No more of this, for goddes dignitee,' Quod oure hoste, 'for thou makest me 2110 So wery of thy verray lewednesse That, also wisly god my soule blesse, Myn eres aken of thy drasty speche; Now swiche a rym the devel I bitchel! This may wel be rym dogerel,' quod he.

'Why so?' quod I, 'why wiltow lette me More of my tale than another man,

Sin that it is the beste rym I can?' (10) 'By god,' quod he, 'for pleynly, at a word,

Thy drasty ryming is nat worth a tord; Thou doost nought elles but despendest tyme. 2121

Sir, at o word, thou shalt no lenger ryme.

Lat see wher thou canst tellen aught in geste.

Or telle in prose somwhat at the leste

In which ther be som mirthe or som doctryne.' 2125

'Gladly,' quod I, 'by goddes swete pyne, I wol yow telle a litel thing in prose,

That oghte lyken yow, as I suppose, (20) Or elles, certes, ye been to daungerous. It is a moral tale vertuous, 2130

Al be it told som-tyme in sondry wyse Of sondry folk, as I shal yow devyse. As thus; ye woot that every evangelist, That telleth us the peyne of Jesu Crist, Ne saith nat al thing as his felaw dooth, But natheles, hir sentence is al sooth, srig And alle acordon as in hir sentence, Al be ther in hir telling difference. Whan they his pitous passioun expresse; I mene of Mark [and] Mathew, Luk and John; 2141

But doutelees hir sentence is al oon. Therfor, lordinges alle, I yow biseche, If that ye thinke I varie as in my speche, As thus, thogh that I telle som-what more Of proverbes, than ye han herd bifore. Comprehended in this litel tretis here, To enforce with the th'effect of my matere. And thogh I nat the same wordes seye (41) As ye han herd, yet to yow alle I preye, Blameth me nat; for, as in my sentence, Ye shul not fynden moche difference Fro the sentence of this tretis lyte After the which this mery tale I wryte, And therfor herkneth what that I shal seve. And lat me tellen al my tale, I preye.' (48)

THE TALE OF MELIBEUS.

Here biginneth Chaucers Tale of Melibee.

§ 1. A yong man called Melibeus, mighty and riche, bigat up-on his wy'f that called was Prudence, a doghter which that called was Sophie./

§ 2. Upon a day bifel, that he for his desport is went in-to the feeldes him to pleye. / His wyf and eek his doghter hath he left in with his hous, of which the dores weren fast y-shetta. / Three of his olde foos han it espyed, and setten laddres to the walles of his hous, and by the windowes been entred, / and betten his 2160 wyf, and wounded his doghter with fyve mortal woundes in fyve sondry places; / this is to seyn, in hir feet, in hir handes, in hir eres, in hir nose, and in hir mouth; and leften hir for deed, and wenten awey. /

§ 3. Whan Melibeus retourned was into his hous, and saugh al this meschief, he, lyk a mad man, rendinge his clothes, gan to wepe and crye. /

§ 4. Prudence his wyf, as ferforth as she dorste, bisoghte him of his weping for to stinte; / but nat for-thy he gan to 2165 crye and wepen ever lenger the more. /

§ 5. This noble wyf Prudence remembered hir upon the sentence of Ovide, in his book that cleped is The Remedie of Love, wher-as he seith; / 'he is a fool that destourbeth the moder to wepen in the deeth of hir child, til she have wept hir fille, as for a certein tyme; / and thanne shal man doon his diligence with amiable wordes hir to reconforte, and preven hir of hir weping for to stinte.' / For which resoun this noble wyf Prudence suffred hir housbond for to wepe and crye as for a certein space; / and whan she saugh hir tyme, she seyde him in this wyse. 'Allas, my lord,' quod she, 'why 2170 make ye your-self for to be lyk a fool? / For sothe, it aperteneth nat to a wys man, to maken swiche a sorwe. / Your doghter, with the grace of god, shal warisshe and escape. / And al were it so that she right now were deed, ye ne oghte nat as for hir deeth your-self to destroye./ Senek seith: "the wise man shal nat take to greet disconfort for the deeth of his children, / but certes he sholde suffren it in pacience, as wel as he abydeth the 2175 deeth of his owene propre persone." /

§ 6. This Melibeus answerde anon and seyde, 'What man,' quod he, 'sholde of his weping stinte, that hath so greet a cause for to wepe? / Jesu Crist, our lord, him-self wepte for, the deeth of Lazarus his freend.' / Prudence answerde, 'Certes, wel I woot, attempree weping is no-thing defended to him that sorweful is, amonges folk in sorwe, but it is rather graunted him to wepe. / The Apostlo Paul un-to the Romayns wryteth, "man shal rejoyse with hem that maken joye, and wepen with swich folk as wepen." / But thogh attempree weping be ygraunted, outrageous weping certes is defended. / Mesure of weping sholde be 21 considered, after the lore that techeth us Senek. / "Whan that thy freend is deed," quod he, "lat nat thyne eyen to moyste been of teres, ne to muche drye; although the teres come to thyne eyen, lat hem nat falle." / And whan thou hast for-goon thy freend, do diligence to gete another freend ; and this is more wysdom. than for to wepe for thy freend which that thou hast lorn; for ther-inne is no bote. / And therfore, if ye governe yow by sapience, put awey sorwe out of your herte. / Remembre yow that Jesus Syrak seith : "a man that is joyous and glad in herte, it him conserveth florisshing in his age; but soothly sorweful herte maketh his bones drye." / He seith eek thus : 21 "that sorwe in herte sleeth ful many a man." / Salomon seith : "that, right as motthes in the shepes flees anoyeth to the clothes, and the smale wormes to the tree, right so anoyeth sorwe to the herte." / Wherfore us oghte, as wel in the deeth of our children as in the losse of our goodes temporels, have pacience, /

T. §§ 3-8.

§ 7. Remembre yow up-on the pacient Job, whan he hadde lost his children and his temporel substance, and in his body endured and receyved ful many a grevous tribulacioun ; yet seyde he thus : / " our lord hath yeven it me, our lord hath biraft it me ; right as our lord hath wold, right so it is doon; blessed be the name of our lord."'/ To thise foreseide thinges 21 answerde Melibeus un-to his wyf Prudence : 'Alle thy wordes,' quod he, 'been sothe, and ther-to profitable ; but trewely myn herte is troubled with this sorwe so grevously, that I noot what to done.' / 'Lat calle,' quod Prudence, 'thy trewe freendes alle, and thy linage whiche that been wyse; telleth your cas, and herkneth what they seve in conseiling, and yow governe after hir sentence. / Salomon seith : " werk alle thy thinges by conseil, and thou shalt never repente."' /

§ 8. Thanne, by the conseil of his wyf

Prudence, this Melibeus leet callen a greet congregacionn of folk; / as surgiens, phisiciens, olde folk and yonge, and somme of hise olde enemys reconsiled as by hir semblaunt to his love and in-to his 2195 grace; / and ther-with-al ther comen somme of hise neighebores that diden him reverence more for drede than for love, as it happeth ofte. / Ther comen also ful many subtile flatereres, and wyse advocats lerned in the lawe. /

§ 9. And whan this folk togidre assembled weren, this Melibens in sorreful wyse shewed hen his cas; / and by the manere of his speche it semed that in herte he bar a cruel ire, redy to don vengeaunce up-on hise foos, and sodeynly desired that the werre sholde biginne; / but nathelees yet axed he hir conseil upon 2x00 this matero. / A surgien, by licence and assent of swiche as weren wyse, up roos assent of switche hs weren wyse, up roos and un-to Melibeus seyde as ye may here. /

§ 10. 'Sir,' quod he, 'as to us surgiens aperteneth, that we do to every wight the beste that we can, wher-as we been withholde, and to our pacients that we do no damage; / wherfore it happeth, many tyme and ofte, that whan twey men han everich wounded other, oon same surgien heleth hem bothe; / wherefore un to our parties to supporte. / But certes, as to the warisshinge of your doghter, al-be-it so that she perilously be wounded, we shullen do so ententif bisinesse fro day to night, that with the grace of god she shal be hool and sound as sone as is

2205 possible.' / Almost right in the same wyso the phisiciens answerden, save that they seyden a fewo wordes more: / 'That, right as maladyes been cured by hir contraries, right so shul men warisshe werre by vengeaunce.' / His neighebores, ful of envye, his feyned freendes that semeden reconsiled, and his flatereres, / maden semblant of weping, and empeireden and agreggeden nuchel of this matere, in preising greetly Melibee of might, of power, of richesse, and of freendes, despysinge the power of his adversaries, / and seiden outrely that he anon sholde wreken him on his foos and biginne werre. /

§ 11. Up roos thanne an advocat that was wys, by leve and by conseil of othere that were wyse, and seyde : / ' Lordinges, the nede for which we been assembled in this place is a ful hevy thing and an heigh matere, / by-cause of the wrong and of the wikkednesse that hath be doon, and eek by resoun of the grete damages that in tyme cominge been possible to fallen for this same cause; / and eek by resoun of the grete richesse and power of the parties bothe; / for the whiche resouns it were a ful greet peril to erren in this matere. / Wherfore, 2215 Melibeus, this is our sentence ; we conseille yow aboven alle thing, that right anon thou do thy diligence in kepinge of thy propre persone, in swich a wyse that thou ne wante noon espye ne wacche, thy body for to save. / And after that we conseille, that in thyn hous thou sette suffisant garnisoun, so that they may as wel thy body as thyn hous defende. / But certes, for to moeve werre, or sodeynly for to doon vengeaunce, we may nat demen in so litel tyme that it were profitable, / Wherfore we axen leyser and espace to have deliberacioun in this cas to deme. / For the commune proverbe seith thus: "he that sone demeth, sone shal repente." / And eek men seyn that 2220 thilke juge is wys, that sone understondeth a matere and juggeth by leyser. / For al-be-it so that alle tarying be anoyful, algates it is nat to repreve in yevinge of jugement, ne in vengeancetaking, whan it is suffisant and resonable. / And that shewed our lord Jesu Crist by ensample; for whan that the womman that was taken in avoutrie was broght in his presence, to knowen what sholde be doon with hir persone, al-be-it so that he wiste wel him-self what that he wolde answere, yet ne wolde he nat answere sodeynly, but he wolde have deliberacioun, and in the ground he wroot twyes. / And by thise causes we axen deliberacioun, and we shal thanne, by the grace of god, conseille thee thing that shal be profitable.'/

§ 12. Up stirten thanne the yonge folk atomes, and the moste partie of that companye han scorned the olde wyse men, and bigonnen to make noyse, and 2225 seyden : that, / right so as whyl that iren is hook, men sholden smyte, right so, men sholde wreken hir wronges whyle that they been fresshe and newe; and with loud voys they cryden, 'werre' werre'!'/

Up roos tho oon of thise olde wyse, and with his hand made contenance that men sholde holden hem stille and yeven him audience. / 'Lordinges,' quod he, 'ther is ful many a man that cryeth "werre ! werre !" that woot ful litel what werre amounteth. / Werre at his biginning hath so greet an entree and so large, that every wight may entre whan him lyketh, and lightly finde werre. / But, certes, what ende that shal ther-of

2230 bifalle, it is nat light to knowe. / For. sothly, whan that werre is ones bigonne, ther is ful many a child unborn of his moder, that shal sterve yong by-cause of that ilke werre, or elles live in sorwe and dye in wrecchednesse. / And ther-fore, er that any werre biginne, men moste have greet conseil and greet deliberacioun,'/ And whan this olde man wende to enforcen his tale by resons, wel ny alle at-ones bigonne they to ryse for to breken his tale, and beden him ful ofte his wordes for to abregge. / For soothly, he that precheth to hem that listen nat heren his wordes, his sermon hem anoyeth. / For Jesus Syrak seith : that 'musik in wepinge is anoyous thing'; this is to seyn: as muche availleth to speken bifore folk to whiche his speche anoyeth, as dooth to singe

2235 biforn him that wepeth / And whan this wyse man saugh that him wanted audience, al shamefast he sette him down agayn. / For Salomon seith: 'theras thou ne mayst have noon audience, enforce thee nat to speke.'/ 'I see wel,' quod this wyse man, 'that the commune proverbe is sooth; that "good conseil wanteth whan it is most nede."'/ § 13. Yet hadde this Melibeus in his conseil many folk, that prively in his ere conseilled him certeyn thing, and conseilled him the contrarie in general audience. /

Whan Melibeus hadde herd that the gretteste partie of his conseil weren accorded that he sholde maken werre. anoon he consented to hir conseilling. and fully affermed hir sentence. / Thanne 224 dame Prudence, whan that she saugh how that hir housbonde shoop him for to wreken him on his foos, and to biginne werre, she in ful humble wyse, when she saugh hir tyme, seide him thise wordes : / 'My lord,' quod she, 'I yow biseche as hertely as I dar and can, ne haste yow nat to faste, and for alle guerdons as yeveth me audience. / For Piers Alfonce seith : "who-so that dooth to that other good or harm, haste thee nat to quyten it; for in this wyse thy freend wol abyde, and thyn enemy shal the lenger live in drede." / The proverbe seith : "he hasteth wel that wysely can abyde"; and in wikked haste is no profit.'/

§ 14. This Melibee answerde un-to his wyf Prudence : 'I purpose nat,' quod he, ' to werke by thy conseil, for many causes and resouns. For certes every wight wolde holde me thanne a fool; / this is 224; to seyn, if I, for thy conseilling, wolde chaungen thinges that been ordeyned and affermed by so manye wyse. / Secoundly I seye, that alle wommen been wikke and noon good of hem alle. For "of a thousand men," seith Salomon, "I fond a good man : but certes, of alle wommen, good womman fond I never."/ And also certes, if I governed me by thy conseil, it sholde seme that I hadde yeve to thee over me the maistrie; and god forbede that it so were. / For Jesus Syrak seith; "that if the wyf have maistrie, she is contrarious to hir housbonde." / And Salomon seith : "never in thy lyf, to thy wyf, ne to thy child, ne to thy freend, ne yeve no power over thyself. For bettre it were that thy children aske of thy persone thinges that hem nedeth, than thou see thy-self in the

T. §§ 12-14.

2250 handes of thy children."/ And also, if I wolde worke by thy conseilling, certes my conseilling moste som tyme be secree, til it were tyme that it moste be knowe; and this ne may noght be. / [+For it is writen, that " the janglerie of wommen can hyden thinges that they witen noght." / Furthermore, the philosophre seith, "in wikked conseil wommen venquisshe men"; and for thise resons I ne ow nat usen thy conseil.]/

§ 15. Whanne dame Prudence, ful debonairly and with greet pacience, hadde herd al that hir housbonde lyked for to seye, thanne axed she of him licence for to speke, and seyde in this wyse. / ' My lord,' quod she, 'as to your firste resoun, eertes it may lightly been answered. For I seye, that it is no folie to chaunge conseil whan the thing is chaunged; or elles whan the thing 225 semeth otherweyes than it was biforn. /

And more-over I seye, that though ye han sworn and bihight to perfourne your emprise, and nathelees ye weyve to perfourne thilke same emprise by juste cause, men sholde nat seyn therefore that ve were a lver ne forsworn, / For the book seith, that "the wyse man maketh no lesing whan he turneth his corage to the bettre." / And al-be-it so that your emprise be establissed and ordeyned by greet multitude of folk, yet thar ye nat accomplice thilke same ordinaunce but yow lyke. / For the trouthe of thinges and the profit been rather founden in fewe folk that been wyse and ful of resoun, than by greet multitude of folk, ther every man cryeth and clatereth what that him lyketh. Soothly swich multitude is nat honeste. / As to the seconde resoun, where-as ye seyn that "alle wommen been wikke," save your grace, certes ye despysen alle wommen in this wyse; and "he that alle despyseth alle 2260 displeseth," as seith the book. / And Senek seith that "who-so wole have sapience, shal no man dispreise; but he shal gladly techen the science that he can, with-outen presumpcioun or pryde. / And swiche thinges as he nought ne can, he shal nat been ashamed to lerne hem and enquere of lasse folk than him-self."/ And sir, that ther hath been many a good womman, may lightly be preved./ For certes, sir, our lord Jesu Crist wolde never have descended to be born of a womman, if alle wommen hadden ben wikke. / And after that, for the grete bountee that is in wommen, our lord Jesu Crist, whan he was risen fro deeth to lyve, appeered rather to a womman than to his apostles. / And though that 2265 Salomon seith, that "he ne fond never womman good," it folweth nat therfore that alle wommen ben wikke. / For though that he ne fond no good womman, certes, ful many another man hath founden many a womman ful good and trewe. / Or elles per-aventure the entente of Salomon was this; that, as in sovereyn bountee, he fond no womman ; / this is to seyn, that ther is no wight that hath sovereyn bountee save god allone; as he him-self recordeth in his Evaungelie. / For ther nis no creature so good that him ne wanteth somwhat of the perfeccioun of god, that is his maker. / 2270 Your thridde resoun is this : ye seyn that "if ye governe yow by my conseil, it sholde seme that ye hadde yeve me the maistrie and the lordshipe over your persone."/ Sir, save your grace, it is nat so. For if it were so, that no man sholde be conseilled but only of hem that hadden lordshipe and maistrie of his persone, men wolden nat be conseilled so ofte. / For soothly, thilke man that asketh conseil of a purpos, yet hath he free chois, wheither he wole werke by that conseil or noon. / And as to your fourthe resoun, ther ye sevn that "the janglerie of wommen hath hid thinges that they woot noght," as who seith, that "a womman can nat hyde that she woot"; / sir, thise wordes been understonde of wommen that been jangleresses and wikked; / of whiche wom- 2275 men, men seyn that "three thinges dryven a man out of his hous; that is to seyn, smoke, dropping of reyn, and wikked wyves"; / and of swiche wommen seith Salomon, that "it were bettre dwelle in desert, than with a womman that is riotous." / And sir, by your leve, that am nat I; / for ye han ful ofte assayed my grete silence and my gret pacience; and eek how wel that I can hyde and hele thinges that men oghte secreely to hyde. / And soothly, as to your fifthe resoun, wher-as ye seyn, that "in wikked conseil wommen venquisshe men"; god woot, thilke resoun stant 22So here in no stede. / For understond now, ye asken conseil to do wikkednesse; /and if ye wole werken wikkednesse, and your wyf restreyneth thilke wikked purpos, and overcometh yow by resoun and by good conseil; / certes, your wyf oghte rather to be preised than y-blamed. / Thus sholde ye understonde the philosophre that seith, "in wikked conseil wommen venquisshen hir housbondes." / And ther-as ye blamen alle wommen and hir resouns, I shal shewe yow by manye ensamples that many a womman hath ben ful good, and yet been; and hir 2285 conseils ful hoolsome and profitable. /

Eek som men han seyd, that "the conseillinge of wommen is outher to dere, or clles to litel of prys." / But al-be-it so, that ful many a womman is badde, and hir conseil vile and noght worth, yet han men founde ful many a good womman, and ful discrete and wise in conseillinge. / Lo, Jacob, by good conseil of his moder Rebekka, wan the benisoun of Ysaak his fader, and the lordshipe over alle his bretheren. / Judith, by hir good conseil, delivered the citee of Bethulie, in which she dwelled, out of the handes of Olofernus, that hadde it biseged and wolde have al destroyed it. / Abigail delivered Nabal hir housbonde fro David the king, that wolde have slavn him, and apaysed the ire of the king by hir wit and by hir

2200 good conseilling./ Hester by hir good conseil enhaunced greetly the peple. of god in the regne of Assuerus the king./ And the same bountee in good conseilling of many a good womman may men telle./ And moreover, whan our lord hadde creat Adam our forme-fader, he seyde in this wyse:/ "it is nat good to been a man allone: make we to him an help semblable to himself." / Here may ye se that, if that wommen were nat goode, and hir conseils goode and profitable, / our lord 220; god of hevene wolde never han wroght hem, ne called hem help of man, but rather confusioun of man. / And ther seyde ones a clerk in two vers : "what is bettre than gold ? Jaspre. What is bettre than jaspre? Wisdom. / And what is bettre than wisdom? Womman. And what is bettre than a good womman? No-thing." / And sir, by manye of othre resons may ye seen, that manye wommen been goode, and hir conseils goode and profitable. / And therfore sir, if ye wol triste to my conseil, I shal restore yow your doghter hool and sound. / And eek 230 I wol do to yow so muche, that ye shul have honour in this cause.' /

§ 16. Whan Melibee hadle herd the wordes of his wyf Prudence, he seyde thus: / 'I see wel that the word of Salomon is sooth; he seith, that "wordes that been spoken discreetly by ordinance, been honycombes; for they yeven swetnesse to the soule, and hoolsomnesse to the body." / And wyf, by-cause of thy swete wordes, and eek for I have assayed and proved thy grete sapience and thy grete trouthe, I wol governe me by thy conseil in alle thing: /

§ 17. 'Now sir,' quod dame Prudence, 'and sin ye vouche-sauf to been governed by my conseil, I wol enforme yow how ye shul governe your-self in chesinge of your conseillours. / Ye shul first, in alle your 230 werkes, mekely biseken to the heighe god that he wol be your conseillour; / and shapeth yow to swich entente, that he yeve yow conseil and confort, as taughte Thobie his sone : / "at alle tymes thou shalt blesse god, and praye him to dresse thy weyes"; and looke that alle thy conseils been in him for evermore. / Seint Jame eek seith: "if any of yow have nede of sapience, axe it of god." / And afterward thanne shul ye taken conseil in your-self, and examine wel your thoghtes, of swich thing as yow thinketh that is best for your profit. / And thanne 231 shul ye dryve fro your herte three thinges that been contrariouse to good consell, / that is to seyn, ire, coveitise, and hastifnesse. /

§ 18. First, he that axeth conseil of him-self, certes he moste been with-outen ire, for manye causes. / The firste is this: he that hath greet ire and wratthe in him-self, he weneth alwey that he may do thing that he may nat do. / And secoundely, he that is irous and wroth, 315 he ne may nat wel deme; / and he that may nat wel deme, may nat wel conseille. / The thridde is this; that "he that is irous and wrooth," as seith Senek, "nemay nat speke but he blamethinges";/ and with his viciouse wordes he stireth other folk to angre and to ire. / And eek sir, ye moste dryve coveitise out of your herte. / For the apostle seith, that

330 "coveitise is rote of alle harmes." / And trust wel that a coveitous man ne can noght deme ne thinke, but only to fulfille the ende of his coveitise; / and certes, that ne may never been accompliced; for ever the more habundanuce that he hath of richesse, the more he desyreth. / And sir, ye moste also dryve out of your herte hastifnesse; for certes, / ye ne may nat deme for the beste a sodeyn thought that falleth in youre herte, but ye moste avyse yow on it ful ofte. / For as ye herde biforn, the commune proverbe is this, that "he that sone demeth, sone 325 repenteth." /

§ 19. Sir, ye ne be nat alwey in lyke disposicioun; / for certes, som thing that somtyme semeth to yow that it is good for to do, another tyme it semeth to yow the contrarie. /

§ 20. Whan ye han taken conseil in your-self, and han demed by good deliberacion swich thing as you semeth best, / thanne rede I yow, that ye kepe it secree. / Biwrey nat your conseil to no persone, but-if so be that ye wenen sikcrly that, thurgh your biwreying, your condicioun shal be to yow the more '330 profitable. / For Jesus Syrak seith: "neither to thy foo ne to thy freend discovere nat thy secree ne thy folie; /

for they wol yeve yow audience and loking and supportacioun in thy presence. and scorne thee in thyn absence." / Another clerk seith, that "scarsly shalton finden any persone that may kepe conseil secreely." / The book seith : "whyl that thou kepest thy conseil in thyn herte, thou kepest it in thy prisoun :/ and whan thou biwrevest thy conseil to any wight, he holdeth thee in his snare." / And therefore yow is bettre 2335 to hyde your conseil in your herte, than praye him, to whom ye han biwreyed your conseil, that he wole kepen it cloos and stille. / For Seneca seith : "if so be that thou ne mayst nat thyn owene conseil hyde, how darstou prayen any other wight thy conseil secreely to kepe?" / But nathelees, if thou wene sikerly that the biwreying of thy conseil to a persone wol make thy condicioun to stonden in the bettre plyt, thanne shaltou tellen him thy conseil in this wyse. / First, thou shalt make no semblant whether thee were lever pees or werre, or this or that, ne shewe him nat thy wille and thyn entente; / for trust wel, that comunly thise conseillours been flatereres, / namely the conseillours of grete 2340 lordes; / for they enforcen hem alwey rather to speken plesante wordes, enclyninge to the lordes lust, than wordes that been trewe or profitable. / And therfore men seyn, that "the riche man hath seld good conseil but-if he have it of himself." / And after that, thou shalt considere thy freendes and thyne enemys. / And as touchinge thy freendes, thou shalt considere whiche of hem been most feithful and most wyse, and eldest and most approved in conseilling. / And of 2345 hem shalt thou aske thy conseil, as the caas requireth. /

§ 21. I seve that first ye shul depe to your conseil your freendes that been trewe. / For Salomon seith : that "right as the herte of a man delyteth in savour that is soic, right so the conseil of trewe freendes yeveth swetenesse to the soule."/ He seith also : "ther may no-thing be lykened to the trewe freend."/ For certes, gold ne silver beth nat so muche 2350 worth as the gode wil of a trewe freend. / And eek he seith, that "a trewe freend is a strong deffense; who-so that it findeth, certes he findeth a greet tresour." / Thanne shul ye eek considere, if that your trewe freendes been discrete and wyse. For the book seith : "axe alwey thy conseil of hem that been wyse." / And by this same resoun shul ye clepen to your conseil, of your freendes that been of age, swiche as han seyn and been expert in manye thinges, and been approved in conseillinges. / For the book seith, that "in olde men is the sapience and in longe tyme the prudence." / And Tullius seith : that "grete thinges ne been nat ay accompliced by strengthe, ne by delivernesse of body, but by good conseil, by auctoritee of persones, and by science; the whiche three thinges ne been nat feble by age, but certes they enforcen and encreesen day 2355 by day." / And thanne shul ye kepe this for a general reule. First shul ye clepen to your conseil a fewe of your freendes that been especiale; / for Salomon seith : "manye freendes have thou ; but among a thousand chese thee oon to be thy conseillour." / For al-be-it so that thou first ne telle thy conseil but to a fewe, thou mayst afterward telle it to mo folk, if it be nede. / But loke alwey that thy conseillours have thilke three condiciouns that I have sevd bifore : that is to seyn, that they be trewe, wyse, and of old experience. / And werke nat alwey in every nede by oon counseillour allone; for somtyme bihoveth it to been 2360 conseilled by manye. / For Salomon seith : "salvacioun of thinges is wher-as ther been manye conseillours." /

§ 22. Now sith that I have told yow of which folk ye sholde been counseilled, now wol I teche yow which conseil ye oghte to eschewe. / First ye shul eschewe the conseilling of foles; for Salomon seith : "taak no conseil of a fool, for he ne can noght conseille but after his owene lust and his affeccioun." / The book seith : that "the propretee of a fool is this: he troweth lightly harm of every wight, and lightly troweth alle bountee in himself." / Thou shalt eek eschewe the conseilling of alle flatereres, swiche as enforcen hem rather to preise your persone by flaterye than for to telle yow the sothfastnesse of thinges. /

§ 23. Wherfore Tullius seith : "amonges alle the pestilences that been in freendshipe, the gretteste is flaterye." And therfore is it more nede that thou eschewe and drede flatereres than any other peple. / The book seith : "thou shalt rather drede and flee fro the swete wordes of flateringe preiseres, than fro the egre wordes of thy freend that seith thee thy sothes." / Salomon seith, that "the wordes of a flaterere is a snare to cacche with innocents." / He seith also, that "he that speketh to his freend wordes of swetnesse and of plesaunce, setteth a net biforn his feet to cacche him." / And therfore seith Tullius : "enclyne nat thyne eres to flatereres, ne taketh no conseil of wordes of flaterye." / And Caton seith : "avyse 237 thee wel, and eschewe the wordes of swetnesse and of plesaunce." / And eek thou shalt eschewe the conseilling of thyne olde enemys that been reconsiled. / The book seith: that "no wight retourneth saufly in-to the grace of his olde enemy." / And Isope seith : "ne trust nat to hem to whiche thou hast had som-tyme werre or enmitee, ne telle hem nat thy conseil." / And Seneca telleth the cause why. "It may nat be," seith he, "that, where greet fyr hath longe tyme endured, that ther ne dwelleth som vapour of warmnesse." / And 237 therfore seith Salomon : "in thyn olds foo trust never." / For sikerly, though thyn enemy be reconsiled and maketh thee chere of humilitee, and louteth to thee with his heed, ne trust him never. / For certes, he maketh thilke feyned humilitee more for his profit than for any love of thy persone; by-cause that he demeth to have victorie over thy persone by swich feyned contenance, the which victorie he mighte nat have by stryf or werre. / And Peter Alfonce seith : "make no felawshipe with thyne olde enemys; for if thou do hem bountee, they wol perverten it in-to wikkednesse." / And eek thou most eschewe the conseilling of hem that been thy servants, and beren thee greet reverence; for peraventure they 380 seyn it more for drede than for love. / And therfore seith a philosophre in this wyse: "ther is no wight parfitly trewe to him that he to sore dredeth." / And Tullius seith : "ther nis no might so greet of any emperour, that longe may endure, but-if he have more love of the peple than drede." / Thou shalt also eschewe the conseiling of folk that been dronkelewe; for they ne can no conseil hyde. / For Salomon seith : "ther is no privetee ther-as regneth dronkenesse." / Ye shul also han in suspect the conseilling of swich folk as conseille yow a thing prively, and conseille yow 385 the contrarie openly. / For Cassidorie seith : that "it is a maner sleighte to hindre, whan he sheweth to doon a thing openly and werketh prively the contrarie." / Thou shalt also have in suspect the conseilling of wikked folk. For the the conseiling of wikked folk. For the book seith: "the conseiling of wikked folk is alwey ful of fraude:" / And David seith: "blishul is that man that hath nat folwed the conseiling of shrews." / Thou shalt also eschewe the conseiling of yong folk; for hir conseil is nat rype. / § 24. Now sir, sith I have shewed yow of which folk ye shul take your conseil, and of which folk ye shul folwe the 2390 conseil, / now wol I teche yow how ye shal examine your conseil, after the doctrine of Tullius. / In the examininge thanne of your conseillour, ye shul considere manye thinges. / Alderfirst thou shalt considere, that in thilke thing that thou purposest, and upon what thing thou wolt have conseil, that verray trouthe be seyd and conserved; this is to seyn, telle trewely thy tale. / For he that seith fals may nat wel be conseilled, in that cas of which he lyeth. / And after this, thou shalt considere the thinges that acorden to that thou purposest for to do by thy conseillours, if resoun may atteine ther-to; and if the more part and the bettre part of thy conseillours acorde ther-to, or no. / Thanne shalton considere what thing shal folwe of that conseilling; as hate, pees, werre, grace, profit, or damage; and manye othere thinges. 7 And in alle thise thinges thou shalt chese the beste, and weyve alle othere thinges. / Thanne shaltow considere of what rote is engendred the matere of thy conseil, and what fruit it may conceyve and engendre. / Thou shalt eek considere alle thise causes, fro whennes they been sprongen. / And 2400 whan ye han examined your conseil as I have seyd, and which partie is the bettre and more profitable, and hast approved it by manye wyse folk and olde ; / thanne shaltou considere, if thou mayst parfourne it and maken of it a good ende. / For certes, resoun wol nat that any man sholde biginne a thing, but-if he mighte parfourne it as him oghte. / Ne no wight sholde take up-on hym so hevy a charge that he mighte nat bere it. / For the proverbe seith : "he that to muche embraceth, distreyneth litel." / And Catoun seith : " assay 2405 to do swich thing as thou hast power to doon, lest that the charge oppresse thee so sore, that thee bihoveth to weyve thing that thou hast bigonne." / And if so be that thou be in doute, whether thou mayst parfourne a thing or noon, chese rather to suffre than biginne. / And Piers Alphonce seith : "if thou hast might to doon a thing of which thou most repente thee, it is bettre 'nay' than 'ye';"/ this is to seyn, that thee is bettre holde thy tonge stille, than for to speke. / Thanne may ye understonde by strenger resons, that if thou hast power to parfourne a werk of which thou shalt repente, thanne is it bettre that thou suffre than biginne. / Wel seyn 2410 they, that defenden every wight to assaye any thing of which he is in doute, whether he may parfourne it or no. / And after, whan ye han examined your conseil as I have seyd biforn, and knowen accorde therto; / and eek, if thy might 2395

T. § 24.

wel that ye may parfourne youre emprise, conferme it thanne sadly til it be at an ende. /

§ 25. Now is it resoun and tyme that I shewe yow, whanne, and wherfore, that ye may chaunge your conseil with-outen your repreve. / Soothly, a man may chaungen his purpos and his conseil if the cause cesseth, or whan a newe caas bitydeth. / For the lawe seith: that "upon thinges that newely bityden

2415 bihoveth newe conseil."/ And Senek seith: "if thy conseil is comen to the eres of thyn cnemy, chaunge thy conseil." / Thou mayst also chaunge thy conseil if so be that thou finde that, by errour or by other cause, harm or damage may bityde. / Also, if thy conseil be dishonest, or elles cometh of dishoneste cause, chaunge thy conseil. / For the lawes seyn: that "alle bihestes that been dishoneste been of no value." / And eek, if it so be that it be impossible, or 2400 may nat poolly be parfourned or kept. /

§ 26. And take this for a general reule, that every conseil that is affermed so strongly that it may nat be chaunged, for no condicioun that may bityde, I seve that thilks conseil is wikked.'/

§ 27. This Melibeus, whanne he hadde herd the doctrine of his wyf dame Prudence, answerde in this wyse. / 'Dame,' quod he, 'as yet in-to this tyme ye han wel and coverably taught me as in general, how I shal governe me in the chesinge and in the withholdinge of my conseillours. / But now wolde I fayn that ye wolde condescende in cspecial, / and telle me how lyketh yow, or what semeth yow, by our conseillours that we han chosen in our 2425 present nede.' /

§ 23. 'My lord,' quod she, 'I biseke yow in al humblesse, that ye wol nat wilfully replye agayn my resound, ne distempre your herte thogh I speke thing that yow displese. / For god wot that, as in myn entente, I speke it for your beste, for your honour and for your profile eke. / And south, I hope that your beingnitee wol takkni it in pacience./ Trusteth me wel,' quod she, 'that your conseil as in this caas ne sholde nat, as to speke properly, be called a conseilling, but a mocionn or a moevyng of folye; / in which conseil ye han erred in many a sondry wyse. / 2430

§ 29. First and forward, ye han erred in th'assemblinge of your conseillours. / For ye sholde first have cleped a fewe folk to your conseil, and after ye mighte han shewed it to mo folk, if it hadde been nede. / But certes, ye han sodeynly cleped to your conseil a greet multitude of peple, fal chargeant and ful anoyous for to here, / Also ye han erred, for there-as ye sholden only have cleped to your conseil your trewe freendes olde and wyse, / ye han y-cleped straunge folk, and yong folk, false flatereres, and enemys reconsiled, and folk that doon vow reverence withouten love. / And eek 2435 also ve have erred, for ve han broght with yow to your conseil ire, covetise, and hastifnesse; / the whiche three thinges been contrariouse to every conseil honeste and profitable; / the whiche three thinges ye han nat anientissed or destroyed hem, neither in your-self ne in your conseillours, as yow oghte. / Ye han erred also, for ye han shewed to your conseillours your talent, and your affeccioun to make werre anon and for to do vengeance; / they han espyed by your wordes to what thing ye been enclyned. / And therfore han they 2440 rather conseilled yow to your talent than to your profit. / Ye han erred also, for it semeth that yow suffyseth to han been conseilled by thise conseillours only, and with litel avys; / wher-as, in so greet and so heigh a nede, it hadde been necessarie mo conseillours, and more deliberacioun to parfourne your emprise./ Ye han erred also, for ye han nat examined your conseil in the forseyde manere, ne in due manere as the caas requireth. / Ye han erred also, for ye han maked no divisioun bitwixe your conseillours; this is to seyn, bitwixen your trewe freendes and your feyned conseillours; / ne ye han nat knowe 2445

T. $$ 25-29.

the wil of your trewe freendes olde and wyse; / but ye han cast alle hir wordes in an hochepot, and enclyned your herte to the more part and to the gretter nombre; and there been ye condescended./ And sith ye wot well that men shal alwey finde a gretter nombre of foles than of wyse men, / and therfore the conseils that been at congregaciouns and multitudes of folk, there as men take more reward to the nombre than to the sapience of persones, / ye see well that in swiche conseillinges foles han the maisreys trie.'/ Melibeus answerde agayn, and

450 the / I graunts well that I have erred; / but ther-as thou hast told me heer-biforn, that he nis nat to blame that chaungeth hiss conseillours in certein caas, and for certeine juste causes, / I am al redy to chaunge my conseillours, right as thou wolt devyse. / The proverbe seith : that "for to do sinne is mannish, but certes for to persevere longe in sinne is werk of the devel."/

§ 30. To this sentence answerde anon 2455 dame Prudence, and seyde: / 'Examineth,' quod she, 'your conseil, and lat us see the whiche of hem han spoken most resonably, and taught yow best conseil, / And for-as-muche as that the examinacioun is necessarie, lat us biginne at the surgiens and at the phisiciens, that first speken in this matere. / I sey yow, that the surgiens and phisiciens han seyd yow in your conseil discreetly, as hem oughte: / and in hir speche seyden ful wysly, that to the office of hem aperteneth to doon to every wight honour and profit, and no wight for to anoye; / and, after hir craft, to doon greet diligence un-to the cure of hem whiche that

2460 they han in hir governance./ And sir, right as they han answered wysly and discreetly, / right so rede I that they been heighly and sovereynly guerdoned for hir noble speche; / and eek for they sholde do the more ententif bisinesse in the curacioun of your doghter dere. / For al-be-it so that they been your freendes, therfore shal ye nat suffren that they serve yow for noght; /

but ye oghte the rather guerdone hem and shewe hem your largesse. / And as 2465 touchings the proposicioun which that the phisiciens entreteden in this caas, this is to seyn, / that, in maladyes, that con contrarie is warisshed by another contrarie, / I wolde fayn knowe how ye understonde thilke text, and what is your sentence.' / 'Certes.' anod Melibeus. 'I understonde it in this wyse: / that, right as they han doon me a contrarie. right so sholde I doon hem another. / 2470 For right as they han venged hem on me and doon me wrong, right so shal I venge me upon hem and doon hem wrong; / and thanne have I cured oon contrarie by another.' /

§ 31. 'Lo, lo !' quod dame Prudence, 'how lightly is every man enclyned to his owene desyr and to his owene plesaunce ! / Certes,' quod she, 'the wordes of the phisiciens ne sholde nat han been understonden in this wyse. / For certes, wikkednesse is nat contrarie to wikkednesse, ne vengeaunce to vengeaunce, ne wrong to wrong; but they been semblable. / And therfore, o vengeaunce is nat 2475 warisshed by another vengeaunce, ne o wrong by another wrong; / but everich of hem encreesceth and aggreggeth other. / But certes, the wordes of the phisiciens sholde been understonden in this wyse : / for good and wikkednesse been two contraries, and pees and werre, vengeaunce and suffraunce, discord and accord, and manye othere thinges. / But certes, wikkednesse shal be warisshed by goodnesse, discord by accord, werre by pees, and so forth of othere thinges. / 24So And heer-to accordeth Seint Paul the apostle in manye places. / He seith : "ne yeldeth nat harm for harm, ne wikked speche for wikked speche ; / but do wel to him that dooth thee harm, and blesse him that seith to thee harm." / And in manye others places he amonesteth pees and accord. / But now wol I speke to yow of the conseil which that was yeven to yow by the men of laws and the wyse folk, / that seyden alle by oon 2485 accord as ye han herd bifore ; / that, over

T. §§ 32, 33.

alle thynges, ye sholde doon your diligence to kepen your persone and to warnestore your hous, / And seyden also, that in this caas ye oghten for to werken ful avysely and with greet deliberacioun. / And sir, as to the firste point, that toucheth to the keping of your persone; / ye shul understonde that he that hath werre shal evermore mekely 4400 and devoutly preven biforn alle thinges, /

- 2460 and devoluty preven bilorn alle thinges, / that Jesus Crist of his grete mercy wol han him in his proteccioun, and been his sovereyn helping at his nede. / For certes, in this world ther is no wight that may be conseilled ne kept suffisantly withouten the keping of our lord Jesu Crist. / To this sentence accordeth the prophete David, that seith : / " if god ne kepe the citee, in ydel waketh he that it kepeth." / Now sir, thanno shul ye committe the keping of your persone to your trewe freendes that been approved and
- 2495 y-knowe; / and of hem shul ye axen help your persone for to kepe. For Catoun seith: "if thou hast nede of help, axe it of thy freendes; / for ther nis noon so good a phisicien as thy trewe freend." / And after this, thanne shul ye kepe yow fro alle straunge folk, and fro lyeres, and have alwey in suspect hir companye. / For Piers Alfonce seith: "ne tak no companye by the weye of a straunge man, but-if so be that thou have knowe him of a lenger tyme. / And if so be that he falle in-to thy companye parawenture
- 2500 withouten thyn assent, / enquere thanne, as subtilly as thou mayst, of his conversacioun and of his lyf bifore, and feyne thy wey; seye that thou goost thider as thou wolt nat go; / and if he bereth a spere, hold thee on the right syde, and if he bere a swerd, hold thee on the lift syde," / And after this, thanne shul ye kepe yow wysely from alle swich manere peple as I have seyd bifore, and hem and hir conseil eschewe. / And after this, thanne shul ye kepe yow in swich manere, / that for any presumpcioun of your strengthe, that ye ne dispyse nat ne acounte nat the might of your adversarie so litel, that ye lete the keping of your persone for your pre-

sumpcioun; / for every wys man dredeth 25 his enemy. / And Salomon seith : "weleful is he that of alle hath drede; / for certes, he that thurgh the hardinesse of his herte and thurgh the hardinesse of him-self hath to greet presumpcioun, him shal yvel bityde." / Thanne shul ye evermore countrewayte embusshements and alle espiaille. / For Senek seith : that "the wyse man that dredeth harmes escheweth harmes; / ne he ne falleth in-to perils, that perils escheweth." / And al-be-it so 2; that it seme that thou art in siker place, yet shaltow alwey do thy diligence in kepinge of thy persone; / this is to seyn, ne be nat necligent to kepe thy persone, nat only fro thy gretteste enemys but fro thy leeste enemy. / Senek seith: "a man that is wel avysed, he dredeth his leste enemy." / Ovide seith : that "the litel wesele wol slee the grete bole and the wilde hert." / And the book seith : "a 2 litel thorn may prikke a greet king ful sore; and an hound wol holde the wilde boor." / But nathelees, I sey nat thou shalt be so coward that thou doute ther wher-as is no drede. /' The book seith : that "somme folk han greet lust to deceyve, but yet they dreden hem to be deceyved." / Yet shalton drede to been empoisoned, and kepe yow from the companye of scorneres. / For the book seith: "with scorneres make no companye, but flee hir wordes as venim." /

§ 32. Now as to the seconde point, wher-as your wyse conseillours conseilled yow to warnestore your hons with gret diligence, / I wolde fayn knowe, how that ye understonde thilke wordes, and what is your sentence.'/

§ 33. Melibeus answerde and seyde, 'Certes I understande it in this wise; that I shal warnestore myn hous with toures, swiche as han castelles and othere manere edifices, and armure and artelleries, / by whiche thinges I may my persone and myn hous so kepen and defenden, that myne enemys shul been in drede myn hous for to approche.'/

§ 34. To this sentence answerde anon Prudence; 'warnestoring,' quod she, 'of heighe toures and of grete edifices apper-25 teneth som-tyme to pryde; / and eek men make heighe toures and grete edifices with grete costages and with greet travaille; and whan that they been accompliced, yet be they nat worth a stree, but-if they be defended by trewe freendes that been olde and wyse. / And understond wel, that the gretteste and strongeste garnison that a riche man may have, as wel to kepen his persone as hise goodes, is / that he be biloved amonges his subgets and with hise neighebores. / For thus seith Tullius : that "ther is a maner garnison that no man may venquisse ne disconfite, and that is, / a lord to be biloved of hise citezeins and of his 30 peple." /

§ 35. Now sir, as to the thridde point; wher-as your olde and wise conseillours seyden, that yow no ophte nat sodoynly ne hastily proceden in this nede, / but that yow oghte purveyen and apparalllen yow in this caas with greet diligence and greet deliberacioun; / trewely, I trowe that they seyden right wysly and right sooth, / For Tullius seith, 'in every nede, er thou biginne it, apparaille thee with greet diligence." / Thanne seye I, that in vengeance-taking, in werre, in $55 bataille, and in warnestoring, / er thow biginne, I rede that thou apparaille thee ther-to, and do it with greet delibera-

thereo, and do it with greet deliberacion. / For Tullius seith: that "long apparailling biforn the bataille maketh short victorie." / And Cassidorus seith: "the garnison is stronger whan it is longe tyme avysed." /

§ 86. But now lat us speken of the conseil that was accorded by your neighebores, swiche as doon yow reverence withouten love, / your olde enemys reconto siled, your flatereres / that conseilled yow certeyne thinges prively, and openly conseilleden yow the contrarie ; / the yonge folk also, that conseilleden yow to venge yow and make werre anon. / And certes, sir, as I have seyd biforn, ye han greetly erred to han cleped swich maner folk to your conseil; / which conseillours been y-nogh repreved by the resouns aforeseyd. / But nathelees, lat us now descende to the special. Ye shuln first procede after the doctrine of Tullius. / 2545 Certes, the trouthe of this matere or of this conseil nedeth nat diligently enquere; / for it is wel wist whiche they been that han doon to yow this trespas and vileinye, / and how manye trespassours, and in what manere they han to yow doon al this wrong and al this vileinye. / And after this, thanne shul ye examine the seconde condicioun, which that the same Tullius addeth in this matere. / For Tullius put a thing, which that he clepeth "consentinge," this is to seyn; / who been they and how manye, 2550 and whiche been they, that consenteden to thy conseil, in thy wilfulnesse to doon hastif vengeance. / And lat us considere also who been they, and how manye been they, and whiche been they, that consenteden to your adversaries. / And certes, as to the firste poynt, it is wel knowen whiche folk been they that consenteden to your hastif wilfulnesse; / for trewely, alle tho that conseilleden yow to maken sodeyn werre ne been nat your freendes. / Lat us now considere whiche been they, that ye holde so greetly your freendes as to your persone. / For 2555 al-be-it so that ye be mighty and riche, certes ye ne been nat but allone. / For certes, ye ne han no child but a doghter; / ne ye ne han bretheren ne cosins germayns, ne noon other neigh kinrede, / wherfore that your enemys, for drede, sholde stinte to plede with yow or to destroye your persone. / Ye knowen also, that your richesses moten been dispended in diverse parties; / and whan 2560 that every wight hath his part, they ne wollen taken but litel reward to venge thy deeth. / But thyne enemys been three, and they han manie children, bretheren, cosins, and other ny kinrede ; / and, though so were that thou haddest slayn of hem two or three, yet dwellen ther y-nowe to wreken hir deeth and to slee thy persone. / And though so be that your kinrede be more siker and stedefast than the kin of your adversarie, / yet nathelees your kinrede nis but a fer kinrede; they been but litel sib

- 2565 to yow, / and the kin of your, enemys been ny sib to hem. And certes, as in that, hir condicioun is bet than youres. / Thanne lat us consider also if the conseilling of hem that conseilleden yow to taken sodeyn vengeaunce, whether it accorde to resour? / And certes, ye knowe wel "nay." / For as by right and resoun, ther may no man taken vengeance on no wight, but the juge that hath the jurisdiccioun of it, / whan it is graunted him to take thilko vengeance, hastily or
- 2570 attemprely, as the lawe requireth. / And yet more-over, of thilke word that Tullius clepeth "consentinge," / thou shalt considere if thy might and thy power may consenten and suffyse to thy wilfulnesse and to thy conseillours. / And certes, thou mayst wel seyn that "nay." / For sikerly, as for to speke proprely, we may do no-thing but only swich thing as we may doon rightfully. / And certes, rightfully ne mowe ye take no vengeance as of
- 2575 your propro autorities. / Thanne mowe ye seen, that your power ne consenteth nat ne accordeth nat with your wilfulnesse. / Lat us now examine the thridde point that Tullius clepeth "consequent."/ Thou shalt understonde that the vengeance that thou purposest for to take is the consequent. / And ther-of folweth another vengeaunce, peril, and werre; and othere damages with-oute nombre, of whiche we be nat war as at this tyme. / And as touchinge the fourthe point, that
- 2580 Tullius clepeth "engendringe,"/ thou shalt considere, that this wrong which that is doon to thee is engendred of the hate of thyne enemys;/ and of the vengeance-takinge upon that wolde engendre another vengeance, and muchel sorwe and wastinge of richesses, as I seydo./

§ 37. Now sir, as to the point that Tullus clepeth "causes," which that is the laste point, / thou shalt understonde that the wrong that thou hast receyved hath certeine causes, / whiche that clerkes clepen Oriens and Efficiens, and Causa longingua and Causa propingua; this is to seyn, the fer cause and the ny cause. / The fer cause is almighty god, 25 that is cause of alle thinges. / The neer cause is thy three enemys. / The cause accidental was hate. / The cause material been the fyve woundes of thy doghter. / The cause formal is the manere of hir werkinge, that broghten laddres and cloumben in at thy windowes. / The 2 cause final was for to slee thy doghter; it letted nat in as muche as in hem was. / But for to speken of the fer cause, as to what ende they shul come, or what shal finally bityde of hem in this caas, ne can I nat deme but by conjectinge and by supposinge. / For we shul suppose that they shul come to a wikked ende, / bycause that the Book of Decrees seith : "selden or with greet peyne been causes y-broght to good ende whanne they been baddely bigonne." /

§ 38. Now sir, if men wolde axe me, why that god suffred men to do yow this vileinye, certes, I can nat wel answere as for no sothfastnesse. / For th'apostle a soith, that " the sciences and the juggementz of our lord god almighty been ful depe; / ther may no man comprehende ne serchen hem suffisantly." / Nathelees, by certeyne presumptions and comjectinges, I holde and bileve / that god, which that is ful of justice and of rightwisnesse, hath suffred this bityde by juste cause resonable. /

§ 39. Thy name is Melibee, this is to seyn, "a man that drinketh hony." / at Thou hast y-dronke so muchel hony of swete temporel richesses and delices and honours of this world, / that thou art dronken; and hast forgeten Jesu Crist thy creatour; / thou ne hast natdoon to him swich honour and reverence as thee oughte. / Ne thou ne hast natwel y-taken kepe to the wordes of Ovide, that soith : / "under the hony of the godes of the body is hid the venim that sleeth the soule." / And Salomon seith, 2 suffyseth; / for if thou etc of it out of mesure, thou shalt spewe," and be nedy and povre. / And peraventure Crist hath thee in despit, and hath turned awey fro thee his face and hise eres of misericorde; / and also he hath suffred that thou hast been punisshed in the manere that thow hast y-trespassed. / Thou hast

6io doon sinne agayn our lord Crist; / for certes, the three enemys of mankinde, that is to seyn, the flessh, the feend, and the world, / thou hast suffred hem entre in-to thyn herte wilfully by the windowss of thy body, / and hast nat defended thyself suffisantly agayns hir assautes and hir temptaciouns, so that they han wounded thy soule in fyve places; / this is to seyn, the deedly sinnes that been entred in-to thyn herte by thy fyve wittes. / And in the same manere our lord Crist hath wold and suffred, that thy three enemys been entred in-to thyn hous 505 by the windowes, / and han y-wounded thy doghter in the fore-seyde manere.' / § 40. 'Certes,' quod Melibee, 'I see wel that ve enforce yow muchel by wordes to overcome me in swich manere, that I shal nat venge me of myne enemys; / shewinge me the perils and the yveles that mighten falle of this vengeance. / But who-so wolde considere in alle vengeances the perils and yveles that mighte sewe of vengeance-takinge, / a man wolde never 2620 take vengeance, and that were harm; / for by the vengeance-takinge been the wikked men dissevered fro the gode men. / And they that han wil to do wikkednesse restreyne hir wikked purpos, whan they seen the punissinge and chastysinge of the trespassours.' / [+And to this answerde dame Prudence : 'Certes,' seyde she, 'I graunte wel that of vengeaunce cometh muchel yvel and muchel good; / but vengeaunce-taking aperteneth nat unto everichoon, but only unto juges and unto hem that han jurisdiccioun upon the trespassours.] / And yet seye I more, that right as a singular persone sinneth in takinge vengeance of another 2625 man, / right so sinneth the juge if he do no vengeance of hem that it han deserved. / For Senek seith thus : "that maister," he seith, " is good that proveth shrewes." / And as Cassidore seith : "A man dredeth to do outrages, whan he woot and knoweth that it displeseth to the juges and sovereyns." / And another seith : "the juge that dredeth to do right, maketh men shrewes." / And Seint Paule the apostle seith in his epistle, whan he wryteth un-to the Romayns : that "the juges beren nat the spere with-outen cause;" / but they beren it to punisse 2630 the shrewes and misdoeres, and for to defende the gode men. / If ye wol thanne take vengeance of your enemys, ye shul retourne or have your recours to the juge that hath the jurisdiccion up-on hem; / and he shal punisse hem as the laws axeth and requyreth.' /

§ 41. 'A !' quod Melibee, 'this vengeance lyketh me no-thing. / I bithenke me now and take hede, how fortune hath norissed me fro my childhede, and hath holpen me to passe many a strong pus. / 2635 Now wol I assayen hir, trowinge, with goddes help, that she shal helpe me my shame for to venge.' /

§ 42. 'Certes,' quod Prudence, 'if ye wol werke by my conseil, ye shul nat assaye fortune by no wey; / ne ye shul nat lene or bowe unto hir, after the word of Senek : / for "thinges that been folily doon, and that been in hope of fortune, shullen never come to good ende." / And as the same Senek seith : " the more cleer and the more shyning that fortune is, the more brotil and the sonner broken she is." / Trusteth nat in hir, for she nis 2640 nat stidefast ne stable; / for whan thow trowest to be most seur or siker of hir help, she wol faille thee and deceyve thee. / And wheras ye seyn that fortune hath norissed yow fro your childhede, / I seve, that in so muchel shul ye tho lasse truste in hir and in hir wit. / For Senek seith : " what man that is norissed by fortune, she maketh him a greet fool." / Now thanne, sin ye desyre and 2645 axe vengeance, and the vengeance that is doon after the lawe and bifore the juge ne lyketh yow nat, / and the vengeance that is doon in hope of fortune is perilous and uncertein, / thanne have yee noon other remedie but for to have your recours unto the sovereyn juge that vengeth alle vileinyes and wronges; / and he shalvenge yow after that him-self witnesseth, wher-as he seith :/ " leveth 2650 the vengeance to me, and I shal do it."' / is the tenggate to find, an averta, 'if I are venged me nat of the vileinye that men han doon to me, / I sompne or warne hem that han doon to me that vileinye and alle othere, to do me another vileinye. / For it is writen: 'if thou take no vengeance of an old vileinye, thou sompnest thyne adversaries to do thee a newe vileinye.'' And also, for my suffrance, men wolden do to me so muchel vileinye, that I mighte neither bere it ne sustene; / and so sholde I been put and holden over

2655 lowe. / For men seyn: "in muchel suffringe shul manye thinges falle un-to thee whiche thou shalt nat mowe suffre."' /

§ 44. 'Certes,' quod Prudence, 'I graunte yow that over muchel suffraunce nis nat good ; / but yet ne folweth it nat ther-of, that every persone to whom men doon vileinye take of it vengeance; / for that aperteneth and longeth al only to the juges, for they shul venge the vileinyes and iniuries. / And ther-fore tho two auctoritees that ye han seyd above, been

- 2660 only understonden in the juges; / for whan they suffren over muchel the wronges and the vileinyes to be doon withouten punisshinge, / they sompne nat a man al only for to do newe wronges, but they comanden it. / Also a wys man seith : that "the juge that correcteth nat the sinnere comandeth and biddeth him do sinne." / And the juges and sovereyns mighten in hir land so muchel suffre of the shrewes and misdoeres, / that they sholden by swich suffrance, by proces of tyme, wexen of swich power and might, that they sholden putte out the juges
- 2665 and the sovereyns from hir places, / and atte laste maken hem lesen hir lordshipes. /

§ 45. But lat us now putte, that ye have leve to venge yow. / I seve ye been nat of might and power as now to venge yow. / For if ye wole maken comparisonn un-to the might of your adversaries, ye shul finde in manye thinges, that I have shewed yow er this, that hir condicioun is bettre than youres. / And therfore seye I, that it is good as now that ye suffre and be pacient. /

§ 46. Forther-more, ye knowen wel that, after the comune sawe, "it is a woodnesse a man to stryve with a strenger or a more mighty man than he is him-self; / and for to stryve with a man of evene strengthe, that is to seyn, with as strong a man as he, it is peril; / and for to stryve with a weyker man, it is folie." / And therfore sholde a man flee stryvinge as muchel as he mighte. / For Salomon seith : "it is a greet worship to a man to kepen him fro noyse and stryf." / And if it so 26 bifalle or happe that a man of gretter might and strengthe than thou art do thee grevaunce, / studie and bisie thee rather to stille the same grevaunce, than for to venge thee. / For Senek seith : that "he putteth him in greet peril that stryveth with a gretter man than he is him-self." / And Catoun seith : "if a man of hyer estaat or degree, or more mighty than thou, do thee anoy or grevaunce, suffre him; / for he that ones hath greved thee may another tyme releve thee and helpe." / Yet sette I 26 caas, ye have bothe might and licence for to venge yow. / I seye, that ther be ful manye thinges that shul restreyne yow of vengeance-takinge, / and make yow for to enclyne to suffre, and for to han pacience in the thinges that han been doon to yow. / First and foreward, if ye wole considere the defautes that been in your owene persone, / for whiche defautes god hath suffred yow have this tribulacioun, as I have seyd yow heer-biforn. / 20 For the poete seith, that "we oghte paciently taken the tribulacions that comen to us, whan we thinken and consideren that we han deserved to have hem." / And Seint Gregorie seith : that "whan a man considereth wel the nombre

of hise defautes and of his sinnes, / the peynes and the tribulaciouns that he suffreth semen the lesse un-to hym; / and in-as-muche as him thinketh hise sinnes more hevy and grevous, / in-somuche semeth his peyne the lighter and 6co the esier un-to him." / Also ye owen to enclyne and bowe your herte to take the pacience of our lord Jesu Crist, as seith seint Peter in hise epistles : / "Jesu Crist," he seith, "hath suffred for us, and yeven ensample to every man to folwe and sewe him ; / for he dide never sinne, ne never cam ther a vileinous word out of his mouth :/ whan men cursed him, he cursed hem noght; and whan men betten him, he manaced hem noght." / Also the grete pacience, which the seintes that been in paradys han had in tribulaciouns that they han y-suffred, 2695 with-outen hir desert or gilt, / oghte

machel stiren yow to pacience. / Forthermore, ye shold enforce yow to have pacience, / consideringe that the tribulacionns of this world but litel whyle endure, and sone passed been and goon. / And the joyo that a man seketh to have by pacience in tribulaciouns is perdurable, after that the apostle seith in his epistle: / "the joye of god," he seith, "is perdurable," that is 2700 to seyn, everlastinge. / Also troweth and bileveth stedefastly, that he nis nat wel y-norissed no wel y-taught, that can nat have pacience or wol nat receyve pacience. / For Salomon seith : that "the doctrine and the wit of a man is knowen by pacience." / And in another place he seith : that " he that is pacient governeth him by greet prudence." / And the same Salomon seith : "the angry and wrathful man maketh noyses, and the pacient man atempreth hem and stilleth." / He seith also: "it is more worth to be pacient 2705 than for to be right strong; / and he that may have the lordshipe of his owene herte is more to preyse, than he that by his force or strengthe taketh grete citees." / And therfore seith seint Jame in his epistle ; that "pacience is a greet vertu of perfeccioun."'/

§ 47. 'Certes,' quod Melibee, 'I graunto yow, dame Prudence, that pacience is a greet vertu of perfeccioun ;/ but every man may nat have the perfeccioun that ye seken; / ne I nam nat of the nombro of right parfite men, / for myn herte may 2710 never been in pees un-to the tyme it bo venged./ And al-be-it so that it was greet peril to myne enemys, to do mo a vileinye in takinge vengeance up-on me, / yet token they noon hede of the peril, but fulfilleden hir wikked wil and hir corage. / And therfore, me thinketh men oghten nat repreve me, though I putte me in a litel peril for to venge me, / and though I do a greet excesse, that is to seyn, that I venge oon outrage by 2715 another.' /

§ 48. 'A!' quod dame Prudence, 'yo seyn your wil and as yow lyketh ; / but in no caas of the world a man sholde nat doon outrage ne excesse for to vengen him. / For Cassidore seith: that "as yvel doth he that vengeth him by outrage, as he that doth the outrage." / And therfore ye shul venge yow after the ordre of right, that is to seyn by the lawe, and noght by excesse ne by outrage. / And also, if ye wol venge yow of the outrage of your adversaries in other maner than right comandeth, ye sinnen; / and 2720; therfore seith Senek : that "a man shall never vengen shrewednesse by shrewednesse." / And if ye seye, that right axeth a man to defenden violence by violence, and fighting by fighting, / certes ye seye sooth, whan the defense is doon anon with-outen intervalle or with-outen tarying or delay, / for to defenden him and nat for to vengen him. / And it bihoveth that a man putte swich attemperance in his defence, / that men have no 2725 cause ne matere to repreven him that defendeth him of excesse and outrage; for elles were it agayn resoun. / Pardee, ye knowen wel, that ye maken no defence as now for to defende yow, but for to venge yow ; / and so seweth it that yo han no wil to do your dede attemprely. / And therfore, me thinketh that pacience is good. For Salomon seith : that "he

that is nat pacient shal have greet harm."'/

§ 49. 'Certes,'quod Melibee, 'I graunte yow, that whan a man is inpacient and wroth, of that that toucheth him noght and that aperteneth nat un-to him, though

- 2730 it harme him, it is no wonder. / For the lawe seith: that "he is coupable that entremetteth or medleth with swich thyng as aperteneth nat un-to him." / And Salomon seith: that "he that entremetteth him of the noyse or stryf of another man, is lyk to him that taketh an hound by the eres." / For right as he that taketh a strange hound by the eres is outherwhyle biten with the hound, / right in the same wyse is it resoun that he have harm, that by his inpacience medleth him of the noyse of another man, wher-as it aperteneth nat un-to him. / But ve knowen well that this dede, that is
- to seyn, my grief and my disese, toucheth 2735 me right ny. / And therfore, though I be wroth and inpacient, it is no merveille. / And savinge your grace, I can nat seen that it mighte greetly harme me though I toke vengeaunce; / for I am richer and more mighty than myne enemys been. / And wel knowen ye, that by moneye and by havinge grete possessions been all the thinges of this world governed. / And Salomon seith: that 2740 "Alle thinges obeyen to moneye." /

§ 50. Whan Prudence hadde herd hir housbonde avanten him of his richesse and of his moneye, dispreisinge the power of hise adversaries, she spak, and seyde in this wyse: / 'certes, dere sir, I graunte yow that ye been rich and mighty, / and that the richesses been goode to hem that han wel y-geten hem and wel conne usen hem. / For right as the body of a man may nat liven withoute the soule, namore may it live withouten temporel goodes. / And by richesses

274.5 may a man gete him grete freendes. / And therfore seith Pamphilles: "if a netherdes doghter," seith he, "be riche, she may chesen of a thousand men which she wol take to hir housbonde; / for, of a thousand men, oon wol nat forsaken hir ne refusen hir." / And this Pamphilles seith also: "if thou be right happy, that is to seyn, if thou be right riche, thou shalt find a greet nombre of felawes and freendes. / And if thy fortune change that thou wexe povre, farewel freendshipe and felaweshipe; / for thou shalt be allone with-outen any companye, but-if it be the companye of povre folk." / And yet seith this Pamphilles 275 moreover : that "they that been thralle and bonde of linage shullen been maad worthy and noble by the richesses." / And right so as by richesses ther comen manye goodes, right so by poverte come ther manye harmes and yveles. / For greet poverte constreyneth a man to do manye yveles. / And therfore clepeth Cassidore poverte "the moder of ruine," / that is to seyn, the moder of overthrowinge or fallinge doun. / And ther- 275 fore seith Piers Alfonce : "oon of the gretteste adversitees of this world is / whan a free man, by kinde or by burthe, is constreyned by poverte to eten the almesse of his enemy." / And the same seith Innocent in oon of hise bokes ; he seith : that " sorweful and mishappy is the condicioun of a povre begger; / for if he axe nat his mete, he dyeth for hunger; / and if he axe, he dyeth for shame; and algates necessitee constreyneth him to axe." / And therfore seith 276 Salomon : that " bet it is to dye than for to have swich poverte." / And as the same Salomon seith : "bettre it is to dye of bitter deeth than for to liven in swich wyse." / By thise resons that I have seid un-to yow, and by manye othere resons that I coude seye, / I graunte yow that richesses been goode to hem that geten hem wel, and to hem that wel usen tho richesses. / And therfore wol I shewe yow how ye shul have yow, and how ye shul bere yow in gaderinge of richesses, and in what manere ye shul usen hem. / 2765

§ 51. First, ye shul geten hem withouten greet desyr, by good leyser sokingly, and nat over hastily. / For a man that is to desyringe to gete richesses abaundoneth him first to thefte and to alle other yveles. / And therfore seith Salomon : " he that hasteth him to bisily to wexe riche shal be noon innocent." / He seith also : that "the richesse that hastily cometh to a man, sone and lightly gooth and passeth fro a man; / but that richesse that cometh litel and litel wexeth alwey 2770 and multiplyeth." / And sir, ye shul geten richesses by your wit and by your travaille un-to your profit; / and that with-outen wrong or harm-doinge to any other persone. / For the lawe seith : that "ther maketh no man himselven riche, if he do harm to another wight"; / this is to seyn, that nature defendeth and forbedeth by right, that no man make himself riche un-to the harm of another persone. / And Tullius seith : that "no sorwe ne no drede of deeth, ne no-thing 2775 that may falle un-to a man / is so muchel agayns nature, as a man to encressen his owene profit to the harm of another man. / And though the grete men and the mighty men geten richesses more lightly than thou, / yet shaltou nat been ydel ne slow to do thy profit; for thou shalt in alle wyse flee ydelnesse." / For Salomon seith : that "ydelnesse techeth a man to do manye yveles." / And the same Salomon seith : that " he that travailleth and bisieth him to tilien his land, shal eten 780 breed ; / but he that is ydel and casteth him to no bisinesse ne occupacioun, shal falle in-to poverte, and dye for hunger." / And he that is ydel and slow can never finde covenable tyme for to doon his profit. / For ther is a versifiour seith : that "the ydel man excuseth hym in winter, by cause of the grete cold; and in somer, by enchesoun of the hete." / For thise causes seith Caton : "waketh and enclyneth nat yow over muchel for to slepe; for over muchel reste norisseth and causeth manye vices." / And therfore seith seint Jerome : "doth somme gode dedes, that the devel which is our

2785 enemy ne finde yow nat unoccupied." / For the devel ne taketh nat lightly un-to his werkinge swiche as he findeth occupied in gode werkes." /

§ 52. Thanne thus, in getinge richesses, ye mosten flee ydelnesse. / And afterward, ye shul use the richesses, whiche ye have geten by your wit and by your travaille, / in swich a manere, that men holde nat yow to scars, ne to sparinge, ne to fool-large, that is to seyn, over-large a spender. / For right as men blamen an avaricious man by-cause of his scarsetee and chincherye, / in the same wyse is he 2790 to blame that spendeth over largely. / And therfore seith Caton : "use," he seith, "thy richesses that thou hast geten / in swich a manere, that men have no matere ne cause to calle thee neither wrecche ne chinche; for it is a greet shame to a man to have a povere herte and a riche purs." / He seith also : "the goodes that thou hast y-geten, use hem by mesure," that is to seyn, spende hem mesurably; / for they 2795 that folily wasten and despenden the goodes that they han, / whan they han namore propre of hir owene, they shapen hem to take the goodes of another man. / I seye thanne, that ye shul fleen avarice; / usinge your richesses in swich manere, that men seye nat that your richesses been y-buried, / but that ye have hem in your might and in your weeldinge. / For 2800 a wys man repreveth the avaricious man. and seith thus, in two vers : / "wherto and why burieth a man hise goodes by his grete avarice, and knoweth wel that nedes moste he dye; / for deeth is the ende of every man as in this present lyf." / And for what cause or enchesoun joyneth he him or knitteth he him so faste un-to hise goodes, / that alle his wittes mowen nat disseveren him or departen him from hise goodes; / and knoweth wel, or oghte 2805 knowe, that whan he is deed, he shal nothing bere with him out of this world? / And ther-fore seith seint Augustin : that "the avaricious man is likned un-to helle; / that the more it swelweth, the more desyr it hath to swelwe and devoure." / And as wel as ye wolde eschewe to be called an avaricious man or chinche. / as wel sholde ye kepe yow and governe yow in swich a wyse that men calle yow nat fool-large. / Therfore seith Tullius : 2810 "the goodes," he seith, " of thyn hous ne sholde nat been hid, ne kept so cloos but that they mighte been opened by pitce and debonairetee"; / that is to seyn, to yeven part to hem that han greet nede;/ "ne thy goodes shullen nat been so opene, to been every mannes goodes."/ Afterward, in getinge of your richesses and in usinge hem, ye shul alwey have three thinges in your herte; / that is to seyn, our lord god, conscience, and good

- 2815 name. / First, ye shul have god in your herte; / and for no richessé ye shullen do no-thing, which may in any manere displesegod, that isyour creatour and maker. / For after the word of Salomon: "it is bettre to have a litel good with the love of god, / than to have muchel good and tresour, and lese the love of his lord god."/ And the prophete seith: that "bettre it is to been a good man and have litel good
- 2820 and tresour, / than to been holden a shrewe and have grete richesses." / And yet seye I ferthermore, that ye sholde alwey doon your bisinesse to gete yow richesses, / so that ye gete hem with good conscience. / And th'apostle seith : that "ther nis thing in this world, of which we sholden have so greet joye as whan our conscience bereth us good witnesse." / And the wyse man seith : "the substance of a man is ful good, whan sinne is nat
- 2825 in mannes conscience." / Afterward, in getinge of your richesses, and in usinge of hem, / yow moste have greet bisinesse and greet diligence, that your goode name be alwey kept and conserved. / For Salomon seith: that "bettre it is and more it availleth a man to have a good name, than for to have grete richesses." / And therfore he seith in another place : "do greet diligence," seith Salomon, "in keping of thy freend and of thy gode name; / for it shal lenger abide with thee
- 2830 than any tresour, be it never so precious." / And certes he sholde nat be called a gentil man, that after god and good conscience, allo thinges left, ne dooth his diligence and bisinesse to kepen his good name. / And Cassidore seith : that "it is signe of a gentil herte, whan a man loveth and desyreth to han a good name." / And therfore seith seint Augustin : that "ther been two thinges that arn necessarie and nedefulle, / and that is good conscience and good loos; / that is to seyn, good conscience to thyn owene persone inward, and good loos for thy neighbore outward." / And he that trusteth him so a8 muchel in his gode conscience, / that he displaseth and setteth at noght though he kepe nat his gode name, nis but a cruel cherl. /

T. § 52.

§ 53. Sire, now have I shewed yow how ye shul do in getinge richesses, and how ye shullen usen hem; / and I see wel, that for the trust that ye han in youre richesses, ye wole moeve werre and bataille. / I conseille yow, that ye biginne no werre in trust of your richesses : for they ne suffysen noght werres to mayntene. / And therfore seith a philosophre : 28. "that man that desyreth and wole algates han werre, shal never have suffisaunce ; / for the richer that he is, the gretter despenses moste he make, if he wole have worship and victorie." / And Salomon seith: that "the gretter richesses that a man hath, the mo despendours he hath." / And dere sire, al-be-it so that for your richesses ye mowe have muchel folk, / yet bihoveth it nat, ne it is nat good, to biginne werre, where-as ye mowe in other manere have pees, un-to your worship and profit. / For the victories 28 of batailles that been in this world, lyen nat in greet nombre or multitude of the peple ne in the vertu of man; / but it lyth in the wil and in the hand of our lord god almighty. / And therfore Judas Machabeus, which was goddes knight, / whan he sholde fighte agayn his adversarie that hadde a greet nombre, and a gretter multitude of folk and strenger than was this peple of Machabee, / yet he reconforted his litel companye, and seyde right in this wyse : / "als lightly," 28, quod he, "may our lord god almighty yeve victorie to a fewe folk as to many folk ; / for the victoric of bataile cometh nat by the grete nombre of peple, / but it cometh from our lord god of hevene." /

. 524

And dere sir, for as muchel as there is no man certein, if he be worthy that god yeve him victorie, [+ namore than he is certein whether he be worthy of the love of god] or naught, after that Salomon seith, / therfore every man sholde greetly

2855 drede werres to biginne, / And by-cause that in batailles fallen manye perils, / and happeth outher-while, that as sone is the grete man sleyn as the litel man; / and, ns it is written in the seconde book of Kinges, "the dedes of batailles been aventurouse and nothing certeyne; / for as lightly is oon hurt with a spere as another." / And for ther is gret peril in werre, therfore sholde a man flee and eschewe werre, in as muchel as a 2860 man may goodly. / For Salomon seith : "the that loveth peril shal falle in peril." /

§ 54. After that Dame Prudence hadde spoken in this manere, Melibee answerde and scyde, / 'I see wel, dame Prudence, that by your faire wordes and by your resons that ye han shewed me, that the werre lyketh yow no-thing; / but I have nat yet herd your conseil, how I shal do in this nede? /

§ 55. 'Cartes,' quod she, 'I conseille yow that ye accorde with youre adver-2865 saries, and that ye have pees with hem. /. For seint Jame seith in hise epistles : that '' by concord and pees the smale richesses wexen grete, / and by debaat and discord the grete richesses fallen doun." / And ye knowen wel that oon of the gretteste and most sovereyn thing, that is in this world, is unitee and pees. / And therfore scyde oure lord Jesu Crist to hise apostles in this wyse: / "wel happy and blessed been they that loven and purchacen pees; for they been called children 2870 of god." ' 4. '! quod Melibee, 'now see and by the set of t

and crye hem mercy? / For sothe, that were nat my worship. / For right as men 2875 seyn, that "over-greet homlinesse engendreth dispreysinge," so fareth it by to greet humylitee or mekenesse.' /

§ 56. Thanne bigan dame Prudence to maken semblant of wratthe, and seyde, / 'certes, sir, sauf your grace, I love your honour and your profit as I do myn owene, and ever have doon ; / ne ye ne noon other syen never the contrarie. / And yit, if I hadde seyd that ye sholde han purchaced the pees and the reconsiliacioun, I ne hadde nat muchel mistaken me, ne seyd amis. / For the wyse 2880 man seith : " the dissensionn biginneth by another man, and the reconsiling biginneth by thy-self." / And the prophete seith : "flee shrewednesse and do goodnesse; / seke pees and folwe it, as muchel as in thee is." / Yet seye I nat that ye shul rather pursue to your adversaries for pees than they shuln to yow; / for I knowe wel that ye been so hard-herted, that ye wol do no-thing for me. / And 2885 Salomon seith : "he that hath over-hard an herte, atte laste he shal mishappe and mistyde."'/

§ 57. Whanne Melibee hadde herd dame Prudence maken semblant of wratthe, he seyde in this wyse, / 'dame, I prey yow that ye be nat displesed of thinges that I seye; / for ye knowe wel that I am angry and wrooth, and that is no wonder; / and they that been wrothe witen nat wel what they doon, ne what they seyn. / 2800 Therfore the prophete seith : that "troubled eyen han no cleer sighte." / But seyeth and conseileth me as yow lyketh ; for I am redy to do right as ye wol desyre; / and if ye repreve me of my folye, I am the more holden to love yow and to preyse yow. / For Salomon seith : that "he that repreveth him that doth folye, / he shal finde gretter grace than he that deceyveth him by swete wordes."'/ 2805

§ 58. Thanne seide dame Prudence, 'I make no semblant of wratthe ne anger but for your grete profit. / For Salomon seith: "he is more worth, that repreveth or chydeth a fool for his folye, shewinge him semblant of wratthe, / than he that supporteth him and prevseth him in his misdoinge, and laugheth at his folye." / And this same Salomon seith afterward : that "by the sorweful visage of a man," that is to seyn, by the sory and hevy countenaunce of a man, / "the fool cor-2000 recteth and amendeth him-self." '/

§ 59. Thanne seyde Melibee, 'I shal nat conne answere to so manye faire resouns as ye putten to me and shewen. / Seyeth shortly your wil and your conseil, and I am al ready to fulfille and parfourne it.' /

§ 60. Thanne dame Prudence discovered al hir wil to him, and seyde, / 'I conseille yow,' quod she, 'aboven alle thinges, that ye make pees bitwene god and yow; / and beth reconsiled un-to him and to his 2005 grace. / For as I have seyd yow heer-

- biforn, god hath suffred yow to have this tribulacioun and disese for your sinnes. / And if ye do as I sey yow, god wol sende your adversaries un-to yow, / and maken hem fallen at your feet, redy to do your wil and your comandements. / For Salomon seith : "whan the condicioun of man is plesaunt and likinge to god, / he chaungeth the hertes of the mannes adversaries, and constreyneth hem to biseken
- 2010 him of pees and of grace." / And I prey yow, lat me speke with your adversaries in privee place; / for they shul nat knowe that it be of your wil or your assent. / And thanne, whan I knowe hir wil and hir entente, I may conseille yow the more seurly.' /

§ 61. 'Dame,' quod Melibee, 'dooth your wil and your lykinge, / for I putte me hoolly in your disposicioun and or-2015 dinaunce.' /

§ 62. Thanne Dame Prudence, whan she saugh the gode wil of her housbonde, delibered and took avys in hir-self, / thinkinge how she mighte bringe this nede un-to a good conclusioun and to a good ende. / And whan she saugh hir tyme, she sente for thise adversaries to come un-to hir in-to a privee place, / and shewed wysly un-to hem the grete goodes that comen of pees, / and the grete harmes and perils that been in werre; / 2920 and seyde to hem in a goodly manere, how that hem oughte have greet repentaunce / of the injurie and wrong that they hadden doon to Melibee hir lord, and to hir, and to hir doghter. /

§ 63. And whan they herden the goodliche wordes of dame Prudence, / they weren so surprised and ravisshed, and hadden so greet joye of hir, that wonder was to telle. / 'A! lady!' quod they, 'ye han shewed un-to us "the blessinge of swetnesse," after the sawe of David the prophete; / for the reconsilinge which 2925 we been nat worthy to have in no manere,/ but we oghte requeren it with greet contricioun and humilitee, / ye of your grete goodnesse have presented unto us. / Now see we wel that the science and the conninge of Salomon is ful trewe; / for he seith: that "swete wordes multiplyen and encresen freendes, and maken shrewes to be debonaire and meke." / 2930

§ 64. Certes,' quod they, 'we putten our dede and al our matere and cause al hoolly in your goode wil; / and been redy to obeye to the speche and comandement of my lord Melibee. / And therfore, dere and benigne lady, we preven yow and biseke yow as mekely as we conne and mowen, / that it lyke un-to your grete goodnesse to fulfillen in dede your goodliche wordes; / for we consideren and knowlichen that we han offended and greved my lord Melibee out of mesure; / 2935 so ferforth, that we be nat of power to maken hise amendes. / And therfore we oblige and binden us and our freendes to doon al his wil and hise comandements. / But peraventure he hath swich hevinesse and swich wratthe to us-ward. by-cause of our offence, / that he wole enjoyne us swich a peyne as we mowe nat bere ne sustene. / And therfore, noble lady, we biseke to your wommanly pitee, / 2940 to taken swich avysement in this nede. that we, ne our freendes, be nat desherited ne destroyed thurgh our folye.' /

tracioun and juggement, and in the might and power of hise enemys. / For Salomon seith : "leveth me, and yeveth credence to that I shal seyn; I seye," quod he, "ye peple, folk, and governours of holy chirche, / to thy sone, to thy wyf, to thy 2945 freend, ne to thy brother / ne yeve thou never might ne maistrie of thy body, whyl thou livest." / Now sithen he defendeth, that man shal-nat yeven to his brother ne to his freend the might of his body, / by a strenger resoun he defendeth and forbedeth a man to yeven him-self to his enemy. / And nathelees I conseille you, that ye mistruste nat my lord. / For I woot wel and knowe verraily, that he is 2050 debonaire and meke, large, curteys, / and nothing desyrous ne coveitous of good ne richesse. / For ther nis no-thing in this world that he desyreth, save only worship and honour. / Forther-more I knowe wel, and am right seur, that he shal no-thing doon in this nede with-outen my conseil. / And I shal so werken in this cause, that, by grace of our lord god, ye shul been reconsiled un-to us.'/ § 66. Thanne seyden they with o vois, 'worshipful lady, we putten us and our goodes al fully in your wil and disposi-2955 cionn; / and been redy to comen, what day that it lyke un-to your noblesse to limite us or assigne us./ for to maken our obligacionn and bond as strong as it lyketh un-to your goodnesse; / that we mowe fulfille the wille of yow and of my lord Melibee.'/

§ 67. Whan dame Prudence hadde herd the answeres of thise men, she bad hem goon agayn prively; / and she retourned to hir lord Melibee, and tolde him how she fond hise adversaries ful 2560 repentant, / knowlechinge ful lowely hir sinnes and trespas, and how they were redy to suffren al peyne, / requiringe and preyinge him of mercy and pites. /

§ 68. Thanne seyde Melibee, 'he is wel worthy to have pardoun and foryifnesse of his sinne, that excussed nat his sinne, ' but knowlecheth it and repenteth him, axinge indulgence.' For Senek seith: "ther is the remissionn and foryifnesse, whereas confession is "; / for confession 2005 is neighbore to innocence. / And he seith in another place: "he that hath shame for his sinne and knowlecheth it, is worthy remissionn." And therfore I assente and conferme me to have pees; / but it is good that we do it nat with-outen the assent and will for ur freendes.'

§ 69. Thanne was Prudence right glad and joyeful, and seyde, / 'Cartes, sir,' quod she, 'ye han wel and goodly answered. / For right as by the consoil, 2970 assent, and help of your freendes, ye han been stired to venge yow and maken werre, / right so with-onten hir conseil shul ye nat accorden yow, ne have pees with your adversaries. / For the lawe seith: "ther nis no-thing so good by wey of kinde, as a thing to been unbounde by him that it was y-bounde."' /

§ 70. And thanne dame Prudence, with-outen delay or taryinge, sente anon hir messages for hir kin, and for hir olde freendes whiche that were trewe and wyse, / and tolde hem by ordre, in the presence of Melibee, al this matere as it is aboven expressed and declared; / and 2975 preyden hem that they wolde yeven hir avys and conseil, what best were to doon in this nede. / And whan Melibees freendes hadde taken hir avys and deliberacioun of the forseide matere, / and hadden examined it by greet bisinesse and greet diligence, / they yave ful conseil for to have pees and reste; / and that Melibee sholde receyve with good herte hise adversaries to foryifnesse and mercy. / 2980

§ 71. And whan dame Prudence hadde herd the assent of hir lord Melibee, and the consoil of hise freendes, / accorde with hir wille and hir entencioun, / she was wonderly glad in hir herte, and seyde :/ "ther is an old proverbe," quod she, 'seith : that "the goodnesse that thon mayst do this day, do it; / and abyde nat ne delaye it nat til to-morwe." / 2985 And therfore I conseille that ye sende your messages, swiche as been discrete and wyse, / un-to your adversaries; tellinge hem, on your bihalve, / that if they wole trete of pees and of accord, / that they shape hem, with-outen delay or tarying, to comen un-to us.' / Which 2000 thing parfourned was in dede. / And whanne thise trespassours and repentinge folk of hir folies, that is to seyn, the adversaries of Melibee, / hadden herd what thise messagers seyden un-to hem, / they weren right glad and joyeful, and answereden ful mekely and benignely, / yeldinge graces and thankinges to hir lord Melibee and to al his companye; / and shopen hem, with-outen delay, to go with the messagers, and obeye to the =995 comandement of hir lord Melibee. /

§ 72. And right anon they token hir wey to the court of Melibee, / and token with hem somme of hir treve freendes, to maken feith for bem and for to been hir borwes. / And whan they were comen to the presence of Melibee, he seyde hem thise wordes: / 'it standeth thns,' quod Melibee, 'and sooth it is, that ye, / causeless, and with-outen skile and

3000 resoun, / han doon grete injuries and wronges to me and to my wyf Prudence, and to my doghter also. / For yee han entred in-to myn hous by violence, / and have doon swich outrage, that alle men knowen wel that ye have deserved the deeth; / and therfore wol I knowe and wite of yow, / whether ye wol putte the punissement and the chastysinge and the vengeance of this outrage in the wil of me and of my wyf Prudence; or ye wol 3005 nat?'/

§ 73. Thanne the wyseste of hem three answerde for hem alle, and seyde:/ 'sire,'quod he, 'we knowen wel, that we been unworthy to comen un-to the court of so greet a lord and so worthy as ye been./ For we han so greetly mistaken us, and han offended and agilt in swich a wyse agayn your heigh lordshipe,/ that trewely we han deserved the deeth./ But yet, for the grete goodnesse and debonairetee that all the world witnesseth

3010 of your persone, / we submitten us to the excellence and benignitee of your gracious lordshipe, / and been redy to obeie to alle your comandements; / bisekinge yow, that of your merciable pitce ye wol considere our grete repentaunce and lowe submissioun, / and graunten us foryevenesse of our outrageous trespas and offence. / For wel we knowe, that your liberal grace and mercy streechen hem ferther in-to goodnesse, than doon our outrageouse giltes and trespas in-to wikkednesse; / al-be-it that cursedly and 3015 dampnably we han agilt agayn your heigh lordshipe.' /

§ 74. Thanne Melibee took hem up fro the ground ful benignely, / and receyved hir obligaciouns and hir bondes by hir othes up-on hir plegges and borwes, / and assigned hem a certeyn day to retourne un-to his court, / for to accepte and receyve the sentence and jugement that Melibee wolde comande to be doon on hem by the causes afore-seyd; / whiche 3000 thinges ordeyned, every man retourned to his hous. /

§ 75. And whan that dame Prudence saugh hir tyme, she freyned and axed hir lord Melibee, / what vengeance he thoughte to taken of hise adversaries ?/

§ 76. To which Melibee answerde and soyde, 'certes,' quod he, 'I thinke and purpose me fully / to desherite hem of al that ever they han, and for to putte hem in exil for ever.' / 3025

§ 77. 'Certes,' quod dame Prudence. 'this were a cruel sentence, and muchel agayn resoun. / For ye been riche ynough, and han no nede of other mennes good; / and ye mighte lightly in this wyse gete yow a coveitous name, / which is a vicious thing, and oghte been eschewed of every good man. / For after the sawe of the word of the apostle : "coveitise is rote of alle harmes." / And 3030 therfore, it were bettre for yow to lese so muchel good of your owene, than for to taken of hir good in this manere. / For bettre it is to lesen good with worshipe, than it is to winne good with vileinye and shame. / And every man oghte to doon his diligence and his bisinesse to geten him a good name. / And yet shall he nat only bisie him in kepinge of his good name, / but he shal also enforcen him alwey to do som-thing by which he

T. §§ 72-77.

- 3035 may renovelle his good name; / for it is writen, that "the olde good loos or good name of a man is sone goon and passed, whan it is nat newed ne renovelled." / And as touchinge that ye seyn, ye wole exile your adversaries, / that thinketh me muchel agayn resonn and ont of mesure, / considered the power that they han yeve yow up-on hem-self. / And it is writen, that "he is worthy to lesen his privilege that misuseth the might and
- 3040 the power that is yeven him." / And I sette cas ye mighte enjoyne hem that peyne by right and by lawe, / which I trowe ye mowe nat do, / Iseye, ye mighte nat putten it to execucion per-aventure, / and thanne were it lykly to retourne to the werre as it was biforn. / And therfore, if ye wole that men do yow obeisance, ye moste demen more cur-
- 3045 teisly; / this is to seyn, ye moste yeven more esy sentences and jugements. / For it is writen, that "he that most curteisly comandeth, to him men most obeyen." / And therfore, I prey yow that in this necessitee and in this nede, ye caste yow to overcome your herte. / For Senek seith: that "he that overcometh his herte, overcometh twyes." / And Tullins seith: "ther is no-thing
- 3050 so comendable in a greet lord / as whan he is debonaire and meke, and apposeth him lightly." / And I prey yow that ye wole forbere now to do vengeance, / in swich a manere, that your goode name may be kept and conserved; / and that men mowe have cause and matere to preyse yow of pitee and of mercy; / and that ye have no cause to repente yow of 3055 thing that ye doon. / For Senek seith :
- "he overcometh in an yvel manere, that repenteth him of his victorie." / Wherfore I pray yow, lat mercy been in your minde and in your herte, / to th'effect and entents that god almighty have mercy on yow in his lasts jugement./ For seint Jame seith in his epistle: "jugement withouten mercy shal be doon to him, that hath no mercy of another wight."'/

§ 78. Whanne Melibee hadde herd the grete skiles and resouns of dame Prudence, and hir wise informaciouns and techinges, / his herte gan enclyne to the 3050 wil of his wyf, consideringe hir trewe entente; / and conformed him anon. and assented fully to werken after hir conseil; / and thonked god, of whom procedeth al vertu and alle goodnesse, that him sente a wyf of so greet discrecioun. / And whan the day cam that hise adversaries sholde apperen in his presence, / he spak unto hem ful goodly. and seyde in this wyse : / 'al-be-it so that 3065 of your pryde and presumpcioun and folie, and of your necligence and unconninge, / ye have misborn yow and trespassed un-to me; / yet, for as much as I see and biholde your grete humilitee, / and that ye been sory and repentant of your giltes, / it constreyneth me to doon yow grace and mercy. / Therfore I re- 3070 ceyve yow to my grace, / and foryeve yow outrely alle the offences, injuries, and wronges, that ye have doon agavn me and myne; / to this effect and to this ende, that god of his endelees mercy / wole at the tyme of our dyings foryeven us our giltes that we han trespassed to him in this wrecched world. / For doutelees, if we be sory and repentant of the sinnes and giltes whiche we han trespassed in the sighte of our lord god, / he 3075 is so free and so merciable, / that he wole foryeven us our giltes, / and bringen us to his blisse that never hath ende. Amen.' / 3078

THE MONK'S PROLOGUE.

[T. 13895-13956.]

The mery wordes of the Host to the Monk.

WHAN ended was my tale of Melibee, And of Prudence and hir benignitee, 3080 Our hoste seyde, 'as I am faithful man,

And by the precious corpus Madrian,

I hadde lever than a barel ale

That goode lief my wyf hadde herd this tale !

For she nis no-thing of swich pacience As was this Melibeus wyf Prudence. 3086 By goddes bones! whan I bete my knaves, She bringth me forth the grete clobbed staves. (10)

And crycth, "slee the dogges everichoon, And brek hem, bothe bak and every boon." And if that any neighebor of myne 300; Wol nat in chirche to my wyf enclyne, Or be so hardy to hir to trespace.

Whan she comth hoom, she rampeth in my face, 3094

And cryeth, "false coward, wreek thy wyf! By corpus bones! I wol have thy knyf,

And thou shalt have my distaf and go spinne!"

Fro day to night right thus she wol biginne ;--- (20)

"Allas!" she seith, "that ever I was shape

To wedde a milksop or a coward ape, 3100

That wol be overlad with every wight !

Thou darst nat stonden by thy wyves right!"

This is my lyf, but-if that I wol fighte;

And out at dore anon I moot me dighte, Or elles I am but lost, but if that I 3105 Be lyk a wilde leoun fool-hardy.

I woot wel she wol do me slee som day Som neighebor, and thanne go my wey. (30) For I am perilous with knyf in honde, Al be it that I dar nat hir withstonde, 3110 For she is big in armes, by my feith,

That shal he finde, that hir misdooth or seith.

But lat us passe awey fro this matere.

My lord the Monk,' quod he, 'be mery of chere;

For ye shul telle a tale trewely. 3115 Lo! Rouchestre stant heer faste by!

Ryd forth, myn owene lord, brek nat our game, (39)

But, by my trouthe, I knowe nat your name, Wher shal I calle yow my lord dan John, Or dan Thomas, or elles dan Albon? 3120 Of what hous be ye, by your fader kin? I yow to god, thou hast a ful fair skin. It is a gentil pasture ther thou goost : Thou art nat lyk a penaunt or a goost. Upon my feith, thou art som officer, 3125 Some worthy sexteyn, or som celerer, For by my fader soule, as to my doom, Thou art a maister whan thou art at hoom: No povre cloisterer, ne no novys, (51) But a governour, wyly and wys. 3130 And therwithal of brawnes and of bones A wel-faring persone for the nones. I pray to god, yeve him confusioun That first thee broghte un-to religioun : Thou woldest han been a trede-foul aright. Haddestow as greet a leve, as thou hast might 3136

To parfourne al thy lust in engendrure, Thou haddest bigeten many a creature. Alas! why werestow so wyd a cope? (61) God yeveme sorwe! but, and I were a pope,

Notonly thou, but every mighty man, 3141 Thogh he were shorn ful hye upon his pan, Sholde have a wyf; for alt he world is lorn ! Religioun hath take up al the corn 3144 Oftreding, and we borel men ben shrimpes! Of feble trees ther comen wrecched impes. This maketh that our heires been so sclendre (59)

And feble, that they may nat well engendre. This maketh that our wyves wol assaye Religious folk, for ye may bettre paye 3150 Of Venus payements than mowe we; God woot, no lussheburghes payen ye!

But be nat wrooth, my lord, for that I pleve:

Ful ofte in game a sooth I have herd seye.'

This worthy monk took al in pacience, And seyde, 'I wol doon al my diligence, As fer as souneth in-to honestee, 3157 To telle yow a tale, or two, or three. (80) And if yow list to herkne hiderward,

I wol yow seyn the lyf of seint Edward;

Or elles first Tragedies wol I telle 3161. Of whiche I have an hundred in my celle. Tragedie is to seyn a certeyn storie, As olde bokes maken us memorie, Of him that stood in greet prosperitee 3165 And is y-fallen out of heigh degree Into miserie, and endeth wrecchedly. And they ben versifyed commly (90) Of six feet, which men clepe exametron. In prose eek been endyted many oon, 3170 And eek in metre, in many a sondry wyse. Lot i this declaring output suffise.

Now herkneth, if yow lyketh for to here; But first J yow biseke in this matere, 3174 Though I by ordre telle nat thise thinges, Be it of popes, emperours, or kinges, After hir ages, as men writen finde, (99) But telle hem som bifore and som bihinde, As it now comth un-to my remembraunce; Have me excussed of mynignoraunce. 3180

Explicit.

THE MONKES TALE.

Here biginneth the Monkes Tale, de Casibus Virorum Illustrium.

I wor biwayle in maner of Tragedie The harm of hem that stode in heigh degree,

And fillen so that ther nas no remedie To bringe hem out of hir adversitee ; 3184 For certein, whan that fortune list to flee, Ther may no man the cours of hir withholde:

Lat no man truste on blind prosperitee ; Be war by thise ensamples trewe and olde.

LUCIFER.

At Lucifer, though he an angel were, And nat a man, at him I wol biginne; 3190 For, thogh fortune may non angel dere, (11) From heigh degree yet fel he for his sinne Doun in-to helle, wher he yet is inne. O Lucifer! brightest of angels alle.

Now artow Sathanas, that maist nat twinne 3195

Out of miserie, in which that thou art falle.

ADAM.

Lo Adam, in the feld of Damassene, With goddes owene finger wroght was he,

And nat bigeten of mannes sperme unclene,

And welte al Paradys, saving o tree. 3200 Had never worldly man so heigh degree As Adam, til he for misgovernaunce (22)

Was drive out of his hye prosperitee To labour, and to helle, and to meschaunce.

SAMPSON.

Lo Sampson, which that was annunciat By th'angel, longe er his nativitee, 3206 And was to god almighty consecrat,

And stood in noblesse, whyl he mighte see,

Was never swich another as was he,

To speke of strengthe, and therwith hardinesse: 3210

But to his wyves tolde he his secree, (31) Through which he slow him-self, for wrecchednesse.

Sampson, this noble almighty champioun, Withouten wepen save his hondes tweye, He slow and al to-rente the leoun, 3215 Toward his wedding walking by the weye. His false wyf coude him so plese and preve

Til she his conseil knew, and she untrewe Un-to his foos his conseil gan biwreye, 3210 And him forsook, and took another newe.

Three hundred foxes took Sampson for ire, And alle hir tayles he togider bond, (42) And sette the foxes tayles alle on fire, For he on every tayl had knit a brond ;

And they brende alle the cornes in that lond, 3225

And alle hir oliveres and vynes eek.

A thousand men he slow eek with his hond, And had no wepen but an asses cheek.

Whan they were slayn, so thursted him that he 3220

Was wel ny lorn, for which he gan to preye That god wolde on his peyne han som (51)

pitee,

And sende him drinke, or elles moste he deye;

And of this asses cheke, that was dreye, Out of a wang-tooth sprang anon a welle, Of which he drank y-nogh, shortly to seye, Thus heelp him god, as Judicum can telle.

By verray force, at Gazan, on a night, 3237 Maugree Philistiens of that citee,

The gates of the toun he hath up-plight, And on his bak y-caried hem hath he 3240 Hye on an hille, that men mighte hem see. (61)

O noble almighty Sampson, leef and dere, Had thou nat told to wommen thy secree, In al this worlde ne hadde been thy pere !

This Sampson never sicer drank ne wyn, Ne on his heed cam rasour noon ne shere, By precept of the messager divyn, 3247 For alle his strengthes in his heres were ; And fully twenty winter, yeer by yere, He hadde of Israel the governaunce. 3250 But sone shal he wepen many a tere, (71) For wommen shal him bringen to meschaunce!

Un-to his lemman Dalida he tolde

That in his heres al his strengthe lay,

And falsly to his fo-men she him solde.

And sleping in hir barme up-on a day 3256 She made to clippe or shere his heer awey, And made his fo-men al his craft espyen ; And whan that they him fonde in this array,

They bounde him faste, and putten out his yën. 3250

But er his heer were clipped or y-shave, (81) Ther was no bond with which men might him binde :

But now is he in prisoun in a cave,

Wher-as they made him at the querne grinde. 3264 O noble Sampson, strongest of mankinde, O whylom juge in glorie and in richesse,

Now maystow wepen with thyn yëu blinde, Sith thou fro wele art falle in wrecchednesse.

Th'ende of this caytif was as I shal seye ; His fo-men made a feste upon a day, 3270 And made himashir fool bifore hem pleye, And this was in a temple of greet array. (92) But atte last he made a foul affray ;

For he two pilers shook, and made hem falle. 3274

And down fil temple and al, and ther it lay, And slow him-self, and eek his fo-menalle.

This is to seyn, the princes everichoon, And eek three thousand bodies wer ther slayn (98) With falling of the grete temple of stoon. Of Sampson now wol I na-more seyn. 3280 Beth war by this ensample old and playm That no men telle hir conseil til hir wyves Of swich thing as they wolde han secree favn.

If that it touche hir limmes or hir lyves.

HERCULES.

Of Hercules the sovereyn conquerour 3285 Singen his workes laude and heigh renoun; For in his tyme of strengthe he was the four.

He slow, and rafte the skin of the leoun ; He of Centauros leyde the boost adoun ;

He Arpies slow, the cruel briddes felle; 3290 He golden apples rafte of the dragoun; (111) He drow out Cerberus, the hound of helle:

He slow the cruel tyrant Busirus,

And made his hors to frete him, flesh and boon;

He slow the firy serpent venimous; 3295 Of Achelois two hornes, he brak oon;

And he slow Cacus in a cave of stoon ;

He slow the geaunt Antheus the stronge; He slow the grisly boor, and that anoon, And barthe heven on his nekke longe. 3300

Was never wight, sith that the world bigan, (121)

That slow so many monstres as dide he. Thurgh-out this wyde world his name ran, What for his strengthe, and for his heigh bountee, 3304

And every reaume wente he for to see.

He was so strong that no man mighte him lette ;

At bothe the worldes endes, seith Trophee, In stede of boundes, he a piler sette.

A lemman hadde this noble championn, That highte Dianira, fresh as May; 3100 And, asthise clerkes maken mencioun, (131) She hath him sent a sherte fresh and gay. Allas! this sherte, allas and weylaway! Envenimed was so subtilly with-alle, 3314 That, er that he had wered it half a day, It made his fiesh al from his bones falle.

But nathelees somme clerkes hir excusen By oon that highte Nessus, that it maked ; Be as be may, I wol hir noght accusen; But on his bak this sherte he wered al naked, 3320 Til that his flesh was for the venim blaked.

And whan he sey noon other remedye, (142) In hote coles he hath him-selven raked, For with no venim deyned him to dye.

Thus starf this worthy mighty Hercules; Lo, who may truste on fortune any throwe? 3326

For him that folweth al this world of prees, Er he be war, is ofte y-leyd ful lowe.

Ful wys is he that can him-selven knowe. Beth war, for whan that fortune list to glose, 3330

glose, 3330 Than wayteth she hir man to overthrowe By swich a wey as he wolde lesst suppose. (152)

NABUGODONOSOR (NEBUCHADNEZZAR).

The mighty trone, the precious tresor, The glorious ceptre and royal magestee That hadde the king Nabugodonosor, 3335 With tonge unnethe may discryved be. He twyës wan Jerusalem the citee ; The vessel of the temple he with him ladde. At Babiloyne was his sovereyn see, 3339 In which his glorie and his delyt he hadde.

The fairest children of the blood royal (161) Of Israel he leet do gelde anoon,

And maked ech of hem to been his thral. Amonges othere Daniel was con, 3344 That was the wysest child of everichoon; For he the dremes of the king expouned, Wher-as in Chaldey clerk ne was ther noon That wiste to what fyrn his dremes souned.

This proude king leet make a statue of golde, 3349

Sixty cubytes long, and seven in brede, To which image bothe yonge and olde (171) Comaunded he to loute, and have in drede; Or in a fourneys ful of flambes rede

He shal be brent, that wolde noght obeye. But never wolde assente to that dede 3355 Daniel, ne his yonge felawes tweye.

This king of kinges proud was and elaat, He wende that god, that sit in magestee, Ne mighte him nat bireve of his estaat: But sodeynly he loste his dignitee, 3360 And lyk a beste him semed for to be, (181) And eet hay as an oxe, and lay ther-oute; In reyn with wilde bestes walked he, Til certein tyme was y-come aboute.

And lyk an egles fetheres wexe his heres, His nayles lyk a briddes clawes were ; 3366 Til god relessed him a certein yeres,

And yaf him wit; and than with many a tere

He thanked god, and ever his lyf in fere Washe to doon amis, or more trespace, 3370 And, til that tyme he leyd was on his bere,

He knew that god was ful of might and grace. (192)

BALTHASAR (BELSHAZZAR).

His sone, which that highte Balthasar, That heeld the regne after his fader day, He by his fader could nought be war, 3375 For proud he was of herte and of array; And eek an ydolastre was he ay.

His hye estaat assured him in pryde.

But fortune caste him doun, and ther he lay,

And sodeynly his regne gan divyde. 3380

A feste he made un-to his lordes alle (201) Up-on a tyme, and bad hem blythe be, And than his officeres gan he calle— 'Goth, bringeth forth the vessels,'[tho] quod he, 3384

'Which that my fader, in his prosperitee, Out of the temple of Jerusalem birafte, And to our hye goddes thanke we Of honour, that our eldres with us lafte.'

His wyf, his lordes, and his concubynes Aydronken, whyl hir appetytes laste, 3300 Out of thise noble vessels sundry wynes; And on a wal this king his yën caste, (212) And sey an hond armlees, that wroot ful faste,

For fere of which he quook and syked sore. 3394

This hond, that Balthasar so sore agaste, Wroot Mane, techel, phares, and na-more. In al that lond magicien was noon

That coude expoune what this lettre mente;

But Daniel expouned it anoon, 3399 And seyde, 'king, god to thy fader lente Glorie and honour, regne, tresour, rente And he was proud, and no-thing god ne

dradde, (222) And therfor god gret wreche up-on him

sente, And him birafte the regne that he hadde.

He was out cast of mannes companye, With asses was his habitacioun, 3406 And eet hey as a beste in weet and drye, Til that he knew, by grace and by resoun, That god of heven hath dominacioun

Over every regne and every creature; 3410 And thanne had god of him compassioun, And him restored his regne and his figure. (232)

Eek thou, that art his sone, art prond also, And knowest alle thise thinges veraily, And art rebel to god, and art his fo. 3415 Thou drank eek of his vessels boldely; Thy wyf eek and thy wenches sinfully Dronke of the same vessels sondry wynes, And hericst false goddes cursedly; 3419 Therfor to thee y-shapen ful gret pyne is.

This hand was sent from god, that on the walle (241)

Wroot mane, techel, phares, truste me; Thy regne is doon, thou weyest noght at alle;

Divyded is thy regne, and it shal be 3424 To Medes and to Perses yeven,' quod he. And thilke same night this king was slawe,

And Darius occupyeth his degree,

Thogh he therto had neither right ne lawe.

Lordinges, ensample heer-by may ye take How that in lordshipe is no sikernesse; 3430

For whan fortune wol a man forsake, (251) Shebereth awey his regne and his richesse, And eek his freendes, bothe more and lesse; For what man that hath freendes thurgh fortune, 3434

Mishap wol make hem enemys, I gesse : This proverbe is ful sooth and ful commune.

CENOBIA (ZENOBIA).

Cenobia, of Palimerie quene,

As writen Persiens of hir noblesse,

So worthy was in armes and so kene, 3439 That no wight passed hir in hardinesse, Ne in linage, ne in other gentillesses. (261) Of kinges blode of Perse is she descended; I seye nat that she hadde most fairnesse, But of hir shape she mighte nat been amended. 3444

From hir childhede I finde that she fielde Office of wommen, and to wole she wente; And many a wilde hertes blood she shedde With arwes brode that she to hem sente. She was so swift that she anon hem hente, And whan that she was elder, she wolde kille 3450

Leouns, lepardes, and beresal to-rente, (271) And in hir armes welde hem at hir wille.

She dorste wilde beestes dennes seke,

- And rennen in the montaignes al the night,
- And slepen under a bush, and she coude eke 3455

Wrastlen by verray force and verray might

With any yong man, were he never so wight;

Ther mighte no-thing in hir armes stonde.

She kepte hir maydenhod from every wight,

To no man deigned hir for to be bonde. 3460

But atte laste hir frendes han hir maried To Odenake, a prince of that contree, (282) Al were it so that she hem longe taried ;

And ye shul understonde how that he

Hadde swiche fantasyes as hadde she. 3465 But nathelees, whan they were knit infere,

They lived in joye and in felicitee ;

For ech of hem hadde other leef and dere.

Save o thing, that she never wolde assente By no wey, that he sholde by hir lye 3470 But ones, for it was hir pleyn entente (29t) To have a child, the world to multiplye; And al-so some as that she mighte espye That she was nat with childe with that dede.

- Than wolde she suffre him doon his fantasye 3475
- Eft-sone, and nat but ones, out of drede.

And if she were with childe at thilke cast, Na-more sholde he pleyen thilke game Til fully fourty dayes weren past :

Th fully fourty dayes weren past;

Than wolde she ones suffre him do the same. 3480

Al were this Odenake wilde or tame, (301) He gat na-more of hir, for thus she seyde, 'It was to wyves lecherye and shame

In other cas, if that men with hem pleyde.' 3484

Two sones by this Odenake hadde she,

The whiche she kepte in vertu and lettrure;

But now un-to our tale turne we.

I seye, so worshipful a creature,

And wys therwith, and large with mesure,

- So penible in the werre, and curteis eke, 3490
- Ne more labour mighte in werre endure, Was noon, thogh al this world men sholde seke. (312)

Hir riche array ne mighte nat be told As wel in vessel as in hir clothing ;

She was al clad in perree and in gold, 3495 And eek she lafte noght, for noon hunting, To have of sondry tonges ful knowing,

Whan that she leyser hadde, and for to entende

To lernen bokes was al hir lyking, 3499 How she in vertu mighte hir lyf dispende.

And, shortly of this storie for to trete, (321) So doughty was hir housbonde and eek she,

That they conquered many regnes grete In th'orient, with many a fair citee,

Apertenaunt un-to the magestee 3505

Of Rome, and with strong hond helde hem ful faste;

Ne never mighte hir fo-men doon hem flee, Ay whyl that Odenakes dayes laste. Hir batailes, who-so list hem for to rede, Amonges othere thinges that he wan, Agayn Sapor the king and othere mo, 3510 Hir char, that was with gold wrought and And how that al this proces fil in dede, (331) perree, (370) 3550 Why she conquered and what title had This grete Romayn, this Aurelian, Hath with him lad, for that men sholde therto, And after of hir meschief and hir wo, it see. How that she was biseged and y-take, Biforen his triumphe walketh she Let him un-to my maister Petrark go, 3515 With gilte cheynes on hir nekke hanging ; That writ y-nough of this, I undertake. Corouned was she, as after hir degree, 3555 And ful of perree charged hir clothing. When Odenake was deed, she mightily The regnes heeld, and with hir propre Allas, fortune ! she that whylom was honde Dredful to kinges and to emperoures, Agayn hir foos she faught so cruelly, Now gaureth al the peple on hir, allas ! #### DE BARNABO DE LUMBARDIA.

Of Melan grete Barnabo Viscounte, 3589 God of delyt, and scourge of Lumbardye, Why sholde I nat thyn infortune acounte, Sith in estaat thou clombe were so hye? Thy brother sone, that was thy double allye, (413)

For he thy nevew was, and sone-in-lawe, With-inne his prisoun made thee to dre; But why, ne how, noot I that thou were slawe. 3596

DE HUGELINO, COMITE DE PIZE.

Of the erl Hugelyn of Pyse the langour Ther may no tonge telle for pitee ;

But litel out of Pyse stant a tour,

In whiche tour in prisoun put was he, 3600 And with him been his litel children three. (421)

The eldeste scarsly fyf yeer was of age. Allas, fortune ! it was greet crueltee

Swiche briddes for to putte in swiche a cage! 3604

Dampned was he to deye in that prisoun, For Roger, which that bisshop was of Pyse, Hadde on him maad a fals suggestioun,

Thurgh which the peple gan upon him ryse, (428)

And putten him to prisoun in swich wyse As ye han herd, and mete and drink he hadde 3610

So smal, that wel unnethe it may suffyse, And therwith-al it was ful povre and badde,

And on a day bifl that, in that honr, Whan that his mete wont was to be broght, The gayler shette the dores of the tonr. He herde it wel,—but he spak right noght, And in his herte anon ther fil a thoght, Thatthey for hunger wolde doon him dyen. 'Allas!' quod he, 'allas! that I was wroght!' (439) 3619

Therwith the teres fillen from his yen.

His yonge sone, that three yeer was of age, Un-to him seyde, 'fader, why do ye weep?' Whan wol the gayler bringen our potage, Is ther no morsel breed that ye do kepe? I am so hungry that I may nat slepe. 3625 Now wolde god that I mighte slepen ever! Than sholde nat hunger in my wombe crepe;

Ther is no thing, save breed, that me were lever.'

Thus day by day this child bigan to crye, Til in his fadres barme adoun it lay, 3630 And seyde, 'far-wel, fader, I moot dye,'

And kiste his fader, and deyde the same day. (452)

And whan the woful fader deed it sey, For wo his armes two he gan to byte, And seyde, 'allas, fortune! and weylaway! Thy false wheel my wo al may I wyte!'

His children wende that it for hunger was That he his armes gnow, and nat for wo, And seyde, 'fader, do nat so, allas !

But rather eet the flesh upon us two; 3640 Our flesh thou yaf us, tak our flesh us fro And eet y-nough :' right thus they to him seyde, (462)

And after that, with-in a day or two, They leyde hem in his lappe adoun, and deyde, 3644

Him-self, despeired, eek for hunger starf; Thus ended is this mighty Erl of Pyse; From heigh estaat fortune awey him carf. Of this Tragedie it oghte y-nough suffyse. Who-so wol here it in a lenger wyse, (369) Redeth the grete poete of Itaille, 3650 That highte Dant, for he can al devyse Fro point to point, nat o word wol he faille. [T. 14772.

NERO.

[T. 14381.

Al-though that Nero were as vicious As any feend that lyth ful lowe adoun,

Yet he, as telleth us Swetonius, 3655 This wyde world hadde in subjeccioun, Both Est and West, {South and Septem- trioun; Of rubics, saphires, and of perles whyte Were allehis clothes brouded up and doun; For he in gemmes greetly gan delyte, 3660 More delicat, more pompous of array, (481) More proud was never emperour than he; That like cloth, that he had wered o day, After that tyme he nolde it never see. To fisshe in Tybre, whan him liste pleye. His lustes were al lawe in his decree, For fortune as his freend him wolde obeye. He Rome brende for his delicacye; The senatours he slow up-on a day, 3670 To here how men wolde wepe and crye; And slow his brother, and by his sister lay. (492) His moder made he in pitons array; For he hir wombe slitte, to biholde Wher he conceyred was; so weilawey! That he so litel of his moder tolde! 3676	Rather than han another tormentyse; And thus hath Nero slayn his maister dere. Now fil it so that fortune list no lenger The hye pryde of Nero to cheryce; 3710 For though that he were strong, yet was she strenger; (531) She thoughte thus, 'by god, I am to nyce To sette a man that is fulfild of tyce In heigh degree, and emperour him calle. By god, out of his sets I wol him tryce; When he leest weneth, sonest shal he falle.' 3716
No tere out of his yën for that sighte Ne cam, but seyde, 'a fair womman was she.' Gret wonder is, how that he coude or mighte (499) Be domesman of hir dede beautee. 3680 The wyn to bringen him comaunded he, And drank anon; non other wo he made. Whan might is joyned un-to crueltee, Allas! to depe wol the venim wade! 3684 In youthe a maister hadde this emperour.	The peple roos up-on him on a night For his defante, and whan he it espyed, Out of his dores anon he hath him dight Alone, and, ther he wende han ben allyed, He knokked faste, and ay, the more he cryed, (541) 3721 The faster shetto they the dores alle; Tho wiste he wel he hadde him-self mis- gyed, And wente his wey, no lenger dorste he calle.
This Seneca, of which that I devyse, By-cause Nero hadde of him system and curtes by the senection of the system o	The peple cryde and rombled up and doun, That with his eres herde he how they soyde, 3726 (Wher is this false tyraunt, this Neroun?' For fere almost out of his wit he breyde, And to his goddes pitously he preyde For socour, but it mighte nat bityde. 3730 For drede of this, him thoughte that he deyde, (551) And ran in to a gardin, him to hyde. And in this gardin fond he cherles tweye That seten by a fyr ful greet and reed,

And to thise cherles two he gan to preye To sleen him, and to girden of his heed, That to his body, whan that he were deed, Were no despyt y-doon, for his defame. Him-self he slow, he coude no better reed, Of which fortune lough, and hadde a game. 3740

DE OLOFERNO (HOLOFERNES).

Was never capitayn under a king (561) That regnes mo putte in subjeccioun, Ne strenger was in feeld of alle thing, As in his tyme, ne gretter of renoun, 3744 Ne more pompous in heigh presumpcioun Than Oloferne, which fortune ay kiste So likerously, and ladde him up and doun Til that his heed was of, er that he wiste.

Nat only that this world hadde him in awe

For lesinge of richesse or libertee, 3750 But he made every man reneye his lawe. 'Nabugodonosor was god,' seyde he, (572) 'Noon other god sholde adoured be.'

Ageyns his heste no wight dar trespace Save in Bethulia, a strong citee, 3755 Wher Eliachim a prest was of that place.

But tak kepe of the deeth of Olofern; Amidde his host he dronke lay a night, With-inne his tente, large as is a bern, And yit, for al his pompe and al his might, 3760

Judith, a womman, as he lay upright,

Sleping, his heed of smoot, and from his tente (582)

Ful prively she stal from every wight, And with his heed unto hir toun she

DE REGE ANTHIOCHO ILLUSTRI.

What nedeth it of King Anthiochus 3765 To telle his hye royal magestee,

His hye pryde, his werkes venimous? For swich another was ther noon as he. Rede which that he was in Machabee, And rede the proude wordes that he seyde, And why he fil fro heigh prosperitee, (591) And in an bil how wreehedly he deyde. Fortune him hadde enhanced so in pryde That verraily he wende he mighte attayne Unto the sterres, upon every syde, 3775 And in balance weyen ech montayne, And alle the flodes of the see restrayne.

And goddes peple hadde he most in hate, Hem wolde he sleen in torment and in payne,

Wening that god ne mighte his pryde abate. (600) 3780

And for that Nichanor and Thimothee Of Jewes weren venquisshed mightily, Unto the Jewes swich an hate hadde he That he bad greithe his char ful hastily, And swoor, and seyde, ful despitously, Unto Jerusalem he wolde eff-sone, 3786 To wreken his ire on it ful cruelly; But of his purpos he was let ful sone.

God for his manaco him so sore smoot With invisible wounde, ay incurable, 3700 That in his guttes carf it so and boot (611) That his peynes weren importable.

And certeinly, the wreche was resonable, For many a mannes guttes dide he peyne; But from his purpos cursed and dampnable 3705

For al his smert he wolde him nat restreyne;

But bad anon apparaillen his host, And sodeynly, er he of it was war, God danuted al his pryde and al his bost. For he so sore fil out of his char, 3800 That it his limes and his skin to-tar, (521) So that he neither mighte go ne ryde, But in a chayer men aboute him bar, Al for-brused, both bak and syde, 3801

The wreche of god him smoot so cruelly That thurgh his body wikked wormes crepte;

And ther-with-al he stank so horribly,

That noon of al his meynee that him kepte,

Whether so he wook or elles slepte, 3800 Ne mighte noght for stink of him endure. In this meschief he wayled and eek wepte, And knew god lord of every creature.

To al his host and to him-self also (633) Ful wlatsom was the stink of his careyne; No man ne mighte him bere to ne fro. And in this stink and this horrible peyne 3816

He starf ful wrecchedly in a monteyne.

Thus hath this robbour and this homicyde, That many a man made to wepe and pleyne, 3819

Swich guerdon as bilongeth unto pryde.

DE ALEXANDRO.

The storie of Alisaundre is so comune, That every wight that hath discrecioun Hath herd somwhat or al of his fortune. This wyde world, as in conclusioun, (644) He wan by strengthe, or for his hye renoun 3825 They weren glad for pees un-to him sende. The pryde of man and beste he leyde adoun,

Wher-so he cam, un-to the worldes ende.

Comparisoun might never yit be maked Bitwixe him and another conquerour;

For al this world for drede of him hath quaked, (651) 3831

He was of knighthode and of fredom flour; Fortune him made the heir of hir honour; Save wyn and wommen, no-thing mighte aswaze

His hye entente in armes and labour;

So was he ful of leonyn corage. 3836

What preys were it to him, though I yow tolde

Of Darius, and an hundred thousand mo, Of kinges, princes, erles, dukes bolde,

Whiche he conquered, and broghte hem in-to wo? 3840

I seye, as fer as man may ryde or go, (661) The world was his, what sholde I more devyse?

For though I write or tolde you evermo Of his knighthode, it mighte nat suffyse.

Twelf yeer he regned, as seith Machabee; Philippes sone of Macedoyne he was, 3846 That first was king in Greee the contree. O worthy gentil Alisaundre, allas!

That ever sholde fallen swich a cas! 3849 Empoisoned of thyn owene folk thou were; Thy sys fortune hath turned into as, (671) And yit for thee ne weep she never a tere !

Who shal me yeven teres to compleyne The decth of gentillesse and of fraunchyse, That al the world welded in his demeyne, And yit him thoughte it mighte nat suffyse? 3850 SO ful was his corage of heigh empryse. Allas! who shal me helpe to endyte False fortune, and poison to despyse, The whiche two of al this wo I wyte ? 3860

DE JULIO CESARE.

By wisdom, manhede, and by greet labour Fro humble bed to royal magestee, (682) Up roos he, Julius the conquerour, That wan al th'occident by lond and see, By strengthe of hond, or elles by tretée, And un-to Rome made hem tributarie; And sitthe of Rome the emperour was he, Til that fortune wex his adversarie.

O mighty Cesar, that in Thessalye Ageyn Pompeius, fader thyn in lawe, 3870 That of th'orient hadde al the chivalrye As fer as that the day biginneth dawe, Thou thurgh thy knighthode hast hem take and slawe, (693) Save fewe folk that with Pompeius fledde, Thurgh which thou puttest al th'orient in awe. 3875 Thanke fortune, that so wel thee spedde !

But now a litel whyl I wol biwaille This Pompeius, this noble governour Of Rome, which that fleigh at this bataille; I seye, con of his men, a fals traitour, (700) His heed of smoot, to winnen him favour Of Julius, and him the heed he broghte. Allas, Pompey, of th'orient conquerour, That fortune unto swich a fyn thee broghte!

To Rome ageyn repaireth Julius 3885 With his triumphe, laureat ful hye, But on a tyme Brutus Cassius, That ever hadde of his hye estaat envye, Ful prively hath maad conspiracye Ageins this Julius, in subtil wyse, 3890

This Julius to the Capitolie wente	And eek a sweven up-on a night he mette,
Upon a day, as he was wont to goon,	Of which he was so proud and eek so fayn,
And in the Capitolie anon him hente 3895	That in vengeaunce he al his herte sette.
This false Brutus, and his othere foon,

So manly was this Julius at herte (721) And so wel lovede estaatly honestee, That, though his deedly woundes sore smerte, His mantel over his hippes casteth he, For no man sholde seen his privitee. 3905 And, as he lay on deying in a traunce, And wiste verraily that deed was he, Of honestee yit hadde he remembraunce.	To drye him with, and ther-for wex his pryde; And to his doghter, that stood him bisyde, Which that he knew in heigh science habounde, He bad hir telle him what it signifyde, And she his dreem bigan right thus ex- pounde. 3940 'The tree,' quod she, 'the galwes is to

CRESUS.

This riche Cresus, whylom king of Lyde, Of whiche Cresus Cyrus sore him dradde, Yit was he caught amiddes al his pryde, And to be brent men to the fyr him ladde. But swich a reyn doun fro the welkne (741) 3921 shadde

That slow the fyr, and made him to escape; But to be war no grace yet he hadde,

Til fortune on the galwes made him gape.

Whan he escaped was, he can nat stente For to biginne a newe werre agayn, 3926 Thus warned she him ful plat and ful pleyn,

THE NONNE PREESTES TALE.

Here biginneth the Nonne Preestes Tale of the Cok and Hen, Chauntecleer and Pertelote.

A POVRE widwe, somdel stape in age, Was whylom dwelling in a narwe cotage, Bisyde a grove, stonding in a dale.

This widwe, of which I telle yow my tale, Sin thilke day that she was last a wyf, In pacience ladde a ful simple lyf, 4016

For litel was hir catel and hir rente;

- By housbondrye, of such as God hir sente, She fond hir-self, and eek hir doghtren two.
- Three large sowes hadde she, and namo, Three kyn, and eek a sheep that highte Malle, (11) 4021

Ful sooty was hir bour, and eek hir halle, In which she eet ful many a sclendre meel,

Of poynaunt sauce hir neded never a deel. No deyntee morsel passed thurgh hir throte: 4025

Hir dyete was accordant to hir cote. Repleccioun ne made hir never syk; Attempree dyete was al hir phisyk,

And exercyse, and hertes suffisaunce. 4029 The goute lette hir no-thing for to daunce, N'apoplexye shente nat hir heed; (21)

- No wyn ne drank she, neither whyt ne reed;
- Hir bord was served most with whyt and blak,
- Milk and broun breed, in which she fond no lak,
- Seynd bacoun, and somtyme an ey or tweye, 4035

For she was as it were a maner deye. A yerd she hadde, enclosed al aboute

With stikkes, and a drye dich with-oute,

In which she hadde a cok, hight Chauntecleer, 4039

In al the land of crowing nas his peer. (30) His vois was merier than the mery orgon On messe-dayes that in the chirche gon; Wel sikerer was his crowing in his logge, Than is a clokke, or an abbey orlogge. By nature knew he ech ascencioun 4045 Of equinoxial in thilke toun;

For whan degrees fiftene were ascended, Thanne crew he, that it mighte nat ben amended. (38) His comb was redder than the fyn coral, And batailed, as it were a castel-wal, 4050

His bile was blak, and as the jeet it shoon ; Lyk asur were his legges, and his toon ; His nayles whytter than the lilie flour, And lyk the burned gold was his colour. This gentil cok hadde in his governaunce

Sevene hennes, for to doon al his plesaunce, Whiche were his sustres and his paramours, 4057

And wonder lyk to him, as of colours. Of whiche the faireste hewed on hir throte

Was cleped faire damoysele Pertelote.

Curteys she was, discreet, and debonaire, And compaignable, and bar hir-self so faire, (52)

Sin thilke day that she was seven night old.

That trewely she hath the herte in hold Of Chauntecleer loken in every lith ; 4065 He loved hir so, that wel was him therwith.

But such a joye was it to here hem singe, Whan that the brighte sonne gan to springe, 4068

In swete accord, 'my lief is faren in londe.' For thilke tyme, as I have understonde, Bestes and briddes coude speke and singe.

And so bifel, that in a daweninge, (62) As Chauntecleer among his wyres alle Sat on his perche, that was in the halle, And next him sat this faire Pertelote, 4075

This Chauntecleer gan gronen in his throte,

As man that in his dreem is dreeched sore. And whan that Pertelote thus herde him rore, 4078 She was agast, and seyde, 'O herte dere, What eyleth yow, to grone in this manere? Ye been a verray sleper, fy for shame !'(71) And he answerde and seyde thus, 'madame, I pray yow, that yet ake it nat a-grief: By god, me mette I was in swich meschief Right now, that yet myn herte is sore afright. 4085 Now god,' quod he, 'my swevene recche aright, And keep my body out of foul prisoun ! Me mette, how that I romed up and doun Withinne our yerde, wher-as I saugh a beste, Was lyk an hound, and wolde han maad areste 4090 Upon my body, and wolde han maad areste, (Brither Street, His colour was bitwike yelwe and reed ; And tipped was his tail, and bothe his eres, With blak, unlyk the remenant of his herces; His snowte smal, with glowinge eyen tweye. 4095	dremes?   - Oon of the gretteste auctours that men rede
- Seith thus, that whylom two felawes wente 4175
- On pilgrimage, in a ful good entente; And happed so, thay come into a toun, Wher-as ther was swich congregacioun Of peple, and eek so streit of herbergage That they ne founde as muche as o cotage In which they bothe mighte y-logged be. Wherfor thay mosten, of necessite, (172) As for that night, departen compaigno; And ech of hem goth to his hostelrye, And took his logging as it wolde falle. 4185 That oon of hem was logged in a stalle, Fer in a yerd, with oxon of the plough; That other man was logged wel y-nough, As was his aventure, or his fortune, 4189 That us governeth alle as in commune.
- And so bifel, that, longe er it were day, This man mette in his bed, ther-as he lay, How that his felawe gan up-on him calle, (183)
- And seyde, "allas! for in an oxes stalle This night I shal be mordred ther I lye. Now help me, dere brother, er I dye; 4196 In alle haste com to me," he sayde.

This man out of his sleep for fere abrayde;

But whan that he was wakned of his sleep, He turned him, and took of this no keep ; Him thoughte his dreem nas but a vanitee. Thus twyes in his sleping dremed he. (192) And atte thridde tyme yet his felawe

- Cam, as him thoughte, and seide, "I am now slawe;
- Bihold my blody woundes, depe and wyde ! Arys up erly in the morwe-tyde, 4206 And at the west gate of the toun, "quod he, " A carte ful of dong ther shaltow see,
- In which my body is hid ful prively;
- Do thilke carte aresten boldely. 4210 My gold caused my mordre, sooth to
- sayn;" (201) And tolde him every poynt how he was
- slayn, With a ful pitous face, pale of hewe.
- And truste wel, his dreem he fond ful trewe;
- For on the morwe, as sone as it was day, To his felawes in he took the way; 4216 And whan that he cam to this oxes stalle, After his felawe he bigan to calle.

The hostiler answered him anon,

And seyde, "sire, your felawe is agon, 420 As some as day he wente out of the toun." This man gan fallen in suspecioun (212) Remembring on his dremes that he mette, And forth he goth, no lenger wolde he lette.

Unto the west gate of the toun, and fond A dong-carte, as it were to donge lond, That was arrayed in the same wyse As ye han herd the dede man devyse; And with an hardy herte he gan to crye "My felawe mordred is this same night, And in this carte he lyth gapinge upright. I crye out on the ministres," quod hee, (22) "That sholden kepe and reulen this citee; Harrow! allas! her lyth my felawe slavn!"

What sholde I more un-to this tale sayn ? The peple out-sterte, and caste the cart to grounde.

- And in the middel of the dong they founde
- The dede man, that mordred was al newe. O blisful god, that art so just and trewe! 4240

Lo, how that thou biwreyest mordre	That I wol lette for to do my thinges.

If he held dremes any vanitee. 4319
Reed eek of Joseph, and ther shul ye see
Wher dremes ben somtyme (I sey nat alle)
Warning of thinges that shul after falle.
Loke of Egipt the king, daun Pharao, (313)
His bakere and his boteler also, 4324
Wher they ne felte noon effect in dremes.
Who-so wol seken actes of sondry remes,
May rede of dremes many a wonder thing.

Lo Cresus, which that was of Lyde king, Mette he nat that he sat upon a tree, 4339 Which signified he sholde anhanged be ? Lo heer Andromacha, Ectores wyf, (321) That day that Ector sholde lese his lyf, She dremed on the same night biforn, How that the lyf of Ector sholde be lorn, If thilke day he wente in-to bataille; 4335 She warned him, but it mighte nat availle:

He wente for to fighte nathelees,

But he was slayn anoon of Achilles.

But thilke tale is al to long to telle, 4339 And eek it is ny day, I may nat dwelle. Shortly I seye, as for conclusion, (331) That I shal han of this avisionn

Adversitee : and I seve forther-more.

That I ne telle of laxatyves no store,

For they ben venimous, I woot it wel; 4345 I hem defye, I love hem never a del.

Now let us speke of mirthe, and stinte al this:

Madame Pertelote, so have I blis,

Of o thing god hath sent me large grace; For whan I see the beautee of your face, Ye ben so scarlet-reed about your yën, It maketh al my drede for to dyen; (342)

For, also siker as In principio,

Mulier est hominis confusio; 4354 Madame, the sentence of this Latin is— Womman is mannes joye and al his blis. For whan I fele a-night your softe syde, Al-be-it that I may nat on you ryde,

For that our perche is maad so narwe, alas!

I am so ful of joye and of solas 4360 That I defye bothe sweven and dreem.'

And with that word he fley down fro the beem, (352)

For it was day, and eek his hennes alle; And with a chuk he gan hem for to calle, For he had founde a corn, lay in the yerd. Royal he was, he was namore aferd; 4366 He fethered Pertelote twenty tyme,

And trad as ofte, er that it was pryme.

He loketh as it were a grim leoun; 4369 And on his toos he rometh up and doun, Him deyned not to sette his foot to

- grounde. (361) He chukketh, whan he hath a corn y-founde.
- And to him rennen thanne his wyves alle.

Thus royal, as a prince is in his halle,

Leve I this Chauntecleer in his pasture ;

And after wol I telle his aventure. 4376 Whan that the month in which the world bigan.

That highte March, whan god first maked man,

Was complet, and [y]-passed were also,

Sin March bigan, thritty dayes and two,

Bifel that Chauntecleer, in al his pryde,

His seven wyves walking by his syde, (372) Caste up his eyen to the brighte sonne.

That in the signe of Taurus hadde

Twenty degrees and oon, and somwhat more; 4385

- And knew by kynde, and by noon other lore,
- That it was pryme, and crew with blisful stevene.
- "The sonne,' he sayde, ' is clomben up on hevene

Fourty degrees and oon, and more, y-wis. Madame Pertelote, my worldes blis, 4390 Herkneth thise blisful briddes how they singe, (431)

And see the fresshe floures how they springe;

Ful is myn herte of revel and solas.'

But sodeinly him fil a sorweful cas;

For ever the latter ende of joye is wo. 4395 God woot that worldly joye is some ago;

And if a rethor coude faire endyte,

He in a cronique saufly mighte it wryte, As for a sovereyn notabilitee. 4399 Now every wys man, lat him herkne me; This storie is al-so trewe, I undertake, (391) As is the book of Launcelot de Lake,

THE PHISICIENS TALE.

Here folweth the Phisiciens Tale.

THER was, as telleth Titus Livius, A knight that called was Virginius, Fulfild of honour and of worthinesse,

And strong of freendes and of greet richesse. [T. 11938

This knight a doghter hadde by his wyf, No children hadde he mo in al his lyf. 6 Fair was this mayde in excellent beautee Aboven every wight that man may see; For nature hath with sovereyn diligence V-formed hir in so greet excellence, 10 As though she wolde seyn, 'lo! I, Nature, Thus can I forme and peynte a creature, Whan that me list; who can me countrefeta?

Pigmalion noght, though he ay forge and bete. Or grave, or peynte ; for I dar wel seyn, 15 Apelles, Zanzis, sholde werche in veyn, Outher to grave or peynte or forge or bete, If they presumed me to countrefete. For he that is the former principal Hath maked me his vicaire general, 20 To forme and peynten erthely creaturis Right as me list, and ech thing in my cure is Under the mone, that may wane and waxe, And for my werk right no-thing wol I axe; My lord and I ben ful of oon accord; 25 I made hir to the worship of my lord.

So do I alle myne othere creatures,

What colour that they han, or what figures.'---

Thus semeth me that Nature wolde seye.

T. 11964-12054.

This mayde of age twelf yeer was and tweye, 30

In which that Nature hadde swich delyt. For right as she can peynte a lilie whyt And reed a rose, right with swich peynture She peynted hath this noble creature Er she were born, up-on hir limes free, 35 Wher-as by right swiche colours sholde be; And Phebus dyed hath hir tresses grete Lyk to the stremes of his burned hete. And if that excellent was hir beautee, A thousand-fold more vertuous was she. 40 In hir ne lakked no condicioun, That is to preyse, as by discrecioun. As wel in goost as body chast was she; For which she floured in virginitee With alle humilitee and abstinence, 45 With alle attemperaunce and pacience, With mesure eek of bering and array. Discreet she was in answering alway; Though she were wys as Pallas, dar I seyn, Hir facound eek ful wommanly and pleyn, No countrefeted termes hadde she 51 To seme wys; but after hir degree She spak, and alle hir wordes more and lesse

Souninge in vertu and in gentillesse. Shamfast she was in maydens shamfastnesse, 55 Constant in herte, and ever in bisinesse To dryve hir out of ydel slogardye. Bacus hadde of hir mouth right no maistrye;

For wyn and youthe doon Venus encrece, As men in fyr wol casten oile or greee. 60 And of hir owene vertu, unconstreyned, She hath ful ofte tyme syk hir feyned, For that she wolde fleen the companye Wher lykly was to treten of folye, As is at festes, revels, and at daunces. 65 That been occasions of daliaunces Swich thinges maken children for to be To sone rype and bold, as men may see, Which is ful perilous, and hath ben yore. For al to sone may she lerne lore po fo foldnesse, whan she woxen is a wyf.

And ye maistresses in your olde lyf, That lordes doghtres han in governance, Ne taketh of my wordes no displesaunce; Thenketh that ye ben set in governinges75 Of lordes doghtres, only for two thinges; Outher for ye han kept your honestee, Or elles ye han falle in freletee, And knowen wel y-nough the olde daunce, And han forsaken fully swich meschaunce For evermo; therfore, for Cristes sake, 81 To teche hem vertu loke that ye ne slake. A theef of venisoun, that hath forlaft His likerousnesse, and al his olde craft, Can kepe a forest best of any man. 85 Now kepeth hem wel, for if ye wel, ye can; Loke wel that ye un-to no vice assente, Lest ye be dampned for your wikke entente ; For who-so doth, a traitour is certeyn.

And taketh kepe of that that I shal seyn; 90

Of alle tresons sovereyn pestilence Is whan a wight bitrayseth innocence.

Ye fadres and ye modres eek also, Though ye han children, be it oon or two, Your is the charge of al hir surveysunce, 95 Whyl that they been under your governaunce.

Beth war that by ensample of your livinge, Or by your necligence in chastisinge, That they ne perisse; for I dar wel seye, If that they doon, yeshnl it dere abeye, too Under a shepherde softe and necligent

The wolf hath many a sheep and lamb to-rent.

Suffyseth oon ensample now as here, For I mot turne agayn to my matere.

This mayde, of which I wol this tale expresse, or constraints of the second sec

She was so prudent and so bountevous. 110

For which the fame out-sprong on every syde

Bothe of hir beautee and hir bountee wyde; That thurgh that land they preysed hir echone,

That loved vertu, save envye allone, That sory is of ther mennes wele, And glad is of the sorwe and his unhele ; (The doctour maketh this descripcioun). This mayde up-on a day wente in the toun Toward a temple, with hir moder dere, As is of yonge maydens the manere, 120 Now was ther thanne a justice in that toun,

That governour was of that regionn. And so bifel, this juge his eyen caste Up-on this mayde, avysinge him ful faste, As she cam forby ther this juge stood. 125 Anon his herte channged and his mood, So was he caught with beautee of this mayde;

And to him-self ful prively he sayde,

'This mayde shal be myn, for any man.'

Anon the feend in-to his herte ran, 130 And taughte him sodeynly, that he by slighte

The mayden to his purpos winne mighte. For certes, by no force, ne by no mede,

Him thoughte, he was natable for to spede; For she was strong of freendes, and eek she Confermed was in swich soverayn bountee, That wel he wiste he mighte hir never winne 137

As for to make hir with hir body sinne. For which, by greet deliberacioun,

He sente after a cherl, was in the toun, 140

Which that he knew for subtil and for bold.

This juge un-to this cherl his tale hath told In secree wyse, and made him to ensure, He sholde telle it to no creature.

And if he dide, he sholde less his heed. 145 Whan that assented was this cursed reed, Glad was this juge and maked him greet chere.

And yaf him yiftes preciouse and dere. Whan shapen was al hir conspiracye

Fro point to point, how that his lecherye Parfourned sholde been ful subtilly, 151 As ye shul here it after openly,

Hoom gooth the cherl, that highte Claudius.

This false juge that highte Apius,

So was his name, (for this is no fable, 155 But knowen for historial thing notable, The sentence of it south is, out of doute), This false juge gooth now faste aboute To hasten his delyt al that he may. And so bifel sone after, on a day, 160 This false juge, as telleth us the storie, As he was wont, sat in his consistorie, And yaf his domes up-on sondry cas. This false chorl cam forth a ful greet pas, And seyde, 'lord, if that it be your wille, 165 As dooth me right up-on this pitous bille, In which I pleyne up-on Virginius. And if that he wol seyn it is nat thus, I wol it preve, and finde good witnesse.

That sooth is that my bille wol expresse.'

The juge answerde, 'of this, in his absence, 171

I may nat yeve diffinitif sentence.

Lat do him calle, and I wol gladly here; Thou shalt have al right, and no wrong here.' 174 Virginius cam, to wite the juges wille,

And right anon was rad this cursed bille; The sentence of it was as ye shul here.

'To yow, my lord, sire Apius so dere, Sheweth your povre servant Claudius, How that a knight, called Virginius, 180 Agayns the lawe, agayn al equitee,

Holdeth, expres agayn the wil of me,

My servant, which that is my thral by right,

Which fro myn hous was stole up-on a night,

Whyl that she was ful yong; this wol I preve 185

By witnesse, lord, so that it nat yow greve. She nis his doghter nat, what so he seye; Wherfore to yow, my lord the juge, I preye, Yeld me my thral, if that it be your wille.' Lo! this was at the sentence of his bille.

Virginius gan up-on the cherl biholde, But hastily, er he his tale tolde, 152 And wolde havo preved it, as sholde a knight,

And eek by witnessing of many a wight, That it was fals that scycle his adversarie, This cursed juge wolde no-thing tarie, 196 Ne here a word more of Virginius,

Thou shalt no lenger in thyn hous hir save. 200

Go bring hir forth, and put hir in our warde.

The cherl shal have his thral, this I awarde.'

And whan this worthy knight Virginius, Thurgh sentence of this justice Apius,

Moste by force his dere doghter yiven 205 Un-to the juge, in lecherye to liven,

He gooth him hoom, and sette him in his halle, And leet anon his dere doghter calle, And, with a face deed as asshen colde, Upon hir humble face he gan biholde, sio With fadrespiteestiking thurgh his herte, Al wolde he from his purpos nat converte. ' Doghter,' quod he, 'Virginia, by thy name, Ther been two weyes, outher deeth or shame, That thou most suffre ; allas ! that I was bore ! Doghter, ender of my lyf, O dere doghter, ender of my lyf, Which I have fostred up with swich plesaunce, That thou were never out of my remem- brance ! 220 O doghter, which that art my laste wo. And in my lyf my laste joye also, O gemme of chastitee, in pacience Take thou thy deeth, for this is my sen- tence, For love and nat for hate, thou most be deed ; 225 My pitons hand mot smyten of thyn heed. Allas ! that ever Apius thee say ! Thus hath he falsly juged thee to-day ' And tolde hir al the cas, as ye bifore 229 Han herd ; nat nedeth for to telle it more. ' O mercy, dere fader,' quod this mayde, And with that word she both hir armes layde About his nekke, as she was wont to do : The teres broste out of hir eyent two. And seyde, 'gode fader, shal I dye ? 235 Is ther no grace? is ther no remedye?' ## WORDS OF THE HOST.

The wordes of the Host to the Phisicien and the Pardoner.

Our Hoste gan to swere as he were wood,

'Harrow !' quod he, 'by nayles and by blood !

This was a fals cherl and a fals justyse ! As shamful deeth as herte may devyse 290 Come to thise juges and hir advocats ! Algate this sely mayde is slayn, allas! Allas! to dere boghte she beautee ! Wherfore I seye al day, as men may see, That yiftes of fortune or of nature 205 Ben cause of deeth to many a creature. (10) Hir beautee was hir deeth, I dar wel sayn ; Allas ! so pitously as she was slayn ! Of bothe viftes that I speke of now Men han ful ofte more harm than prow. But trewely, myn owene mayster dere, 301 This is a pitous tale for to here. But natheles, passe over, is no fors ; I prey to god, so save thy gentil cors, 304 And eek thyne urinals and thy jordanes, Thyn Ypocras, and eek thy Galianes, (20) And every boist ful of thy letuarie; God blesse hem, and our lady seinte

Marie !

So mot I theen, thou art a propre man, And lyk a prelat, by seint Ronyan! 310 Seyde I nat wel? I can nat speke in terme :

But wel I woot, thou doost my herte to erme.

That I almost have caught a cardiacle. By corpus bones ! but I have triacle, 314 Or elles a draught of moyste and cornyale, Or but I here anon a mery tale, (30) Myn herte is lost for pitee of this mayde. Thou bel amy, thou Pardoner,' he seyde, 'Tel us som mirthe or japes right anon.'

'It shall be doon,' quod he, 'by seint Ronyon ! 320

I wol both drinke, and eten of a cake.' But right anon thise gentils gonne to crye.

'Nay! lat him telle us of no ribaudye;

Tel us som moral thing, that we may lere 325

Som wit, and thanne wol we gladly here.' (40)

'I graunte, y-wis,' quod he, 'but I mot thinke

Up-on som honest thing, whyl that I drinke.'

THE PROLOGUE OF THE PARDONERS TALE.

Here folweth the Prologe of the Pardoners Tale.

Radix malorum est Cupiditas : Ad Thimotheum, sex'o.

'LORDINGS,' quod he, 'in chirches whan I preche,

I peyne me to han an hauteyn speche, 330 And ringe it out as round as gooth a belle, For I can al by rote that I telle. My theme is alwey oon, and ever was--

"Radix malorum est Cupiditas."

First I pronounce whennes that I come, And than my bulles shewe I, alle and somme. 336

Our lige lordes seel on my patente, That shewe I first, my body to warente, (10) That no man be so bold, ne preest ne clerk, Me to destourbe of Cristes holv werk: 340 And after that than telle I forth my tales, Bulles of popes and of cardinales. Of patriarkes, and bishoppes I shewe ; And in Latyn I speke a wordes fewe, To saffron with my predicacioun. 345 And for to stire men to devocioun. (18)Than shewe I forth my longe cristal stones. Y-crammed ful of cloutes and of bones : Reliks been they, as wenen they echoon. Than have I in latoun a sholder-boon 350 Which that was of an holy Jewes shepe, "Good men," seye I, "tak of my wordes kepe;

If that this boon be wasshe in any welle, If cow, or calf, or sheep, or oxe swelle

- That any worm hath ete, or worm ystonge, 355
- Tak water of that welle, and wash his tonge,

And it is hool anon; and forthermore, Of pokkes and of scabbe, and every sore (30) Shal every sheep be hool, that of this welle Drinketh a draughte; tak kepe eek what I telle. 360

If that the good-man, that the bestes oweth, Wol every wike, er that the cok him croweth,

Fastinge, drinken of this wellea draughte, As thilke holy Jewe our eldres taughte, His bestes and his stoor shal multiplye. 365 And, sirs, also it heleth jalousye;

For, though a man be falle in jalous rage, Let maken with this water his potage, (4c) And never shal he more his wyf mistriste, Though he the sooth of hir defaute wiste ; Al had she taken presets two or three. 371

Heer is a miteyn eek, that ye may see. He that his hond wol putte in this miteyn, He shal have multiplying of his greyn, Whan he hath sowen, be it whete or otes,

So that he offre pens, or elles grotes. 376 Good men and wommen, o thing warne

I yow,

If any wight be in this chirche now, (50) That hath doon sinne horrible, that he Dar nat, for shame, of it y-shriven be, 380 Or any womman, be she yong or old.

That hath y-maad hir housbond cokewold, Swich folk shul have no power ne no grace To offren to my reliks in this place.

And who-so findeth him out of swich blame, 385

He wol com up and offre in goddes name, And I assoille him by the auctoriteè

Which that by bulle y-graunted was to me." (60)

T. 12323-12396.] C. (proloque of the pardoners Tale.

By this gaude have I wonne, yeer by yeer,

An hundred mark sith I was Pardoner. I stonde lyk a clerk in my pulpet, 391 And whan the lewed peple is doun y-set, I preche, so as ye han herd bifore,

And telle an hundred false japes more. Than peyne I me to streeche forth the nekke, 395

And est and west upon the peple I bekke, As doth a dowve sitting on a berne. (69) Myn hondes and my tonge goon so yerne, That it is joye to see my bisinesse,

Of avaryce and of swich cursednesse 400 Is al my preching, for to make hem free To yeve her pens, and namely un-to me. For my entente is nat but for to winne, And no-thing for correccioun of sinne. 404 I rekke never, whan that they ben beried, Though that her soules goon a-blakeberied !

For certes, many a predicacioun

Comth ofte tyme of yvel entencioun ; (80) Som for plesaunce of folk and flaterye, To been avaunced by ipocrisye, 410 And som for veyne glorie, and som for hate. For, whan I dar non other weyes debate, Than wol I stinge him with my tonge smerte

In preching, so that he shal nat asterte To been defamed falsly, if that he 415 Hath trespased to my brethren or to me, For, though I telle noght his propre name, Men shal wel knowe that it is the same (90) By signes and by othere circumstances. Thus quyte I folk that doon us displesances: 420

Thus spitte I out my venim under hewe Of holynesse, to seme holy and trewe.

But shortly myn entente I wol devyse; I preche of no-thing but for coveityse. Therfor my theme is yet, and ever was" Hadix malorum est cupiditas." 426 Thus can I preche agayn that same vyce Which that I use, and that is avaryce. (uoo) But, though my-self be gilty in that sinne, Yet can I maken other folk to twinne 430 From avaryce, and sore to repente. But that is nat my principal entente. I preche no-thing but for coveityse; Of this matere it oughte y-nogh suffyse.

Than telle I hem ensamples many oon Of olde stories, longe tyme agoon: 436 For lewed peple loven tales olde; Swich thinges can they wel reporte and holde. (110)

What? trowe ye, the whyles I may preche, And winne gold and silver for I teche, 40 That I wol live in povert wilfull? Nay, nay, I thoghte it never trewely ! For I wol preche and begge in sondry londes;

I wol not do no labour with myn hondes, Ne make baskettes, and live therby, 445 Because I wol nat beggen ydelly. I wol non of the apostles counterfete; I wol have money, wolle, chese, and whete, Al were it yeven of the porrest page, (12), Or of the povrest widwe in a village, 450 Al sholde hir children sterve for famyne. Nay ! I wol drinke licour of the vyne, And have a joly wenche in every toun. But herkneth, lordings, in conclusioun ; Your lyking is that I shal telle a tale. 455 Now, have I dronke a draughte of corny ale.

By god, I hope I shal yow telle a thing That shal, by resoun, been at your lyking. For, though myself be a ful vicious man.

A moral tale yet I yow telle can, (132) 460 Which I am wont to preche, for to winne. Now holde your pees, my tale I wol beginne,'

THE PARDONERS TALE.

Here biginneth the Pardoners Tale.

In Flaundres whylom was a companye Of yonge folk, that haunteden folye,

As ryot, hasard, stewes, and tavernes, 465 Wher-as, with harpes, lutes, and giternes, They daunce and pleye at dees bothe day and night. (130)And ete also and drinken over hir might, Thurgh which they doon the devel sacrifvse With-in that develes temple, in cursed wyse, 470 By superfluitee abhominable ; Hir othes been so grete and so dampnable. That it is grisly for to here hem swere ; Our blissed lordes body they to-tere : Hem thoughte Jewes rente him noght y-nough ; 475 And ech of hem at otheres sinne lough. And right anon than comen tombesteres

Fetys and smale, and yonge fruytesteres, (150) Singers with harpes, baudes, wafereres,

Whiche been the verray develes officeres To kindle and blowe the fyr of lecherye, That is annexed un-to glotonye; 482 The holy writ take I to my witnesse, That luxurie is in wyn and dronkenesse.

Lo, how that dronken Loth, unkindely, Lay by his doghtres two, unwitingly; 486 So dronke he was, he niste what he wroghte. (159)

Herodes, (who-so wel the stories soghte), Whan he of wyn was replet at his feste, Right at his owene table he yaf his heste To sleen the Baptist John ful giltelees. 401

Senek seith eek a good word doutelees; He seith, he can no difference finde Bitwix a man that is out of his minde And a man which that is dronkelewe, 495 But that woodnesse, y-fallen in a shrewe, Persevereth lenger than doth dronkenesse. O glotonye, ful of cursednesse, (170) O cause first of our confusionn,

O original of our dampnacioun, 500

Til Crist had boght us with his blood agayn !

Lo, how dere, shortly for to sayn, Aboght was thilke cursed vileinye; Corrupt was al this world for glotonye!

Adam our fader, and his wyf also, 505 Fro Paradys to labour and to wo Were driven for that vyce, it is no drede; For whyl that Adam fasted, as I rede, (180) He was in Paradys; and whan that he Eet of the fruyt defended on the tree, 510 Anon he was out-cast to wo and peyne. O glotonye, on thee wel oghte us pleyne! O, wiste a man how many maladyes Folwen of excesse and of glotonyes, He wolde been the more mesurable 515

He wolde been the more mesurable 515 Of his diete, sittinge at his table.

Of this matere, o Paul, wel canstow trete,

'Mete un-to wombe, and wombe eek un-to mete,____

Shal god destroyen bothe,' as Paulus seith. Allas I a foul thing is it, by my feith, 54 To seve this word, and fouler is the dede, Whan man so drinketh of the whyte and rede,

That of his throte he maketh his privee, Thurgh thilke cursed superfluitee. (200)	That whan a man hath dronken draughtes three, (240)

For ye that been so glorious in honours Shul nat allyen yow with hasardours (290) As by my wil, me as by my tretee.'

Loke eek that, to the king Demetrius The king of Parthes, as the book seith us, Sente him a paire of dees of gold in scorn, For he hadde used hasard ther-biforn;

For which he heeld his glorie or his renoun 625

At no value or reputacioun,

Lordes may finden other maner pley

- Honeste y-nough to dryve the day awey. Now wol I speke of othes false and grete (301)
- A word or two, as olde bokes trete. 630 Gret swering is a thing abhominable,
- And false swering is yet more reprevable. The heighe god forbad swering at al,
- Witnesse on Mathew; but in special
- Of swering seith the holy Jeremye, 635
- 'Thou shalt seye sooth thyn othes, and nat lye,
- And swere in dome, and eek in rightwisnesse;'
- But ydel swering is a cursednesse. (310) Bihold and see, that in the firste table
- Of heighe goddes hestes honurable, 640 How that the seconde heste of him is this— 'Tak nat my name in ydel or amis.'
- Lo, rather he forbedeth swich swering
- Than homicyde or many a cursed thing;
- I seve that, as by ordre, thus it stondeth;
- This knowen, that his hestes understondeth, 646
- How that the second heste of god is that.
- And forther over, I wol thee telle al plat,
- That vengeance shal nat parten from his hous, (321)

That of his othes is to outrageous. 650

'By goddes precious herte, and by his nayles,

And by the blode of Crist, that it is in Hayles,

Seven is my chaunce, and thyn is cink and treye;

By goddes armes, if thou falsly pleye,

This dagger shal thurgh-out thyn herte go'- 655

This fruyt cometh of the bicched bonestwo, Forswering, ire, falsnesse, homicyde. (22) Now, for the love of Crist that for us dyde, Leveth your othes, bothe grete and smale; But, sirs, now wol I telle forth my tale. (60

Thus ryotoures three, of whiche I telle, Longe erst er pryme rong of any belle, Were set hem in a taverne for to drinke; And as they satte, they herde a belle elinke Biforn a cors, was carled to his grave; 665 That oon of hem gan callen to his knave, 'Go bet,' quod he, 'and axe redily, (33) What cors is this that passeth heer forby; And look that thou reporte his name wel.'

'Sir,' quod this boy, 'it nedeth nevera-del. 670

It was me told, er ye cam heer, two houres; He was, pardee, an old felawe of youres; And sodeynly he was y-slayn to-night,

For-dronke, as he sat on his bench upright;

Ther cam a privee theef, men clepeth Deeth, 675

That in this contree al the peple sleeth,

And with his spere he smoot his herte a-two, (349)

And wente his wey with-outen wordes mo. He hath a thousand slayn this postilence : And, maister, er ye come in his presence, Me thinketh that it were necessarie 631 For to be war of swich an adversarie :

Beth redy for to mete him evermore. Thus taughte me my dame, I sey na-more.'

'By seinte Marié,' seyde this taverner, 685 'The child seith sooth, for he hath slavn this yeer,

Henne over a myle, with-in a greet village, Both man and womman, child and hyne, and page, (360)

I trowe his habitacioun be there; To been avysed greet wisdom it were, 690 Er that he dide a man a dishonour.'

'Ye, goddes armes,' quod this ryotour,

By goddes dignitee, er it be night.'

Togidres han thise three her trouthes plight,

To live and dyen ech of hem for other,

As though he were his owene y-boren brother.

And up they sterte al dronken, in this rage, 705

And forth they goon towardes that village, Of which the taverner had spoke biforn,

And many a grisly ooth than han they sworn, (380)

And Cristes blessed body they to-rente-'Deeth shal be deed, if that they may him hente.' 710 Whan they han goon nat fully half a myle.

Right as they wolde han troden over a style.

An old man and a povre with hem mette. This olde man ful mekely hem grette,

And seyde thus, 'now, lordes, god yow see!' 715

The proudest of thise ryotoures three

Answerde agayn, 'what? carl, with sory grace, (389)

Why artow al forwrapped save thy face ? Why livestow so longe in so greet age ?'

This olde man gan loke in his visage, 720 And seyde thus, 'for I ne can nat finde A man, though that I walked in-to Inde, Neither in citee nor in no village,

That wolde chaunge his youthe for myn age :

And therfore moot I han myn age stille, As longe time as it is goddes wille. 726

Ne deeth, allas ! ne wol nat han my lyf; Thus walke I, lyk a restelees caityf, (400) And on the ground, which is my modres gate.

Iknokke with my staf, bothe erly and late, And seye, "leve moder, leet me in ! 731 Lo, how I vanish, flesh, and blood, and skin!

Allas ! whan shul my bones been at reste? . Moder, with yow wolde I chaunge my cheste, 734

That in my chambre longe tyme hath be, Ye! for an heyre clout to wrappe me!"

But yet to me she wol nat do that grace, For which ful pale and welked is my face.

But, sirs, to yow it is no curteisye (411) To speken to an old man vileinye, 740 But he trespasse in worde, or elles in dede. In holy writ ye may yourself wel rede,

"Agayns an old man, hoor upon his heed,

Ye sholde aryse;" wherfor I yeve yow reed,

Ne dooth un-to an old man noon harm now, 745

Na-more than ye wolde men dide to yow In age, if that ye so longe abyde ;

And god be with yow, wher ye go or ryde.

I moot go thider as I have to go.' (421) 'Nay, olde cherl, by god, thou shalt nat so," 750

Seyde this other hasardour anon :

'Thou partest nat so lightly, by seint John !

Thou spak right now of thilke traitour Deeth,

- That in this contree alle our frendes sleeth.
- Have heer my trouthe, as thou art his aspye, 755

Tel wher he is, or thou shalt it abye,

By god, and by the holy sacrament !

For soothly thou art oon of his assent, (430)

To sleen us yonge folk, thou false theef!' 'Now, sirs,' quod he, 'if that yow be so

The Prologe of the Wyves Tale of Bathe.

<sup>4</sup>EXPERIENCE, though noon auctoritee Were in this world, were right y-nough to me

To speke of wo that is in mariage;

For, lordinges, sith I twelf yeer was of age, Thonked be god that is eterne on lyve, 5 Housbondes at chirche-dore I have had fyve:

For I so ofte have y-wedded be :

And alle were worthy men in hir degree.

- But me was told certeyn, nat longe agon is,
- That sith that Crist ne wente never but

To wedding in the Cane of Galilee,

That by the same ensample taughte he me That I ne sholde wedded be but ones.

Herke eek, lo! which a sharp word for the nones

Tesyde a welle Jesus, god and man, 15 Spak in repreve of the Samaritan :

- "Thou hast y-had fyve housbondes," quod he,
- "And thilke man, the which that hath now thee,

Is noght thyn housbond;" thus seyde he certeyn;

What that he mente ther-by, I can nat seyn; 20

But that I axe, why that the fifthe man Was noon housbond to the Samaritan? How manye mighte she have in mariage?

Yet herde I never tellen in myn age Upon this nombre diffinicioun; 25

Men may devyne and glosen up and doun. But wel I woot expres, with-oute lye, God bad us for to wexe and multiplye; That gentil text can I wel understonde. Eek wel I woot he seyde, myn housbonde Sholde lete fader and moder, and take me; 3t

But of no nombre mencioun made he, Of bigamye or of octogamye ;

Why sholde men speke of it vileinye?

Lo, here the wyse king, dan Salomon; 35 I trowe he hadde wyves mo than oon;

As, wolde god, it leveful were to me

To be refresshed half so ofte as he !

Which yifte of god hadde he for alle his wyvis !

- No man hath swich, that in this world alyve is.
- God woot, this noble king, as to my wit, The firste night had many a mery fit

With ech of hem, so wel was him on lyve! Blessed be god that I have wedded fyve!*

Welcome the sixte, whan that ever he shal.

For sothe, I wol nat kepe me chast in al; Whan myn housbond is fro the world

y-gon, Som Cristen man shal wedde me anon :

For thanne th'apostle seith, that I am free

To wedde, a godd's half, wher it lyketh me. 50

He seith that to be wedded is no sinne; Bet is to be wedded than to brinne. What rekketh me, thogh folk seye vileinye Of shrewed Lameth and his bigamye?

But forth she wole, er any day be dawed

To shewe hir skin, and goon a-caterwawed;

This is to seve, if I be gay, sir shrewe, 355 I wol renne out, my borel for to shewe.

- Sire olde fool, what eyleth thee to

- In feith, he shal nat kepe me but me lest; 360
- Yet coude I make his berd, so moot I thee.
  - Thou seydest eek, that ther ben thinges three,

The whiche thinges troublen al this erthe, And that no wight ne may endure the ferthe:

O leve sir shrewe, Jesu shorte thy lyf! 365 Yet prechestow, and seyst, an hateful wyf

<ul> <li>Y-rekened is for oon of thise mischances.</li> <li>Been ther none othere maner resemblances</li> <li>That ye may lykne your parables to,</li> <li>But-if a sely wyf be oon of tho? 370</li> <li>Thon lyknenst wommanes love to helle,</li> <li>To bareyne lond, ther water may not dwelle.</li> <li>Thou lyknest it also to wilde fyr;</li> <li>The more it brenneth, the more it hath desyr</li> <li>To consume every thing that brent woll be. 375</li> <li>Thou seyst, that right as wormes shende a tree,</li> <li>Right so a wyf destroyeth hir housbonde;</li> <li>Right so a wyf destroyeth hir housbonde;</li> <li>This knowe they that been to wyves bonde."</li> <li>Lordinges, right thus, as ye have understonde,</li> <li>Bar I stiffy myne olde housbondes on houde, 380</li> <li>That thus they seyden in hir dronkenesse;</li> <li>And al was fals, but that I took witnesse</li> <li>On Janekin and on my nece also.</li> <li>O lord, the peyne I dide hem and the wo,</li> <li>Ful giltelees, by goddes swete pyne! 35;</li> <li>For as an hors I coule byte and whyne.</li> <li>I could pleyne, thogh I were in the gilt,</li> <li>Or elles often tyme hadde I ben spilt.</li> <li>Whoso that first to mille comth, first grint;</li> <li>I pleyned first, so was our werre y-stint.</li> <li>They were ful glad t'excusen hem ful blyve 391</li> <li>Of thing of which they never agilte hir lyve.</li> <li>Of wenches wolde I beren him on honde,</li> <li>Whan that for syk unnethes mighte he stonde.</li> <li>Yet tikled it his herte, for that he 395</li> <li>Wende that I hadde of him so greet chiertee.</li> <li>Iswoor that al my walkinge out by nighte</li> </ul>
Yet tikled it his herte, for that he 395 Wende that I hadde of him so greet	And han a swete spyced conscience, 435 Sith ye so preche of Jobes pacience.
I swoor that al my walkinge out by nighte	And but ye do, certein we shal yow
Was for t'espye wenches that he dighte;	teche
Under that colour hadde I many a mirthe.	That it is fair to have a wyf in pees.
For al swich wit is yeven us in our birthe;	Oon of us two moste bowen, doutelees; 440
Deceite, weping, spinning god hath vive	And sith a man is more resonable
To wommen kindely, whyl they may live.	Than womman is, ye moste been suffrable.

What eyleth yow to grucche thus and grone?

Is it for ye wolde have my queynte allone? Why taak it al, lo, have it every-deel; 445 Peter! I shrewe yow but ye love it weel! For if I wolde selle my bele chose,

I coude walke as fresh as is a rose :

But I wol kepe it for your owene tooth.

Ye be to blame, by god, I sey yow sooth."

- Swiche maner wordes hadde we on honde. 451
- Now wol I speken of my fourthe housbonde.

My fourthe housbonde was a revelour, This is to seyn, he hadde a paramour; And I was yong and ful of ragerye, 455 Stiborn and strong, and joly as a pye. Wel coude I daunce to an harpe smale.

And singe, y-wis, as any nightingale,

Whan I had dronke a draughte of swete wyn.

Metellius, the foule cherl, the swyn, 460 That with a staf birafte his wyf hir lyf,

For she drank wyn, thogh I hadde been his wyf,

He sholde nat han daunted me fro drinke; And, after wyn, on Venus moste I thinke: For al so siker as cold engendreth hayl,

A likerous mouth moste han a likerous tayl. 466

In womman vinolent is no defence, This knowen lechours by experience.

But, lord Crist! whan that it remembreth me

Up-on my yowthe, and on my jolitee, 470 It tikleth me aboute myn herte rote. Unto this dag it docht myn herte bote That I have had my world as in my tyme. But age, allas! that al wol envenyme, 474 Hath me biraft my beautee and my pith; Lat go, fare-wel, the devel go therwith! The flour is goon, ther is na-more to telle, The bren, as I best can, now moste I selle; But yet to be right mery wol I fonde.

Now wol I tellen of my fourthe housbonde. 480

I seye, I hadde in herte greet despyt That he of any other had delyt.

But he was quit, by god and by seint Joce !

I made him of the same wode a croce;

Nat of my body in no foul manere, 485 But certeinly, I made folk swich chere, That in his owene greec I made him fryc For angre, and for verray jalousye. By god, in erthe I was his purgatorie, 489 For which I hope his soule be in glorie.

For god it woot, he sat ful ofte and song Whan that his shoo ful bitterly him wrong.

Ther was no wight, save god and he, that wiste.

In many wyse, how sore I him twiste. He deyde whan I cam fro Jerusalem, 495 And lyth y-grave under the rode-beem, Al is his tombe noght so curious As was the sepulore of him, Darius, Which that Appelles wroghte subtilly; It nis but wast to burie him preciously. 500 Lat him fare-wel, god yeve his soule reste, He is now in the grave and in his cheste.

Now of my fifthe housbond wol I telle. God lete his soule never come in helle! And yet was he to me the moste shrewe; That fele I on my ribbes al by rewe, 506 And ever shal, un-to myn ending-day. But in our bed he was so fresh and gay, And ther-with-al so wel coude he me glose, Whan that he wolde han my bele chose, 510 That thogh he hadde me bet on every boon.

He coule winne agayn my love anoon, I trowe I loved him beste, for that he Was of his love daungerous to me. We wommen han, if that I shal nat lye, In this matere a queynto fantasye; 516 Wayte what thing we may nat lightly have,

Ther-after wol we crye al-day and crave. Forbøde us thing, and that desyren we; Prees on us faste, and thanne wol we fiee. With daunger oute we al our chaffare; 52x Greet prees at market maketh dere ware, And to greet cheep is holde at litel prys; This knowth every woman that is wrs.

My fifthe housbonde, god his soule blesse! 525

Which that I took for love and no richesse,

He som-tyme was a clerk of Oxenford,

And had left scole, and wente at hoom to bord

With my gossib, dwellinge in oure toun, God have hir soule! hir name was Alisoun. 530 She knew myn herte and eek my privetee Bet than our parisshe-preest, so moot I thee! To hir biwreyed I my conseil al. For had myn housbonde pissed on a wal, Or doon a thing that sholde han cost his lyf, 535 To hir, and to another worthy wyf, And to my nece, which that I loved weel, I wolde han told his conseil every-deel. And so I dide ful often, god it woot, That made his face ful often reed and hoot 540 For verray shame, and blamed him-self for he Had told to me so greet a privetee. And so bifel that ones, in a Lente, (So often tymes I to my gossib wente, For ever yet I lovede to be gay, 545 And for to walke, in March, Averille, and May, Fro hous to hous, to here sondry talls), That Jankin elerk, and my gossib dame Alis, And I my-self, in-to the feldes wente. Myn housbond was at London al that Lente; 550 I hadde the bettre leyser for to pleye, And for to see, and eek for to be seye Of lusty folk ; what wiste I where my grace Was shapen for to be, or in what place? Therefore I made my visitaciouns, 555 To vigilies and to processiouns, To preching eek and to thise pilgrimages, To pleyes of miracles and mariages, And wered upon my gaye scarlet gytes. Thise wormes, ne thise mothes, ne thise mythes, 560 Upon my peril, frete hem never a deel ; And wostow why? for they were used weel. Now wol I tellen forth what happed me. I seye, that in the feeldes walked we, Til trewely we hadde swich daliance, 565	For certeinly, I sey for no bobance, Yet was I never with-outen purveyance Of mariage, n'of othere thinges eek. 577 I holde a monses here nat worth a leck, That hath but oon hole for to sterte to, And if that faille, thanne is al y-do. I bar him on honde, he hadde en- chanted me; 575 My dame taughte me that soutiltee. And eek I seyde, I metto of him al night; He wolde han slayn me as I lay up-right, And al my bed was ful of veray blood, But yet I hope that he shal do me good; 580 For blood bitokeneth gold, as me was taught. And al was fals, I dremed of it right nanght, But as I folwed ay my dames lore, As wel of this as of other thinges more. But now sir, lat me see, what I shal seyn? 555 A! ha! by god, I have my tale ageyn. Whan that my fourthe housbond was on bere, I weep algate, and made sory chere, As wyles moten, for it is usage, And with my coverchief covered my visage; 590 But for that I was purveyed of a make, I weep but smal, and that I undertake. To chirche was myn housbond born a-morwe With neighebores, that for him maden sorwe; And Jankin oure clerk was oon of tho. 595 As help me god, whan that I saugh him go After the bere, me thoughte he hadde a paire Of legges and of feet so clene and faire, That al myn herts I yaf un-to his hold. He was, I trowe, a twenty winter old, 600 And I was fourty, if I shal seye sooth; But yet I hadde alwey a coltes tooth. Gat-tothed I was, and that bicam me weel; I hadde the prente of stynt Venns seel.

I	ne,

I had the beste quoniam mighte be. For certes. I am al Venerien 600 In felinge, and myn herte is Marcien.

Venus me yaf my lust, my likerousnesse, And Mars vaf me my sturdy hardinesse. Myn ascendent was Taur, and Mars therinne.

Allas! allas! that ever love was sinne! I folwed ay myn inclinacioun 615

By vertu of my constellacioun ;

That made me I coude noght withdrawe My chambre of Venus from a good felawe. Yet have I Martes mark up-on my face, And also in another privee place. 620

For, god so wis be my savacioun,

I ne loved never by no discrecioun.

But ever folwede myn appetyt.

Al were he short or long, or blak or whyt:

I took no kepe, so that he lyked me. 625 How pore he was, ne eek of what degree.

What sholde I seye, but, at the monthes ende,

This joly clerk Jankin, that was so hende, Hath wedded me with greet solempnitee, And to him yaf I al the lond and fee 630 That ever was me yeven ther-bifore ; But afterward repented me ful sore, He nolde suffre nothing of my list. By god, he smoot me ones on the list, For that I rente out of his book a leef, 635 That of the strook myn ere wex al deef. Stiborn I was as is a leonesse,

And of my tonge a verray jangleresse, And walke I wolde, as I had doon biforn, From hous to hous, al-though he had it 640 sworn.

For which he often tymes wolde preche, And me of olde Romayn gestes teche, How he, Simplicius Gallus, lefte his wyf, And hir forsook for terme of al his lyf, Noght but for open-heeded he hir say 645 Lokinge out at his dore upon a day.

Another Romayn tolde he me by name, That, for his wyf was at a someres game With-oute his witing, he forsook hir eke. And than wolde he up-on his Bible seke That ilke proverbe of Ecclesiaste. 651 Wher he comandeth and forbedeth faste,

- Than wolde he seve right thus, withouten doute,
  - "Who-so that buildeth his hous al of salwes,
  - And priketh his blinde hors over the falwes.

And suffreth his wyf to go seken halwes, Is worthy to been hanged on the galwes!"

But al for noght, I sette noght an hawe Of his proverbes n'of his olde sawe, 660 Ne I wolde nat of him corrected be.

I hate him that my vices telleth me.

And so do mo, god woot! of us than L

This made him with me wood al outrely: I nolde noght forbere him in no cas. 665

Now wol I seye yow sooth, by seint Thomas,

Why that I rente out of his book a leef.

For which he smoot me so that I was deef.

He hadde a book that gladly, night and day,

For his desport he wolde rede alway. 670 He cleped it Valerie and Theofraste,

At whiche book he lough alwey ful faste. And eek ther was som-tyme a clerk at Rome,

A cardinal, that highte Seint Jerome. That made a book agayn Jovinian; 675 In whiche book eek ther was Tertulan. Crisippus, Trotula, and Helowys. That was abbesse nat fer fro Parvs : And eek the Parables of Salomon. Ovydes Art, and bokes many on. 680 And alle thise wer bounden in o volume. And every night and day was his custume, Whan he had levser and vacacioun From other worldly occupacioun, 684 To reden on this book of wikked wvves. He knew of hem mo legendes and lyves Than been of gode wyves in the Bible. For trusteth wel, it is an impossible That any clerk wol speke good of wyves, But-if it be of holy seintes lyves, 600 Ne of noon other womman never the mo. Who peyntede the leoun, tel me who? ### T. 7226-7278.] D. The Somnour's Prologue.

And leve this Somnour good man to bicome !

Lordinges, I coude han told yow, quod this Frere, 1645

Hadde I had leyser for this Somnour here, After the text of Crist[and] Poul and John, And of our othere doctours many oon,

Swiche peynes, that your hertes mighte agryse, (351)

Al-be-it so, no tonge may devyse, 1650 Thogh that I mighte a thousand winter telle.

The peyne of thilke cursed hous of helle. But, for to kepe us fro that cursed place, Waketh, and preyeth Jesu for his grace So kepe us fro the temptour Sathanas. 1655 Herketh this word, beth war as in this cas;

The leoun sit in his await alway

To slee the innocent, if that he may. (360) Disposeth ay your hertes to withstonde

The feend, that yow wolde make thral and bonde. 1660

He may nat tempten yow over your might; For Crist wol be your champion and knight.

- And prayeth that thise Somnours hem repente
- Of hir misdedes, er that the feend hem hente.

The prologe of the Somnours Tale.

THIS Somnour in his stiropes hye stood ; Up-on this Frere his herte was so wood, That lyk an aspen leef he quook for yre.

'Lordinges,' quod he, 'but o thing I desyre;

I yow biseke that, of your curteisye, Sin ye han herd this false Frere lye, 1670 As suffereth me I may my tale telle ! This Frere bosteth that he knoweth helle, And god it woot, that it is litel wonder; Freres and feendes been but lyte a-sonder. For pardee, ye han ofte tyme herd telle, How that a frere ravisshed was to helle In spirit ones by a visioun; (13) 1677 And as an angel ladde him up and doun, To shewen him the peymes that ther were, In al the place saugh he nat a frere; 1680 Of other folk he saugh y-nowe in wo. Un-to this angel spak the frere tho: "Now, sir," quod he, "han freres swich a grace (19)

That noon of hem shal come to this place?" "Yis," quod this angel, "many a millioun!"

And un-to Sathanas he ladde him doun.

"And now hath Sathanas," seith he, "a tayl

Brodder than of a carrik is the sayl,

Hold up thy tayl, thou Sathanas !" quod he, 1680

"Shewe forth thyn ers, and lat the frere see Wher is the nest of freres in this place!"

And, er that half a furlong-wey of space, Right so as bees out swarmen from an hvve.

Out of the develes ers thergonne dryve (30) Twenty thousand freres in a route, 1695 And thurgh-out helle swarmeden aboute

T. 7279-7342.

And comen agayn, as faste as they may gon,

And in his ers they crepten everichon.

He clapte his tayl agayn, and lay ful stille. This frere, whan he loked hadde his fille Upon the torments of this sory place, 1701 His spirit god restored of his grace Un-to his body agayn, and he awook; But natheles, for fere yet he quook, (40) So was the develes ers ay in his minde, That is his heritage of verray kinde. 1706 God save yow alle, save this cursed Frere;

My prologe wol I ende in this manere.'

THE SOMNOURS TALE.

Here biginneth the Somonour his Tale.

LORDINGES, ther is in Yorkshire, as I gesse,

A mersshy contree called Holdernesse, In which ther wente a limitour aboute, 1711 To preche, and eek to begge, it is no doute. And so bifel, that on a day this frere Had preched at a chirche in his manere, And specially, aboven every thing, 1715 Excited he the peple in his preching To trentals, and to yeve, for goddes sake, Wher-with men mighten holy houses make, (10) Ther as divyne service is honoured, Nat ther as it is wasted and devoured, 1720 Ne ther it nedeth nat for to be yive, As to possessioners, that mowen live, Thanked begod, in wele and habundaunce. 'Trentals,' seyde he, 'deliveren fro penaunce 1724 Hir freendes soules, as wel olde as yonge, Ye, whan that they been hastily y-songe ; Nat for to holde a preest joly and gay,

He singeth nat but o masse in a day ; (20) Delivereth out, 'quod he, 'anon the soules; Ful hard it is with fleshhook or with oules To been y-clawed, or to brenne or bake; Now spede yow hastily, for Cristes sake,' And whan this frere had seyd al his entente.

With qui cum patre forth his wey he wente.

Whan folk in chirche had yeve him what hem leste, 1735

He wente his wey, no lenger wolde he reste,

With scrippe and tipped staf, y-tukked hye; (29)

In every hous he gan to poure and prye, And beggeth mele, and chese, or elles corn. His felawe hadde a staf tipped with horn, A peyre of tables al of yvory, 1741 And a poyntel polisshed fetisly,

And wroot the names alwey, as he stood, Of alle folk that yaf him any good, 1744 Ascaunces that he wolde for hem preye. 'Yeve us a busshel whete, malt, or reye,

A goddes kechil, or a trip of chese,

Or cless what yow list, we may nat chese; A goddes halfpeny or a masse-peny, (4;) Or yeve us of your brawn, if ye have eny; A dagon of your blanket, leve dame, 175; Our suster dere, lo!here I write your name Bacon or beef, or swich thing as ye finde.'

A sturdy harlot wente ay hem bihinde, That was hir hostes man, and bar a sak, And what men yaf hem, leyde it on, his bak, 1756

And whan that he was out at dore anon, He planed away the names everichon (50) That he biforn had writen in his tables; He served hem with nyfles and with fables. T. 7343-742C.

- 'Nay, ther thou lixt, thou Somnour,' quod the Frere. 1761
- 'Pees,' quod our Host, 'for Cristes moder dere ;

Tel forth thy tale and spare it nat at al.' Sothryve I, quod this Somnour, so I shal.---

- So longe he wente hous by hous, til he Cam til an hous ther he was wont to be
- Refresshed more than in an hundred placis. 1767
- Sik lay the gode man, whos that the place is; (60)
- Bedrede up-on a couche lowe he lay.
- 'Deus hic,' quod he, 'O Thomas, freend, good day,' 1770

Seyde this frere curteisly and softe.

'Thomas,' quod he, 'god yelde yow ! ful ofte

Have I up-on this bench faren ful weel, Here have I eten many a mery meel; ' And fro the bench he droof awey the cat, And leyde adoun his potente and his hat, And eek his scrippe, and sette him softe adoun. 1777

His felawe was go walked in-to toun, (70) Forth with his knave, in-to that hostelrye Wher-as he shoop him thilke night to lye.

'O dere maister,' quod this syke man, 'How han ve fare sith that March bigan ?

- I saugh yow noght this fourtenight or more.'
- 'God woot,' quod he, 'laboured have I ful sore ;

And specially, for thy savacioun 1785 Have I seyd many a precious orisoun,

- And for our othere frendes, god hem blesse !
- I have to-day been at your chirche at messe, (80)

And seyd a sermon after my simple wit, Nat al after the text of holy writ; 1790 For it is hard to yow, as I suppose,

And therfore wol I teche yow al the glose. Glosinge is a glorious thing, certeyn,

For lettre sleeth, so as we clerkes seyn,

Ther have I taught hem to be charitable, And spende hir good ther it is resonable, And ther I saugh our dame; a! wher is she?' (89) 1797

'Yond in the yerd I trowe that she be,' Seyde this man, 'and she wol come anon.' 'Ey, maister ! wel-come be ye, by seint John !' 1800

- Seyde this wyf, 'how fare ye hertely?' The frere aryseth up ful curteisly,
- And hir embraceth in his armes narwe,
- And kiste hir swete, and chirketh as a sparwe

With his lippes: 'dame,' quod he, 'right weel, 1805

As he that is your servant every deel. Thanked be god, that yow yaf souleand lyf, Yet saugh I nat this day so fair a wyf (100) In al the chirche, god so save me !'

'Ye, god amende defautes, sir,' quod she, 'Algates wel-come be ye, by my fey!' 1811

'Graunt mercy, dame, this have I founde alwey.

But of your grete goodnesse, by your leve,

I wolde prey yow that ye nat yow greve, I wol with Thomas speke a litel throwe. Thise curats been ful necligent and slowe To grope tendrely a conscience. (109) 1817 In shrift, in preching is my diligence,

And studie in Petres wordes, and in Poules. I walke, and fisshe Cristen mennes soules, To yelden Jesu Crist his propre rente; 1821 To sprede his word is set al myn entente.' 'Now, by your leve, o dere sir, 'quod she,

'Chydeth him weel, for seinte Trinitee.

He is as angry as a pissemyre, w/ 1825 Though that he have al that he can desyre.

Though I him wrye a-night and make him warm, (110)

And on hym leye my leg outher myn arm, He groneth lyk our boor, lyth in our sty. Other desport right noon of him have I;

I may nat plese him in no maner cas.'

- 'O Thomas! Je vous dy, Thomas! Thomas!
- This maketh the feend, this moste ben amended.

Ire is a thing that hye god defended, 1834 And ther-of wol I speke a word or two.'

'Now maister,' quod the wyf, 'er that I go,

What wol ye dyne? I wol go ther-aboute.' 'Now dame,' quod he, 'Je vous dy sanz doute, (130) Have I nat of a capon but the livere,

And of your softe breed nat but a shivere, And after that a rosted pigges heed, 1841 (But that I nolde no beest for me were deed), Thanne hadde I with yow hoomly suffisaunce.

I am a man of litel sustenaunce.

My spirit hath his fostring in the Bible.

The body is ay so redy and penyble 1846 To wake, that my stomak is destroyed.

I prey yow, dame, ye be nat anoyed, (140) Though I so freendly yow my conseil

shewe; 1849

By god, I wolde nat telle it but a fewe.'

'Now, sir,' quod she, 'but o word er I go; My child is deed with-inne thise wykes two.

Sone after that ye wente out of this toun.'

'His deeth saugh I by revelacioun,' 1854 Seith this frere, 'at hoom in our dortour. I dar wel seyn that, er that half an hour After his deeth, I saugh him born to blisse In myn avisionn, so god me wisse! (150) So dide our sexteyn and our fermerer, That han been trewe freres fifty yeer; They may now, god be thanked of his lone, 1861 Maken hir jubilee and walke allone.

And up I roos, and al our covent eke, With many a tere trikling on my cheke, Withouten noyse or clateringe of belles; Te deum was our song and no-thing elles, Save that to Crist I scyde an orisoun, Thankinge him of his revelacioun. (r60) For sir and dame, trusteth me right weel, Our orisons been more effectueel. 1870 And more we seen of Cristes secree thinges Than burel folk, al-though they weren kinges.

We live in povert and in abstinence, And burel folk in richesse and despence Of mete and drinke, and in hir foul delyt. We han this worldes lust al in despyt. Lazar and Dives liveden diversly, 1877

And diverse guerdon hadden they ther-by. Who-so wol preye, he moot faste and be clene, (171) 1879-

And fatte his soule and make his body lene. We fare as seith th'apostle; cloth and fode Suffysen us, though they be nat ful gode. The clennesse and the fastinge of us freres. Maketh that Crist accepteth our preyeres.

Lo, Moyses fourty dayes and fourty night 1885

Fasted, er that the heighe god of might Spak with him in the mountain of Sinay. With empty wombe, fastinge many a day, Receyved he the lawe that was writen (181) With goddes finger; and Elie, wel ye witen, 1800

In mount Oreb, er he hadde any speche With hye god, that is our lyves leche,

He fasted longe and was in contemplaunce. Aaron, that hadde the temple in governaunce, 1894

And eek the othere presetse sverichon, In-to the temple whan they sholde gon To preye for the peple, and do scrvyse, They nolden drinken, in no maner wyse, No drinke, which that mighte hem dronke make, (191) 1899 But there in abstinence preye and wake, Lest that they deyden; tak heed what I seve.

But they be sobre that for the peple preye, War that I seye; namore! for it suffyseth. Our lord Jesu, as holy writ devyseth, 1904 Yaf us ensample of fastinge and preveres. Therfor we mendinants, we sely freres, Been wedded to poverte and continence, To charitee, humblesse, and abstinence, To persecucion for rightwisnesse, (201) 1000 To wepinge, misericorde, and clennesse. And therfor may ye see that our preyeres-I speke of us, we mendinants, we freres-Ben to the hye god more acceptable Than youres, with your festes at the table. Fro Paradys first, if I shal nat lye, 1015 Was man out chaced for his glotonve : And chaast was man in Paradys, certeyn,

But herkne now, Thomas, what I shal seyn. (210)

I ne have no text of it, as I suppose, But I shall finde it in a maner glose, 1920 That specially our swete lord Jesus

Spak this by freres, whan he seyde thus : "Blessed be they that povre in spirit been."

And so forth al the gospel may ye seen, Wher it be lyker our professioun, 1925 Or hirs that swimmen in possessioun.

Nay, nay, Thomas ! it may no-thing be so. Vengeance is thanne al that they desyre.

Ire is a sinne, oon of the grete of sevene, Abhominable un-to the god of hevene; And to him-self it is destruccion. This every lewed viker or person (300) Can seve, how Ire engendreth homicyde. Ire is, in sooth, executour of pryde. 2010 I coude of Ire seve so muche sorwe, My tale sholde laste til to-morwe. And therfor preye I god bothe day and night, 2013 An irous man, god sende him litel might ! It is greet harm and, certes, gret pitee, To sotte an irous man in heigh degree.	And ay delyted him to been a shrewe. And so bifel, a lord of his meynee, 2043 That lovede vertuous moralitee, Seyde on a day bitwix hem two right thus "A lord is lost, if he be vicious; (340 And dronkenesse is eek a foul record Of any man, and namely in a lord. 2050 Ther is ful many an eye and many an ere Awaiting on a lord, and he noot where. This syke man wex wel ny wood for ire; He wolde that the frere had been on-fire With his false dissimulacioun.

'Swich thing as is in my possessioun,'

- Quod he, 'that may I yeven, and non other. 2125
- Ye sey me thus, how that I am your brother?'
  - 'Ye, certes,' quod the frere, 'trusteth weel:

I took our dame our lettre with our seel.'

'Now wel,' quod he, 'and som-what shal·I yive (421)

And ther-with-al his hand in his he leith :

'Lo, heer my feith ! in me shal be no lak.' 'Now thanne, put thyn hand doun by my bak,' (432) 2140

Seyde this man, 'and grope wel bihinde; Bynethe my buttok ther shaltow finde A thing that I have hid in privetee.'

'A!' thoghte this frere, 'this shal go with me!'

And down his hand he launcheth to the clifte, 2145

In hope for to finde ther a yifte. (438) And whan this syke man felte this frere Aboute his tuwel grope there and here, Amidde his hand he leet the frere a fart. Ther nis no capul, drawinge in a cart, 2150

That mighte have lete a fart of swich a soun.

THE CLERK'S PROLOGUE.

Here folweth the Prologe of the Clerkes Tale of Oxenford.

'SIR clerk of Oxenford,' our hoste sayde, 'Ye ryde as coy and stille as dooth a mayde,

Were newe spoused, sitting at the bord; This day ne herde I of your tonge a word. I trowe ye studie aboute som sophyme, 5 But Salomon seith, "every thing hath tyme."

For goddes sake, as beth of bettre chere, It is no tyme for to studien here. Telle us som mery tale, by your fey; For what man that is entred in a pley, to He nedes moot unto the pley assente. But precheth nat, as freres doon in Lente, To make us for our olde sinnes wepe, No that thy tale make us nat to slepe.

Heigh style, as whan that men to kinges wryte.

Speketh so pleyn at this tyme, I yow preye, That we may understonde what ye seye.'

This worthy clerk benignely answerde, 'Hoste,' quod he, 'I am under your yerde; Ye han of us as now the governaunce, And therfor wol I do yow obeisaunce, As fer as reson axeth, hardily. 25 I wol yow telle a tale which that I Lerned at Padowe of a worthy clerk, As preved by his wordes and his werk. Noght fer fro thilke paleys honurable Ther-as this markis shoop his mariage, Ther stood a throp, of site delitable, In which that povre folk of that village 200 Hadden hir bestes and hir herbergage, And of hir labour took hir sustenance After that th'erthe yaf hem habundance.

- Amonges thise povre folk ther dwelte a man
- Which that was holden povrest of hem alle; 205

But hye god som tyme senden can (150) His grace in-to a litel oxes stalle :

Janicula men of that throp him calle.

A doghter hadde he, fair y-nogh to sighte, And Grisildis this yonge mayden highte.

But for to speke of vertuous beautee, 211 Than was she oon the faireste under sonne:

For povreliche y-fostred up was she,

No likerous lust was thurgh hir herte y-ronne; (158) 214

Wel ofter of the welle than of the tonne She drank, and for she wolde vertu plese, She knew wel labour, but non ydel ese.

But thogh this mayde tendre were of age, Yet in the brest of hir virginitee

Ther was enclosed rype and sad corage; And in greet reverence and charitee 221 Hir olde povre fader fostred she;

A fewe sheep spinning on feeld she kepte, She wolde noght been ydel til she slepte.

And whan she hoomward cam, she wolde bringe 225

Wortes or othere herbes tymes ofte, (170)

The whiche she shredde and seeth for hir livinge,

And made hir bed, ful harde and no-thing softe;

And ay she kepte hir fadres lyf on-lofte With everich obeisaunce and diligence 230 That child may doon to fadres reverence. Up-on Grisilde, this powre creature, Ful ofte sythe this mark sette his yö As he on hunting rood paraventure; 234 And whan it fil that he mighte hirespye, He noght with wantown loking of folye His yën caste on hir, but in sad wyse(181) Up-on hir chere he wolde him ofte avyse,

Commending in his herte hir wommanhede,

And eek hir vertu, passing any wight 240 Of so yong age, as wel in chere as dede.

For thogh the peple have no greet insight In vertu, he considered ful right

Hir bountee, and disposed that he wolde Wedde hir only, if ever he wedde sholde.

The day of wedding cam, but no wight can (190) 246

But natheles this mark hath don make Of gemmes, set in gold and in asure, Broches and ringes, for Grisildis sake, 255 And of hir clothing took he the mesure By a mayde, lyk to hir stature, (201) And eek of othere ornamentes alle That un-to swich a wedding sholde falle,

The tyme of undern of the same day 260 Approcheth, that this wedding sholde be; And al the paleys put was in array,

Bothe halle and chambres, ech in his degree;

Houses of office stuffed with plentee 264 Ther maystow seen of deynterous vitaille, That may be founde, as fer as last Itaille,

This royal markis, richely arrayed, (211) Lordes and ladyes in his companye, The whiche unto the feste were y-prayed, And of his retenue the bachelrye, 270 With many a soun of sondry melodye, Un-to the village, of the which I tolde, In this array the righte wey han holde.

Grisilde of this, god woot, ful innocent, That for hir shapen was al this array, 275 To feechen water at a welle is went, (220) And cometh hoom as sone as ever she may. For wel she hadde herd seyd, that thilke

- She thoghte, 'I wol with othere maydens stonde,

That been my felawes, in our dore, and see The markisesse, and therfor wol I fonde To doon at hoom, as sone as it may be, The labour which that longeth un-to me;

And than I may at leyser hir biholde, 286 If she this wey un-to the castel holde.' (231)

And as she wolde over hir threshfold goon, The markis cam and gan hir for to calle; And she set down hir water-pot anoon 200 Bisyde the threshfold, in an oxes stalle, And down up-on hir knees she gan to falle, And with sad contenance kneleth stille Til she had herd what was the lordes wille.

This thoghtful markis spak un-to this mayde (239) 295 Ful sobrely, and seyde in this manere,

'Wher is your fader, Grisildis?'he sayde, And she with reverence, in humble chere, Answerde, 'lord, he is al redy here.'

And in she gooth with-outen lenger lette, And to the markis she hir fader fette. 301

Wondring upon this word, quaking for drede, (302) She seyde, 'lord, undigne and unworthy Am I to thike honour that ye me bede; 360 But as ye wol your-self, right so wol I. And heer I swere that never willingly In werk ne thoght I nil yow disobeye, For to be deed, though me were looth to deye.' (308) 364 'This is y-nogh, Grisilde myn !' quod he. And forth he gooth with a ful sobre chere Out at the dore, and after that cam she, And to the peple he seyde in this manere, 'This is my wyf,' quod he, 'that standeth here. 369 Honoureth hir, and loveth hir, I preye, Who-so me loveth; ther is na-more to seye.' And for that no-thing of hir olde gere She sholde bringe in-to his hous, he bad That wommen sholde dispoilen hir right there; (318) 374 Of which thise ladyes were nat right glad To handle hir clothes wher-in she was clad. And shortly forth this tale for to chace, I seye that to this newe markisesse God hath swich favour sent hir of his grace, 395 That it ne semed nat by lyklinesse (340) That she was born and fed in rudenesse, As in a cote or in an oxe-stalle, But norished in an emperourse halle. To every wight she woxen is so dere 400 And worshipful, that folk ther she was bore And from hir birthe knewe hir yeer by yere, Unnethe trowed they, but dorste han swore That to Janiele, of which I spak bifore, She doghter nas, for, as by conjecture, 405 Hem thoughte she was another creature. For thogh that ever vertuons was she, (351) She was encressed in swich excellence Of thewes gode, y-set in heigh bountee, And so discreet and fair of eloquence, 410 So benigme and so digne of reverence, And co do so the pepiles herte embrace.

Foryelde it yow ; there is na-more to seve. Un-to my fader gladly wol I wende, And with him dwelle un-to my lyves ende.

Ther I was fostred of a child ful smal, Til I be deed, my lyf ther wol I lede 835 A widwe clene, in body, herte, and al. (780) For sith I yaf to yow my maydenhede, And am your trewe wyf, it is no drede, God shilde swich a lordes wyf to take Another man to housbonde or to make, 840

And of yonr newe wyf, god of his grace So graunte yow wele and prosperitee : For I wol gladly yelden hir my place, In which that I was blisful wont to be, For sith it lyketh yow, my lord,' quad she, 445 ''That whylom weren al myn hertes reste, That I shal goon, I wol gon whan yow leste. (701)

But ther-as ye me profre swich dowaire As I first broghte, it is wel in my minde

It were my wrecched clothes, no-thing faire, 850

The which to me were hard now for to finde.

O gode god ! how gentil and how kinde Ye semed by your speche and your visage The day that maked was our mariage !

But sooth is seyd, algate I finde it trewe— For in effect it preved is on me—(8co) 856 Love is noght old as whan that it is newe. But certes, lord, for noon adversitee,

To dyen in the cas, it shal nat be 859 That ever in word or werk I shal repente That I yow yaf myn herte in hool entente.

My lord, ye woot that, in my fadres place, Ye dede me strepe out of my povre wede, And richely me cladden, of your grace. To yow broghte I noght elles, out of drede,

But feyth and nakednesse and maydenhede. (810) 866

And here agayn my clothing I restore, And eek my wedding-ring, for evermore.

The remenant of your jewels redy be 869 In-with your chambre, dar I sauffy sayn; Naked out of my fadres hous,' quod she, if cam, and naked moot I turne agayn. Al your plesaunce wol I folwen fayn; But yet I hope it be nat your entente 874 That I smoklees out of your paleys wente.

Ye coude nat doon so dishoneste a thing, That thilke wombe in which your children leye (821)

Sholde, biforn the peple, in my walking,

Be seyn al bare; wherfor I yow preye, Lat me nat lyk a worm go by the weye. 880 Remembre yow, myn owene lord so dere, I was yoar wyf, thogh I unworthy were.

Wherfor, in guerdon of my maydenhede, Which that I broghte, and noght agayn

I bere, 884

As voucheth sauf to yeve me, to my mede, But swich a smok as I was wont to were, That I therwith may wrye the wombe of (831)

That was your wyf; and heer take I my leve

Of yow, myn owene lord, lest I yow greve.'

'The smok,' quod he, 'that thou hast on thy bak, 800

Lat it be stille, and ber it forth with thee.'

But wel unnethes thilke word he spak,

But wente his wey for rewthe and for pitee.

Biforn the folk hir-selven strepeth she,

And in hir smok, with heed and foot al bare, (839) 895

Toward hir fader hous forth is she fare.

The folk hir folwe wepinge in hir weye, And fortune ay they cursen as they goon; But she fro weping kepte hir yën dreye, Ne in this tyme word ne spak she noon. 900 Hir fader, that this tyding herde anoon, Curseth the day and tyme that nature Shoop him to been a lyves creature.

For out of doute this olde povre man Was over in suspect of hir mariage; 905 For ever he demed, sith that it bigan,(850) That whan the lord fulfild had his corage, Him wolde thinke it were a disparage To his estaat so lowe for t'alighte, And voyden hir as sone as ever he mighte,

Agayns his doghter hastilich goth he, 911 For he by noyse of folk knew hir cominge, And with hir olde cote, as it mighte be, He covered hir, ful sorwefully wepinge; But on hir body mighte he it nat bringe. For rude was the cloth, and more of age By days fele than at hir mariage. (861)

Thus with hir fader, for a certeyn space, Dwelleth this flour of wyfly pacience, That neither by hir wordes ne hir face 920 Biforn the folk, ne eek in hir absence, Ne shewed she that hir was doon offence; Ne of hir heigh estaat no remembrance Ne hadde she, as by hir countenaunce.

No wonder is, for in hir grete estaat 925 Hir goost was ever in pleyn humylikee; No tendre mouth, non herte delicaat, (871) No pompe, no semblant of royaltee, But ful of pacient benignitee.

Discreet and prydeles, av honurable, 030

And to hir housbonde ever meke and stable.

Men speke of Job and most for his humblesse,

As clerkes, whan hem list, can wel endyte, Namely of men, but as in soothfastnesse,

Thogh clerkes preyse wommen but a lyte, 935

Ther can no man in humblesse him acquyte (880)

As womman can, ne can ben half so trewe As wommen been, but it be falle of-newe,

Thise ladyes, whan that they hir tymesay, Han taken hir, and in-to chambre goon, And strepen hir out of hir rade array,(1060) And in a cloth of gold that brighte shoon, With a coroune of many a riche stoon

Up-on hir heed, they in-to halle hir broghte, 1119

And ther she was honoured as hir oghte.

Thus hath this pitous day a blisful ende, For every man and womman dooth his might

This day in murthe and revel to dispende Til on the welkne shoon the sterres light. For more solempne in every mannes sight This feste was, and gretter of costage, 1120 Than was the revel of hir mariage, (1071)

Ful many a yeer in heigh prosperitee Liven thise two in concord and in reste, And richely his doghter maried he 1130 Un-to a lord, oon of the worthieste Of al Itaille; and than in pees and reste His wyves fader in his court he kepeth, Til that the soule out of his body crepeth.

His sone succedeth in his heritago 1135 In reste and pees, after his fader day; (1080) And fortunat was eek in mariage, Al putte he nat his wy'i in greet assay. This world is nat so strong, it is no nay, As it hath been in olde tymes yore, 1140 And herkneth what this auctour seith therfore.

This storie is seyd, nat for that wyves sholde

Folwen Grisilde as in humilitee,

Fortiwere importable, though they wolds; But for that every wight, in his degree, 1145 Sholde be constant in adversitee (1090) As was Grisilde; therfor Petrark wryteth This storie, which with heigh style he endytoth.

For, sith a womman was so pacient 1149 Un-to a mortal man, wel more us oghte Receyven al in gree that god us sent; For greet skile is, he preve that he wroghte. But he netempteth no man that he boghte, As seith seint Jame, if ye his pistel rede; He preveth folk al day, it is no drede, 1155

And suffreth us, as for our excercyse,(isoc) With sharpe sconrges of adversitee Ful ofte to be bete in sondry wyse; Nat for to knowe our wil, for certes he, Er we were born, knew al our freletee; it fo And for our beste is al his governance; Lat us than live in vertuos suffrance.*

But o word, lordinges, herkneth er I go:--lt were ful hard to finde now a dayes (105) In al a toun Grisildes three or two; 1165 For, if that they were put to swiche assayes, The gold of hem hath now so badde alayes With bras, that thogh the coyne be fair at vē.

It wolde rather breste a-two than plyc.

For which heer, for the wyves love of Bathe, 1170 Whos lyf and al hir secte god maynteno In heigh maistrye, and elles were it scathe, I wol with lusty herte fresshe and greno Seyn yow a song to glado yow, I wene, And lat us stinte of ernestful matere :-Herkneth my song, that seith in this manere, (1120) 1176

Lenvoy de Chaucer.

Grisilde is deed, and eek hir pacience, And bothe atones buried in Itaille; For which I crye in open audience, No wedded man so hardy be t'assaille 1180 His wyves pacience, in hope to finde Grisildes, for in certein he shall faille !

Bihold the merye wordes of the Hoste. This worthy Clerk, whan ended was his tale, Our hoste seyde, and swoor by goddes bones, 'Me were lever than a barel ale My wyf at hoom had herd this legende ones; This is a gentil tale for the nones, As to my purpos, wiste ye my wille; But thing that wol nat be, lat it be stills.'

Here endeth the Tale of the Clerk of Oxenford.

* It seems to have been Chaucer's intention, in the first instance, to end this Thelekere. Hence, we find, in MSS, E. Hn. Cm. Dd., the following genuine, but rejected stanza, suitable for insertion at this point :--

O noble wyves, ful of heigh pradence, Lat noon humilitee your tongenaille, 1184 No lat no clerk have cause or diligence To wryte of yow a storie of swich mervaille As of Grisildis pacient and kinde; (1131) Lest Chichevache yow swelwe in hir entraille!

Folweth Ekko, that holdeth no silence, But evere answereth at the countretaille; Beth nat bidaffed for your innocence, 1191 But sharply tak on yow the governaille. Emprinteth wel this lesson in your minde For commune profit, sith it may availle.

Ye archewyves, stondeth at defence, 1195 Sinyebestrongeasias greet camaille;(1140) Nesuffreth nat that men yow doon offence. And sclendre wyves, feble as in bataille, Beth egre as is a tygre yond in Inde; Ay clappeth as a mille, I yow consaille. 1200

Ne dreed hem nat, do hem no reverence ; For though thyn housbonde armed be in maille.

The arwes of thy crabbed eloquence Shal perce his brest, and eek hisaventaille; In jalousye I rede eek thou him binde, 1205 And thou shalt make him couche as dooth a quaille. (1150)

If thou be fair, ther folk ben in presence Shew thou thy visage and thyn apparaille; If thou be foul, be free of thy dispence, 100 To gete thee freendes ay do thy travaille; Be ay of chere as light as leef on linde, And lat him care, and wepe, and wringe, and waille ! (1156)

Here endeth the Clerk of Oxonford his Tale.

THE MARCHANTES TALE.

Here biginneth the Marchantes Tale.

WHYLOM ther was dwellinge in Lumbardye A worthy knight, that born was of Pavye, In which he lived in greet prosperitee; And sixty yeer a wyflees man was he, And folwed ay his bodily delyt On wommen, ther-as was his appetyt, 1250 As doon thise foles that ben seculeer. And whan that he was passed sixty yeer, Were it for holinesse or for dotage, I can nat seye, but swich a greet corage, (10) Hadde this knight to been a wedded man, That day and night he dooth al that he can T'espyen where he mighte wedded be; Preyinge our lord to granten him, that he Mighte ones knowe of thilke blisful lyf That is bitwixe an housbond and his wyf; And for to live under that holy bond 1261 With which that first god man and womman bond.

'Non other lyf,' seyde he, 'is worth a bene; For wedlok is so esy and so clene, (20) That in this world it is a paradys.' 1265 Thus seyde this olde knight, that was so wys.

And certeinly, as sooth as god is king, To take a wyf, it is a glorious thing,

And namely whan a man is old and hoor; Thanne is a wyfthe fruit of his tresor. 1270 Than sholde he take a yong wyf and a feir, On which he mighte engendren him an heir.

And lede his lyf in joye and in solas,

Wher-as thise bacheleres singe 'allas,' (30) Whan that they finden any adversitee 1275 In love, which nis but childish vanitee. And trewely it sit wel to be so,

That bacheleres have often peyne and wo; On brotel ground they builde, and brotelnesse 1279

They finde, whan they wene sikernesse.

They live but as a brid or as a beste, In libertee, and under non areste, Ther-as a wedded man in his estaat Liveth a lyf blisful and ordinaat, (40) Under the yok of mariage y-bounde; 1285 Wel may his herte in joye and blisse habounde.

For who can be so buxom as a wyf? Who is so trewe, and eek so ententyf To kepe him, syk and hool, as is his make? For wele or wo, she wol him nat forsake. She nis nat wery him to love and serve, Thogh that he lye bedrede til he sterve. And yet somme clerkes seyn, it nis nat so, Of whiche he, Theofraste, is oon of tho. (50) What force though Theofraste listelye? 1295 'Ne take no wyf,' quod he, 'for housbondrye,

As for to spare in houshold thy dispence; A trewe servant dooth more diligence, Thy good to kepe, than thyn owene wyf. Forshewolclayme half partal hir lyf; 1300 And if that thou be syk, so god me save, Thy verray frendes or a trewe knave Wolkepe thee bet than she that waiteth ay After thy good, and hath don many a day.' And if thou take a wyf un-to thyn hold, (61) [T. om. Ful lightly maystow been a cokewold 15.00 [T. om.

This sentence, and an hundred thinges worse.

Wryteth this man, ther god his bones

But take no kepe of al swich vanitee ;

Deffye Theofraste and herke me. 1310 A wyf is goddes yifte verraily ;

Alle other maner yiftes hardily,

As londes, rentes, pasture, or commune,

Or moebles, alle ben yiftes of fortune, (70).

That passen as a shadwe upon a wal. 1315 But dredelees, if pleynly speke I shal, A wyf wol laste, and in thyn hous endure, Wel lenger than thee list, paraventure.

Mariage is a ful gret sacrement ;

He which that hath no wyf, I holde him shent; 1320

He liveth helplees and al desolat,

I speke of folk in seculer estaat.

And herke why, I sey nat this for noght. (79) That womman is for manneshelpy-wroght. The hye god, whan he hadde Adam maked. And saugh him al allone, bely-naked, 1326 God of his grete goodnesse seyde than,

'Lat us now make an help un-to this man Lyk to him-self;' and thanne he made him Eve. 1320

Heer may ye se, and heer-by may ye preve, That wyf is mannes help and his confort, His paradys terrestre and his disport

So buxom and so vertuous is she,

They moste nedes live in unitee. (90) 1334 O flesh they been, and o flesh, as I gesse, Hath but on herte, in wele and in distresse.

A wyf! a ! Seinte Marie, ben'cite ! How mighte a man han any adversitee That hath a wyf? certes, I can nat seve. 1330 The blisse which that is bitwixe hem tweye Ther may no tonge telle, or herte thinke. If he be povre, she helpeth him to swinke; She kepeth his good, and wasteth never a deel:

Al that hir housbonde lust, hir lyketh weel; (100)

She seith not ones 'nay,' when he seith ' ye.' 1345

'Do this,' seith he; 'al redy, sir,' seith she. O blisful ordre of wedlok precious.

Thou art so mery, and eek so vertuous. And so commended and appreved eek,

That every man that halt him worth a leek. 1350

Up-on his bare knees oghte al his lyf

Thanken his god that him hath sent a wyf;

Or elles preye to god him for to sende

A wyf, to laste un-to his lyves ende. (110) For thanne his lyf is set in sikernesse; 1355

He may nat be deceyved, as I gesse,

So that he werke after his wyves reed ; Than may he boldly beren up his heed, They been so trewe and ther-with-al so wyse ;

For which, if thou wolt werken as the wyse. 1360

Do alwey so as wommen wol thee rede. Lo, how that Jacob, as thise clerkes rede. By good conseil of his moder Rebekke. Bond the kides skin aboute his nekke; (120) Thurgh which his fadres benisoun he wan.

Lo, Judith, as the storie eek telle can, By wys conseil she goddes peple kepte,

And slow him, Olofernus, whyl he slepte. Lo Abigayl, by good conseil how she 1369 Saved hir housbond Nabal, whan that he Sholde han be slayn ; and loke, Ester also By good conseil delivered out of wo

The peple of god, and made him, Mardochee.

Of Assuere enhaunced for to be. (130)

Ther nis no-thing in gree superlatyf, 1375 As seith Senek, above an humble wyf.

Suffre thy wyves tonge, as Caton bit ; She shal comande, and thou shalt suffren it:

And yet she wol obeye of curteisye.

A wyf is keper of thyn housbondrye; 1380 Wel may the syke man biwaille and wepe, Ther-as ther nis no wyf the hous to kepe. I warne thee, if wysly thou wolt wirche,

And with this word this Justin and his brother

Han take hir leve, and ech of hem of other. 1690

For whan they sawe it moste nedes be,

They wroghten so, by sly and wys tretee, That she, this mayden, which that Maius highte,

As hastily as ever that she mighte, (450) Shal wedded be un-to this Januarie. 1695 I trowe it were to longe yow to tarie,

If I yow tolde of every scrit and bond, By which that she was feffed in his lond; Or for to herknen of hir riche array. But finally y-comen is the day 1700

That to the chirche bothe be they went For to receyve the holy sacrement.

Forth comth the preest, with stole aboute his nekke, (459)

And bad hir be lyk Sarra and Rebekke, In wisdom and in trouthe of mariage;

- And seyde his orisons, as is usage, 1706
- And crouched hem, and bad god sholde hem blesse,
- And made al siker y-nogh with holinesse. Thus been they wedded with solempnitee,

And at the feste sitteth he and she 1710 With other worthy folk up-on the deys. Al ful of joye and blisse is the paleys,

And ful of instruments and of vitaille,

The moste devntevous of al Itaille. (470) Biforn hem stoode swiche instruments of soun,

That Orpheus, ne of Thebes Amphioun, Ne maden never swich a melodye.

At every cours than cam loud minstralcye,

That never tromped Joab, for to here, Nor he, Theodomas, yet half so clere, 1720 At Thebes, whan the citee was in doute. Bacus the wyn hem skinketh al aboute, And Venus laugheth up-on every wight. For Januarie was bicome hir knight, (480) And wolde bothe assayen his corage 1725 In libertee, and eek in mariage;

And with hir fyrbrond in hir hand aboute Daunceth biforn the bryde and al the route.

And certeinly, I dar right wel seyn this, Ymenëus, that god of wedding is, 1730 Saugh never his lyf so mery a wedded man.

Hold thou thy pees, thou poete Marcian, That wrytest us that ilke wedding murie-Of hir, Philologye, and him, Mercurie,

And of the songes that the Muses songe. To smal is bothe thy penne, and eek thy tonge, (492) 1736

For to descryven of this mariage.

- Whan tendre youthe hath wedded stouping age,
- Ther is swich mirthe that it may nat be writen;

Assayeth it your-self, than may ye witen If that I lye or noon in this matere. 1741

- Maius, that sit with so benigne a chere, Hir to biholde it semed fayery8; (499) Quene Ester loked never with swich an y8 On Assuer, so meke a look hath she. 1745 I may yow nat devyse al hir beautee;
- But thus muche of hir beautee telle I may,
- That she was lyk the brighte morwe of May.

Fulfild of alle beautee and plesaunce.

- This Januarie is ravisshed in a traunce At every time he loked on hir face; 1751 But in his herte he gan hir to manace, That he that night in armes wolde hir streyne
- Harder than ever Paris dide Eleyne. (510) But nathelees, yet hadde he greet pitee, That thilke night offenden hir moste he; And thoughte, 'allas ! o tendre creature! Now wolde god ye mighte wel endure
- Almy corage, it is so sharp and kene; I am agast ye shul it nat sustene. 1760 But god forbede that I dide al my might! Now wolde god that it were woxen night, And that the night wolde lasten evermo.
- I wolde that al this peple were ago.' (520) And finally, he doth al his labour, 1765
- As he best mighte, savinge his honour,
- To haste hem fro the mete in subtil wyse.
- The tyme cam that reson was to ryse; And after that, men daunce and drinken faste. 1769

And spyces al aboute the hous they caste; And ful of joye and blisse is every man; All but a squyer, highte Damian,

Which carf biforn the knight ful many a day.

He was so ravisshed on his lady May, (530) That for the verray peyne he was ny wood : 1775

- Almost he swelte and swowned ther he stood.
- So sore hath Venus hurt him with hir brond,
- As that she bar it daunsinge in hir hond,
- And to his bed he wente him hastily;
- Na-more of him as at this tyme speke I.
- But ther I lete him wepe y-nough and pleyne, (537) 1781
- Til fresshe May wol rewen on his peyne. O perilous fyr, that in the bedstraw bredeth ! Auctor.

O famulier foo, that his servyce bedeth ! O servant traitour, false hoomly hewe, 1785 Lyk to the naddre in bosom sly untrewe, God shilde us alle from your aqueyntaunce !

O Januarie, dronken in plesaunce Of mariage, see how thy Damian,

Thyn owene squyer and thy borne man, Entendeth for to do thee vileinye. 1797 God grannte thee thyn hoomly fo t'espye. For in this world nis worse pestilence (549) Than hoomly foo al day in thy presence.

Parfourned hath the sonne his ark diurne, 1795

No lenger may the body of him sojurne On th'orisonte, as in that latitude.

- Night with his mantel, that is derk and rude,
- Gan oversprede the hemisperie aboute ; For which departed is this lusty route Fro Januarie, with thank on every syde. Hom to hir houses lustily they ryde, 1800 Wher-as they doon hir thinges as hem leste,

And whan they sye hir tyme, goon to reste. (560)

Sone after that, this hastif Januarie 1805 Wolde go to bedde, he wolde no lenger tarie.

He drinketh ipocras, clarree, and vernage Of spyces hote, t'encresen his corage;

And many a letuarie hadde he ful fyn,

Swiche as the cursed monk dan Constantyn 1810

Hath writen in his book de Coitu; (567) To eten hem alle, he nas no-thing eschu. And to his privee freendes thus seyde he : 'For goddes love, as sone as it may be, Lat voyden al this hous in curteys wyse.<sup>2</sup> And they han doon right as he wol devyse. 1816

Men drinken, and the travers drawe anon; The bryde was broght a-bedde as stille as

- stoon; And whan the bed was with the preest y-blessed,
- Out of the chambre hath every wight him dressed, 1820

And Januarie hath faste in armes take His fresshe May, his paradys, his make. He lulleth hir, he kisseth hir ful ofte With thikke bristles of his berd unsofte, Lyk to the skin of houndfish, sharp as brere, (581) 1825 For he was shave al newe in his manere,

For how substantial and the formal maximum and the rubbet hir about the hir tendre face, And seyde thus, 'allas! I moot trespace To yow, my spouse, and yow gretly offende, Er tyme come that I wil down descende. But nathelees, considereth this,' quod he, 'Thern is no werkman, what so-ever he be, That may bothe werke wel and hastily ; This wol be doon at leyser parfily. (500) It is no fors how longe that we pleye ; 1835 In trewe wedlok wedded be we tweye ; And blessed be the vok that we been

- inne,
- For in our actes we mowe do no sinne.
- A man may do no sinne with his wyf,

Ne hurte him-selven with his owene knyf;

For we han leve to pleye us by the lawe,' 1841

- Thus laboureth he til that the day gan dawe;
- And than he taketh a sop in fyn clarree, And upright in his bed than sitteth he,
- And after that he sang ful loude and clere, (601) 1845
- And kiste his wyf, and made wantoun chere.
- He was al coltish, ful of ragerye,
- And ful of jargon as a flekked pye.

The slakke skin aboute his nekke shaketh,

- Whyl that he sang; so chaunteth he and craketh. 1850
- But god wot what that May thoughte in hir herte,
- Whan she him saugh up sittinge in his sherte,

- In his night-cappe, and with his nekke lene;
- She preyseth nat his pleying worth a bene. (610) 1854

Than seide he thus, 'my reste wol I take; Now day is come, I may no lenger wake.'

- And down he leyde his heed, and sleep til pryme.
- And afterward, whan that he saugh his tyme,

Up ryseth Januarie ; but fresshe May

- Holdeth hir chambre un-to the fourthe day, 1860
- As usage is of wyves for the beste.
- For every labour som-tyme moot han reste,

Or elles longe may he nat endure ;

This is to seyn, no lyves creature, (620) Be it of fish, or brid, or beest, or man. 1865 Auctor.

Now wol I speke of woful Damian,

That languissheth for love, as ye shul here;

Therfore I speke to him in this manere: I seye, 'O sely Damian, allas!

Answere to my demaunde, as in this cas, How shaltow to thy lady fresshe May 1871 Telle thy wo? She wole alwey seye "nay"; Eek if thou speke, she wol thy wo biwreye; (520)

God be thyn help, I can no bettre seye. This syke Damian in Venus fyr 1875

So brenneth, that he dyeth for desyr;

For which he putte his lyf in aventure,

No lenger mighte he in this wyse endure;

But prively a penner gan he borwe,

And in a lettre wroot he al his sorwe, 1880 In manere of a compleynt or a lay,

Un-to his faire fresshe lady May.

And in a purs of silk, heng on his sherte, He hath it put, and leyde it at his herte. (640) 1884

With alle hir wommen, un-to Damian. Doun by his beddes syde sit she than, (600) Confortinge him as goodly as she may. This Damian, whan that his tyme he say, In secree wise his purs, and eek his bille, In which that he y-writen hadde his wille, 1038

Hath put in-to hir hand, with-outen more, Save that he syketh wonder depe and sore, And softely to hir right thus seyde he:

' Mercy ! and that ye nat discovere me ; For I am deed, if that this thing be kid.' This purs hath she inwith hir bosom hid.

And wente hir wey; ye gete namore of me. But un-to Januarie y-comen is she, 1946 That on his beddes syde sit ful softe, (703) He taketh hir, and kisseth hir ful ofte,

And leyde him down to slepe, and that anon.

She feyned hir as that she moste gon 1950 Theras ye woot that every wight mot nede.

And whan she of this bille hath taken hede,

She rente it al to cloutes atte laste,

And in the privee softely it caste. (710) Who studieth now but faire fresshe May? 1955

Adoun by olde Januarie she lay,

That sleep, til that the coughe hath him awaked;

Anon he preyde hir strepen hir al naked; He wolde of hir, he seyde, han som plesaunce,

And seyde, hir clothes dide him encombraunce, 1960

And she obeyeth, be hir lief or looth.

But lest that precious folk be with me wrooth,

How that he wroghte, I dar nat to yow telle;

Or whether hir thoughte it paradys or helle; (720)

But here I lete hem werken in hir wyse

Til evensong rong, and that they moste aryse. 1966

Were it by destince or aventure, Were it by influence or by nature,

Or constellacion, that in swich estat

The hevene stood, that tyme fortunat 1970 Was for to putte a bille of Venus werkes

(For alle thing hath tyme, as seyn thise clerkes)

To any womman, for to gete hir love, I can nat seye; but grete god above, (730) That knoweth that non act is causelees, He deme of al, for I wol holde my pees. But sooth is this, how that this fresshe May 1977 Hath take swich impression that day, For pitee of this syke Damian, That from hir herte she ne dryve can 1980 The remembraunce for to doon him ese. 'Certeyn,' thoghte she, 'whom that this thing displese, I rekke noght, for here I him assure, To love him best of any creature, (740) Though he na-more hadde than his sherte.' Lo, pitee renneth sone in gentil herte. Heer may ve se how excellent franchyse In wommen is, whan they hem narwe avvse. 1088 Som tyrant is, as ther be many oon, That hath an herte as hard as any stoon, Which wolde han lete him sterven in the place 1001 Wel rather than han graunted him hir grace; And hem rejoysen in hir cruel pryde, And rekke nat to been an homicyde. (750) This gentil May, fulfilled of pitee, 1995 Right of hir hande a lettre made she, In which she graunteth him hir verray grace; Ther lakketh noght but only day and place. Wher that she mighte un-to his lust suffvse : For it shal be right as he wol devyse. 2000 And whan she saugh hir time, up-on a day, To visite this Damian goth May, And sotilly this lettre down she threste Under his pilwe, rede it if him leste. (760) She taketh him by the hand, and harde him twiste 2005 So secrely, that no wight of it wiste, And bad him been al hool, and forth she wente To Januarie, whan that he for hir sente. Up ryseth Damian the nexte morwe.

Al passed was his siknesse and his sorwe. He kembeth him, he proyneth him and pyketh, 2011 He dooth al that his lady lust and lyketh;

And eek to Januarie he gooth as lowe

As ever dide a dogge for the bowe. (770) He is so plesant un-to every man, 2015 (For craft is al, who-so that do it can) That every wight is fayn to speke him good ;

And fully in his lady grace he stood. Thus lete I Damian aboute his nede. And in my tale forth I wol procede. 2020

Somme clerkes holden that felicitee Stant in delyt, and therefor certeyn he, This noble Januarie, with al his might, In honest wyse, as longeth to a knight, Shoop him to live ful deliciously. (781) 2025 His housinge, his array, as honestly To his degree was maked as a kinges. Amonges othere of his honest thinges, He made a gardin, walled al with stoon ; So fair a gardin woot I nowher noon, 2030 For out of doute, I verraily suppose,

That he that wroot the Romance of the Roso

Ne coude of it the beautee wel devyse ;

Ne Priapus ne mighte nat suffyse, (700)

Though he be god of gardins, for to telle 2035

The beautee of the gardin and the welle, That stood under a laurer alwey grene.

Ful ofte tyme he, Pluto, and his quene,

Proserpina, and al hir faverye

Disporten hem and maken melodye 2040 Aboute that welle, and daunced, as men tolde.

This noble knight, this Januarie the olde. Swich deintee hath in it to walke and pleye,

(799)That he wol no wight suffren bere the keye Save he him-self: for of the smale wiket He bar alwey of silver a smal cliket, 2046 With which, whan that him leste, he it unshette. And whan he wolde paye his wyf hir dette In somer seson, thider wolde he go.

And May his wyf, and no wight but they two ; 2050

And thinges whiche that were nat doon a-bedde,

He in the gardin parfourned hem and spedde.

And in this wyse, many a mery day,

Lived this Januarie and fresshe May. (810) But worldly jove may nat alwey dure 2055 To Januarie, ne to no creature.

O sodeyn hap, o thou fortune instable, Lyk to the scorpioun so deceivable,

That flaterest with thyn heed when thou wolt stinge;

Thy tayl is deeth, thurgh thyn enveniminge. 2060

O brotil joye ! o swete venim queynte ! O monstre, that so subtilly canst peynte

Thy yiftes, under hewe of stedfastnesse, That thou deceyvest bothe more and lesse ! Why hastow Januarie thus deceyved, (821) That haddest him for thy ful frend receyved ? 2066 And now thou hast biraft him bothe hise

yën,

For sorwe of which desyreth he to dyen. Allas! this noble Januarie free, Amidde his lust and his prosperitee, 2070 Is woxen blind, and that al sodeynly.

He wepeth and he wayleth pitously;

And ther-with-al the fyr of jalousye, (829) Lest that his wyf sholde falle in som folye, So brente his herte, that he wolde fayn 2075 That som man bothe him and hir had slayn.

For neither after his deeth, nor in his lyf, Ne wolde he that she were love ne wyf. But ever live as widwe in clothes blake. Soul as the turtle that lost hath hir make. But atte laste, after a monthe or tweve. His sorwe gan aswage, sooth to seye ; 2082 For whan he wiste it may noon other be. He paciently took his adversitee ; (840) Save, out of doute, he may nat forgoon That he nas jalous evermore in oon ; Which jalousye it was so outrageous, That neither in halle, n'in noon other hous, Ne in noon other place, never-the-mo, He nolde suffre hir for to ryde or go, 2090 But-if that he had hand on hir alway ; For which ful ofte wepeth fresshe May, That loveth Damian so benignely, That she mot outher dyen sodeynly, (850) Or elles she mot han him as hir leste ; 2095

She wayteth whan hir herte wolde breste. Up-on that other syde Damian

Bicomen is the sorwefulleste man

That ever was; for neither night ne day Ne mighte he speke a word to fresshe May, 2100 As to his purpos, of no swich matere, But-if that Januarie moste it here,

That hadde an hand up-on hir evermo.

But nathelees, by wryting to and fro (860) And privee signes, wiste he what she mente:

And she knew eek the fyn of his entente. Auctor.

O Januarie, what mighte it thee availle, Thou mightest see as fer as shippes saille? For also good is blind deceyved be,

As be deceyved whan a man may see. 2110 Lo, Argus, which that hadde an hondred yën,

For al that ever he coude poure or pryen, Yet was he blent; and, god wot, so ben mo,

That wenen wisly that it be nat so. (870) Passe over is an ese, I sey na-more. 2115

This fresshe May, that I spak of so yore,

In warme wex hath emprented the cliket, That Januarie bar of the smale wiket, By which in-to his gardin ofte he wente. And Damian, that knew al hir entente, The cliket countrefeted prively; 2127 Ther nis na-more to seve, but hastily Som wonder by this cliket shal bityde, Which ye shal heren, if ye wole abyde.

O noble Ovyde, ful sooth seystou, god woot ! Auctor.

What sleighte is it, thogh it be long and hoot, (882) 2126

That he nil finde it out in som manere?

By Piramus and Tesbee may men lere; Thogh they were kept ful longe streite overal,

They been accorded, rouninge thurgh a wal, 2130

Ther no wight coude han founde out swich a sleighte. (887)

How fairer been thy brestes than is wyn! #### Here biginneth the Squieres Tale.

At Sarray, in the land of Tartarye, Ther dwelte a king, that werreved Russye, Thurgh which ther devde many a doughty man. II This noble king was cleped Cambinskan, Which in his tyme was of so greet renoun That ther nas no-wher in no regioun So excellent a lord in alle thing; 15 Him lakked noght that longeth to a king, As of the secte of which that he was born He kepte his lay, to which that he was sworn : (10) And ther-to he was hardy, wys, and riche, And +piëtous and just, alwey y-liche; 20 Sooth of his word, benigne and honurable, Of his corage as any centre stable ; Yong, fresh, and strong, in armes desirous As any bacheler of al his hous. A fair persone he was and fortunat. 25 And kepte alwey so wel royal estat, That ther was nowher swich another man. This noble king, this Tartre Cambinskan Hadde two sones on Elpheta his wyf, (21) Of whiche th'eldeste highte Algarsyf, 30 That other sone was cleped Cambalo, A doghter hadde this worthy king also, That yongest was, and highte Canacee. But for to telle yow al hir beautee,

It lyth nat in my tonge, n'in my conning; I dar nat undertake so heigh a thing, 36 Myn English eek is insufficient; It moste been a rethor excellent, (30) That conde his colours longing for that art, If he sholde hir discryven every part. 40 I am non swich, I moot speke as I can.

And so bifel that, whan this Cambinskan Hath twenty winter born his diademe, As he was wont fro yeer to yeer, I deme, He leet the feste of his nativitee 4 $5 Don eryen thurghout Sarray his eitee, The last Idus of March, after the yeer. Phebns the sonne ful joly was and eleer; For he was neigh his exaltacioum (41) In Martes face, and in his mansioum 50 In Aries, the colerik hote signe. Ful lasty was the weder and benigne,

For which the foules, agayn the sonne shene.

What for the seson and the yonge grene, Ful loude songen hir affecciouns; 55 Hem semed han geten hem protecciouns Agarn the swerd of winter kene and cold,

This Cambinskan, of which I have yow told, (50)

In royal vestiment sit on his deys,

With diademe, ful heighe in his paleys,

And halt his feste, so solempne and so riche

That in this world ne was ther noon it liche.

Of which if I shal tellen al th'array, Than wolde it occupye a someres day; And eek it nedeth nat for to devyse 65 At every cours the ordre of hir servyse. I wol nat tellen of hir strange seves, (59) Ne of hir swannes, ne of hir heronsewes. Eek in that lond, as tellen knightes olde, Ther is som mete that is ful deyntee holde.

The norice of digestioun, the slepe,

Gan on hem winke, and bad hem taken kepe, (340)

- That muchel drink and labour wolde han reste;
- And with a galping mouth hem alle he keste, 350

And seyde, 'it was tyme to lye adoun,

For blood was in his dominacioun ;

Cherissheth blood, natures freend,' quod he.

They thanken him galpinge, by two, by three,

And every wight gan drawe him to his reste, 355 As slepe hem bad; they toke it for the beste.

Hir dremes shul nat been y-told for me; Ful were hir hedes of fumositee, (350) That causeth dreem, of which ther nis no charge, 350

They slepen til that it was pryme large, The moste part, but it were Canacee; She was ful mesurable, as wommen be. For of hir fader hadde she take leve To gon to reste, sone after it was eve; Hir liste nat appalled for to be, 365 Nor on the morve unfestlich for to see; And slepto hir firste sleep, and thanne awook. (359) For swich a joye she in hir herte took

Both of hir queynte ring and hir mirour, That twenty tyme she changed hir colour; And in hir slepe, right for impressioun 371 Of hir mirour, she hadde a visioun.

Wherfore, er that the sonne gan up glyde, She cleped on hir maistresse hir bisyde, And seyde, that hir liste for to ryse. 375

And seyde, that hir liste for to ryse. 375 Thise olde wommen that been gladly wyse,

As is hir maistresse, answerde hir anoon,

And seyde, 'madame, whider wil ye goon (370)

Thus erly? for the folk ben alle on reste.' 'I wol,' quod she, 'aryse, for me leste 380 No lenger for to slepe, and walke aboute.'

Hir maistresse clepeth wommen a gret route,

And up they rysen, wel a ten or twelve ; Up ryseth fresshe Canacee hir-selve,

As rody and bright as dooth the yonge sonne, 385

That in the Ram is four degrees up-ronne; Noon hyer was he, whan she redy was;

And forth she walketh esily a pas, (380) Arrayed after the lusty seson sote 389 Lightly, for to pleye and walke on fote ;

Nat but with fyve or six of hir meynee;

And in a trench, forth in the park, goth she.

The vapour, which that for the erthe glood, Made the some to seme rody and brood; But nathelees, it was so fair a sighte 305 That it made alle hir hertes for to lighte, What for the seson and the morweninge, And for the foules that she herde singe : For right anon she wiste what they mente Right byhir song, and knewal hir entente.

The knotte, why that every tale is told, If it be taried til that lust be cold Of hem that han it after herkned yore, The savour passeth ever lenger the more, For fulsomnesse of his prolixitee. 405 And by the same reson thinketh me,

I sholde to the knotte condescende,

And maken of hir walking sone an ende. (400)

Amidde a tree fordrye, as whyt as chalk, As Canacee was pleying in hir walk, 410 Ther sat a faucon over hir heed ful hye, That with a pitous voys so gan to crye That all the wode resourced of hir cry.

Y-beten hath she hir-self so pitously 414 With bothe hir winges, til the rede blood Ran endelong the tree ther-as she stood.

- And ever in oon she cryde alwey and shrighte,
- And with hir beek hir-selven so she prighte, (410)
- That ther nis tygre, ne noon so cruel beste,

That dwelleth either in wode or in foreste That nolde han wept, if that he wepe coude, 421

For sorwe of hir, she shrighte alwey so loude.

For ther nas never yet no man on lyve— If that I coude a faucon wel discryve—

That herde of swich another of fairnesse, As wel of plumage as of gentillesse 426 Of shap, and al that mighte y-rekened be. A faucon peregryn than semed she (420) Of fremde land; and evermore, as she stood.

She swowneth now and now for lakke of blood, 430

Til wel neigh is she fallen fro the tree. This faire kinges doghter, Canacee,

That on hir finger bar the queynte ring,

Thurgh which she understood wel every thing

That any foul may in his ledene seyn, 435 And coude answere him in his ledene ageyn,

Hath understonde what this faucon seyde, And wel neigh for the rewthe almost she deyde. (430) And to the tree she gooth ful hastily, And on this faucon loketh pitously, 440 And heeld hir lappe abrood, for wel she

wiste

The faucon moste fallen fro the twiste, When that it swowned next, for lakke of blood.

A longe while to wayten hir she stood Till atte laste she spak in this manere 445 Un-to the hauk, as ye shul after here.

'What is the cause, if it be for to telle?' That ye be in this furial pyne of helle?' Quod Canace un-to this hauk above. (441) 'Is this for sorwe of deeth or los of love? For, as I trowe, thise ben causes two 451 That causen moest a gentil herte wo; Of other harm it nedeth nat to speke. For ye your-self you wureke, Which proveth wel, that either love or drede 455

Mot been encheson of your cruel dede, Sin that I see non other wight yow chace. For love of god, as dooth your-selven grace Or what may ben your help; for west nor eest (451)

No sey I never er now no brid ne beest That forde with him-self so pitonsly. 467 Ye sloe me with your sorwe, verrally; I have of yow so gret compassioun. For goddes love, com fro the tree adoun; And, as I am a kinges doghter trewe, 465 If that I verrally the cause knewe Of your disese, if it lay in my might, I wolde amende it, er that it were night, As wisly helpe me gret god of kinde ! (461) And herbes shal I right y-nowe y-finde To hele with your hurtes hastily.' 471

The shrighte this faucon more pitously Than ever she dide, and fil to grounde anoon.

And lyth aswowne, deed, and lyk a stoon, Til Canacee hath in hir lappe hir take 475 Un-to the tyme she gan of swough awake. And, after that she of hir swough gan breyde.

"That pitce renneth sone in gentil herte, Feling his similitude in peynessmerte, 480 Is preved al-day, as men may it see, As wel by werk as by auctoritee:

F. The Frankelepns Tale. T. 11145-11220.

Receyved hath, by hope and by resoun, Th'emprenting of hir consolacioun, 824 Thurgh which hir grete sorwe gan aswage; She may nat alwey duren in swich rage. And eek Arveragus, in al this care,

Hath sent hir lettres hoom of his welfare, And that he wol come hastily agayn ;(111) Or elles hadde this sorwe hir herte slayn.

- Hir freendes sawe hir sorwe gan to slake. 841
- And preyede hir on knees, for goddes sake.
- To come and romen hir in companye, Awey to dryve hir derke fantasye.

And finally, she graunted that requeste ;

For wel she saugh that it was for the beste. (118) 846

Now stood hir castel faste by the see. And often with hir freendes walketh she Hir to disporte up-on the bank an heigh, Wher-as she many a ship and barge seigh Seilinge hir cours, wher-as hem liste go : But than was that a parcel of hir wo.

For to hir-self ful ofte 'allas !' seith she, 'Is ther no ship, of so manye as I see,

Wol bringen hom my lord? than were myn herte 855

Al warisshed of his bittre peynes smerte.' Another tyme ther wolde she sitte and

- thinke.
- And caste hir eyen dounward fro the (130) brinke.
- But whan she saugh the grisly rokkes blake.

For verray fere so wolde hir herte quake.

- That on hir feet she mighte hir noght 861 sustene.
- Than wolde she sitte adoun upon the grene,

And pitously in-to the see biholde,

- And seyn right thus, with sorweful sykes colde:
  - 'Eterne god, that thurgh thy purveyaunce 865

Ledest the world by certein governaunce,

In ydel, as men seyn, ye no-thing make; But, lord, thise grisly feendly rokkes blake, (140)

That semen rather a foul confusioun Of werk than any fair creacioun 870 Of swich a parfit wys god and a stable,

Why han ye wroght this work unresonable?

For by this werk, south, north, ne west, ne eest.

Ther nis y-fostred man, ne brid, ne beest; It dooth no good, to my wit, but anoyeth.

See ye nat, lord, how mankinde it destroyeth? 876

An hundred thousand bodies of mankinde Han rokkes slayn, al be they nat in minde.

- Which mankinde is so fair part of thy werk (151)
- That thou it madest lyk to thyn owene merk. 880

Than semed it ye hadde a greet chiertee

- Toward mankinde; but how than may it be
- That ye swiche menes make it to destroyen,
- Whiche menes do no good, but ever anoyen?
- I woot wel clerkes wol sevn, as hem leste, 885

By arguments, that al is for the beste,

Though I ne can the causes nat y-knowe. But thilke god, that made wind to blowe, As keps my lord ! this my conclusioun ; To clerkes lete I al disputisoun. (162) 800

But wolde god that alle thise rokkes blake Were sonken in-to helle for his sake !

Thise rokkes sleen myn herte for the fere.' Thus wolde she seyn, with many a pitous tere.

Hir freendes sawe that it was no disport To romen by the see, but disconfort: 806 And shopen for to pleyen somwher elles. They leden hir by riveres and by welles.

And eek in othere places delitables ; (171) They dauncen, and they pleyen at ches and tables, 000

So on a day, right in the morwe-tyde, Un-to a gardin that was ther bisyde,

In which that they had maad hir ordinaunce

Of vitaille and of other purveyaunce.

They goon and pleye hem al the longe day.

And this was on the sixte morwe of May, Which May had peynted with his softe shoures

This squyer, which that highte Aurelius, On Dorigen that was so amorous, (772) 1500 Of aventure happed hir to mete

- Amidde the toun, right in the quikkest strete,
- As she was boun to goon the wey forthright
- Toward the gardin ther-as she had hight. And he was to the gardinward also; 1505
- For wel he spyed, whan she wolde go
- Out of hir hous to any maner place.
- But thus they mette, of aventure or grace; (780)
- And he saleweth hir with glad entente, And asked of hir whiderward she wente?
- And she answerde, half as she were mad, 'Un-to the gardin, as myn housbond bad,
- My trouthe for to holde, allas ! allas !'
- Aurelius gan wondren on this cas,
- And in his herte had greet compassioun
- Of hir and of hir lamentacioun, 1516 And of Arveragus, the worthy knight,
- That bad hir holden al that she had hight, (700)
- So looth him was his wyf sholde breke hir trouthe;
- And in his herte he caughte of this greet routhe, 1520

And whan he thurgh his madnes and folye,

Hath lost his owene good thurgh jupartye. Thanne he excyteth other folk ther-to. To lese hir good as he him-self hath do. 715 For unto shrewes jove it is and ese To have hir felawes in pevne and disese : Thus was I ones lerned of a clerk. Of that no charge, I wol speke of our werk.

Whan we been ther as we shul exercyse Our elvish craft, we semen wonder wyse,

Our termes been so clergial and so queynte. (199) 752 I blowe the fyr til that myn herte feynte.

What sholde I tellen ech proporcioun Of thinges whiche that we werche upon, As on fyve or sixe ounces, may wel be, 756 Of silver or som other quantitee, And bisie me to telle yow the names Of orpiment, brent bones, yren squames, That into poudre grounden been ful smal? And in an erthen potte how put is al, 761 And salt y-put in, and also papeer, (209) Biforn thise poudres that I speke of heer, And wel y-covered with a lampe of glas. And mochel other thing which that ther 765 was?

And of the pot and glasses enluting, That of the eyre mighte passe out no-thing?

T. 16236-16327.

And of the esy fyr and smart also, Which that was maad, and of the care and wo 769 That we hadde in our matires sublyming, And in amalgaming and calcening Of quik-silver, y-clept Mercurie crude? For alle our sleightes we can nat conclude. (220) Our orpiment and sublymed Mercurie, Our grounden litarge eek on the porphurie, Of ech of thise of ounces a certeyn 776 Nought helpeth us, our labour is in veyn, Ne eek our spirites ascencioun, Ne our materes that lyen al fixe adoun, Mowe in our werking no-thing us avayle. For lost is al our labour and travayle, 781 And al the cost, a twenty devel weye, Is lost also, which we upon it leve. (230) Ther is also ful many another thing That is unto our craft apertening; 785 Though I by ordre hem nat reherce can, By-cause that I am a lewed man, Yet wol I telle hem as they come to minde, Though I ne can nat sette hem in hir kinde; As bole armoniak, verdegrees, boras, 700 And sondry vessels maad of erthe and glas, Our urinales and our descensories, Violes, croslets, and sublymatories, (240) Cucurbites, and alembykes eek, And othere swiche, dere y-nough a leek. Nat nedeth it for to reherce hem alle, 796 Watres rubifying and boles galle, Arsenik, sal armoniak, and brimstoon ; And herbes coude I telle eek many oon, As egremoine, valerian, and lunarie, 800 And othere swiche, if that me liste tarie, Our lampes brenning bothe night and day. To bringe aboute our craft, if that we may. (250)Our fourneys eek of calcinacioun. And of watres albificacioun, 805 Unslekked lym, chalk, and gleyre of an ev. Poudres diverse, asshes, dong, pisse, and cley, Cered pokets, sal peter, vitriole ; And divers fyres maad of wode and cole ; Sal tartre, alkaly, and sal preparat, 810 And combust materes and coagulat, Cley maad with hors or mannes heer, and oile

Of tartre, alum, glas, berm, wort, and argoile, (260)

Resalgar, and our materes enbibing; And eek of our materes encorporing, 815 And of our silver citrinacioun,

Our cementing and fermentacioun, Our ingottes, testes, and many mo.

I wol yow telle, as was me taught also, The foure spirites and the bodies sevene, By ordre, as ofte I herde my lord hem nevene. 821

The firste spirit quik-silver called is, (269) The second orpiment, the thridde, y-wis, Sal armoniak, and the forthe brimstoon. The bodies sevene eek, lo! hem heeranoon : Sol gold is, and Luna silver we threpe, 836 Mars yren, Mercurie quik-silver we clepe, Saturnus leed, and Jupiter is tin,

And Venus coper, by my fader kin! 829 This cursed craft who-so wol exercyse,

He shal no good han that him may suffyse; For al the good he spendeth theraboute, He less shal, ther-of have I no donte. (280) Who-so that listeth outen his folye, 834 Lat him come forth, and lerne multiplye; And every man that oght hath in his cofre, Pat him appere, and wexe a philosofre. Ascannee that craft is so light to lere? Nay, nay, god woot, al be he monk or

Nay, nay, god woot, al be he monk or frere,

Preest or chanoun, or any other wight, 840 Though he sitte at his book bothe day and night,

In lernyng of this elvish nyce lore, Al is in veyn, and parde, mochel more! To lerne a lewed man this subtiltee, (201) Fy! spek nat ther-of, for it wol nat be; 845 Al conne he letterure, or conne he noon, As in effect, he shaf finde it al oon. For bothe two, by my savacioun, Concluden, in multiplicacioun, Y-lyke wel, whan they han al y-do; 850 This is to seyn, they faylen bothe two.

Yet forgat I to maken rehersaille Of watres corosif and of limaille, (300) And of bodyes mollificacioun, And also of hir induracioun, 855 Oiles, ablucions, and metal fusible, To tellen al wolde passen any bible That o-wher is; wherfor, as for the beste, Of alle thise names now wol I me reste.

For, as I trowe, I have yow told y-nowe 860 To revse a feend, al loke he never so rowe.

A ! nay ! lat be; the philosophres stoon, Elixir clept, we sechen faste echoon ; (310) For hadde we him, than were we siker y-now.

But, unto god of heven I make avow, 865 For al our craft, whan we han al y-do,

And al our sleighte, he wol nat come us to. He hath y-maad us spenden mochel good. For sorwe of which almost we wexen wood. But that good hope crepeth in our herte, Supposinge ever, though we sore smerte, To be releved by him afterward : 872 Swich supposing and hope is sharp and hard : (320) I warne yow wel, it is to seken ever ;

That futur temps hath maad men to dissever, 875

In trust ther-of, from al that ever they hadde.

Yet of that art they can nat wexen sadde, For unto hem it is a bitter swete :

So semeth it; for nadde they but a shete Which that they mighte wrappe hem inne a-night, 880

And a bak to walken inne by day-light,

They wolde hem selle and spenden on this craft: (329)

They can nat stinte til no-thing be laft. And evermore, wher that ever they goon, Men may hem knowe by smel of brimstoon ; 885

For al the world, they stinken as a goot ; Her savour is so rammish and so hoot,

That, though a man from hem a myle be, The savour wol infecte him, trusteth me; Lo, thus by smelling and threedbare array. If that men liste, this folk they knowe may. And if a man wol aske hem prively, 892 Why they been clothed so unthriftily, (340) They right anon wol rownen in his ere.

And seyn, that if that they espyed were, Men wolde hem slee, by-cause of hir science: 896

Lo, thus this folk bitraven innocence !

Passe over this; I go my tale un-to. Er than the pot be on the fyr y-do,

Of metals with a certein quantitee,

900 My lord hem tempreth, and no man but he--

Now he is goon, I dar seyn boldely-

For, as men sevn, he can don craftily : (350) Algate I woot wel he hath swich a name, And yet ful ofte he renneth in a blame; 905 And wite ye how ? ful ofte it happeth so, The pot to-breketh, and farewel! al is go! Thise metals been of so greet violence,

Our walles mowe nat make hem resistence. But if they weren wroght of lym and stoon ; They percen so, and thurgh the wal they goon, 011

And somme of hem sinken in-to the ground-(350)

Thus han we lost by tymes many a pound-And somme are scatered al the floor aboute. Somme lepe in-to the roof: with-outen doute. 015

Though that the feend noght in our sighte him shewe.

I trowe he with us be, that ilke shrewe ! In helle wher that he is lord and sire, Nis ther more wo, ne more rancour ne ire. Whan that our pot is broke, as I have sayd, 920 Every man chit, and halt him yvel apayd.

Som seyde, it was long on the fyrmaking, (360)

Som seyde, nay! it was on the blowing ;

(Than was I fered, for that was myn office);

'Straw!' quod the thridde, 'ye been lewed and nyce. 925

It was nat tempred as it oghte be.'

'Nay!' quod the ferthe, 'stint, and herkne me;

By-cause our fyr ne was nat maad of beech, That is the cause, and other noon, so theech !'

I can nat telle wher-on it was long, 030 But wel I wot greet stryf is us among.

'What !' quod my lord, 'ther is na-more to done.

Of thise perils I wol be war eft-sone : (380) I am right siker that the pot was crased.

Be as be may, be ye no-thing amased : 035 As usage is, lat swepe the floor as swythe,

Plukke up your hertes, and beth gladde and blythe.'

The mullok on an hepe v-sweped was. And on the floor y-cast a canevas,

And al this mullok in a sive y-throwe, 940 And sifted, and y-piked many a throwe.

- 'Pardee,' quod oon, 'somwhat of our metal
- Yet is ther heer, though that we han nat al. Al-though this thing mishapped have as now, (391)

Another tyme it may be wel y-now, 945 Us moste putte our good in aventure ;

A marchant, parde ! may nat ay endure Trusteth me wel, in his prosperitee ;

Somtyme his good is drenched in the see, And somtym comth it sauf un-to the londe.' 950

'Pees!' quod my lord, 'the next tyme I wol fonde (308)

To bringe our craft al in another plyte; And but I do, sirs, lat me han the wyte; Ther was defaute in som-what, wel I woot.

Another seyde, the fyr was over hoot :---But, be it hoot or cold, I dar seye this, 956 That we concluden evermore amis.

We fayle of that which that we wolden have,

And in our madnesse evermore we rave.

And whan we been togidres everichoon,

Every man semeth a Salomon, 961

But al thing which that shyneth as the gold (400)

Nis nat gold, as that I have herd it told; Ne every appel that is fair at yë

Ne is nat good, what-so men clappe or crye. 965

Right so, lo! fareth it amonges us;

He that semeth the wysest, by Jesus !

Is most fool, whan it cometh to the preef; And he that semeth trewest is a theef;

That shul ye knowe, er that I fro yow wende, 970

By that I of my tale have maad an ende.

Explicit prima pars.

Et sequitur pars secunda.

Ther is a chanoun of religioun Amonges us, wolde infecte al a toun, (420) Though it as greet were as was Ninivee, Rome, Alisaundre, Troye, and othere three. His sleightes and his infinit falmesse 976 Ther coude no man wryten, as I gesse, Thogh that fie mighte liven a thousand veer.

In al this world of falshede nis his peer; For in his termes so he wolde him winde, And speke his wordes in so sly a kinde, 981 Whan he commune shal with any wight, That he wol make him doten anon right, But it a feend be, as him-selven is. (431) Ful many a man hath he bigyled er this, And wol, if that he live may a whyle; 986 And yet men ryde and goon ful many a myle

Him for to seke and have his aqueyntaunce,

Noght knowinge of his false governaunce. And if yow list to yeve me audience, 990 I wol it tellen heer in your presence.

But worshipful chancens religious, Ne demeth nat that I sclaundre your hous, Al-though my tale of a chancen be. (441) Of every ordre som shrewe is, parde, 995 And god forbede that al a companye Sholde rewe a singuler mannes folye. To sclaundre yow is no-thing myn entente, But to correcten that is mis I mente. This tale was nat only told for yow, 1000 But eek for othere mo; ye woot wel how That, among Cristes apostelles twelve,

Ther nas no traytour but Judas him-selve. Than why sholde al the remenant have blame (451)

That giltlees were? by yow I seye the same. Save only this, if ye wol herkne me, 1006 If any Judas in your covent be,

Remeveth him bitymes, I yow rede, If shame or los may causen any drede, 1009 And beth no-thing displesed, I yow preye, But in this cas herkneth what I shal seye.

In London was a preest, an annueleer, That therin dwelled hadde many a yeer, Which was so plesaunt and so servisable Unto the wyf, wher-as he was attable, (462) That she wolde suffre him no-thing for to paye 100

For bord ne clothing, wente he never so gave ;

And spending-silver hadde he right y-now. Therof no fors; I wol procede as now, roto And telle forth my tale of the chanoun, That brochte this preest to confusioun.

This false chanoun cam up-on a day Unto this preestes chambre, wher he lay, Biseching him to lene him a certeyn (471) Of gold, and he wolde quyte it him ageyn.

T. 16410-16493.

'Lene me a mark,' quod he, 'but dayes three, 1026

And at my day I wol it quyten thee.

And if so be that thou me finde fals,

Another day do hange me by the hals!' This preest him took a mark, and that as swythe.

And this chanoun him thanked ofte sythe, And took his leve, and wente forth his weye, (470)

And at the thridde day broghte his moneye, And to the preest he took his gold agayn, Wherof this preest was wonder glad and fayn, 1035

<sup>6</sup> Certes,<sup>2</sup> quod he, <sup>6</sup>no-thing anoyeth me To lene a man a noble, or two or three, Or what thing were in my possessioun, Whan he so trawe is of condicioun, That in no wyse he breke wol his day; 1040 To swich a man I can never seys nay.<sup>2</sup>

'What!' quod this chanoun, 'sholde I be untrewe? (489)

Nay, that were thing y-fallen al of-newe. Trouthe is a thing that I wol ever kepe Un-to that day in which that I shal crepe In-to my grave, and elles god forbede; 1046 Bileveth this as siker as is your crede. God thanke I, and in good tyme be it sayd. That ther was never man yet yvel apayd

For gold ne silver that he to me lente, 1050 Ne never falshede in myn herte I mente. And sir, 'quod he, 'now of my privetee, Sin ye so goodlich han been un-to me, (500) And kythed to me so greet gentillesse, 1054 Somwhat to quyte with your kindenesse, I wol yow heeve, and, if yow list to lere, I wol yow teche pleynly the manere,

How I can werken in philosophye.

Taketh good heed, ye shul wel seen at yë, That I wol doon a maistrie er I go.' 1060

- 'Ye,' quod the preest, 'ye, sir, and wol ye so?
- Marie ! ther-of I pray yow hertely !' (509) 'At your comandement, sir, trewely,'

Quod the chanoun, 'and elles god forbede !' Lo, how this theef coude his servyse bede ! 1065

Ful sooth it is, that swich profred servyse Stinketh, as witnessen thise olde wyse; And that ful sone I wol it verifye

In this chanoun, rote of al trecherve, 1060

- How Cristes peple he may to meschief bringe; (519)
- God kepe us from his fals dissimulinge ! Noght wiste this preest with whom that he delte.

Ne of his harm cominge he no-thing felte. O sely preest ! O sely inncent ! 1076 With coveityse anon thou shalt be blent ! O gracelees, ful blind is thy conceit.

No-thing ne artow war of the deceit

Which that this fox y-shapen hath to thee! His wyly wrenches thou no mayst nat flee. Wherfor, to go to the conclusioun 1082 That refere th to thy confusioun, (530) Unhappy man ! anon I wol me hye

To tellen thyn unwit and thy folye, 1085 And eek the falsnesse of that other wrecche.

As ferforth as that my conning may streeche.

This chanoun was my lord, ye wolden wene?

Sir host, in feith, and by the hevenes quene,

It was another chanoun, and nat he, 1090 That can an hundred fold more subtiltee! He hath bitrayed folkes many tyme;

Of his falshede it dulleth me to ryme. (540) Ever whan that I speke of his falshede,

For shame of him my chekes wexen rede; Algates, they biginnen for to glowe, 1006 For reednesse have I noon, right wel I knowe,

In my visage ; for fumes dyverse

Of metals, which ye han herd me reherce, Consumed and wasted han my reednesse. Now tak heed of this chanouns cursednesse! 1101 'Sir,' quod he to the preest, 'lat your man gon (549)

This chanoun took his cole with harde grace, 1189

And leyde it above, up-on the middeward Of the croslet, and blew wel afterward, Til that the coles gonne faste brenne.

'Now yeve us drinke,' quod the chanoun thenne, (640)

'As swythe al shal be wel, I undertake; Sitte we doun, and lat us mery make.' 1195 And whan that this chanounes bechen

cole

Was brent, al the lymaille, out of the hole, Into the croslet fil anon adoun ;

And so it moste nedes, by resoun,

Sin it so even aboven couched was; 1200 But ther-of wiste the preest no-thing, alas! He demed alle the coles y-liche good,

For of the sleighte he no-thing understood, (650)

And whan this alkamistre saugh his tyme, 'Bys up,'quod he, 'sir preest, and stondeth by me : 1205

And for I woot wel ingot have ye noon,

Goth, walketh forth, and bring us a chalkstoon :

For I wol make oon of the same shap

That is an ingot, if I may han hap.

And bringeth eek with yow a bolle or a panne, 1210

Ful of water, and ye shul see wel thanne How that our bisinesse shal thryve and preve.

And yet, for ye shul han no misbileve (660) Ne wrong conceit of me in your absence, I ne wol nat been out of your presence, 1215 But go with yow, and come with yow agern.'

The chambre-dore, shortly for to seyn,

- They opened and shette, and wente hir weve.
- And forth with hem they carieden the keve. 1219

And come agayn with-outen any delay.

What sholde I tarien al the longe day?

He took the chalk, and shoop it in the wyse

Of an ingot, as I shal yow devyse. (670) I seye, he took out of his owene sleve

A teyne of silver (yvele mote he cheve !)

Which that ne was nat but an ounce of weighte ; 1226

- And taketh heed now of his cursed sleighte!
  - He shoop his ingot, in lengthe and eek in brede,

Of this teyne, with-outen any drede, So slyly, that the preest it nat espyde ; 1230 And in his sleve agayn he gan it hyde; And fro the fyr he took up his matere, And in th'ingot putte it with mery chere, And in the water-vessel he it caste (681) Whan that him luste, and bad the preest as faste. 1235

' Look what ther is, put in thyn hand and grope,

Thow finde shaft ther silver, as I hope; What, devel of helle ! sholde it elles be ? Shaving of silver silver is, pardee ! ' He putte his hond in, and took up a teyne Of silver fyn, and glad in every veyne 1241 Was this preest, whan he saugh that it was so.

'Goddes blessing, and his modres also, (600) And alle halwes have ye, sir chanoun,' Seyde this preest, 'and I hir malisoun, 1245 But, and ye vouche-sauf to techen me This noble craft and this subtilitee, I wol be youre, in all that ever I may!'

Quod the chanoun, 'yet woll make assay The second tyme, that ye may taken hede And been expert of this, and in your nede Another day assaye in myn absence 1252 This disciplyne and this crafty science. This preest him bisieth in al that he can To doon as this chanoun, this cursed man, Comanded him, and faste he blew the fyr, For to come to th'effect of his desyr. 1261 And this chanour, right in the mene whyle,

Al redy was, the preest eff to bigyle, (710) And, for a countenance, in his hande he bar An holwe stikke (tak keep and be war !)

Philosophres speken so mistily

- In this craft, that men can nat come therby, 1395
- For any wit that men han now a-dayes. They mowe wel chiteren, as doon thise jayes,

And in her termes sette hir lust and peyne, But to hir purpos shul they never atteyne. A man may lightly lerne, if he have aught,

To multiplye, and bringe his good to naught! (848) 1401

Lo! swich a lucre is in this lusty game, A mannes mirthe it woltorne un-to grame, And empten also grete and hevy purses,

And maken folk for to purchasen curses Of hem, that han hir good therto y-lent.

O! fy! for shame! they that han been brent, 1407

He is as bold to renne agayn a stoon 1415 As for to goon besydes in the weye.

So faren ye that multiplye, I seye.

If that your yen can nat seen aright,

- Loke that your minde lakke nought his sight. (866)
- For, though ye loke never so brode, and stare, 1420

Ye shul nat winnea myte on that chaffare, But wasten al that ye may rape and renne. Withdrawe the fyr, lest it to faste brenne; Medleth na-more with that art, I mene,

For, if ye doon, your thrift is goon ful clene. 1425

THE MANCIPLE'S PROLOGUE.

Here folweth the Prologe of the Maunciples Tale.

Wirs ye nat wher ther stant a litel toun Which that y-cleped is Bob-up-and-doun, Under the Blee, in Caunterbury weye? And seyde, 'sirs, what! Dun is in the myre! 5 Is ther no man, for preyere ne for hyre,

That wol awake our felawe heer bihinde? A theef mighte him ful lightly robbe and binde.

See how he nappeth ! see, for cokkes bones, As he wol falle from his hors at ones. 10 Is that a cook of Londoun, with mes-chaunce? Do him come forth, he knoweth his penaunce.

For he shal telle a tale, by my fey !

Al-though it be nat worth a botel hey.

Awake, thou cook,' quod he, 'god yeve thee sorwe, 15

What eyleth thee to slepe by the morwe?

Hastow had fleen al night, or artow dronke,

Or hastow with som quene al night yswonke,

So that thou mayst nat holden up thyn heed?'

This cook, that was ful pale and nothing reed, 20

Seyde to our host, 'so god my soule blesse, As ther is falle on me swich hevinesse,

Noot I nat why, that me were lever slepe Than the beste galoun wyn in Chepe.'

'Wel,' quod the maunciple, 'if it may doon ese 25

To thee, sir cook, and to no wight displese Which that heer rydeth in this companye, And that our host wol, of his curteisye,

I wol as now excuse thee of thy tale; For, in good feith, thy visage is ful pale, Thyn yën daswen eek,≼as that me thinketh, 31

And wel I woot, thy breeth ful soure stinketh,

That sheweth wel thou art not wel disposed;

Of me, certein, thou shalt nat been y-glosed.

Se how he ganeth, lo, this dronken wight, As though he wolde us swolwe anon-right.

Hold cloos thy mouth, man, by thy fader kin ! 37

The devel of helle sette his foot ther-in ! Thy cursed breeth infecte wol us alle :

Fy, stinking swyn, fy! foule moot thee falle! 40

Ther-to me thinketh ye been wely-shape ! I trowe that ye dronken han wyn ape.

And that is whan men pleyen with a straw.' 45

And with this speche the cook wex wrooth and wraw,

And on the maunciple he gan nodde faste For lakke of speche, and down the hors him caste,

Wher as he lay, til that men up him took; This was a fayr chivachee of a cook! 500 Allas! he nadde holde him by his lade! And, er that he agayn were in his sadel, Ther was greet showving bothe to and fro, To lifte him up, and muchel care and wo, So unweldy was this sory palled gost. 55 And to the maunciple thanne spak our host.

THE MAUNCIPLES TALE.

Here biginneth the Maunciples Tale of the Crowe.

WHAN Phebus dwelled here in this erthe adoun, 105

As olde bokes maken mencioun,

He was the moste lusty bachiler

In al this world, and eek the beste archer; He slow Phitoun, the serpent, as he lay Slepinge agayn the sonne upon a day; 110 And many another noble worthy dede He with his bowe wroghte, as men may rede.

Pleyen he coude on every minstraleye, And singen, that it was a melodye, (10) To heren of his clere vois the soun. 115 Certes the king of Thebes, Amphioun,

T. 17066-17153.] H. The Maunciples Tale.

That with his singing walled that citee, Coude never singen half so wel as he. Therto he was the semelieste man 119 That is or was, sith that the world bigan. What nedeth it his fetures to discryve? For in this world was noon so fair on lyve. He was ther-with fulfild of gentillesse, Of honour, and of parfit worthinesse. (20)

This Phebus, that was flour of bachelrye, As wel in fredom as in chivalrye, 136 For his desport, in signe eek of victorie Of Phitoun, so as telleth us the storie, Was wont to beren in his hand a bowe.

Nowhad this Phebusin his hous a crowe, Which in a cage he fostred many a day, And taughte it speken, as men teche a jay. Whyt was this crowe, as is a snow-whyt swan. (29)

And countrefete the speche of every man He coule, whan he sholde telle a tale. 135 Ther-with in al this world no nightingale Ne coule, by an hondred thousand deel, Singen so wonder merily and weel.

Now had this Phebus in his hous a wyf, Which that he lovede more than his lyf, And night and day dide ever his diligence Hir for to plese, and doon hir reverence, Sare only, if the sothe that I shal sayn,

Jalous he was, and wolde have kept hir fayn; (40)

For him were looth by-japed for to be. 145 And so is every wight in swich degree; But al in vdel, for it availleth noght.

A good wyf, that is clene of werk and thoght,

Sholde nat been kept in noon await, certayn;

And trewely, the labour is in vayn 150 To kepe a shrewe, for it wol nat be.

This holde I for a verray nycetee,

To spille labour, for to kepe wyves;

Thus writen olde clerkes in hir lyves, (50)

But now to purpos, as I first bigan : 155 This worthy Phebus dooth all that he can To plesen hir, weninge by swich plessunce, And for his manhede and his governaunce, That no man sholde han put him from hir grace.

But god it woot, ther may no man embrace As to destreyne a thing, which that nature Hath naturelly set in a creature. 162 Tak any brid, and put it in a cage, And do al thyn entents and thy corage (60)

To fostre it tendrely with mete and drinke, 165

Of alle deyntees that thou canst bithinke, And keep it al-so clenly as thou may;

Al-though his cage of gold be never so gay, Yet hath this brid, by twenty thousand fold,

Lever in a forest, that is rude and cold, 170 Gon ete wormes and swich wreechednesse. For ever this brid wol doon his bisinesse To escape out of his cage, if he may;

His libertee this brid desireth ay. (70) Lat take a cat, and fostre him wel with milk. 175

And tendre flesh, and make his couche of silk,

And lat him seen a mous go by the wal; Anon he weyveth milk, and flesh, and al, And every deyntee that is in that hons, Swich appetyt hath he to ete a mous. 180 Lo, here hath lust his dominacioun, And appetyt flemeth discrecioun.

A she-wolf hath also a vileins kinde; The lewedeste wolf that she may finde, (80) Or leest of reputacion wol she take, '85; In tyme whan hir lust to han a make.

Alle thise ensamples speke I by thise men

That been untrewe, and no-thing by wommen.

For men han ever a likerous appetyt

On lower thing to parfourne hir delyt 190 Than on hir wyves, be they never so faire, Ne never so trewe, ne so debonaire.

Flesh is so newefangel, with meschaunce,

That we ne conne in no-thing han plesaunce (90)

That soundth in-to vertu any whyle. 195 This Phebus, which that thoghte upon no gyle.

Deceyved was, for al his jolitee ;

For under him another hadde she.

A man of litel reputacioun, 100

Noght worth to Phebus in comparisoun.

The more harm is; it happeth ofte so,

Of which ther cometh muchel harm and wo.

And so bifel, whan Phebus was absent, His wyf anon hath for hir lemman sent; Hir lemman? certes, this is a knavish speche! (101) 205

Foryeveth it me, and that I yow biseche. The wyse Plato seith, as ye may rede,

The word mot nede accorde with the dede.

If men shal telle proprely a thing, The word mot cosin be to the werking, 210 I an a boistous man, right thus seye I, Ther nis no difference, trewely, Bitwixe a wyf that is of heigh degree, If of hir body dishonest she be, (110) And a povre wenche, other than this— If it so be, they werke bothe amis— 216 But that the gentile, in estaat above, She shal be cleped his lady, as in love ; And for that other is a povre womman, She shal be cleped his wenche, or his lemman. 220

And, god it woot, myn owene dere brother, Men leyn that oon as lowe as lyth that other.

Right so, bitwixe a titlelees tiraunt And an outlawe, or a theef erraunt, (120) The same I seye, ther is no difference. 225 To Alisaundre told was this sentence;

That, for the tyrant is of gretter might, By force of meynee for to sleen doun-right, And brennen hous and hoom, and make al plain,

Lo! therfor is he cleped a capitain ; 230 And, for the outlawe hath but smal meynee.

And may nat doon so greet an harm as he, Ne bringe a contree to so greet mescheef, Men clepen him an outlawe or a theef.

But, for I am a man noght textuel, 235

I wol noght telle of textes never a del;

I wol go to my tale, as I bigan. (133) Whan Phebus wyf had sent for hir lemman,

Anon they wroghten al hir lust volage.

The whyte crowe, that heng ay in the cage, 240

Biheld hir werk, and seyde never a word. And whan that hoom was come Phebus, the lord,

This crowe sang 'cokkow! cokkow! cokkow!'

'What, brid?' quod Phebus, 'what song singestow? (140) Ne were thow wont so merily to singe 245 That to myn herte it was a rejoisinge To here thy vois? allas! what song is this?'

'By god,' quod he, 'I singe nat amis; Phebus,' quod he, 'for al thy worthinesse, For al thy beatce and thy gentilesse, ago For al thy song and al thy minstraleye, For al thy waiting, blered is thyn yë With oon of litel reputacioun, (149) Noght worth to thee, as in comparisonn, Themountance of agnat; so mole I thryye.'

What wol ye more? the crowe anon him tolde, 257

By sadde tokenes and by wordes bolde, How that his wyf had doon hir lecherye, Him to gret shame and to gret vileinye; And tolde him ofte, he saugh it with his yën. 201

This Phebus gan aweyward for to wryen,

Him thoughte his sorweful herte brast a-two;

His bowe he bente, and sette ther-inne a flo, (160)

And in his ire his wyf thanne hath he slayn. 265

This is th'effect, ther is na-more to sayn ;

For sorwe of which he brak his minstralcye,

Bothe harpe, and lute, and giterne, and sautrye;

And eek he brak his arwes and his bowe.

And after that, thus spak he to the crowe: 'Traitour,' quod he, 'with tonge of scorpioun, 271

Thou hast me broght to my confusioun !

Allas! that I was wroght! why nere I deed?

O dere wyf, O gemme of lustiheed, (170) That were to me so sad and eek so trewe, Now lystow deed, with face pale of hewe, Ful giltelees, that dorste I swere, y-wis!

O rakel hand, to doon so foule amis!

O trouble wit, O ire recchelees,

That unavysed smytest giltelees ! 280 O wantrust, ful of fals suspecioun,

Where was thy wit and thy discrecioup O every man, be-war of rakelnesse,

Ne trowe no-thing with-outen strong witnesse; (180)

T. 17154-17233.

Smyt nat to sone, er that ye witen why, And beeth avysed wel and sobrely 286 Er ye doon any execucioun,

Up-on your ire, for suspecioun.

Allas! a thousand folk hath rakel ire 289 Fully fordoon, and broght hem in the mire. Allas! for sorwe I wol my-selven slee!'

And to the crowe, 'O false theef!' seyde he, (188)

'I wol thee quyte anon thy false tale ! Thou songe whylom lyk a nightingale; Now shaltow, false theef, thy song forgon, And eek thy whyte fetheres everichon, Ne never in al thy lyf ne shaltou speke. Thus shal men on a traitour been awreke; Thou and thyn of-spring ever shulb eblake, Ne never swete noise shul ye make, 300 But ever crye agayn tempest and rayn, a takenize that the time the second

In tokeninge that thurgh thee my wyf is slayn.'

And to the crowe he stirte, and that anon, And pulled his whyte fetheres everichon, And made him blak, and refte him al his song, (201) 305 And eek his speche, and out at dore him

slong

Un-to the devel, which I him bitake; And for this caas ben alle crowes blake.—

Lordings, by this ensample I yow preye, Beth war, and taketh kepe what I seye: Ne telleth never no man in your lyf 311 How that anotherman hath dight his wyf; He wol yow haten mortally, certeyn.

Daun Salomon, as wyse clerkes seyn, (210) Techeth a man to kepe his tonge wel; 315 But as I seyde, I am noght textuel,

But nathelees, thus taughte me my dame: 'My sone, thenk on the crowe, a goddes name;

My sone, keep wel thy tonge and keep thy freend.

A wikked tonge is worse than a feend. 320 My sone, from a feend men may hem blesse; My sone, god of his endelees goodnesse Walled a tonge with teeth and lippes eke, For man sholde him avyse what he speke. My sone, ful ofte, for to muche speche, Hath many a man ben spilt, as clerkes teche; (222) 326 But for a litel speche avysely

Is no men shent, to speke generally.

My sone, thy tonge sholdestow restreyne At alle tyme, but whan thou doost thy peyne 330

To speke of god, in honour and preyere. The firste vertu, sone, if thou wolt lere,

Is to restreyne and kepe wel thy tonge.— Thus lerne children whan that they ben yonge.— (230) 334

My sone, of muchel speking yvel-avysed, Ther lasse speking hadde y-nough suffysed, Comth muchel harm, thus was me told and taught.

In muchel speche sinne wanteth naught. Wostow wher-of a rakel tonge serveth?

Right as a swerd forcutteth and forkerveth An arm a-two, my dere sone, right so 341 A tonge cutteth frendship al a-two.

A jangler is to god abhominable; (239) Reed Salomon, so wys and honurable;

Reed David in his psalmes, reed Senekke. My sone, spek nat, but with thyn heed thou bekke. 346

Dissimule as thou were deef, if that thou here

A jangler speke of perilous matere.

The Fleming seith, and lerne it, if thee leste, 340

That litel jangling causeth muchel reste. My sone, if thou no wikked word hast seyd, Thee thar nat drede for to be biwreyd;

But he that hath misseyd, I dar wel sayn, He may by no wey clepe his word agayn. Thing that is seyd, is seyd; and forth it gooth, (251) 355 Though him repente, or be him leef or looth. He is his thral to whom that he hath sayd

A tale, of which he is now yvel apayd.

My sone, be war, and be non auctour newe Of tydinges, whether they ben false or trewe. 360

Wher-so thou come, amonges hye or lowe, Kepe wel thy tonge, and thenk up-on the crowe.'

Here is ended the Maunciples Tale of the Crowe.

THE PARSON'S PROLOGUE.

Here folweth the Prologe of the Persones Tale.

By that the maunciple hadde his tale al ended,

The sonne fro the south lyne was descended

So lowe, that he nas nat, to my sighte, Degreës nyne and twenty as in highte. 4 Foure of the clokke it was tho, as I gesse: For eleven foot, or litel more or lesse, My shadwe was at thilke tyme, as there, Of swich feet as my lengthe parted were In six feet equal of proporcioun. Ther-with the mones exaltacioun, 10 I mene Libra, alwey gan ascende, As we were entringe at a thropes ende; For which our host, as he was wont to gye, As in this caas, our joly companye, Sevde in this wyse, 'lordings everichoon, Now lakketh us no tales mo than oon. 16 Fulfild is my sentence and my decree; I trowe that we han herd of ech degree, Almost fulfild is al myn ordinaunce; I prey to god, so yeve him right good chaunce, 20 That telleth this tale to us lustily. Sir preest,' quod he, 'artow a vicary? Or art a person ? sey sooth, by thy fey ! Be what thou be, ne breke thou nat our pley; For every man, save thou, hath told his tale, 25 Unbokel, and shewe us what is in thy male; For trewely, me thinketh, by thy chere, Thou sholdest knitte up wela greet matere.

Tel us a tale anon, for cokkes bones!'

This Persone him answerde, al at ones, 'Thou getest fable noon y-told for me; 31 For Paul, that wryteth unto Timothee,

Repreveth hem that weyven soothfastnesse,

And tellen fables and swich wrecchednesse. 34

Why sholde I sowen draf out of my fest, Whan I may sowen whete, if that me lest? For which I seye, if that yow list to here Moralitee and vertuous matere, And thanne that ye wol yeve me audience, I wol ful fayn, at Cristes reverence, 40 Do yow plesaunce leefful, as I can. But trusteth wel, I am a Southren man, I can nat geste-rum, ram, ruf-by lettre, Ne, god wot, rym holde I but litel bettre ; And therfor, if yow list, I wol nat glose. I wol yow telle a mery tale in prose 46 To knitte up al this feeste, and make an ende.

And Jesu, for his grace, wit me sende To shewe yow the wey, in this viage, Of thilke parfit glorious pilgrimage 50 That highte Jerusalem celestial. And, if ye vouche-sauf, anon I shal Biginne upon my tale, for whiche I preye Telle your avys, I can no bettre seye. But nathelees, this meditacioun 55 I putte it ay under correccioun Of clerkes, for I am nat textuel; I take but the sentens, trusteth wel. Therfor I make protestacioun That I wol stonde to correccioun.' 60

Upon this word we han assented sone, For, as us semed, it was for to done, To enden in som vertuous sentence, And for to yeve him space and audience; And bede our host he sholde to him seve, 65

That alle we to telle his tale him preye. Our host hadde the wordes for us alle :----

- 'Sir preest,' quod he, 'now fayre yow bifalle!
- Sey what yow list, and we wol gladly here '---

And with that word he seyde in this manere-- 70

'Telleth,' quod he, 'your meditacioun. But hasteth yow, the sonne wol adoun; . Beth fructuous, and that in litel space, And to do wel god sende yow his grace!'

Jer. 6°. State super vias et videte et interrogate de viis antiquis, que sit via bona; et ambulate in ca, et inuenietis refrigerium animabus vestris, &c.

§ 1. Our swete lord god of hevene, that no man wol perisse, but wole that we comen alle to the knoweleche of him, 75 and to the blisful lyf that is perdurable, / amonesteth us by the prophete Jeremie, that seith in this wyse : / 'stondeth upon the weyes, and seeth and axeth of olde pathes (that is to seyn, of olde sentences) which is the goode wey; / and walketh in that wey, and ye shul finde refresshinge for your soules,' &c. / Manye been the weyes espirituels that leden folk to oure Lord Jesu Crist, and to the regne of glorie. / Of whiche weyes, ther is a ful noble wey and a ful covenable, which may nat faile to man ne to womman, that thurgh sinne hath misgoon fro the 80 righte wey of Jerusalem celestial; / and this wey is cleped Penitence, of which man sholdo gladly herknen and enquere with al his herte; / to witen what is Penitence, and whennes it is cleped Penitence, and in how manye maneres been the accions or werkinges of Penitence, / and how manye spyces ther been of Penitence, and whiche thinges apertenen and bihoven to Penitence, and whiche thinges destourben Penitence. /

§ 2. Seint Ambrose seith, that 'Penitence is the pleyninge of man for the gilt that he hath doon, and na-more to do any thing for which him oghte to

(10) pleyne.'/ And som doctour seith : 'Penitence is the waymentinge of man, that sorweth for his sinne and pyneth him-55 self for he hath misdoon.'/ Penitence, with certeyne circumstances, is verray repentance of a man that halt him-self in sorwe and other peyne for hise giltes. / And for he shal be verray penitent, he shal first biwailen the sinnes that he hath doon, and stidefastly purposen in his herte to have shrift of mouthe, and to doon satisfaccionn, / and never to doon thing for which him oghte more to biwayle or to compleyne, and to continue in goode werkes: or elles his repentance may nat availle. / For as seith seint Isidre : 'he is a japer and a gabber, and no verray repentant, that eftsoone dooth thing, for which him oghte repente.'/ Wepinge, and nat for to stinte to doon sinne, may nat avaylle. / 99 But nathelees, men shal hope that every tyme that man falleth, be it never so ofte, that he may arise thurgh Penitence, if he have grace : but certeinly it is greet doute. / For as seith Seint Gregorie : 'unnethe aryseth he out of sinne, that is charged with the charge of yvel usage.' / And therfore repentant folk, that stinte for to sinne, and forlete sinne er that sinne forlete hem, holy chirche holdeth hem siker of hir savacioun. / And he that sinneth, and verraily repenteth him in his laste ende, holy chirche yet hopeth his savacioun, by the grete mercy of oure lord Jesu Crist, for his repentaunce; but tak the siker wey. / (20)

§ 3. And now, sith I have declared yow what thing is Penitence, now shul ye understonde that ther been three accions of Penitence. / The firste accion 95 of Penitence is, that a man be baptized after that he hath sinned. / Seint Augustin seith: 'but he be penitent for his olde sinful lyf, he may nat biginne the newe clene lif.' / For certes, if he be baptized withouten penitence of his oldo gilt, he receiveth the mark of baptisme, but nat the grace ne the remission of his sinnes, til he have repentance verrey. / Another defaute is this, that men doon deedly sinne after that they han received baptisme. / The thridde defaute is, that men fallen in venial sinnes after hir too baptisme, fro day to day. / Ther-of seith Seint Augustin, that 'penitence of goode and humble folk is the penitence of every day.' /

§ 4. The spyces of Penitence been three. That oon of hem is solempne, another is commune, and the thridde is privee. / Thilke penance that is solempne, is in two maneres; as to be put out of holy chirche in lente, for slaughtre of children, and swich maner thing. / Another is, whan a man hath sinned openly, of which sinne the fame is openly spoken in the contree; and thanne holy chirche by jugement destreineth him for to do open

- (30) penaunce. / Commune penaunce is that preestes enjoinen men comunly in certeyn caas; as for to goon, peraventure, naked
- 105 in pilgrimages, or bare-foot. / Privee penaunce is thilke that men doon alday for privee sinnes, of whiche we shryve us prively and receyve privee penaunce. /

§ 5. Now shaltow understande what is bihovely and necessarie to verray parfit Penitence. And this stant on three thinges; / Contricioun of herte, Confessioun of Mouth, and Satisfaccioun. / For which seith Seint John Crisostom: 'Penitence destreyneth a man to accepte benignely every peyne that him is enjoyned, with contricion of herte, and shrift of mouth, with satisfaccion; and in werkinge of alle maner humilitee.' And this is fruitful Penitence agayn three thinges in whiche we wratthe oure load Loam Crist. ( this is to save be addet

110 lord Jesu Crist : / this is to seyn, by delyt in thinkinge, by recchelesnesse in spekinge, and by wikked sinful werkinge. / And agayns thise wikkede giltes is Penitence, that may be lykned un-to a tree. /

§ 6. The rote of this tree is Contricion, that hydeth him in the herte of him that is verray repentant, right as the rote of a tree hydeth him in the erthe. / Of the rote of Contricion springeth a stalke, that bereth braunches and leves of Con-(40) fession, and fruit of Satisfaccion. / For which Crist seith in his gospel: 'dooth digne fruit of Penitence'; for by this fruit may men knowe this tree, and nat by the rote that is hid in the herte of man, ne by the braunches ne by the leves of Confession. / And therefore 115 oure Lord Jesu Crist seith thus: 'by the fruit of hem ye shul knowen hem.'/ Of this rote eek springeth a seed of grace. the which seed is moder of sikernesse. and this seed is egre and hoot. / The grace of this seed springeth of god, thurgh remembrance of the day of dome and on the peynes of helle. / Of this matere seith Salomon, that 'in the drede of god man forleteth his sinne.' / The hete of this seed is the love of god, and the desiring of the joye perdurable. / 120 This hete draweth the herte of a man to god, and dooth him haten his sinne. / For soothly, ther is no-thing that savoureth so wel to a child as the milk of his norice, ne no-thing is to him more abhominable than thilke milk whan it is medled with other mete. / Right so the sinful man that loveth his sinne, him semeth that it is to him most swete of any-thing; / but fro that tyme that he loveth sadly our lord Jesu Crist, and desireth the lif perdurable, ther nis to him no-thing more abhominable. / For (50) soothly, the lawe of god is the love of god ; for which David the prophete seith : 'I have loved thy lawe and hated wikkednesse and hate'; he that loveth god kepeth his lawe and his word. / This 125 tree saugh the prophete Daniel in spirit, up-on the avision of the king Nabugodonosor, whan he conseiled him to do penitence. / Penaunce is the tree of lyf to hem that it receiven, and he that holdeth him in verray penitence is blessed; after the sentence of Salomon. /

§ 7. In this Penitence or Contricion man shal understonde foure thinges, that is to seyn, what is Contricion : and whiche been the causes that moeven a man to Contricion : and how he sholde be contrit: and what Contricion availleth to the scule./ Thanne is it thus: that Contricion is the verray sorwe that a T. §§ S, 9.]

man receiveth in his herte for his sinnes, with sad purpos to shryve him, and to do penaunce, and nevermore to do sinne./ And this sorwe shal been in this manere, as seith seint Bernard : 'it shal been hevy and grevous, and ful sharpe and 30 poinant in herte.' / First, for man hath agilt his lord and his creatour; and more sharpe and poinant, for he hath agilt his fader celestial; / and yet more sharpe and poinant, for he hath wrathed and agilt him that boghte him; which with his precious blood hath delivered us fro the bondes of sinne, and fro the crueltee of the devel and fro the peynes of helle. /

§ 8. The causes that oghte moeve a man to Contricion been six. First, a man shal remembre him of hise sinnes; / but loke he that thilke remembrance ne be to him no delyt by no wey, but greet shame and sorwe for his gilt. For Job seith: 'sinful men doon werkes worthy 50) of Confession.' / And therfore seith Ezechie: 'I wol remembre me alle the yeres of my lyf, in bitternesse of myn 35 herte.' / And god seith in the Apocalips : 'remembreth yow fro whennes that ye been falle'; for biforn that tyme that ye sinned, ye were the children of god, and limes of the regne of god ; / but for your sinne ye been woxen thral and foul, and membres of the feend, hate of aungels, sclaundre of holy chirche, and fode of the false serpent; perpetuel matere of the fyr of helle. / And yet more foul and abhominable, for ye trespassen so ofte tyme, as doth the hound that retourneth to eten his spewing. / And yet be ye fouler for your longe continuing in sinne and your sinful usage, for which ye be roten in your sinne, as a beest in his dong. / Swiche manere of thoghtes maken a man to have shame of his sinne, and no delyt, as god seith

40 by the prophete Ezechiel: / 'ye shal remembre yow of youre weyes, and they shuln displese yow.' Sothly, sinnes been the weyes that leden folk to helle. /

§ 9. The seconde cause that oghte make a man to have desdeyn of sinne is this : that, as seith seint Peter, 'who-so that doth sinne is thral of sinne'; and sinne put a man in greet thraldom. / And therfore seith the prophete Ezechiel: 'I wente sorweful in desdayn of my-self.' And certes, wel oghte a man have desdayn of sinne, and withdrawe him from that thraldom and vileinye. / And lo, what seith Seneca in this matere. He seith thus: 'though I wiste that neither god ne man ne sholde nevere knowe it, yet wolde I have desdayn for to do sinne.' / (70) And the same Seneca also seith : 'I am born to gretter thinges than to be thral to my body, or than for to maken of my body a thral.' / Ne a fouler thral may 145 no man ne womman maken of his body. than for to yeven his body to sinne. / Al were it the fouleste cherl, or the fouleste womman that liveth, and leest of value, yet is he thanne more foule and more in servitute. / Evere fro the hyer degree that man falleth, the more is he thral, and more to god and to the world vile and abhominable. / O gode god, wel oghte man have desdayn of sinne; sith that, thurgh sinne, ther he was free, now is he maked bonde. / And therfore seyth Seint Augustin : 'if thou hast desdayn of thy servant, if he agilte or sinne, have thou thanne desdayn that thou thy-self sholdest do sinne.'/ Take reward 150 of thy value, that thou ne be to foul to thy-self. / Allas! wel oghten they thanne have desdayn to been servauntz and thralles to sinne, and sore been ashamed of hem-self, / that god of his endelees goodnesse hath set hem in heigh estaat, or yeven hem wit, strengthe of body, hele, beautee, prosperitee, / and boghte hem fro the deeth with his herte blood, that they so unkindely, agayns his gentilesse. quyten him so vileinsly, to slaughtre of hir owene soules. / O gode god, ye (So) wommen that been of so greet beautee, remembreth yow of the proverbe of Salomon, that seith : / 'he lykneth a 155 fair womman, that is a fool of hir body, lyk to a ring of gold that were in the groyn of a sowe.' / For right as a sowe wroteth in everich ordure, so wroteth

she hir beautee in the stinkinge ordure of sinne. /

§ 10. The thridde cause that oghte moeve a man to Contricion, is drede of the day of dome, and of the horrible peynes of helle. / For as seint Jerome seith: 'at every tyme that me remembreth of the day of dome, I quake; / for whan I ete or drinke, or what-so that I do, evere semeth me that the trompe

- 160 sowneth in myn ere:/ riseth up, ye that been dede, and cometh to the jugement.'/ O gode god, muchel oghte a man to drede swich a jugement, 'ther-as we shullen been alle,' as seint Poul seith, 'biforn the sete of oure lord Jesu Crist'; / wher-as he shal make a general congregacion, wher-as no man may been absent. / For certes, there availleth noon essoyne ne
- (90) excusacion. / And nat only that oure defautes shullen be juged, but eek that
- 165 alle oure werkes shullen openly be knowe./ And as seith Seint Bernard : 'ther ne shal no pledinge availle, ne no sleighte ; we shullen yeven rekeninge of everich ydel word.'/ Ther shul we han a juge that may not been deceived ne corrupt. And why? For, certes, alle our thoghtes been discovered as to him; ne for preyere ne for mede he shal nat been corrupt. / And therfore seith Salomon : 'the wratthe of god ne wol nat spare no wight, for preyere ne for yifte'; and therfore, at the day of doom, ther nis noon hope to escape. / Wherfore, as seith Seint Anselm: 'ful greet angwissh shul the sinful folk have at that tyme; / ther shal the sterne and wrothe juge sitte above, and under him the horrible put of helle open to destroyen him that moot biknowen hise sinnes, whiche sinnes openly been shewed biforn god and bi-
- 370 forn every creature, / And on the left syde, mo develes than herte may bithinke, for to harie and drawe the sinful soulds to the pyme of helle. / And with-inne the hertes of folk shal be the bytinge conscience, and with-oute-forth shal be the world al brenninge. / Whider shal thanne the wreeched sinful man flee to hyden him? Certes, he may nat hyden him; he moste come forth and shewen him.'/ For certes, as seith seint Jerome: 'the erthe shal casten him out of him, and the see also; and the eyr also, that shal be ful of thonder-clappes and lightninges.' / Now sothly, who-so wel re- ( membreth him of thise thinges, I gesse that his sinne shal nat turne him in-to delyt, but to greet sorwe, for drede of the peyne of helle. / And therfore seith Job to god : 'suffre, lord, that I may a whyle biwaille and wepe, er I go with-oute returning to the derke lond, covered with the derknesse of deeth ; / to the lond of misese and of derknesse, where-as is the shadwe of deeth ; where-as ther is noon ordre or ordinance, but grisly drede that evere shal laste.' / Lo, here may ye seen that Job preyde respyt a whyle, to biwepe and waille his trespas; for soothly oon day of respyt is bettre than al the tresor of the world. / And for-as-muche as a man may acquiten him-self biforn god by penitence in this world, and nat by tresor, therfore sholde he preye to god to yeve him respyt a whyle, to biwepe and biwaillen his trespas. / For certes, al the sorwe that a man mighte make fro the beginning of the world, nis but a litel thing at regard of the sorwe of helle. / The cause why that Job clepeth 1 helle 'the lond of derknesse'; / understondeth that he clepeth it 'londe' or erthe, for it is stable, and nevere shal faille; 'derk,' for he that is in helle hath defaute of light material. / For certes, the derke light, that shal come out of the fyr that evere shal brenne, shal turne him al to peyne that is in helle; for it sheweth him to the horrible develes that him tormenten. / 'Covered with the derknesse of deeth': that is to seyn, that he that is in helle shal have defaute of the sighte of god; for certes, the sighte of god is the lyf perdurable. / 'The ( derknesse of deeth' been the sinnes that the wrecched man hath doon, whiche that destourben him to see the face of god ; right as doth a derk cloude bitwixe us and the sonne. / 'Lond of misese': / 1 by-cause that ther been three maneres

T. § 10.

T. § 10.]

of defautes, agayn three thinges that folk of this world han in this present lyf, that is to seyn, honours, delyces, and richesses. / Agayns honour, have they in helle shame and confusion. / For wel ye woot that men clepen 'honour' the reverence that man doth to man; but in helle is noon honour ne reverence. For certes, na-more reverence shal be doon there to a king than to a knave. / For which god seith by the prophete Jeremye: ' thilke folk that me despysen shul been in despyt.' / 'Honour' is eek cleped greet lordshipe; ther shal no man serven other but of harm and torment. 'Honour' is eek cleped greet dignitee and heighnesse : but in helle shul they been al 90 fortroden of develes. / And god seith: 'the horrible develes shulle goon and comen up-on the hevedes of the dampned folk.' And this is for-as-muche as, the hyer that they were in this present lyf, the more shulle they been abated and defouled in helle. / Agayns the richesses of this world, shul they han misese of poverte; and this poverte shal been in foure thinges : / in defaute of tresor, of which that David seith ; 'the riche folk, that embraceden and oneden al hir herte to tresor of this world, shul slepe in the slepinge of deeth; and no-thing ne shul they finden in hir handes of al hir tresor.' / And more-over, the miseise of helle shal been in defaute of mete and 20) drinke. / For god seith thus by Moyses;

'they shul been wasted with hunger, and the briddes of helle shul devouren hem with bitter deeth, and the galle of the dragon shal been hir drinke, and the 105 venim of the dragon hir morsels.'/ And

55 venim of the dragon hir morees. / And forther-over, hir miseise shal been in defaute of clothing: for they shulle be naked in body as of clothing, save the fyr in which they brenne and othere filthes; / and naked shul they been of soule, of alle manere vertues, which that is the clothing of the soule. Where been thanne the gave robes and the softe shetes and the smale shertes? / Lo, what soith god of hem by the prophete Isaye: 'that under hem shu been strawed motthes, and hir covertures shulle been of wormes of helle.' / And forther-over, hir miseise shal been in defaute of freendes; for he nis nat povre that hath goode freendes, but there is no freend; / for neither god ne no creature shal been freend to hem, and everich of hem shal haten other with deedly hate. / 'The sones and the 200 doghtren shullen rebellen agavns fader and mooder, and kinrede agavns kinrede. and chyden and despysen everich of hem other,' bothe day and night, as god seith by the prophete Michias. / And the lovinge children, that whylom loveden so fleshly everich other, wolden everich of hem eten other if they mighte. / For how sholden they love hem togidre in the peyne of helle, whan they hated ech of hem other in the prosperitee of this lyf? / For truste wel, hir fleshly love was deedly hate; as seith the prophete David: 'whoso that loveth wikkednesse he hateth his soule.' / And who-so hateth his owene (130) soule, certes, he may love noon other wight in no manere. / And therefore, 205 in helle is no solas ne no frendshipe, but evere the more fleshly kinredes that been in helle, the more cursinges, the more chydinges, and the more deedly hate ther is among hem. / And forther-over, they shul have defaute of alle manere delvces : for certes, delyces been after the appetytes of the fyve wittes, as sighte, heringe, smellinge, savoringe, and touchinge. / But in helle hir sighte shal be ful of derknesse and of smoke, and therfore ful of teres; and hir heringe, ful of waymentinge and of grintinge of teeth, as seith Jesu Crist; / hir nosethirles shullen be ful of stinkinge stink. And as seith Isave the prophete: 'hir savoring shall be ful of bitter galle.' / And touchinge of al hir body, y-covered with 'fyr that nevere shal quenche, and with wormes that nevere shul dyen,' as god seith by the mouth of Isaye. / And for-as-muche 210 as they shul nat wene that they may dyen for peyne, and by hir deeth flee fro peyne, that may they understonden by the word of Job, that seith : 'ther-as is the shadwe of deeth.' / Certes, a shadwe hath the lyknesse of the thing of which it is shadwe, but shadwe is nat the same thing of which it is shadwe. / Right so fareth the peyne of helle; it is lyk deeth for the horrible anguissh, and why? For it peyneth hem evere, as though they sholde dye anon; but certes they shal nat dye. / For as seith Seint Gregorie: 'to wrecche caytives shal be deeth with-oute deeth, and ende withouten ende, and defaute with-oute fail-

- (140) inge. / For hir deeth shal alwey liven, and hir ende shal everemo biginne, and
  - 215 hir defaute shal nat faille.' / And therfore seith Seint John the Evangelist: 'they shullen folwe deeth, and they shul nat finde him; and they shul desyren to dye, and deeth shal flee fro hem.' / And eek Job seith: that 'in helle is noon ordre of rule.' / And al-be-it so that god hath creat alle thinges in right ordre, and no-thing with-outen ordre, but alle thinges been ordeyned and nombred; yet nathelees they that been dampned been no-thing in ordre, ne holden noon ordre. / For the erthe ne shal bere hem no fruit. / For, as the prophete David seith : 'god shal destroye the fruit of the erthe as fro hem'; ne water ne shal yeve hem no moisture ; ne
  - 220 the eyr no refresshing, ne fyr no light. / For as seith seint Basilie: 'the brenninge of the fyr of this world shal god yeven in helle to hem that been dampned; / but the light and the cleernesse shal be yeven in hevene to hise children'; right as the gode man yeveth flesh to hise children. and bones to his houndes. / And for they shullen have noon hope to escape, seith seint Job atte laste: that 'ther shal horrour and grisly drede dwellen with-outen ende.' / Horrour is alwey drede of harm that is to come, and this drede shal evere dwelle in the hertes of hem that been dampned. And therefore han they lorn al hir hope, for sevene
- (150) causes. / First, for god that is hir juge shal be with-outen mercy to hem; ne they may nat plese him, ne noon of hise halwes; ne they ne may yeve no-thing 225 for hir raunson; / ne they have no vois

to speke to him; ne they may nat flee fro peyne; ne they have no goodnesse in hem, that they mowe shewe to delivere hem fro peyne. / And therfore seith Salomon: 'the wikked man dyeth; and whan he is deed, he shal have noon hope to escape fro peyne.' / Who-so thanne wolde wel understande these peynes, and bithinke him weel that he hath deserved thilke peynes for his sinnes, certes, he sholde have more talent to syken and to wepe than for to singen and to pleye. / For as that seith Salomon: 'who-so that hadde the science to knowe the pevnes that been establissed and ordevned for sinne, he wolde make sorwe.' / 'Thilke science,' as seith seint Augustin, ' maketh a man to wavmenten in his herte.'/ 23

§ 11. The fourthe point, that oghte maken a man to have contricion, is the sorweful remembrance of the good that he hath left to doon here in erthe; and eek the good that he hath lorn. / Soothly, the gode werkes that he hath left, outher they been the gode werkes that he wroghte er he fel in-to deedly sinne, or elles the gode werkes that he wroghte while he lay in sinne. / Soothly, the gode werkes, that he dide biforn that he fil in sinne, been al mortified and astoned and dulled by the ofte sinning. / The othere gode werkes, that he wroghte whyl he lay in deedly sinne, they been outrely dede as to the lyf perdurable in hevene. / Thanne thilke gode werkes (10 that been mortified by ofte sinning, whiche gode werkes he dide whyl he was in charitee, ne mowe nevere quiken agayn with-outen verray penitence. / And ther- 23 of seith god, by the mouth of Ezechiel: that, 'if the rightful man returne agayn from his rightwisnesse and werke wikkednesse, shal he live ?' / Nay; for alle the gode werkes that he hath wroght ne shul nevere been in remembrance ; for he shal dyen in his sinne. / And up-on thilke chapitre seith seint Gregorie thus : 'that we shulle understonde this principally; / that whan we doon deedly sinne, it is for noght thanne to rehercen or drawen in-to memorie the gode werkes that we

han wroght biforn.' / For certes, in the werkinge of the deedly sinne, ther is no trust to no good werk that we han doon biforn ; that is to seyn, as for to have 2.10 therby the lyf perdurable in hevene. / But nathelees, the gode werkes quiken agayn, and comen agayn, and helpen, and availlen to have the lyf perdurable in hevene, whan we han contricion. / But soothly, the gode werkes that men doon whyl they been in deedly sinne, for-as-muche as they were doon in deedly sinne, they may nevere quiken agayn. / For certes, thing that nevere hadde lyf may nevere quikene; and nathelees, albe-it that they ne availle noght to han the lyf perdurable, yet availlen they to abregge of the peyne of helle, or elles to geten temporal richesse, / or elles that god wole the rather enlumine and lightne the herte of the sinful man to have (70) repentance; / and eek they availlen for to usen a man to doon gode werkes, that the feend have the lasse power of his 245 soule. / And thus the curteis lord Jesu Crist wole that no good werk be lost; for in somwhat it shal availle. / But for-as-muche as the gode werkes that men doon whyl they been in good lyf, been al mortified by sinne folwinge; and eek, sith that alle the gode werkes that men doon whyl they been in deedly synne, been outrely dede as for to have the lyf perdurable; / wel may that man, that no good werke ne dooth, singe thilke newe Frenshe song : 'Jay tout perdu mon temps et mon labour.' / For certes, sinne bireveth a man bothe goodnesse of nature and eek the goodnesse of grace. / For soothly, the grace of the holy goost fareth lyk fyr, that may nat been ydel; for fyr faileth anoon as it forleteth his wirkinge, and right so grace fayleth 250 anoon as it forleteth his werkinge. / Than leseth the sinful man the goodnesse of glorie, that only is bilight to gode men that labouren and werken. / Wel may he be sory thanne, that oweth al his lif to god as longe as he shall live, that no goodnesse ne hath to paye with his dette to god, to whom he oweth al his lyf. / For trust wel, 'he shal-yeven acountes,' as seith seint Bernard, 'of alle the godes that han be yeven him in this present lyf, and how he hath hem despended; / in so muche that ther shal nat perisse an heer of his heed, ne a moment of an houre ne shal net perisse of his tyme, that he ne shal yeve of it a rekening.' / (180)

§ 12. The fifthe thing that oghte moeve a man to contricion, is remembrance of the passion that oure lord Jesu Crist suffred for oure sinnes. / For, as seith 255 seint Bernard : 'whyl that I live. I shal have remembrance of the travailles that oure lord Crist suffred in preching ; / his werinesse in travailling, hise temptacions whan he fasted, hise longe wakinges whan he preyde, hise teres whan that he weep for pitee of good peple; / the wo and the shame and the filthe that men seyden to him ; of the foule spitting that men spitte in his face, of the buffettes that men yaven him, of the foule mowes, and of the repreves that men to him seyden ; / of the nayles with whiche he was nailed to the crovs, and of al the remenant of his passion that he suffred for my sinnes, and no-thing for his gilt.' / And ye shul understonde, that in mannes sinne is every manere of ordre or ordinance turned up-so-doun. / 260 For it is sooth, that god, and reson, and sensualitee, and the body of man been so ordeyned, that everich of thise foure thinges sholde have lordshipe over that other; / as thus: god sholde have lordshipe over reson, and reson over sensualitee, and sensualitee over the body of man. / But sothly, whan man sinneth, al this ordre or ordinance is turned up-so-doun. / And therfore thanne, foras-muche as the reson of man ne wol nat be subget ne obeisant to god, that is his lord by right, therfore leseth it the lordshipe that it sholde have over sensualitee, and eek over the body of man. / And (190) why? For sensualitee rebelleth thanne agayns reson; and by that wey leseth reson the lordshipe over sensualitee and over the body. / For right as reson is 265

rebel to god, right so is bothe sensualitee rebel to reson and the body also. / And certes, this disordinance and this rebellion oure lord Jesu Crist aboghte up-on his precious body ful dere, and herkneth in which wyse. / For-as-muche thanne as reson is rebel to god, therfore is man worthy to have sorwe and to be deed. / This suffred oure lord Jesu Crist for man, after that he hadde be bitraysed of his disciple, and distreyned and bounde, 'so that his blood brast out at every nail of hise handes,' as seith seint Augustin. / And forther-over, for-asmuchel as reson of man ne wol nat daunte sensualitee whan it may, therfore is man worthy to have shame; and this suffred oure lord Jesu Crist for man,

- 270 whan they spetten in his visage. / And forther-over, for-as-muchel thanne as the caitif body of man is rebel bothe to reson and to sensualitee, therfore is it worthy the deeth. / And this suffred oure lord Jesu Crist for man up-on the croys, where-as ther was no part of his body free, with-outen greet peyne and bitter passion. / And al this suffred Jesu Crist, that nevere forfeted. And therfore resonably may be seyd of Jesu in this manere: 'to muchel am I peyned for the thinges that I nevere deserved, and to muche defouled for shendshipe that man is worthy to have.' / And therfore may the sinful man wel seve, as seith seint Bernard : 'acursed be the bitternesse of my sinne, for which ther moste
- (200) be suffred so muchel bitternesse.' / For certes, after the diverse discordances of oure wikkednesses, was the passion of

275 Jesu Crist ordeyned in diverse thinges, / as thus. Certes, sinful mannes soule is bitraysed of the devel by coveities of temporel prosperitee, and scorned by deceite whan he cheseth fleshly delyces; and yet is it tormented by inpacience of adversitee, and bispet by servage and subjection of sinne; and atte laste it is clayn fynally. / For this disordinaunce of sinful man was Jesu Crist first bitraysed, and after that was he bounde, that cam for to unbynden us of sinne and peyne. / Thanne was he biscorned, that only sholde han been honoured in alle thinges and of alle thinges. / Thanne was his visage, that oghte be desired to be seyn of al man-kinde, in which visage aungels desyren to looke, vileynsly bispet. / Thanne was he scourged that no-thing hadde agilt; and fynally, thanne was he crucified and slayn. / Thanne 280 was acompliced the word of Isaye: 'he was wounded for oure misdedes, and defouled for oure felonies.' / Now sith that Jesu Crist took up-on him-self the peyne of alle oure wikkednesses, muchel oghte sinful man wepen and biwayle, that for hise sinnes goddes sone of hevene sholde al this peyne endure. /

§ 13. The sixte thing that oghte moeve a man to contricion, is the hope of three thynges: that is to seyn, forvifnesse of sinne, and the yifte of grace wel for to do, and the glorie of hevene, with which god shal guerdone a man for hise gode dedes. / And for-as-muche as Jesu Crist yeveth us thise yiftes of his largesse and of his sovereyn bountee, therfore is he cleped Jesus Nazarenus rex Judeorum. / (21 Jesus is to seyn 'saveour' or 'salvacion,' on whom men shul hope to have foryifnesse of sinnes, which that is proprely salvacion of sinnes. / And therfore seyde 28 the aungel to Joseph : 'thou shalt clepen his name Jesus, that shal saven his peple of hir sinnes.' / And heer-of seith seint Peter: 'ther is noon other name under hevene that is yeve to any man, by which a man may be saved, but only Jesus.' / Nazarenus is as muche for to seve as 'florisshinge,' in which a man shal hope, that he that yeveth him remission of sinnes shal yeve him eek grace wel for to do. For in the flour is hope of fruit in tyme cominge; and in foryifnesse of sinnes hope of grace wel for to do. / 'I was atte dore of thyn herte,' seith Jesus, 'and cleped for to entre; he that openeth to me shal have foryifnesse of sinne. / I wol entre in-to him by my grace, and soupe with him,' by the goode werkes that he shal doon ; whiche werkes been the foode of god; 'and he shal

682

soupe with me,' by the grete joye that 200 I shal yeven him. / Thus shal man hope, for hise werkes of penaunce, that god shall yeven him his regne; as he bihoteth him in the gospel. /

§ 14. Now shal a man understonde, in which manere shal been his contricion. I seye, that it shal been universal and total; this is to seyn, a man shal be verray repentant for alle hise sinnes that he hath doon in delyt of his thoght; for delyt is ful perilous. / For ther been two manere of consentinges; that oon of hem is cleped consentinge of affeccion, whan a man is moeved to do sinne, and delyteth him longe for to thinke on that sinne; / and his reson aperceyveth it wel, that it is sinne agayns the lawe of god, and yet his reson refreyneth nat his foul delyt or talent, though he see wel apertly that it is agayns the reverence of god; al-though his reson ne consente

(20) noght to doon that sinne in dede, / yet seyn somme doctours that swich delyt that dwelleth longe, it is ful perilous, 295 al beit nevere so lite. / And also a man

sholde sorwe, namely, for al that evere he hath desired agayn the lawe of god with perfit consentinge of his reson; for ther-of is no doute, that it is deedly sinne in consentinge. / For certes, ther is no deedly sinne, that it nas first in mannes thought, and after that in his delyt; and so forth in-to consentinge and in-to dede. / Wherfore I seye, that many men ne repenten hem nevere of swiche thoghtes and delytes, ne nevere shryven hem of it, but only of the dede of grete sinnes outward. / Wherfore I seye, that swiche wikked delytes and wikked thoghtes been subtile bigyleres of hem that shullen be dampned. / More-over, man oghte to sorwe for hise wikkede wordes as wel as for hise wikkede dedes; for certes, the repentance of a singuler sinne, and nat repente of alle hise othere sinnes, or elles repenten him of alle hise othere sinnes, and nat of a singuler sinne, may nat 300 availle. / For certes, god almighty is al good; and ther-fore he foryeveth al, or elles right noght. / And heer-of seith seint Augustin : 'I woot certeinly / that god is enemy to everich sinnere'; and how thanne? He that observeth o sinne. shal he have foryifnesse of the remenaunt of hise othere sinnes? Nay. / And forther-over, contricion sholde be wonder sorweful and anguissous, and therfore yeveth him god pleynly his mercy; and therfore, whan my soule was anguissous with-inne me, I hadde remembrance of god that my prevere mighte come to him. / Forther-over, (230) contricion moste be continuel, and that man have stedefast purpos to shryven him, and for to amenden him of his lyf. / 305 For soothly, whyl contricion lasteth, man may evere have hope of foryifnesse ; and of this comth hate of sinne, that destroyeth sinne bothe in himself, and eek in other folk, at his power. / For which seith David : 'ye that loven god hateth wikkednesse.' For trusteth wel, to love god is for to love that he loveth, and hate that he hateth. /

§ 15. The laste thing that man shal understonde in contricion is this; wherof avayleth contricion. I seve, that som tyme contricion delivereth a man fro sinne; / of which that David seith : 'I seye,' quod David, that is to seyn, 'I purposed fermely to shryve me; and thow, Lord, relesedest my sinne.' / And right so as contricion availleth noght, with-outen sad purpos of shrifte, if man have oportunitee, right so litel worth is shrifte or satisfaccion with-outen contricion. / And more-over, contricion 310 destroyeth the prison of helle, and maketh wayk and feble alle the strengthes of the develes, and restoreth the yiftes of the holy goost and of alle gode vertues ;/ and it clenseth the soule of sinne, and delivereth the soule fro the peyne of helle, and fro the companye of the devel, and fro the servage of sinne, and restoreth it to alle godes espirituels, and to the companye and communion of holv chirche. / And forther-over, it maketh him that whylom was sone of ire to be sone of grace; and alle thise thinges been preved by holy writ. / And therfore, he that wolde sette his entente to thise thinges, he were ful wys; for soothly, he ne sholde nat thanne in a l his lyf have corage to sinne, but yeven his body and al his herte to the service of Jesu Crist, (240) and ther-of doon him hommage. / For soothly, oure swete lord Jesu Crist hath spared us so debonairly in our folies, that if he ne hadde pitee of mannes soule, 315 a sory song we mighten alle singe./

Explicit prima pars Penitentie; et sequitur secunda pars eiusdem.

§ 16. The seconde partie of Penitence is Confession, that is signe of contricion. / Now shul ye understonde what is Confession, and whether it oghte nedes be doon or noon, and whiche thinges been covenable to verray Confession. /

§ 17. First shaltow understonde that Confession is verray shewinge of sinnes to the preest; / this is to seyn 'verray,' for he moste confessen him of alle the condiciouns that bilongen to his sinne, as ferforth as he can. / Al moot be sevd, and no thing excused ne hid ne forwrapped, and noght avaunte him of his 30 gode werkes. / And forther over, it is since springen, and how they encresen, and which they been. /

§ 18. Of the springinge of sinnes seith seint Paul in this wise: that 'right as by a man sinne entred first in-to this world, and thurgh that sinne deeth, right so thilke deeth entred in-to alle men that sinneden'/ And this man was Adam, by whom sinne entred in-to this world whan he brak the comaundement of god. / And therfore, he that first was so mighty that he sholde not have dyed, bicam swich oon that he most nedes dye, whether he wolde or noon; and all his progenie in this world that in thilke man

- (250) sinneden. / Loke that in th'estaat of innocence, when Adam and Eve naked weren in paradys, and no-thing ne hadden
  - 325 shame of hir nakednesse, / how that the serpent, that was most wyly of alle othere bestes that god hadde maked, seyde to the womman : 'why comaunded god to yow, ye sholde nat eten of every tree in paradys?' / The womman answerde: 'of the fruit,' quod she, 'of the trees in paradys we feden us; but soothly, of the fruit of the tree that is in the middel of paradys, god forbad us for to ete, ne nat touchen it. lest per-aventure we should dyen.' / The serpent seyde to the womman: 'nay, nay, ye shul nat dyen of deeth ; for sothe, god woot, that what day that ye eten ther-of, youre eyen shul opene, and ye shul been as goddes, knowinge good and harm. '/ The womman thanne saugh that the tree was good to feding, and fair to the eyen, and delytable to the sighte; she tok of the fruit of the tree, and eet it, and yaf to hir housbonde, and he eet; and anoon the eyen of hem bothe openeden. / And whan that they knewe that they were naked, they sowed of fige-leves a manere of breches to hiden hir membres. / There 330 may ye seen that deedly sinne hath first suggestion of the feend, as sheweth here by the naddre; and afterward, the delvt of the flesh, as sheweth here by Eve; and after that, the consentinge of resoun, as sheweth here by Adam. / For trust wel, thogh so were that the feend tempted Eve, that is to seyn the flesh, and the flesh hadde delyt in the beautee of the fruit defended, vet certes, til that resoun, that is to sevn, Adam, consented to the etinge of the fruit, yet stood he in th'estaat of innocence. / Of thilke Adam toke we thilke sinne original; for of him fleshly descended be we alle, and engendred of vile and corrupt matere. / And whan the soule is put in our body, right anon is contract original sinne; and that, that was erst but only peyne of concupiscence, is afterward bothe peyne and sinne, / (26 And therfore be we alle born sones of wratthe and of dampnacion perdurable, if it nere baptesme that we receyven, which binimeth us the culpe; but for sothe, the peyne dwelleth with us, as to temptacion, which peyne highte concupiscence. / 33 Whan it is wrongfully disposed or ordeyned in man. it maketh him coveite, by coveitise of flesh, fleshly sinne, by sighte of hise eyen as to erthely thinges, and coveitise of hynesso by pryde of herte, /

§ 19. Now as for to speken of the firste coveitise, that is, concupiscence after the lawe of oure membres, that weren lawefulliche y-maked and by rightful jugement of god; / I seye, for-as-muche as man is nat obeisaunt to god, that is his lord, therfore is the flesh to him disobeisaunt thurgh concupiscence, which yet is cleped norissinge of sinne and occasion of sinne. / Therfore, al the whyle that a man hath in him the peyne of concupiscence, it is impossible but he be tempted somtyme, and moeved in his flesh to sinne. / And this thing may nat faille as longe as he liveth; it may wel wexe feble and faille, by vertu of baptesme and by the grace of god thurgh peni-340 tence; / but fully ne shal it nevere quenche, that he ne shal som tyme be moeved in him-self, but-if he were al refreyded by siknesse, or by malefice of sorcerie or colde drinkes. / For lo, what seith seint Paul: 'the flesh coveiteth agayn the spirit, and the spirit agayn the flesh; they been so contrarie and so stryven, that a man may nat alwey doon as he wolde.' / The same seint Paul, after his grete penaunce in water and in lond (in water by night and by day, in greet peril and in greet peyne, in lond, in famine, in thurst, in cold and clothlees, and ones stoned almost to the deeth) / yet seyde he: 'allas! I, caytif man, who shal delivere me fro the 270) prisoun of my caytif body?' / And seint Jerome, whan he longe tyme hadde woned in desert, where-as he hadde no companye but of wilde bestes, where-as he ne hadde no mete but herbes and water to his drinke, ne no bed but the naked erthe, for which his flesh was blak as an Ethiopen for hete and ny destroyed for 345 cold, / yet seyde he: that 'the brenninge of lecherie boiled in al his body.'/ Wherfore I woot wel sikerly, that they been deceyved that seyn, that they ne be nat tempted in hir body. / Witnesse on Seint Jame the Apostel, that seith: that 'very wight is tempted in his owen concupiscence;' that is to seyn, that everich of us hath matere and occasion to be tempted of the norissinge of sinne that is in his body. / And therfore seith Seint John the Evangelist: 'if that we seyn that we beth with-oute sinne, we deceyve us-selve, and trouthe is nat in us.'/

§ 20. Now shal ye understonde in what manere that sinne wexeth or encreseth in man. The firste thing is thilke norissinge of sinne, of which I spak biforn. thilke fleshly concupiscence. / And after 350 that comth the subjeccion of the devel, this is to seyn, the develes bely, with which he bloweth in man the fyr of fleshly concupiscence. / And after that, a man bithinketh him whether he wol doon, or no, thilke thing to which he is tempted. / And thanne, if that a man withstonde and weyve the firste entysinge of his flesh and of the feend, thanne is it no sinne; and if it so be that he do nat so, thanne feleth he anon a flambe of delyt. / And thanne is it good to be war, and kepen him wel, or elles he wol falle anon in-to consentinge of sinne; and thanne wol he do it, if he may have tyme and place. / And of this matere (280) seith Moyses by the devel in this manere : 'the feend seith, I wole chace and pursue the man by wikked suggestion, and I wole hente him by moevynge or stiringe of sinne. I wol departe my pryse or my praye by deliberacion, and my lust shal been accompliced in delyt; I wol drawe my swerd in consentinge :' / for certes, 355 right as a swerd departeth a thing in two peces, right so consentinge departeth god fro man: 'and thanne wol I sleen him with myn hand in dede of sinne'; thus seith the feend. / For certes, thanne is a man al deed in soule. And thus is sinne accompliced by temptacion, by delyt, and by consentinge; and thanne is the sin cleped actuel. /

§ 21. For sothe, sinne is in two maneres; outher it is venial, or deedly sinne. Soothly, whan man loveth any creatours more than Jesu Crist oure creatour, thanne is it deedly sinne. And venial synne is it, if man love Jesu Crist lasse than him oghte. / For sothe, the dede of this venial sinne is ful perilous; for it amenusath the love that men sholde han to god more and more. / And therfore, if a man charge him-self with manye swiche venial sinnes, certes, but-if so be that he som tyme descharge him of hem by shrifte, they mowe ful lightly amenuse in him al the love that he hath

360 to Jesu Crist; / and in this wise skippeth venial in-to deedly sinne. For certes, the more that a man chargeth his soule with venial sinnes, the more is he enclyned to fallen in-to deedly sinne. / And therfore, lat us nat be necligent to deschargen us of venial sinnes. For the proverbe seith : that manye smale maken a greet. / And herkne this ensample. A greet wawe of the see comth som-tyme with so greet a violence that it drencheth the ship. And the same harm doth som-tyme the smale dropes of water, that entren thurgh a litel crevace in-to the thurrok, and in-to the botme of the ship, if men be so necligent that they ne descharge hem nat by tyme. / And therfore, althogh ther be a difference bitwixe thise two causes of drenchinge, algates the

(290) ship is dreynt. / Right so fareth it somtyme of déedly sinne, and of anoyouse veniale sinnes, whan they multiplye in a man so greetly, that thilke worldly thinges that he loveth, thurgh whiche he sinneth venially, is as greet in his herte 365 as the love of god, or more. / And therfore, the love of every thing, that is nat biset in god ne doon principally for goddes sake, al-though that a man love it lasse than god, yet is it venial sinne; / and deedly sinne, whan the love of any thing weyeth in the herte of man as muchel as the love of god, or more. / 'Deedly sinne,' as seith seint Augustin, 'is, whan a man turneth his herte fro god, which that is verray sovereyn bountee, that may nat chaunge, and yeveth his herte to thing that may chaunge and filtte'; / and certes, that is every thing, save god of hevene. For sooth is, that if a man yeve his love, the which that he overtal 16 to god with al his herte, un-to a creature, certes, as muche of his love as he yevesth to thilke creature, so muche he bireveth fro god; / and therfore doth he sinne. For he, that is dettour to god, ne yeldeth nat to god al his dette, that is to seyn, al the love of his herte. /

§ 22. Now sith man understondeth generally, which is venial sinne, thanne is it covenable to tellen specially of sinnes whiche that many a man per-aventure ne demeth hem nat sinnes, and ne shryveth him nat of the same thinges; and yet nathelees they been sinnes. / Soothly, as thise clerkes wryten, this is to seyn, that at every tyme that a man eteth or drinketh more than suffyseth to the sustenaunce of his body, in certein he dooth sinne. / And eek whan he speketh more than nedeth, it is sinne. Eke whan he herkneth nat benignely the compleint of the povre. / Eke whan he is in hele of body and wol nat faste, whan othere folk faste, with-outen cause resonable. Eke whan he slepeth more than nedeth, or whan he comth by thilke enchesoun to late to chirche, or to othere werkes of charite. / Eke whan he useth his wyf, (30 with-outen sovereyn desyr of engendrure, to the honour of god, or for the entente to yelde to his wyf the dette of his body. / 37 Eke whan he wol nat visite the sike and the prisoner, if he may. Eke if he love wyf or child, or other worldly thing, more than resoun requyreth. Eke if he flatere or blandishe more than him oghte for any necessitee. / Eke if he amenuse or withdrawe the almesse of the povre. Eke if he apparailleth his mete more deliciously than nede is, or ete it to hastily by likerousnesse. / Eke if he tale vanitees at chirche or at goddes service, or that he be a talker of ydel wordes of folye or of vileinye; for he shal yelden acountes of it at the day of dome. / Eke whan he biheteth or assureth to do thinges that he may nat perfourne. Eke whan that he, by lightnesse or folie, misseyeth or scorneth his neighebore. / Eke whan he hath any wikked suspecion of thing, 380 ther he ne woot of it no soothfastnesse. / Thise thinges and mo with-oute nombre been sinnes, as seith seint Augustin. /

T. § 22.

Now shal men understonde, that al-beit so that noon erthely man may eschue alle venial sinnes, yet may he refreyne him by the brenninge love that he hath to oure lord Jesu Crist, and by preyeres and confession and othere gode werkes, so that it shal but litel greve. / For, as seith seint Augustin : 'if a man love god in swiche manere, that al that evere he doth is in the love of god, and for the love of god vertaily, for he brenneth in the love of god : / loke, how muche that a drope of water that falleth in a fourneys ful of fyr anoyeth. or greveth, so muche anoyeth a venial sinne un-to a man that (310) is parfit in the love of Jesu Crist.' / Men may also refreyne venial sinne by receyvinge worthily of the precious body 385 of Jesu Crist; / by receyving eek of holy water; by almesdede; by general confession of Confiteor at masse and at complin; and by blessinge of bisshopes and of preestes, and by othere gode werkes. /

Sequitur de Septem Peccatis Mortalibus et corum dependenciis circumstanciis et speciebus.

$ 23. Now is it bihovely thing to telle whiche been the deedly sinnes, this is to sevn, chieftaines of sinnes; alle they renne in o lees, but in diverse maneres. Now been they cleped chieftaines for-asmuche as they been chief, and †springers of alle othere sinnes. / Of the roote of thise sevene sinnes thanne is Pryde, the general rote of alle harmes; for of this rote springen certein braunches, as Ire, Envye, Accidie or Slewthe, Avarice or Coveitise (to commune understondinge), Glotonye, and Lecherye. / And everich of thise chief sinnes hath hise braunches and hise twigges, as shal be declared in hir chapitres folwinge. /

De Superbia.

§ 24. And thogh so be that no man can outrely telle the nombre of the twigges and of the harmes that cometh of Pryde, yet wol I shewe a partie of hem, as ye shul understonde. / Ther 300 is Inobedience, Avauntinge, Ipocrisie, Despyt, Arrogance, Impudence, Swellinge of herte, Insolence, Elacion, Impacience, Strif, Contumacie, Presumpcion, Irreverence, Pertinacie, Veyne Glorie; and many another twig that I can nat declare. / Inobedient, is he that disobeyeth for despyt to the comandements of god and to hise sovereyns, and to his goostly fader. / Avauntour, is he that bosteth of the harm or of the bountee that he hath doon. / Ipocrite, is he that hydeth to shewe him swiche as he is, and sheweth him swiche as he noght is. / (320) Despitous, is he that hath desdevn of his neighebore, that is to seyn, of his evenecristene, or hath despyt to doon that him oghte to do. / Arrogant, is he that 395 thinketh that he hath thilke bountees in him that he hath noght, or weneth that he sholde have hem by hise desertes; or elles he demeth that he be that he nis nat. / Impudent, is he that for his pride hath no shame of hise sinnes. / Swellinge of herte, is whan a man rejoyseth him of harm that he hath doon. / Insolent, is he that despyseth in his jugement alle othere folk as to regard of his value, and of his conning, and of his speking, and of his bering. / Elacion, is whan he ne may neither suffre to have maister ne felawe. / 400 Impacient, is he that wol nat been ytaught ne undernome of his vyce, and by stryf werreyeth trouthe witingly, and deffendeth his folye. / Contumax, is he that thurgh his indignacion is agayns everich auctoritee or power of hem that been hise sovereyns, / Presumpcion, is whan a man undertaketh an empryse that him oghte nat do, or elles that he may nat do; and that is called Surquidrie. Irreverence, is whan men do nat honour thereas hem oghte to doon, and waiten to be reverenced. / Pertinacie, is whan man deffendeth his folyc, and (330) trusteth to muchel in his owene wit. / Veyne glorie, is for to have pompe and delyt in his temporel hynesse, and

405 glorifie him in this worldly estaat. / Janglinge, is whan men speken to muche biforn folk, and clappen as a mille, and taken no kepe what they seye. /

§ 25. And yet is ther a privee speec of Pryde, that waiteth first to be salewed er he wole salewe, al be he lasse workt than that other is, per-aventuro; and eek he waiteth or desyreth to sitte, or elles to goon above him in the wey, or kisse pax, or been encensed, or goon to offring biforn his neighebore, / and swiche semblable thinges; agayns his duetee, per-aventure, but that he hath his herte and his entente in swich a proud desyr to be magnifyed and honoured biforn the peple. /

§ 26. Now been ther two maneres of Pryde; that oon of hem is with-inne the herte of man, and that other is withoute. / Of whiche soothly thise forseyde thinges, and mo than I have seyd, apertenen to pryde that is in the herte of man; and that othere speces of pryde 410 been with-oute. / But natheles that oon of thise speces of pryde is signe of that other, rightas the gaye leefsel atte taverne is signe of the wyn that is in the celer. / And this is in manye thinges: as in speche and contenaunce, and in outrageous array of clothing; / for certes, if ther ne hadde be no sinne in clothing. Crist wolde nat have noted and spoken of the clothing of thilke riche man in the gospel. / And, as seith Seint Gregorie, that precious clothing is coupable for the derthe of it, and for his softenesse, and for his strangenesse and degysinesse, and for the superfluitee.

(340) or for the inordinat scantnesse of it. / Allas! may men nat seen, as in oure dayes, the sinful costlewe array of clothinge, and namely in to much superfluitee, 415 or elles in to desordinat scantnesse? /

§ 27. As to the firste sinne, that is in superfluitee of clothinge, which that maketh it so dere, to harm of the peple;/ nat only the cost of embroudinge, the degyse endentinge or barringe, oundinge. palinge, windinge, or bendinge, and semblable wast of clooth in vanitee; / but ther is also costlewe furringe in hir gounes, so muche pounsoninge of chisels to maken holes, so muche dagginge of sheres ; / forth-with the superfluitee in lengthe of the forseide gounes, trailinge in the dong and in the myre, on horse and eek on fote, as wel of man as of womman, that al thilke trailing is vertaily as in effect wasted, consumed, thredbare. and roten with donge, rather than it is yeven to the povre; to greet damage of the forseyde povre folk. / And that in sondry wyse : this is to seyn, that the more that clooth is wasted, the more it costeth to the peple for the scantnesse ; / 420 and forther-over, if so be that they wolde yeven swich pounsoned and dagged clothing to the povre folk, it is nat convenient to were for hir estaat, ne suffisant to beto hir necessitee, to kepe hem fro the distemperance of the firmament. / Upon that other syde, to speken of the horriblo disordinat scantnesse of clothing, as been thise cutted sloppes or hainselins, that thurgh hir shortnesse ne covere nat the shameful membres of man, to wikked entente. / Allas ! somme of hem shewen the boce of hir shap, and the horrible swollen membres, that semeth lyk the maladie of hirnia, in the wrappinge of hir hoses; / and eek the buttokes of hem faren as it were the hindre part of a sheape in the fulle of the mone. / And (350 more-over, the wrecched swollen membres that they shewe thurgh the degysinge, in departinge of hir hoses in whyt and reed, semeth that half hir shameful privee membres weren flayn. / And if 425 so be that they departen hire hoses in othere colours, as is whyt and blak, or whyt and blew, or blak and reed, and so forth ; / thanne semeth it, as by variance of colour, that half the partie of hir privee membres were corrupt by the fyr of seint Antony, or by cancre, or by other swich meschaunce. / Of the hindre part of hir buttokes, it is ful horrible for to see. For certes, in that partie of hir body ther-as they purgen hir stinkinge ordure, / that foule partie shewe they to the peple proudly in despyt of honestetee, the which honestetee that Jesu Crist and hise freendes observede to shewen in hir lyve. / Now as of the outrageous array of wommen, god woot, that though the visages of somme of hem seme ful chaast and debonaire, yet notifie they in hir array of atyr likerousnesse and 430 pryde. / I sey nat that honestetee in clothinge of man or womman is uncovenable, but certes the superfluitee or disordinat scantitee of clothinge is reprevable. / Also the sinne of aornement or of apparaille is in thinges that apertenen to rydinge, as in to manye delicat horses that been holden for delyt, that been so faire, fatte, and costlewe; / and also to many a vicious knave that is sustened by cause of hem; in to curious harneys, as in sadeles, in crouperes, peytrels, and brydles covered with precious clothing and riche, barres and plates of gold and of silver. / For which god seith by Zakarie the prophete, 'I wol confounde 360) the ryderes of swiche horses.' / This folk taken litel reward of the rydinge of goddes sone of hevene, and of his harneys whan he rood up-on the asse, and ne hadde noon other harneys but the povre clothes of hise disciples; ne we ne rede 435 nat that evere he rood on other beest. / I speke this for the sinne of superfluitee, and nat for reasonable honestetee, whan reson it requyreth. / And forther, certes pryde is greetly notified in holdinge of greet meinee, whan they be of litel profit or of right no profit. / And namely, whan that meinee is felonous and damageous to the peple, by hardinesse of heigh lordshipe or by wey of offices. / For certes, swiche lordes sellen thanne hir lordshipe to the devel of helle, whanne they sustenen the wikkednesse of hir meince. / Or elles whan this folk of lowe degree, as thilke that holden hostelries, sustenen the thefte of hir hostilers, 440 and that is in many manere of deceites. / Thilke manere of folk been the flyes that folwen the hony, or elles the houndes that folwen the careyne. Swiche forseyde folk stranglen spiritually hir lordshipes; / for which thus seith David the prophete, 'wikked deeth mote come up-on thilke lordshipes, and god yeve that they mote descenden in-to helle al doun ; for in hir houses been iniquitees and shrewednesses,' and nat god of hevene, / And certes, but-if they doon amendement, right as god yaf his benison to +Laban by the service of Jacob, and to +Pharao by the service of Joseph, right so god wol yeve his malison to swiche lordshipes as sustenen the wikkednesse of hir servaunts, but-if they come to amendement. / Pryde of the table appereth eek ful ofte ; for certes, riche men been cleped to festes, and povre folk been put awey and rebuked. / Also in excesse of diverse (370) metes and drinkes; and namely, swiche manere bake metes and dish-metes, brenninge of wilde fyr, and peynted and castelled with papir, and semblable wast; so that it is abusion for to thinke. / And 445 eek in to greet preciousnesse of vessel and curiositee of minstralcie, by whiche a man is stired the more to delyces of luxurie, / if so be that he sette his herte the lasse up-on oure lord Jesu Crist, certein it is a sinne ; and certeinly the delyces mighte been so grete in this caas, that man mighte lightly falle by hem in-to deedly sinne. / The especes that sourden of Pryde, soothly whan they sourden of malice ymagined, avysed, and forncast, or elles of usage, been deedly synnes, it is no doute. / And whan they sourden by freletee unavysed sodeinly, and sodeinly withdrawen ayein, al been they grevouse sinnes, I gesse that they ne been nat deedly. / Now mighte men axe wher-of that Pryde sourdeth and springeth, and I seye : somtyme it springeth of the goodes of nature, and som-tyme of the goodes of fortune, and som-tyme of the goodes of grace. / Certes, 450 the goodes of nature stonden outher in goodes of body or in goodes of soule. / Certes, goodes of body been hele of body. as strengthe, delivernesse, beautee, gentrye, franchise. / Goodes of nature of the soule been good wit, sharp understondynge, subtil engin, vertu naturel, good memorie. / Goodes of fortune been richesses, highe degrees of lordshipes, (380) preisinges of the peple. / Goodes of grace

- been science, power to suffre spirituel travaille, benignitee, vertuous contemplacion, withstondinge of temptacion, 455 and semblable thinges. / Of whiche for-
- sevde goodes, certes it is a ful greet folye a man to pryden him in any of hem alle. / Now as for to speken of goodes of nature, god woot that som-tyme we han hem in nature as muche to oure damage as to oure profit. / As, for to speken of hele of body; certes it passeth ful lightly, and eek it is ful ofte encheson of the siknesse of oure soule ; for god woot, the flesh is a ful greet enemy to the soule : and therfore, the more that the body is hool, the more be we in peril to falle. / Eke for to pryde him in his strengthe of body, it is an heigh folye; for certes, the flesh coveiteth agayn the spirit, and ay the more strong that the flesh is, the sorier may the soule be : / and, over al this, strengthe of body and worldly hardinesse causeth ful ofte many
- 460 a man to peril and meschaunce. / Eek for to pryde him of his gentrye is ful greet folye; for ofte tyme the gentrye of the body binimeth the gentrye of the soule; and eek we ben alle of o fader and of o moder; and alle we been of o nature roten and corrupt, both riche and povre. / For sothe, oo manere gentrye is for to preise, that apparailleth mannes corage with vertues and moralitees, and maketh him Cristes child. / For truste wel, that over what man sinne halt maistrie, he is a verray cherl to sinne. /

§ 28. Now been ther generale signes of gentilesse; as eschewinge of vyce and ribaudye and servage of sinne, in word,

- (390) in werk, and contenance; / and usinge vertu, curteisye, and clennesse, and to be liberal, that is to seyn, large by mesure; for thilke that passeth mesure is folye
  - 465 and sinne. / Another is, to remembre him of bountee that he of other folk hath receyved. / Another is, to be benigne to hise goode subgetis; wherfore, as seith

Senek, 'ther is no-thing more covenable to a man of heigh estaat than debonairetee and pitee. / And therfore thise flyes that men clepeth bees, whan they maken hir king, they chesen oon that hath no prikke wherwith he may stinge.' / Another is, a man to have a noble herte and a diligent, to attayne to heighe vertuouse thinges. / Now certes, a man to pryde him in the goodes of grace is eek an outrageous folye; for thilke yiftes of grace that sholde have turned him to goodnesse and to medicine, turneth him to venim and to confusion, as seith seint Gregorie. / 47 Certes also, who-so prydeth him in the goodes of fortune, he is a ful greet fool; for som-tyme is a man a greet lord by the morwe, that is a caitif and a wrecche er it be night : / and somtyme the richesse of a man is cause of his deeth : somtyme the delyces of a man is cause of the grevous maladye thurgh which he dyeth./ Certes, the commendacion of the peple is somtyme ful fals and ful brotel for to triste; this day they preyse, tomorwe they blame. / God woot, desyr to have commendacion of the peple hath caused deeth to many a bisy man. / (40

§ 29. Now sith that so is, that ye han understonde what is pryde, and whiche been the speces of it, and whennes pride sourdeth and springeth; / now shul ye 47. understonde which is the remedie agayns the sinne of pryde, and that is, humilitee or mekenesse. / That is a vertu, thurgh which a man hath verray knoweleche of him-self, and holdeth of him-self no prys ne deyntee as in regard of hise desertes, consideringe evere his freletee. / Now been ther three maneres of humilitee; as humilitee in herte, and another humilitee in his mouth; the thridde in hise werkes./ The humilitee in herte is in foure maneres : that oon is, whan a man holdeth him-self as noght worth biforn god of hevene. Another is, whan he ne despyseth noon other man. / The thridde is, whan he rekketh nat thogh men holde him noght worth. The ferthe is, whan he nis nat

20 sory of his humiliacion. / Also, the humilitee of mouth is in foure thinges : in attempree speche, and in humblesse of speche, and whan he biknoweth with his owene mouth that he is swich as him thinketh that he is in his herte. Another is, whan he preiseth the bountee of another man, and nothing ther-of amenuseth. / Humilitee eek in werkes is in foure maneres : the firste is, whan he putteth othere men biforn him. The seconde is, to chese the loweste place over-al. The thridde is, gladly to assente to good conseil. / The ferthe is, to stonde gladly to the award of hise sovereyns, or of him that is in hyer degree ; certein, this is a greet werk of humilitee. /

Sequitur de Inuidia.

§ 30. After Pryde wol I speken of the foule sinne of Envye, which is, as by the word of the philosophre, sorwe of other mannes prosperitee; and after the word of seint Augustin, it is sorwe of other mannes wele, and joye of othere mennes 10) harm. / This foule sinne is platly agayns the holy goost. Al-be-it so that every sinne is agayns the holy goost, yet nathelees, for as muche as bountee aperteneth proprely to the holy goost, and Envye comth proprely of malice, therfore it is proprely agayn the bountee of the holy 485 goost. / Now hath malice two speces, that is to seyn, hardnesse of herte in wikkednesse, or elles the flesh of man is so blind, that he considereth nat that he is in sinne, or rekketh nat that he is in sinne; which is the hardnesse of the devel. / That other spece of malice is, whan a man werreyeth trouthe, whan he woot that it is trouthe. And eek, whan he werreyeth the grace that god hath yeve to his neighebore; and al this is by Envye. / Certes, thanne is Envye the worste sinne that is. For soothly, alle othere sinnes been som-tyme only agayns o special vertu; / but certes, Envye is agayns alle vertues and agayns alle goodnesses ; for it is sory of alle the bountees of his neighebore ; and in this manere it is divers from alle othere sinnes. / For wel unnethe is ther any sinne that it ne hath som delyt in itself, save only Envye, that evere hath in itself anguish and sorwe. / The speces of Envye been thise : 490 ther is first, sorwe of other mannes goodnesse and of his prosperitee; and prosperitee is kindely matere of joye; thanne is Envye a sinne agayns kinde. / The seconde spece of Envye is jove of other mannes harm; and that is proprely lyk to the devel, that evere rejoyseth him of mannes harm. / Of thise two speces comth bakbyting ; and this sinne of bakbyting or detraccion hath certeine speces, as thus. Som man preiseth his neighebore by a wikke entente; / for he maketh alwey a wikked knotte atte laste ende. Alwey he maketh a 'but' atte laste ende, that is digne of more blame, than worth is al the preisinge. / The seconde spece (420) is, that if a man be good and dooth or seith a thing to good entente, the bakbyter wol turne all thilke goodnesse up-so-doun to his shrewed entente. / . The thridde 495 is, to amenuse the bountee of his neighebore. / The fourthe spece of bakbyting is this; that if men speke goodnesse of a man, thanne wol the bakbyter seyn, ' parfey, swich a man is yet bet than he ': in dispreisinge of him that men preise, / The fifte spece is this; for to consente gladly and herkne gladly to the harm that men speke of other folk. This sinne is ful greet, and ay encreseth after the wikked entente of the bakbyter. / After bakbyting cometh grucching or murmuracion; and somtyme it springeth of inpacience agayns god, and somtyme agayns man. / Agayns god it is, whan a man gruccheth agayn the peynes of helle, or agayns poverte, or los of catel, or agayn reyn or tempest ; or elles gruccheth that shrewes han prosperitee, or elles for that goode men han adversitee. / 500 And alle thise thinges sholde men suffre paciently, for they comen by the rightful jugement and ordinance of god. / Somtyme comth grucching of avarice; as Judas grucched agayns the Magdaleyne, whan she enoynte the heved of oure lord Jesu Crist with hir precious

The Canterbury Tales.

oynement. / This maner murmure is swich as whan man gruccheth of goodnesse that him-self doth, or that other folk doon of hir owene catel. / Somtyme comth murmure of Pryde; as whan Simon the Pharisee grucched agayn the Magdaleyne, whan she approched to Jesu

- (430) Crist, and weep at his feet for hir sinnes. / And somtyme grucehing sourdeth of Envye; whan men discovereth a mannes harm that was privee, or bereth him on
  - 505 hond thing that is fals. / Murmure eek is ofte amonges servaunts, that grucchen whan hir sovereyns bidden hem doon leveful thinges ; / and, for-as-muche as they dar nat openly withseve the comaundements of hir sovereyns, yet wol they seyn harm, and grucche, and murmure prively for verray despyt; / whiche wordes men clepen the develes Paternoster, though so be that the devel ne hadde nevere Pater-noster, but that lewed folk yeven it swich a name. / Som tyme grucching comth of ire or prive hate, that norisseth rancour in herte, as afterward I shal declare. / Thanne cometh eek bitternesse of herte; thurgh which bitternesse every good dede of his neighe-
- 510 bor semeth to him bitter and unsavory. / Thanne cometh discord, that unbindeth alle manere of frendshipe. Thanne comth scorninge, as whan a man seketh occasioun to anoyen his neighebor, al do he never so weel, / Thanne comth accusinge, as whan man seketh occasion to anoyen his neighebor, which that is lyk to the craft of the devel, that waiteth bothe night and day to accusen us alle, / Thanne comth malignitee, thurgh which a man anoyeth his neighebor prively if he may; / and if he noght may, algate his wikked wil ne shal nat wante, as for to brennen his hous prively, or empoysone or sleen hise bestes, and semblable (440) thinges. /

Remedium contra peccatum Inuidie.

§ 31. Now wol I speke of the remedic agayns this foule sinne of Envyo. First, is the love of god principal, and loving of his neighebor as him-self; for soothly, that oon ne may nat been withoute that other. / And truste wel, that in the 51, name of thy neighebore thou shalt understonde the name of thy brother; for certes alle we have o fader fleshly, and o moder, that is to seyn, Adam and Eve ; and eek o fader espirituel, and that is god of hevene. / Thy neighebore artow holden for to love, and wilne him alle goodnesse ; and therfore seith god, 'love thy neighebore as thyselve,' that is to seyn, to salvacion bothe of lyf and of soule, / And more-over, thou shalt love him in word, and in benigne amonestinge, and chastysinge; and conforten him in hise anoyes, and preye for him with al thyn herte, / And in dede thou shalt love him in swich wyse, that thou shalt doon to him in charitee as thou woldest that it were doon to thyn owene persone. / And therfore, thou ne shalt doon him no damage in wikked word, ne harm in his body, ne in his catel, ne in his soule, by entysing of wikked ensample. / Thou 52 shalt nat desyren his wyf, ne none of hise thinges. Understond eek, that in the name of neighebor is comprehended his enemy. / Certes man shal loven his enemy by the comandement of god ; and soothly thy frend shaltow love in God. / I seve, thyn enemy shaltow love for goddes sake, by his comandement. For if it were reson that a man sholde haten his enemy, for sothe god nolde nat receiven us to his love that been hise enemys. / Agayns three manere of wronges that his enemy dooth to hym, he shal doon three thinges, as thus. / Agayns hate (4 and rancour of herte, he shal love him in Agayns chyding and wikkede herte. wordes, he shal preye for his enemy. And agayn the wikked dede of his enemy, he shal doon him bountee. / For Crist 52 seith, 'loveth youre enemys, and preyeth for hem that speke yow harm; and eek for hem that yow chacen and pursewen, and doth bountee to hem that yow haten.' Lo. thus comaundeth us oure lord Jesu Crist. to do to oure enemys. / For soothly, nature dryveth us to loven oure freendes, and parfey, oure enemys han more nede

T. §§ 32-34.

to love than our freendes; and they that more nede have, certes, to hem shal men doon goodnesse; / and certes, in thilke dede have we remembrance of the love of Jesu Crist, that deyde for hise enemys. / And in-as-muche as thilke love is the more grevous to perfourne, in-so-muche is the more gretter the merite; and therfore the lovinge of oure enemy hath confounded the venim of the devel. / For right as the devel is disconfited by humilitee, right so is he wounded to the deeth 30 by love of oure enemy. / Certes, thanne is love the medicine that casteth out the venim of Envye fro mannes herte. / The speces of this pas shullen be more largely in hir chapitres folwinge declared. /

Seguitur de Ira.

§ 32. After Envye wol I discryven the sinne of Ire. For soothly, who-so hath envye upon his neighebor, anon he wole comunly finde him a matere of wratthe, in word or in dede, agayns him to whom he hath envye. / And as wel comth Ire of Pryde, as of Envye; for soothly, he that is proude or envious is lightly 50) wrooth. /

§ 33. This sinne of Ire, after the discryving of seint Augustin, is wikked wil 535 to been avenged by word or by dede. / Ire, after the philosophre, is the fervent · blood of man y-quiked in his herte, thurgh which he wole harm to him that he hateth./ For certes the herte of man, by eschaufinge and moevinge of his blood, wexeth so trouble, that he is out of alle jugement of resoun. / But ye shal understonde that Ire is in two maneres; that oon of hem is good, and that other is wikked. / The gode Ire is by jalousye of goodnesse, thurgh which a man is wrooth with wikkednesse and agayns wikkednesse; and therfore seith a wys man, that 'Ire is bet than pley.' / This Ire is with debonairetee, and it is wrooth withouten bitternesse; nat wrooth agayns the man, but wrooth with the misdede of the man ; as seith the prophete David, Irascimini et nolite pec-540 care. / Now understondeth, that wikked Ire is in two maneres, that is to seyn, sodeyn Ire or hastif Ire, withouten avisement and consentinge of resoun. / The mening and the sens of this is, that the resoun of man ne consente nat to thilke sodeyn Ire; and thanne it is venial. / Another Ire is ful wikked, that comth of felonye of herte avysed and cast biforn ; with wikked wil to do vengeance, and therto his resoun consenteth; and soothly this is deedly sinne. / This Ire is so displesant to god, that it troubleth his hous and chaceth the holy goost out of mannes soule, and wasteth and destroyeth the lyknesse of god, that is to seyn, the vertu that is in mannes soule; / and put in (470) him the lyknesse of the devel, and binimeth the man fro god that is his rightful lord. / This Ire is a ful greet 545 plesaunce to the devel; for it is the develes fourneys, that is eschaufed with the fyr of helle. / For certes, right so as fyr is more mighty to destroyen erthely thinges than any other element, right so Ire is mighty to destroyen alle spirituel thinges. / Loke how that fyr of smale gledes, that been almost dede under asshen, wollen quike agayn whan they been touched with brimstoon ; right so Ire wol everemo quiken agayn, whan it is touched by the pryde that is covered in mannes herte. / For certes fyr ne may nat comen out of no-thing, but-if it were first in the same thing naturelly ; as fyr is drawen out of flintes with steel. / And right so as pryde is ofte tyme matere of Ire, right so is rancour norice and keper of Ire. / Ther is a maner tree, as seith 550 seint Isidre, that whan men maken fyr of thilke tree, and covere the coles of it with asshen, soothly the fyr of it wol lasten al a yeer or more. / And right so fareth it of rancour , whan it is ones concevved in the hertes of som men. certein. it wol lasten peraventure from oon Estreday unto another Estre-day, and more. / But certes, thilke man is ful fer fro the mercy of god al thilke while. /

§ 34. In this forseyde develes fourneys ther forgen three shrewes : Pryde, that ay bloweth and encreseth the fyr by chydinge and wikked wordes. / Thanne stant (480) Envye, and holdeth the hote iren upon the herte of man with a peire of longe 555 tonges of long rancour. / And thanne

- stant the sinne of contumelie or stryf and cheeste, and batereth and forgeth by vileyns reprevinges. / Certes, this cursed sinne anoyeth bothe to the man him-self and eek to his neighebor. For soothly, almost al the harm that any man dooth to his neighebore comth of wratthe. / For certes, outrageous wratthe doth al that evere the devel him comaundeth ; for he ne spareth neither Crist, ne his swete mooder. / And in his outrageous anger and Ire, allas ! allas ! ful many oon at that tyme feleth in his herte ful wikkedly, bothe of Crist and of alle hise halwes. / Is nat this a cursed vice? Yis, certes. Allas ! it binimeth from man his wit and his resoun, and al his debonaire
- 560 lyf espirituel that sholde kepen his soule. / Certes, it binimeth eek goddes due lordshipe, and that is mannes soule, and the love of hise neighebores. It stryveth eek alday agayn trouthe. It reveth him the quiete of his herte, and subverteth his soule. /

§ 35. Of Ire comen thise stinkinge engendrures: first hate, that is old wratthe; discord, thurgh which a man forsaketh his olde freend that he hath loved ful longe. / And thanne cometh werre, and every manere of wrong that man dooth to his neighebore, in body or in catel. / Of this cursed sinne of Ire cometh eek manslaughtre. And understonde wel, that homicyde, that is manslaughtre, is in dyverse wyse, Som manere

- (490) of homicyde is spirituel, and som is bodily./ Spirituel manslaughtre is in six thinges. First, by hate; as seint John seith, 'he
  - 565 that hateth his brokher is homicyde.' / Homicyde is eek by bakbytinge; of whiche bakbyteres seith Salomon, that 'they han two swerdes with whiche they sleen hir neighebores.' For soothly, as wikke is to binime his good name as his lyf. / Homicyde is eek, in yevinge of wikked conseil by frande; as for to yeven conseil to areysen wrongfulcustumes and taillages./ Of whiche seith Salomon, 'Leon rorynge and bere hongry been lyke to the cruel lordshipes,' in withholdinge or abregginge of the shepe (or the hyre), or of the wages of servaunts, or elles in usure or in withdrawinge of the almesse of povre folk. / For which the wyse man seith, 'fedeth him that almost dyeth for honger': for soothly, but-if thou fede him, thou sleest him; and alle thise been deedly sinnes. / Bodily manslaughtre is, whan thow sleest him with thy tonge in other manere ; as whan thou comandest to sleen a man, or elles yevest him conseil to sleen a man. / 57 Manslaughtre in dede is in foure maneres. That oon is by lawe ; right as a justice dampneth him that is coupable to the deeth. But lat the justice be war that he do it rightfully, and that he do it nat for delyt to spille blood, but for kepinge of rightwisenesse. / Another homicyde is, that is doon for necessitee, as whan o man sleeth another in his defendaunt, and that he ne may noon otherwise escape from his owene deeth. / But certeinly, if he may escape withouten manslaughtre of his adversarie, and sleeth him, he doth sinne, and he shal bere penance as for deedly sinne. / Eek if a man, by caas or aventure, shete an arwe or caste a stoon with which he sleeth a man, he is homicyde. / Eek if a womman by necligence (5 overlyeth hir child in hir sleping, it is homicyde and deedly sinne. / Eek whan 57 man destourbeth concepcion of a child, and maketh a womman outher barevne by drinkinge venemouse herbes, thurgh which she may nat concevve, or sleeth a child by drinkes wilfully, or elles putteth certeine material thinges in hir secree places to slee the child; / or elles doth unkindely sinne, by which man or womman shedeth hir nature in manere or in place ther-as a child may nat be conceived; or elles, if a womman have conceyved and hurt hir-self, and sleeth the child, yet is it homicyde. / What seye we eek of wommen that mordren hir children for drede of worldly shame? Certes, an horrible homicyde. / Homicyde is eek if a man approcheth to a womman by desir of lecherye, thurgh

which the child is perissed, or elles smyteth a womman witingly, thurgh which she leseth hir child. Alle thise been homicydes and horrible deedly sinnes. / Yet comen ther of Ire manye mo sinnes, as wel in word as in thoght and in dede; as he that arretteth upon god, or blameth god, of thing of which he is him-self gilty; or despyseth god and alle hise halwes, as doon thise cursede 580 hasardours in diverse contrees. / This cursed sinne doon they, whan they felen in hir hertes ful wikkedly of god and of hise halwes. / Also, whan they treten unreverently the sacrement of the auter, thilke sinne is so greet, that unnethe may it been released, but that the mercy of god passeth alle hise werkes; it is so greet and he so benigne. / Thanne comth of Ire attry angre ; whan a man is sharply amonested in his shrifte to forleten his sinne, / than wole he be angry and answeren hokerly and angrily, and deffenden or excusen his sinne by unstedefastnesse of his flesh ; or elles he dide it for to holde companye with hise felawes, or

- 5:00 elles, he soith, the fend enfyced him; / or elles he dide it for his youthe, or elles his complexioun is so corageous, that he may nat forbere; or elles it is his destinee, as he seith, unto a certein age; or elles, he seith, it cometh him of gentilleses of
- 585 hise auncestres; and semblable thinges./ Alle this manere of folk so wrappen hem in hir sinnes, that they ne wol nat delivere hem-self. For soothly, no wight that excuseth him wilfully of his sinne may nat been delivered of his sinne, til that he mekely biknoweth his sinne. / After this, thanne cometh swering, that is expres agayn the comandement of god ; and this bifalleth ofte of anger and of Ire. / God seith : 'thou shalt nat take the name of thy lord god in veyn or in ydel.' Also oure lord Jesu Crist seith by the word of seint Mathew : ' Nolite iurare omnino: / ne wol ye nat swere in alle manere; neither by hevene, for it is goddes trone; ne by erthe, for it is the bench of his feet ; ne by Jerusalem, for it is the citee of a greet king; ne by thyn heed, for thou mayst nat make an heer whyt ne blak. / But seyeth by youre word, "ye, ye," and "nay, nay"; and what that is more, it is of yvel,' seith Crist. / For Cristes sake, ne swereth nat 590 so sinfully, in dismembringe of Crist by soule, herte, bones, and body. For certes, it semeth that ye thinke that the cursede Jewes ne dismembred nat y-nough the preciouse persone of Crist, but ye dismembre him more. / And if so be that the lawe compelle yow to swere, thanne rule yow after the lawe of god in youre swering, as seith Jeremye quarto capitulo, 'Iurabis in veritate, in iudicio et in iusticia : thou shalt kepe three condicions; thou shalt swere in trouthe, in doom, and in rightwisnesse.' / This is to seyn, thou shalt swere sooth; for every lesinge is agayns Crist. For Crist is verray trouthe. And think wel this, that every greet swerere, nat compelled lawefully to swere, the wounde shal nat departe from his hous whyl he useth swich unleveful swering. / Thou shalt sweren eek in doom, whan thou art constreyned by thy domesman to witnessen the trouthe. / (520) Eek thou shalt nat swere for envye ne for favour, ne for mede, but for rightwisnesse; for declaracioun of it to the worship of god and helping of thyne evenecristene. / And therfore, every man that 595 taketh goddes name in ydel, or falsly swereth with his mouth, or elles taketh on him the name of Crist, to be called a Cristene man, and liveth agayns Cristes livinge and his techinge, alle they taken goddes name in ydel. / Loke eek what seint Peter seith, Actuum quarto capitulo, 'Non est aliud nomen sub celo,' &c. 'Ther nis noon other name,' seith seint Peter, 'under hevene, yeven to men, in which they mowe be saved;' that is to seyn, but the name of Jesu Crist. / Take kepe eek how that the precious name of Crist, as seith seint Paul ad Philipenses secundo. ' In nomine Jesu, &c. : that in the name of Jesu every knee of hevenely creatures, or erthely, or of helle sholden bowe '; for it is so heigh and so worshipful, that the cursede feend in helle sholde tremblen to heren it y-nempned. / Thanne semeth it, that men that sweren so horribly by his blessed name, that they despyse him more boldely than dide the cursede Jewes, or elles the devel, that trembleth whan he hereth his name. /

§ 36. Now certes, sith that swering, but-if it be lawefully doon, is so heighly deffended, muche worse is forswering foo falsly, and yet nedelees. /

§ 37. What seye we eek of hem that delyten hem in swering, and holden it a gentrie or a manly dede to swere grete othes? And what of hem that, of verray usage, ne cesse nat to swere grete othes, al be the cause nat worth a straw? Certes, this is horrible sinne. / Sweringe sodeynly with-oute avysement is eek a sinne. / But lat us go now to thilke horrible swering of adjuracioun and conjuracioun, as doon thise false enchauntours or nigromanciens in bacins ful of water, or in a bright swerd, in a cercle, or in a fyr, or in a shulder-boon of a sheep. / I can nat seve but that they doon cursedly and damnably, agayns (530) Crist and al the feith of holy chirche. /

§ 38. What seye we of hem that bileven in divynailes, as by flight or by noyse of briddes, or of bestes, or by sort, by geomancie, by dremes, by chirkinge of dores, or crakkinge of houses, by gnawynge of

605 rattes, and swich manere wrecchednesse?/ Certes, al this thing is defiended by god and by al holy chirche. For which they been acursed, til they come to amendement, that on swich filthe setten hir bileve./ Charmesfor woundes or maladye of men, or of bestes, if they taken any effect, it may be peraventure that god suffreth it, for folk sholden yeve the more foith and reverence to his name./

§ 39. Now wol I speken of lesinges, which generally is fals significatioun of word, in entents to deceyven his evenecristens. / Som lesinge is of which ther comth noon avantage to no wight : and som lesinge turneth to the ess or profit of o man, and to disese and damage of another man. / Another lesinge is for to saven his lyf or his catel. Another lesinge comth of delyt for to lye, in which delyt they wol forge a long tale, and peynten it with alle circumstannees, where al the ground of the tale is fals. / 610 Som lesinge comth, for he wole sustene his word; and som lesinge comth of recchelesnesse, with-outen avysement; and semblable thinges. /

§ 40. Lat us now touche the vyce of flateringe, which ne comth nat gladly but for drede or for coveitise. / Flaterye is generally wrongful preisinge. Flatereres been the develes norices, that norissen hise children with milk of losengerie, / For sothe, Salomon seith, that 'flaterie is wors than detraccioun.' For som-tyme detraccion maketh an hautein man be the more humble, for he dredeth detraccion; but certes flaterye, that maketh a man to enhauncen his herte and his contenaunce. / Flatereres been the de- (54 veles enchauntours; for they make a man to wene of him-self be lyk that he nis nat lyk. / They been lyk to Judas 615 that bitraysed [god; and thise flatereres bitraysen] a man to sellen him to his enemy, that is, to the devel. / Flatereres been the develes chapelleyns, that singen evere Placebo. / I rekene flaterye in the vyces of Ire; for ofte tyme, if o man be wrooth with another, thanne wol he flatere som wight to sustene him in his querele. /

§ 41. Speke we now of swich eursinge as comth of irous herte. Malisoun generally may be seyd every maner power of harm. Swich cursinge bireveth man fro the regne of god, as seith seint Paul./ And ofte tyme swich cursinge wrongfully retorneth agayn to him that eurseth, as a brid that retorneth agayn to his owene nest. / And over alle thing men oghten  $6\infty$ eschewe to cursen hir children, and yeven to the devel hir engendrure, as ferforth as in hem is ; certes, it is greet peril and greet sinne. /

§ 42. Lat us thanne speken of chydinge and reproche, which been ful grete woundes in mannes herte; for they unsowen the semes of frendshipe in mannes herte. / For certes, unnethes may a man

T. §§ 36-42.

T. § 43-46.]

pleynly been accorded with him that hath him openly revyled and repreved in disclaundre. This is a ful grisly sinne, as Crist seith in the gospel. / And tak kepe now, that he that repreveth his neighebor, outher he repreveth him by som harm of peyne that he hath on his body, as 'mesel,' 'croked harlot,' or by (50) som sinne that he dooth. / Now if he repreve him by harm of peyne, thanne turneth the repreve to Jesu Crist; for peyne is sent by the rightwys sonde of god, and by his suffrance, be it meselrie, 625 or maheym, or maladye. / And if he repreve him uncharitably of sinne, as, 'thou holour,' 'thou dronkelewe harlot,' and so forth ; thanne aperteneth that to the rejovsinge of the devel, that evere hath joye that men doon sinne. / And certes, chydinge may nat come but out of a vilevns herte. For after the habundance of the herte speketh the mouth ful ofte. / And ye shul understonde that loke, by any wey, whan any man shal chastyse another, that he be war from chydinge or reprevinge. For trewely, but he be war, he may ful lightly quiken the fyr of angre and of wratthe, which that he sholde quenche, and per-aventure sleeth him which that he mighte chastyse with benignitee. / For as seith Salomon, 'the amiable tonge is the tree of lyf,' that is to seyn, of lyf espirituel : and sothly, a deslavee tonge sleeth the spirites of him that repreveth, and eek of him that is repreved. / Lo, what seith seint Augustin: 'ther is no-thing so lyk the develes child as he that ofte chydeth.' Seint Paul seith eek : 'I, servant of god, bihove nat 630 to chyde.' / And how that chydinge be a vileyns thing bitwixe alle manere folk, vet it is certes most uncovenable bitwixe a man and his wyf; for there is nevere reste. And therfore seith Salomon, 'an reste. And therfore seith Salomon, 'an hons that is uncovered and droppinge, and a chydinge wyf, been lyke.' / A man that is in a droppinge hous in many places, though he cschewe the droppinge in o place, it droppeth on him in another place; so fareth it by a chydinge wyf. But she chyde him in o place, she wol chyde him in another. / And therfore, 'bettre is a morsel of breed with joye than an hous ful of delyces, with chydinge,' soith Salomon. / Seint Paul seith : 'O ye wommen, be ye subgetes to youre housbondes as bihoveth in god ; and ye men, loveth youre wyves.' Ad Colossenses, tertio. / (560)

§ 43. Afterward speke we of scorninge, which is a wikked sinne; and namely, whan he scorneth a man for hise gode werkes. / For certes, swiche scorneres 635 faren lyk the foule tode, that may nat endure to somelle the sote savour of the vyne whanne it florissheth. / Thise scorneres been parting felawes with the devel; for they han joyo whan the devel winneth, and sorwe whan he leseth. / They been adversaries of Jesu Crist; for they haten that he loveth, that is to seyn, salvacion of soule. /

§ 44. Speke we now of wikked conseil ; for he that wikked conseil yeveth is a traytour. For he deceyveth him that trusteth in him, ut Achitofel ad Absolonem. But natheless, yet is his wikked conseil first agayn him-self. / For, as seith the wyse man, every fals livinge hath this propertee in him-self, that he that wole anoye another man, he anoveth first him-self. / And men shul understonde, 640 that man shal nat taken his conseil of fals folk, ne of angry folk, or grevous folk, ne of folk that loven specially to muchel hir owene profit, ne to muche worldly folk, namely, in conseilinge of soules, /

§ 45. Now comth the sinne of hem that sowen and maken discord amonges folk, which is a sinne that Crist hateth outrely; and no wonder is. For he deyde for to make concord. / And more shame do they to Crist, than dide they that him crucifyede; for god loveth bettre, that frendshipe be amonges folk, than he dide his owene body, the which that he yaf for unitee. Therfore been they lykned to the devel, that evere been aboute to maken discord. /

§ 46. Now comth the sinne of double tonge; swiche as speken faire biforn folk, and wikkedly .bihinde; or elles they maken semblant as though they speke of good entencioun, or elles in game and pley, and yet they speke of wikked (570) entente. /

§ 47. Now comth biwreying of conseil, thurgh which a man is defamed; certes, 645 unnethe may he restore the damage. /

Now comth manace, that is an open folye; for he that ofte manaceth, he threteth more than he may perfourne ful ofte tyme. /

Now cometh ydel wordes, that is withouten profit of him that speketh tho wordes, and eek of him that herkneth tho wordes. Or elles ydel wordes been tho that been nedelees, or with-outen entente of naturel profit. / And al-beit that ydel wordes been som tyme venial sinne, yet sholde men douten hem; for we shul yeve rekeninge of hem bifore god./

Now comth janglinge, that may nat been withoute sinne. And, as seith Salomon, 'it is a sinne of apert folye.'/ And therfore a philosophre seyde, whan men axed him how that men sholde plese the peple; and he answerde, 'do many 650 gode werkes, and spek fewe jangles.'/

After this comth the sinne of japeres, that been the develes apes; for they maken folk to laughe at hir japerie, as folk doon at the gaudes of an ape. Swiche japeres deffendeth seint Paul. / Loke how that vertuonse wordes and holy conforten hem that travaillen in the service of Crist; right so conforten the vileyns wordes and knakkes of japeris hem that travaillen in the service of the devel. / Thise been the sinnes that comen of the tonge, that comen of Ire and of othere sinnes mo. /

Sequitur remedium contra peccatum Ire.

§ 48. The remedye agayns Ire is a vertu that men clepen Mansuetude, that is Debonairetee; and eek another vertu,

(530) that men callen Pacience or Suffrance. / § 49. Debonairetee withdraweth and refreyneth the stiringes and the moevynges of mannes corage in his herte, in swich manere that they ne skippe nat out by angre ne by Ire. / Suffrance 655 suffreth swetely alle the anoyaunces and the wronges that men doon to man out-Seint Jerome seith thus of ward, / debonairetee. that 'it doth noon harm to no wight, ne seith; ne for noon harm that men doon or seyn, he ne eschaufeth nat agayns his resoun.' / This vertu som-tyme comth of nature : for, as seith the philosophre, 'a man is a quik thing, by nature debonaire and tretable to goodnesse; but whan debonairetee is enformed of grace, thanne is it the more worth.' /

§ 50. Pacience, that is another remedye agayns Ire, is a vertu that suffreth swetely every mannes goodnesse, and is nat wrooth for noon harm that is doon to him. / The philosophre seith, that 'pacience is thilke vertu that suffreth debonairely alle the outrages of adversitee and every wikked word.' / This 660 vertu maketh a man lyk to god, and maketh him goddes owene dere child, as seith Crist, This vertu disconfiteth thyn enemy. And therfore seith the wyse man, 'if thou wolt venquisse thyn enemy, lerne to suffre.' / And thou shalt understonde, that man suffreth foure manere of grevances in outward thinges, agavns the whiche foure he moot have foure manere of paciences. /

§ 51. The firste grevance is of wikkede wordes; thilke suffrede Jesu Crist withouten grucching, ful paciently, whan the Jewes despysed and repreved him ful ofte. / Suffre thou therfore paciently; for the wyse man seith : 'if thou stryve with a fool, though the fool be wrooth or though he laughe, algate thou shalt have no reste.' / That other grevance outward (500' is to have damage of thy catel. Theragayns suffred Crist ful paciently, whan he was despoyled of al that he hadde in this lyf, and that nas but hise clothes. / 665 The thridde grevance is a man to have harm in his body. That suffred Crist ful paciently in al his passioun. / The fourthe grevance is in outrageous labour in werkes. Wherfore I seve, that folk that maken hir servants to travaillen to grevously, or out of tyme, as on halydayes, sochly they do greet sinne. / Heeragayns suffred Crist ful paciently, and taughte ns pacience, whan he bar up-on his blissed shulder the croys, up-on which he sholde suffren despitous deeth. / Heer may men lerne to be pacient; for certes, noght only Cristen men been pacient for love of Jesu Crist, and for guerdon of the blisful lyf that is perdurable; but certes, the olde payens, that nevere were Cristene, commendeden and useden the vertu of pacience. /

§ 52. A philosophre up-on a tyme, that wolde have beten his disciple for his grete trespas, for which he was greetly amoeved, 670 and broghte a verde to scourge the child ; / and whan this child saugh the yerde, he seyde to his maister, ' what thenke ye to do?' 'I wol bete thee,' guod the maister, 'for thy correccion.' / 'For sothe,' quod the child, 'ye oghten first correcte youre-self, that han lost al youre pacience for the gilt of a child.' / 'For sothe,' quod the maister al wepinge, 'thou seyst sooth; have thou the yerde, my dere sone, and correcte me for myn inpacience.' / Of Pacience comth Obedience, thurgh which a man is obedient to Crist and to alle hem to whiche he (600) oghte to been obedient in Crist. / And understond wel that obedience is perfit, whan that a man doth gladly and hasily, with good herte entierly, al that he 675 sholle do. / Obedience generally, is to performe the doctrine of god and of his sovereyns, to whiche him oghte to ben obeisannt in alle rightwysnesse. /

Sequitur de Accidia.

§ 53. After the sinnes of Envie and of Ire, now wol I speken of the sinne of Accidie, For Envye blindeth the herte of a man, and Ire troubleth a man; and Accidie maketh him hevy, thoghtful, and wrawe. / Envye and Ire maken bitternesse in herte; which bitternesse is moder of Accidie, and binimeth him the love of alle goodnesse. Thanne is Accidie the anguissh of a trouble herte; and seint

Augustin seith : 'it is anoy of goodnesse and joye of harm.' / Certes, this is a dampnable sinne; for it doth wrong to Jesu Crist, in-as-muche as it binimeth the service that men oghte doon to Crist with alle diligence, as seith Salomon. / But Accidie dooth no swich diligence : he dooth alle thing with anoy, and with wrawnesse, slaknesse, and excusacioun, and with ydelnesse and unlust : for which the book seith : 'acursed be he that doth the service of god necligently.' / Thanne 680 is Accidie enemy to everich estaat of man; for certes, the estaat of man is in three maneres. / Outher it is th'estaat of innocence, as was th'estaat of Adam biforn that he fil into sinne; in which estaat he was holden to wirche, as in heryinge and adouringe of god. / Another estaat is the estaat of sinful men, in which estaat men been holden to laboure in preyinge to god for amendement of hir sinnes, and that he wole graunte hem to arysen out of hir sinnes. / Another estaat is th'estaat of grace, in which estaat he is holden to werkes of penitence ; and certes, to alle thise thinges is Accidie enemy and contrarie. For he loveth no bisinesse at al. / Now certes, this foule (610) sinne Accidie is eek a ful greet enemy to the lyflode of the body: for it ne hath no purveaunce agayn temporel necessitee ; for it forsleweth and forsluggeth, and destroyeth alle goodes temporeles by reccheleesnesse. / 685

§ 54. The fourthethinge is, that Accidie is lyk to hem that been in the peyne of helle, by-cause of hir slouthe and of hir hevinesse; for they that been dampned been so bounde, that they ne may neither weldone wel thinke. / Of Accidie comth first, that a man is anoyed and encombred for to doon any goodnesse, and maketh that god hath abhominacion of swich Accidie, as seith seint Johan. /

§ 55. Now comth Slouthe, that wol net suffre noon hardnesse ne no penannce. For soothly, Slouthe is so tendre, and so delicat, as seith Salomon, that he wol nat suffre noon hardnesse ne penannce, and therfore he shendeth al that he dooth. / Agayns this roten-herted sinne of Accidie and Slouthe sholde men exercise hem-solf to doon gode werkes, and manly and vertuously cacchen corage wel to doon; thinkinge that oure lord Jesu Crist quyteth every good dede, be it never so lyte. / Usage of labour is a greet thing; for it maketh, as seith seint Bernard, the laborer to have stronge armes and harde sinves; and Slouthe maketh

690 hem feble and tendre. / Thanne comth drede to biginne to werke any gode werkes; for certes, he that is enclyned to sinne, him thinketh it is so greet an empryse for to undertake to doon werkes of goodnesse, / and casteth in his herte that the circumstaunces of goodnesse been so grevouse and so chargeaunt for to suffre, that he dar nat undertake to do werkes of goodnesse, as seith seint Gregorie. /

§ 56. Now comth wanhope, that is despeir of the mercy of god, that comth somtyme of to muche outrageous sorwe, and somtyme of to muche drede : imagininge that he hath doon so muche sinne, that it wol nat availlen him, though he wolde repenten him and forsake sinne :/ thurgh which despeir or drede he abaundoneth al his herte to every maner sinne. (620) as seith seint Augustin. / Which dampnable sinne, if that it continue un-to his 695 'ende, it is cleped sinning in the holy gost. / This horrible sinne is so perilous, that he that is despeired, ther nis no felonye ne no sinne that he douteth for to do; as shewed wel by Judas. / Certes, aboven alle sinnes thanne is this sinne most displesant to Crist, and most adversarie. / Soothly, he that despeireth him is lyk the coward champioun recreant, that seith creant withoute nede. Allas! allas! nedeles is he recreant and nedeles de-

Speired. / Certes, the mercy of god is evere redy to every penitent, and is aboven alle hise werkes. / Allas! can nat a man bithinke him on the gospel of seint Luk, 15., where as Crist seith that 'as wel shal ther be joye in hevene upon a sinful man that doth penitence, as up-on nynety and nyne rightful men that neden no penitence?'/ Loke forther, 700 in the same gospel, the joye and the feste of the gode man that hadde lost his sone, whan his sone with repentaunce was retourned to his fader. / Can they nat remembren hem eek, that, as seith seint Luk xxiiiº capitulo, how that the theef that was hanged bisyde Jesu Crist, seyde: 'Lord, remembre of me, whan thou comest in-to thy regne?'/ 'For sothe,' seyde Crist, 'I seye to thee, to-day shaltow been with me in Paradys.' / Certes, ther is noon so horrible sinne of man, that it ne may, in his lyf, be destroyed by penitence, thurgh vertu of the passion and of the deeth of Crist. / (630) Allas! what nedeth man thanne to been despeired, sith that his mercy so redy is and large? Axe and have. / Thanne cometh 705 Sompnolence, that is, sluggy slombringe, which maketh a man be hevy and dul, in body and in soule ; and this sinne comth of Slouthe. / And certes, the tyme that, by wey of resoun, men sholde nat slepe, that is by the morwe; but-if ther were cause resonable. / For soothly, the morwetyde is most covenable, a man to seve his preveres, and for to thinken on god, and for to honoure god, and to yeven almesse to the povre, that first cometh in the name of Crist. / Lo ! what seith Salomon : 'who-so wolde by the morwe awaken and seke me, he shal finde.' / Thanne cometh Necligence, or recchelesnesse, that rekketh of no-thing. And how that ignoraunce be moder of alle harm, certes, Necligence is the norice. / Necligence 710 ne doth no fors, whan he shal doon a thing, whether he do it weel or baddely. /

§ 57. Of the remedie of thise two sinnes, as seith the wyse man, that 'he that dredeth god, he spareth nat to doon that him oghte doon.'/ And he that loveth god, he wol doon diligence to plese god by his werkes, and abaundone him-self, with al his might, wel for to doon./ Thanne comth ydelnesse, that is the yate of alle harmes. An ydel man is lyk to a place that hath no walles; the develes may entre on every syde and sheten at him at discovert, by temptacion on every

- (640) syde. / This ydelnesse is the thurrok of alle wikked and vileyns thoghtes, and of
  - 715 alle jangles, trufies, and of alle ordure. / Certes, the hevene is yeven to hem that wel labouren, and nat to ydel folk. Eek David seith : that 'they ne been nat in the labour of men, ne they shul nat been whipped with men,' that is to seyn, in purgatorie. / Certes, thanne semeth it, they shul be tormented with the devel in helle, but-if they doon penitence. /

§ 58. Thanne comth the sinne that men clepen Tarditas, as whan a man is to latrede or taryinge, or he wole turne to god; and certes, that is a greet folyo. He is lyk to him that falleth in the dich, and wol nat aryse. / And this vyce comth of a falls hope, that he thinketh that he shal live longe; but that hope faileth ful ofte. /

§ 59. Thanne comth Lachesse; that is he, that whan he biginneth any good werk, anon he shal forleten it and stinten; as doon they that han any wight to governe, and ne taken of him na-more kepe, anon as they finden any contrarie

- 720 or any anoy. / Thise been the newe shepherdes, that leten hir sheep witingly go renne to the wolf that is in the breres. or do no fors of hir owene governaunce. / Of this comth poverte and destruccioun, bothe of spirituel and temporel thinges. Thanne comth a manere coldnesse, that freseth al the herte of man. / Thanne comth undevocioun, thurgh which a man is so blent, as seith seint Bernard, and hath swiche langour in soule, that he may neither rede ne singe in holy chirche, ne here ne thinke of no devocioun, ne travaille with hise handes in no good werk, that it nis him unsavory and al apalled. / Thanne wexeth he slow and slombry, and sone wol be wrooth, and
- (650) sone is enclyned to hate and to envye. / Thanne comth the sinne of worldly sorwe, swich as is cleped tristicia, that sleeth 725 man, as seint Paul seith. / For certes,
  - 725 man, as sent rail setter, / protectes, swich sorve werketh to the death of the soule and of the body also; for therof comth, that a man is anoyed of his owenelyf. / Wherfore swich sorve short-eth ful ofte the lyf of a man, er that his tyme be come by wey of kinde. /

Remedium contra peccatum Accidie.

§ 60. Agayns this horrible sinne of Accidie, and the branches of the same, ther is a vertu that is called Fortitudo or Strengthe; that is, an affeccioun thurgh which a man despyseth anoyous thinges./ This vertu is so mighty and so vigorous, that it dar withstonde mightily and wysely kepen him-self fro perils that been wikked, and wrastlo agayn the assantes of the devel. / For it enhanceth and enforceth the soule, right as Accidie abatch it and maketh it foble. For this Fortitudo may endure by long suffrance the travailles that been covenable. /

§ 61. This vertu hath manye speces; and the firste is cleped Magnanimitee, that is to seyn, greet corage. For certes, ther bihoveth greet corage agains Accidie, lest that it ne swolwe the soule by the sinne of sorwe, or destroye it by wanhope. / This vertu maketh folk to undertake harde thinges and grevouse thinges, by hir owene wil, wysely and resonably./ And for as muchel as the devel fighteth agavns a man more by quevntise and by sleighte than by strengthe, therfore men shal withstonden him by wit and by resoun and by discrecioun. / Thanne arn ther the vertues of feith, and hope in god and in hise seintes, to acheve and acomplice the gode werkes in the whiche he purposeth fermely to continue, / (660) Thanne comth seuretee or sikernesse ; and that is, whan a man ne douteth no travaille in tyme cominge of the gode werkes that a man hath bigonne. / 735 Thanne comth Magnificence, that is to seyn, whan a man dooth and perfourneth grete werkes of goodnesse that he hath bigonne; and that is the ende why that men sholde do gode werkes; for in the acomplissinge of grete goode werkes lyth the grete guerdoun. / Thanne is ther Constaunce, that is, stablenesse of corage : and this sholde been in herte by stedefast feith, and in mouth, and in beringe, and in chere and in dede. / Eke ther been mo speciale remedies agains Accidie, in diverse werkes, and in consideracioun of the peynes of helle, and of the joyes of hevene, and in trust of the grace of the holy goost, that wole yeve him might to perfourne his gode entente. /

Sequitur de Auaricia.

§ 62. After Accidie wol I speke of Avarice and of Coveitise, of which sinne seith seint Paule, that 'the rote of alle harmes is Coveitise': Ad Timotheum, sexto capitulo. / For soothly, whan the herte of a man is confounded in it-self and troubled, and that the soule hath lost the confort of gcd, thanne seketh he an ydel 740 solas of worldly thinges. /

§ 63. Avarice, after the descripcion of seint Augustin, is likerousnesse in herte to have erthely thinges. / Som other folk seyn, that Avarice is, for to purchacen manye erthely thinges, and nothing yeve to hem that han nede. / And understond, that Avarice ne stant nat only in lond ne catel, but somtyme in science and in glorie, and in every manere of outrageous thing is Avarice and Coveitise. / And the difference bitwixe Avarice and Coveitise is this. Coveitise is for to coveite swiche thinges as thou hast nat; and Avarice is for to withholde and kepe swiche thinges as thou hast.

(670) with-oute rightful nede. / Soothly, this Avarice is a sinne that is ful dampnable ; for al holy writ curseth it, and speketh agayns that vyce: for it dooth wrong to

745 Jesu Crist. / For it bireveth him the love that men to him owen, and turneth it bakward agayns alle resoun; / and maketh that the avaricious man hath more hope in his catel than in Jesu Crist, and dooth more observance in kepinge of his tresor than he dooth to service of Jesu Crist. / And therfore seith seint Paul ad Ephesios, quinto, that 'an avaricious man is in the thraldom of vdolatrie.' /

§ 64. What difference is bitwixe an ydolastre and an avaricious man, but that an ydolastre, per aventure, ne hath but o mawmet or two, and the avaricious man hath manye? For certes, every florin in his cofre is his mawmet. / And certes, the sinne of Mawmetrye is the firste thing that God deffended in the ten comaundments, as bereth witnesse Exodi, capitulo xxº : / 'Thou shalt have no false 750 goddes bifore me, ne thou shalt make to thee no grave thing.' Thus is an avaricious man, that loveth his tresor biforn god, an ydolastre, / thurgh this cursed sinne of Avarice. Of Coveitise comen thise harde lordshipes, thurgh whiche men been distreyned by tailages, custumes, and cariages, more than hir duetee or resoun is. And eek they taken of hir bonde-men amerciments, whiche mighten more resonably ben cleped extorcions than amerciments. / Of whiche amerciments and raunsoninge of bondemen, somme lordes stywardes seyn, that it is rightful: for-as-muche as a cherl hath no temporel thing that it ne is his lordes, as they seyn. / But certes, thise lordshipes doon wrong, that bireven hir bonde-folk thinges that they nevere yave hem : Augustinus de Civitate, libro nono. / (680) Sooth is, that the condicioun of thraldom and the firste cause of thraldom is for sinne: Genesis, quinto, /

§ 65. Thus may ye seen that the gilt disserveth thraldom, but nat nature. / Wherfore thise lordes ne sholde nat muche glorifven hem in hir lordshipes. sith that by naturel condicion they been nat lordes of thralles; but for that thraldom comth first by the desert of sinne. / And forther-over, ther-as the lawe seith, that temporel godes of bondefolk been the godes of hir lordshipes, ye, that is for to understonde, the godes of the emperour, to deffenden hem in hir right, but nat for to robben hem ne reven hem. / And therfore seith Seneca : ' thy prudence sholde live benignely with thy thralles.' / Thilke that thou clepest thy thralles been goddes peple; for humble folk been Cristes freendes; they been contubernial with the lord. / 760

§ 66. Think eek, that of swich seed as cherles springeth, of swich seed springen

T. §§ 62-66.

т. § 67.]

lordes. As wel may the cherl be saved as the lord. / The same deeth that taketh the cherl, swich deeth taketh the lord. Wherfore I rede, do right so with thy cherl, as thou woldest that thy lord dide with thee, if thou were in his plyt. / Every sinful man is a cherl to sinne. I rede thee, certes, that thou, lord, werke in swiche wyse with thy cherles, that they rather love thee than drede. / I woot wel ther is degree above degree, as reson is; and skile it is, that men do hir devoir ther-as it is due; but certes, extorcions and despit of youre underlinges is dampfogol nable. /

§ 67. And forther-over understond wel, that thise conquerours or tiraunts maken ful ofte thralles of hem, that been born of as royal blood as been they that hem 765 conqueren. / This name of thraldom was nevere erst couth, til that Noe seyde, that his sone Canaan sholde be thral to hise bretheren for his sinne. / What seve we thanne of hem that pilen and doon extorcions to holy chirche? Certes, the swerd, that men yeven first to a knight whan he is newe dubbed, signifyeth that he sholde deffenden holy chirche, and nat robben it ne pilen it; and who so dooth, is traitour to Crist. / And, as seith seint Augustin, 'they been the develes wolves, that stranglen the sheep of Jesu Crist'; and doon worse than wolves. / For soothly, whan the wolf hath ful his wombe, he stinteth to strangle sheep. But soothly, the pilours and destroyours of goddes holy chirche ne do nat so; for they ne stinte nevere to pile. / Now, as I have seyd, sith so is that sinne was first cause of thraldom, thanne is it thus; that thilke tyme that al this world was in sinne, thanne was al 770 this world in thraldom and subjeccioun./

But certes, sith the tyme of grace can, god ordeyned that som folk sholde be more heigh in estaat and in degree, and som folk more lowe, and that overich sholde be served in his estaat and in his degree. / And therfore, in somme contrees ther they byen thralles, whan they han turned hem to the feith, they maken hir thralles free out of thraldom. And therfore, certes, the lord oweth to his man that the man oweth to his lord. / The Pope calleth him-self servant of the servaunts of god; but for-as-muche as the estaat of holy chirche ne mighte nat han be, ne the commune profit mighte nat han be kept, ne pees and reste in erthe, but-if god hadde ordeyned that som men hadde hyer degree and som men lower :/ therfore was sovereyntee ordeyned to kepe and mayntene and deffenden hir underlinges or hir subgets in resoun, as ferforth as it lyth in hir power: and nat to destroyen hem ne confounde. / Wherfore I seve, that thilke (700) lordes that been lyk wolves, that devouren the possessiouns or the catel of povre folk wrongfully, with-outen mercy or mesure,/ 775 they shul receyven by the same mesure that they han mesured to povre folk the mercy of Jesu Crist, but-if it be amended. / Now comth deceite bitwixe marchant and marchant. And thow shalt understonde, that marchandyse is in two maneres; that oon is bodily, and that other is goostly. That oon is honeste and leveful, and that other is deshoneste and unleveful. / Of thilke bodily marchandyse, that is leveful and honeste, is this; that, thereas god hath ordeyned that a regne or a contree is suffisaunt to him-self, thanne is it honeste and leveful, that of habundaunce of this contree, that men helpo another contree that is more nedy. / And therfore, ther mote been marchants to bringen fro that o contree to that other hire marchandyses. / That other marchandise, that men haunten with fraude and trecherie and deceite, with lesinges and false othes, is cursed and dampnable. / 780 Espirituel marchandyse is proprely Symonye, that is, ententif desyr to byen thing espirituel, that is, thing that aperteneth to the seintuarie of god and to cure of the soule. / This desyr, if so be that a man do his diligence to parfournen it, al-be-it that his desyr ne take noon effect, yet is it to him a deedly sinne; and if he be ordred, he is irreguler. / Certes, Symonye is cleped of Symon

Magus, that wolde han boght, for temporel catel, the yifte that god hadde yeven, by the holy goost, to seint Peter and to the apostles. / And therfore understond, that bothe he that selleth and he that byeth thinges espirituels, been cleped Symonials; be it by catel, be it by procuringe, or by fleshly preyere of hise freendes, fleshly freendes, or

- (710) espirituel freendes. / Fleshly, in two mancres; as by kinrede or othere freendes. Soothly, if they praye for him that is nat worthy and able, it is Symonye if he take the benefice; and if he be worthy and
- 785 able, ther nis noon. / That other manere is, whan a man or womman preyen for folk to avauncen hem, only for wikked fleshly affeccioun that they have un-to the persone; and that is foul Symonye. / But certes, in service, for which men yeven thinges espirituels un-to hir servants, it moot been understonde that the service moot been honeste, and elles nat; and eek that it be with-outen bargayninge, and that the persone be able. / For, as seith seint Damasie, 'alle the sinnes of the world, at regard of this sinne, arn as thing of noght'; for it is the gretteste sinne that may be, after the sinne of Lucifer and Antecrist. / For, by this sinne, god forleseth the chirche, and the soule that he boghte with his precious blood, by hem that yeven chirches to hem that been nat digne. / For they putten in theves, that stelen the soules of Jesu Christ and destroyen his
  - 790 patrimoine. / By swiche undigne presetses and curates han lewed men the lasse reverence of the sacraments of holy chirche; and swiche yeveres of chirches putten out the children of Crist, and putten in-to the chirche the develes owene sone. / They sellen the soules that lambes sholde kepen to the wolf that strangleth hem. And therfore shul they nevere han part of the pasture of lambes, that is, the blisse of hevene. / Now comth hasardrye with hise apurtenaunces, as tables and rafles; of which comth deceite, false othes, chydinges, and alle ravines, blaspheminge and reneyinge of god, and hate of hise neighebores, wast of godes, misspendinge of tyme, and somtyme manslaughtre. / Certes, hasardours ne mowe nat been with-outen greet sinne whyles they haunte that craft. / Of (720) avarice comen eek lesinges, thefte, fals witnesse, and false othes. And ye shul understonde that thise been grete sinnes. and expres agayn the comaundements of god, as I have seyd. / Fals witnesse is in 795 word and eek in dede. In word, as for to bireve thy neighebores goode name by thy fals witnessing, or bireven him his catel or his heritage by thy fals witnessing; whan thou, for ire or for mede, or for envye, berest fals witnesse, or accusest him or excusest him by thy fals witnesse, or elles excusest thy-self falsly. / Ware yow, questemongeres and notaries! Certes, for fals witnessing was Susanna in ful gret sorwe and peyne, and many another mo. / The sinne of thefte is eek expres agayns goddes heste, and that in two maneres, corporel and espirituel. / Corporel, as for to take thy neighebores catel agayn his wil, be it by force or by sleighte, be it by met or by mesure. / By steling eek of false enditements upon him, and in borwinge of thy neighebores catel, in entente nevere to payen it agayn, and semblable thinges. / Espirituel thefte is Soo Sacrilege, that is to seyn, hurtinge of holy thinges, or of thinges sacred to Crist, in two maneres; by reson of the holy place, as chirches or chirche-hawes, / for which every vileyns sinne that men doon in swiche places may be cleped sacrilege, or every violence in the semblable places. Also, they that withdrawen falsly the rightes that longen to holy chirche. / And pleynly and generally, sacrilege is to reven holy thing fro holy place, or unholy thing out of holy place, or holy thing out of unholy place. /

T. § 68.

Relevacio contra peccatum Avaricie.

§ 68. Now shul ye understonde, that the relevinge of Avarice is misericorde, and pitee largely taken. And men mighten axe, why that misericorde and pitee is relevinge of Avarice? / Certes, (730).

the avaricious man sheweth no pitce ne misericorde to the nedeful man; for he delyteth him in the kepinge of his tresor, and nat in the rescowinge ne relevinge of his evene-cristene. And therfore speke 5 I first of misericorde. / Thanne is misericorde, as seith the philosophre, a vertu, by which the corage of man is stired by the misese of him that is misesed. / Up-on which misericorde folweth pitee, in parfourninge of charitable werkes of misericorde. / And certes, thise thinges moeven a man to misericorde of Jesu Crist, that he yaf him-self for oure gilt, and suffred deeth for misericorde, and forgaf us oure originale sinnes; / and therby relessed us fro the peynes of helle, and amenused the peynes of purgatorie by penitence, and yeveth grace wel to do, and atte laste the blisse of hevene. / The speces of misericorde been, as for to lene and for to yeve and to foryeven and relesse, and for to han pitee in herte, and compassioun of the meschief of his evenecristene, and eek to chastyse there as o nede is. / Another manere of remedie agayns Avarice is resonable largesse; but soothly, here bihoveth the consideracioun of the grace of Jesu Crist, and of hise temporel goodes, and eek of the godes perdurables that Crist yaf to us; / and to han remembrance of the deeth that he shal receyve, he noot whanne, where, ne how; and eek that he shal forgon al that he hath, save only that he hath despended in gode werkes. /

§ 69. But for-as-muche as som folk been unmesurable, men oghten eschne foollargesse, that men clepen wast. / Certes, he that is fool-large ne yeveth nat his catel, but he leseth his catel. Soothly, what thing that he yeveth for veyne glorie, as to minstrals and to folk, for to beren his renoun in the world, he hath of sinne ther-of and noon almesse. / Certes, he leseth foule his good, that ne seketh with the yifte of his good northing but 5 sinne. / He is lyk to an hors that seketh rather to drinken drovy or trouble water than for to drinken water of the clere welle. / And for-as-muchel as they yeven

Aa

ther as they sholde nat yeven, to hem aperteneth thilke malisoun that Crist shal yeven at the day of dome to hem that shullen been dampned. /

Sequitur de Gula.

§ 70. After Avarice comth Glotonve. which is expres eek agayn the comandement of god. Glotonve is unmesurable appetyt to ete or to drinke, or elles to doon y-nogh to the unmesurable appetyt and desordeynee coveityse to eten or to drinke. / This sinne corrumped al this world, as is wel shewed in the sinne of Adam and of Eve. Loke eek, what seith seint Paul of Glotonye. / 'Manye,' seith seint Paul, 'goon, of whiche I have ofte seyd to yow, and now I seye it wepinge, that they been the enemys of the croys of Crist; of whiche the ende is deeth, and of whiche hir wombe is hir god, and hir glorie in confusioun of hem that so saveren erthely thinges.' / He that is 820 usaunt to this sinne of Glotonye, he ne may no sinne withstonde. He moot been in servage of alle vyces, for it is the develes hord ther he hydeth him and resteth. / This sinne hath manye speces. The firste is dronkenesse, that is the horrible sepulture of mannes resoun ; and therfore, whan a man is dronken, he hath lost his resoun; and this is deedly sinne. / But soothly, whan that a man is nat wont to strong drinke, and peraventure ne knoweth nat the strengthe of the drinke, or hath feblesse in his heed, or hath travailed, thurgh which he drinketh the more, al be he sodeynly caught with drinke, it is no deedly sinne, but venial. / The seconde spece of Glotonye is, that the spirit of a man wexeth al trouble ; for dronkenesse bireveth him the discrecioun of his wit, / The thridde spece of (750) Glotonye is, whan a man devoureth his mete, and hath no rightful manere of etinge. / The fourthe is whan, thurgh 825 the grete habundaunce of his mete, the humours in his body been destempred. / The fifthe is, foryetelnesse by to muchel drinkinge; for which somtyme a man foryeteth er the morwe what he dide at even or on the night biforn. /

§ 71. In other manere been distinct the speces of Glotonye, after seint Gregorie. The firste is, for to ete biforn tyme to ete. The seconde is, whan a man get him to delicat mete or drinke. / The thridde is, whan men taken to muche over mesure. The fourthe is curiositee, with greet entente to maken and apparaillen his mete. The fifthe is, for to etem to gredily. / Thise been the fyve fingres of the develes hand, by whiche he draweth 830 folk to sinne./

Remedium contra peccatum Gule.

§ 72. Agayns Glotonye is the remedie Abstinence, as seith Galien; but that holde I nat meritorie, if he do it only for the hele of his body. Seint Augustin wole, that Abstinence be doon for vertu and with pacience. / Abstinence, he seith, is litel worth, but-if a man have good wil ther-to, and but it be enforced by pacience and by charitee, and that men doon it for godes sake, and in hope to have the blisse of hevene. /

§ 73. The followes of Abstinence been Attemperature, that holdeth the mene in alle thinges: eek Shame, that eschueth alle deshonestee: Suffisance, that seketh no riche metes ne drinkes, ne dooth no fors of to outrageous apparailinge of mete. / Mesure also, that restreyneth by resoun the deslavee appety of etinge: Sobrenesse also, that restreyneth the (760) outrage of drinke: / Sparinge also, that restreyneth the delicat ese to sitte longe at his mete and softely; wherfore som folk stonden of hir owene wil, to eten at

835 the lasse leyser. /

Sequitur de Luxuria.

§ 74. After Glotonye, thanne comth Lecherie; for thise two sinnes been so ny cosins, that ofte tyme they wol nat departe. / God woot, this sinne is ful displesaunt thing to god; for he seyde himself, 'do no lecherie.' And therfore he putte grete peynes agayns this sinne in the olde lawe. / If womman thral were taken in this sinne, she sholde be beten with staves to the deeth. And if she were a gentil womman, she sholde be slayn with stones. And if she were a bisshoppes doghter, she sholde been brent, by goddes comandement. / Forther over, by the sinne of Lecherie, god dreynte al the world at the diluge. And after that, he brente fyve citees with thonder-leyt, and sank hem in-to helle. /

§ 75. Now lat us speke thanne of thilke stinkinge sinne of Lecherie that men clepe Avoutrie of wedded folk, that is to seyn, if that oon of hem be wedded, or elles bothe. / Seint John seith, that avoutiers shullen been in helle in a stank brenninge of fyr and of brimston; in fyr, for the lecherie; in brimston, for the stink of hir ordure. / Certes, the brekinge of this sacrement is an horrible thing; it was maked of god him-self in paradys, and confermed by Jesu Crist, as witnesseth seint Mathew in the gospel: 'A man shal lete fader and moder, and taken him to his wyf, and they shullen be two in o flesh.' / This sacrement bitokneth the knittinge togidre of Crist and of holy chirche. / And nat only that god forbad avoutrie in dede, but eek he comanded that thou sholdest nat coveite thy neighebores wyf. / In this ( heeste, seith seint Augustin, is forboden alle manere coveitise to doon lecherie. Lo what seith seint Mathew in the gospel : that ' who-so seeth a womman to coveitise of his lust, he hath doon lecherie with hir in his herte.' / Here may ye seen that & nat only the dede of this sinne is forboden, but eek the desvr to doon that sinne. / This cursed sinne anoyeth grevousliche hem that it haunten. And first. to hir soule; for he oblygeth it to sinne and to peyne of deeth that is perdurable. / Un-to the body anoyeth it grevously also, for it dreyeth him, and wasteth, and shent him, and of his blood he maketh sacrifyce to the feend of helle; it wasteth his catel and his substaunce. / And certes, if it be a foul thing, a man to waste his catel on wommen, yet is it a fouler thing whan that, for swich ordure, wommen dispenden up-on men hir catel and substaunce. / This sinne, as seith the prophete, bireveth man and womman hir gode fame, and al hir honour; and it is ful pleasaunt to the devel; for ther-by winneth he the moste partie of this world. / And right as a marchant delyteth him most in chaffare that he hath most avantage of, right so delyteth the feend in this ordure. /

T. § 76.]

§ 76. This is that other hand of the devel, with fyve fingres, to cacche the peple to his vileinye. / The firste finger is the fool lookinge of the fool womman and of the fool man, that sleeth, right as the basilicok sleeth folk by the venim of his sighte : for the coveitise of even folweth the coveitise of the herte. / The seconde finger is the vileyns touchinge in wikkede manere; and ther-fore seith Salomon, that who-so toucheth and handleth a womman, he fareth lyk him that handleth the scorpioun that stingeth and sodeynly sleeth thurgh his enveniminge; as who-so toucheth warm pich, it shent ) his fingres. / The thridde, is foule wordes, that fareth lyk fyr, that right anon bren-5 neth the herte. / The fourthe finger is the kissinge; and trewely he were a greet fool that wolde kisse the mouth of a brenninge ovene or of a fourneys. / And more fooles been they that kissen in vileinye; for that mouth is the mouth of helle: and namely, thise olde dotardes holours, yet wol they kisse, though they may nat do, and smatre hem. / Certes, they been lyk to houndes; for an hound, whan he comth by the roser or by othere +busshes, though he may nat pisse, yet wole he heve up his leg and make a contenaunce to pisse. / And for that many man weneth that he may nat sinne, for no likerousnesse that he doth with his wyf; certes, that opinion is fals. God woot, a man may sleen him-self with his owene knyf, and make him-selven dronken of his owene tonne. / Certes, be it wyf, be it child, or any worldly thing that he loveth biforn god, it is his maumet, and o he is an ydolastre. / Man sholde loven his wyf by discrecioun, paciently and atemprely; and thanne is she as though it were his suster. / The fifthe finger of the develes hand is the stinkinge dede of Lecherie. / Certes, the fyve fingres of Glotonie the feend put in the wombe of a man, and with hise fyve fyngres of Lecherie he gripeth him by the revnes. for to throwen him in-to the fourneys of helle; / ther-as they shul han the fyr and the wormes that evere shul lasten and wepinge and wailinge, sharp hunger and thurst, and grimnesse of develes that shullen al to-trede hem, with-outen respit and with-outen ende. / Of Lecherie, as (790) I seyde, sourden diverse speces ; as fornicacioun, that is bitwixe man and womman that been nat maried ; and this is deedly sinne and agayns nature. / Al that is 865 enemy and destruccioun to nature is agayns nature. / Parfay, the resoun of a man telleth eek him wel that it is deedly sinne, for-as-muche as god forbad Lecherie. And seint Paul yeveth hem the regne, that nis dewe to no wight but to hem that doon deedly sinne. / Another sinne of Lecherie is to bireve a mayden of hir maydenhede; for he that so dooth, certes, he casteth a mayden out of the hyeste degree that is in this present lyf./ and bireveth hir thilke precious fruit that the book clepeth ' the hundred fruit.' I ne can seve it noon other weyes in English, but in Latin it highte Centesimus fructus. Certes, he that so dooth is cause of manye damages and vileinyes, mo than any man can rekene; right as he somtyme is cause of alle damages that bestes don in the feeld, that breketh the heggo or the closure; thurgh which he dcstroyeth that may nat been restored. / 870 For certes, na-more may maydenhede be restored than an arm that is smiten fro the body may retourne agayn to wexe. / She may have mercy, this woot I wel, if she do penitence; but nevere shal it be that she nas corrupt. / And al-be-it so that I have spoken somwhat of Avoutrie, it is good to shewen mo perils that longen to Avoutrie, for to eschue that fould sinne. / Avoutrio in Latin is for to seyn, approchinge of other mannes bed, thurgh

- which tho that whylom weren o flessh (800) abaundone hir bodyes to othere persones./ Of this sinne, as seith the wyse man, folwen manye harmes. First, brekinge of feith; and certes, in feith is the keye 875 of Cristendom./ And whan that feith is broken and lorn, soothly Cristendom stant veyn and with-outen fruit. / This sinne is eek a thefte ; for thefte generally is for to reve a wight his thing agayns his wille. / Certes, this is the fouleste thefte that may be, whan a womman steleth hir body from hir housbonde and veveth it to hire holour to defoulen hir: and steleth hir soule fro Crist, and yeveth it to the devel. / This is a fouler thefte, than for to breke a chirche and stele the chalice; for thise avoutiers breken the temple of god spiritually, and stelen the vessel of grace, that is, the body and the soule, for which Crist shal destroyen hem, as seith seint Paul. / Soothly of this thefte douted gretly Joseph, whan that his lordes wyf preyed him of vileinye, whan he seyde, 'lo, my lady, how my lord hath take to me under my warde al that he hath in this world; ne no-thing of hise thinges is out of my power, but only ye 880 that been his wyf. / And how sholde I thanne do this wikkednesse, and sinne so horribly agayns god, and agayns my lord? God it forbede.' Allas! al to litel is swich trouthe now y-founde! / The thridde harm is the filthe thurgh which they breken the comandement of god, and defoulen the auctour of matrimoine, that is Crist. / For certes, in-so-muche as the sacrement of mariage is so noble and so digne, so muche is it gretter sinne for to breken it; for god made mariage in paradys, in the estaat of innocence, to multiplye man-kinde to the service of
- breken it; for god made mariage in paradys, in the estaat of innocence, to multiplye man-kinde to the service of god. / And therfore is the brekinge ther-of more grevons. Of which brekinge comen false heires ofte tyme, that wrongfully occupyen folkes heritages. And therfore wol Crist putte hem out of the regne of hevene, that is heritage to gode (810) folk. / Of this brekinge comth eek ofte
- tyme, that folk unwar wedden or sinnen with hir owene kinrede; and namely thilke harlottes that haunten bordels of thise fool wommen, that mowe be lykned to a commune gonge, where-as men purgen hir ordure. / What seye we eek of putours that liven by the horrible sinne of puterie, and constrevne wommen to velden to hem a certevn rente of hir bodily puterie. ye, somtyme of his owene wyf or his child; as doon this baudes? Certes, thise been cursede sinnes. / Understond eek, that avoutrie is set gladly in the ten comandements bitwixe thefte and manslaughtre; for it is the gretteste thefte that may be; for it is thefte of body and of soule. / And it is lyk to homicyde; for it kerveth a-two and breketh a-two hem that first were maked o flesh, and therfore, by the olde lawe of god, they sholde be slayn. / But nathelees, by the lawe of Jesu Crist, that is lawe of pitee, whan he seyde to the womman that was founden in avoutrie, and sholde han been slayn with stones, after the wil of the Jewes, as was hir lawe : 'Go,' quod Jesu Crist, 'and have na-more wil to sinne'; or, 'wille na-more to do sinne.' / Soothly, the vengeaunce of avoutrie is awarded to the peynes of helle, but-if so be that it be destourbed by penitence. / Yet been ther mo speces of this cursed sinne; as whan that oon of hem is religious, or elles bothe; or of folk that been entred in-to ordre, as subdekne or dekne, or preest, or hospitaliers. And evere the hyer that he is in ordre, the gretter is the sinne. / The thinges that gretly agreggen hir sinne is the brekinge of hir avow of chastitee, whan they receyved the ordre./ And forther-over, sooth is, that holy ordre is chief of al the tresorie of god, and his especial signe and mark of chastitee; to shewe that they been joyned to chastitee, which that is most precious lyf that is. / And thise ordred folk been specially tytled to god, and of the special meynee of god; for which, whan they doon deedly sinne, they been the special traytours of god and of his peple; for they liven of the peple, to preye for the peple, and whyle they been suche traitours, hir preyers availen nat to the peple. / Preestes been aungeles, as by the dignitee of hir misterye ; but for sothe, seint Paul seith, that 'Sathanas transformeth him in an aungel of light.' / Soothly, the preest that haunteth deedly sinne, he may be lykned to the aungel of derknesse transformed in the aungel of light : he semeth aungel of light, but for sothe he is aungel of derknesse. / Swiche preestes been the sones of Helie, as sheweth in the book of Kinges, that they weren the sones of Belial, that is, the devel. / Belial is to seyn 'with-outen juge'; and so faren they; hem thinketh they been free, and han no juge, na-more than hath a free bole that taketh which cow that him lyketh in the toun. / So faren they by wommen. For right as a free bole is y-nough for al a toun, right so is a wikked preest corrupcioun v-nough for al a parisshe, or for al a contree. / Thise preestes, as seith the book, ne conne nat the misterie of preesthode to the peple, ne god. ne knowe they nat; they ne helde hem nat apayd, as seith the book, of soden flesh that was to hem offred, but they toke by force the flesh that is rawe. / Certes, so thise shrewes ne holden hem nat apayed of rosted flesh and sode flesh, with which the peple fedden hem in greet reverence, but they wole have raw flesh of folkes wyves and hir doghtres. / And certes, thise wommen that consenten to hir harlotrie doon greet wrong to Crist and to holy chirche and alle halwes, and to alle soules ; for they bireven alle thise him that sholde worshipe Crist and holy chirche, and preve for Cristene soules. / And therfore han swiche preestes, and hir lemmanes eek that consenten to hir lecherie, the malisoun of al the court Cristen, til they come to amendement. / The thridde spece of avoutrie is som-tyme bitwixe a man and his wyf; and that is whan they take no reward in hir assemblinge, but only to hire fleshly delyt, as ) seith seint Jerome ; / and ne rekken of no-thing but that they been assembled ; by-cause that they been maried, al is good y-nough, as thinketh to hem. / But in swich folk hath the devel power, as seyde the aungel Raphael to Thobie ; for in hir assemblinge they putten Jesu Crist out of hir herte, and yeven hem-self to alle ordure. / The fourthe spece is, the assemblee of hem that been of hire kinrede, or of hem that been of oon affinitee, or elles with hem with whiche hir fadres or hir kinrede han deled in the sinne of lecherie ; this sinne maketh hem lyk to houndes, that taken no kepe to kinrede. / And certes, parentele is in two maneres, outher goostly or fleshly; goostly, as for to delen with hise godsibbes. / For right so as he that engendreth a child is his fleshly fader. right so is his godfader his fader espirituel. For which a womman may in no lasse sinne assemblen with hir godsib than with hir owene fleshly brother. / The fifthe spece is thilke abhominable sinne, of which that no man unnethe oghte speke ne wryte, nathelees it is openly reherced in holy writ. / This cursednesse doon men 910 and wommen in diverse entente and in diverse manere; but though that holy writ speke of horrible sinne, certes, holy writ may nat been defouled, na-more than the sonne that shyneth on the mixen. / Another sinne aperteneth to lecherie, that comth in slepinge; and this sinne cometh ofte to hem that been maydenes, and eek to hem that been corrupt; and this sinne men clepen pollucioun, that comth in foure maneres. / Somtyme, of languissinge of body; for the humours been to ranke and habundaunt in the body of man. Somtyme of infermetee: for the feblesse of the vertu retentif, as phisik maketh mencioun. Somtyme, for surfect of mete and drinke, / And somtyme of vileyns thoghtes, that been enclosed in mannes minde whan he goth to slepe; which may nat been with-oute sinne. For which men moste kepen hem wysely, or elles may men sinnen ful grevously. / (810)

Remedium contra peccatum Luxurie.

§ 77. Now comth the remedie agayns Lecherie, and that is, generally, Chastitee and Continence, that restreyneth alle the desordeynee moevinges that comen of 015 fleshly talentes. / And evere the gretter merite shal he han, that most restreyneth the wikkede eschaufinges of the ordure of this sinne. And this is in two maneres. that is to seyn, chastitee in mariage, and chastitee in widwehode. / Now shaltow understonde, that matrimoine is leefful assemblinge of man and of womman, that receyven by vertu of the sacrement the bond, thurgh which they may nat be departed in al hir lyf, that is to seyn, whyl that they liven bothe. / This, as seith the book, is a ful greet sacrement. God maked it, as I have seyd, in paradys, and wolde him-self be born in mariage. / And for to halwen mariage, he was at a weddinge, where-as he turned water in-to wyn ; which was the firste miracle that he wroghte in erthe biforn hise disciples. / Trewe effect of mariage clenseth fornicacioun and replenisseth holy chirche of good linage; for that is the ende of mariage; and it chaungeth deedly sinne in-to venial sinne bitwixe hem that been y-wedded, and maketh the hertes al oon of hem that been y-wedded, as wel as the 920 bodies. / This is verray mariage, that was establissed by god or that simne bigan, whan naturel lawe was in his right point in paradys; and it was ordeyned that o man sholde have but o womman, and o womman but o man, as seith seint Augustin, by manye resouns. /

§ 78. First, for mariage is figured bitwixe Crist and holy chirche. And that other is, for a man is heved of a womman : algate, by ordinaunce it sholde be so. / For if a womman had mo men than oon. thanne sholde she have mo hevedes than oon, and that were an horrible thing biforn god ; and eek a womman ne mighte nat plese to many folk at ones. And also ther ne sholde nevere be pees ne reste amonges hem; for everich wolde axen his owene thing. / And forther-over, no man ne sholde knowe his owene engendrure, ne who sholde have his heritage : and the womman sholde been the lasse biloved, fro the time that she were con-(850) joynt to many men. /

§ 79. Now comth, how that a man sholde bere him with his wvf; and namely, in two thinges, that is to seyn in suffraunce and reverence, as shewed Crist whan he made first womman. / For he g ne made hir nat of the heved of Adam, for she shelde nat clayme to greet lordshipe. / For ther-as the womman hath the maistrie, she maketh to muche desray; ther neden none ensamples of this. The experience of day by day oghte suffyse. / Also certes, god ne made nat womman of the foot of Adam, for she ne sholde nat been holden to lowe; for she can nat paciently suffre : but god made womman of the rib of Adam, for womman sholde be felawe un-to man. / Man sholde bere him to his wyf in feith, in trouthe, and in love, as seith seint Paul: that 'a man sholde loven his wyf as Crist loved holy chirche, that loved it so wel that he devde for it.' So sholde a man for his wyf, if it were nede. /

§ 80. Now how that a womman sholde be subget to hir housbonde, that telleth seint Peter, First, in obedience. / And o eek, as seith the decree, a womman that is a wyf, as longe as she is a wyf, she hath noon auctoritee to swere ne bere witnesse with-oute leve of hir housbonde, that is hir lord; algate, he sholde be so by resoun. / She sholde eek serven him in alle honestee, and been attempree of hir array. I wot wel that they sholde setten hir entente to plesen hir housbondes, but nat by hir queyntise of array. / Seint Jerome seith, that wyves that been apparailled in silk and in precious purpre ne mowe nat clothen hem in Jesu Crist. What seith seint John eek in this matere?/ Seint Gregorie eek seith, that no wight seketh precious array but only for veyne glorie, to been honoured the more biforn the peple. / It is a greet folye, a womman ( to have a fair array outward and in hirself be foul inward. / A wyf sholde eek o be mesurable in lokinge and in beringe and in laughinge, and discreet in alle hir wordes and hir dedes. / And aboven alle worldly thing she sholde loven hir housbonde with al hir herte, and to him be

trewe of hir body: / so sholde an housbonde eek be to his wyf. For sith that al the body is the housbondes, so sholde hir herte been, or elles ther is bitwixe hem two, as in that, no parfit mariage. / Thanne shal men understonde that for three thinges a man and his wyf fleshly mowen assemble. The firste is in entente of engendrure of children to the service of god, for certes that is the cause fynal of matrimoine. / Another cause is, to yelden everich of hem to other the dette of hir bodies, for neither of hem hath power over his owene body. The thridde is, for to eschewe lecherye and vileinye. o The ferthe is for sothe deedly sinne. /

As to the firste, it is meritorie; the seconde also; for, as seith the decree, that she hath merite of chastitee that yeldeth to hir housbonde the dette of hir body, ye, though it be agayn hir lykinge and the lust of hir herte. / The thridde manere is venial sinne, and trewely scarsly may ther any of thise be with-oute venial sinne, for the corrupcion and for the delyt. / The fourthe manere is for to understonde, if they assemble only for amorous love and for noon of the forseyde causes, but for to accomplice thilke brenninge delyt, they rekke nevere how ofte, sothly it is deedly sinne; and yet, with sorwe, somme folk wol peynen hem more to doon than to hir appetyt suffyseth. /

§ 81. The seconde manere of chastitee is for to been a clene widewe, and eschue the embracinges of man, and desyren the b) embracinge of Jesu Crist. / Thise been the that han been wyves and han forgoon hir housbondes, and eek wommen that han doon lecherie and been releeved by 5 Penitence. / And certes, if that a wyf coude kepen hir al chaast by licence of hir housbonde, so that she yeve nevere noon occasion that he agilte, it were to hire a greet merite. / Thise manere wommen that observen chastitee moste be clene in herte as well as in body and in thoght, and mesurable in clothinge and in contenaunce ; and been abstinent in etinge and drinkinge, in spekinge, and in dede. They been the vessel or the boyste of the blissed Magdalene, that fulfilleth holy chirche of good odorr. / The thridde manere of chastitee is virginitee, and it bihoveth that she be holy in herte and clene of body; thanne is she sponse to Jesu Crist, and she is the lyf of angeleś. / She is the preisinge of this world, and she is as thise martirs in egalitee; she hath in hir that tonge may nattelle neherte thinke. Virginitee baar oure lord Jesu Crist, and virgine was him-selve, /  $95^{\circ}$

§ 82. Another remedie agayns Lecherie is, specially to withdrawen swiche thinges as yeve occasion to thilke vileinye; as ese, etinge and drinkinge; for certes, whan the pot boyleth strongly, the beste remedie is to withdrawe the fyr. / Slepinge longe in greet quiete is eek a greet norice to Lecherie. /

§ 83. Another remedie agayns Lecherie is, that a man or a womman eschue the companye of hem by whiche he douteth to be tempted; for al-be-it so that the dede is withstonden, yet is ther greet temptacioun. / Soothly a whyt wal, although it ne brenne noght fully by stikinge of a candele, yet is the wal blak of the leyt. / Ful ofte tyme I rede, that (830) no man truste in his owene perfeccioun, but he be stronger than Sampson, and holier than +David, and wyser than Salomon. / 955

§ 84. Now after that I have declared yow, as I can, the sevene deedly sinnes, and somme of hir braunches and hir remedies, soothly, if I coude, I wolde telle yow the ten comandements. / But so heigh a doctrine I lete to divincs. Nathelees, I hope to god they been touched in this tretice, everich of hem alle. /

De Confessione.

§ S5. Now for-as-muche as the second partie of Penitence stant in Confessioun of month, as I bigan in the firste chapitre, I seye, seint Augustin seith : / sinne is every word and every dede, and al that men coveiten agynt the lawe of Jesu

Crist; and this is for to sinne in herte, in mouth, and in dede, by thy fyve wittes, that been sighte, heringe, smellinge, tastinge or savouringe, and felinge. / Now is it good to understonde that that 960 agreggeth muchel every sinne. / Thou shalt considere what thou art that doost the sinne, whether thou be male or femele, yong or old, gentil or thral, free or servant, hool or syk, wedded or sengle, ordred or unordred was or fool elerk or ordred or unordred, wys or fool, clerk or seculer;/ if she be of thy kinrede, bodily or goostly, or noon; if any of thy kinrede have sinned with hir or noon, and manye mo thinges./

§ 86. Another circumstannee is this; whether it be doon in fornicacioun, or in avoutrie, or noon; incest, or noon; mayden, or noon; in manere of homicyde, or noon; horrible grete sinnes, or smale; and how longe thou hast continued in sinne. / The thridde circumstannee is the place ther thou hast do sinne; whether in other mennes hous or in thyn owene; in feeld or in chirche, or in chirche-hawe;

- (890) in chirche dedicat, or noon. / For if the chirche be halwed, and man or womman spille his kinde in-with that place by wey of sinne, or by wikked temptacion, the chirche is entredited til it be reconciled
  - 965 by the bishop; / and the preest that dide swich a vileinye, to terme of al his lyf, he sholde na-more singe masse; and if he dide, he sholde doon deedly sinne at every tyme that he so songe masse. / The fourthe circumstaunce is, by whiche mediatours or by whiche messagers, as for entycement, or for consentement to bere companye with felaweshipe; for many a wrecche, for to bere companye, wil go to the devel of helle. / Wher-fore they that eggen or consenten to the sinne been parteners of the sinne, and of the dampnacioun of the sinner. / The fifthe circumstaunce is, how manye tymes that he hath sinned, if it be in his minde, and how ofte that he hath falle. / For he that ofte falleth in sinne, he despiseth the mercy of god, and encreesseth his sinne, and is unkinde to Crist; and he wexeth the more feble to withstonde sinne, and sinneth the more lightly, / 9 and the latter aryseth, and is the more eschew for to shryven him, namely, to him that is his confessour. / For which that folk, whan they falle agavn in hir olde folies, outher they forleten hir olde confessours al outrely, or elles they departen hir shrift in diverse places; but soothly, swich departed shrift deserveth no mercy of god of hise sinnes. / The sixte circumstaunce is, why that a man sinneth, as by whiche temptacioun : and if him-self procure thilke temptacioun. or by the excytinge of other folk : or if he sinne with a womman by force, or by hir owene assent; / or if the womman, maugree hir heed, hath been afforced, or noon; this shal she telle; for coveitise. or for poverte, and if it was hir procuringe. or noon ; and swiche manere harneys. / ( The seventhe circumstaunce is, in what manere he hath doon his sinne, or how that she hath suffred that folk han doon to hir. / And the same shal the man o telle pleynly, with alle circumstaunces ; and whether he hath sinned with comune bordel-wommen, or noon; / or doon his sinne in holy tymes, or noon ; in fastingtymes, or noon; or biforn his shrifte, or after his latter shrifte; / and hath, peraventure, broken ther-fore his penance enjoyned; by whos help and whos conseil; by sorcerie or craft; al moste be told. / Alle thise thinges, after that they been grete or smale, engreggen the conscience of man. And eek the preest that is thy juge, may the bettre been avysed of his jugement in yevinge of thy penaunce, and that is after thy contricioun. / For understond wel, that after tyme that a man hath defouled his baptesme by sinne, if he wole come to salvacioun, ther is noon other wey but by penitence and shrifte and satisfaccioun ; / and namely o by the two, if ther be a confessour to which he may shryven him; and the thridde, if he have lyf to parfournen it. / the king Ezekias to god : 'I wol remembre me alle the yeres of my lyf in bitternesse of myn herte.' / This condicioun of bitternesse hath fyve signes. The firste is, that confessioun moste be shamefast, nat for to covere ne hyden his sinne, for he hath agilt his god and defouled his o) soule. / And her-of seith seint Augustin : 'the herte travailleth for shame of his sinne'; and for he hath greet shamefastnesse, he is digne to have greet mercy of S; god. / Swich was the confession of the publican, that wolde nat heven up hise eyen to hevene, for he hadde offended god of hevene: for which shamefastnesse he hadde anon the mercy of god. / And ther-of seith seint Augustin, that swich shamefast folk been next foryevenesse and remissioun. / Another signe is humilitee in confessioun ; of which seith seint Peter, 'Humbleth yow under the might of god.' The hond of god is mighty in confession, for ther-by god foryeveth thee thy sinnes; for he allone hath the power. / And this humilitee shal been in herte, and in signe outward; for right as he hath humilitee to god in his herte, right so sholde he humble his body outward to the preest that sit in goddes place. / For which in no manere, sith that Crist is sovereyn and the preest mene and mediatour bitwixe Crist and the sinnere, and the go sinnere is the laste by wey of resoun, / thanne sholde nat the sinnere sitte as heighe as his confessour, but knele biforn him or at his feet, but-if maladie destourbe it. For he shal nat taken kepe who sit there, but in whos place that he sitteth, / A man that hath trespased to a lord, and comth for to axe mercy and maken his accord, and set him down anon by the lord, men wolde holden him outrageous, and nat worthy so sone for to have remissioun ne mercy. / The thridde signe is, how that thy shrift sholde be ful of teres, if man may; and if man may nat wepe with hise bodily eyen, lat him wepe in herte. / Swich was the confession of seint Peter;' for after that he hadde foure condiciouns. / First, it moot been in sorweful bitternesse of herte, as sevde

§ 87. Thanne shal man looke and considere, that if he wole maken a trewe and a profitable confessioun, ther moste be T. § S8.]

forsake Jesu Crist, he wente out and weep ful bitterly. / The fourthe signe is, (920) that he ne lette nat for shame to shewen his confession. / Swich was the con-995 fessioun of the Magdelene, that ne spared, for no shame of hem that weren atto feste, for to go to oure lord Jesu Crist and biknowe to him hir sinnes. / The fifthe signe is, that a man or a womman be obeisant to receyven the penaunce that him is enjoyned for hise sinnes; for certes Jesu Crist, for the giltes of a man, was obedient to the deeth. /

§ 88. The seconde condicion of verray confession is, that it be hastily doon ; for certes, if a man hadde a deedly wounde, evere the lenger that he taried to warisshe him-self, the more wolde it corrupte and haste him to his deeth; and eek the wounde wolde be the wors for to hele. / And right so fareth sinne, that longe tyme is in a man unshewed. / Certes, a man oghte hastily shewen hise sinnes for manye causes ; as for drede of deeth, that cometh ofte sodenly, and is in no certeyn what tyme it shal be, ne in what place; and eek the drecchinge of o synne draweth in another; / and eek the lenger that he 1000 tarieth, the ferther he is fro Crist. And if he abyde to his laste day, scarsly may he shryven him or remembre him of hise sinnes, or repenten him, for the grevous maladie of his deeth. / And for-as-muche as he ne hath nat in his lyf herkned Jesu Crist, whanne he hath spoken, he shal crye to Jesn Crist at his laste day, and scarsly wol he herkne him. / And understond that this condicioun moste han foure thinges. Thy shrift moste be purveyed bifore and avysed; for wikked haste doth no profit; and that a man conne shryve him of hise sinnes, be it of pryde, or of envye, and so forth of the speces and circumstances; / and that he have comprehended in his minde the nombre and the greetnesse of hise sinnes, and how longe that he hath leyn in sinne; / and eek that he be contrit of (930) hise sinnes, and in stedefast purpos, by the grace of god, nevere eft to falle in sinne ; and eek that he drede and countre-

waite him-self, that he flee the occasiouns 1005 of sinne to whiche he is enclyned. / Also thou shalt shryve thee of alle thy sinnes to o man, and nat a parcel to o man and a parcel to another; that is to understonde, in entente to departe thy confessioun as for shame or drede; for it nis but stranglinge of thy soule. / For certes, Jesu Crist is entierly al good ; in him nis noon inperfeccioun ; and therfore outher he foryeveth al parfitly or never a deel. / I seve nat that if thou be assigned to the penitauncer for certein sinne, that thou art bounde to shewen him al the remenaunt of thy sinnes, of whiche thou hast be shriven to thy curat, but-if it lyke to thee of thyn humilitee; this is no departinge of shrifte. / Ne I seve nat, ther-as I speke of divisioun of confessioun, that if thou have lycence for to shryve thee to a discreet and an honeste preest, where thee lyketh, and by lycence of thy curat, that thou ne mayst wel shryve thee to him of alle thy sinnes. / But lat no blotte be bihinde ; lat no sinne been untold, as fer as thou hast remem-1010 braunce. / And whan thou shalt be shriven to thy curat, telle him eek alle the sinnes that thou hast doon sin thou were last y-shriven; this is no wikked entente of divisioun of shrifte. / § 89. Also the verray shrifte axeth certeine condiciouns. First, that thou shryve thee by thy free wil, noght constreyned, ne for shame of folk, ne for maladie, ne swiche thinges; for it is resoun that he that trespasseth by his free wil, that by his free wil he confesse his trespas; / and that noon other man telle his sinne but he him-self, ne he shal nat nayte ne denye his sinne, ne wratthe him agayn the preest for his amonestinge to leve sinne. / The seconde condicioun is, that thy shrift be laweful; that is to seyn, that thou that shryvest thee, and eek the preest that hereth thy confessioun,

- (940) been verraily in the feith of holy chirche;/ and that a man ne be nat despeired of the
- 1015 mercy of Jesu Crist, as Caym or Judas. / And eek a man moot accusen him-self of his owene trespas, and nat another; but he shal blame and wyten him-self and his owene malice of his sinne, and noon other; / but nathelees, if that another man be occasioun or entycer of his sinne, or the estaat of a persone be swich thurgh which his sinne is agregged, or elles that he may nat pleynly shryven him but he telle the persone with which he hath sinned; thanne may he telle; / so that his entente ne be nat to bakbyte the persone, but only to declaren his confessiour. /

§ 90. Thou ne shalt nat eek make no lesinges in thy confessioun ; for humilitee, per-aventure, to sevn that thou hast doon sinnes of whiche that thou were nevere gilty. / For seint Augustin seith : if thou, by cause of thyn humilitee, makest lesinges on thy-self, though thou ne were nat in sinne biforn, yet artow thanne in sinne thurgh thy lesinges. / Thou most 10 eek shewe thy sinne by thyn owene propre mouth, but thou be wexe doumb, and nat by no lettre ; for thou that hast doon the sinne, thou shalt have the shame therfore./ Thou shalt nat eek peynte thy confessioun by faire subtile wordes, to covere the more thy sinne; for thanne bigylestow thy-self and nat the preest; thou most tellen it pleynly, be it nevere so foul ne so horrible. / Thou shalt eek shryve thee to a preest that is discreet to conseille thee, and eek thou shalt nat shrvve thee for veyne glorie, ne for ypocrisye, ne for no cause, but only for the doute of Jesu Crist and the hele of thy soule. / Thou shalt nat eek renne to the preest sodeynly, to tellen him lightly thy sinne, as who-so telleth a jape or a tale, but avysely and with greet devocioun. / And generally, (9) shryve thee ofte. If thou ofte falle, ofte thou aryse by confessioun. / And thogh 10 thou shrvve thee ofter than ones of sinne. of which thou hast be shriven, it is the more merite. And, as seith seint Augustin, thou shalt have the more lightly relesing and grace of god, bothe of sinne and of peyne. / And certes, ones a yere atte leeste wey it is laweful for to been housled; for certes ones a yere alle thinges renovellen. /

Explicit secunda pars Penitencie; et sequitur tercia pars eiusdem, de Satisfaccione.

§ 91. Now have I told you of verray Confessioun, that is the seconde partie of Penitence. /

The thridde partie of Penitence is Satisfaccioun ; and that stant most generally in almesse and in bodily peyne. / Now been ther three manere of almesses : contricion of herte, where a man offreth himself to god; another is, to han pitee of defaute of hise neighebores; and the thridde is, in yevinge of good conseil goostly and bodily, where men han nede, and namely in sustenaunce of mannes

o fode. / And tak keep, that a man hath need of thise thinges generally ; he hath need of fode, he hath nede of clothing, and herberwe, he hath nede of charitable conseil, and visitinge in prisone and in maladie, and sepulture of his dede body. / And if thou mayst nat visite the nedeful with thy persone, visite him by thy message and by thy yiftes. / Thise been generally almesses or werkes of charitee of hem that han temporel richesses or discrecioun in conseilinge. Of thise werkes shaltow heren at the day of dome. /

§ 92. Thise almesses shaltow doon of thyne owene propre thinges, and hastily. ) and prively if thou mayst; / but nathelees, if thou mayst nat doon it prively. thou shalt nat forbere to doon almesse though men seen it; so that it be nat doon for thank of the world, but only for 3 thank of Jesu Crist. / For as witnesseth seint Mathew, capitulo quinto, 'A citee may nat been hid that is set on a montayne : ne men lighte nat a lanterne and put it under a busshel ; but men sette it on a candle-stikke, to yeve light to the men in the hous. / Right so shal youre light lighten bifore men, that they may seen youre gode werkes, and glorifie youre fader that is in hevene.' /

$ 93. Now as to speken of bodily peyne, it stant in preyeres, in wakinges, in fastinges, in vertuouse techinges of orisouns. / And ye shul understonde, that orisouns or

preyeres is for to seyn a pitous wil of herte, that redresseth it in god and expresseth it by word outward, to remoeven harmes and to han thinges espirituel and durable, and somtyme temporel thinges; of whiche orisouns, certes, in the orisoun of the Pater-noster, hath Jesu Crist enclosed most thinges. / Certes, it is privileged of three thinges in his dignitee, for which it is more digne than any other preyere; for that Jesu Crist him-self maked it; / and it is short, for it 1040 sholde be coud the more lightly, and for to withholden it the more esily in herte. and helpen him-self the ofter with the orisoun; / and for a man sholde be the lasse wery to seven it, and for a man may nat excusen him to lerne it, it is so short and so esy; and for it comprehendeth in it-self alle gode preyeres. / The exposicioun of this holy preyere, that is so excellent and digne, I bitake to thise maistres of theologie; save thus muchel wol I sevn : that, whan thou pravest that god sholde foryeve thee thy giltes as thou foryevest hem that agilten to thee, be ful wel war that thou be nat out of charitee. / This holy orisoun amenuseth eek venial sinne; and therfore it aperteneth specially to penitence. / (970)

§ 94. This preyere moste be trewely seyd and in verray feith, and that men preye to god ordinatly and discreetly and devoutly; and alwey a man shal putten his wil to be subget to the wille of god. / 1045 This orisoun moste eek been seyd with greet humblesse and ful pure; honestly, and nat to the anoyaunce of any man or womman. It moste eek been continued with the werkes of charitee. / It avayleth eek agayn the vyces of the soule; for, as seith seint Jerome, 'By fastinge been saved the vyces of the flesh, and by preyere the vyces of the soule.' /

§ 95. After this, thou shalt understonde, that bodily peyne stant in wakinge; for Jesu Crist seith, 'waketh, and preyeth that ye ne entre in wikked temptacioun.' / Ye shul understanden also, that fastinge stant in three thinges; in forberinge of bodily mete and drinke, and in forberinge of worldly jolitee, and in forberinge of deedly sinne ; this is to seyn, that a man shal kepen him fro deedly sinne with al his might. /

§ 96. And thou shalt understanden eek, that god ordeyned fastinge; and to fastinge 1050 appertenen foure thinges. / Largenesse to povre folk, gladnesse of herte espirituel, nat to been angry ne anoyed, ne grucche for he fasteth; and also resonable houre for to ete by mesure ; that is for to seyn, a man shal nat ete in untyme, ne sitte the lenger at his table to ete for he fasteth. /

§ 97. Thanne shaltow understonde, that bodily peyne stant in disciplyne or techinge, by word or by wrytinge, or in ensample. Also in weringe of heyres or of stamin, or of haubergeons on hir naked flesh, for Cristes sake, and swiche manere penances. / But war thee wel that swiche manere penances on thy flesh ne make nat thyn herte bitter or angry or anoyed of thy-self; for bettre is to caste awey thyn heyre, than for to caste away the sikernesse of Jesu Crist. / And therfore seith seint Paul: 'Clothe yow, as they that been chosen of god, in herte of misericorde, debonairetee, suffraunce, and swich manere of clothinge'; of whiche Jesu Crist is more apayed than of heyres, (o8o) or haubergeons, or hauberkes. /

§ 98. Thanne is disciplyne eek in knokkinge of thy brest, in scourginge with 1055 yerdes, in knelinges, in tribulacions; / in suffringe paciently wronges that been doon to thee, and eek in pacient suffraunce of maladies, or lesinge of worldly catel, or of wyf, or of child, or othere freendes. /

§ 99. Thanne shaltow understonde, whiche thinges destourben penaunce; and this is in four maneres, that is, drede, shame, hope, and wanhope, that is, desperacion. / And for to speke first of drede ; for which he weneth that he may suffre no penaunce; / ther-agayns is remedie for to thinke, that bodily penaunce is but short and litel at regard of the peyne of helle, that is so cruel and so long, that it lasteth with-outen ende. /

§ 100. Now again the shame that a man hath to shryven him, and namely, thise ypocrites that wolden been holden so parfite that they han no nede to shrvven hem; / agayns that shame, sholde a man 10 thinke that, by wey of resoun, that he that hath nat been ashamed to doon foule thinges, certes him oghte nat been ashamed to do faire thinges, and that is confessiouns. / A man sholde eek thinke, that god seeth and woot alle hise thoghtes and alle hise werkes; to him may no thing been hid ne covered. / Men sholden eek remembren hem of the shame that is to come at the day of dome, to hem that been nat penitent and shriven in this present lyf. / For alle the creatures in erthe and in helle shullen seen apertly al that they hyden in this world. /

§ 101. Now for to speken of the hope of hem that been necligent and slowe to shryven hem, that stant in two maneres. / 10 That oon is, that he hopeth for to live longe and for to purchacen muche richesse for his delyt, and thanne he wol shryven him; and, as he seith, him semeth thanne tymely y-nough to come to shrifte. / Another is, surquidrie that he hath in Cristes mercy. / Agayns the firste vyce, he shal thinke, that oure lyf is in no sikernesse; and eek that alle the richesses in this world ben in aventure, and passen as a shadwe on the wal. / And, as seith seint Gregorie, that it aperteneth to the grete rightwisnesse of god, that nevere shal the peyne stinte of hem that nevere wolde withdrawen hem fro sinne, hir thankes, but ay continue in sinne; for thilke perpetuel wil to do sinne shul they han perpetuel peyne. /

§ 102. Wanhope is in two maneres: the firste wanhope is in the mercy of Crist; that other is that they thinken, that they ne mighte nat longe persevere in goodnesse. / The firste wanhope comth 10; of that he demeth that he hath sinned so greetly and so ofte, and so longe levn in sinne, that he shal nat be saved. / Certes, agayns that cursed wanhope sholde he thinke, that the passion of Jesu Crist is more strong for to unbinde than sinne is strong for to binde. / Agayns the seconde wanhope, he shal thinke, that as ofte as he falleth he may aryse agayn by penitence. And thogh he never so longe have leyn in sinne, the mercy of Crist is alwey redy to receiven him to mercy. / Agayns the wanhope, that he demoth that he sholde nat longe persevere in goodnesse, he shal thinke, that the feblesse of the devel may no-thing doon (1000) but-if men wol suffren him; / and eek he shal han strengthe of the help of god, and of al holy chirche, and of the pro-1075 teccioun of aungels, if him list. /

T. $$ 96-102.

(00

§ 103. Thanne shal men understonde what is the fruit of penaunce ; and, after the word of Jesu Crist, it is the endelees blisse of hevene, / ther joye hath no contrarioustee of wo ne grevaunce, ther alle harmes been passed of this present lyf; ther-as is the sikernesse fro the peyne of helle; ther-as is the blisful companye that rejoysen hem everemo, everich of otheres joye; / ther-as the body of man, that whylom was foul and derk, is more cleer than the sonne; ther-as the body, that whylom was syk, freele, and feble, and mortal, is inmortal, and so strong and so hool that ther may no-thing apeyren it; / ther-as ne is neither hunger, thurst, ne cold, but every soule replenissed with the sighte of the parfit knowinge of god. / This blisful regne may men purchace by poverte espirituel, and the glorie by lowenesse; the plentee of joye by hunger and thurst, and the reste by travaille; and the lyf by deeth and 1080 mortificacion of sinne. /

Here taketh the makere of this book his leve.

§ 104. Now preye I to hem alle that herkne this litel tretis or rede, that if ther be any thing in it that lyketh hem, that ther-of they thanken oure lord Jesu Crist, of whom procedeth al wit and al goodnesse. / And if ther be any thing that displese hem, I preye hem also that they arrette it to the defaute of myn unconninge, and nat to my wil, that wolde ful fayn have seyd bettre if I hadde had conninge. / For oure boke seith, 'al that is writen is writen for oure doctrine'; and that is myn entente. / Wherfore I biseke yow mekely for the mercy of god, that ye preye for me, that Crist have mercy on me and foryeve me my giltes : / (1010) -and namely, of my translacions and endytinges of worldly vanitees, the whiche I revoke in my retracciouns: / as is the 1085 book of Troilus; The book also of Fame; The book of the nynetene Ladies; The book of the Duchesse ; The book of seint Valentynes day of the Parlement of Briddes; The tales of Caunterbury, thilke that sounen in-to sinne; / The book of the Leoun; and many another book, if they were in my remembrance; and many a song and many a lecherous lay; that Crist for his grete mercy foryeve me the sinne. / But of the translacion of Boece de Consolacione, and othere bokes of Legendes of seintes, and omelies, and moralitee, and devocioun, / that thanke I oure lord Jesu Crist and his blisful moder, and alle the seintes of hevene; / bisekinge hem that they from hennesforth, un-to my lyves ende, sende me grace to biwayle my giltes, and to studie to the salvacioun of my soule :--and graunte me grace of verray penitence, confessioun and satisfaccioun to doon in this present lyf; / thurgh the benigne 1090 grace of him that is king of kinges and preest over alle preestes, that boghte us with the precious blood of his herte ; / so that I may been oon of hem at the day of dome that shulle be saved : Qui cum patre. dc. 1092

Here is ended the book of the Tales of Caunterbury, compiled by Geffrey Chaucer, of whos soule Jesu Crist have mercy. Amen.

APPENDIX.

VARIATIONS AND EMENDATIONS.

The text of Chaucer is, in some places, corrupt, and in others can be much improved by some emendation, usually of a slight character.

The text of the best authorities, as improved by collation with other good authorities, is here given. Variations from these are denoted by an obelus  $(\dagger)$  in the text, which may be considered as marking a reading as to which there is some doubt. These are most numerous in the Romaunt of the Rose, the Book of the Duchesse, and the House of Fame. There are very few doubtful readings in the Canterbury Tales, for which there are better authorities than in other cases. In the following Appendix all the doubtful readings and editorial emendations are accounted for. I do not, however, notice words which are placed between square brackets, such as the word 'a' on p. 1, 1 a. It will be understood, once for all, that all such words are supplied, and are missing in the originals, though often necessary for the sense or the metre, or for both.

ROMAUNT OF THE ROSE.

The authorities are G. (the Glasgow MS.); and Th. (Thynne's edition of 1532). Also, from the nature of the case, F. (the original French text, here quoted from the edition by Méon, Paris, 1813). No other authorities exist. Many lines are wholly missing in G.; and when it is not cited, this must be understood. Thus, it has lost lines 1-44.

THE MINOR POEMS.

I. AN A.B.C.

The MSS, used to form this text are:  $C_{-} = MS$ , Ff. 5, 30 in the Camb. Univ. Library; Jo.= MS. G. 21, in St. John's College, Cambridge; Gl.= Glasgow MS. Q. 2, 25; L. = MS. Laud 740, in the Bodleian Library; Gg.= MS. Gg. 4, 27, in the Camb. Univ. Library; F. = Fairfax 16, in the Bodleian; B. = Bodley 638; Sion = Sion Coll. MS. The text follows closely the first of these; but is corrected by collation with the others.

Page 81. 163. All the MSS. insert suffred after eek; probably caught from the line above. Or perhaps his herte was caught from the line below; in which case, read And suffred eek, that Longius him pighte. And note, that pighte should surely be prighte, i.e. pricked, as in Cant. Tales, F 418. Pighte properly means pitched. Hence read: And suffred eek, that Longius him prighte.

II. THE COMPLEYNTE UNTO PITE.

The MSS. are: Tn. (Tanner 346); F. (Fairfax 16); B. (Bodley 638); Sh. (Shirley's MS., Harl. 78); Ff. (Ff. 1. 6, in the Camb. Univ. Library); T., here put for Trin. (Trin. Coll. Camb. R. 3. 19); also Ha. (Harl. 7578). The text follows F. mainly.

GLOSSARIAL INDEX.

THE references in this Index are given according to the following scheme.

Poems denoted by Arabic numerals are Minor Poems. Thus, under 'Abaved,' the reference '3. 614' means Minor Poem no. 3, line 614, or l. 614 of the Book of the Duchesse. The letter 'R.' refers to the Romaunt of the Rose, Fragment A, in pp. 1-18; the rest of the Poem, not being Chaucer's, is indexed separately. Thus R. 163' means l. 163 of the Romaunt.

The five books of Boethius are denoted by B 1, B 2, B 3, B 4, B 5, respectively; and the 'prose' and 'metrical' sections are denoted by 'p' and 'm.' Thus, under Abaissen, the reference 'B 4. p. 7. 81' means 'Boethins, bk. iv. prose 7, line 8t.' The five books of Troilus are denoted by T. i., T. ii., T. iii., T. iv., and T. v. Thus 'T. iii. 1233' means 'Troilus, bk. iii., line 1233' The House of Fame and the Legend of Good Women are denoted by 'HF.' and

"L.' respectively. If, in the latter case, the italic letter 'a' follows the number of the line, the reference is to the earlier (or A-text) of the Prologue to the Legend. Thus 'HF. 865' means 'House of Fame, line 865.' Again, 'L. 2075' means ' Legend of Good Women, line 2075;' and 'L. 200 a' means 'Legend, &c., line 200 of the text in the left-hand column.

The Prologue and the two books of the Treatise on the Astrolabe are denoted, respectively, by 'A. pr.,' 'A. i.,' and 'A. ii.' Thus the reference 'A. ii. 10. 8' means Astrolabe, bk. ii. § 10, line 8;' and 'A. pr. 10' means 'Astrolabe, prologue, line 10.'

References to the Canterbury Tales are known by the use of the letters A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, and I, which are used to denote the various Groups into which the Tales are divided. In this case, 'A' is never followed by a full stop or by Roman numerals, as when the 'Astrolabe' is referred to; and such a reference as 'B<sub>5</sub>,' meaning line 5 of Group B, is quite distinct from 'B 5. p. 1. 1,' where 'B 5' means bk. v. of Boethius, and is invariably accompanied by the 'p' or 'm' denoting the 'prose' or 'metre.

Summary of the Minor Poems. The Minor Poems are all numbered, viz. 1 (ABC.); 2 (Compleynte unto Pite); 3 (Book of the Duchesse); 4 (Mars); 5 (Parlement of Foules); 6 (Compleint to his Lady); 7 (Anelida); 8 (Wordes to Adam); 9 (Former Age); 10 (Fortune); 11 (Merciless Beauty); 12 (To Rosemounde); 13 (Truth); 14 (Gentilesse); 15 (Lak of Stedfastnesse); 16 (Envoy to Scogan); 17 (Envoy to Bukton); 18 (Venus); 19 (To his Purse); 20 (Proverbs); 21 (Against Women Unconstant); 22 (Amorous Complaint); 23 (Balade of Compleynt); 24 (Womanly Noblesse).

Alphabetically, the references are to A (Group A of Cant. Tales); A. (Astrolabe); B (Group B of C. T.); B I . . . B 5 (Boethius, books I to 5); C, D, E, F, G, H, I (Groups C to I of C. T.); HF. (House of Fame); L. (Legend of Good Women); R. (Romaunt of the Rose); T. i.... T. v (Troilus, books 1 to 5). The Minor Poems, numbered 1 to 24, are given above. N.B. Words containing ay, ey, oy, aw, ew, ow, are sometimes entered as if spelt with ai, ei, oi, au, eu, ow, respectively.

Glossarial Index.

Abbreviations. Besides s., adj, and adv, for substantive, adjective, adverb, the following are used in a special sense: -v, a verb in the infinitive mood; ger., gerund; pr. s., present tense, 3rd person singular; pr. pl., present tense, 3rd person plural. Other persons are denoted by the figures 1 or 2.
